Syllabic protolanguage

The syllabic language began to appear only later. About 7–7.5 thousand years ago, maybe 10 thousand years ago, the first structures of the syllabic proto-language appeared.

Researchers who worked on Earth at that time collected information that allows us to conclude that this was done so that the priestly classes could communicate with each other without introducing other people to their teaching.

And they also communicated with plasmoid civilizations in syllables. It’s much easier for plasmoids to communicate this way. For them, anyone who performs rituals, even if he dances with a tambourine, is in any case a priest.

They began to take a certain syllable, they began to depict, and not just speak in a simplified language. At first there was no writing. There is a pre-literate period in your history. It's called "prehistoric". Then so-called pictograms began to appear, indicating people or objects.

Pictograms are not yet a proto-language. They simply denoted some word in the ordinary language of this tribe. And then runes began to appear. The knowledge that the plasmoids transmitted to them was transmitted by signs. The sign was recorded in their minds as a few lines. And these few lines made up the rune. They also conveyed images. It’s just that the very minds of these contactees translated the images into dashes in order to remember them better.

Then these letters, these runes began to denote ordinary words that were in the language. And within the priestly classes, syllabic languages were born.

How were they born? For example, plasmoids of the Sun came to them under the name Ra. And they heard it as "ra." And then they thought about what lines to designate this combination of sounds “r” and “a”. If you see how the letter “r” is designated in different runic alphabets and modern alphabets, you will see some kind of figurine that looks like a hatchet. It can have one or two handles.

What exactly did this sign mean? This sign denoted an ancient tool used to cut down forests. Why was this sound portrayed to them? Because the sound “r” began to mean “separation,” “separation,” “separate,” “cut into pieces.” It began to be designated by a hatchet.

If you look at “a,” it had a very varied shape in different alphabets. There was a very different difference between the capital letter “a” and the small letter “a”.

If we look at the original Phoenician alphabet, we see something like a bull's head. The bull was not just an animal. The bull in ancient cultures had the meaning of some force of energy. And “a” meant “space”, “the power of space”, the energy that was put into it. I'm speaking in general. This means that the combination of two sounds “p” and “a” denoted the energy of space, which divides, which separates light from darkness in this case, and this is the Sun. When it rises, it separates.

To give some name to a phenomenon or object in modern life, people use the same letters, the same sounds. There are different laws of word formation in different languages. The possibilities of word formation, as far as I have studied, are especially rich in the Russian language.

It happens that the creator of a new word intuitively feels the meaning of the syllables; perhaps this is one of the ancient incarnate priests or plasmoids. And makes some kind of similar meaning out of them.

To look up the meaning of a word in an ancient language, you need to break the word down into syllables and letters and see what it meant. Sometimes it describes it accurately, sometimes it doesn’t quite describe it. The thing is that in different regions of the Earth of the already divided continent, several types of proto-languages were formed. Each tribe had one syllable meaning that was not the same as the other tribe's syllable meaning.

Timecode: 10:30, #323 History of the languages of the Earth. Messages from extraterrestrial civilizations: how to communicate with aliens? Linguist MidgasKaus from the planet Esler is a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien life forms.

August, 2021

24 February

Defenders of the Fatherland Day

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/den-zashchitnikov-otechestva

Defenders of the Fatherland Day is a holiday for all people, of any gender; in fact, it is a holiday for everyone. First you need to understand what the Fatherland is. As it is not difficult to guess, the word “Fatherland” comes from the word “Father”. This is the space of our fathers and this is the space of our mothers, this is the space of our ancestors.

That is, this is what is called such a polysemantic word as “Motherland”. The word "Motherland" comes from the word "clan". And again we return to our ancestors, the family of our ancestors. This means that the meaning of the words “Fatherland” and “Motherland” are similar to each other, this is the space of our family.

Where does the word protector come from? It comes from the word "shield". The shield is a barrier. A barrier to everything that prevents you from developing, everything that prevents you from loving, everything that prevents you from living, and everything that prevents you from being happy in the broadest sense of the word.

On this day we remember the defenders of the Fatherland, those who defend our Motherland from various types of attacks. In a spiritual sense, Defenders of the Fatherland Day means the day on which we remember our mission to protect our Family.

And who is this “someone” from whom you need to protect? It's ourselves. First of all, it is necessary to protect our Fatherland from ourselves, from those of our unprocessed blocks and karmic knots that, by destroying us, can destroy our Family and our Fatherland. And of course, we remember what is inside us, we attract from the outside.

Our Fatherland on Earth is the country, the homeland where we live. In addition, there is also our Fatherland, our Homeland in Heaven, in the Spiritual world, our Eternal Home, where we all came from and where we will all go. And the Fatherland also needs protection. In protection from lowering our vibrations.

Life-giving force helps strengthen our ability to protect our space, that is, to protect it from all unfavorable influences that could prevent us from fulfilling the purpose of our life, leading us astray. This energy helps to renew our power, given to us at birth and allowing us to create, desire, show our will, be brave and self-confident. That is, it is aimed at dissolving and transforming fears and anxieties, from which our Fatherland within us also needs protection, at discovering and strengthening in ourselves the ability to distinguish between the path to the light and the path from the light, to distinguish between high vibrations and to distinguish between low vibrations, to more accurately tune our “spiritual hearing” to the voice of conscience.

Meditation-ritual " Life-giving power" . To practice, you will need a red or yellow candle, matches, 100% essential oil of fir, pine, spruce or juniper and the key to your house to place the etheric seal of the Life-Giving Fire on it. Link to purchase the meditation recording t.me/contentcassiopeiabot?start=101055 .

Introductory word from the meditation “Life-Giving Power” - master Irina Podzorova Archangel Michael is a representative of the Christian spiritual egregor, the patron and curator of the Earth in the Spiritual world, one of the Higher Hierarchs of Light.

February 23, 2024

25 February

About earthquakes on Lake Baikal

Lake Baikal itself is a dangerous zone in terms of earthquakes. Earthquakes occur in this area and are quite strong. This was noted at a time when there were no modern Russian people, but different tribes lived. The territory of this lake and around it was already marked as dangerous for life, because destructive earthquakes occurred there quite often, compared to the European part of Russia.

They were more destructive because there were no modern construction technologies. Buildings made from stones were more easily destroyed than modern ones, which are made taking into account shocks and vibrations, and there were many casualties. The shamans who lived at that time were also well aware of this; they learned about the reasons for the dangerous land from the Spirits of the Earth. They called it “dangerous land.”

If you look at it in close-up, Lake Baikal itself is elongated, its bed is located almost entirely in the fault zone. This rift formed just at the moment when a single continent was split. A crack has formed there that runs from Mongolia towards Yakutsk. A crack has formed there to a depth of approximately, if you look in the earth's crust, more than 60 km, but it is located under the bottom.

Before the war 12,000 years ago, this lake itself did not exist, but there were smaller bodies of water and settlements around them. And after this war there was a flood there. 12,000 years ago, practically the same thing happened as with the Mediterranean Sea. When the Eden base, which was located on land, ended up under the bottom of the Mediterranean Sea, as representatives of the Interstellar Union previously spoke about.

Currently, the two parts of the earth's crust, between which there is a fault, are moving away from each other, one shore of Lake Baikal from the other, but very slowly - less than a centimeter per year. Due to the fact that people, without taking into account the terrain, begin to lay pipes, extract minerals, build many cities and discharge into Baikal itself, pollute nature and extract minerals, the extraction of which disrupts the architectonics of the earth’s crust, all this begins to affect the deep layers ground and sudden movements are possible that create waves. But I want to note that this depends not only on the people, on their physical activity, but also on the energy of the people who live there.

On a subtle level, any movements along the tectonic faults of the plates that make up the earth are initiated by certain plasmoid civilizations, which thus build the surface of the earth for future generations. To put it very simply: the plasmoid civilizations of the earth's elements, which are responsible for Lake Baikal, want, to put it very simply, to expand this lake so that this area is more occupied by water. The shores are moving apart.

There are certain agreements between the Spirits of Water, Earth and Air. And they must carry out this process slowly so as not to cause destruction on the dense plane. Therefore, when the earth moves apart normally, small earthquakes occur constantly. They don't feel human. This is a small vibration. And even now this is happening. Our devices record slow rhythmic waves.

But, for example, with their energy (as was the case in the 19th century), the people who lived around Lake Baikal greatly lowered their vibrations, because they condemned the current king for serfdom. Because of this condemnation, the vibrations of the noosphere where they were located decreased. This caused a disturbance in the plasmoid worlds, which tried to harmonize it in such a way that they released a surge of energy from the subtle plane to the dense one, and as a result the earth shifted sharply. And so there was a big earthquake (shows the 19th century, around 1860, the water poured out and the village was flooded). There were victims of destruction.

Shocks occur constantly, but their strength depends on many factors. These tremors cannot be expected if, as I have already said, you have a harmonious attitude towards nature and do not actively extract oil and gas, especially on the West Siberian platform. There is a huge ocean of water under Western Siberia. Because oil and gas are being extracted there, all these currents are disrupted and begin to flow towards Lake Baikal, and thus the plates move apart even faster. This may cause tremors.

Therefore, before developing any deposit, it is advisable to talk with the Nature Spirits of this area and find out whether it will be harmonious for this area and for territories hundreds of kilometers away from this area. Plasmoids communicate with each other.

Timecode: 13:48, #461 Live. Baikal earthquakes, communication with the Tikhtians' base on Lake Baikal.

Harrat Mikli is a representative of the planet Tikht, a scientist astrogeologist.

June, 2022

March 2

The end of the cycle of the Universe. About the period of non-manifestation https://blog.cassiopeia.center/konec-cikla-vselennoj-o-periode-neproyavlennosti

The energy of Divine Light maintains all atoms in their stable state. It is everywhere in space. When the vibration of Spiritual Light increases, the vibrations of all quanta that enter the atoms gradually increase. This is now called a quantum transition, that is, an increase in the vibrations of quanta that enter all atoms of a particular space.

And at the end of this cycle of the Universe, the vibrations of all quanta will increase so much that they themselves will lose their dense material form and go into their elements. Matter will release all energies from itself. First it will start with heavy elements, which have more quanta. It is simply easier for them to collapse, they will lose their energies more easily. Then - lighter and lighter elements. And at the end of this cycle of the Universe, only hydrogen will remain in a rarefied gaseous state. All the stars will burn out, the elements will no longer form planets or anything else, they will disintegrate.

The vacuum of Space is never completely empty and homogeneous. In any case, it contains hydrogen atoms, which make up the very tenuous interstellar gas. He is between the stars and even Galaxies. This will be the last thing left of the Universe. And then the quanta will come out of them and return to their levels from where they came, and only the subtle material world will remain. Then the vibrations will increase so much in these subtle worlds that the fourth level of density will go back to the fifth, sixth, seventh, etc. They will seem to curl up. And then the spirits will be able to incarnate during this period no longer in the dense world, but only in the subtle worlds, as they incarnated before the emergence of the dense Universe.

When the Universe comes to the end of the cycle of its existence (this is cyclical, that is, it has already happened before), we will be able to incarnate only in the subtle worlds. And we will not incarnate in order to form the dense world; we will already have other tasks.

Then the vibrations of the subtle material world will increase so much that it will move higher and higher in vibration, their matter will disappear. But it will disappear just for appearances; in reality it will not disappear, but the energies will move to a higher level of density. And this will happen until there is nothing left at all. Even level 59. Only the Spiritual world will remain. And those spirits that will be there will no longer be able to incarnate. This is a period of non-manifestation.

We will be at those levels of the Spiritual world that we achieved in our last incarnation. They will remain the same from 1 to 24. And since there is no time there, it is very difficult to calculate how much time should pass through the material world. This could be one second or several million years.

Then, when God as a Reasonable being, the Supreme Mind, the Absolute Mind, which is in the Divine world, outside the world of disembodied spirits - this is also a type of the Spiritual world - gives a signal about the emergence of the material world, those who are on the seventeenth level - the angels of nature, since there is no matter, they will receive instructions to form the 59th density level themselves. That is, they will leave the Spiritual World, to the Astral, from the world of disembodied Spirits to the Astral. The Astral World is preserved; it is a part of the Spiritual World, which was previously a world for communication.

So, they will mentally form the 59th density level from their spiritual energies. Then those who want to incarnate will appear, being already there, they will receive tasks so that they can condense this energy, and the result will be level 58. Well, and so on, descending, until the entire subtle-material world is there again.

But no one knows what the next Universe will be like. It may be completely different from our real world. There may be, for example, a completely different number in the level of density, there may be completely different characteristics of matter, and so on. Any of us must have passed the level when you incarnated in plasmoid worlds and took part in the formation of entire Galaxies.

Timecode: 13:45, #435 Science and laws of alien physics. Part 2.

MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien life forms and space civilizations;

LiShioni – representative of the planet Shimor, sociologist, specialist in the astral world and its interaction with the material world;

Raom Tiyan is a representative from the planet Burhad, a specialist in energy interactions in the environment of the material and Spiritual world and transformations of various energies.

April 2022

March 5

The Spirit of Osho about himself, about practices and about love

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/duh-osho-o-sebe-o-praktikah-i-o-lyubvi

I came from level 12. I'm currently on the 21st. Previously he incarnated on the planet Disaru and Gihor. On these two planets. Both there and there I was a scientist who studied biology on Disaru, and cosmic energies on Gihor. These were significant incarnations for me when I was exploring the world.

During the period of my incarnation in Osho, I contacted any Soul that came to me, whether it was in the body or outside the body - it made no difference to me. Not even now. I am open to contacts. I continue to be in contact with many contactees and am a curator of incarnated Spirits.

Many people came to me who needed help to achieve enlightenment, the angelic level, in your opinion. I asked my Higher Self, Krishna (this was my curator), I also communicated with Jesus and with plasmoid civilizations... I asked them what could help specifically this or that person. Psychological techniques came to me: stopping the mind, repeating mantras. My answer to an individual came from my heart. I didn’t choose with my mind what to answer, but what would come from my heart. I've always interacted with people this way.

On March 21, 1953, I had my first experience of perceiving my immortality. On this day, for the first time, I felt that I was an immortal being, I felt that I was Light, and hope appeared. I began to look at the world with different eyes. After that I changed and became a different creature. Of course, in essence I was the same, but inside I felt different. It’s like a completely different person, different concepts about life. Before that I was different, a lot of things irritated me, I had a lot of fears. And then it went away.

I showed the path to the Source of Love to every person. My touch to the forehead is a transfer of energy to the sixth energy center, which activates spiritual vision and clears the aura of energy blocks. I didn’t just touch, but mentally directed a ray of light there.

The popularity of Osho’s techniques these days

I contact many people, I contact Angels on my level and on other levels. I am one of the patrons of the Vedic egregor, since it is responsible for meditation. Vedic is not only the worship of gods, it is internal psychological spiritual practices that are based on meditations taken from the Upanishads and other books of Hinduism. I studied all religions, learned a lot and made it clear to contemporaries, that is, I adapted the practices for those living in the twentieth century.

Wealth and spiritual development

In Western and Eastern society, more so in Western society, there is a stereotype. At the time when I lived on Earth, it was very developed. That only poor people, ascetics, who have given away everything and who, because of their poverty, are pleasing to God, can engage in spiritual practices. It's not like that at all. We are all pleasing to God. Another thing is that we can follow the path of realizing the Divine principle within ourselves or the path of realizing ourselves as an empty vessel that is filled with matter and contains nothing else. Both paths are equally divine, because they are given to us by God. “God” I call the original Source of energies that we receive, with which we work and create our reality.

Consequently, a person can live with love, with God, with the Divine principle, and follow the path of developing it in himself. And even if he has nothing or he has absolutely everything, even if he just has one piece of material in which he can wrap his body, and he lives on alms, he can still develop spiritually. In the same way, a person who is the owner of “the whole world” can develop spiritually.

Even if you own all the cars and planes, all the gold on Earth, this will in no way prevent you from developing spiritually if you have the right attitude. That is, with the attitude that this is a Divine gift and in the absence of pride over those who do not have it. Pride, of course, lowers vibrations; it comes from the distortion of Divine energy.

Any decrease in vibration causes suffering. But I don't want to say that he is rejected by God. A person chooses this path himself. Any path you choose will be approved by God, even if it leads you away from God.

If something happens in the outside world, it is inside you. If people poisoned me and took me out of incarnation, then their actions served as a tool for my introduction to the world of Angels, that is, my release into spiritual form. So I'm not at all offended or angry with them. They made their choice. I prayed to God and asked Him to quickly cleanse these people from the energies of their negative karma.

About religions

I am for a religion that fosters a feeling of love in a person. Love for a person, regardless of his nationality, language, skin color and other religions. I am for a religion that unites everyone. But I am against religion, which quarrels people, causes wars and divides everyone.

I believe that it is the duty of religious leaders in all religions to adapt and remake their religious dogmas so that they cannot be a tool for violating God's commandments of love, which are the most important.

I would like to wish people to listen only to themselves, their hearts. Only then can you listen to your heart and not end up in suffering if it is filled with love. Therefore, dear ones, if you listen to a heart filled with resentment and hatred, it will distort your view of the world and lead to mistakes and suffering. Of course, this will be your path. God will still love you. But, if you want to be happy, then feel your heart and listen to it only if it is filled with love.

If it is not full, cleanse your heart of everything that is incompatible with love. For this you only need to love. Love yourself, love your body, love all its needs, be sure to love the material world, starting from a small flower and ending with a huge star, love your loved ones and those far away - everyone you meet. Immediately when you meet any person, even if you left the bedroom and met your mother in the kitchen, immediately mentally send her the Light of Love. This will be a greeting going from one Soul to another Soul.

Love God, love the love of God. It appears only in love for people. You cannot love God and at the same time be offended by someone. You need to remember the freedom of choice of all people, even if they do not behave the way you want. This is their choice, to which they have every right given by God.

Video on the topic: #639 Osho Spirit: experience on Earth, Disaru, Gihor. Enlightenment. Shocking image. The riches of the world and pride

The spirit of Osho - Indian religious and spiritual leader, mystic.

February 2024

March 15

Bhagavad Gita chapter 11. Translation by Irina Podzorova

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/bhagavad-gita-11-glava-perevod-iriny-podzorovoj

Yesterday (editor's note: March 7, 2024) I had an interesting experience. I decided to translate one of the chapters of the Bhagavad Gita myself into Russian using the interlinear translation of this book on the Internet, because I am always interested in the meaning inherent in the Holy Scriptures of different religions by those who created these texts.

I chose chapter 11 of the Gita for such an experiment and asked Krishna and the Ray of Christ Consciousness for help. In the process of work, I felt Their tips on choosing words for translation. I didn't get through the whole chapter, but I'm posting what I got here.

I am ready for feedback and constructive criticism. I will be glad to receive your feedback.

Bhagavad Gita chapter 11, verses 1-21 in my translation in a common flow with Krishna and the Ray of Christ Consciousness

Chapter 11 of the Song of Divine Light:

Arjuna said:

"Out of mercy you have told me the highest secret about Yourself, expressing it in the words of a song.

My despair disappeared.

The details of the birth and disappearance of living beings became known to me.
Your eyes are like Lotus flowers.
The generosity of Your Spirit is eternal.

Since You have told me about Your Spirit, Lord, I desire to see Your majestic image, O Best of men.

If You think that I am able to see this, then show me Your power as the Master of Yoga and the King of the place where Your Eternal Spirit comes from."

The Divine Light said:

“Look, son of Pritha, I will show you hundreds of thousands of different images, types of Divine Nature and its colorful energies

Look at the divine beings, the kind but terrible sparkling horsemen, the great but invisible, existing here before you, the amazing sons of Bharata.

The whole Universe is gathered here in one place.
Look now at everything that is in My body, thick-haired Arjuna.
And in anyone else, you also try to notice all this.

But no one is able to see this in Me with their own eyes, so I give you Divine Vision, look at the power of Yoga!

Sam-Jai said:

“So, O sir, the Great Master of Yoga Hari showed the son of Pirtha unusual, majestic images:

There are many faces and many eyes with an amazing appearance, in which the Divine beauty of the instruments given to us was manifested:

Divinely beautiful ethereal flower garlands, giving rise to connections to permeate all bodies in an incomprehensible way in the Limitless and Omnipresent God.

If a thousand suns appeared in the sky at the same time, their light would perhaps be similar to this superb phenomenon.

There, the Universe gathered together was disintegrated many times into parts in the body of the God of gods, and this was then seen by the son of Pandu.

This made him confused and the hairs on his body stood on end.
Then Arjuna bowed his head before God, folded his palms in reverence and said:

“O God, I see in Your body numerous ghosts, people from various societies, the powerful Creator of the World sitting on a Lotus flower, standing sages and celestial serpents.

I see many faces in your belly and everywhere around, O my Guide.
They have countless images!
There is no center, no end, no beginning in these multi-colored divine forms.

You are adorned with a crown, armed with a spiked club, sitting on a chariot, as if on top of a great flame, surrounded by a brightly shining Light.
I look at You with difficulty, being next to Your blazing fire, the brilliance of Your Sun is limitless.

I know now that Your word is the most important thing, necessary for everyone to understand Absolute Being.
You are the Guardian of the eternal, unchanging law, constantly protecting all people.
I accept it.

You exist forever in the midst of infinity.
The power of the Sun and Moon is in Your hands, O Guide.
I see Your radiant face and fall into fear, but Your greatness penetrates everywhere and warms me.

Heaven and earth are close to You, because You fill the four directions of the world.
Everyone who sees Your wonderful images in the vast triple space is afraid, O Great Spirit.

Some of the company of divine beings come into contact with You, and some are afraid and fold their hands before You as a sign of respect.
Great sages implore You for well-being.
The assembly of Saints glorifies You in numerous hymns.

Irina Podzorova is a contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations.

March, 2024

April 10th

Apshetarim (Archangel Jabrail) about the history of sacrifices and their spiritual meaning

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/apshetarim-arhangel-dzhabrail-ob-istorii-zhertvopr

All animals, all their lives belong to Allah, because Allah gives life energy to all living Souls. Therefore, animal sacrifices to Allah that now exist occur as a sign of remembrance of the replacement of human sacrifices. It was performed by Abraham, or, as you call it, Ibrahim, who lived a little more than 4 thousand years ago.

He came into contact with Yahweh, who was also from Tumesout. Then He was incarnated on Tumesout. This, I remind you, is Jesus, the Spirit who is now known as Jesus Christ. Then He was incarnated on Tumesout and was a specialist in contacts with earthlings. He flew to Earth and looked for contactees for himself. He decided to replace human sacrifices with animals.

Why were there human sacrifices? There were many gods, who most often were deified plasmoids, that is, Spirits of Nature (in your opinion - Djinn). Jinns are different in character, different in vibration, in the degree of purity of their Spirit. They also have an embodied Spirit, it's just embodied in a subtle body. Among them were those who enjoyed sacrifices.

They feed on energies, for example, the energy of light, the energy of fire, the energy of various human emotions. If these are light Spirits, if they are light Genies, they feed on the energy of Love. But if among them there are those who have lowered their vibrations, then they begin to feed on the lower energies of fear, hopelessness, and cruelty. They feed on such low vibrations; they are acceptable to them. That is, they become stronger from them.

Coming into contact with ancient people, such plasmoids prompted them to sacrifice any living beings. Often these were animals. The life force that came out of the animal at the moment of sacrifice fell, charged with the already certain emotions of this animal, into the Astral and was absorbed there by plasmoids. For this, the plasmoids shaped events in a certain way, for example, they treated people, predicted the future, protected them from enemies in various ways (they lived among nature) or sent new prey on the hunt, etc.

Some plasmoids would not be satisfied with animals, because when killing a person, more negative energies are released due to the fact that people are intelligent, they understand what is happening to them. In addition, the relatives of the murdered person also emit negative emotions for a long time, which plasmoids can also feed on. Therefore, some plasmoids began to ask the priests, their servants, to sacrifice people. In special cases: some kind of epidemic, cataclysm, fire or something else - they began to ask to sacrifice people as payment to these gods, these plasmoids, so that they would change the situation for the better.
Naturally, people agreed, because they absolutely believed in these gods then, because there was no science yet, and they depended on these gods. And when people were sacrificed, the relatives of this person for a long time experienced despondency, anger, resentment, and these same plasmoids also fed on these emotions, which ate the life force of their killed relative.
This was especially true for children, because there was such a practice of sacrificing children in particularly difficult life situations. And usually, the slower the child died, the more physical suffering, the more energy needed for these plasmoids was released into the Astral. They just don't feel pain themselves; you need to understand that for them it's just an energetic process. They do not feel physical pain because they do not have a physical body. Therefore, they asked the priests to arrange such cults as, for example, laying out a metal copper platform over a fire and placing a living child on it so that he would be roasted alive. Yes, that happened. Now many may be outraged, but for the ancients it was normal. We already live in the 21st century and cannot approach those peoples with our moral standards. Because our civilization has already been formed under the influence of other religions, not those that existed then.
So, when Yahweh flew to Earth, he saw all this. Naturally, he wanted to change this cruelty, so as not to lower the vibrations of the Earth, to animal sacrifices, just animals alone, without people. Well, of course, one can ask why he didn't remove them at all? At that time people would not believe it because it was part of their life, part of these religions. Moreover, this was in those tribes where they kept livestock and hunted animals; for them, the killing of animals did not mean anything like a tragedy.
He had a desire to replace human sacrifices with animal sacrifices. This was progress back then. This would not give rise to such cruelty in people, would not lower their vibration and would not make them responsible for killing a person, priests and everyone who helped them.

He contacted Abraham and told him to sacrifice his son (famous story). Abraham agreed. Naturally, he agreed, because for him it was normal: any god he knew could say:
“Sacrifice your son to me. Prove your loyalty to me this way.”
Plasmoids told many people this, so he was not surprised. He knew that his life was in the hands of God, and if he did not sacrifice his son now, it meant that he did not love Him. So prove your loyalty. He took his son, who was not yet 15 years old at the time (about 12-13 years old), to the mountain. What sacrifice should I make? It was not just necessary to kill him, but it was necessary to burn his body so that all the vital energy that is in the cells would be released along with the fire and enter the subtle worlds. That was the rule.
Abraham asked his son to collect firewood, which he then carried to the mountain. The son picked up this wood and carried it, because Abraham was already old. The son noticed that his father was walking with a knife next to a mountain of firewood, and - it was Isaac by the biblical name - asked:
“Where is our ram for sacrifice?”
Naturally, his father could not tell him that he would sacrifice him: he would immediately run away. And he said:
“God will find a ram for himself.”
When they climbed the mountain, made a fire, Abraham took his son by the hand, a rope, tied him up and put him on the fire. Then, naturally, he understood everything. Imagine, when the child is about 15 years old, and in the Soul of the father there really was a determination to do this. So he took (shows) a large knife and raised his hand. He really wanted to sacrifice him, he wouldn't stop. And at that moment Yahweh came into contact with him through the spiritual channel:
“Stop! Don't do anything to this boy! Look around! Look back!"
There were bushes growing behind him. The fact is that even before Abraham and his son climbed this mountain, a Burkhadian ship flew there and brought a ram. They hid him there, it was a whole operation. And when Abraham went into these bushes, he saw a ram. For him it was a miracle that the ram got to the mountain, although he was not there. And he was brought even before that on a flying saucer.
Then Yahweh said:
“Untie your son, bring this ram.”
Then He already told him:
“You should always do this! When you have gods (Yahweh knew very well that other people can have many gods), when any of the gods tells you to sacrifice a person, remember what I showed you! What the gods now want (it is also written “elohim” - gods, in the plural) is that you always replace people with animals! I showed you an example."

He began to tell others that Yahweh showed him a miracle: at first he himself asked to sacrifice his son, and when he already wanted to do this, God showed a miracle and asked him to sacrifice a ram instead of his son. And he said that now we must always do this. He began to tell this to others.
Is this necessary now? This is necessary to maintain the traditions of egregor. It is only necessary to remember that at the moment when an animal is sacrificed, it is not offered to Allah himself (he already owns everything), but to the Spirits of nature, the Jinn.
They also gather - Spirits of the area, and can also feed on these energies. Moreover, the energies that are released from the animal differ in their vibrations from the energies of people, and therefore this is not such a decrease in vibrations either for plasmoids or for people. In the absence of cruelty on the part of people. If animals are not beaten, they are not treated cruelly (this is how people themselves reduce vibrations), if it is simply done with prayer, with reverence and with love.
Different Jinns can absorb this energy, but, in principle, higher vibrational Jinns can feed on this energy than those who could feed on the energy of human sacrifices. There is a difference. They use this energy for a certain creation of their affairs, for example, maintaining nature, creating the Souls of other animals.
Timecode: 1:15:08, #509 Conference with Archangel Gabriel. How the Islamic egregor was created. Sacrifice of Isaac.
Apshetarim (Archangel Jabrail) is a representative of the planet Tumesout. Specialist in the creation of religious and philosophical egregors in worlds not included in the Interstellar Union. Sociologist, psychologist, religious scholar. Guardian of the Islamic egregor.
November 2022
11 April

Theotokos on the spiritual causes of the emergence and cessation of wars

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/bogorodica-o-duhovnyh-prichinah-vozniknoveniya-i-p

Mass prayer alone will not stop the war. There must be conscious actions on the material level.

War is a manifestation on the material level of those energies that were invested in egregors that are involved in this war for many years, or even decades. The more energy of aggression, anger, rejection, and fear was invested in the egregors of the warring countries, the more destructive and long the war will be.

Yes, there is a chance to stop this before all the accumulated energy spills out. And there is always such a chance. This will happen not even in the case of prayer, but in general meditations, which will be combined with prayer, and in which peace between peoples will be imagined and visualized.

But the condition for the success of this practice is that the peoples of the warring states must unite their efforts for a truce. And this means that they must fill their egregors with the energies of their love, forgiveness, mercy and confidence that God loves everyone.

Peoples who are not directly on the battlefield, but are at home, that is, those who are not involved in the conflict on a physical level, they do not risk their lives like warriors. These people are at home, and their fathers, brothers, husbands and, naturally, sons and relatives are possibly at the front. Sometimes mothers, wives, sisters, daughters. These are the people who are waiting for their relatives alive from the war on any side of the conflict. Most often, they wait alive only for those who are their relatives and are fighting against others, against warriors of the other side. If people on both sides can realize that in another nation there live the same people whom God loves, and look at them through the eyes of God, they will be able to forgive, send the Light of Love not only to their relatives, whom they expect alive, but also to those who fights against them, they will be able to overcome the egregorial view of this situation and will meditate on peace between their peoples, gradually the egregor will be cleansed. Because this people who are at war will go through their lessons of acceptance, love, patience and mercy, despite the feeling of attachment to their relatives as to Souls.

Remember that those soldiers, those warriors who are now fighting against your brothers, sons and all other relatives, are also someone’s brothers, sons and other relatives, they are also expected. When you remember this and meditate in this mood, send the same Light of your Love to everyone without exception, and at least 60% of the people join in, then you can very quickly cleanse the egregor. And the governments of the warring countries will feel mercy in their hearts towards each other and will be reconciled.

If there are more of those who send anger, hatred, curses, and rejection to the enemy people and enemy soldiers, then the situation will worsen. More energy will accumulate in this egregor, and the war will last longer. It will take longer for all this to come out. This is a test of awareness, a lesson.

Your task, as conscious people, is to explain this spiritual truth, which is known to all high civilizations of the Cosmos, to everyone around you, to conduct educational activities.

There is a separate large group interested in such conflicts. I would call them “merchant entrepreneurs” who are closely connected with the financial egregor. They are far from the conflict zone itself, and are safe. They do not believe that there is any possibility of a nuclear conflict, which means there is danger for them personally and their families. And they are interested not only in war, but specifically in this one, but in the fact that there is more disorder, destruction, and so that they can take advantage of it for their own purposes. Some for the production of weapons, some for the production of nuclear and other fillers for these weapons, and some so that, taking advantage of the destruction and economic structure of the warring countries, they can profitably acquire the resources of these countries. But I wouldn’t call them rulers; they are more of an oligarchic elite. It's not directly from the government. They have their representatives in the government, of course, but they do not directly rule. And moreover, they are in different countries, but not in warring countries. They have their own representatives among the warring parties, but this is just like agents of influence, in your opinion. Those who defend their interests are such a society of people. And they do not support their views in everything, but for some reason they still believe them.

At this moment in time there are more than two participants in the conflict between Russia and Ukraine. Every country that is the owner of financial means and material weapons of destruction of manpower, every country whose financial means and material weapons of destruction are located in the conflict zone and are used for direct military purposes to destroy the physical bodies of people and infrastructure, are parties to the conflict. This means that those Spirits who were embodied in those countries also accumulated a certain negative in their egregors, and it is now manifesting itself in this way.

I want to remind you once again about the conditions for maximum effectiveness of meditation - this is your complete peace in the Soul, with yourself, with people close to you and with God, while you live an ordinary life. When you finish your meditation, keep peace within yourself and do not wish harm to anyone. I understand that this is difficult. At a time when certain media are whipping up fear and anger towards the opposing side. I understand that it is difficult to keep yourself in harmony and in love. To do this, always remember, no matter what information you receive, that you are immortal Spirits, and those people about whom this is written or shown are also immortal Spirits who are going through their lessons.

See everything through the eyes of my son Jesus Christ. See everything through my eyes. We love everyone equally. We do not divide people by beliefs, by languages, by nations; every person is dear to us, no matter what his name is, no matter what position he holds. Even those who caused and now support this conflict on the physical level are dear to us, like Spirits who go through these lessons. And we want them to come into awareness, into the Light of Love, and raise their vibrations. They are not the culprits in this situation. They only manifested on the physical plane, as I already said, everything that had been accumulated over many decades by those people who live in these countries.

Timecode: 26:00, #496 Live. Mother of God. Answers on questions.

The Most Holy Theotokos Mary is the mother of Jesus Christ during her incarnation on Earth, and in the Spiritual world she is the guardian of the Christian religious egregor and the egregor of the Russian Federation.

September 2022

Apshetarim (Archangel Jabrail) on the influence of ideas and mental images on people

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/o-vliyanii-idej-i-mysleobrazov-na-lyudej

Man is a rational being. Having believed in some idea, any idea, for example, in suppressing his instinct of self-preservation, he can remove it and go to death for the sake of this idea. A person can go to his death without even defending someone, his people, but simply because of an idea, believing that this idea is correct. Only a person is capable of this. Animals are not able to give their lives for some idea, because they do not have an abstract part of the mind, which only the Spirit, the immortal Spirit, has, which is capable of suppressing the instinct of self-preservation.

The instinct of self-preservation, when violated, causes fear of death, damage to the physical body and the desire to avoid this death, and, accordingly, not to fight. But a person, as a rational being, can go to war not even for property, not for territory (not only for property and territory), but simply for some idea.

For example, if a person believes in some idea. I, as a teacher of the science of imagery in a religious sense, can say that for a person of the earthly type, if he does not have contact with his Higher Self, it is very easy to create an image in which he will believe, and thus incite him to murder. Because he will replace his contact with God, his contact with the Higher Self with faith in the image.

For example, someone will create an image of people who have their own farm, livestock, and large fields. They do not have time to do everything themselves and hire workers for some kind of payment, which the workers themselves agree to. If you create an image in front of people that these people are called kulaks, and they are bad, they need to be destroyed for a happier life, then a person, if he believes in this, he will go kill them. And he will even sacrifice his life for the sake of this idea that they are bad. Only man, the rational Spirit, is capable of this. On Earth, of all life forms, only humans are capable of this.

Of course, any other humanoid is also capable of this, and therefore, in the Interstellar Union, we have been teaching the science of imagery since childhood, so that if some Spirit comes into society and wants to manipulate images and call the people, society to something - they could figure it out. If this humanoid has knowledge of the science of imagery since childhood, he will already know where these images lead him: to a decrease or increase in vibrations.

And since this knowledge is not taught on Earth, it is very easy for a person who knows how to manipulate images to encourage another person, with the help of his own faith, to violate the Divine commandments, to lower vibrations and to destroy the world. And these are not reptilian genes. This is the ability of people to take other people's lives and give their own because of belief in some idea. All people, without exception, have this. A person can suppress his instinct of self-preservation and suppress his sense of mercy towards others for the sake of some idea.

But this effect cannot be caused in all people, although everyone potentially has it. It can be called into action only in people without contact with their Higher Self. Only they can believe in the idea that it is correct, that if you kill someone, and if you fight for something and give your life, then This will make someone feel better.

In fact, no matter what slogans and images motivate certain people, certain rulers or oligarchic circles, sheikhs, etc., no matter what ideas they are guided by, they will almost never fight with someone for their own good with their own hands. It is clear that a person who has achieved power will use the hands and blood of other people to achieve this. And he will build his power on the bones of those who laid down their lives for him.

But if he does this, this does not mean that he alone is guilty of this, that he is so bad, and everyone else is his victim. No. His victims - they themselves put themselves in such a state that they did not maintain contact with their Higher Self and allowed themselves to believe in this idea, lower their vibrations in order to bring someone fame, power or new territories, or simply even a name for their country, as more powerful than neighboring countries.

If you are ready to give your life and take the life of your spiritual brother or sister (the same children of the One God) just for the sake of the idea that your country will become more famous, so that the ruler of your country will erect a monument not made by hands on your bones, if you agree to this - it means you have no contact with the Higher Self.

Timecode: 42:26, #509 Conference with Archangel Gabriel. How the Islamic egregor was created. Sacrifice of Isaac.

Apshetarim (Archangel Jabrail) is a representative of the planet Tumesout. Specialist in the creation of religious and philosophical egregors in worlds not included in the Interstellar Union. Sociologist, psychologist, religious scholar. Guardian of the Islamic egregor.

November 2022

April 19

Differences between Demon and Angel. Choice of Incarnation

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/otlichiya-demona-i-angela-vybor-voploshcheniya

A Demon differs from an Angel in its level, i.e. vibrations. The Demon retains the same divine essence. She is not taken away from him. Godlikeness is not taken away from any Demon. He still has immortality, he still has creativity, he still has both the Higher Self and conscience in the form in which he is able to perceive it. Of course, he denies it, but it remains in him. Also, any Demon still has the opportunity to be restored to the rank of Angel, the opportunity to return to the ranks of the Light Forces upon incarnation and passing their lessons.

If anyone has read the parable of the prodigal son, this is the attitude towards Demons. Christ even said that there is more joy in heaven over one repentant sinner than over 99 righteous people. A repentant sinner is one who raises his vibrations, realizes his sins, recognizes them as his mistakes and harmonizes, transfers into Light the negative energy that led him to sins. Sin is an act that is based on the blocks that a person has accumulated.

Conditions for Demon incarnations

A demon can incarnate for various reasons. But he does not incarnate himself, but with the help of Consulting Angels, who are at the 22nd level, every Spirit has them, these are Mentor Angels. They know why the Spirit lowered its level and choose its incarnation. Angels know what reasons led him to a state of low vibrations, what negative blocks he has, what emotions, feelings he has, and what lessons and life situations he needs to go through so that if he uses his free will, he will raise his vibrations.

The spirit can incarnate, but not where it wants. If he says: “I want to be incarnated as a president,” but does not correspond in his vibrations and his development to this position, his Angel Consultants will simply tell him that his incarnation does not correspond to his vibrations. And it corresponds, for example, to there and there, on such and such a planet. They may offer several options. On such and such a planet, in such and such a country, in such and such a family, or in general in the plasmoid world, they can offer. There are a lot of plasmoid worlds, 56 density levels, and we only live on the 3rd. The spirit can agree or refuse - this is its freedom of choice.

Timecode: 26:07, #233 Irina Podzorova. Abkhazia. Retreat. Who are we? Daemon. Human. Spirit. God. Goals. Answers on questions.

Irina Podzorova is a contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations.

January 2021

April 21

Mirrah Count on the essence of faith and knowledge. Belief in the non-existence of God

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/mirrah-kaunt-o-sushchnosti-very-i-znaniya

In this article I will talk about the difference between faith and knowledge, since the inability to distinguish between these two states of the human soul leads to numerous everyday and social conflicts.

Faith and knowledge belong to different areas of human experience.
Faith is the feeling of the existence of an object regardless of objective evidence, it is located in the heart of the rational spirit and is capable of creating spiritual reality.
Knowledge is information about the universe received through the senses or created by the imagination.

The totality of all knowledge, ideas and attitudes of the spirit is intellectual memory, which is part of its general memory and is part of the mind.
Knowledge about objects of faith and their qualities is in the intellectual part of memory along with other knowledge, and faith in their existence is in the spiritual heart.

To believe in something, it is not enough to know about it; you need to have a coincidence in the vibrations of the object of faith with the feelings and desires of the spiritual heart.
This is possible if the object of faith corresponds to the goals, desires and expectations of the person. They are formed over more than one incarnation and are reflected in the character, temperament, internal moral principles and mental attitudes of a person.

Faith is one of the feelings that distinguishes the rational immortal spirit from plant and animal souls, which follow only instinctive programs and reactions to the material, objective environment.
Materialism is the belief in the self-organization of matter into complex forms that give rise to life and intelligence without an intelligent Creator. Such faith can stem from a feeling of guilt before God, causing fear of encountering the unknown and denial of the spiritual basis of the Universe.

Disbelief in God is the belief that He does not exist, accepted without evidence, just as the belief in the existence of God is accepted.
Not a single materialist has witnessed the emergence of the Universe, just like a person who believes in its Divine origin, and not a single materialist has known the state after the death of the body, therefore his statements about the non-existence of God and the impossibility of the life of the human soul after the death of the body are also taken on faith, like the dogmas of any religion.

Faith, like love, cannot be caused automatically or through violence: both are in the spiritual heart of a person and manifest themselves in life according to his spiritual vibrations.

A person who believes in God or in the Supreme Mind that created the Universe wants to feel like an eternal spirit. But a materialist, who does not believe in God and in the reality of the spiritual world, independent of the material, does not want to think about eternity; he is ready to disappear forever along with the body.

The reason for such different desires is that those who strive for eternity are delighted with the beauty of the Divine creation and want to be one with its Source. And those who do not feel the reality of God are indignant within themselves at the seeming injustice of the world. This indignation prevents you from feeling faith in the existence of God, because the feeling of resentment reduces the vibrations of the spiritual heart and it cannot adequately perceive spiritual reality.

You can believe in God by developing love for yourself, for other people and for nature, because love cleanses the heart and opens spiritual eyes. A person who unconditionally loves himself and others begins to feel more and more the reality of the spiritual world and the presence of God next to him and in himself. On the contrary, if a person falls into negative vibrations: anger, resentment, hatred, fear, guilt, etc., he begins to doubt the object of his faith, because negative emotions and feelings lower his spiritual vibrations and put a wall between them and God .

Pride and arrogance also lead to lower spiritual vibrations and a lack of faith in someone beyond one's capabilities. It becomes difficult for him to recognize someone's power over him due to an unharmonized leadership instinct and he closes his heart to faith in God. Often, in order to hide from himself the fear of an empty, meaningless Universe, he begins to mock the faith of other people and pride himself in front of them on his intelligence and common sense, which allegedly distinguish him from the mass of people who believe in God.

A person himself chooses what to believe and whom to trust, and he himself bears responsibility for this. Providing evidence of the reality of something to a person who does not believe in it is as pointless as trying to feed a hungry person against his will or forcing a person who closes his eyes and turns away from him to look at the Sun.

Mirrah Count, sociologist and political scientist, specialist in the creation of spiritual egregors, planet Burkhad.

April 2024

April 22

Earthly theories of the origin of man, a look at them from the point of view of the Tumesoutian

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/zemnye-teorii-proiskhozhdeniya-cheloveka-vzglyad

> Question. On our planet there are three main theories about the origin of our race. 1 - religious theory, theological, which is based on the source of the Old Testament, and in which man is the creation of God; 2 theory is the materialistic theory of Charles Darwin, which our science adheres to; The 3rd theory is the theory of paleovisit, about the cosmic origin of man, which suggests that the emergence of humanity is associated with the activities of other civilizations and that in ancient times man directly communicated with representatives of alien intelligence. One of the founders of this theory is the Soviet mathematician Mates Agreste, who in his article “Cosmonauts of Antiquity” suggested that our planet was visited by alien civilizations in the past. These three theories are common on our planet. Based on the information we received from you, there is some truth to every theory, right?

Tuliari : Yes, it's like three views of the same reality. Well, that's like three perceptions of the same reality. From them you can put together a single picture, just like from puzzles, just like from a construction set you can put together a single picture. In such a complex process as the emergence of man, or, as we prefer to say, the creation of man, all three theories, all three forces participated: the forces of the material world, the forces of the Divine world, and the forces of other civilizations. In addition, a fourth force also participated, which is the force of the subtle material world. That is, the dense material world, the subtle material world, the Spiritual world and other intelligent civilizations.

According to the theory, “mutation” caused the emergence of Homo sapiens, sharply separating him from animals, because they began to change the environment, cognize it and create their own language, their own culture. If this “mutation” existed on its own - one or its chain - then it could be identified by comparing, one might say, cellular DNA in those very first human remains and those primate bones that are also found next to them. It happens that they are together, I just know about it. And you can find out which DNA sequence has mutated. If this was found out, such a mutation could be attempted to be artificially induced in modern primates. However, this does not happen, which means it is not a matter of mutation. And I know very well that with micromutations and their series it was impossible to ensure that a rational being, a person, would develop from primates, so that the Spirit would incarnate in him. Well, I will say more traditionally for science: so that consciousness arises in his brain.

We say “the Spirit became incarnate”, you say “consciousness arose” - consciousness, which was divided into self-consciousness and, in fact, consciousness. This means that a subjective reality began to form, which began to reflect the objective one. Moreover, consciously, because the subject understood his difference from the world around him and his uniqueness.

For this type of consciousness to arise, a simple mutation is not enough. The world where consciousness arises is outside the world of matter and is strictly hierarchical. This means that in order for a consciousness of this type or a mind of this type to arise in the brain of one or another creature, protection or permission from similar consciousnesses located outside the material world is necessary.

The world that is outside the material world, let's call it the world of thoughts and feelings. Your thoughts and feelings are located in the matter itself, and, as it were, "permeate" it with very high-vibration, very high-frequency fields. And there are fields that are located in space, independent of the material world, which you call "space". The entire material world is usually called "cosmos", from the Greek "beautifully arranged", that is, "decorated". Greek philosophers called the material Universe this way, because in every object, in every object, they saw the beauty of the One who created it from his energies. That's why they called it a "decorated place." That is, the words "space" and "cosmetics" have the same root, from the words "beautiful", "to decorate".

In order for an animal to begin to evolve and turn into a rational being, a special energy had to settle in its brain - consciousness, the same awareness that began to accumulate words in its memory. For example, the creature did not just look at the tree, but called it with the sound "ua" - and put this sound "ua" into its memory. And every time he looked at a similar tree, at a similar object, this word surfaced in his memory, and the creature could figure out that it was "ua" and not "au", which it, for example, called water. This is called "language shaping." It can be in a special energy matrix, which has its manifestation simultaneously in the physical brain, and in the reality of thoughts, in the reality of consciousness itself.

And this reality of thought in the Russian language, in which Russian people communicate, can most simply be called the reality of the Spirit. Why the Spirit and not consciousness? Because consciousness, or thoughts, or emotions are only a manifestation of the Spirit, which lives in the body and uses the body. How does he use it? He perceives reality through it and acts. That is, the difference between the Spirit of a living being and an object is that it acts, it somehow changes this reality in accordance with its desires, with its needs.

A scientist is also a certain consciousness that is located in the body. And in this consciousness there are thoughts, feelings, emotions, will, and so on - all the same components that we all have. This means that the question arises: how does he explain to himself the existence of himself in the space where he lives? Yourself – that means, your thoughts, your feelings, your emotions. That is, taste seems to exist, it is a product of matter, but at the same time it is not material - in the sense that it can be measured, touched, or somehow described in material words: “weight”, “mass”, “volume” .

When consciousness begins to perceive reality, Spirit begins to perceive the reality of the physical world. He understands to himself that he has certain needs in order to change his state of consciousness in which he is, to those that bring him to a special state - this is happiness, love, harmony, so that he can become closer to that The source from which he came. And this Source is in the Spiritual world - this is Absolute good, this is Absolute love, Beauty, Happiness, Truth. And it is precisely this that we all strive for in the material world in different ways, ordering this world.

Timecode: 3:40, #511 Anthropogenesis from aliens: the evolution of Homo sapiens. The first people. The origin of life on planets.

Tuliari Kromers (planet Tumesout) - xenobiologist and specialist in the creation of different species;

MidgasKaus (planet Esler) – biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations.

November 2022

25th of April

How ordinary people can help end hostilities. Jesus Christ

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/chem-prostye-lyudi-mogut-pomoch-v-zavershenii-voen

When military actions are already taking place with numerous destructions and casualties among both the military and the civilian population, then only a peace treaty between the rulers of two or more countries can stop this action (not just hush it up, but stop it).

The fact is that in the event of war, stopping hostilities by only one side is not effective; this will only cause the continuation of these actions by the other side. Because being in combat changes a person's psyche, his vibrations, and he will perceive any retreat as the enemy's weakness and the possibility of his complete victory. This is how the troops of any side will behave. And that is why, well understanding the consequences, military leaders of both sides do not agree to a truce unless it is approved at the highest political level. That is, no guarantees were given to each of the parties that military actions would not continue if one party stopped them.

You are not responsible for the decisions of your political leaders, but you can keep peace between each other, between two peoples simply at the level of communication, continuing communication, stopping blaming each other for various negative phenomena, various sins. Believe me, dear friends, none of you is without sin. In everyone one can find the sin of aggression, the sin of neglecting another nationality, humiliating another nationality. This is present in all nations. And you need to find strength within yourself, in every nation, so that first the people are reconciled among themselves.

Any war on the physical level is a manifestation of the war of minds that has existed between the two countries for many decades on the spiritual level. This means that your peoples did not accept each other's egregors, first on a spiritual level, and then it came to the physical level. What can you do to stop this? What can you do to stop this? Continue to maintain relations with the people on the other side of the front. Not with their fighters and soldiers, but with the people.

Both the people of Ukraine and the people of the Russian Federation are both Christian, Orthodox peoples, both peoples are building numerous churches on their territory dedicated to Me and the saints who glorified My name on Earth. Moreover, over the past few months, both in the churches of the Ukrainian Christian churches and Russian Christian churches, divine services have been held by your priests, aimed at victory over each other. The people themselves, both Ukrainian and Russian, are praying to defeat each other. This will not bring peace to your peoples. This will lead to an increase in the aggressive policies of your various military leaders and other responsible people against each other.

I ask you, dear friends, everyone, to ask yourself a simple question. But before you ask this question, get in touch with Me in your heart. You all partake of my Holy Mysteries, my flesh and blood. And you connect with me regardless of citizenship and nationality. I pass through my heart the feelings of each of you. Connect with my consciousness - the Christ consciousness - in your heart and look at what is happening through my eyes.

Imagine that you are a Spirit who loves everyone, in whose honor you built temples and cruelly deprive each other of embodiment, kill each other. At the same time, in different temples they pray to kill as many of you as possible, to kill as many of their opponents as possible, who in turn also pray for the same to you. How will you feel? How will you feel if such prayers are completely sincere, because both sides consider what is happening to be fair? How would you feel in my place?

And when you look at it through my eyes, you will stop hating the people who are on the other side of the front. They are the same as you. They are also scared and in pain. And they also fear for their fathers, sons, husbands who are now fighting with your soldiers. See yourself in them, and them in you. After you have learned this lesson, the hearts of your rulers will soften, and they will find contact with each other, regardless of the influence of any other countries on them. Because the influence of other countries on them was caused only by their choice. If their choice is different, they will change everything themselves.

So what should we, ordinary people, do?

Just make friends with the people who are on the other side of the front, pray, meditate, send the Light of Love and reduce hatred, anger, irritation and fears in your hearts. Just change spiritually. But this not only needs to be done, you need to tell others about it - about this position. And tell without aggression, just testify. If you do this within yourself, and the majority of people think and act differently, then such changes will drag on for a long time, and if the majority of people do this, you will quickly learn this lesson.

Timecode: 34:42, #504 Live broadcast with the phantom of Jesus Christ. How to run the Ashtar Sheran message algorithm.

Jesus Christ is the Firstborn Son of God, the Logos of His creation, the Creator and guardian of the Christian egregor.

October 2022

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/+astral
February 4, 2022

Egregors, Akashic chronicles, veil of the Astral

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/0uG6G_XhiOy
Egregors are energy-informational formations in the astral atmosphere of any inhabited planet. They usually look like huge clouds or vortices that rotate quite quickly. Egregors contain the energies of a wide variety of emotions, feelings, thoughts and ideas.
Similar energies of these psychological processes and states are collected into one egregor. Egregors are national, political, creative, scientific, religious, magical and tribal. Each large egregor usually has patron spirits.
Depending on the direction of the egregor and its vibrations, these can be Angels and demons and ordinary spirits occupying an intermediate position between them. The egregor is fueled by the thoughts, emotions, feelings and vitality of the people who support it. Such people are called participants in egregor.
A person can belong to several egregors at the same time, depending on his beliefs and hobbies. The information part of any egregor is called the Akashic chronicles. Akasha is the ancient Indian name for universal spatial energy that serves as a link between material and astral energies.

In the West, this energy was previously called ether, but now the usual term for it is “vacuum free energy” or “torsion field”.
In the East, people have always paid more attention to the study of the spiritual world, so they divided this energy into two types: the one that was directed towards the material world was called “prana” or “qi”, and the one whose vibration was slightly higher, and which is located, figuratively speaking, from the inside of space, and in fact received the name “akasha”.
In Akasha, in a special energy-informational form, all information about the past of the material world at any point is recorded. Akasha is infinite in time and from it one can trace the history of an object or event until the very moment of its occurrence in the Universe.
The ethereal energy closest in vibration to the material world is called the “astral veil”. It separates the material world from the spiritual. It is the astral veil that does not allow astral beings into the material world (including astral travelers who have temporarily left the physical body); because of it, astral beings are unable to normally perceive the material world and it is very difficult for them to influence material objects.
February 9, 2022

Features of astral vision

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/H9yAove3JP1

The astral world can be very similar to the physical, especially if this place is familiar to a person. This world consists of thought forms, energies of feelings and desires - both of him and the people around him, as well as of the thoughts and feelings of people who often visit this place or think about it.

The physical world is visible from the astral plane only in fragments, and what is visible is not the physical objects themselves, but ideas about them and their energy. This is similar to reflection in water, only in the astral plane it is not objects that are reflected, but thoughts about them and feelings associated with them.

We see the physical world with the help of a stream of light that is reflected from objects and enters our eyes. The astral body does not have receptors for perceiving and processing the flow of photons. Tuning into the physical dimension is only possible by connecting with material receptors designed for specific frequencies of energy radiation.

Atoms are not just spiritual energy, but spiritual energy that is in a state of density and vibrational frequencies much lower than the astral body. The astral body does not have a receiver for these frequencies.

We see even thin-material plasmoid worlds in the astral body differently from the way the inhabitants of these worlds themselves see them. And plasmoids perceive the physical dense world differently than we do.

May, 2021

March 19, 2022

Meet Zaliathar

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/jZnqVl5_I_2

Since the launch of the Cassiopeia project, many important events have happened for me. We all became a year older, and our planet approached another significant stage in the Great Transition that we all had to go through.

Understanding this, my curator from the planet Esler MidgasCaus decided to introduce me to another wonderful person, a very kind and bright Spirit, embodied on one of the planets in the Pleiades cluster.

His name is Zaliatar, and he lives in a system of three stars - on the planet Raom-Li. Mead took me there in his astral body and introduced me to Zaliatar, introducing him as his friend and collaborator in his work on contacts with earthlings.

The inhabitants of the planet Raom Li are an anthropomorphic race. They look like humans, but are slightly smaller than us (about 150-160 cm), with silver-bluish skin, large gray eyes without eyelashes or eyebrows, and white curly hair. This civilization independently developed over many millennia from a race of intelligent beings that emerged through natural evolution.

Currently, this civilization is not part of the Interstellar Union, but is a member of the Galactic Federation of Light, which has much in common with the Interstellar Union, but unlike it includes thin-material (plasmoid) civilizations.

Zaliatar is 720 Earth years old and was previously incarnated on Earth in the body of a Sufi poet. Now he is a futurist and bioenergeticist on his planet. He knows how to view lines of future options in the Spiritual world and give forecasts for the materialization of these lines in the physical world with recommendations for increasing the likelihood of positive event lines in time.

In other words, Zaliatar analyzes and views on the spiritual level the causes and consequences of any events in the material world and gives forecasts for their development in time and space. It also heals people on an energetic level.

Reading information from a person's etheric field about the state of the organs of his physical body, he uses his vital force to form etheric matrix codes, which contain the operating frequencies of healthy organs. Then he places these codes into etheric copies of the damaged physical organs of the body in order to gradually change their vibrations and restore them.

If the spiritual cause of a physical illness is not eliminated, then the etheric matrix code created by Zaliathar will either be rejected by the etheric body of the patient, or will cause only a temporary improvement in its function and general well-being of the person.

Zaliathar invited me to become his contactee, emphasizing that I did not yet have curators from the Galactic Federation of Light. I, of course, agreed - after all, he has a very bright, loving energy and a mind illuminated by the Light of Divine wisdom.

He was one of the curators of the well-known contactee Vanga, so he has extensive experience in interacting and productively working with earthlings.
As an example of his work on viewing event lines in the spiritual world, Zalityar, at my request, looked at the situation in the world with coronavirus.

This is what he told me after watching it:

> “The cause of the event on the spiritual level: fears of death and material failure in the Earth’s noosphere.
> The cause of events on the material level: the formation of group souls of coronaviruses by plasmoids feeding on the energy of fear and anxiety.
> A spiritual lesson from the Angels of the Earth: learning to transform impulsiveness and a tendency to extremes into the energy of determination, creativity and gratitude.
> The current state of the situation with coronavirus infection: everything that people are trying to forget and push into the unconscious reminds itself again, causing despondency and wariness among the materialistically minded part of earthly society.
> The most likely future (up to 6 months): complete victory over the virus, thanks to the brilliant insight of a group of earthly scientists and effective preventive methods introduced by your government on their recommendations.
> The actions of your society necessary to materialize the positive flow of probabilities: renunciation of impulsiveness, rudeness, the desire to argue and prove your ideas to others through even verbal aggression. Finding a connection with the Higher Self and harmonizing your desires, feelings and thoughts with it for the vast majority of people of conscious age.
> The influence of egregors on the current situation: the energies of fear and doubt prevail over awareness and logical analysis of the situation. The importance of working with the Higher Self is not realized.
> The consequences of the materialization of a positive flow of events: an increase in the proportion of people sensitive to the spiritual world and a growing desire to communicate > with their Higher Self. Awareness of the temporary nature of life in the material world and its enormous importance for the spirit.”

I am very glad to meet the new curator and hope for sincere friendship and fruitful cooperation!

With love, your Irina Podzorova

August, 2020

March 20, 2022

Techniques for entering the astral plane

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/83QUxISf_vi

The method of separating the astral you can be individual for everyone. The most effective is the path of mental and physical relaxation and mental representation of yourself as you separate from the physical body.

In the astral plane you can only mentally control yourself, that is, your thoughts and thought forms. The physical body doesn’t work there, you can’t just go physically, there you can only start moving mentally, by ordering yourself and imagining it. That is, the thought and faith that it will come true realizes this thought; it is faith that is the driving force of the Spirit in the astral world, in general in the spiritual world.

The first condition for successful astral travel is the belief that it is possible for you, the second is the desire to go there, if you really want it, not just to be interested in what is there, to look and return. And so that you really need it for something, that is, for some purpose of yours, so that your Higher Self, your subconscious, so that it gives you the strength to achieve this way out. If you seem to be indifferent to it, then your Higher Self simply will not want to waste energy on it. The third condition is, as I already said, relaxation and the ability to separate from thoughts about the material world.

As you say it, put aside concerns about material things, about some of your thoughts, separate them for this time and simply don't think about them.

This helps a lot in this ability to not analyze, to temporarily turn off analysis. It is usually believed that the younger a person is, if he is a child or a teenager, the easier it is to learn to consciously go to the astral plane, because he does not control himself that way. If he starts having some unusual sensations, he won't pull himself together and won't go back, but will simply continue to do it.

And one more important condition when you perform any exit technique is not to expect a result, but just relax, because waiting for the result will stress you out, and you will not come out.

There is an effective technique for imagining that you are simply mentally standing up or swinging. In general, there are different techniques, dozens of them, and they are all effective. Try this every day, you can alternate them, but the main thing is not to skip each day, and within a month the result will be almost 80%.

LiShioni is a specialist in astral interactions, planet Shimor.

July 2020

April 6, 2022

Astral visit to the planet Gihor constellation Virgo

I gave a cosmoenergy session to one of my friends. During the session, he saw an alien creature that appeared before him in the astral body. Then he described this creature to me, and MidgasKaus, who was also present in the astral body at the session, said that it was a representative of the distant and unusual planet Gihor.

MidgasKaus and I visited this planet during astral travel. There are no conditions familiar to us. The very hot climate, the presence of large amounts of hydrogen fluoride in the atmosphere and hydrofluoric acid in water bodies make this world completely inhospitable for humans.

However, it is quite familiar and comfortable for the silicon-organic life of local humanoids who arrived on this planet many millions of years ago from a distant galaxy.

After astral travel, MidgasKaus described the conditions on Gihor.

Planet Gihor

The star is sigma Virgo.

Distance from the Sun - 600 light years.

Planet diameter - 17200 km

Mass - 240% terrestrial

Gravity - 120% earthly.

The distance from the star is about four billion kilometers (26 astronomical units)

One revolution around a star is about 20 Earth years.

One revolution around its axis is 80 Earth hours.

Atmosphere - nitrogen - 15%, carbon dioxide - 5%, hydrogen fluoride - 35%, nitrogen oxides - 10%, oxygen - 2%, inert gases (mainly neon and xenon) - 30%, water vapor - 3%

The climate is very hot and uniform. The usual temperature is 80-120 degrees Celsius. There is a high concentration of hydrofluoric acid in reservoirs.

The inhabitants are humanoids. Silicone anthropomorphs. Their skin contains a green pigment containing copper and molybdenum. In structure and function, this pigment resembles terrestrial chlorophyll. The height of humanoids is 150-170 cm. The head is pear-shaped, the eyes are oval, large, dark. The body and limbs are thin and very flexible. Due to differences in the atmosphere and temperature of our planets, they can only be on Earth in spacesuits. These are aliens from the M90 galaxy who moved to Gihor about 80 million years ago.

Activities - entered the Interstellar Union several hundred years after its founding. The main direction of activity is the creation of high-vibration energy fields to restore health, integrity and harmony of dense bodies of different types of humanoid races. For earthlings, they, together with several other civilizations, create and transmit energy flows through parallel dimensions, which formed the basis for the practice of cosmoenergetics, initiology and other similar systems.

Political structure - there are no analogues on Earth. It resembles the strict hierarchical structure of an anthill or termite mound.

Reproduction is the artificial cultivation of physical bodies in special incubators.

Life expectancy is 5000-8000 Earth years.

There are contactees on Earth. Types of contacts - astral and telepathic. The purpose of contacts is to harmonize the psychological state of people in order to influence through them the formation of higher vibrational energy structures in the leading egregors of the earth's noosphere.

April 12, 2022

Magic. Influence on matter through the Spiritual world

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/7nZIWvBnWDL

What types of magic are there? How to protect yourself from it? All information was transmitted by a plasmoid (subtle material civilization).
Many people in your world, without learning consistent thinking with calm analytics, deep synthesis and priority of the Spirit, without solving their own emotional and mental problems and without learning responsibility, begin to study the art of magical control of reality.
This causes many destructive actions in the astral world that can harm people in the world of matter. Many religious teachings compiled by your spiritual leaders strictly prohibit any magical activity precisely because people enlightened with spiritual knowledge understand and understand the danger of ill-considered and unfelt actions in the spiritual world.
Each person can safely interact with any spiritual entity and structure, provided that their own feelings and thoughts are pure from all types of negative programs and conditions. This is especially important in the process of active work on a spiritual level, one of the types of which is magic.
A person whose mind and heart are filled with negative energy in various manifestations brings destruction wherever he goes and what he touches. This may be an unconscious act of will, but his negative structure of the soul forms corresponding thought forms in the astral plane, which can subsequently damage the energy field of the person himself or other people, especially children, the elderly and weakened people.
Each magician bears full responsibility for his actions and their consequences, even if he is not fully aware of what exactly he is doing. The very fact of turning to magic as a practice makes him a responsible creator of reality.
Ideally, every magician, in one form or another, realizes himself as an instrument of the good and perfect Divine will, feels like a glass transmitting Absolute Light into the material world. The deeper the understanding of the need to clean the glass from dirt for a more complete and undistorted passage of Light, the greater the energy power the magician has and the safer his practice is for him and other people.
There are three main types of magic: etheric, astral and mental. Ethereal is intended to interact with the elements of nature and subtle civilizations, astral is to influence the material world through the spiritual world, using the law of similarity, the law of contact and the law of integrity, and the purpose of mental magic is to influence matter with thought and word, conducting energy and information through the astral and ether for its materialization in the physical world, the speed and accuracy of which depends on the speed of the thoughts of the mental magician, the level of his energy and the compliance of his goals with the tasks of spiritual evolution, both his own and those of people directly or indirectly involved in their materialization.

An experienced mental magician can create and destroy reality with one word, using the limited knowledge and weakness of the energy of other people for his own purposes.
Magic, as the doctrine of influencing matter through the spiritual world, is inextricably linked with numerology, astrology, palmistry and other systems for the study and application of energy vibrations of material objects.
Therefore, every magician who wants to be perfect must constantly engage in his spiritual, intellectual, energetic and physical development, study ancient and modern magical and energetic practices, psychology, herbal medicine, mineralogy, astrology, anatomy and physiology and much more.
In more ancient times, a real magician in your world was at the same time a scientist and a psychologist, and a sincere believer in God and following the path of the religious tradition closest to him. Currently, due to the narrow ideas and laziness of most people, which are cultivated by the modern education system and the ideology of society as a whole, this useful practice is increasingly becoming a thing of the past.
Remember that for harm caused to people by magical methods, responsibility is much more serious than for harm caused by material means. This happens because with an increase in the level of knowledge, skills and abilities, awareness should also increase, and therefore responsibility.
To protect yourself and your children from negative magical programs, you need to cleanse yourself of fears, resentments, irritation, envy and other destructive feelings and thoughts; You need to spend more time in nature: in the field, in the forest and near bodies of water.
Try to think about good things more often, dream of good for the entire Universe, love people and strive to do good unselfishly. Such a person becomes a Divine collaborator and God Himself protects him with the Cover of His Love from all evil. The energy shield of the Creator of the Universe and our true Father cannot be compared with any magical protection; not a single magician in the Universe and all of them together will be able to cause the slightest harm to a person who has completely entrusted his life to God and does good deeds not for a reward in any form , but because of the Light of Love shining in his soul, unable to act otherwise, just as the sun is unable to hide its rays.
The information was conveyed by ERWIN, a teacher of the Order of Mages of the fine-material (plasmoid) civilization of the thirty-seventh density level, an inhabitant of the Betelgeuse system.
July 2, 2022

Brownies

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/domovye
This is a type of subtle-material civilizations, which in the language of esotericists are called plasmoids. There are many types, types, and density levels. The total density levels in the universe are 59.
We live on the third density level, all the rest, from 4 to 59, are occupied by plasmoid civilizations: that is, another 56 levels of densities of plasmoids only.
There is a division among plasmoids. For example, some of them are responsible for various elements, for various places in nature, and in human society. Here on earth they are called Spirits of Nature.
Spirits of Houses are also plasmoids, and they are usually from levels 5 to 8, there are other levels, but less often. One house may have more than one brownie, there may be several of them, there may even be a family, or there may not be any at all. It depends on how attractive the inhabitants of this house are in terms of their energies for plasmoids.
Video on the topic: #436 Live broadcast with DOMOVY.
MidgasCaus - specialist in biology and psychology, planet Esler.
May, 2020
July 22, 2022

Contact safety rules

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pravila-bezopasnosti-pri-kontaktah

We are contacted by a large number of contactees, mediums, and healers who have contact and open channels for transmitting information of various kinds. After communicating with many, we decided to give SAFETY RULES FOR CONTACTS with other forms of intelligence. Compliance with these rules will help all conscious and unconscious contactees with humanoids, plasmoids and the spiritual world to transmit the information they receive correctly and safely for themselves.

Many people want to become contactees with other forms of life, both dense and subtle. Unfortunately, only a few of them understand the full extent of responsibility for the accuracy of information transfer and take into account the need to change their usual way of life in the event of establishing regular contact with representatives of other civilizations.

When sending a mental request to the noosphere of the planet about the desire to begin communication with forces unknown to you, remember that it may well be heard and then those beings whose vibrational characteristics coincide as closely as possible with your own will come into contact with you.

Remember also that even if you did not give such a conscious request, but your bioenergetic frequency characteristics coincide with the characteristics of representatives of certain civilizations, then an invitation to regular contacts with them may still follow.

Based on this, we decided to convey to you several safety rules when contacting other forms of intelligence, non-compliance with which causes negative consequences for various areas of a person's life, for his health and spiritual development:

Never be afraid of those creatures that come into contact with you, no matter what they look like or what they tell you. Fear is very dangerous for yourself, as it completely deprives you of the will and ability to have a conscious dialogue with them. In addition, it disrupts the natural bioenergetic protection, which we call the " veil of the astral ", because of which it will be very easy for destructive plasmoid civilizations to connect to your biofield, which will subsequently feed on the energy of your fear, provoking you to causeless anxieties and inexplicable phobias .

Do not rush to completely trust any information you receive from a contact. Be sure to ask your own Divine Light to what extent the information received is consistent with the cosmic laws of Love, on which the existence of the entire Universe rests. Be especially careful if the entity in contact with you behaves arrogantly or aggressively, does not take into account your state when contacting it, and shows other forms of disrespect for you as a free individual.

Be wary if the information received during contact contains condemnation and humiliation of any religious denomination or nationality, race, social or political group, etc. Remember that a highly spiritual person, when criticizing the evil actions of others, avoids condemning and humiliating them as individuals, and even more so will not allow himself to be rude or call for violence. You should also be wary of information about calls for violating moral norms in society, developing selfishness and other destructive qualities that interfere with loving God, yourself and other people.

If you understand that a destructive entity is in contact with you, provoking fear and aggression in you, do not be afraid of it or show anger under any circumstances. Every time you contact her, speak boldly but respectfully and in case of any attempts on her part to influence you in a destructive way, mentally fill her with the light of God's love coming from your spiritual heart. Remember that this entity is also a child of God, like you, but does not understand being in the Grace of the Light of His Love and therefore does not know how to be happy and harmonious with you. Become a spiritual teacher for her, a guide to the Divine Light, and you yourself will gain invaluable experience of interacting with entities of this type.

Do not accumulate negative emotions in yourself, directed at people or at yourself: resentment, irritation, fears, doubts, envy and other destructive emotions and feelings. Develop patience , humility and Love , remembering that the spiritual evolution of every Intelligent Spirit rests on these three foundations, no matter what world he lives in, what he believes in and what he strives for. Always try to understand another person or another being, to feel his motives, and not to blame or judge. Remember that we are all rays of a single Spiritual Sun and are all equal before His Absolute Comprehensive Love.

Don't be proud of your contacts in front of other people. Remember that everyone has different tasks in life and each of us is a unique person who is loved by our Heavenly Father. Every Intelligent Spirit is invaluable to him, no matter where and by whom he is embodied. All activities are important for the society in which they exist, so contactees have no reason to be proud of those who, for whatever reason, are incapable of such activities.

Remember that the contactee is responsible for accurately conveying to people what he has perceived. If you do not agree with the information received during contact, then when transmitting it to people, if you still decide to do this, be sure to indicate where your opinion is and where the information received during contact is. Be as honest and objective as possible in this matter, remembering that deceit is a form of fear and non-acceptance of information, which will inevitably lower your personal vibration, which can attract negative spiritual entities to you.

Remember that you are the masters of your time, your life, and you can manage yourself. You have every right to agree with any entities on the time of visit, on setting up contact and on other circumstances that make your contacts comfortable and safe for you and people close to you. No spiritual entity has the right to influence you in any way without your consent. If any creature attempts violence, shine light from your spiritual heart on it and say mentally or out loud:

"I ask the forces of the Divine Light of the Earth and the Galaxy to take me under their protection and patronage."

Repeat these words firmly and decisively, but without anger or fear, continuing to shine your light on the aggressive entity until it changes its behavior or disappears completely.

Compliance with these rules will help all contactees with humanoids, plasmoids and the spiritual world to correctly and safely transmit the information they receive to people, which is the main goal of most contacts with any forms of other intelligence.

LiShioni is a specialist in astral interactions, planet Shimor.

Erwin is a representative of a plasmoid civilization of density level 37, from the Betelgeuse system.

March, 2020

September 2, 2022

Ancestral egregor. Signs of degradation of the genus

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/rodovoj-ehgregor-priznaki-degradacii-roda

A generic egregor is an astral object created by representatives of one kind. Like any egregor, it consists of information and energy components.

Information of the clan is data about the incarnation and spiritual evolution of each member of the clan. This information is often called generic memory.

The energy of the clan is the totality collected during the incarnations of spirits in all generations of the clan. This energy is always charged with the thoughts, feelings, emotions and desires of specific people who were in this egregor.

The genus consists of many generations, originating from two ancestors, who gave embodiment to one or more spirits, who in turn give embodiment to more and more descendants.

A family is a part of the Family that exists in a specific period of time, in the material world.

Any person can be a participant in several generic egregors, for example, the one where he was born and the one he himself creates when entering into family relationships.

Any generic egregor has its own guardian spirits. Usually these are spirits from the 18th to 22nd level of the world of Unincarnate Spirits, inclusive, who previously lived in this genus and, after disembodiment, want to help the development of their ancestral egregor.

Sometimes the guardians of ancestral egregors are spirits from the middle levels, but spirits from demonic levels are usually too selfish and busy with their negative experiences to take care of the egregors in which they lived when they were in the body.

Each generic egregor has its own frequency of spiritual vibrations. Each spirit that comes to incarnation through a generic egregor must correspond to the entire set of vibrations of a given kind. The guardians of the generic egregor assign a generic task to each spirit that comes to incarnation through this egregor. Generic tasks vary depending on personal spiritual goals, the level of awareness and the needs of the generic egregor.

If the generic task is not fulfilled, the chain of events leading to the fulfillment of the personal tasks of embodiment is disrupted, a person's goals are blocked and unexpected obstacles may arise on his life path. With a strong accumulation of negative energies in the ancestral egregor, the guardian spirits of the egregor of a country or people can take care of the cessation of the genus through negotiations with Angel Consultants about the cessation of incarnations of spirits through this egregor. In this case, no one else incarnates through the egregor, and the energies entering it gradually dissolve in the astral plane.

Reducing the spiritual level to a demonic level greatly lowers the vibrations of the ancestral egregor in which the spirit is embodied. Also lowering its vibrations are murder, theft, robbery, rape, blasphemy, the use of black magic and other forms of destructive and destructive behavior for society.

Signs of degradation of the clan are visible in the following manifestations in representatives of the entire family dynasty:

- Frequent chemical dependencies (alcoholism, drug addiction).
- Suicides and attempted suicides.
- Congenital mental abnormalities that cause maladjustment in society (mental retardation, epilepsy, schizophrenia and organic psychoses, the pathogenesis of which is formed in the womb or in the first three years of a child's life).
- Sexual psychopathy that occurs at any age (pedophilia, bestiality, homosexuality, gerontophilia, sadism, masochism).

If all four signs appear with noticeable frequency among representatives of the same genus, this is a sign of strong generic degradation and causes the need for spiritual cleansing of the ancestral egregor, with mandatory diagnosis and elimination of the spiritual causes of this condition and harmonization of connections of all subtle entities to people in the family through the ancestral egregor.

Such work can be done by any member of the clan through conscious contact with their higher self, but the effectiveness of these practices increases significantly in the case of similar work with the higher self of all members of the clan and their constant increase in their vibrations.

If there are only isolated signs of degradation in a family, this is a reason for each person to ask the higher self about the reasons for this phenomenon and do everything to fulfill the personal spiritual and tribal tasks of incarnation.

Li Shioni - specialist in astral interactions, planet Shimor.

September 2022

October 17, 2022

Why can a person attract an incubus or succubus? Sex in the astral plane

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/seks-v-astrale

Incubi and succubi are most often plasmoid entities that, in the astral plane, enter into sexual relations with the astral body of a person. Thus, they exchange energies, because when entering the astral plane, the astral body remembers the physical body how it felt during sexual contact with a person.

These feelings and desires are stored in the astral body. Therefore, plasmoids to which this human energy matches the vibrations and, tuned to this type of contact, are consciously attracted.

Yes, they don't just feed on this energy like from an electrical outlet, this energy carries a great charge of feelings and emotions. When connected in the astral plane, this plasmoid-incubus or succubus takes on the image of a person of the opposite sex and connects with the person's astral body as a sexual partner.

At the same time, the person in the astral experiences the same emotions. And because he likes them, he releases energy and exchanges with plasmoids. He can attract them with thoughts about a partner who is not nearby, he can strongly attract them with self-satisfaction, i.e. when a man or woman masturbates. With such an act, there is no exchange of kundalini sexual energy with the partner; it all enters the astral space and does not return to the person, but simply dissipates.

At this moment, there may be a plasmoid entity nearby, which will perceive this energy as close in vibration to itself. Then she will begin to come to the person and wait for him to leave the body.

Timecode: 44:35, #180 Levels of subtle and dense material worlds. The Structure of the Universe

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in the astral world and its interaction with the material world.

December, 2020

October 25, 2022

Exchange of energies between earthlings and plasmoid representatives of the Pleiades Intergalactic Medical Service

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/obmen-ehnergiyami-mezhdu-zemlyanami-i-plazmoidami

The goal of our help to earthlings is for them to be healed. This form of selfless help is realized as a profession or vocation, allowing one to carry out the tasks of embodiment.

On the Pleiades planets, everything is in order with medical care, with the prevention and treatment of diseases. But many medical specialists and bioenergy specialists who know medicine, biology, and work on the subtle material and astral plane, devote their time and energy to caring for those worlds that do not yet have such opportunities.

Why? Because in these worlds our brothers and sisters from the Spiritual world are embodied and not only in the bodies of earthlings. Such help is important for our spiritual development and growth in unconditional love. This is the main goal.

The human body, namely the physical body, continually radiates life force in the form of heat; the etheric body - in the form of energy that goes to metabolism, immunity; the astral - in the form of emotions, the mental body in the form of thoughts, and so on. All these energies are directed to the Spiritual world, to the astral world.

The exchange of energies between the healers who come to you and you occurs at the level of your vibrations. We use the energies of our mind, our thought forms and heal a person at the level of his aura.

We put energy into a person's aura, or into the etheric matrix of his organs. The energies that a person releases vary during sessions and depend on the person's thoughts and emotions. But they can be assimilated by our healers only if they have high vibrations. For example, if a person experiences feelings of sincere gratitude, love, happiness, joy, this increases the energy of us, plasmoids.

If the energies are low vibration, then they cannot be assimilated by us, plasmoids, and go into space. We have techniques, special energies that allow us to dissipate them, but this also wastes energy. The energies of anger, fear, hatred are too heavy for us, low vibrational, and their clots go down.

Clots are dark formations that look roughly like viscous resin. This all goes down from a person and cannot be directed to the exchange of energies between him and us, but we can use special energies of our spiritual heart to dispel them. This also takes time and effort.

Timecode: 04:25, #247 Answers to questions from the chat. Cosmohealing. Wellness sessions of the Intergalactic Service Laatar is a representative of the Pleiades star cluster, a specialist of the Intergalactic Medical Service (according to the MMS text).

April 2021

November 14, 2022

Sleep paralysis. Sleepwalking

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/sonnyj-paralich-lunatizm
Sleep paralysis is a human condition in which partial access to the astral plane occurs while maintaining partial awareness in the body. When entering the astral plane, for example, during sleep, the physical body is immobilized by a special hormone, and sleep paralysis occurs. This state is necessary so that the physical body does not repeat the movements of the astral body in sleep.
If this does not happen, the physical body gets up and begins to automatically repeat the movements of the astral body, which is sleepwalking. This occurs due to a malfunction of the sleep paralysis mechanism.
There is a form of sleep in which the astral body returns to the physical body before the brain “woke up” or entered a state of wakefulness. in other words, before a certain hormone is released, which removes all muscles from sleep paralysis. At this moment, a person may feel immobilized. But since the body does not understand the reasons for this condition, it begins to be afraid of it, worry and lower its vibrations. Because of this fear, the Spirit attracts low-level plasmoids to itself, which begin to take on various images and pretend to attack it in order to scare it even more. He sees these beings or feels their presence because, having just returned from the astral plane, he has not yet fully connected with the physical body.
That’s why I initially called it partial awareness of oneself in the astral plane and partial awareness of oneself in the physical body, in a state when the muscles have not yet woken up.
Timecode: 45:48, #173 Free topic: answers to questions. Secret government, predictions of the future.
MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations;
LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in the astral world and its interaction with the material world.
November, 2020
November 18, 2022

Egregors. Why do you need a connection with the generic egregor?

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/dlya-chego-nuzhna-svyaz-s-rodovym-ehgregorom

Any egregor is a complex energy-information system that is located in the astral world, this part of the spiritual world closest to the material world. Many people call the astral world the subtle world, i.e. subtle.

They call it that because of the spiritual energies, it is the energies of the astral world that are closest to the material. They permeate the entire material world, and at all levels of density. That is, for example, here in the physical world, where you are, there is also an astral world, and it exists in any subtle world.

But, nevertheless, this is precisely the spiritual world. Because, just like in the spiritual world, time does not exist there. That is, the astral world is superimposed on the dense world and the subtle world, but is itself a spiritual world.

Naturally, you can get into it from any material world: from our world, from any world of plasmoid civilizations, from the world of any humanoid civilization.

The Astral is such a universal place for contacts, for meetings of embodied spirits with each other, as well as with non-incarnate spirits. Moreover, in the astral plane there can be spirits embodied in completely different worlds, in completely different levels of density.

So, what are egregors? As already said, this is an energy information system that is located in the astral plane, that is, in the part of the spiritual world closest to the material.

Naturally, egregors also permeate all worlds: our dense world and all subtle worlds. That is, we, plasmoids, and disembodied spirits have access to the egregor, as well as to any astral level, as well as to any astral object.

An egregor is a system that consists of spiritual energies: emotions, desires, feelings and thoughts (thought forms). Thoughts are also called mental energy.

Some people separate the mental and astral worlds. Our interstellar friends, bringing everything to a single terminology, consider the mental world to be a continuation of the astral world. The mental world is, one might say, the highest level of the astral world.

The highest levels are the part of the astral world that is closest to the rest of the spiritual world, to the world of disembodied spirits. For example, in the practice of astral travel, the astral and mental worlds are practically the same. A person who has entered the mental world is also in the astral world, and while in the astral world, he is also in the mental world - he also has thoughts - these are just different levels of awareness.

In the astral world there may well be thoughts, thought forms, and in the mental world there may well be feelings, desires, emotions and various images made up of them. After all, feelings, desires and emotions are displayed in the astral plane not only by the shimmer of different colors or some geometric shapes, but also by various images that express this or that feeling, emotion or desire.

An egregor is a system built from the thought forms, feelings, desires and emotions of people, and more specifically, embodied spirits. If we look more broadly, then not only subtle-material entities, plasmoid civilizations, but also disembodied spirits can also quite put their thoughts, feelings, desires into egregors. They often do this by helping us in the construction of the egregor.

What else is contained in the egregor? It contains vital energy, i.e. energy of the etheric plane. She is transported to the astral plane. A generic egregor is an egregor that was built by an entire clan. A clan is considered to be a series of generations of people. Every person who is in one family or another is a participant in his or her egregor. When a spirit comes to incarnation, it goes through different stages of preparation for incarnation. For example, the first is the separation of 30% of your essence for embodiment in the body, i.e. it is the creation of the soul. But this is not creation from scratch, this is separation. The soul is endowed with a very thin etheric shell for connection with the body. There remains a spiritual channel between the soul and spirit.

The second stage is passing through the egregor of the planet, or, if there are many egregors on the planet, through the egregor of a separate state, or a separate country, or a separate people - after all, we have many peoples who do not have their own state. If a people lives in a state, but at the same time has its own egregor, it passes through two egregors at once: first through the egregor of the state, then almost immediately through the egregor of its nationality or its nation, which is called the “national egregor.”

Part of the spirit moves from the world of disembodied spirits to the astral world and ends up in the egregor. He is escorted by angelic guides, and greeted by the guardians of the egregor, or their assistants, or phantoms. It is mentally communicated that this spirit wants to incarnate in this people. Egregor gives him etheric power to adapt to this people and sets before him a vital task for the people, i.e. it’s like certain energy equivalents of energy given by the national egregor. After this, the spirit moves into an egregor of its kind. In that egregor that was compiled by many generations of his ancestors.

You know that a child is born from a woman and a man. But the woman and the man came from different families. Whose egregor is this? When a man and a woman unite in marriage, into a single family, a new egregor is born in them. But this new egregor is the carrier of the energies of two egregors: the egregor of a man - the future father of the child and the egregor of a woman - the future mother. When a part of the spirit passes through a generic egregor, it passes through the part that originated, but since it is part of two egregors, then for it it is a single egregor, of its kind. He receives a generic task from this egregor.

That is, in this case, it is a single egregor, which comes from two egregors, from which mom came and from which dad came. There are no such words for the earthly language yet, so I can only explain figuratively: two large domes create a third dome, which is under them, and together they are already a single egregor, i.e. these two people combined their egregors to create a new one. The ancestral egregor provides energy for adaptation in this genus and the ancestral task.

Why is it important to connect with him?

Meditation aimed at exchanging energies with our ancestral egregor, sending the light of love to our ancestors, will allow us to understand our ancestral task and receive the energy to complete it. It will allow us to feel a stronger connection with our family, with relatives, and will allow us to cleanse the ancestral egregor of possible energy problems. After all, the ancestral egregor contains all the information of your kind: all the thoughts, feelings, emotions that the participants of the ancestral egregor, your ancestors, sent to the astral plane. They are saved.

Naturally, they are gradually replaced by other thoughts. For example, if the percentage of negative energy prevailed, and then people began to raise their vibrations, then the percentage of negativity will decrease, and the egregor will begin to cleanse itself. And vice versa, if the vibrations in the family decrease, the energies gradually become darker in color, then the egregor becomes lower in vibration.

This meditation will allow you to cleanse the egregor of a significant amount of low-vibration energy, which means this will open up brighter lines of the future for all members of the clan, for all family members.

Introductory word from the meditation from 10.28.2022 “Harmonization of the ancestral egregor” - master Irina Podzorova

December 16, 2022

Rules for interaction with the other world

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pravila-vzaimodejstviya-s-potustoronnim-mirom

> Question: sometimes you feel the dead nearby, it can be on the street, in a cemetery, in a dream. I already know the sound, energy, smell, by which you can determine that they are nearby. For some time these objects seem to appear and then disappear. They often try to say something. Is it necessary to establish communication with such entities, and how to learn to hear them? How can you communicate with them without harming yourself and your loved ones? Because after that you feel a loss of energy.

Those whom you call “dead” are some types of plasmoids or disembodied Spirits of various levels. When a subtle-material entity or an immaterial entity interacts with any person, in all cases an energy exchange occurs. Your desire is very important here. If you want to communicate with him and feel his appeal to you, then mentally ask him to speak in images and words that are understandable to you.

If he doesn’t succeed in this, he cannot always combine with you, then using your will ask him:

> I ask you to leave me alone and never contact me again.

No violence can be approved in the Spiritual world. Much depends on the purpose of contact of the entity that is contacting you, on its spiritual level, from where it came to you.

You can communicate safely with everyone, but you need to understand that everything is God and a reflection of God in yourself. If you believe that communication is safe, you will protect yourself with this belief. If you believe that she will harm you, you are afraid of her, then you will greatly weaken your defenses and become more open to receiving some kind of “programs” from her.

Loss of vitality is possible provided that you are incompatible in vibration; in this case, the energy goes not to the essence, but to the contact itself, to establishing a channel. If it is impossible to completely avoid the loss of vitality during contact, then I can advise you, after contact, to restore your vitality in the way that is familiar to you. Because when communicating with the Spiritual world, energy exchange always occurs, which can occur in different ways.

Timecode: 47:30, #28 Questions are asked by a bioenergetic healer. About the causes of diseases, oncology and healing methods

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations.

November, 2019

December 18, 2022

The best way to clear space of low vibrational entities

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/luchshij-sposob-ochistit-prostranstvo

If low-vibration entities come to your apartment, then the best way to clear the space of them is to be conscious of this fact. You can send them the Light of your love and recognize it not as an extra hateful element that needs to be gotten rid of, but as your brother in God, who simply left the path of development of the Light, but to whom you can open this path.

Your best defense against any entities is to always remember that everyone is in the same field of Divine presence. All Spirits, no matter what levels they currently occupy, are particles of God. Only some realize the Divine Light, while others do not, believing that if they do not see this Light, it means it is nowhere, and everyone else is also in darkness.

Dark Spirits, demons, are also aware of themselves, their task and strive to reveal to people the truth that is revealed to them. But your task is not to drive them away, not to clear the space of them, but to open their eyes to this Light, to God, who loves them just as much as you.

God loves both demons and angels equally. Both are his favorite children. Therefore, by filling them with your Light of love, you will contribute to their evolution and the raising of your own vibrational spiritual level. Because you will give your love unconditionally.

The demon, by its nature, will not be able to return this love to you until it itself raises its vibrations. Therefore, you will not just lend him your energy, hoping to receive the same amount, you will give him freely, of course, becoming like God. You will be like the Sun that shines on the righteous and the unrighteous.

Timecode: 58:42, #165 Demons, low vibration entities and plasmoids.

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations.

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in the astral world and its interaction with the material world.

November, 2020

January 3, 2023

The influence of magical rituals on the occurrence and course of the disease

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/vliyanie-magicheskih-obryadov

A magical ritual performed on a specific person, even by the most powerful practitioner, may have no effect on him. It all depends on the vibrations of the person being affected. If a person has an energy field of high vibrations, then this dark program will not only not stick or cling, it will simply be reflected from him and can go to the one who sent it.

Naturally, there are methods to protect against this, but, nevertheless, the level of vibration is of great importance. And only if a person has a low vibration thought. What is low vibration thought? The highest vibration belongs to the one who created it. This is a vibration of pure love, joy, acceptance of everything that happens, gratitude and empathy. Anything that differs from it in vibration will be lower than it, for example, mild irritation or old resentment.

These formations are not visible in the material world, however, in the astral world this is a clearly manifested image. For example, the same thought forms of resentment, anger, jealousy, envy, etc. in the astral space they are visible as dark-colored ribbons, cords or some kind of clouds that surround a person. These are very real formations.

Our rational Spirit, which has embodied itself in an earthly body, is capable of creating a certain thought form with its thoughts, charging it with its own vital force, and giving it some awareness. In the future, if this thought form is negative, it will provoke a person to similar thoughts. In your psychology this is called memory. Those. a person has created a negative situation in his memory and constantly returns to these memories. And even if a person does not want to return, the thought itself comes to him. During diagnosis, such thought forms are perceived by some healers as separate entities.

Such entities have some kind of conscious life. First of all, they strive to preserve their own life and to strengthen the desire or feeling that generated them. The ability to generate such beings, such living thought forms, is given to us by God, but it is given for positive purposes. For example, to create positive thought forms that will further help us on the path of development. But some people use them in such a way that they attract various magical influences from outside and accelerate the course of various diseases.

The same infection, entering the body of different people, will behave differently, since the body's immune response already depends on its vibrations of the astral-mental field. That is, the cleaner and brighter the thoughts, the stronger the immune system. But only if the immune system has the resources to produce cells, and this depends on a varied diet, rest, sports or physical activity. If a person just sits and thinks positively, but does not develop his physical body, then, as you understand, his immunity will be impaired.

Therefore, in a person, in his physical body, in the astral-mental fields and the very consciousness of the Spirit, everything must be developed harmoniously. The body, thoughts, and emotions must be healthy and adequate at the moment of potential danger of magical influence.

Timecode: 29:55, #28 Questions are asked by a bioenergetic healer. About the causes of diseases, oncology and healing methods.

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations.

November, 2019

January 9, 2023

Dyatlov Pass. Investigation into the deaths of tourists

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pereval-dyatlova-rassledovanie-gibeli-turistov

If we watch 5-6 sessions of sleepers who are unfamiliar with each other, we will get completely different scenarios of what happened at the Dyatlov Pass. But this does not mean that any of the stories are a hoax. The fact is that, entering a state of mental travel, the sleeper sees the death of people through his imagination.

I, too, like a sleeper, went through astral travel into the Akashic chronicles. Naturally, you will have a question about how to distinguish my story from the stories of other sleepers. All I can say is that you need to look at the facts. Pay attention to how comparable the stories of the sleeper or other contactee are with the facts of the investigation materials. These are known published facts.

There are results of the criminal case, autopsy reports are also freely available. Everyone can read them and draw their own conclusions.
I would like to draw your attention to one fact - it is known that the bodies of the last four tourists were found later, in the spring, at the bottom of a deep ravine, covered with snow at a depth of 3 m. The fact is that they did not have shovels, therefore, they could not dig it up for themselves shelter. 3 meters is not a meter, it is a very great depth. But the sleepers and other researchers who adhere to the anomalous theory of this tragedy did not even raise the question of why they ended up at such depths.
The truth can only be obtained if you look in the Spiritual world not just at the egregorial records in the Akashic Chronicles, but precisely if you go back in the course of Time. This is quite possible to do by going there consciously. You can go to the astral plane, you can go on a mental journey, for example, while simultaneously being aware of your body, or you can not be aware of it. But the main thing is to go beyond the astral world and get into the world of disembodied Spirits. And so, just on the border of the world of disembodied Spirits and the astral world, there is a Time Ribbon.
You can move backward along this Time Tape. You can, of course, move forward in the course of time, but then you will find yourself in one of the branches of that reality that has not yet arrived. This is exactly what Zaliathar does. But he looks at everything there in connection with the present time and the position of the egregors. And he says what actions should be taken to make this happen. What will happen, what are the consequences, if this branch of reality is the reality of the present, that is, he describes all this. Yes, that’s what he calls himself - a futurist.
MidgasCaus took me to see what happened to the Dyatlov group, precisely along the Time Tape. He did not answer the question himself, but said:
"Let's go and have a look."
When we got there, it was like a movie, but one that you don’t watch, but find yourself in a real situation there among them. An amazing feeling of presence, as if all this was happening in the material world. For example, the crunch of snow.
In our astral bodies, Mead and I visited the Akashic Records, the place where past events are recorded, like in a book, only in space. They are recorded not by electromagnetic pulses, but by special radiation from people who once lived, and in general, radiation from the entire planet. I could call everything that we saw there an accident, but of course there is nothing accidental.

This is not a man-made cause of the tragedy, it was not the plasmoids that frightened them, this is not murder, none of the people killed them, they were not killed by aliens from outer space, intelligence services, etc. There was no one else for many kilometers other than them.
Cases such as the Dyatlov group were known before; many tourists go without equipment and die. After this incident, tourists in the Caucasus froze in the winter when they could not get to help. Moreover, they went, as they now show me, without any means of communication at all, they did not take any walkie-talkie.
The disaster happened at night when they were sleeping. People set up a tent, digging up the snow. Because they were lying there, it was warm inside, the snow began to melt under them. There was a wind, a snowstorm. Snow blew onto the tent, and it moved down a little. The group members stuck ski poles into the floor to hold up the roof. The sticks were not metal, but ones that could easily be broken. Snow fell from above, the tent slid down, and the poles broke off.
It was not a full-fledged avalanche, but people who were sleeping closer to the top were overwhelmed. The damage that was found on the bodies was characteristic of strong compression from the outside, that is, there was no external damage.
Photography from the Internet
People ran out of the tents. The snow continued to shift as they ran out and pulled out those who couldn't get up. Someone suffered a traumatic brain injury from falling things. For example, there was a backpack, it fell and damaged something. Thus, everyone ended up in the snow, in the cold. They had a flashlight, and shining it through the snowfall, people thought that there was an avalanche. They were afraid to dig up their things in the dark, in the cold wind under the snow. Moreover, the snow shifted under them. They thought that if they didn’t run down now in what they were left with, then they would all be thrown off and mixed with the snow. Then everyone will die.
So they ran down the slippery mountain. Naturally they rolled down and fell on the rocks. The snow was getting deeper. As they walked further, they realized that traveling without skis was not as easy as they thought.
Four tourists fell into a ravine after stepping on a snow peak, mistaking it for a hard surface. Having fallen to the bottom of the ravine, they were still crushed by the snow from above. Therefore, they had injuries incompatible with life. The investigators who found them understood everything. Injuries indicate that they were compressed. There was no external damage.
When several people ran down, by some miracle one of them had matches, they lit a fire, and there I saw a cedar tree.

We cleared the place under this tree as best we could, and while we were waiting for an avalanche to start or not, we lit a fire. The avalanche did not go, some of the tourists decided to return for warm clothes and shoes, because many ran out without them.
Walking into the wind, even to the top of the mountain, without clothes turned out to be very difficult. They were already very tired and cold, the wind blew out all the warmth. Walking against the wind up to the top of the mountain, without shoes and in light clothing, was much more difficult than running down. The darkness and loss of orientation took their toll. They sat down to rest and fell asleep from weakness, cold, psychological and physical fatigue. And they didn't wake up anymore.
And those who stayed there, under the cedar, decided that when the snow stopped, they would reach the tent, pull out everything and go home. When they ran out of ways to keep the fire going in this wind, they began to plant each other on the cedar tree in order to break the branches higher, since all of them were broken off from below. While the fire was still burning, one stumbled, fell from this cedar and touched the fire. Why were their hands burned? When they were left alone, they began to fall asleep, a cold wind was blowing at their backs, and in order not to fall asleep, they bit their fingers and put their hands into the fire, but it did not help them. They still couldn't keep the fire going until the morning and froze.
Timecode: 34:14, #75 Live broadcast with contactee Irina Podzorova. Quantum transition, Dyatlov Pass, pyramids, 5G Video on the topic: #138 Dyatlov Pass. Investigation of the deaths of tourists through astral travel and the Akashic Chronicles.
MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations.
April 2020
January 10, 2023

Where do animal souls go?

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/kuda-devayutsya-dushi-zhivotnyh

There are several types of animal souls. In the science of the Interstellar Union, living beings are not so sharply divided into plants, animals, and so on. In any case, even in your science it is recognized that plants are the same living beings, and they also have souls, and microorganisms have souls, all types of animals and insects also have souls. But all these groups of living beings have different groups of souls, they are group and single.

Group souls occur in plants and microorganisms, insects, some birds and fish. Mammals, reptiles, and large fish have solitary animal souls.

All groups of animals are created by representatives of plasmoid civilizations, which are created specifically for this. With their thoughts they generate a certain type of energy, which is combined and then embodied in various types of animal bodies. If this is a group soul, then after the death of individual animals, a particle of the soul enters the area of the astral world where the animal souls are located. And this happens until all the bodies of this group soul die and it gathers again. Then they can incarnate in the next group of animals. Moreover, this may not happen immediately, but gradually. That is, some part of the group soul has already incarnated, and some has not.

After several incarnations, sometimes after several dozen incarnations, it depends on the specific animal soul and the type of body. After the death of the next body group, this soul disintegrates. This means that her consciousness gradually falls asleep, and all energies dissolve in the astral plane and enter the plasmoid world from which they came. They become the basis for the creation of future similar group souls.

Almost the same thing happens with a single animal soul, only with the difference that it is incarnated into one animal, not necessarily of the same species, but of similar species. For example, the soul of a cat may well incarnate into a dog. She can no longer incarnate into a herbivore, for example, into a cow.

Mead says that they conducted research on earthly animals to understand what souls incarnate in them. This occurs approximately within the same family of animals. After several dozen incarnations, the animal soul, after another loss of its body, loses its energy, its self-awareness gradually falls asleep, and it also dissolves in the astral world and goes into sleep. Her energies also go to those plasmoid levels from which she incarnated. Animals, even the same ones, are created at different plasmoid levels. This is the work of various plasmoid civilizations.

Timecode: 06:10, #76 Live broadcast with contactee Irina Podzorova. Pineal gland, Higher Self, Ayahuasca, levitation

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations.

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in the astral world and its interactions with the material world.

May, 2020

February 18, 2023

Demons of alcoholism and drug addiction

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/besy-alkogolizma-i-narkomanii

By these types of entities we mean a whole group, not only of disembodied Spirits, but also of subtle-material plasmoid civilizations and man's own larvae, which become semi-conscious beings. They grow from his blocks and feed on these blocks, his own vital energy and inspire him with the idea of drinking alcohol. Because alcohol is one of the sources of energy that gives practically nothing to the human physical body, but when broken down in the body, it allows low-vibration plasmoid worlds and larvae to be fueled by its own etheric power. This is the first action that is beneficial for low vibration plasmoids.

A person dependent on alcohol or drugs, other physical passions or the pleasures of the physical body, when leaving incarnation, enters the Spiritual world at a low level. This happens because he did not complete the task of his incarnation and did not develop in himself the tasks that he had planned before his incarnation. He was engaged in an immoral, immoral lifestyle, for example, he drank alcohol, got angry and offended when there was no alcohol, that is, he only lowered his vibrations and did not complete his task, since there was neither time, nor strength, nor opportunity for this.

Because he falls on a low vibrational level, the habits that have formed in him act on his Spirit in such a way that he continues to desire alcohol or drugs, and since he does not have a body, he cannot satisfy his desires. He can come to the astral plane from the world of disembodied Spirits, and, being in the astral plane, by vibrations, he can be attracted to people similar to himself, who are just starting to drink or use drugs, but are not yet accustomed to it.

Such a Spirit is attracted by vibrations and begins to inspire them, put thoughts into their heads, so that they do this more often. They eliminate the doubts of these people that " I don't need to drink , I need to take care of my family ." They instill in people the idea that " you should spend your time and money only on yourself, on your own pleasure, on alcohol ," and so on, without paying attention to the needs of yourself and your family, your work, that is, those social norms that exist in society.

They do this because, connecting to the brain of such a person, they feel part of his emotions, not even that they feed on energy, like plasmoids, but simply experience the same thing as in their body. They do this with the permission of the people themselves. But this permission is given unconsciously in the sense that the very desire to listen to such a demon, such a demon is considered in the Spiritual World a permission to influence.

Can they get through the wall? Whether for plasmoids or for demons, or thin-material and incorporeal, immaterial creatures, there are no barriers. They can penetrate through a wall, ceiling, floor, and even into another city. They are attracted to the apartment not because low-vibration people live behind the wall, but because in this apartment there is a person who matches their vibrations. If you are close to this person, but your vibrations are sharply different, they are higher than those of demons and low-vibration plasmoids, they cannot affect you in any way, since you are on different vibrations.

They will not be able to cause any harm to a high-vibration person, nor will they be able to instill bad thoughts. If you are a very sensitive person, you will feel changes in energy. You may feel changes in your emotional background, such that you feel sad, heavy, or something else. But if you raise your vibrations, just remember something pleasant, read the mood of Burkhad or Esler, listen to high vibrational music that you like, or send love to this being, if you felt it, then immediately your state will level out and this low vibrational Spirit will receive a rewarding experience of interacting with the energy of your soul in the form of Light.

A low vibrational Spirit will feel as if a bucket of very hot water was poured on it from high vibrational energy. Most likely, he will move from this to another place. They may be in a state close to a person who emits highly vibrational energies, but this is quite difficult for them. To do this they must have some purpose. But even if he is nearby, he will not be able to influence you, as if you are tying him hand and foot.

Timecode: 12:51, #165 Demons, low vibration entities and plasmoids.

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations.

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in the astral world and its interaction with the material world.

November, 2020

March 27, 2023

The energy of a living and dead person in a photograph through the astral plane

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/ehnergetika-zhivogo-i-myortvogo-cheloveka-ch

Whether he is alive or dead can be determined, but there are some difficulties associated with the human condition. It happens that a person was suddenly killed or had an accident, that is, he was suddenly taken out of incarnation, and he ended up in the astral world, parting with his body forever, then he is still full of vitality and feels as if he were alive. Many do not understand that they have died, even a few earthly days, if you look at it that way. They resist this feeling and think that they are having some kind of terrible dream. Accordingly, since he is full of vitality, his energy can resemble a living person. This is especially true for children whose energy metabolism is increased, and for young, healthy men.

If a living person is in a state of what you call a “decline in vitality” - despondency, depression, hopelessness, then the person may have little vitality left and from the photograph it can be read that he is dead. First of all, the amount of etheric energy is read from the photograph. This is the first difficulty, but it is not the most important.

The main difficulty is determining the location. Astral travel occurs in the astral body. But in the astral body there are no receptors - eyes for perceiving objects of the physical world that are in the physical body. In the astral body, the Spirit sees only the Spiritual world, the astral world, a projection that gradually descends into the physical world. Therefore, the astral world often resembles the physical. But if we start looking for a specific place, we can see, for example, where the body is, or where the person is - the astral projection of this place. But figuring out where it is in the physical world will be very, very difficult. Even you, who live on this planet and know where which city is located, where which square of terrain is. And for us, alien specialists, for whom this planet is a place of work, and we do not walk around your cities, but are simply at the base - this is even more difficult.

There is also such a thing that many esotericists look at the same person in different ways. They get different results. But the answers they give still contain part of the truth that happened to him. Moreover, they can consider as reality what he was thinking about, what he was afraid of, and describe it.

In general, it is desirable that the person looking for him knows him personally. Because it is especially difficult when you do not know the person personally and have no idea about his worldview. In "immersion" one can see something, it may be the contents of one's memory, and the viewer will think that it is true.

Timecode: 19:44, #246 Live. Answers to questions from channel viewers.

MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien life forms;

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in the astral world and its interactions with the material world.

April 2021

April 24, 2023

Devices for recording the subtle world

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pribory-dlya-fiksacii-tonkogo-mira

There are special audio recording techniques, so-called “electronic voices”. This is done not by disembodied Spirits, but by plasmoid civilizations. They influence in a certain way the equipment that keeps records, and then voices appear, as if out of nowhere. This is called the "electronic voice phenomenon." They can be unintelligible, but, nevertheless, you can hear that someone is saying something in an empty room. There are special programs on the computer that process this, remove extraneous noise, and individual words are distinguished there. There is a special audio recording device, it is not just some kind of voice recorder, but special equipment. Those who do this have the characteristics of this equipment. We had a conference, where they named what frequencies needed to be recorded.

As for the cameras, you can capture some plasmoids. Subtle worlds, Spirits embodied in subtle bodies. It is possible to record with cameras not the plasmoids themselves, but their trace in space. For example, some cameras that have a higher shooting range than people use ultraviolet cameras. Sometimes infrared cameras can also help photograph certain air glows, like in an empty space. But this is not the plasmoid itself, but a trace of its presence. It warms the air a little. This is invisible to a person, but to a camera it can be noticeable.

There are special so-called magnetometers that record disturbances in the electromagnetic field. There are forms of audio recording devices that record in the infrasonic range, that is, very low waves. And those plasmoids that are in this space can collect (not all of them, but some who know how to control energy) the dense world in such a way that they create a wave, like noise.

Let us note that there are no Akashic Chronicles in the material world. This is already the level of egregors. It can only be read by going to the Astral or receiving it through your spiritual channel. No material elements, no material carriers can record it, no laser beams can show it. Only your spiritual channel can do this.

Related video : #170 Instrumental transcommunication. The phenomenon of electronic voice. https://youtu.be/ftjEW9krZcI Timecode: 29:04, #420 The Unknown Universe. Science and magic. Astrophysics, subtle world, Kozyrev's mirrors, Akashic Chronicles.

March, 2022

Raom Tiyan - representative of the planet Burhad, a specialist in energy interactions in the environment of the material world;

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.

May 1, 2023

Information field of the Universe

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/informacionnoe-pole-vselennoj

The information field of the Universe is the totality of all egregorial structures that are embodied in this Universe. They contain information recorded not in the form of some kind of material records, but in the form of mental images that were emitted by people and plasmoid civilizations.

The concept of noosphere is very close. This is the sphere of the mind that covers the entire Universe, although your scientists say that it covers the Earth. This is spiritual, this is the area of the Spiritual world, where there are records of everything that happened in the Universe. There is such a part of the Akashic Chronicles, for example, which includes the Time Tape, where events and knowledge about the events of the past are located. They are there in the form of energy impulses. Even if people did not send thoughts about this, since it happened in space, then such energy departs from this, from these events themselves, which forever remains in the Time Line.

Photographs of “memory fields” are not the same spiritual records on the spiritual level in the Akashic Chronicles, in egregors, but are their reflection on the subtle plane, on the subtle material world.

The whole world is divided into the dense world, the subtle world and the Spiritual world. All three of them interact with each other. The spiritual plane can move to the subtle plane with the help of certain plasmoid civilizations that take information from the spiritual plane. Plasmoids charge this information with their energy, taking it from the spiritual plane of their life force, and it becomes visible to cameras. The information itself on the spiritual plane is available only to the Spirit. It will have a mismatch of vibrations with matter.

What is the Spiritual World? In modern scientific language it is described as the inner world of the Soul, psyche. It is not located in the external world, where all objects are located, but inside, in the Soul.

You close your eyes, shutting off the outside world, and find yourself in the world of your thoughts, feelings, memories, emotions, desires. This is your personal Spiritual world. But other people also have these phenomena. And when you begin to come into contact with the Spiritual world of other people, your contemporaries, or people from the past, or those who will only live in some version of the future, you come into contact with the Spiritual world of other people. With the Spiritual world, which is outside of you, but at the same time you can come into contact with it by going inside yourself.

Timecode: 35:04, #420 The Unknown Universe. Science and magic. Astrophysics, subtle world, Kozyrev's mirrors, Akashic Chronicles.

Raom Tiyan - representative of the planet Burhad, a specialist in energy interactions in the environment of the material world;

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.

March, 2022

May 30, 2023

Causes of insomnia. Sleeping pills. Recommendations for sleep disorders

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/prichiny-bessonnicy-snotvornye-rekomendacii

Sleeping pills are substances that can penetrate brain structures and affect the balance of hormones. There are substances that cause muscle relaxation and reluctance to move, for example, "Luminal", it is more characteristic of muscle relaxation, its psychotropic effect is quite insignificant. "Luminal" and its analogues cause something like sleep paralysis and relax muscles. The astral body does not want to linger in a body that simply lies and does not want to move. It believes that sleep paralysis has set in and leaves.

The effect of this substance especially affects long-term memory. The action of the drug causes in the astral body a disruption in the ability to remember dreams and generally remember its astral exits. The person will feel darkness, as if he has failed.

Because of this, when the effect of the drug wears off, he feels as if he was just lying there and did not sleep, and dissatisfaction appears. It takes time for the muscles to regain tone. It will appear faster if a person gets up, starts moving, and does physical work. But this is difficult to do because you will feel weak, everything will be relaxed. You will feel like you didn't get enough sleep. You may get a headache because a toxin, a certain metabolite, can cause headaches.

There are substances - this is the group of “Phenazepam” and analogues. They penetrate certain molecules in the brain and there reduce the amount of hormones that are a reaction to anxiety. At the same time, there is anxiety, but the person does not feel it through the brain. These are, for example, “Sibazon”, “Phenazepam”, there are many different ones. The most famous are Diazepam and its numerous analogues. They are all different, but they all relax the muscles, although to a lesser extent. They act more specifically on hormonal metabolism. In small doses they do not cause sleep as such, there may be some sleepy states, but they do not cause separation of the astral body.

As the dose increases, disruption of the pituitary gland, hypothalamus and pineal gland begins. When a person is still in the body, a state of consciousness occurs as if he had already been separated from the body. And this causes separation. There may be intoxication, dizziness, headaches. It happens that a person takes these drugs for a long time, his liver secretes special antidotes that quickly remove them from the body. And then he simply will not feel these drugs, and he will need to be given a larger dose. But if the dose is exceeded, a microtoxic effect is caused, which, on the contrary, increases anxiety. A person may develop certain fears. There will be such vibrations in the brain that it can begin to sense subtle beings and will be on the verge of intoxication.

Causes of insomnia. Recommendations for sleep disorders from MidgasCaus

Personally, if you have sleep disorders, I would advise you not to take any medications or even herbs. In general, do not drink anything for sleep. I would recommend doing meditative practices and autogenic training, especially before bed. Review and improve your entire lifestyle.

If you smoke, quit this habit. This can cause sleep disturbance due to hypoxia. Or at least the last cigarette at least three hours before bedtime. Your blood vessels may narrow, plus carbon monoxide, oxygen is not supplied. This makes a person feel internal anxiety, his instinct of self-preservation becomes more acute - he needs to run, to save himself, and not to sleep. So he has insomnia, but he cannot explain it to himself.

Possible sleep disturbance due to frequent alcohol consumption. If (for men), say, on average, more than two or three times a week alcohol is present in an amount greater than a certain minimum (a low-alcohol drink in a small amount that a person will hardly feel), the amount of acetaldehyde increases in the brain tissue and in the liver. This shifts the acid-base balance of the blood to the acidic side. It will take time until the acetic acid is removed. Moreover, liver enzymes begin to work slower over time. They must be cleansed and restored before they “get ready” for the next holiday.

If the liver enzymes do not have time to “get ready,” then a certain amount of acetaldehyde accumulates, which causes tension in the muscles and blood vessels, changes in the composition of intracerebral enzymes, and this already affects the vibrations of the Spirit. There will be anxiety, irritability, it will be difficult to fall asleep, and you will wake up early. The astral body cannot leave the physical body in this state for a long time; it needs to recover.

Abuse of sleeping pills can also cause (if they are discontinued) long-term insomnia, since the astral body no longer wants to separate itself, it needs an assistant. It happens. This, of course, can be overcome, but with time.

And chronic stress, anxiety, fears, some somatic diseases that cause pain, tension in the muscles, in some parts of the body can also cause insomnia in the absence of adequate pain relief.

Some forms of contact with subtle-material entities can also cause insomnia. When exchanging energies with the contactee, they begin to influence the brain in such a way that it completely loses the ability, even the need, to sleep for some time. The plasmoids pump so much energy into him that his consciousness changes from lack of sleep, and he more easily comes into contact with them. You call this the onset of psychotic episodes. This is not only schizophrenia, but various psychotic personality disorders.

Why is this disorder? If he comes into contact with certain plasmoids, then this goes out of his control and affects adaptation in the social sphere where this person is located. Therefore, your doctors quite rightly called this condition a psychotic level disorder. This can also disturb your sleep. Plasmoids come into contact with him, he has no time for sleep, he needs to communicate. Contacts are different: sometimes they arouse his interest, sometimes he fears.

It is recommended to harmonize your state, take a walk in the fresh air before going to bed, and do breathing exercises before going to bed using the Pranayama method.

I recommend not to overeat two hours before bedtime; this may prevent you from going to the Astral. For some people, the fullness of the stomach is associated in his mind with the time of wakefulness: if I am full, then I have to do something, and therefore the astral body does not leave the physical. This doesn't happen to everyone, but it does happen.

At the same time, it is not recommended to go to bed with a completely empty stomach. A person should be neither full nor hungry, an average state. Hunger can prevent you from falling asleep, and the instinct of self-preservation can kick in: “Why are you falling asleep? You need to go get food.”

Very good at mastering the techniques of astral travel. Those who have mastered them can fall asleep in 5-6 minutes and go to the Astral without awareness. Do not strain to go into astral travel, maintaining awareness, but simply fall asleep.

You can start doing exercises to prepare for astral travel. When you feel like you are losing the sensation of your body, you can let go of your awareness and fall asleep.

Timecode: 01:07:13, #359 Alien medical technologies. How to boost immunity? Nanorobots, extraterrestrial chips, brain.

MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.

October, 2021

July 9, 2023

Research on plasmoid worlds (density level 1 to 59)

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/issledovanie-po-plazmoidnym-miram

There are 59 levels of density in the material world. All of them, except for the two most subtle ones, are distributed over three levels in reality clusters. The last cluster of reality is the thinnest and contains two density levels - 58 and 59.

All cluster names are conditional, because they are given in earthly language, in which there are no special words denoting fine-material structures. Many cluster names are taken from Sanskrit, as the language of ancient researchers of subtle-material (plasmoid) worlds. Some names of clusters from hypothetical theories of terrestrial physicists.

Earthlings call the entire set of subtle worlds and energy membranes between them “ether”. In this article we will call “ether” only the energy layers between density levels and between individual clusters of reality.

Ether is matter that is in a superplasmic state and gives rise to the physical forms of matter and energy known to you.

FIRST CLUSTER: Physical

1-3 density levels

This is the physical world known to all people. All galaxies, stars and planets with space between them are included in this cluster. Matter here is characterized by gathering into separate stable particles called “atoms”.
The physical world is the space familiar to you, where humanoid civilizations live and develop. It makes up 7% by volume of the entire material world.

Between the first and second clusters there is a vast ethereal field that separates them from each other and is the building material for the matter of the worlds of these clusters.

For subsequent clusters of reality, fundamental categories will be given below with the help of which an earthly person can create an idea of the subtle-material worlds and the tasks of the entities that are embodied there.

The main color and shape of reality clusters are described in the perception of an earthly person, through his level of awareness and lexical apparatus.

SECOND CLUSTER: Torsion bar

4-6 density levels

Space colors: shiny, golden, silver.

The structure of space is intersecting and constantly rotating spirals.

The duration of existence of subtle bodies is up to 900 Earth years.

Characteristics - worlds of torsion fields that revolve around large gravitational masses, stabilizing their position and movement in space relative to each other.

The task of the entities is the construction and delimitation of energy spatial fields, the assembly of atoms, molecules and larger dense material structures, the energy for which comes from higher levels of density.

Example : the world of Gloria, level 6 density, the location point is projected in physical space onto the Earth's orbit, exactly opposite the physical planet, on the other side of the Sun.

THIRD CLUSTER: Lepton

7-9 density levels

The colors of the space are light yellow.

Structure of space: rapidly moving, rhythmically flashing dots.

Duration of existence of subtle bodies: up to 2700 Earth years.

The task of the entities: preparing the energies of the elements coming from higher levels of density to be collected into atoms, through their ordering and primary quantization.

Example : the world of Rakar, level 9 density, is located in the chromosphere of the Sun.

FOURTH CLUSTER: Pranic

10-12 density levels

The colors of the space are dark green.

The structure of space is successively arranged rhythmically moving waves.

The duration of existence of subtle bodies is up to 6000 Earth years.

The tasks of the entities: filling space with vital force to create etheric bodies of different types at lower levels of density.

Example : the world of Karuna, one of the Reiki civilizations, density level 11, core of the star Aldebaran.

FIFTH CLUSTER: Prithivi

13-15 density levels

Space colors: gray, brown.

Space structure: homogeneous space, with contours in the form of regular rhombuses and hexagons.

Duration of existence of subtle bodies: up to 7000 Earth years.

Tasks of the entities: creating ethereal templates for atoms, working with the elements of earth, observing small areas of terrain, creating the souls of plants and microorganisms.

Example : Kobald world, density level 14, outer shell of the Earth's core.

SIXTH CLUSTER: Apana

16-18 density levels

Space color: green with blue and pearl tints.

Space structure: wide, slowly moving waves, with many white dots.

Duration of existence of subtle bodies: up to 9000 Earth years.

Tasks of the entities: creating ethereal templates for atoms, working with the element of water, creating the souls of sea plants and animals, observing small bodies of water.

Example : world Kerem, density level 16, bottom of the Volga mouth.

SEVENTH CLUSTER: Vayuna

19-21 density levels

The colors of the space are white and transparent.

Space structure: alternating white and transparent lens-like spaces, with arches, tunnels and domes.

Duration of existence of subtle bodies: up to 12,000 Earth years.

Tasks of the entities: creating ethereal templates for atoms, working with the element of air, creating the souls of animals and birds, monitoring large areas of space and living quarters of humanoids.

Example : Borai world, density level 19, earth's atmosphere in the area of the Earth's north pole.

EIGHTH CLUSTER: AGNI

22-24 density levels

The colors of space are orange, red, yellow.

The structure of space: resembles constantly dancing huge flames.

Duration of existence of subtle bodies: up to 19,000 Earth years.

Entities' tasks: creating etheric templates for atoms, creating animal souls and etheric bodies for humanoids, working with the element of fire, monitoring large areas of space and living quarters of humanoids.

Example : world of Ruach, density level 22, Earth’s magnetosphere.

NINTH CLUSTER: Akasha

25-27 density levels

Space colors: blue, white.

Space structure: vast blue spaces with white volumetric geometric shapes.

Duration of existence of subtle bodies: up to 24,000 years.

Tasks of the entities: creation of subtle-material information bases, creation of etheric bodies of humanoids and plasmoids at lower levels of density, management of the incarnations of plant and animal souls in the biospheres of planets.

Example : world of Siyahu, density level 27, Earth’s ionosphere above Mount Elbrus.

TENTH CLUSTER: Shakti

28-30 density levels

The colors of the space are pink, light purple.

The structure of the space is concentric circles inscribed within each other and intersecting with each other.

Duration of existence of subtle bodies: up to 42,000 years.

The tasks of the entities: the formation of prototypes of the planets, filling the energy matrices of the planets with energies, cleansing space from destructive energies.

Example : the world of Rutah, one of the civilizations of the Kryon group, density level 28, outer shell of the Earth's magnetosphere.

ELEVENTH CLUSTER: Chandra

31-33 density levels

Space colors: black, gray.

Structure of space: emptiness, with inclusions of horizontal, vertical and oblique stripes of different widths and lengths.

Duration of existence of subtle bodies: up to 50,000 Earth years.

Tasks of the entities: structuring the spaces of planetary systems, harmonizing the energy fields of stars and planets, observing comets, asteroids and natural satellites of the planets.

Example : the world of Kamulir, the Hamilia group of civilizations, 31 density levels, the chromosphere of the star Deneb.

TWELFTH CLUSTER: Ojas

34-36 density levels

Space colors: silver, transparent.

Structure of space: regular polyhedra and crystals.

Duration of existence of the subtle body: up to 75,000 Earth years.

Tasks of the entities: transforming negative energies into light ones, cleansing egregorial spaces from destructive mental programs, creating energy matrices for worlds of lower density levels.

Example : the world of Parovit, density level 35, chromosphere of the star Taygetos in the Pleiades star cluster.

THIRTEENTH CLUSTER: Vritti

37-39 density levels

Space colors: gold, rainbow.

The structure of space: huge circles and spirals rotating in each other.

Duration of existence of the subtle body: up to 100,000 years.

Tasks of the entities: Creating prototypes of stars, filling energy matrices of stars with energies, maintaining stars in a densely material world in a stable state.

Example: world Arpon, density level 37, core of the star Betelgeuse.

FOURTEENTH CLUSTER: Surya

40-42 density levels

Space color: white.

Space structure: balls with curved rays.

Duration of existence of subtle bodies: up to 120,000 Earth years.

Objectives of the entities: managing the creation and existence of stellar systems and star clusters, harmonizing the work of plasmoids at different density levels on star formation and stellar decay.

Example : world of Rag, density level 42, core of the Sun.

FIFTEENTH CLUSTER: Graha

43-45 density levels

The colors of space are yellow, light green.

The structure of space: various geometric shapes smoothly flowing into each other.

Duration of existence of subtle bodies: up to 500,000 Earth years.

Tasks of the entities: creating prototypes of galactic nuclei, filling energy matrices of galactic nuclei with energy, observing the structure of galactic nuclei.

Example : Cospir world, density level 44, core of the Milky Way galaxy.

SIXTEENTH CLUSTER: Shanti

46-48 density levels

The colors of the space are very diverse. In addition to the 7 colors of the rainbow known to people, there are colors that the human eye cannot perceive.

Structure of space: constant flashes of different colors that unfold in the form of geometric shapes of various shapes.

The duration of existence of the subtle body is up to 800,000 Earth years.

Tasks of the entities: production of energy matrices for building the structure of subtle-material worlds at lower levels of density of the material world, compaction of subtle-material energy coming from higher levels of density, mediation, communication and energy exchange between all levels of density in all galaxies, stars and planets.

Example : world Tropos, density level 48, center of the Earth's core.

SEVENTEENTH CLUSTER: Brihaspati

49-51 density levels

Colors of space: red, yellow, green, purple.

The structure of space: thin lines intersecting each other at right angles, making up the light network of the material Universe.

Duration of existence of subtle bodies: up to 1,200,000 Earth years.

Tasks of the entities: assistance in the formation of temporary flows in the material universe, mental creation of the structures of galaxies and intergalactic space, control of the matter of worlds of all density levels at the galaxy level.

Example : Syncrap world, density level 50, core of the Milky Way galaxy.

EIGHTEEN CLUSTER: Prakashi

52-54 density levels

Space color: very bright pure white.

Structure of space: all-penetrating homogeneous Light.

Duration of existence of subtle bodies: up to 2,500,000 Earth years.

The tasks of the entities: the creation of light thought forms and their descent down to form all other worlds and spaces, teaching other plasmoids to create the world.

Example : Yatarga world, density level 54, center of the M31 galaxy.

NINETEENTH CLUSTER: Prakriti

55-57 density levels

Color of space: many colors and shades, many of which have no name in earthly language.

The structure of space: points and lines merging into complex volumetric geometric shapes, slowly flowing into one another.

The duration of existence of subtle bodies is up to 5,000,000 Earth years.

The tasks of the entities: distribution of Divine energy allocated for the creation of the material world among reality clusters, primary filling of space matrices with light energies in a quantitative ratio sufficient to create all worlds in the material Universe, at all levels of density.

Example : the world of Gelgul, density level 56, intergalactic space between the Milky Way and M31 galaxies.

TWENTIETH CLUSTER: Purusha

58-59 density levels

Space colors: transparent, colorless.

The structure of space: continuous colorless crystals, embedded one into another with different faces.

The duration of existence of subtle bodies is up to 7,000,000 Earth years.

Tasks of the entities: the primary reception of divine energy from the spiritual world for the creation of all material worlds, the isolation of spiritual energy from the Flow of the Creator of the Universe along the primary subtle etheric matrices, the harmonization of spiritual eternity with the channels of temporary event lines of probability and the formation of areas of space for the appearance of primary material forms on subsequent ones, lower density levels.

Example : world Soter, density level 59, core of the star Deneb.

July 2023

July 21, 2023

Communication in the astral plane

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/obshchenie-v-astrale

> If you call someone in the Astral with whom you want to see, does he come or can another entity come, pretending to be him?

Yes, another entity may come, pretending to be him. But you will understand this by the changed vibrations, by the changed energy. I'll give you an analogy. If some person came to you, pretending to be your loved one, came in his mask, as if a face similar to him, but you suddenly heard a different voice. You will suspect that these are not your loved ones.

In the Astral the voice is not heard, but the vibration of this Spirit is felt. For example, I (Irina) already know the vibrations of MidgasCaus. They are so soft, gentle, calm. They are different from LiSioni, which is more active. His energy is not just harsher, it is very difficult to explain his feelings in reality, it is more decisive, one might say. But this is not the exact word.

But, nevertheless, I feel it. I can already distinguish them. And if an entity comes that pretends to be MidgasKaus or LiShioni, there will no longer be that soft energy or such decisive energy. She will change, this entity has a different character. Faking vibrations is very difficult. You have to fake it, you have to experience the feelings that MidgasCaus experiences in order to fake his energy. It's not that simple actually.

If you don't feel the vibration yet, you can tell by the responses. If you are given a completely different answer to a question than what your handler previously gave, and when you ask again, the conversation is denied (or otherwise behaves suspiciously), you can assume that the wrong entity has arrived. And then tell her:

> “Prove yourself in the Light of God.”

If she does not show her true face at these words, then according to the rules of contacts this entity will be punished by being removed from the opportunity to contact. There is a mandatory condition for contacts with earthlings, which was set by God himself: when they say “show yourself in the Light of God,” they must show their true face, because disagreement to do this is already a violation of human free will.

Timecode: 56:46, #444 How to learn to feel energies? Irina Podzorova answers online questions from subscribers.

Irina Podzorova - contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations;

MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms;

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a sociologist, a specialist in the astral world and its interactions with the material world.

May, 2022

July 25, 2023

Cause of sleep paralysis

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/prichina-sonnogo-paralicha

When your body falls asleep, you went to the astral plane. The brain of the body releases hormones into the blood that paralyze the muscles of your body so that the physical body does not repeat the movements of the astral: in the astral you fly, move, perhaps fight with someone, perhaps love someone, hug someone.

When the Soul flies into the astral plane, it is connected to the body by a thread of vital force. To prevent the body from repeating movements, there is sleep paralysis, so that you do not get up or walk. But when the body returns to the physical body too quickly, when the body has not yet woken up for some reason, for example, in the astral someone scared the Soul, you, the astral body, and it rushed into its physical shell, despite the fact that it I haven't woken up yet, and the hormones are still in the blood, and the muscles are paralyzed. The man opened his eyes, woke up, but could not move. He may feel as if he is being crushed or something is sitting on him. This is because his chest presses down on the diaphragm with which he breathes, the muscle that is involved in breathing.

To get out of sleep paralysis, you need to turn on your body. There is no need to be afraid of anything, this is an absolutely safe state. Here only fear brings harm. Just concentrate on the tip of your finger, for example, on your right hand and just move it. First, move it, then clench your hand into a fist, then your muscles will turn on and you will be able to move and stand up.

Timecode: 1:18:12, #444 How to learn to feel energies? Irina Podzorova answers online questions from subscribers.

MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms;

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a sociologist, a specialist in the astral world and its interactions with the material world.

May, 2022

August 5, 2023

Awareness in the astral plane. Irina's first exit to the astral plane

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/osoznannost-v-astrale-pervyj-vyhod-iriny-v-astral

Involuntary exit to the Astral is a separation of the astral body, but when a person does not remember, since he does not have awareness. If, at the time of practice, you concentrate on your astral body, not on your physical one, but mentally create an image for yourself that you are going out into the Astral, then you can do this consciously, see your body from the outside and travel in the Astral.

If a person has lost awareness and does not remember anything, then he does not have the skill to maintain awareness. Remember your state before falling asleep, what do you feel before falling asleep? This is your state before entering the Astral. If you wait until your body falls asleep, but at the same time retain consciousness in your mind, then you will come out consciously.

Of course, this will be an altered state of consciousness, because in the Astral the world is not linear, for the perception of which the left hemisphere of the brain is responsible. There is a world based on images. Therefore, the state of consciousness there is changed. However, this is deliberate. The person will remember where he is, what his name is, that he is outside the body. He will have concentration on the Astral. Perhaps he will not name the date in which he came out, or anything else, because for this he needs to turn on the linear memory, which manifests itself through the left hemisphere of the brain, this will bring him to consciousness, and he will return to the body.

For example, I (editor's note: MidgasCaus) am now in the Astral Plane. My body is at the base, on Earth, and I am in the Astral. You can ask me about different things, I give answers, and this suggests that I have already gone into the Astral many times and am, although in an altered state of consciousness, but I understand what is happening. An altered state of consciousness does not prevent me from understanding the meaning of questions and giving answers.

Conscious access to the Astral

When I (Ed. Irina) was fifteen years old, Kirchiton gave me this method. When I asked him to teach me how to consciously go into the Astral, he gave me a method related to breathing.

There you had to breathe in turn with the muscles of the chest and abdomen, lie on your back, relax. You had to hold your breath for a certain number of heartbeats for one breath and then exhale. He told me:

> “Don’t think about anything extraneous.”

Concentration of thought is on breathing. Extraneous thoughts that come on another topic, you simply record their presence, but with the next exhalation you seem to exhale into space, create an image that this thought is a cloud, and you exhale it.

Gradually you develop a state: you stop noticing that you are lying somewhere, in some space, i.e. in the room. A vision appears as if you are in a field of white Light. Then, when you inhale this white Light and hold your breath, you get the feeling that you are inhaling White Light. It spreads throughout the body, such an expansion, and you want to sleep a little.

It is important to maintain consciousness here, because the change in consciousness occurs like half-asleep. If you miss this moment, the person will fall asleep and will not remember the exit. And you need to concentrate on breathing so that your mind is busy with work and does not fall asleep after a few minutes.

Usually it doesn't happen right away. He told me to do this every day for 30-40 minutes, at the same time. He said that gradually I would have a spontaneous exit, because the reflex of the astral body to separate would work as soon as the body and the biocurrents of the brain entered a certain state. I got out on the fifth day. I felt Light, relaxation, absence of thoughts. You feel as if you are floating somewhere. And then I felt as if someone was lifting me in my arms. A smooth rise, I opened my eyes, looked at what was happening, and saw that the ceiling was very close to me. I turned back and saw my body. This was on the fifth day.

He told me that there should be an increasing holding of breath. First inhale for one heartbeat, hold for one heartbeat and exhale for one heartbeat. First with the chest, then with the stomach. Then the same thing for two. This should be equal to inhale, exhale, and hold your breath. By two, then by three, then by four, you can increase it as much as you want, but for now you are comfortable.

If holding your breath is difficult, and you feel that it is causing tension in you, then it will not cause release. You need to go back one step and do as much time as you feel comfortable doing the exercise. Usually 30 minutes, I set the alarm.

When I flew to the Astral and saw my body, I was so happy. I looked at him, then I thought, Kirchiton was explaining to me how to control the astral body. We speak mentally, you need to think where you want, up, down, to the side - send thoughts. I thought that I wanted to fly up, I passed through the ceiling and began to rise up. I looked at the street from above, and then I saw balls that flew up to me. They were reasonable. We started playing with them, like leading a round dance. And then I woke up and opened my eyes in my body. Maybe about an hour passed, but I didn't hear the alarm clock. I got up, and the first thing I felt, although the room was warm, was cold, as if you were taken outside in the cold season in light clothes.

Heat exchange when entering the Astral plane

Heat or warmth is when you go out, when you breathe, and when I returned, I was cold at first, and then normal, this feeling went away. This is due to the fact that when a person is in the Astral Plane, or when a person is sleeping, his heartbeat and breathing slow down, his blood flow slows down, so his body cools down. By the way, this also happens in a dream. People most often sleep under a blanket, even in a warm room. It's not for nothing that it's customary to cover yourself with something so as not to freeze while you sleep. Because people have already noticed for a long time.

Have you ever asked why in a warm room, when you are awake, you do not put a blanket on yourself, and when you go to bed, you need to cover yourself with something? This is not just like that, it is connected with human physiology. If he sleeps without covering himself, he may wake up feeling cold. Slowing blood flow will cool the body. It will be unpleasant for him, and his astral body may return out of self-preservation instinct, and he will wake up in the middle of the night. This was uncomfortable for many people, so they came up with the idea of covering themselves with a blanket at night.

Timecode: 20:58, #441 BREATH of the Universe for healing the Soul and body. PRANAYAMA technique. How to awaken the consciousness of the Spirit?

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.

April 2022

September 15, 2023

Conditions for successful astral travel

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/usloviya-dlya-uspeshnyh-astralnyh-puteshestvij

Serious intention. If you are serious about studying the astral world in which you are during sleep, if you do not consider this to be some kind of insignificant fantasy of yours, then for these trips you will be allocated energy to maintain awareness in the astral plane.

If a dream is an insignificant fantasy of your brain for you, then there is a high probability that you will treat astral travel the same way. You can watch various cartoons without leaving your body, so you will not be given energy.

Just as important is the belief in the existence of the Spiritual world, the belief that you are a Spirit living in the body, as well as the belief that you, like any other person with a soul, can consciously leave the body, and this can be learned . This can be taught to absolutely anyone if they wish.

The third condition is the absence of blocks associated with fear. It is advisable to have no blocks at all, because the purer your spiritual heart and your aura, the higher floors of the astral plane you reach, and you can freely act and travel there. If you have blocks, fears, resentments, anger, you can find yourself on the lower floors of the astral plane, where you will meet with entities that will scare you or pretend to attack you.

And since everything in the astral has the same reality as in the material world for you, and if you believe in it, it can cause you psychological trauma and reluctance to engage in further travel. Therefore, it is advisable to clear all blocks.

You need to learn to relax physically and mentally, that is, let go of mental control. Any meditation will help you learn this, for example, autogenic training, which is done every day for 30 minutes. This skill must be consolidated before learning astral travel.

The normal healthy state of the physical body, the absence of any intoxications that take away strength, any chronic, infectious diseases, or parasites that can take away energy. You simply don't have enough of it to hold awareness. Even the condition of the intestines and liver affects the degree of consciousness of astral travel. If there are toxins in your blood from unresolved, undigested food debris, this can interfere with awareness in the astral plane. Just as the soul influences the body while they are connected by a vital thread, so the body influences the soul.

It is very important to be clean outside and inside.

It is not recommended to make astral travel in a state of altered consciousness with any chemical substances: neither alcohol, nor hallucinogens, nor anything like that. This does not make astral travel easier; it makes it difficult to control it and your state, and makes it difficult to remember what happened. Moreover, this helps to release from the subconscious those blocks that were previously hidden, which can lead to a very unpleasant subjective experience for you. It is recommended to do this only in a clear, pure consciousness.

According to information from a conference with MS representatives at the Cassiopeia project retreat in Ufa.

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.

August, 2023

October 2, 2023

About the materialization of images

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/o-materializacii-obrazov

The probability of materialization depends on the brightness of the image's elaboration. It also depends on the amount of energy you put into it, not even on the total energy intensity, but on the energy of your desires, feelings, emotions. And naturally, it depends on the amount of life force that you invested through the body, through your physical body, in order to achieve the materialization of this image in the material world.

For example, if you came up with an image of an object, for example, drew a picture, then the likelihood of its materialization depends on how much time you spend on this picture, on writing it, this is also energy, the energy of the material world.

It also depends on the person's life purpose. That is, sometimes, if it does not correspond to a person's life purpose, and a person's mentors, his spiritual teachers, mentors, curators, consulting angels see that this does not correspond, they will prevent the materialization of this image, if they see that its materialization will take him away from the path of spiritual development. It happens.

The science of imagery is the science of realizing one's desires in the light of divine love.

Imagery has a safety technique so that this image does not destroy the person himself and other people, does not lower the vibration and does not cause karmic responsibility. To do this, when imagining an image, you need to imagine how its embodiment will affect you and other people. It is necessary to imagine a path to achieving this goal.

First, you can imagine the final goal, how it should be furnished, in detail - this will create an image on the mental plane, what we call the higher astral, that is, we do not distinguish it from the astral, that is, mentally it is inside the astral.

An important condition for increasing the likelihood of the embodiment of this image is to believe in the reality of it. Surround yourself with the energy of your faith and know that it really exists, that is, that your mental image is not yours. Your word “imagination” already has a connotation of unreality, that it is like a dream. If you treat your image as a dream, then it will remain a dream.

You need to be able to imagine a vivid image, release it into the Universe and forget it. If you come back to it every day, you will only hinder the execution.

From the course "The Science of Imagery"

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.

October 18, 2023

Archangel Metatron on the life thread

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/arhangel-metatron-o-zhiznennoj-niti

A vital thread is called an energy cord or energy thread, or an energy beam (it looks more like a cord, because the beam is straight, but the thread is not). This thread was initially formed by the energies of the etheric plane of the Spirit that is about to incarnate.

The spirit that goes for incarnation separates a certain percentage from itself for incarnation into a body on a particular planet. Consulting angels (guide angels also help them) dress him in a special pranic shell. Prana is one of the types of ether, that is, subtle energy. From this pranic shell, when the Spirit introduces its Life Force into the first cell of its body, the primary Life Thread is already formed. She is a communication channel between his first cell of the body and himself, who is still outside the body.

For earthlings, in the seventh week of pregnancy, the Spirit itself enters its body, that is, the fetus that continues to form. In 90% of cases, while he is in the physical body, his Life Thread is coiled in the form of a spiral and is located in this image, in this form in the third energy center. And when the Soul - the embodied part of the Spirit - leaves this physical body to temporarily enter the astral space, then the Life Thread unfolds behind it.

This Life Thread is needed in order to unhindered the return to the physical body, either if the Spirit desires to return, or in case of danger to the body. If something threatens the body, it will wake up, that is, it will give a signal along the Life Thread, and the Spirit will return to ensure safety.

The life thread consists of subtle energy and can stretch to an infinite distance without breaking, so the astral body can visit any worlds. In the Spiritual world there is no distance in the earthly sense, there is a difference in vibration. So this Life Thread can stretch and contract. Along this Life Thread, when the Soul has already gone on an astral journey, consciously or unconsciously (sleep, trance, hypnosis, fainting, and so on), in any case, when the Soul is not in the body, through this Life Thread the Soul and the body continue to exchange energies.

When you try to do something with the Life Thread, damage it in any way, instinct is triggered, and the Spirit returns back. There is such a mechanism. The Soul also has a protector - a Guardian Angel.

In a dream, in the Astral they can try to tear it or cut it, but this will not work. Firstly, the Spirit will return from the touch of a being to whom it did not give access, it will be a different vibration. And secondly, it is impossible to break the Life Thread without permission, without sanction from those consulting angels who gave the pranic shell for incarnation, because they put a certain code into it, which no one can crack.

Timecode: 32:40, #465 Live broadcast with Archangel Metatron. Part 3.

Archangel Metatron is the Head of the Council of Hierarchs of the Milky Way Galaxy, Hierarch of the Spiritual World.

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in the astral world and its interaction with the material world.

June, 2022

October 31, 2023

About the relationship between curators and contactees

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/ob-otnosheniyah-kuratorov-i-kontaktyorov

MidgasCaus : We have the concept of a friend, but he is perceived not as a friend for conversations, but as an employee of one business. Irina, when her soul was in the Spiritual World, she herself chose such a path - contacting, and therefore we became collaborators in her earthly life. Our relationship does not resemble the relationship between a teacher and a student, but we always try to be friends, helping with advice, suggesting the way, explaining what is not clear.

We do not judge each other for mistakes along the way, we simply explain the consequences of different actions, and a person needs to choose his own path. Our friendship, unlike those forms that exist on Earth, is closer, but at the same time leaves more independence, since in our understanding everyone goes their own way.

The one who criticizes can do it, but without condemnation, that is, he can simply suggest. It would never occur to anyone to leave a friend because of some of his mistakes or hobbies.

Contacting is work, both on the part of the curator and on the part of the contactee: only I have the role of a curator, and she has the role of someone who perceives my information and transmits it to people in the language and in the era where it is currently located .

A lot depends on the contactee. The purity of the contact depends not only on the curator, but approximately the same amount depends on the contactee: that is, 50% depends on the curator, 50% on the contactee - how much he can choose a word and express it. Like simultaneous translators: the curator transmits information in thought forms, and the contactee translates it.

> ?Can you communicate in a friendly manner? Can MidgasCaus come for a visit just like that?

Irina : Yes, MidgasCaus can just come for a visit, not for work, and ask how you are doing... but if I'm busy with my own business, or want to relax, then I say that I'm minding my own business, and that he should come later. And he calmly leaves. They perceive this world and this planet as their work: not ordinary residents of Esler or Burkhad come to me, scientists who study alien civilizations come to me.

November 13, 2023

Poltergeist phenomenon. Plasmoid civilizations

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/yavlenie-poltergejsta-plazmoidnye-civilizacii

Some plasmoids can influence gravity by changing the position of an object in space. In Western parapsychology, this phenomenon is known as the term poltergeist (gravity control).

Plasmoid civilizations of any density level can materialize if they spend a large amount of energy, an example of this is ball lightning, or as a poltergeist does, that is, moving objects with the power of their thoughts. To do this, plasmoids use the energy of people who are nearby, the so-called "psychokinesis". It is a thousand times easier for plasmoids to do this than for non-incarnate demons, since they do not have any material body.

A person can also influence an object with the power of thought. This is precisely telekinesis, unconscious to a person, associated with human energy. That is, a person has vital energy that comes out during stress; its excess is especially noticeable in children and adolescents. This energy, when released, can suppress gravity in some object, and it will fly up. To have conscious telekinesis, you need to concentrate your thoughts so as to be 100 percent sure of success. Only faith gives such energy, or rather the opportunity for this energy to come out of you.

There are destructive forms of plasmoids that, feeding on human fear, irritation, and anger, can spend their energy on destroying something in the material world. Such plasmoids use poltergeists to attract attention and further intimidate nearby people. They often use the child's energy, because he has a growing organism that requires a lot of energy, and a flexible psyche through which he can be controlled by a plasmoid. He can induce a trance-like state in him and can use his energy to move objects through psychokinesis.

You can try to make mental contact with this plasmoid - usually through recordings. That is, sit down with a blank sheet of paper, a pen and turn to him with love, try to ask what he wants, why does he do this?

It happens that plasmoids do this either for experimental purposes, to see how people will react to this; plasmoids also have research groups that study our physical dense material world, or simply to feed it with energies.

Each family member needs to work with themselves to identify what vibrations attract such entities that behave aggressively. That is, through the Higher Self, find out from each person who lives in this house the true spiritual reason for what is happening. Because this reason is individual. All residents of the house where the poltergeist occurs need to forgive their grievances, get rid of fears, stop being afraid of them, and not react emotionally and negatively when a poltergeist manifests itself. Try to at least calm yourself down and pretend that this is not happening. Because by highlighting emotions, you will attract them to you.

Maxim's note : Through poltergeist, subtle civilizations learn to control the material world. This is absolutely normal. Just as we learn to manage the subtle-material world, so they learn to manage the dense-material world. Perhaps this is some kind of “schizoteric” on the part of the subtle-material civilization.

Time codes: 50:00, 165; 23:17, 326; 29:35, 59; 23:25, 155; 1:03:56, 234

MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien life forms;

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in the astral world and its interaction with the material world.

2021

November 16, 2023

The spirit of Sigmund Freud on the meaning of dreams

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/duh-zigmunda-frejda-o-znachenii-snov

Sleep is truly a journey of the Soul in the astral world. During my life, I thought that this was a type of certain illusions, a world created by the brain, which the brain, subconscious, unconscious create for the journey of the Soul. I then recognized the complete subjectivity of this state, but, nevertheless, recognized its importance in that a person’s dream is a message from his superego, as I called it, a message from his “it”. Sleep performs a compensatory function, firstly, as the fulfillment of those desires that he did not allow himself while awake. And secondly, a dream is like a warning about something from certain attitudes of morality, conscience, which we call the superego. The dream can be a warning. That's what I thought then.

But now I believe that it’s not only that. Indeed, the human Soul leaves the physical body. So she receives messages from the Higher Self, from her Angels (as external beings), from her mentors. And it is indeed very useful to write down your dreams, analyze them, but not through a dream book, but by asking yourself, because for each person the symbols are individual.

In my time, when I lived, there were many different dream books, and by the way, I studied them. The compiler of a dream book, consciously or subconsciously, always proceeds from the meaning of the dream image that is true for him or, as he believes, for most people. In any case, if he believes that this symbol is true for him, it does not necessarily mean that it will be true for you. You can, of course, read various interpretations in the dream book. But you should definitely check with your inner feeling to see if this is true for you. Maybe for you this dream has a completely different, even opposite meaning.

Timecode: 19:45, #474 Communicating with the Spirit of Sigmund Freud: a look at psychology from the Spiritual World. True freedom of the Spirit.

The spirit of Sigmund Freud (Freud).

July 2022

December 21, 2023

About the energy of Tarot cards. Card activation

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/ob-ehnergetike-kart-taro-aktivaciya-kart

Previously, the Book of Thoth and pyramids, and later pebbles with notches, were passed from one priest to another, from teacher to student. They could change many generations, and each specialist, master or priest charged them with the energy of his Soul and gave them away with love. There was no way to go buy it then. Now everything is different.

Now, even if a tarot reader teaches another to diagnose a situation, to guess, he does not pass on the cards or tools to the student. The word “fortune telling” can also be understood. If you look at the meaning, this is “the path of recognizing actions” , the path of diagnosis, recognition, recognition, internal diagnostics. The student goes to the store and buys cards.

Purchased Tarot cards are not connected to anything. They are charged with the energy of the one who made them. To one degree or another, they are charged with the energy of the egregor of esotericism and the egregor of the trading pavilion or shopping store where they find themselves (they also have their own egregors). They partially take energy. The person who bought them begins to gradually charge them with his energy and the energy of his curators who led him to the cards.

This process, of course, can be accelerated. You can configure the tool in such a way that the cards will act as a guide, but for this you need to meet several conditions. Cards must belong to one person. It is permissible to transfer them temporarily for teaching to a student, as the teacher did. After that, you need to tune them in for yourself. If transferred for other purposes, they will then need to be configured.

An energetic connection is formed between the owner of the deck of cards and the deck itself. The owner, his body and Spirit become conductors of energies for these cards.

Most often, if we ask questions about a situation, we receive information from egregors. We can receive information from a person’s curators and mentors, as well as from his Higher Self, if the person agrees to this action. For example, a person’s Higher Self gives an answer to a question to the curators of a diagnostician or fortuneteller, and they conduct energy in such a way that the cards are laid out that way. Depending on what is being asked, the sources of information will be different.

What you call the energy information field or the Akashic Chronicles is a general concept, a huge library. To determine which volume is used, you need to determine which question.

After purchasing Tarot cards, you can connect them to the egregor. There are many ways. But there is the most ancient one, which comes from Ancient Egypt. In the set of Tarot card arcana there are two arcana that are responsible for communication with egregors. Major Arcana number two is responsible for communication with the Spirits of the egregor, with the Guardian Spirits and with the plasmoid guardians of the egregor. This is the Priestess. It denotes, personifies, is a symbol of the Soul and a symbol of egregors of esotericism, in general.

And the symbol of the energy and information components of egregors, that is, the library that is there, is Arcanum number eighteen (Moon).

First: it is advisable to purchase Tarot cards on the night before the full moon. In that day. The next night should be no later than two days, so that there is a full moon. This is due to the ritual that needs to be done for the cards so that they can connect to the egregor of esotericism. The first thing we do when we bring cards home is clear them of extraneous influences.

Fire and crystalline table salt have a very great cleansing potential. You can light a couple of candles as a cleansing fire, place a Tarot deck between them and sprinkle salt crosswise, in such a way and in an amount that fits in a handful of one hand. It would be enough.

Express the intention for cleansing. In your own words say:

> “I express my intention to cleanse this energetic instrument, to tune it.”

After this, table salt cannot be used for food; it must be dissolved in the water that flows outside the house so that it leaves it. And two candles must burn out. Do not simmer them until one third of them remains. This is purification by fire.

When night comes, in the room where you sleep, there should be a window facing the other side of the sky where the full moon will be. If not in this room, then in another room of your apartment. Place the cards on the windowsill all night under the light of the full moon. Place it so that the deck is closed, but two cards on the sides are open: the second and eighteenth arcana.

Between the two open cards, in the middle, the deck should lie all night under the full moon. Even if there are no clouds and the moon visible in the sky, it is still full moon that night and the energy will be active. There will be a connection to the egregor. This is one of the ancient ways. This is how ancient pyramids were charged.

It's better to carry cards in a bag. You can diagnose yourself, any of your situations, or another person with his consent. If there is no agreement, there will be no accuracy, because energetic dissonance will be introduced. The exception is in emergency cases. Viewing people who, due to objective circumstances, cannot give consent, but need help. Curators allow this.

If you pull out Tarot cards, treat them with respect, as an energetic guide. It is advisable, in every situation, for yourself or others, to light a candle as a source of fire. This will enhance energy and cleanse the space.

Timecode: 26:30, #418 How did Tarot cards come to be? Probable lines of fate and predictions. Recommendations for tarot readers.

Archeron is a representative of the plasmoid civilization of the 53rd density level.

March, 2022

Information transmitted by our space friends through Irina Podzorova, a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations.

t.me/cassiopeia_publish
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/+roditeli-i-deti

February 24, 2022

How does the incarnation of Spirits occur?

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/eek34rVsaiI
The laws of the spiritual world presuppose a sequence of incarnations into which Spirits who have realized the need for life in matter go. This is an important and responsible step. The awareness of the spiritual essence outside the material world is high enough to make such decisions.

Finding themselves without vital force in the spiritual world, all Spirits, to one degree or another, begin to realize the value of the material world and strive for incarnation in it. The feeling of eternal immutability is unnatural for the consciousness of intelligent Spirits, because they are born with the desire to manifest themselves through matter.
Spiritual development occurs in a greater and greater awareness of oneself as Light, but even demons who reject Divine Love strive so strongly for life in the body that they often do not want to wait in line for incarnation and inhabit the bodies of low-vibration and weak-willed incarnated spirits.
The soul is the same Spirit, connected with the vital force that connects it with the material body of varying degrees of density.
The personal desires of the Spirit are taken into account during incarnation if they do not conflict with the life path program developed for it by the spirit consultants and the general plan of incarnations.
There are state laws written in codes, but they do not force themselves to be executed. Controlling government bodies keep order, but they cannot deprive a person of the choice to break this law.
Likewise, the laws of the spiritual world do not deprive Spirits of the freedom to violate them, which is clear from the fact that there are levels of demons who consciously reject the will of God, which is the totality of the spiritual and material laws of the Universe.
Olya Dizdar. Path to the light
Spirits are given freedom of action and this is best seen by the evil that they sometimes create in this beautiful Divine world.
Consulting Spirits do not have the habit of lying; they introduce all Spirits, regardless of their level of development, to the program of their life path to the extent that it is important and interesting for the Spirits themselves. Any Spirit has the right to receive advice on its future incarnation and on problems in past lives.
Even the lowest vibrational Spirit is not left in the spiritual world without the help and care of higher spiritual teachers. If the Spirit refuses to incarnate according to plans developed according to laws common to all, then he is denied incarnation, and another takes his turn.
He goes to his level of the spiritual world and lives there until his natural desire for incarnation overcomes fears of future difficulties. As soon as this happens, he again comes to the Consulting Spirits and gets in line for incarnation.
MidgasCaus - biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations, planet Esler.
October, 2019
February 25, 2022

At what month of pregnancy does the soul move into the embryo?

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/EiyvXMK2cKQ

According to information from representatives of the Interstellar Union of the Galaxy, received through Irina Podzorova, the intelligent Spirit introduces its energy into the very first cell of the new body immediately after conception. But he is present next to the parents even before this - at the moment of fertilization of the egg, that is, in the moments of physical proximity of the parents.

A more complete fusion of the Spirit with the body of the child begins from the 5th - 7th week of pregnancy and completely ends around the 12th week. However, our interstellar friends believe that from the 5th week the Spirit is already embodied.

At the same time, given that the Spirit partially introduces its energy into the very first cell of the embryo, artificially interrupting this new life in any way even at this very first stage already violates the Spirit's plan for incarnation , the implementation of which it may have been waiting for a very large number of earthly years (in the Spiritual world there is no time, but there is a feeling of long waiting).

Even the use of devices such as postinor, an intrauterine device, which induces artificial menstruation in a woman and prevents the embryo from beginning to develop by attaching to the wall of the uterus can be considered an abortion.

Based on this, we can conclude that only means of contraception that prevent conception itself can NOT be considered an interruption of the beginning of the life of the rational Spirit in our world.

If conception has already occurred (cell division has begun after fertilization), then the plan of the Spirit will be clearly disrupted, and he will have to clearly start all over again in the Spiritual world...

There is no need to go to the other extreme. If in the past there was an artificial termination of pregnancy at any stage, then it makes no sense for both the woman and the man (and he ALSO is fully responsible for this!) to only develop in himself a feeling of guilt, hopelessness and lack of faith “in forgiveness” on the part of the Creator .

As they say in Christianity:

> “There is no unforgivable sin except unrepentant sin”!

Sincere repentance - Metanoia - with a deep awareness of what happened, a complete decision to never repeat this mistake and specific actions to bring a Spirit or Spirits into the world in the future (or raising adopted children) can dissolve what was done, and even turn it into an event that led to spiritual personal growth.

You can dissolve and transform the energies from the block of guilt in the practice of merging with the Higher Self by turning to Heavenly Father.

Then the Spirit, which did not come due to the abortion, through this sacrifice, ultimately leads to the manifestation of the evolution of the Universe, realized through the example of a potential parent who has come to his senses and “corrected”.

The Almighty loves everyone unconditionally and no matter what. You just need to open up to this love !

With love to everyone - Your Project "CASSIOPEIA"

March 3, 2022

Message from the planet Esler about conception and birth of children

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/9OfSvZ9KZ7X

The inhabitants of the planet Esler convey a huge greeting to all of you and wish you each to find your own path of Light, leading to the growth of awareness and the development of Love in yourself.

Recently, via a telepathic channel, I was given information about the conception and birth of children. Eslerites consider this point to be very important for the happy and fair life of the entire society and each individual.

Here is the information:

“The education of children must begin before they are conceived. If you want to get a spiritually and physically healthy generation that will replace yours, then follow the elementary laws that allow spirits who incarnate from high levels to fully express their potential, and help those who come from low levels not to fall even lower, and they will build a ladder upward to wisdom, purity and perfection.

These laws are very simple and effective. First, take care of a worthy vessel of the spirit - the correct development of its future physical body, which should not be hampered by any factors of a physical, psychological and energetic nature.

So, for at least a month before conceiving, do not use any drugs, including alcohol and nicotine. This is ideal for both parents, but is especially important for the expectant mother.

Before this moment, it is very important to eliminate all foci of chronic infections in the body and get rid of parasites, since alien vibrations negatively affect the energy structures of the parents, introducing distortions into them, which will not allow the energy structures of the child to form correctly.

To attract a high-vibration spirit to incarnate, future parents should love each other with all their hearts and treat other people without internal rejection, irritation and other negative feelings that attract low astral vibrations.

In moments of marital union, direct your thoughts to imagining your future son or daughter, let love for them, not yet born, become your guide, and not the desire to satisfy your passion.

As soon as a woman understands that she has become the object of choice for the embodiment of a spirit, let her turn to him mentally or out loud with words of gratitude for his trust and a promise to do everything so that he can fulfill the mission with which he incarnated.

Let her immediately inform the second parent, as a full participant in the incarnation, about this, so that he too can turn to the spirit, whose body is still being formed, with words of gratitude, joy and love.

All the time before giving birth, the expectant mother should devote at least an hour a day to talking with her future pupil. They must get used to each other so that at the first meeting it will be easier for them to establish contact that will not be interrupted for many years. Naturally, she must protect herself from everything that frightens and irritates her, and alcohol and nicotine must be completely inaccessible to her.

She should not participate in funerals, use harsh words in speech, run, lift weights, and even think about cheating on her man or dream of intimacy with another. She should eat a varied diet, sleep at least nine hours a day, and do her best to expel any kind of negative emotions from herself.

It is also very useful for the future father to communicate more often with the unborn baby, being close to his beloved woman, who gave him the opportunity to give life to a spirit that may have been waiting for many years to be incarnated. He must also keep himself away from any negative emotions and from thoughts of intimacy with another woman.

When the hour of childbirth comes, it is desirable that the man be next to the woman and support her with his love, at this very difficult time for her. After the birth of a child, it is important to choose the right name for him. Let both parents do this in union and in contact with their Higher Self.

Any thought and feeling of a pregnant woman affects her energy structure, and therefore the formation of the etheric layer of the aura of the unborn child. Her thoughts and feelings towards the child himself and his father have a particularly strong impact. If they are positive, contain vibrations of light, goodness and love, then they form a strong astral-etheric protection of the child from negative entities and vibrations for many years.

But if the expectant mother is filled with doubts about the expediency of having a child and negative feelings towards his father, her low vibrations also destroy that natural astral-mental protection that the spirit brought with it from the spiritual world.

The result can be quite disastrous: the child's tendency to mental illness, physical pathologies and the formation in the subconscious of an initial distrust of parents and the world as a whole, which leads to great problems in adapting the spirit to new conditions and in subsequent childhood, adolescence and adulthood.

Love your children even before they are born and love each other and you will create a favorable atmosphere for the manifestation of all the bright sides of the embodied spirit and for the suppression of all its dark character traits and hidden vices."

The information was conveyed by Laon-Gris-Tion, a leading specialist at the center for research of the spiritual world and the initial adaptation of embodied spirits to the conditions of the dense material world, teacher, child psychologist and consultant on reincarnation, planet Esler.

March 4, 2022

Details of the embodiment of the spirit in the body and advice to parents during pregnancy

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/zJuclNY8l5k
As soon as the Spirit decides to incarnate into the physical plane of planet Earth, by an effort of its will it separates from itself 30 percent of its Essence, which will enter the future body - along with the elements of all its structures and energies.
Consulting angels “dress” the part of the Spirit going for incarnation in a very thin pranic shell, and a little later they endow it with vital force in the form of primary etheric energy, which forms the primary etheric field of the soul with 14 channels for connection with the physical body .
After this, such a part, separated from the Spirit, becomes a soul ready for incarnation.
At the moment of conception, the soul of the unborn child is present next to its parents in the astral world.
When the male and female cellular structures merge into one, the soul in the next moment introduces the first two etheric channels into the first cell of its body. From this moment a new incarnation begins.
During the first 7 weeks, the soul remains outside the forming body and every week introduces two etheric flows into it, creating the rudiments of energy centers (chakras), as well as etheric matrices of the organs of the physical body.
The moment of conception is the first contact of the energies of the Spirit of the unborn child and his parents. For this acquaintance to be harmonious, it is very important that conception occurs in high vibrations of joy and mutual love - not only physical, but also spiritual, without negative emotions and mind-altering substances that worsen self-control and poison the physical body.
When the first two etheric flows come into contact with the physical matter of the first cell of the future body, an energetic scanning of all chromosome loci occurs and the transfer of genetic information to the etheric field of the Spirit. In this case, instinctive programs are transferred from the DNA of the body to the Heart of the Spirit - through the transformation of biochemical signals into special etheric rhythmic impulses.
In the process of further formation of the etheric field and the physical body of the unborn child, plasmoids of the 4 elements also take part. On each etheric channel introduced by the Spirit into the future body, they impose an energy frame to connect a person with the biosphere of the planet.

From the moment of conception until the 7th day of pregnancy, the rudiment of the 1st chakra of the child is formed and the etheric matrix of the organs of the musculoskeletal system is created. During this period, it is good for the expectant mother to be in contact with nature and move a lot, but without allowing overwork and poor health.
From the 7th to the 14th day of pregnancy, the Spirit enters the fetus with two new streams of the etheric field - to lay the foundation of the 2nd chakra. At this time, the etheric matrices of the reproductive and excretory organs are formed.
It is very important for the expectant mother to preserve her sexual energy this week. Wasting this energy these days can create a future child's tendency toward promiscuous sexual behavior or increase the likelihood of infertility when he becomes an adult.
It is also very important for both parents during this period to maintain love and trust in all family members and in their parents. Scandals in the family at this time can cause the child to have poorly controlled affective outbursts.
During the same period (days 7-14), the embryo of the 3rd chakra is also formed. At this time, the etheric matrix of the digestive organs is being built.
During this period, it is especially important for mom and dad not to be afraid of anything, to put aside all worries and devote more time to developing will and self-confidence. Frequent fears during this period can affect the unborn baby, causing in him a tendency towards weakness, apathy and self-doubt.
From the 14th to the 21st day, the bud of the Flower of the Spirit is formed, which is called the Heart or the center of the soul - the 4th energy center.
During this period, the anger, resentment and irritation of the child’s parents forms a dark spot on his etheric field. This can cause damage to the developing etheric matrices of the baby’s cardiovascular, circulatory and immune systems. Such damage can very quickly reach the physical level and cause increased heart defects, hematopoietic disorders and congenital weakness of the immune system.
From the 21st to the 28th day of pregnancy, the rudiment of the fifth chakra is formed and the etheric matrices of the respiratory and speech organs are created.
During this period, it is very important for parents to maintain the crystal purity of their words and intentions, avoiding rudeness, vulgarity, lies and insults. All this forms a weak, damaged rudiment of the child’s creativity chakra, and subsequently it will be difficult for him to learn to create freely, without fear of mistakes and without expecting praise - as confirmation of love.

From the 28th to the 35th day of pregnancy, the laying of the Etheric Crystal occurs, from which the 6th chakra will later open. Also during this period, etheric matrices of all sense organs and their nerve channels are formed. During this period, it is especially important for parents to clear their mental fields of all negative, limiting attitudes and programs.
Ina Luzhkiene. Atonement
Remember that every thought of rejection and unlove emanating from the minds of the child's parents at this time interferes with the formation of the Crystal of Spiritual Vision and the etheric matrices of nerve nodes, which throughout the child's life will be responsible for connecting his senses, facing the outside world, with the brain and the abiding in him with the consciousness of the Spirit.
The Energy Crystal of the 6th chakra is of great importance for correct orientation in space, reading and deciphering signals from the senses, as well as for the spiritual vision of one's place among people and before God.
From the 35th to the 42nd day of pregnancy, the Spirit of the child sends into its body the last two etheric channels, which form the basis of the 7th chakra and the spiritual Channel that connects the soul with the disembodied part of itself. Also during this period, etheric matrices of all brain structures and primary connections of its neural network are created.
During this period, parents need to increase their time for all spiritual practices that increase their vibrations: meditation, prayer, working with their own energy, communication with the higher self and with their mentors and curators. Ideally, all this time, it is very good for parents to be in solitude in a beautiful, energetically saturated and clean place, communicating with each other, with their own Higher (Spiritual) Selves and with the Spirit of the child.
Finally, during the period from the 49th to the 56th day of pregnancy, the Spirit itself gradually connects with the body, entering the previously created etheric field and joining the energy frame created by the plasmoids to communicate with the Earth's biosphere.
During this very important period of pregnancy, mom and dad need to talk with the baby every day, inviting him into the earthly world, talking about their love and how many interesting things there are to do here. If you do not do this, then the Spirit will enter the body not as into a hospitable home, but as into an uncomfortable, cold cage that limits movement and perception...
All this forms the child's initial negative impression of the world, which becomes the basis for subsequent fears. If this happens, then in order to subsequently change this impression to a brighter one, an ocean of love and patience will be required from parents in the first months after the birth of the baby.

MidgasCaus - biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien life forms, planet Esler.
Li Shioni – specialist in astral interactions, planet Shimor.
Laom Street - astrobiologist, xenopsychologist, specialist in contacts with the Earth of the Commission for contacts with cosmic races not included in the Interstellar Union, planet Burkhad.
October 8, 2021
March 5, 2022

Birth and raising of children, information from the planet Esler

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pXyXYWAPg-2
When a child is born, let his parents remember that they created only the body, and the spirit belongs only to God, Who gave birth to the immortal and infinite energy matrix, which has the potential to acquire His qualities to the fullest. Don't look at the baby's weak body and undeveloped thinking.
In it and at the same time outside of it lives an entity potentially equal to God, like you yourself. Understanding and experiencing this at the level of the heart is the most important step in raising a person who is ready to live according to the Covenants of Love and who knows how to change himself and the world, guided only by the inner Light - the Energy of God invested in each of us.
Elena Berezina. Day one, 2013, 90x80cm x_acrylic
The incarnate spirit needs time to adapt to its new body and environment. The transition from the spiritual world to the material world is accompanied by a blocking of memory so that the past experience of the spirit does not affect the passage of new lessons and the completion of tasks set by it for itself.
This blockage makes it necessary to start life in the material world all over again, using your experience only in the form of innate character traits and type of temperament.
Your task as parents is to nourish not only the body with the material food necessary for its growth and development, but also to give the embodied spirit the information, using which it can develop the potential of God in itself, suppress the negative qualities acquired in past incarnations and control the instinctive nature, embedded in his body at the energy-informational level of individual cells and intracellular structures necessary for the survival, safety and reproduction of the body.

The main condition for the proper upbringing and further happy and harmonious life of your children is love. Her great energy is capable of healing wounds and ulcers of vices, moving mountains of unbelief and destroying all negative qualities.
Education without love will not give a child any benefit, even if he inherits ten worlds similar to your Earth.
On the contrary, material accumulations of low-vibration people who do not live in the flow of Love and Light can plunge them into the abyss of low and evil feelings, thoughts and actions that can lead to even greater degradation.
Focus your primary attention on teaching your child to feel the spiritual world and listen to God within himself. Then he will not go astray from the right path, even if there are many temptations on his way.
Even if he is temporarily carried away by something vicious, contact with God will certainly return him to the path of Light, since nothing gives greater happiness in the material world than the union of the energy of the spirit with the Energies of the Divine Purity of Love and Light.
From early childhood, tell your children that they are not alone, even if no one is around. Show them the starry sky more often and tell them that this is just a curtain behind which hides the face of the One who is pure Light, eternal Love and endless Life.
When meeting the dawn with your child, thank Him for the Creator of the sun, who gives life to the whole Earth, and be sure to say that his light is only a reflection of the Eternal Light of Love, shining in his heart and always connecting him with the Primary Source of everything that exists, has existed and that will exist. .
While watching the sunset with him, always ask your child to tell you what he did that day, what he learned, what upset him, what made him happy and why. Ask what he did wrong that day and how it could have been done differently. Don’t judge him for anything, but show him by example that any mistake can be corrected and then there will be no need for punishment.
Don't hit your children. Remember that you are the highest authority for them and at the same time the Source of Love. A child’s disobedience is a sign for parents that harmony and mutual trust have been disrupted in their relationship.
It is impossible to return the love of children through violence. Look for the true reasons for the manifestation of evil passions and vices in them and eliminate them along with them.
Be an example for your children in all the little things of practical life and attitude towards people, tell them about the most important spiritual riches in the world, without which nothing material can give true happiness and give meaning to life, which inevitably ends in the death of the body. It is not at all scary if the spirit is alive, and it can only live in the flow of Divine Light, Love and Goodness.

The information was conveyed by Gris-Menti-Coam, child psychopathologist, family and childhood consultant and specialist in the correction of behavioral and developmental pathologies, Planet Esler
March 10, 2022

Message from planet Esler to all parents and their children

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/wWHozHY7tBq

The representative of the planet Esler, who performs the work of a social psychologist on his world, wants to focus your attention on the importance of teaching parents who have small children, or are about to have them, the correct education of their souls in the light of God.

This is a primary task for the formation of a new society on Earth. I am ready to pass on lessons for parents on developing a correct worldview in their children.

The rules of Light build all life in the body according to the laws of true wisdom, which consists in the continuous radiation of the energies of life and love into the surrounding space.

This is the basis for building a new harmonious society, capable of unhindered entry into the interstellar union.

Teaching parents the correct attunement to the embodiment of spirits who have come through them into the material world is much more important than studying the technical and human sciences.

After all, this is the basis of the meaning of life for future generations and the safety of using all types of material and spiritual energies, ranging from physical ones: electromagnetism and radiation to the correct radiation of spiritual energies through religion, magic or the power of one's own thoughts.

I ask you to understand the importance of every day of a child until he is five years old on earth, when his spirit is actively adapting to the new conditions for him in the world that is familiar to you. At this time, feelings and beliefs are formed that will directly or indirectly influence his entire subsequent life.

There are no unimportant and unimportant events in a child's life, there are no meaningless words and gestures of those closest and most beloved to him, those who brought him into this world.

The freshness of feelings and the sharpness of impressions are given to the child by God specifically so that he can easily adapt to the material world and be able to integrate himself into it.

So that he learns to harmoniously combine all the energies of the spiritual and material worlds and become a full-fledged member of society, family, Clan and bring his Light of Love to the material world, continuously improving in likening himself to the infinite and incomprehensible in its infinity of the Light of God.

I am ready to help you teach your parents the most important spiritual science in their lives - introducing their offspring to the material world.

The information was conveyed by Krousi-Altas, social psychologist and educator, planet Esler.

August 8, 2022

The reason for the appearance of autistic children

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/prichina-poyavleniya-detej-autistov

I did examinations, diagnosed such children - there were several cases - and they were similar in many ways. The two had almost identical energy. I cannot say that these are people of the future or people of the past. In fact, they have always been born. There simply weren't such descriptions as there are now, no one was doing this - telling stories about such children.

Most often, when examining such children, it is revealed that these Spirits very often incarnated in plasmoid worlds. Moreover, one of the last few, either the last incarnation before that, when they became these children, or several incarnations before that, also took place on plasmoid worlds.

During the incarnation of this Spirit, partial memories were preserved (the memory itself was blocked), but the sensations of the world from which he came. Those. he doesn't remember what's happening. At the same time, it is difficult for him to adapt to the densely material world. This is the first reason why they may not communicate with people.

In general, it can be difficult for them to understand why they need to make sounds, why they need to put sounds into words. Because in their plasmoid worlds, communication could be, in general, telepathic, could be at the level of ultrasounds, electromagnetic waves, etc. – There are many different types of plasmoid worlds.

The second reason: because these children came from plasmoid worlds, they are often accompanied in incarnation by former friends, relatives, if this word can be applied to plasmoids. They come into contact with this child while he is still small and continue to communicate with him. Those. he is able to see them due to the fact that his astral body does not yet completely coincide with his physical one.

These plasmoids only reinforce his feeling that the material world into which he has incarnated, the objective world, is alien to him. This condition is sometimes aggravated by parents and educators. They begin to aggressively teach him something, they begin to show aggressive emotions towards him. They begin to take him out of the world where he wants to be, so that he can be an ordinary child.

Autistic people feel the energy very subtly, especially of their family and friends. And feeling this aggressive attitude, children go even deeper into the world of plasmoids. I would not call this some kind of positive phenomenon - we need help here.

The task of parents is to help the child establish contact with the reality where he finds himself. In many cases, this can be done with the right actions on the part of the parents. But sometimes the physical body needs support in the form of special medications.

Video on the topic: #99 Autistic children, GMOs and DNA mutation. Does a person have freedom of choice?

MidgasCaus - biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations, planet Esler.

June, 2020

October 5, 2022

About childhood fears and teenage insecurities

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/o-detskih-strahah-i-podrostkovoj-neuverennosti

The nature of all these phenomena is the same - it is the inability to identify, recognize and harmonize one’s emotional sphere, which leads to a change in vibrations at the astral level of the biofield. This can cause unconscious contact with subtle civilizations that feed on negative energy, aggression, and fears, including in children.

It is necessary to teach your children to try to be kind in any circumstances, not to be offended by anyone, not to be afraid of anything, and most importantly - to be honest with your children, respect them as individuals. If, for example, small children do not want to eat, there is no need to insist, you need to respect their choice, then they will be confident in themselves, and they will have no reason for aggression and fear. Because aggression and fear in a teenager are signs that he does not feel the energy of love from his parents.

They manifest it, but not in the form in which he can feel it. And we must remember that until the age of 14, a child is in a common biofield with his parents. If mom and dad have a tense relationship, there is no peace and harmony between them or between them and relatives and friends, then the child feels it. Even if they behave calmly around the child, their inner state of mind still affects their psychological state. That is, parents need to harmonize themselves, dissolve their blocks, then it will be clear how to direct the Light to raise a child.

We remind you: education is the nourishment of the Soul. "Vos" is the stem of "to ascend." That is, education is nutrition for ascent to God.

Timecode: 00:56, #262 Communication with the Spirit of the unborn child. Advice for parents, raising children, psychology of relationships

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations.

May, 2021

October 15, 2022

Sin of both parents and doctor during abortion

---

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/grekh-oboih-roditelej-i-vracha-pri-aborte

If you look at the commandments, then abortion is a violation of that norm, that cosmic law, which on Earth is reflected in the commandment “Thou shalt not kill.” Don't kill a sentient being. This means that “thou shalt not kill” not only an adult creature that has grown up or has just been born, but also an embryo that has not yet formed and is not yet a person in the full sense of the word, since it depends on its mother. If you give him time, he will grow into a man. Interrupting this life stage deprives one of the opportunity to be born, which is the murder of a person.

This violation of this commandment lowers the vibrations of both the woman herself and the man, the father of the child, if he has given his consent, as well as the doctor and everyone helping him in the operation. This does not mean cases where there is truly a threat to the mother's health. There are different situations on your planet when this intervention is necessary for the sake of preserving the life of a person who is already living and has obligations in this society. Then it does not lower the vibration, since the life of this embryo was interrupted because it was needed in the spiritual world. But, if this is done at the request of the woman or man herself, then the Spirit, which has already incarnated, is deprived of the opportunity to fulfill its tasks.

Even if he did not enter the body himself until the 7th week of pregnancy , he placed his life force there, that is, partly it is already his body. Therefore, interrupting the process of embryo development for the Spirit is a failure to fulfill its task and is thrown back into the Spiritual world. Although, if he himself chose these dad and mom, it means that his task, approved by the Consulting Angels, was to learn life lessons with these particular parents. If people interrupted his incarnation, it means that he may have to wait for many more centuries until people with the same characteristics as his mother and father are born, so that he can take his lessons.

For interruption of incarnation, there is a decrease in vibrations, an increase in all negative qualities in the soul and a strengthening of those negative blocks that led to this abortion.

Timecode: 25:12, #169 Live. Angels and Archangels. Purity of the spiritual heart.

Archangel Gabriel (Mirah Count) - guardian of the Christian egregor;

Archangel Michael is the guardian of the Christian egregor;

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in the astral world and its interaction with the material world;

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations.

November, 2020

October 31, 2022

About sleep disturbance in a 3-year-old child https://blog.cassiopeia.center/o-narushenii-sna-rebyonka-3-h-let

At this age, the spirit is still adapting to the physical body and it has very vivid, memorable astral travels during this period.

The spirit, being in the child, adapts to the world and any action of parents, friends or an image seen in a cartoon is stored in memory, and the child accepts everything as truth. He has not yet learned to separate the images inside him from the images outside. You just have to learn this, at the age of 6-7.

At this age, children are impressionable, this helps them in learning, but this also causes a side effect: when they go to bed, burdened with vivid impressions of the day, they attract those entities that match their vibrations. You need to understand that an event that is not significant for you can be perceived by a child as a tragedy - torn clothes, a broken toy, a word spoken by you.

He can experience this all day long and you won't know about it. The child will lower his vibrations, and certain entities will come to him in the astral plane, taking on different images and frightening him.

Magical specialists will not help here; you need to change your attitude towards the child, giving more love and filling him with light.

When a child screams and twists in his sleep, do not show excitement, be nearby, but do not wake him up, so as not to provoke more stress in him. If the Spirit enters back into the body, the child will wake up on his own; if not, he will continue to sleep. You need to be close and not let him get injured, hold him if necessary, and if he wakes up, calm him down without asking questions. If he tells it himself, then listen to him and not laugh at the images he saw.

It is important to tell your child:

> Everything is fine, we are close, we love you, and the entities will not do anything to you.

The fact that you love your child is undeniable, but your words and actions are perceived by him much more sharply than you imagine. His psyche is very sensitive, even images from films can remain in his mind for a long time.

Over time, this will pass on its own, when he adapts to this world, or when the psychological situation in the family stabilizes.

Timecode: 20:22, #86 Live broadcast with contactee Irina Podzorova. Health, vitality, power of thought

MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations, LaoThar is a representative of the Intergalactic Federation of Light from the planet Loara in the Pleiades cluster.

May, 2020

November 12, 2022

Intrauterine development. Is it possible to raise a musician in the womb?

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/vnutriutrobnoe-razvitie

While the child's body is in the womb, his spirit is not constantly with him, but has the opportunity to travel in the astral plane (spiritual world) most of the time. Moreover, the etheric body and vital force are located in the forming body and control the processes of division, construction of the organism, and so on. And his spirit (astral, mental body, etc.) at this time travels in the astral plane, returning only sometimes. The shorter the pregnancy, the less time the spirit spends directly in the body.

It first enters the body on its own in the 7th week of pregnancy . But the spirit introduces its vital force immediately at the moment of conception, that is, at the moment of conception, each of us is present next to his parents and with the spirit guides who help him connect with the body. When male and female reproductive cells unite, the process of combining his vital energy and the newly formed cell occurs, which will be the first cell of his body.

As for learning, during this period his senses and brain are formed. As a spirit, he is often close to his mother, and he is interested in looking at his parents, adapting to them, to their energy. Everything that is said next to a pregnant woman, played music for her, shown films - the spirit of the child perceives through her consciousness.

He perceives this as his first experience of receiving information in the world, but then, when he is born and begins to receive education, subsequent information will be superimposed on the earlier one. Therefore, people deliberately do not remember their early childhood. If the subconscious part of the memory is brought into consciousness, then he will remember his existence next to his mother during her pregnancy, in the spiritual world, etc.

If a woman plays music or talks about chess, it is possible to set the spirit of the child to learn more quickly in these topics as he grows up.

It is impossible to teach completely, because he must be born and see and hear it with his own eyes of the physical body. You can only create the prerequisites.

13:33, #103 Questions about medicine from emergency doctor Mikhail. Spirit and body. Diseases, psychosomatics, children

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in the astral world and its interaction with the material world;

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations.

July 2020

November 23, 2022

The role of the father in raising children

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/rol-otca-v-vospitanii-detej

For some reason, the roles of father and mother are viewed differently on Earth. Moreover, the role of the father, especially in the early period of development and formation of the fetus in the womb, is minimized compared to the role of the mother. Indeed, the role of the mother is very significant.

But the father also supports the child with his participation and energy. An earthling has an energetic connection with both parents until he is 14 years old, until his own aura is fully formed and adapts to this world. Until the age of 14, the child maintains contact with his father and mother if they are alive. If one of them has already left this world, then an energetic connection remains on a subtle spiritual level.

Even if the child is far from his parents, then through an energetic connection, all the moods and thoughts of the parents influence the formation of the child. If the parents are calm and loving, then the child will quickly adapt to the world around him - he will not be afraid of anything, will avoid fears, and will be interested in learning about the world.

You have a problem when young children begin to experience unreasonable fears. The first reason for these fears is that the child's energy reacts to the negative thoughts and feelings of the parents. Their negativity can be directed at a child, at a stranger, at each other.

The child's energy picks up negative vibrations and his self-preservation instinct is activated. Since the child is still small and cannot understand what is dangerous and what is happening while in a foreign world, he begins to be bothered by causeless fears as a result of the activation of his self-preservation instinct. This rule applies even if the parents are far away, be it dad or mom.

Mead says that on their planet they teach children about this in school. One of the main school subjects is called "Family Psychology". There they talk about how a child is formed, how the spirit comes into him, how to raise him and pass on his experience. Adults consider one of the main tasks to prepare a child for adult life, to create a family, and so that spirits also incarnate through him, and he can adapt them correctly.

Husband's presence at birth

Mead speaks his personal opinion: if a husband and wife love each other very much, then the husband can be present at the birth of his child, although not many men will decide to do this, because men do not imagine childbirth that way. If the husband has found courage, boldness, and love in himself, then he can really ease the pain through support and faith that everything will end well. And any belief in a better outcome reduces physical pain, as does any bright, high-vibrational feeling.

Timecode: 18:02, 29:40, #103 Questions about medicine from emergency doctor Mikhail. Spirit and body. Diseases, psychosomatics, children

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations.

Li Shioni is a specialist in astral interactions and the study of the relationships between the spiritual and material worlds, planet Shimor.

July 2020

November 25, 2022

Indiscriminate breastfeeding of children

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/besporyadochnoe-grudnoe-vskarmlivanie-detej

A child's cry is his language of communication with the world. One of the possible ways for him to communicate about himself, his existence, his desire for communication. Crying is not always associated with the desire to eat. Perhaps for some other reason he is uncomfortable, or he simply wants to communicate.

A child is an incarnate Spirit who adapts to the world in which he finds himself. He really needs communication. And when he is not sleeping, when his Soul is not in the Astral, but is connected to the body, his Soul remembers the images that he saw in the material world, and he has a reflex of knowledge, a desire for knowledge. He calls his people to him by crying, calling them to him. This is the signal:

> “Come, talk to me, tell me the words.”

When an adult (mother, grandmother, father) says some words to a child, he listens to them. Even if it seems to you that he is crying and does not hear, he still listens to them. Words are “deposited” in his head, strengthening and expanding the primary neural networks that have already been formed, and now new ones need to be formed.

Ideally, when a child begins to cry, the mother can ask his Soul, his Higher Self (through her Higher Self), what he needs at that moment. You need to close your eyes, imagine a child and mentally ask:

> “What do you need, how can I help you?”

And the answer will come. But if you respond to every cry of a child with feeding, then the child develops a reflex: after any discomfort, the stomach becomes full and calms down. At such a moment, certain hormones are released and this reflex is formed, which will continue into adulthood. Consequently, in response to any uncomfortable situation, to a lack of communication, to a lack of Love, a desire may arise to fill the stomach.

Timecode: 01:43, #455 Psycho-emotional intelligence of children. Overprotection, empathy, mental anesthesia. Love and trust.

MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.

May, 2022

December 1, 2022

Excellent student syndrome, perfectionism

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/sindrom-otlichnika-perfekcionizm

> Are fears of mistakes, the desire for perfect results, or the desire to be perfect related to emotional hunger in childhood?

Sometimes in childhood, in preschool age, parents provide super-attention, hyper-protection, fulfill all the child's wishes, do not leave him a single step, but as soon as the child goes to school and, accordingly, is less at home, he begins to feel emotional alienation. This can also happen if younger brothers and sisters appear in the family. In this case, an emotional hunger begins for the love that he received at an early age. The child begins to deserve it in some way. Sometimes the parents themselves contribute to this, telling him that we will love you when you meet certain parameters.

It is strictly not recommended, I would even say "forbidden" (although everyone goes through their own lessons) to deny your love to a child. Most of all, a child needs not to develop certain qualities in him, not to teach him certain actions in the material world (work, schooling, housework, etc.), although this is an important part of education, but what is more important is to develop in him the ability to be in love. To love, forgive, help the weak, the sick, who are in a more oppressed position than him, more unhappy. That is, to carry with you Love and happiness.

He must feel that he is Light and brings this Light to others absolutely selflessly, without expecting anything in return. And this is impossible without an example of the same behavior of parents. Not in words, but in deeds, when they show that they are sharing bread with the hungry, sharing clothing with the poor. This may seem insignificant to you, but this is what develops compassion in the child, the desire to show his Love and the understanding that this is the norm.

It is also not allowed and not recommended to display any cruelty, including in words in the presence of a child. It is not recommended to express any claims to each other in any form in his presence. He doesn't need to know about family quarrels. It is necessary to protect him from negativity as much as possible, because what seems trivial to you, for his psyche, for his Soul, can turn out to be a trauma and become an energy block. And the block that forms in the spiritual heart will block the flow of Love that the child receives from you. He may lower his vibrations and not feel love.

Timecode: 30:40, #455 Psycho-emotional intelligence of children. Overprotection, empathy, mental anesthesia. Love and trust.

MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.

May, 2022

December 12, 2022

Overprotection. Habit. Brain neuroplasticity

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/giperopeka-privychka-nejroplastichnost-mozga

> Is it possible to disrupt the formation of identity in the case of such an absolutely complete merger with the mother, when the connection is inextricable, when the mother completely controls the child, not allowing him to be alone for a second?

The child, in any case, at a certain age will already understand where he is and that he exists separately from the world around him. The child first develops a fragmentary perception, then it turns into object-specific, object-figurative, and so on. There are periods of brain development: first the perception of the environment, then the manifestation of the mind of the Spirit in the form of thinking. From the form that was in utero, a form must develop that is oriented in three-dimensional space among dense objects. This is not such an easy process.

For a child, everything new (any sound, any image) evokes surprise, bewilderment, and a desire to know it. If his mother does not leave him alone, he will still develop a sense of Self, but it will be different.

The child will feel dependent on his mother, imagining her as part of the world around him. She will not be able to constantly be nearby throughout his life, since life itself, the event series of life will require greater independence from him, for example, when he goes to school. Although it will be unusual for such a child to be there without his mother.

What is a habit? This is a chain of certain conditioned reflexes recorded at the molecular level in the brain. This makes it easier for the brain to adapt to the world around it. This is called neuroplasticity.

The manifestation of neuroplasticity is the ability to develop habits, both beneficial for development and harmful. If you develop the habit of constantly being with your mother, constantly being in her energy, constantly receiving care, love, support from her, then when life events force a person to leave this cocoon, he may experience anxiety, fear, sadness and even resentment towards his mother, who allegedly abandoned him, although this did not happen. Such mothers are at risk because the child may be offended by them when they can no longer be around as often.

It happens that when a person grows up, he develops a block of resentment towards his mother for inattention. When we begin to figure out what kind of block this is (even Irina, who leads to the Higher Self), it turns out that in childhood there was overprotection. Then a completely ordinary relationship (as happens in most families, with the child being separated from the family in connection with attending school) is already perceived as a betrayal. Because it hurts. Although the child mentally understands that it is necessary to go to school, and he even feels guilty for this offense, his habit breaks, and this hurts.

08:59, #455 Psycho-emotional intelligence of children. Overprotection, empathy, mental anesthesia. Love and trust.

MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.

May, 2022

December 23, 2022

Subtle material processes when sleeping together with a child

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/tonkomaterialnye-processy-pri-sovmestnom-sne

In the Interstellar Union, at least on the planet Esler, in our lives, in our families and on those planets of the Interstellar Union where I heard, it is customary to respect and give freedom to personal space. Moreover, the mother deliberately gives the child space, a separate place. It may be in her room or another, but a separate sleeping place is his own space. We even have spouses, husband and wife come to each other's room to exchange energies, and then they can (and most often) sleep in a separate space, because each respects the freedom of the other.

Sleeping together in the same bed is not a manifestation of Love. When a person sleeps, the astral body separates from him. If his space is occupied not only by his aura, but also by his aura of another person, this can cause dissonance among those sleeping. There will be subconscious irritation towards a loved one during the day or some kind of misunderstanding of each other. It is customary for us to sleep separately.

If a child sleeps with his mother, this is not harmful, but it still forms the child’s accustoming to the fact that his mother is part of the inner world, about the same thing, but only in softer forms than complete control of his living space.

If he does not get used to being alone in his sleeping place, then he may develop dependence on his mother, and the mother may develop subconscious irritation with the child during the day for limiting her freedom. When a woman sleeps alone, her aura opens up like a dome, and she feels free, and when she sleeps with someone, and especially with her child, she subconsciously experiences fear and anxiety. How not to harm him, not to crush him, to look after him so that he is covered. Even if the child sleeps without waking up, she still watches him, as you say “watching.”

Therefore, during the day she may develop unconscious irritation at his actions, his words, his activity, for example, because her subconscious, the instinct of self-preservation, considers this child an aggressor.

The mother, of course, loves her child very much, but her instinct of self-preservation, due to the invasion of personal space during sleep, will subconsciously consider him an aggressor.

But since he has not yet formed his own energy, his own aura, which is formed at the age of 14, the child will be in the energy of his mother, without feeling that she has invaded him. He will have the feeling that she should always be in this place.

Timecode: 19:15, #455 Psycho-emotional intelligence of children. Overprotection, empathy, mental anesthesia. Love and trust.

MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.

May, 2022

January 6, 2023

Development of skepticism. Sincerity with a child

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/razvitie-skepticizma-iskrennost-s-rebyonkom

Distrust of parents can lead to skepticism if they hid something from the child or did not tell him the truth that he learned from others. This can cause resentment and disappointment in the child, because he imagined his own certain picture of the world, in which his parents love him, which means they always trust him and tell the truth.

For example, in response to absolutely natural questions, where I came from, and who gave birth to me, and how I was born, a series of some incomprehensible fairy tales follows. The child later, when he gets older, learns the truth from his peers (most often this happens). He learns in such a way that he begins to understand that it is impossible to discuss this issue with his parents, fearing that this will cause their dissatisfaction, which means that this information must be hidden. Although this is a natural divine instinct embedded in nature, and there is no point in hiding its presence from a child.

The task of adults is to prepare the child for adult life, including for the manifestation of sexual function with his or her spouse. And this is impossible without telling the child, naturally, in his language and within the limits of his understanding. There is no need for any medical terms, answers about where he came from, who the husband and wife are, what their functions are in the family, and so on.

A child can feel deceived in different situations. For example, the first is when they didn't talk about reproduction. The second is when they promised to buy something so that he wouldn't cry, and then changed their minds. The third point is that the child is persuaded to go to the doctor, he does not want to do this because he is afraid of pain, but instead of explaining that this is necessary for his health and that he needs to learn to be patient with pain, they begin to tell the child that it will not hurt him at all. And when the child gets hurt, he may become disappointed in the words of his parents and not trust them.

Then the understanding may become stronger in him that trusting the whole world is dangerous, it can cause pain. This is how the formation of a conditioned reflex arc occurs, only aimed at social relationships.

Timecode: 39:04, #455 Psycho-emotional intelligence of children. Overprotection, empathy, mental anesthesia. Love and trust.

MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.

May, 2022

February 21, 2023

Appeal from Archangel Raphael to parents. God's Responsibility

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/obrashchenie-arhangela-rafaila-k-roditelyam

I, Archangel Raphael, want to address my parents. I am the manager of the egregor of Christianity, Judaism, as well as all healing systems, the teacher of healing angels. I contact through my phantoms with people who heal others. I want to appeal to all parents with my word.

Every action you take, dear father and mother, towards your child, every word you say, every glance you give forms an emotional state in the soul of your child, which turns into the feelings of an adult. It depends on you how he will relate to life, to you, to God and his children. The vibration that this child will carry on this Earth depends on you. And even the level to which he will come after leaving his incarnation largely depends on you, since your energy, your words, your actions influence this.

The child does not have his own critical thinking, he puts it into his subconscious as the absolute norms of this world. This is precisely why the memory of this spirit was blocked, so that you, parents, would become gods for him. After this, they must understand that any god has a responsibility to his children. God, who created the Universe and gave birth to us all, is also responsible for our creation, because, being with every part of him in the body and soul of every person, God fully feels and senses all our vibrations, and this is his measure of responsibility for our freedom .

Timecode: 01:01:31, #243 Archangel Raphael and Mirach Count (Archangel Gabriel) at a conference on Judaism. Who is God?

Archangel Raphael is a representative of the Spiritual world, who is responsible for training plasmoid civilizations and disembodied Spirits, curator of the Jewish and Christian egregor.

December, 2020

March 11, 2023

Family as a spiritual unity. Infatuation and love

The meaning of the existence of a family is not only in love, but also in the feelings that arise when exchanging all types of energies with your loved one: physical, mental and astral. At the same time, partners do not isolate themselves in their family, and their Light becomes a source of attraction for many, many people.

True love differs from falling in love in that it is completely devoid of a sense of possessiveness, a sense of belonging to each other. The second distinguishing feature is the quality of eternal true love, the kind that becomes the threshold to eternal happiness and raising its vibrations after leaving incarnation. It has the property of unconditionality, eternity and the absence of a sense of belonging of a loved one “to me, as my part,” without having its own individual traits. These are the main differences between love and falling in love, but you can analyze even more by qualities, analyze, and find smaller differences.

Falling in love is a vivid feeling that changes a person’s entire life; it is the first appearance in his heart of the energy of love, which is directed towards a specific person. Falling in love does not appear for no reason, that is, the person with whom one is in love - a guy, a girl, or even an old person - makes no difference, he necessarily has a certain quality either in his body, or in his Soul, or in the property with which a person falls in love. That is, he directs the energy of love not to the whole person, but to some separate, most significant quality for him.

Most often, among earthlings and other intelligent races, naturally, the experience of falling in love for the first time occurs in childhood, when a certain girl or boy is liked simply for some particular quality. What do you like? This means that it is pleasant to be around, to talk, but falling in love is only the first grace of God, the energy of the Divine Light, which is given as a gift to any Spirit so that he, by his own will, through his own efforts, develops an eternal fire. They gave him a gift.

Every person has been given a gift to his Soul since childhood, but he must develop it himself. That is, God does not give eternal love, he gives the opportunity to develop it to the person himself, because if a person develops it himself, he will value and cherish it most of all.

This depends on many factors, and basically, many troubles, misfortunes, problems of family relationships on Earth arise from the fact that falling in love is considered eternal love and does not work to strengthen and develop this feeling in oneself and in each other. This is typical for a planet like Earth.

At Esler, the situation is somewhat different; we have a slightly different body, upbringing and approach to everything, which is already initially spiritual. First, we feel whether we are suitable in vibration and only then, having consciously gone through the stage of falling in love, and it is easier for us to go through it, knowing about the various emotional states, feelings, the structure of the Spirit, which our parents and our school tell us about.

Related video: #214 Why is abortion dangerous? Consequences of divorce. The death penalty and the value of the life of a rational Spirit. Continuation of the conversation with psychologist Alexander Timashov (part 3).

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations.

February 2021

March 13, 2023

Psychology of family relationships. Impact of divorce on children

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/psihologiya-otnoshenij-v-seme-vliyanie-razvoda

If two spouses divorced, it means that they did not accept something in each other. Much depends on the feelings, their consequences, their reaction to these feelings with which they parted, and on how they will “work” with it in the future.

Everything is very different, you need to look at the reason why such a decision was made. This can lower your vibration level due to negative emotions. There may be some lowering of vibrations due to the feeling of disappointment that led to the divorce. It may be accompanied by the fact that people begin to divide their property or children, which is even more painful.

Often children do not fully understand the reason for the divorce; they see everything differently, they have a different impression of the world, vivid impressions. They have a feeling of love and affection for both mom and dad. God put this feeling in them so that their parents would be authoritative to develop in them certain qualities for this world. In them all this is embedded in divine and moral norms.

If the two closest and most beloved people of a child begin to quarrel with each other and go to different houses, then the child becomes stressed, because he loves them almost equally, even if he says the opposite. If he stays with one parent, then very often he has a feeling of guilt towards the parent with whom he does not live, because he feels that he was abandoned along with this parent.

It happens that a feeling of resentment and aggression arises in relation, as he believes, to the culprit of the divorce or, in general, to both. But this feeling is hidden, since there is a fear of punishment and condemnation by these parents. This hidden aggression provokes blocks in him, which can manifest themselves, for example, even during sleep. All these hidden blocks manifest themselves by attracting low vibrational entities to the astral body, which begin to feel its low vibrational energy and feed on it.

If a child is under 14 years old, then he is still in the general field of his parents and is charged with their energy. You understand that if it comes to divorce, then at this moment they are not dominated by the brightest feelings, both in him and in her. This may manifest itself in the fact that entities will be attracted to him, he will be afraid of the dark, have difficulty falling asleep, scream at night, enuresis and various other disorders and mental disorders may begin, including childhood epilepsy, etc. That is, some external entity is joining, which will try to conduct its energies through him, which will cause him to have a seizure. Your medicine says that this comes from stress, not from the essence.

Love needs to be developed and worked on. After all, even if falling in love has passed, you can still begin to develop love through your own efforts. Create the appearance of a family - the child will feel it. What matters is not what they feel for the child, but what they feel for each other. Usually there are some feelings in a family; there is no complete indifference towards a person.

It does not happen that a person does not experience any feeling, he still experiences something. If he says that he has no feelings for her, he is just hiding them from himself. If the spouses decide to live for the sake of the child, this is their right, but each of them should ask themselves:

> What do I feel not for the child, but for the one who gave birth to him? If I love this child, how can I not love the woman who gave him to me, who gave him the opportunity to be born?

or

> How can I not love the man who conceived this child? After all, the child's body contains part of this person's DNA, but how do I feel about it?

You can give yourself a certain period of time, for example, a month or two, as long as you agree, to try to develop love in yourself, not infatuation, but love. But two people must agree to this, and they must separate only if they do not succeed.

Timecode: 07:45, #214 Why is abortion dangerous? Consequences of divorce. The death penalty and the value of the life of a rational Spirit. Continuation of the conversation with psychologist Alexander Timashov (part 3).

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations.

February 2021

June 1, 2023

Spiritual development of children. How to talk about God

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/duhovnoe-razvitie-detej

In matters of faith and development of a child, while he is still small and in the family, his main spiritual mentors are his parents. In any case, they are intermediaries between the world and the child, they are responsible for adapting his body and his Soul to this world. How can I reveal spiritual knowledge to him?

This is especially important at a young age, because a person has such a thing as a habit. For many people, if they get used to doing something or thinking somehow, then it will be difficult for them to turn away from this path.

How can you help a child realize that he is the Spirit?

The first rule: in no case any violence, either verbal or physical, in matters of faith, in matters of visiting church or temples of any religion. You can tell your child about what you saw there, about what you felt there, and be sure to show by your personal example that these images, these rituals are dear to you, that you love the image of God that is in this church. You should not hide your beliefs and your spiritual work from your child.

Regarding communion: if a child said that it's all not true and it's all a game, and doesn't want to go to church, you generally shouldn't persuade him or scold him for it in any way. You just need to calmly continue to walk, and in response to perhaps some questions or comments that this is not true, you need to treat him with patience, you need to say that there is such a feeling as faith.

You can discuss the following questions with him:

Do you believe that when you grow up you will be happy?

> Do you believe that you will achieve some dream? You believe in it, and it helps you live, strive for your goal, and not be discouraged when something goes wrong.

Tell him using examples from your life or literature, some film about the importance of faith. Tell and show him that just as you draw a picture, sculpt from plasticine, create some of your own creations, there is also a Creator of everything who created the beautiful earthly world, the cosmic world.

It is imperative to explore the world with your child, talk about plants, animals, insects, Space, and your own body. You have it in the books. Buy him more of any children's encyclopedias. Just on a walk, tell him about some animals, insects you met, and how they live. Pay attention to the little things.

If you and your child saw the sunrise, you go to the window and say out loud so that he can hear:

> “What a beautiful Sun the Creator sent us today. Yes, this day that has come has been given to us so that we can give thanks. There is an old word to glorify - it means to thank. Thank the Sun, this light that we now see. I want to tell you, my son or my daughter, that many people did not survive this night, they have already gone to the Spiritual world and do not see this Sun. They saw off the Sun yesterday, but did not meet it today. And we continue to live in our bodies so that we can create something good during this day, do some good deed.”

And if you tell him this on purpose, for him it will be the norm.

When you give him something to eat or sit down to eat with him, don’t force him to thank God, just do it yourself in front of him. Do it with sincere feeling, say it in your own words:

> “I thank You, Heavenly Father, I thank You, Creator of the Universe, for this energy in the form of food that today you gave me the opportunity to receive, I promise to transform it into the pure Light of infinite Love,”

- speak in the simplest words.

Even if a child denies, he still has a spiritual voice, a need to recognize his Father and communicate with him. Without imposing, slowly tell it in everyday conversations. If the child reacts positively to this, he continues to question, ask for these stories himself, then you can tell him more, if he is interested in it, you can tell him in the context of answers to his questions.

For example, the simplest question:

> “So you, dad or mom, say that you thank God, but where does He live, show me Him?”

It is necessary to find the simplest answer to the simplest question that will go straight to his heart. You can tell him this:

> “Here you (name him), for example, can show me your body, but you can’t show me your mind, you can’t show me what your love looks like, you can only kiss me. So God, He cannot appear before your eyes, but He shows His body, part of His body - this is the world in which we live.”

His readiness will be visible in the questions. Even if he rejects some answer and says that it is not true. You can answer like this:

> “Don’t be so quick to reject everything you don’t know. Just calmly think about it. Can you see everything that exists?”

And these are the answers we give to his questions. If he has already understood this, he can continue asking. He will no longer ask how to see, but will ask:

> “Why are you talking to Him if He sees and hears everything? Why are you turning to Him? Why do you need this?

This is the next stage. In answer to this question it is necessary to mention:

> “So I gave birth to your body, but you, as a spiritual being, have always existed. You came in this body, I came in this body. You came in your body to the material world for a > certain time to solve your problems. And our task is to become as wise and as great in our Love as God. He loves us all. Naturally, out of His Love, He created the world so that we could be happy in this world and give happiness to each other."

If your children see your good deeds, if they hear you talk not about everyday matters, but about spirituality, then they themselves will be drawn to this. And if this is a rarity for you, then they will not be interested in it. Children are always drawn to personal example, and not to words that are covered by deeds; they always look at deeds. There are rules for communicating with children in order to teach them something. The child turns to his parents and tells them:

"If you tell me something, I'll forget, if you show me something, I'll remember it a little longer, and if you do it with me, I'll learn."

Do everything together with your children. Let your homework go along with them. Let your life, financial calculations, some conversations, take place together with your children. Go to the store with them, count the money in front of them, tell them where it goes and how it comes. They must be aware that there is a financial egregor, then they will see that not only spiritual issues are important to you, but also material ones.

Harmony is needed in everything here. And the most important thing is that there must still be Love. The most important thing is to teach a child love. Not only to love him, but also to teach him Love. Teach him to give Love to others and feel it from another. If you do not pass on this most important skill to him, then the transfer of sciences, the transfer of inheritance will do little to change his destiny, which he will live half his life looking for Love and the other half of his life realizing that he has been looking for it for too long and it is already meaningless.

It is very important to show him examples of kindness. It is important to show examples of empathy. It is important to fill his world with those images that will develop Light and love of knowledge in him. This can be in the form of a love of reading, in the form of a love of exploring the world. Love of knowledge develops such a property of the mind as the desire for knowledge, analyticalness. This will greatly help him in spiritual development. He will be able to separate himself from his thoughts, actions and instincts. When he grows up and begins to go through any temptation of an adult, he will no longer have the opportunity to follow the first thought that arises, the first feeling that arises.

From early childhood, children should see your spiritual development, witness it and your conversations about it. A two or three year old child is playing quietly in the corner of his room, you are talking about something with other adults, it seems to you that he either does not hear you or does not understand you. This is not entirely true. The soul that is in it hears everything and stores everything in its memory. They feel what's happening. Even small children feel the energies.

Communication with entities is the norm for many children. But in order for them to become more conscious contactees and attract only light entities, your reaction, your help, and the help of adults is very important in this. They themselves cannot yet tune in, because they have come to a world that is new to them, their memory is blocked, and accordingly, they perceive the unfamiliar world like children. What is important here is the reaction of an adult, that you will not laugh, for example, at a child. You won’t be afraid of something, you won’t brush it aside:

> “Stop inventing, stop fantasizing.”

Even if he tells you something, for example, he says that he played with a big lion or flew, went to bed, flew through the ceiling and flew on a rocket to the stars. Don't say:

> “So what, you dreamed it”

- or (even worse):

> "I'm not interested"

- wave it off:

> “Stop making things up, you didn’t see anything.”

To dismiss such stories means letting the child know that he said something wrong. In order not to lose your Love, he will continue to remain silent about such things. Your Love is very important for a child. This is life for him.

Timecode: 27:35, #411 Egregors on Earth. Types of egregors. Parenting. Contactor Irina Podzorova (part 2).

Mirakh Count (Archangel Gabriel) is a representative of the planet Burkhad, the keeper of the Christian egregor, a disciple of Jesus Christ, a specialist in political science, ideology and the study of the influence of spiritual egregors on the material world.

February 2022

December 14, 2023

Perception of plasmoids. Chakra is an energy center. Working with emotions in children

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/vospriyatie-plazmoidov-chakra-ehnergeticheskij-cen

The body of ordinary plasmoids is either in the form of pillars or in the form of balls. They are usually invisible to the human eye because they are higher in vibration, but nearby. The energy released by a person is visible to them. Since they do not have a digestive apparatus with which to digest the food that humans eat, they are able to absorb these emotions into the energy body and make them part of their life force. It brings them the same pleasure that delicious food gives people.

Each color carries a certain vibration of that energy center, as you say, chakra, which is responsible for one or another spiritual area of a person - the area of the heart, mind, emotions, and so on. A chakra is an energy center that is a symbol of a certain center of a person’s inner spiritual world, directing energy to a specific topic.

Each color and each geometric figure corresponds to its own emotional state or series of states. Different people have different ideas about colors and geometric shapes and reactions to them. When a person carefully looks at something that does not have the meaning of some kind of information content, that is, an ordinary picture, if it is not just a landscape in which meaning can be found, for example, looking at nature, but a chaotic, at first glance, pile of spots, then the person has a reasonable the logical beginning of consciousness begins to move away, and he clearly feels.

That is, when a person asks himself the question: “What is in front of me?” - he has a feeling that, by association, evokes strong feelings in him, reflecting his strongest blocks. It depends on many factors what kind of memory he will have. For example, the color red can cause fear in some people because in the unconscious part there is a repressed memory of cutting himself in childhood and seeing red blood. At the same time, I experienced negative emotions from my mother in the form of abuse. He connected all this with resentment towards his mother and with an understanding of what was happening, with the fear of losing love.

Now he thus reacts to the color red. This is because your children are not taught to recognize and talk about emotions. Therefore, they remain unprocessed in the unconscious part, and from there they continue to influence perception and the physical body. Strong negative blocks can destroy the cells of the physical body and its health. Emotions and working with them through your Higher Spiritual Self, which is the highest part of your consciousness, not embodied in this world...

It is located in the Spiritual world and is a very interesting and exciting activity. If you and your children are learning to recognize emotions, first the emotions of their favorite characters in the books they read about. For example, you read an excerpt from a book together, the hero experiences some kind of emotion. You ask: “What does this person feel? What emotion is he experiencing? Why did he feel it? How would you react? Why do you react differently than him? Why do you have different emotions? Ask him to explain.

This is the first step that we carry out with preschool children. You can do this with schoolchildren. Then just tell him every day in an unobtrusive manner. You yourself must believe this, because the first education of children begins with the education of yourself.

Timecode: 17:37, #266 Managing emotions. How to get rid of irritation_ Effective technique for working with installations

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations.

March, 2021

February 13

The knowledge that we have gained here, how can we pass it on to children?

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/o-peredache-duhovnyh-znanij-detyam

A very important question about the transfer of knowledge to other generations. It becomes even more important in the absence of educational programs on your planet and in your society that teach using this method.

The only way that is real to transform the situation on your planet for the better at this point in time is the transfer through families of the knowledge that is necessary for further spiritual improvement and development in material structures: science, philosophy, art, medicine, which are already implied , as I already said, from spiritual knowledge.

What would I recommend doing here for this? Considering the peculiarities of your society, I would advise preparing for raising children, for having children, by raising and creating yourself . What does it mean? This means that future parents must be fully aware of the responsibility for the development of this person whom they will bring into the world, and his adaptation to this society. This is for those who plan.

For those who have already become parents, in any case, education in the spirit of knowledge of the higher self, you need to start with yourself and continue to work with yourself throughout this transfer of knowledge. Simply put, any parent who plans to do this should already have experience working with their higher self: connecting with Him, communicating with Him, exchanging energies. Everything we tell our contactees .

Only having your direct experience of these states can you pass them on to your children. In what form to do this: it all depends on the age of the child and on your relationship, but it should be presented in a non-violent form. And in the form that this is necessary for further successful movement in the society in which the child will develop.

You all know that the first thing parents should show to their children is love. This is much more important than the norms of education that exist in a particular family. Because the norms of education are mental attitudes. And love develops in the soul, and it raises the vibrations so much that this is the most important thing. If you teach your child to love himself, to love those around him, to thank and love God for this world, then you will have already done a very great thing. You will already transfer to him the energy that will help him in life. Because the energy of love is the energy of life.

If at the same time you tell him from a very young age in a form accessible to him that he is not just this body, but that he is an immortal Spirit, embodied in this body for certain tasks, that there is no death for the Spirit, there is Only for the body and after the death of the body will the development of the Spirit continue, you will do a great job so that it will continue to act in awareness.

What does it mean to act in mindfulness? So that he acts in one way or another, not guided by momentary gain or pleasure, but by those higher spiritual principles and laws that are now religious dogmas or commandments for you. If this becomes the norm for the entire society, then the need for religions will gradually disappear. This is also stated in religious texts, in the Bible for example: a time will come on earth when the law of God will be written in everyone's heart . When it is written in the heart, any need to write it in canons or on paper disappears. Because the Spirit is primary. Matter is secondary.

The idea that the Spirit, its high vibrations, its Divine properties are primary, and matter is secondary - it is this ideology that is most important to convey to children.

Timecode: #105 Conference of contactees with extraterrestrial civilizations in St. Petersburg, June 12, 2020 (Part 2)

MidgasKaus from the planet Esler is a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien life forms.

June, 2020

March 17

Psychological trauma in childhood

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/psihologicheskie-travmy-v-detskom-vozraste

> Why does an injury or blockage that a child receives in infancy have a stronger impact than one received at an older age?

Indeed, this happens. Not always, but often. It depends on the psychotype of the individual, speaking in the language of psychology. According to esoteric teaching, this depends on the type of vibration of the Soul that came into incarnation. There are many components from her spiritual level and her parents, from the ancestral egregor.

Psychotrauma at the moment of experience is not perceived as psychotrauma, it is perceived as information about the world. At an earlier age, this information passes into the memory of the embodied Soul, which, in turn, is reflected in the physical tissues of the brain, as well as into the memory of the disembodied part of the Soul, that is, into the place that is not yet occupied, empty, into the cell memory. Memory is like a computer matrix, board.

There is a matrix in the Spirit where various memories are recorded. They are recorded not just on some days, but according to the emotions experienced. A person's leading memory is emotional. Thanks to the energy of emotions, which mixes with the energy of consciousness in the stream of perception, all images, all words and body states, muscle spasms, etc. are recorded. This state is written to a memory cell.

If we are talking about blocks, if this experience was very painful and caused great suffering, a great negative experience, then it takes up a lot of space in the memory and nothing is recorded there. It is erased from the stream of perception: from the operational part of memory and remains in its unconscious part, and at the energy level an energy block is formed that does not allow it to manifest itself in consciousness.

What happens then to consciousness? Consciousness begins to perceive reality through the prism of this block. At a younger age, the place is often unoccupied, let’s say it’s like a blank slate. It doesn’t even depend on the intensity of feelings, but on something else: the younger the child, the higher his ability to store information in the subconscious part of his memory, as a guide to action. This is an adaptation mechanism for quickly adapting to the surrounding world. It turns on in early childhood.

Timecode: 02:11, #499 Psychology of violence, childhood trauma. Guilt and responsibility - what's the difference? The Power of Forgiveness

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.

October 2022

April 9

Blocks in children after sexual abuse

Usually this is a block consisting of fear, disgust and guilt. There is also disgust for oneself and for this person who committed the crime. Blocks are formed in this way. The earlier the experience is gained, the more traumatic circumstances there can be in a child's life due to the fact that he is afraid. It's scary because he doesn't understand what's happening, because a small child feels a person's energy.

He has a very well developed intuition, he reads a person's energy by his eyes and movements. Feels cruelty from the person who commits violent acts with him. This causes fear and the child closes down.

If he does not dissolve the block, he will create protection from people, that is, not trust anyone. He may not remember it or remember it vaguely, he does not want to return to these memories. They can be unpleasant for him because they carry the pain of those feelings that he has not dissolved.

A sign that a block on this or another topic has dissolved is that a person remembers it completely calmly, without negative emotions. He accepts as an experience: "Yes, this happened in my life," but he does not have a desire to push it aside, not to think about it, if he speaks completely calmly about these or similar topics with other people, and he does not have a desire to avoid conversation, resentment and anger at that person, at the parent. When you remember the image, it will be bright; you will want to send it love. This is a sign of the block dissolving.

The child realizes this as cruelty, pain and fear coming from an adult through energy. He doesn't realize that his body is not ready. He may not even understand what it is, what they are doing to him. He can feel the energy and be afraid of it. At the same time, if you hurt him, he will feel resentful.

The child's Higher Self sees everything through his eyes, but the Higher Self in the Spiritual world is not capable of forming a block. It sees and records, as an event, an experience that can negatively affect the child's vibrations and make it difficult for him to complete life tasks in the future. If he does not dissolve the block, it may lower his vibration and he may not recognize or want to fulfill his spiritual tasks.

If he does not dissolve the block of resentment and hatred towards this person, then when he grows up, the block will try to come out of him as aggression. The aggression is the same as they did to him, like a repetition in memory. This can be called revenge, but it is expressed to another person. He can no longer find the culprit. If he is a sadist, someone who has been raped before, he will mentally imagine that he is committing these acts with the person who did it to him, imagining him helpless, small, tied up. It depends on what a sadist he is. This will look like a release of aggressive energy.

For some time after this, the person becomes psychologically better. But this does not mean that the block has gone away. New energies of anger have been added, because at the moment of committing a crime, the criminal becomes angry, and the block is strengthened. The energy, the outer shell of the block, comes out of the person and it becomes easier for him. But what has entered and strengthened the bloc is gradually growing, increasing, and expanding. Then he will have a need, a desire to do it again in order to again experience temporary relief.

Because of this, each time he lowers his vibrations more and more. If he cannot dissolve his blocks before physical death, he will not be able to fulfill his life task. He can accumulate a block that will take him to a very low level.

(Editor's note: dissolving blocks is part of the classical practice of merging with the Higher Self with the masters of Cassiopeia . For independent practice, below are links to publications on forgiveness)

Timecode: 28:07, #499 Psychology of violence, childhood trauma. Guilt and responsibility - what's the difference? The Power of Forgiveness

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.

October 2022

Consequences of eating meat in large quantities

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/posledstviya-upotreblenie-myasa-v-bolshih-koliches

> Question. Are there fear hormones from slaughtered animals in meat and its products, and what energy do they provide?

Yes, there are fear hormones. Fear hormones are adrenaline, norepinephrine, cortisol, which are produced in your body and not only when you are afraid, but also when you are irritable, despondent, etc. They are produced by your adrenal glands, enter directly into the blood and have an effect on the body: in small quantities it stimulates, and in large quantities it lowers immunity, causing problems with joints, muscles, heart, etc.

What happens to the hormones that enter through the digestive tract? Hormones are protein substances. As you know, such substances, including hormones, in Earth’s medical medicines are administered mainly by the parenteral route, that is, bypassing the gastrointestinal tract. The fact is that pepsin and hydrochloric acid in the stomach, trypsin and chymotrypsin in the pancreas effectively decompose any protein into amino acids. The same thing will happen with the hormone that came to you through the digestive tract.

Let's take meat. Adrenaline, which was contained in the blood and tissues of the animal, will be decomposed into amino acids, absorbed through the villi of the small intestine, will go to the liver and will be used for the synthesis of your proteins. If you eat a piece of beef, the proteins contained in the meat of this animal cannot become yours, since your DNA is different. Your proteins and the cow's proteins are not the same. The body must come up with something to transfer them into yours.

DNA produces enzymes that break down other people's proteins into their component parts, from which they build yours: it will be hemoglobin, adrenaline or skin protein. And if you eat beef liver, then the proteins included in the liver. If you eat fish, its protein composition is even more different from yours than protein from a cow. The plant protein of lentils is even more different from yours in the structure and structure of the proteins. All of this must be recycled.

Eating large quantities of meat, more than 5% of a diet that includes both fish and meat, what you call living life forms , automatically reduces the consumption of plant foods, which also contain the substances you need. Why are you cutting back? Because meat is an energy-rich and high-calorie product. If you eat a lot of meat, you won't want to eat anything else.

The second point: your pepsin, chymotrypsin and trypsin may not be enough to digest such an amount of meat. Unprocessed, it will enter the large intestine, where the necessary microflora lives, which will feed on this meat, decomposing it, which will result in hydrogen sulfide, blood acidosis, constipation and the like. These problems can be easily solved if they have started recently.

Eating large amounts of meat leads to increased sensitivity to colds, muscle weakness, headaches, lowers immunity, etc. Reason: microbes living in the intestines digest protein products that have arrived there, for which your enzymes are not enough, suppressing intestinal motility with special enzymes so that protein foods: meat, milk, plant products (peas, soy, etc.) remain in the lumen longer intestines. Thus, the microbes feed on it longer. This leads to atony, constipation, bloating and intoxication.

They love to eat deliciously what you bought with your money. Adaptive mechanism.

Timecode: 56:02, #193 Conference with an obstetrician-gynecologist. Alzheimer's and Parkinson's diseases. Women Health.

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations.

January 2021

Practices
April 30

About energy work with space. Practice

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/ob-ehnergeticheskoj-rabote-s-prostranstvom-praktik

There is energetic work with spaces in alliance with subtle civilizations. This helps fill the space with certain energies. Here, of course, you need to remember that the space where you are contains both the physical level and subtle material levels, as well as the spiritual and astral levels.

The astral atmosphere permeates all levels of density and is itself filled with your energies, charged with emotions, feelings and thoughts. And those people who live in this space constantly charge this space with their energy state. Perhaps it has happened to you when you entered someone's house for the first time: somewhere you felt more or less comfortable. This does not depend on the wealth and purity of the environment. These are the energies of people, the astral atmosphere.

If a person or a group of people lives there, for most of the day, when they are awake, negative vibrations, low mood, melancholy, anger, and so on prevail, then a certain cloud of energies gathers there, which attracts dark, destructive plasmoids. All together, this creates a negative background in which it will be difficult to think about something bright or meditate. Even if you hang ten icons there and light candles, the atmosphere itself will just get in the way.

If you feel that it is safe for you, then no danger can be attracted. You need to understand that even if you raise the vibrations of some space and go about your business, but other people live in this space, they will not necessarily send the same energies. It is better, of course, if everyone works together - a group of people - to direct the light energies.

For example, during group meditations, it is useful even to simply gather in a room, let there be 5-6 people, stand in a circle, hold hands, and say, for example, the Esler mood out loud to everyone. You will immediately feel how an energy column has appeared in the center of the circle - and mentally everyone together begins to think about its expansion and pronounce special words, for example:

> “The Light of God is in my Spiritual heart, I let the Light of love, acceptance, truth, happiness pass through me. May all sentient and thinking living beings in this space find harmony.”

You can use your own words. And you begin with thought forms, saying this, at the same time spreading this pillar, mentally expanding it and going outside the room - and you will feel a whirlwind. After practice, be sure to thank God, thank your Higher Self, and your supervisors out loud.

Timecode: 1:04:40, #513 KINESIOLOGY - psychology of personality self-regulation. Energy management through the subconscious.

Algir Trushiro is a representative of the planet Disaru, a doctor, psychologist and specialist in sports psychology.

November 2022

Religion and worldview
Today

A masterpiece review of the work of Irina Podzorova

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/shedevralnyj-otzyv-na-deyatelnost-iriny-podzorovoj

Hello, friends. Today I would like to express my gratitude to Irina Podzorova . You can’t imagine ✍ how her knowledge, given to her from above, has a positive impact on my today’s disclosure and creative fulfillment in everyday life.

Let's start with the fact that by listening to her video lectures (lessons, live broadcasts), you begin to better understand the universe. And when you realize this, then such creative changes occur to you that improve your manifestation in this life as a happy person, life-provided with all the benefits of the universe and simply loved and loving, who is able to easily overcome any life lessons that you have planned for yourself even before its incarnation.

How did this affect me, you ask? Very simple. From an eternally offended victim of despondency, I turned into a happy, self-sufficient woman who is capable of reproducing divine structures in the form of poems, joyful meetings with the outside world, being a happy master who leads people to the Higher Self, and there is also the opportunity, together with the Transformational Light plasmoids The Galaxy Networks help not only people in clearing them of blocks and other spectrums of distortion of the human structure, but also help in clearing earthly spaces together with plasmoids.

But the third stage of contactees, which I have already completed, it expands you with its knowledge to the scale of the planet 🌍🪐🌠, where knowledge is transmitted to you through Irina Podzorova, which you have long wanted to receive, but could not find where to get it. Thanks to Irina Podzorova’s ability to hear, feel and see manifested worlds in other dimensions, I was able to feel the energy of the planets in the solar system, which I am very happy about. Irochka teaches all this at the third stage. I am still mastering the knowledge I have acquired. And I feel that they are of a grandiose scale, which will be unpacked in me for several years. That's exactly how it goes. In a week of training, several years of assimilation of the acquired concentrated knowledge from curators-interstellar friends (humanoids and plasmoids) and simply mentors of the Spiritual World of the Higher Forces of the Universe, be it archangels, the teaching system, etc.

Maybe I don’t speak a language that is completely understandable to you, my dear readers, but it’s difficult for me to explain in a different way the mystery of magic that is happening to me now. It’s just that the more interesting experience from my star friends and good contact with them contributes to a different speech and a unique presentation of thoughts. But Irina Podzorova always speaks in a language that is more understandable to us all. And no matter how many of her video lessons I watch, they all go to the future, to the treasury of my new knowledge. And when you meet her in person, not only my heart, but also my entire physical body turns on. 😁I clearly begin to feel everything, feel it and begin to experience moments of happiness in another dimension, other mental images are coming - brighter, more soulful and blissful 🧘. For me, video tutorials from Irina Podzorova are all her videos on the Cassiopeia channel . You can just sit and take notes, and then simply create a textbook on the skills of transforming yourself in the 🌞Light of the Creator. That's all.

Dear readers🧑💻. I thank everyone who responded or did not respond to my review about Irina Podzorova🌺. God willing, I will have many opportunities to meet her again in my life, to hug her and participate in the next contact courses with her direct participation✨ Irina🌺. I wish you to achieve the perfection of your luminosity that you have planned for yourself, and which makes you even more blessed and happy in this earthly world🧘.

With love, your friend and colleague🌞 - Irina Getman ♀

Scientific works of earthlings
October 23, 2023

Is it possible to leap into 23rd century science using ancient knowledge and extraterrestrial contacts?

---

https://teletype.in/@cassiope_ya/vozmozhen-li-skachok-v-nauku-23-veka Various aspects of obtaining qualitatively new knowledge are considered. It is assumed that the basis of scientific insights and predictions of future events is interaction with the information field of the Universe, which is reflected, in particular, in philosophical, esoteric and religious teachings.

Various aspects of the participation of extraterrestrial Intelligence in the development of our solar system, some fundamentally new scientific knowledge, as well as an alternative interpretation of historical events on Earth obtained from them, which, unlike the theories of our scientists, do not contradict historical artifacts and knowledge of the ancients, are considered. This knowledge will allow you to make a leap in development while respecting the priority of spiritual values over scientific and technical ones (material).
Content
1. Scientific prerequisites for obtaining new knowledge
2. Contacts with alien Intelligence
3. Features of receiving information from the Interstellar Union and the Spiritual World.
4. Immunity of earthlings to new information
5. Multi-level structure of the Universe (religious, philosophical and esoteric sources).
6. The structure of the Universe according to the Interstellar Union.
7. Plasmoid worlds
8. Cyclic development of the Universe. The Big Bang Theory and the End of the World.
9. A brief history of the Earth and the Solar System.
10. Time as a fundamental quantity in the Universe
11. Types of energies and structure of the atom according to the MS version
12. Alien energy conversion technologies
13. Methods of interstellar travel
14. Features of embodiment (reincarnation) in different worlds and memory blockade
15 Reasoning about the Interstellar Union
16. MC's wishes to earthlings. Incarnation on Earth as an opportunity for a leap in spiritual development
17. Instead of a conclusion
List of sources used
1. Scientific prerequisites for obtaining new knowledge
From ancient times to the present day, a well-known scheme in the form of an ever-expanding circle has been used for the knowledge-ignorance relationship, indicating the boundary of our knowledge - that is, the boundary of the known and the unknown. This circle expands over time, and in some periods the expansion accelerates. Therefore, the more we know, the more the boundary of the known and the unknown expands, and we realize that our ignorance has become even greater. This is a normal natural process and one must come to terms with it. One ancient Greek said, “the more I know, the more I don’t know.” The Bible also has a phrase on this topic: “much knowledge increases sorrow.”

Unfortunately, this wisdom is not a decree for our scientists who adhere to traditional views on science. And they repeatedly announced that in some area of science, everything had been studied by them and it was time to close it. Or they introduced postulates, such as the impossibility of exceeding the speed of light, which is not a limiting factor, but only a special case of a more general law [1].

Or they declared new directions, for example LENR (Low Energy Nuclear Reactions - LENR), parapsychology, astrology, etc., pseudoscientific [2-7]. And so it continues to this day.

From a philosophical point of view, this approach leads to a halt in development [8]. If you don’t give yourself the mindset to move on, then something new won’t come on its own. Stopping is the beginning of the degradation of both the individual and society as a whole, and is punished by the Creator as contrary to his main task - the development and improvement of the System he created.

Let's go back to the beginning of the article and try to guess what will happen if we sharply expand the circle of knowledge-ignorance, for example, to the 23rd century, taking into account current trends and realities? Can we now try to understand scientific truths that will be discovered in the relatively distant future? Can we now make this leap, and how can we do it? Are there any prerequisites for this?

It turns out that theoretically this is quite possible if we return to the study of ancient knowledge and historical artifacts, which, although in an allegorical form thousands of years before our time, have already described these discoveries. If we assume that, according to many artifacts and observations, we are not only not alone in the Universe, but are also under the control of alien civilizations, then the likelihood of a scientific and technological leap increases. In the apt expression of Eduard Tsiolkovsky, “The Universe is simply teeming with alien Intelligence.” Let's try to understand these prerequisites.

Let's start with ancient knowledge. A lot of information can be found in religious teachings (the revelations of John the Theologian, the Bible, the Indian Vedas, etc.). Much is presented in the works of philosophers, naturalists, esotericists, contactees - Elena Blavatskaya, Nicholas and Helena Roerich, Daniil Andreev, M. Karpenko, Vernadsky, Tsiolkovsky, N.A. Kozyrev, P. Uspensky, Irina Podzorova, S.N. Lazarev and others [9-21]. If, for example, you select and collect individual paragraphs from a series of books by S.N. Lazarev “Diagnostics of Karma” [20, 21], then you can write a separate article outlining many relationships in physics, biology and natural science.

It should be noted that, as a rule, the language of presentation in these books, especially in ancient sources and among esotericists, is relatively complex, and mostly images are given taken from the Information Field of the Universe in the subjective interpretation of the authors. But when they are superimposed on a certain structure, and translated into scientific language, a fairly harmonious system of the Universe is obtained, correlating with other similar sources.
As for historical artifacts, there is even a whole science that studies and collects information about paleocontacts - contacts with aliens in ancient times, as well as unusual events and cataclysms that occurred on our Earth - the global flood, the extinction of dinosaurs, glaciation, etc.
While immersing myself in various aspects of the so-called “new physics” [8] in my free time from my main job, I discovered an interesting thing. Firstly, many of the ideas that came to me, although not in such a specific, but in a more general form, had already been previously expressed in the Vedas, sacred books, teachings of esotericists of the past and present, etc. All that remains is to transfer all this to scientific language and modernize. Secondly, when some incredible idea came to me, but I did not have time to write it down within 10 minutes, it disappeared irrevocably, and it was no longer possible to remember it. In contrast to ideas for my main and even related specialties (materials science, physics, chemistry, and related technologies). That is, not to the same extent as contactees and esotericists, of course, but apparently I sometimes also manage to get into the information field and take something useful from there. And I think it’s not just me. Understanding this saves him from scientific pride. It is clear that some invisible Co-author arises here.
Thus, the very fact of a scientific discovery speaks about the possibility of the existence of something more beyond our consciousness, and another, not generally accepted structure of the Universe, and also forces us to be more attentive to ancient sources, historical artifacts, epics and legends. Naturally, after appropriate comprehension and clearing of temporary and subjective layers.
Therefore, I had an idea a long time ago, using the luggage of the ancients as a basis, adding my own vision to them, and publishing all this in a digestible scientific form. And I have already prepared some draft articles. However, reality, in the form of unexpectedly appeared new information about contacts with the Interstellar Union (hereinafter referred to as IC), published on the Cassiopeia website [18, 19, 22-26], first plunged me into a slight shock, and then changed my plans. But the most interesting thing is that upon closer examination it turned out that this new knowledge does not at all contradict the teachings of the ancients, and is presented in modern scientific language. And what is also very important is that feedback is established. That is, we ourselves can ask questions and receive answers from the MS.

2. Contacts with alien Intelligence

We have a wrong idea about alien Intelligence. Basically, Hollywood did its best here with its “Star Wars” and other horror stories. And our Soviet science fiction has not gone so far, although it is already going to the other extreme and calling them “brothers in Reason.” The funny thing is that, although the second word in this expression is far from reality (both Reason and morality are different among us), the first, which actually means blood relationship, is relatively true, since we are artificially bred hybrids consisting of 55% from a mixture of alien DNA, and only 45% from our earthly primates (but more on that later in Chapter 9). By the way, breeding hybrids is a very difficult task even for them, so they treat us very carefully.

The closest to understanding alien civilizations was K.E. Tsiolkovsky [15], since he looked at the stars with the naked eye longer than others and comprehended them not only with his mind, but also with his feelings (Fig. 1) [18, 19].

Rice. 1. Infinite multiplicity of Galaxies and planets in the Universe [18, 19]

According to Tsiolkovsky (here I am modernizing him a little), if there are trillions of trillions of stars (which is now confirmed by astrophysics), and hundreds of billions of planets with more or less decent conditions of existence, then during the existence of the Universe there are hundreds of billions of years (see Vedas and MS information [14 , 17, 22-26]), there must be millions of highly developed civilizations with a history of hundreds of millions of years, for which the light barrier is not a decree.

And if during this time they did not destroy themselves, then their moral standards are also orders of magnitude higher than ours. Therefore, they also realize the presence of the World Mind and the Creator, the primacy of the concept of Love in the Universe. And this means direct non-interference in the affairs of others, only study and observation, and help only in critical situations. The only thing is that with such a huge size of the Universe, it is very difficult for them to discover something decent for life, such as our planet Earth. Therefore, our Solar System was discovered by them only 5 million years ago.

As for their appearance, it can be different, depending on the type of animal from which they originated (monkeys, freshwater, turtles, bears, cats, insects, reptilians, lizards), and their appearance is not at all demonic (except for lizards, but this is only because of their increased aggressiveness). The basis is made up of humanoids descended from monkeys, who provided us with their genes. They are similar to us, only two to five meters tall (Fig. 2, 3) [22-26].

Rice. 1. Infinite multiplicity of Galaxies and planets in the Universe [18, 19]
Rice. 3. Humanoid from the planet Burkhad, Constellation Cygnus, in contact with I. Podzorova [22-26]
I have only superficially familiarized myself with this new and very recently appeared information. But it cannot be ignored, since few people know about it, but everyone should know about it. To believe it or not to believe it is up to everyone. Although if someone is not too lazy to go through the links, then the information will probably remain in the subconscious and will come up at the right moment in life. Therefore, I, perhaps not very well, tried to briefly present a small part of the information received, combining it with the teachings of the ancients and my subjective vision, as well as an attempt to describe all this from a physical point of view.
If it so happened that I accidentally came across this new knowledge, then I had to go to the end. Although, as it turns out, nothing happens by chance. And any efforts, according to the law of conservation of energy, are not wasted. As Woland said, manuscripts do not burn. And everything remains in the Akashic chronicles and is reflected on the Time Tape.
It should be noted that, in my subjective opinion, the MS also has its own difficulties and disagreements, since all controversial issues are resolved by a majority vote. Not everyone is happy with this, and some highly developed civilizations, in particular from the planet Futissa (the colony of Burkhad), have left the MS and are pursuing an independent foreign policy. In general, we have our own squabbles, just like people do, but unlike us, everything happens, as a rule, in a more intelligent way.
3. Features of receiving information from the Interstellar Union and the Spiritual World.
Information from the Interstellar Union was received from contactee Irina Podzorova from the Cassiopeia website [22-26]. There are two lines. The first is contacts with the Interstellar Union (IU) and, less often, with the Galactic Federation of Light (GFS) - they, like us, are in our three-dimensional physical material world (3rd dimension), but at a qualitatively higher technological and spiritual level . The second line is contacts with the Spirits of famous deceased people who are in the World of disembodied spirits and are awaiting the next incarnation (reincarnation) from the 6th dimension. Also, some of her contacts are with the fine-material world of plasmoids (4th dimension), which make up most of the entities of our Universe.
Communication takes place through the Astral World (5th dimension), in which all entities from all dimensions can meet, but only energetically, but finding someone there or consciously meeting them is harder than a needle in a haystack. Requires special training and permission. Therefore, Irina Podzorova was trained and guided by aliens from different planets, from Tumisout, Burkhad, etc., starting from the age of 12. For the simultaneous translation of questions from Russian into the interplanetary language and vice versa, and the ability to communicate in the astral plane with non-embodied Spirits, chips are inserted into it.

In just two years of existence of this site, more than 550 dialogues were recorded on YouTube with aliens and disembodied Spirits (Soul in our earthly terminology, but in essence they are the same thing). Most of the dialogues are also available in printed form [19, 26]. Unfortunately, I only learned about this recently, only a few months ago, and managed to get acquainted with a small part of the information. Therefore, my analysis is preliminary and superficial.

As for the reliability of the information received from this source, I initially had some doubts. This is Irina's slightly strange and good-natured appearance, and constant inclusion in dialogues, often off-topic, but necessary for the promotion of the Cassiopeia Project, the organizer of the Cassiopeia Project - Maxim, requests for likes, and some other few rough edges. But later, as the information received was analyzed, they dissipated. It is impossible to answer all questions from different fields of knowledge as quickly, clearly and competently as Irina did, describing in detail technical details and historical facts. Use complex scientific terminology and describe in detail known physical and other processes, from the structure of the atom to the structure of Galaxies, etc. And MS's answers to questions in the field of psychology and sociology are striking in their accuracy and the presence of a clear cause-and-effect relationship. It is impossible to do this artificially, even if you place a dozen scientists of the highest level in the next room, who would instantly whisper into her headphones (which, by the way, she was not wearing) answers to all the questions asked.

Usually the dialogue on our part was led by Maxim Rusan, the founder of this site and society, and asked prepared questions. Later they began to invite specialists in a certain field of knowledge, with a set of their own questions or sent to the site. Sometimes Russian speakers are from other countries, mainly from the USA and Germany. And on their side (MS) scientists in this field were invited and usually someone of a general profile - specialists in interstellar contacts. And the dialogue began. Our people asked questions, MS answered, and Irina simultaneously telepathically translated the questions and answers.

As in any new business, in my subjective opinion, there were sometimes hiccups when we encountered people who were not quite prepared. Or specialists of a very narrow profile, persistently trying to solve some narrow technical problem with the help of MS.

Sometimes a blogger from the USA (formerly ours) tried to get them to recognize the discoveries of their Anglo-Saxon “genius” Hawking. Or, fulfilling someone’s order, justify euthanasia. But I didn’t find any support from them.
For me, from a scientific point of view, dialogues with questions such as what they eat and drink there on Burkhad, what houses they live in and what the currency is there were also of little interest to me. And there were many such dialogues. But these are particularities that happen in any completely new business.
Mainly thanks to the Cassiopeia website, a lot of useful and unique scientific information has been obtained, which must be carefully studied and analyzed.
Since there was a lot of information from the Cassiopeia website for people like me who were late to the beginning, I advise you to start by scrolling through the dialogue recordings. Each will take no more than 10 minutes. The most interesting recordings can be studied more carefully, and then listened to live on YouTube, connecting emotional perception and the subconscious. You can also leave your questions on the site. And also which of the disembodied Spirits you would like to invite. Although it is quite possible that these questions and Spirits are already present in later dialogues. The Cassiopeia Society has done a tremendous amount of work, for every taste, I bow to them deeply.
So take advantage, gentlemen and comrades. You are presented with a unique chance to shake yourself up once again and start rethinking everything.
4. Immunity of earthlings to new information
Accepting new knowledge, although it has been given to us for a long time both in the teachings of the ancients and modern philosophers and contactees, is not easy from a psychological point of view. As representatives of the MS put it, “Earthlings have such a psychology that the unknown scares them.”
Our contemporary S.N. expressed his opinion on this matter more precisely from a scientific point of view. Lazarev [27].
“Any organism has a certain program. Development occurs due to the influx of new information, which is larger than the information capacity of the body. Changing and updating the system causes fear, since new information is something unknown and alien to the body. Therefore, the natural reaction of rejection is always ready. New, undigested information is dangerous and the body must throw it away. We try to quickly forget everything that does not fit into the framework of our understanding of the world. Therefore, modern science has always stubbornly denied phenomena incomprehensible to it, moreover, stubbornly refused to believe in their existence."

And further
"To preserve, we "encapsulate", isolate ourselves from the outside world, and defend ourselves with internal and external aggression."
If applied to our topic, then maybe that's why our Russian Commission for Combating "Pseudoscience" behaves so aggressively, that is, not just like atheists, but like militant atheists (by considering the psychological aspect of their aggression, we will remove the material component from their behavior - an attempt on their scientific "Feeding Trough").
Further along Lazarev -
"The information structure is different. If in powder form there are about 20 different compounds, then in good natural form there are about six hundred, although they differ little in taste. Naturally, the effect of their interaction with the information structure of the body is different, from pathological in the first case, to recovery in the second.
Therefore, continuous external and internal changes are the key to health and rejuvenation, and increase the information capacity of the system and increase the vibrations and Spiritual level of the individual."
Thus, the apparent inconsistency of new information (as well as world religions among themselves) does not allow the form to harden and give an unambiguous interpretation of some event. The more a person is tuned in to love, the less contradictions he sees in the sacred books. And vice versa. Therefore, new scientific information will be better felt and perceived not even by a scientist or academician with a large store of scientific knowledge, but by a person, albeit not very educated, but who has the energy of love inside and, therefore, a large information capacity. The fact that it is not the scientific and technical aspects, but the psychological factor that holds back scientific and technological progress is reflected in the review on alternative physics [8].
In one of the dialogues with a representative of the planet Burhad (the capital of the MS), he expressed bewilderment why their information is often rejected not only by representatives of the scientific community, but also by esotericists and clergy. And from different, often opposing points of view. About this, contactee Irina Podzorova joked:
"In order for them to agree among themselves, they must all be placed in one locked room. But at the same time, remove everything piercing and cutting."
But seriously, in my opinion, if we take representatives of the same directions, but of a higher spiritual level, for example, Vernadsky, as a scientist, Lazarev, as an esotericist, and any of the church elders, then disagreements would not arise. For agreement and harmony, you just need to raise your vibrations and the energy of Love, and we won't have any problems.

Maybe that's why the Interstellar Union got tired of continuously insuring us from our internal cataclysms that threaten to destroy our unique Planet and the Solar System itself, and they began to gradually increase the level of vibration of the Earth. And this process has already begun. It has been experimentally established that in recent years the Schumann frequency, which reflects the general vibrational characteristics of the planet - the biosphere, hydrosphere, atmosphere, lithosphere - all its layers, has already doubled and continues to rise. Which takes the planet and its inhabitants to a higher Spiritual level. A kind of "quantum leap" is taking place.
This process, by the way, has long been noted in the books of S.N. Lazarev. Of course, people experience great discomfort, the number of wars and natural disasters increases, and many simply will not survive in these high vibrations. Cleaning is taking place. You will need to change, raise your spiritual level, and be open to new information. This is exactly what is happening now all over the world and especially intensely among ordinary people in Russia. This is probably why many prophecies say that salvation will come through Russia. But then, according to the principle of vibrational compatibility, souls from higher levels will be able to reach our Earth, there will be orders of magnitude less confusion and conflicts, and we will finally be able to be accepted into the Interstellar Union. Somewhere in the 23rd century. Although the Essence of our existence, new textbooks, information about the Universe, open contacts, interstellar travel and much more will be available much earlier. Even in our lifetime. There is nothing unusual about this.
And since we, at least semi-formally, recognize the priority of religious laws over human ones, which previously gave us the impetus for development, we have a chance to understand new information and join the MS. I quote S.N. again. Lazareva: "Interstellar laws correspond to religious teachings" [20, 21]
5. Multi-level structure of the Universe (religious, philosophical and esoteric sources)
But how does the Universe work, where, in addition to our material world, we also sense subtle worlds in which our feelings, thoughts, and soul live. In what dimensions do they exist? After all, modern science recognizes only three (3) spatial dimensions, and for some reason includes time as the fourth dimension. True, purely mathematically, without any physical meaning. In the string hypothesis, (or the theory into which the hypothesis becomes if it is confirmed experimentally, or as in this case, unfoundedly accepted by the scientific or administrative community), spatial dimensions are expanded to 11 or more. But without an explanation of the nature of artificially introduced higher spatial dimensions, all this resembles a game of thimbles. And here I immediately remember someone's precise definition of these so-called theories: "any hypothesis becomes a theory when it receives funding."

Let's turn first to the primary sources. In Karpenko's book [14] there is a very interesting idea - "we live in a four-dimensional world, but we feel ourselves in three-dimensional." Much later in my old work, trying to explain some aspects of the interactions of matter, I also suggested that the fourth and higher dimensions should be sought in different quantized densities of the ether or Physical Vacuum [28-30]. And the explanation of many LENR effects and the nature of ball lightning should be sought there [31, 32]. And I believe this idea is not new.
The approach of S.N. is very interesting. Lazarev [33] I quote:
Recent research by scientists has led to a shocking conclusion - the entire visible Universe is a hologram. That is, by and large, we do not exist - and not only us, but also planets and stars. There is information that, interacting with energy, creates the entire visible world. It turns out that the entire visible universe, that is, matter, is only structured energy. And energy is born from information.
Two thousand years ago, the same picture of the world was presented in the Bible in one phrase: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God."
Let us now consider an even more ancient source - the Revelations of John the Theologian, where he described the center of the Universe: "Seven rays fall on the sparkling iridescent diamond Throne, which create the Universe."
This is, in fact, a description of the formation of a holographic image, where the "sparkling diamond Throne" plays the role of a plate with imprinted information. Only, unlike a static plate, it changes all the time, making the holographic image live. That is, the Diamond Throne is essentially a crystal, with a holographically changing image of the Universe. Seven rays characterize the seven levels of the material world, as in the human aura. Light rays are always quantized, and they have different frequencies. That is, the images of the Universe in our Space will have different material and energy densities, each of which corresponds to a certain quantum-frequency level of the Universe (or the density of the ether and the Physical Vacuum, if considered in a simplified manner). And here there are analogies both with the concept of the Universe as a hologram - there are such theories, and with the Indian Vedas, where our material world is perceived as an Illusion. And a hologram is an illusion, only it is also material, as it is filled with light energy of different frequencies.
Thus, images of our Universe exist in seven main vibrational-frequency levels, rhythms. Of course, for each level there are also numerous sub-levels superimposed on the main rhythm.

We find the same idea in S.N. Lazareva -
“The Creator who created the Universe continues to create it and maintain its existence every fraction of a second. Therefore, the condition for the development and harmony of the Universe is the constant need for unity with the Creator, a constant internal aspiration towards him” [33].
I don't think the purpose of life could be expressed better. And most importantly, this is in tune with both religious teachings and information from the MS (see Chapter 6).
From this we can draw an important conclusion that if the Creator stops irradiating the Throne (in esoteric and religious terms - emitting energy in the form of a ray of Love), or releases not seven rays, but fewer, then these levels will simply disappear without the energy supply of the Creator. And we won’t even notice it, since we are inside them.
Another conclusion is that light is emitted by quanta, which means that there is a time interval between them when, having shifted in phase, there is no energy and, therefore, there is no material world either. And this echoes the teachings of Carlos Castaneda about timelessness [34]. That is, having shifted in phase into oblivion, but retaining our material shell, after some time we may find ourselves at almost the same point, but at a different later time. And such precedents are described in history when people or objects suddenly appear from the past into the present and find themselves in the present time.
Still, how is it possible for different density levels to interact with each other? And the upper levels, from the 4th and above, have very high-frequency vibrations. Let's try to imagine this process physically.
Our material Universe of the third density level has rhythms with the lowest frequency. But from the laws of physics it is known that if a higher frequency, but containing an integer number of waves, is superimposed on our rhythm, then a weak resonance is possible, which makes it possible for different levels of the Universe to interact with each other and with the primary basic rhythm of the Universe (the Creator).
Thus, the environment, ether, is created by the Creator and exists in different energy densities of the levels of the Universe. And at each level, the ether forms its own structure, such as a crystal lattice, called the Physical Vacuum (PV), in order to form subtly and densely the material worlds and energies in them [28].
The PV nodes of each level are probably located one inside the other. The smallest one is our material one. The largest is the fire level. It has less density, which means, according to the well-known formula for the speed of propagation of vibrations in matter, the speed is greater. But the elasticity is the same. Therefore, there the speed of light is greater and time, therefore, flows faster.

Let us now return to the revelations of John the Theologian and his 7 rays, creating a holographic picture of the Universe at 7 basic levels. The seventh level is Divine and it never disappears. From it arises the sixth, then the fifth, and so on to the lowest level. I tried to represent this schematically in Fig. 4, where the abscissa axis represents time, and the ordinate represents levels, starting from the top from the highest high-frequency seventh level. Thus, higher levels in one time quantum exist longer. And there are also more micro-events at the upper levels in one time interval.
Rice. 4. Schematic representation of the emergence and disappearance of quantum levels of the Universe.
After the appearance of quanta in Space from the upper to the lowest level, then there is a gradual return of the quantum of light to the holographic crystal (Throne) in the reverse order, from the first to the sixth level with already accumulated experience, which makes changes to the Crystal (holographic plate), and it slightly is changing. That is, the cause on the left side of the quantum goes into the effect on the right side of the quantum in Fig. 4, and is recorded in the memory of the Creator. This is followed by the next microcycle (the right side of Fig. 4), where in the quantum the already accumulated effect becomes the cause, and then passes into a new effect. Etc. According to the MC version, there are no changes in time (no time) only at the level of disembodied Spirits (6th level, see Chapter 6), as well as at the highest Seventh Divine level.
It should be added that in these intervals between quanta (the state of timelessness according to Carlos Castaneda) one can also accommodate a bunch of quanta from other Universes.
Also in many religious and esoteric teachings there is the concept of reincarnation. That is, the Soul is eternal and gains experience during earthly incarnations. True, this is not the case in official Christianity, which confuses clergy with questions such as where new souls come from and whether Heaven or Hell is filled with dead souls. The latter is already overpopulated and you can’t get there without cronyism. You need to queue up in advance. These lower levels are described in detail by Dante in the Divine Comedy, and by whom they are already occupied [35]. True, there is an opinion that in the early editions of the Bible and the Gospel the concept of reincarnation was present. But then, at one of the Ecumenical Councils, the bishops threw it out, either for ease of perception of the teaching, or for some other selfish reasons. The Vatican library needs to be shaken. There are probably earlier versions of these books out there. Perhaps they are also in the disappeared library of Ivan the Terrible, which will be easier to find than to go into the Vatican's bins.

6. The structure of the Universe according to the Interstellar Union.
First, I'll start with a quote from MS, which, in an emotional-religious and not entirely easy-to-understand language, close to the language and understanding of Helena Blavatsky, respectfully gives the image of the First Principle [36-38]:
"Everything that exists in objective or subjective reality is called the Universe. It is heterogeneous in its internal vibrations and purpose. Its Source, which continuously radiates energy to maintain its existence and development, is the Eternal and Infinite Absolute Supermind, which has millions of billions of names in all worlds and at all levels of the Universe."
The Creator "created everything and gave birth to an unimaginable number of Spirits, His children, unimaginable for the understanding of earthly man, putting into them a ray of His Light, a Spark of Flame, the ability to Love, Create and Dream.
In Russian, this Superperfect Being is called God and in the future this word will be understood only as the Source of everything that is, was and will be, the Beginningless Beginning, the Causeless Cause, the Omniscient, Omnipotent and Omnipresent Our Heavenly Father.
He continuously radiates from Himself the Light of True Love, which, gradually lowering in its vibrations, creates and supports everything that we see, hear, touch and smell around us and billions of other worlds that are inaccessible to the perception of the receptors of our earthly bodies." [36]
What follows is a scientific description, where everything is laid out and presented schematically in Fig. 5
Rice. 5. System of the Universe according to the Interstellar Union [36]
I quote:
"In total, in the Universe there are 59 levels of matter density and 24 levels of the spiritual world, accessible to the perception of spirits at that stage of development that is characteristic of the universe visible to us. These levels are located like this, if you look from the point of view of a gradual decrease in vibrations:
1. Divine Peace, Kingdom of Heaven.
2. The world of disembodied spirits, which consists of 24 levels:
24-17 - Angel levels
16-9 - levels of medium spirits
8-7 - levels of elemental and nature spirits
6-1 - demon levels
3. The astral world, which at the level of our Galaxy has 84 floors, but only part of them is reflected in the noosphere of each planet, which depends on the level of awareness and development of the energy structures of intelligent beings living there. For example, in the astral atmosphere of the Earth and the Solar System, seven floors of the astral world are manifested, like seven chakras, on Burkhad nine, on Esler twelve, and on Daraal twenty-four.

4. The subtle material world, which in our Galaxy consists of matter of fifty-six levels of density. At these levels live civilizations of the plasmoid type, whose representatives do not have physical dense material bodies, but have subtle material bodies consisting not of substances, but of energies.
On Earth they are called spirits of the elements and nature, brownies, goblins, mermaids, spirits of the Sun, stars, etc. They live both in the atmospheres of planets and in their soil, the cores of planets, the chromospheres of stars and in the emptiness of outer space that seems to us.
5. Physical world or dense material. It is at the third level of matter density, which includes solid, liquid and gaseous states. This world is known to all of us, many people are accustomed to consider it real and present, but this is only a small part of the Universe, which in turn is an infinitesimal portion of the manifested energy of the Limitless Source of Reality."
Thus, the entire universe consists of three large structures, which are called the "dense material world or physical Universe", the "subtle material world or plasmoid levels" and the "Spiritual world".
"In the physical world, we have three-dimensional space."
"The fourth dimension is already the world. Plasmoids, a collection of worlds. The fourth dimension is not accessible from here. Further dimensions are the 5th, etc. They are inaccessible from the 4th. The 4th is plasmoids, the 5th is astral."
Thus, "the 3rd is dense material, the 4th dimension is energies, fields, the 5th dimension = this is the astral world, the 6th dimension is the world of disembodied spirits, and the 7th dimension is even further in vibration the world of disembodied spirits This is the light, the vibration that supports everything, this is the energy of the Creator. In Christian terminology it is called the Kingdom of Heaven. From it comes the management and formation of everything, including the material world. And this is the seventh dimension. The Divine World, in which there are no longer spirits, but only God. Which has access to the last three levels, from the 22nd, 23, 24 levels and into which the highest Spirits briefly climb to communicate with God, and he explained to them specific plans for the incarnation."
"All these levels differ in vibration and are separated by a vast etheric field containing 700 times more potential energy than all the quanta of the physical Universe combined! This energy is needed to stabilize the structure of the spaces of two clusters and contains material for the creation of new material structures of six density levels and systems from them."

“Events of the Spiritual world are reflected on the material level. The connection is schematically represented by a Tesla coil" (for information. Tesla incarnated into our physical world from high-level plasmoids, but here, like most of the high spirits who came to us on Earth, he lowered his vibrations. By the way, he did not create the Tunguska meteorite, it was an icy comet that turned into steam in the Earth's atmosphere. But he found a way to take energy from the ether, destroying it, which is forbidden to do without the permission of the Interstellar Union, which stopped his experiments [39, 40]).
“The density level is a separate reality in which there are many worlds. One density level differs from another density level by vibration characteristics that are several thousand terahertz higher than the previous level. That is, the vibrations of the second medium of space and, naturally, those worlds and subtle bodies and creatures that live there, constitute one vibrational characteristic in order to coincide with each other in the same space and flow of time. That is, in one space there can exist many entities of the material and subtle world with different levels of vibration. Only they will be at different density levels in the same space. But in their perception it will be a separate space.”
“And all these worlds are real, since reality is what exists in the perception of some being. There is spiritual reality and there is material reality. And there are different levels that are all in this reality. That is, the spiritual world, thoughts and feelings, emotions - they are also real. And everything in the external world – objects, people, is also reality, but this is material reality.”
“According to the science of the Interstellar Union, physical space makes up only 7% of the space of the entire material world, which contains many millions of worlds at finer levels of density.
The frequency of these vibrations is different at each level of density, which allows many spaces with corresponding material content to occupy the same volume. Spaces of different dimensions are separated from each other by etheric fields designed to structure and stabilize these spaces. Thanks to this effect, all material worlds are isolated from each other and for their “inhabitants” embodied in each of them.”
Multi-levelness is maintained due to different frequencies of vibrations at different levels.
“Now you are in a certain space, but this does not mean that only you are in this space. In another level of density (or as you like to say now, in another dimension) in the same space there are other civilizations.”
It should be noted that at each density level there is not one world, but from several tens to a million worlds: “We are at the 3rd density level. And there are millions and billions of worlds here.” That is, it coincides with the assumption that between the quanta of the same frequency in which we exist, there are still a bunch of quanta with other similar entities located in time (see Chapter 5).

Thus, using the MS terminology, I used quotes with abbreviations to indicate the structure of the Universe according to the MS version, which, in my opinion, is very clearly presented in Fig. 5 and is not so different from the versions of our esotericists and religious teachings (see Chapter 5). In the future, when explaining many phenomena in our Universe, we will have to use this knowledge.
7. Plasmoid worlds
Following the third physical material level, in the structure of the Universe, are occupied by plasmoid worlds. This is the fourth level. And it also refers to the material world, although it is subtle [36, 41].
“There are tens of times more plasmoid worlds than humanoid ones. According to rough estimates, about 90 billion spirits on Earth are embodied in them. As you can see, there are much more of them than in material density.
A plasmoid (“bravod” in the Daraal language) is an energy being that is embodied, but not in a physical body, but in one consisting of energy, electromagnetic waves, ultraviolet, radio waves, only in the high part of the spectrum. It is like an intelligent ray of light (Fig. 6) [36, 41].
It has a fine-material body structure, yet it is invisible. It glows just like the Sun, which is made of plasma, or ball lightning. He may live in the center of the stars. The ending “-id” means similar, it is similar to plasma, but not plasma itself.
Previously, they were called spirits of nature, spirits of the elements - sylphs, salamanders. Ball lightning is an example of a manifested plasmoid.
Being intelligent spirits with feelings, intelligence and energy, combining all this together, plasmoids create the souls of animals, plants, microorganisms, etc., endowing them with their life force. This is the meaning of their existence. They can live in the atmosphere of planets, the chromosphere of stars, and near the core of the Sun. The energy that stars emit is attractive to stellar plasmoids as food. Their food is light, heat, and radiation.
Plasmoids are a form of life that can exist within a wide range from several days to millions of years. For example, he will incarnate, quickly complete his task, and go into the spiritual world. But this is according to Earthling time. With plasmoids, the passage of time is faster and several days are years.
Plasmoids are at density levels ranging from four to fifty-nine. And in each of these 56 worlds there are also sublevels that differ in vibrations.”
Rice. 6. Schematic representation of the plasmoid [36, 41]
“To create a molecule, it must be assembled from an atom. To collect atoms, you need to collect energies. They are collected from four elements - the energies of water, fire, earth and air. Therefore, on each planet the number of plasmoid civilizations is many times greater than the number, for example, of people. On Earth, if you count all levels of density, there are approximately 880 plasmoids for each person. They still have to create the biosphere. They must create plants, animals, insects, they must eat something and transfer these atoms, and replenish their body with some atoms.

Spiritual guides, Angel Consultants, before you want to incarnate on any planet, they first recommend going through several incarnations in the plasmoid civilizations of this planet in order to build this matter for more dense beings. And then you yourself, as it were, put your energy into this planet, into this civilization, in order to incarnate there yourself. Anyone can contact the spirits of nature. And also with any levels of the spiritual world. And with the levels of plasmoids that it can attract with its vibration characteristics."

In addition to the spherical one, plasmoids can take different forms (elves, gnomes, etc. - lower density levels). Our primitive ancestors, and shamans too, could communicate with them, as with their closest neighbors, and receive advice and help from them, even magical. Therefore, earlier, in ancient civilizations, there was a cult of worship of natural Spirits.

Multiple incarnations in plasmoids, especially at higher levels, such as stellar and galactic ones, later leave their imprints when incarnated on Earth. For example, Nikola Tesla, who had previously incarnated many times as a plasmoid on the Sun, could calmly tolerate high voltages and feel the nature of electromagnetic phenomena, which helped him in creating his unique installations. [39, 40].

8. Cyclic development of the Universe. The Big Bang Theory and the End of the World

Our Universe and the Universe itself develops, like everything in nature, cyclically. This is the basic law of the Universe, and it permeates everything, including our Being, which we constantly encounter in our lives. Cyclicity is necessary for development, which proceeds in a spiral, and each new turn is higher and more perfect than the previous one. This is reflected not only in modern scientific approaches, but even in drawings, including rock drawings, left to us by our ancient ancestors.

Let us first turn again to ancient sources, in particular, to the cosmological myths of the ancients, set forth by N.K. Roerich in his book "Cosmic Legends of the East". They have striking coincidences with Friedman's model of a non-stationary and cyclic Universe, and with the modern principle of anthropy [10, 14].

According to "Cosmic Legends", the history of the Cosmos is "an endless alternation of periods of its existence - the Great Manvantaras and non-existence, called Maha Pralaya, which are considered equal to each other and have a duration of about 1015 years”

Pay attention to the duration of the periods, which, by the way, among the ancients does not differ from the MS data. Therefore, our ideas about the birth of the Universe 13.6 billion years ago (13.6 * 109 years) look depressing.

Further: “The Great Manvantara is divided into days - Days of Brahma, and nights - Nights of Brahma. During the nights of Brahma, the world does not disappear, but all living things die in order to come to life during the Day of Brahma. The duration of Brahma’s Day or Night is more than four billion years.”

We will return to understanding the Days and Nights of Brahma, but now we will continue quoting: “360 Days and Nights of Brahma are equal to one Year of Brahma, and one hundred years of Brahma corresponds to the Age of Brahma or the Great Manvantara.”

So, what processes occur during the alternation of being and non-existence, or according to the Indian Vedas, the alternation of the Great Manvantaras. We find the answer to this question in information from MS [42]. I will describe this briefly in my own words. First, the emergence of the Universe.

So, the highest 7th level, as well as the 6th level, where decondensed Spirits live, exists forever and does not disappear. From the energy contained in them and the energy of the Creator, first subtle-material worlds appear, level by level from top to bottom (from the 59th and further down), then more dense ones. By the way, our first incarnations in the very first Manvantara, when God created the first Souls from fluctuations of Light energy, first appeared precisely in the subtle worlds. Going down, matter gradually begins to become denser, and due to high vibrations, the plasmoids inhabiting it create lower levels. At the last stage, the turn comes to the densely material physical world. Thus, our Universe, the Galaxies in it, the stars consist of the energies of fine-material worlds and are formed by higher plasmacides throughout the Universe at once. That is, the Big Bang theory is not entirely true. The emergence of a dense material Universe could indeed look like an explosion. But it was not from a separate point (as its theorists call a singular point followed by an inflation phase), but matter in the form of dust appeared throughout the Universe, immediately materializing from plasmoid worlds located in the same space, but of a different density. And then, as usual, interstellar gas and luminous plasma began to form stars and planets. But its structure has already been formed in the subtle material world throughout the entire space of our Universe. Moreover, Galaxies, stars and planets will not be repeated from previous Manvantaras.

We are currently at the beginning of a new cycle. But over time, the period of decompression comes. For our Universe, this will happen in trillions of years. This is necessary for the transition to new, higher levels of vibration when the Universe appears again.
So, decompression, when the time comes, will begin with our material world. Each atom becomes less dense, energy leaves it. But at the same time, the remaining levels of density still remain, in particular, the 4th fine-material world of plasmoids, in which Spirits will continue to incarnate. Then the turn comes to the subtle worlds, layer by layer. But these energies do not disappear, but become less dense and go to the upper layers. All levels of density of the subtle world will gradually disappear, one after another.
I quote further:
“The Spiritual World does not disappear, since the Spirit (Soul) is eternal. But at the same time, each Spirit remains at the level that it reached during its last incarnation” [42].
If you put all this in your own words, then you need to take your last incarnation before the period of Non-existence very seriously, otherwise you will be stuck at the last level for a long time. However, all this will not happen, as I have already noted, very soon.
Now let's return to a more realistic period in time - the Nights and Days of Brahma, the periodicity of which is more accessible to our perception - a period of "more than four billion years." Unfortunately, I did not find a description of this period in the information from MS (maybe I didn’t look carefully, maybe they haven’t asked them this question yet). However, it is briefly described by N.K. Roerich:
“During the nights of Brahma, the world does not disappear, but all living things die in order to come to life during the Day of Brahma.” [10, 14]. Here I will try to give my physical interpretation of this process, described in my article [32]:
“With the expansion of the Universe, and, consequently, a continuous decrease in the energy density of the PV, according to Lenz’s rule (any change in the physical state leads to the emergence of forces that prevent this change - self-induction emf, etc.), a process must arise that increases the energy density of the PV. And a spontaneous increase in entropy just leads to an increase in the density of the PV and prevents the expansion of the Universe, as well as presumably a number of other processes - the movement of bodies in orbits, the rotation of bodies, etc. Thus, the expansion of the Universe, or, more precisely, the inflation of the Universe is presumably cause an increase in entropy.
After some time, the next phase of the development of the Universe will come - the night of Brahma - its compression. This is the breath of Brahma in ancient Indian philosophy - a natural and endless breathing process: inhalation - exhalation. Then all physical and chemical processes will spontaneously begin to go in the other direction - not towards mixing, but towards separation. However, in this case, the second law of thermodynamics will work and determine the direction of physical and chemical processes, but not with a decrease, but with an increase in free energy. Then the mixing processes will occur only in very rare cases of exothermic reactions (energy release) with an overlap in the value of the entropy term of the equation TΔS, since the change in entropy will already be a negative value (as the journalists who survived this cataclysm will say - everything tends to reduce entropy)".

Naturally, in the absence of mixing processes, which form the basis of the life activity of any living organism and plants, all living things die. It's just not clear what then the part of the plasmoids (spirits of the elements and nature) who are responsible for living nature will do.

9. A Brief History of the Earth and Solar System

The history of the Earth is described in many religious and esoteric books, although in rather vague, florid and difficult-to-understand language. History written by our learned historians suffers from even greater errors, since it is highly politicized. In general, historians, fulfilling the order of the Authorities in every historical period of time, in my subjective opinion, have taken away from journalism the title of the second "oldest" profession.

Naturally, the most complete information, echoing both historical artifacts and archaeological finds, and the teachings of the ancients, was obtained from MS [43-45]. I present it here briefly with comments.

By universal standards, our Solar system was discovered relatively recently. And this is understandable, since the size of the Universe is estimated at about 10,240 light years, and finding a new system suitable for life is more difficult than a needle in a haystack. This is despite the fact that alien ships can travel distances of millions of light years in a matter of days. Therefore, we were discovered only 5 million years ago by the Thumesoids (Fig. 2) from the constellation Orion. Later they were joined by the Burkhadians (Fig. 3) and representatives of other planets.

The Earth then was a single continent with a warm climate, including at the poles, and was closer than it is now to the Sun. The Moon then did not revolve around the Earth, but was a separate planet (by the way, this fact was noted in the most ancient Mayan calendars, which baffled our scientists). Venus and Mars were also suitable for habitation, although to a much lesser extent. Mercury was a satellite of Venus. Beyond the orbit of Mars was the planet Phaethon (now an asteroid belt), on which the main alien bases for studying the solar system and conducting scientific experiments were located. According to their data, there was nothing more unique than our Solar System either in ours or in the nearest Galaxies.

The Earth then was a single continent, washed by an ocean with a unique diversity of animal and plant life and a slightly lower gravity than now. Monkeys were chosen for humanization - similar to chimpanzees and Pithecanthropus, only larger and having already reached a certain level of consciousness. However, working with them over the next 2 years did not lead to the expected result. Apparently because of the excellent living conditions - mild climate and affordable food. The absence of natural enemies (dinosaurs living at the same time as them preferred other food and habitat, plus our ancestors were able to telepathically influence them) did not provide an incentive for development. After two years of tormenting them, MC decided to speed up their development by changing their genotype (DNA). They could not colonize the planet by populating it with their representatives, according to the law of the MS, which prohibits the colonization of planets if it is already occupied by other, even underdeveloped individuals (we still have to grow and grow to such high morality, remember the colonization by fire and sword of America, India, Africa etc. by our Anglo-Saxons and other Europeans, who are now spreading European democratic “values” throughout the world).
As a result of numerous and often unsuccessful experiments - centaurs, cyclops, etc. were obtained - it was finally possible to create a full-fledged hybrid, consisting of 45% of our apes, 30% of Burkhadians, 20% of Thumesoidians, and 5% of Selbetians. The latter are an intelligent lizard-like species (they were also part of the MS at that time), something like our Crocodile Gena from the cartoon about Cheburashka. They were added to increase our activity and aggressiveness, as well as our love of competition (our monkeys were too infantile to begin with). However, Selbet representatives were unhappy with their small contribution. They were denied the opportunity to make hybrids from lizards and dinosaurs living on Earth. As a result, the seeds of subsequent conflicts and Star Wars were laid. The resulting hybrids, and they rarely happen, have too different DNA in all of them - these are Atlanteans, Lemurians, Hyperboreans - they were tall, 3-5 m tall (later, the height decreased), lived 500-800 years and developed quickly. Their paranormal abilities developed especially quickly - telepathy, telekinesis, which was much more difficult for other civilizations. The Atlanteans were vegetarians, they lived on friendly terms with dinosaurs, as they influenced them telepathically, inducing in them either a feeling of fear so that they would get away, or a feeling that they were one of their own. Then they could use them for their own purposes. By the way, during excavations they often discovered both tall human skeletons and the presence of dinosaur bones next to them.

Later, Venus and Mars were also populated, although the habitat there was initially not as comfortable as on Earth and additional representatives of flora and fauna had to be brought there from Earth. By the beginning of the interstellar wars, the population of the Earth was already 55 million people, the population of Venus was 2 million people. But unlike the Earth, where the Atlanteans constantly had wars and civil strife, the Venusians lived amicably and developed socially much faster.
Twelve thousand (12,000) years ago an aggressive group (like our Hitler in Germany) came to power on Selbet and they began to attack the MS planets. It must be said that the MS security services (their “effective managers”) missed this moment, did not monitor the situation, despite the fact that it lasted quite a long time, and did not take any measures to protect earthlings from attack. Although Selbet openly expressed dissatisfaction with his exclusion from populating the solar system. Therefore, Selbet struck the next blow against us, concentrating his combat spaceships around us. While the MS did not have warships in our area, there were only research ships, not equipped with weapons or special protective equipment.
First, the Selbetites struck Phaethon, destroying all bases with tens of thousands of representatives of the MS of different planets. It was an anti-gravity beam of enormous power, which briefly destroyed gravity on Phaeton and, in the absence of gravitational forces, it disintegrated into fragments, forming the asteroid belt known to us. Then they hit Mars, albeit with less power, depriving it of its atmosphere and all life. Then it was the turn of the Earth. As a result of the impact, radiation increased (therefore, radiocarbon dating gives incorrect results), and the earth's plates shifted. The plates diverged and the single continent split into several continents that exist today. Water poured into the resulting cavities, forming the “World Flood” reflected in the Bible. Then Venus got it too.
It should be noted that representatives of the MS heroically exposed their ships, unsuited to combat, to the impacts of the rays in order to weaken them, and saved the survivors until help arrived. However, as a result, all our Martians died, only 50,000 people were evacuated from Earth, and part of the animal world (in the Bible this is reflected as Noah’s Ark), but almost all the Venusians were saved. They were the last to be hit.
In addition to the flood, the Earth shifted from its orbit from the impact and began to quickly move away from the Sun, threatening to collide with the Moon. The most that the MS quickly managed to do was stop its removal and make the Moon a satellite of the Earth. We also had to slightly adjust the orbits of the other planets in the solar system, since they all turn out to be interconnected.

As a result, the Earth's radiation changed, the climate changed, ice caps appeared at the poles and seasons with cold winters, and the flora and fauna became impoverished. The dinosaurs, naturally, all died out from the impact. Miraculously, about 2 thousand earthlings survived - and this is the current Bigfoot (Yeti) - went to live in hard-to-reach places and stopped contacting both the MS and humanity that settled later. This is a genotype that is adapted to life in any conditions. It is impossible to study them, since they have strong telepathic abilities, read and inspire any thoughts, influence instruments, and can even move in space. They can perceive the energy of the Sun and stars, they do not communicate with anyone, since they are offended by everyone (of course, they can survive this). A self-sufficient isolated civilization, living, just like Atlanteans, for 500-800 years.
Over the next three years, the MS prepared the Earth for settlement - it reduced radioactivity (they have such technologies), restored the flora and fauna of the Earth, partially restored its vibrations, etc. However, then some problems occurred, and the evacuated Venusians and earthlings who They were no different from each other, their fates turned out to be different.
At first, the MC planned to populate all the survivors, including 2 million Venusians on Earth, in order to maintain the continuity of civilization (fewer people lose touch with their roots on a subtle level and gradually degenerate). However, the Venusians categorically refused to populate the Earth, where a terrible catastrophe occurred, and the MS managed to find a suitable uninhabited planet for them a little later - Disara - also in our Galaxy, which they populated and developed successfully, reached a high level, and are now officially accepted into the MS. By the way, you can’t visually distinguish them from earthlings.
As a result, the Earth had to be populated by several thousand earthlings who agreed to return, whose memory of the events had previously been erased in order to avoid stress. We also had to add 5% of Thumesoid DNA to them so that they could eat meat and survive the winter.
Since the MC’s dream was to quickly bring us to a level that would allow us to become part of extraterrestrial civilizations, and for this we had to not be afraid of the diversity of humanoid species and be tolerant, they decided to resettle the remnants of earthlings on different continents, slightly changing their appearance (this is how different race) and giving different languages. In my opinion, this did not lead to tolerance, but to the emergence of antagonism between races and new wars. In addition, they did not take into account an important feature. To develop successfully, you need to overcome difficulties. Therefore, the African race, located in more comfortable climatic conditions, lagged behind in its development. By the way, this is evidenced by the unaccounted MS experience of the Venusians, who have the same genotype, but were significantly ahead of the Atlanteans in their development.

And a new stage in the development of our earthly civilization began under the vigilant control of alien civilizations (mainly Burkhadians and Tumesoids), since due to the loss of contact with previous generations, earthlings repeatedly almost fell into the primitive communal system. We had to build pyramids and other structures, teach agriculture, transfer simple technologies, writing (ancient runes), etc. This is reflected in legends and myths as the help of various Gods and angels to earthlings. Due to changes in the Earth's energy, their growth and lifespan were reduced to what they are today, although individual individuals, according to surviving chronicles (pharaohs, Abraham, Moses and many others) could live up to a thousand years or more.
To correct our development, the MS embodied high-level Spirits on Earth (archangels, prophets, Jesus Christ, etc.). [46] Although finding conditions for the incarnation of such high Spirits on Earth was a very difficult task.
At first, MS did not hide his contacts, and actively intervened in our development in order to somehow compensate for the damage caused by the war. Later, with the development of civilization on Earth and the advent of writing, visible contacts with aliens decreased (according to their rules, physical traces of their presence cannot be left). However, the impact of MS on our lives has not stopped. Our further study was continued by them from numerous research bases located both on the Moon and Mars, and on Earth (registered flying saucers), as well as through many contactees. In order to bring our and our planet’s lagging spiritual level up to the advanced technological development, they began to apply to us the “quantum leap” technology, when the vibrations of the Earth’s noosphere increase (for example, in the last 15 years alone, the Schumann frequency has doubled). This leads to disasters, instability and wars. Although they try to increase these vibrations smoothly, there are also nodal points (jumps) when there is a sharp transition. This happened in 1912, 1982, and 2014. This was followed by the First World War, the end of socialism and the Yellow Revolutions. Their ultimate goal is to raise the spiritual level of Earthlings to join the MC, then return all the planets to their original orbits and make Venus and Mars again accessible to habitation, restoring their former atmosphere, climate, flora and fauna.
In my subjective opinion, their research from the bases is purely theoretical and superficial. They don't understand what lies are. That the world is being sucked into the trend of degradation and depravity. They forgot that a person consists of body, consciousness and soul.

And the accelerated, advanced, perhaps even with the help of MS, technocratic development on Earth in recent centuries with the slogan “everything for the body” (science, technology, comfort, pleasure and enjoyment) to the detriment of the soul leads to the collapse of civilization. That the desire for pleasure, promoted by the media, including ours, has already turned into dependence on it, like a drug. And a larger and larger dose is required, leading to the emergence of LGBT people and complete degeneration. That Christianity in most countries has already degenerated, and only a form with an emasculated content remains. That the post-Christian period has now arrived and the destruction of Notre Dame, the symbol of the West, was a sign from the Creator above about the beginning of the end of Western civilization. That now there is already a third world war, but not only between countries, as they think, but a war, in the exact words of Ramzan Kadyrov, of “true Christians and Muslims against Satanism.” At the same time, the war is going on within each country, regardless of what position they occupy, and within each person. And here God has only two options - to give the fate of the Roman Empire, when after their slogan “Bread and Circuses” the era of degradation and decay began, or a more severe version of Sodom and Gomorrah.
It should be noted that according to the laws of the MS, they are prohibited from leaving evidence of their presence on Earth. True, not everything is under their control and sometimes tourists visit us. Their travel agencies, like ours, skimp on safety, which is why accidents happen or they get hit. By law, they must urgently eliminate traces of accidents and, if necessary, erase the memories of witnesses. But they do not always do this, violating their own laws [47, 48].
With all the high morality and technological development of the MS representatives, I would like to remind them of the Divine laws and the well-known expression - “The road to Hell is paved with good intentions.”
These are all the costs of accelerated technical development to the detriment of the development of the Soul.

10. Time as a fundamental quantity in the Universe

In my opinion, time is the most difficult process to understand in the structure of the Universe. There are many research centers involved in the study of time phenomena. The most advanced of them is the long-term Seminar and the Institute for the Study of the Properties of Time, created under it, named after its founder A.P. Levich, which operates at Moscow State University [49].
People have always been interested in the question of whether it is possible to look into the past or future, look into the Akashic Chronicles or the timeline, influence the future, and, most importantly, move into the past and future. A huge number of books and films have been published on this topic.

S.N. approached issues of time very interestingly in his books. Lazarev, although the problems of time were not the main topic of his research. Here are some points from his books:
“Love gives birth to time. Time in the depths of the sun is divided into cause and effect, the release of energy begins, new space and matter appear.” [27]
“Time is a fundamental quantity in the Universe.”
God controls everything, and “if we have ceased to feel His will in everything, then we ourselves begin to control time. By and large, you can manage time, but only on a superficial level!”
“By regretting what happened to us, we want to change the course of things in the Universe.” “But rejection of the past is an aggression against time and it never ends well.”
“The state of haste is also an aggression towards time.” [50]
To a first approximation, time can be compared to the film of a film. Just as a film is recorded on film (the alternation of part of events in time), so everything else in the Universe is also recorded and recorded on disk. Which is energetically filled. And there is also a disc with the future. This is similar to the teachings of the ancients, that everything is written down on the tablets of destinies and nothing disappears. A kind of manifestation of the law of conservation of energy in the subtle world.
Let us now consider the concept of time from the point of view of MS knowledge.
According to MS, time performs several functions. Unlike us, where in SRT we attach time to Space, for them it is not a characteristic of space and a linear indicator. For the most part, time for them, as for mere mortals, “is a way of counting the intervals of eternity. A way to measure changes in Space. A way of counting existence - people, Earth, etc.
Therefore, for them, time is not directly a part of the Universe, but, as it were, permeates it [51]. Below I present a series of quotes on their interpretation of the concept of time.
According to MS
“The Time Tape consists, simply put, of Lines of Probability. All these are images, because in the world where the Time Tape exists, matter does not exist, that is, these are all forms of images, as perceived by my consciousness and the consciousness of the one who will observe. And when you go beyond the boundaries of the material world and find yourself at the level of the border between the transition from the astral world to the world of disembodied Spirits, there is an area that is called the area of the Time Tape (Fig. 5).
This is the information field of the Universe, on the basis of which energies are collected, and these energies are then collected by atoms.

This is a luminous Ribbon, its beginning and end are not visible, and if you approach it, then many green dots seem to leave it, turning into waves of energy, and from these waves of energy the material world, atoms, begin to be built. These points are the transformation of information into energy.
Spiritual energy turns into the energy of the material world, in fact, it is embodied or materialized, creating our material world. This is not just a field of information like the Akashic Chronicles, but the energy structure itself.
This is such a constantly evolving energy structure, including that of the material world itself; any human choice can affect it.
The Time Ribbon is not just located in the Spiritual world, it passes through the material world too, that is, when incarnated, it passes through it. The very flow of energy along this Time Tape, the flow of time energy, so to speak, in itself causes the appearance of time in the material world. As for the past and future, when you are in the Spiritual world and look at it from the outside, then for you all the processes that occur there can occur simultaneously. That is, you just look at a certain point, for example, it will be displayed for you as such and such a year, if this is your own Time Line, the line that is responsible for your life.
Unlike the Akashic Chronicles, the Time Tape is not just a data bank in which everything is recorded, just information, but it is also directly the energy that then, condensed from spiritual energy, generally forms our world.
Events can also be formed through egregors. The ideas of egregors can also be embodied, even the ideas of one person who directs a lot of energy and vitality to their materialization can already become reality, that is, the events themselves can be arranged in such a way that they will come true.
The Time Tape, accordingly, is embodied sequentially from the past to the future, and those who are embodied change the Line of Probability, that is, the Time Tape itself, with each choice.
This energy, the materiality of past events, went into the form of information, into energy form and thus is now recorded in the Time Tape. And future events, on the contrary, are something that is present there in an energetic, purely spiritual form, but then it materializes, coming into dense form and becoming part of our material world.”
“The timeline is endless in both directions. That is, while the material world exists, in the Spiritual world, one might say, it goes around it.”
“The timeline is eternal. At the moment when everything that exists is dissolved into Pralaya, when everything is complete, the whole world dissolves and passes only into a spiritual form, records of the past remain on the timeline, and those who remain in the Spiritual world can get acquainted with them."

"With the Time Tape, there are a lot of probabilities, but I would not say that their number is infinite. If we are talking about options for the future, their number depends on the distance of the point of the future, on the point of branch from the present - the number of options for the future depends on this. It can be very large, but still not infinite."
"Information on the time tape is recorded in energy vibration pulses. This happens in images, in impulses of information that carry different frequencies and form different forms."
"The Timeline is beyond all planets. It is outside the Universe, outside the astral world and at the same time outside the world of disembodied Spirits - this is some kind of layer. And there, when the Spirit incarnates on any planet, the line of probability simply appears, becomes activated, and opportunities for changes in this Spirit appear. Whatever planet he incarnates on, it, in any case, begins to become active.
The period that can be more or less reliably or adequately viewed on the Probability Tape of a person's future does not exceed on average 6 months. Then the probabilities start to branch out greatly."
Is it possible to change fate? There are many probabilities on the timeline.
"You can change your destiny by changing your attitude towards current events. To put it simply: sow an action, you will reap a character, sow a character, you will reap a destiny. That is, fate depends on character." Lazarev also had an insert in the middle - if you sow an action, you will reap a habit, and only then if you sow a habit, you will reap a character. Actually, it seems to me that this is our earthly folk wisdom that they borrowed from us. After all, they should also get some kind of gain from us [52].
11. Types of energies and structure of the atom according to the MS version
Here, for the most part, as in the previous chapter, I will quote the material and only sometimes try to translate it into language and terms that are more understandable to us, although all the same, much is not entirely clear to me. So:
"In the scientific institutes of planet Earth in recent decades, quantum physics has been actively studied, stimulating the development of scientific theories about the structure of matter and active knowledge of the world of energy vibrations (or wave disturbances of space), from which all physical reality is built. Each quantum of physical energy is created from finer matter, which in some teachings on Earth is usually called ether" [38, 53].
It should be noted that their concept of quantum differs from ours. Our quantum is electromagnetic and can have different energies depending on its frequency. For them, this is a fixed amount of energy, similar to a unit of ether energy.

Let's continue:
“The entire subtle-material world and the entire dense-material world in all its diversity are built from ether. All that you observe around you are etheric waves in the form of an atom, in the dense form of atoms.
Your physicists will not develop a unified field theory until they unanimously recognize the existence of the Spiritual world and its priority over the existence of the material world.”
“The point of origin of the ether is the Spiritual world.
The etheric flow is not just mechanical energy that has passed from potential to kinetic, this flow is directed by a Mind of a higher order than a person with a materialistic consciousness can cognize.
The etheric flow strives to create all the energies of the material world, which, in turn, form the atoms of individual substances and create energies of 3 levels in them.
Stars are emitters of one type of energy. In general, this energy exists everywhere in space, it exists in that place that you would even call subspace. That is, it is some extra-spatial structure in which energies are formed.
Why extra-dimensional? Because it is already like the astral world. Now you are not only in the physical world, but you are simultaneously in all the subtle worlds: both in the astral world and in the Spiritual world.” [38].
Now more specifically:
“The science of the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light knows 6048 types of material energies, 9 of which are considered physical energies. The remaining material energies are distributed among the levels of plasmoid worlds.”
Further:
“In physical space, all substances consist of nine physical types of energies, rotating according to certain rhythms and trajectories. They are collected into 94 natural elements, which differ in the distribution and amount of energy in each of them.”
It should be noted that they only have 94 elements, not 118 like ours, since they only take into account natural elements, and not the hypothetically discovered few atoms that live in millionths of a second.
Further:
“Material energy has three levels, highest, middle and lowest (I save the spelling). The lower one, in turn, consists of five energies - electricity, magnetism, light, heat and radio waves."
This is where there is some discrepancy with our science. For us, this is one type of energy, electromagnetic vibrations, differing only in frequency. But they are all different and electricity is separated from magnetism. This may also be due to the fact that, unlike us, they use direct rather than alternating current everywhere.

They have common sense, because if you look, all these 5 types of energies are generated differently, and their nature may differ. After all, we still do not fully know the physical nature of electromagnetic oscillations and put them all in one pile. Radio waves are generated by an oscillatory circuit, heat by atomic vibrations, and light by quantum transitions in atoms.
By the way, one of the alternative experimental physicists E.M. Avsharov, who develops unique devices and uses a Tesla coil in some of them, also noted that there are some other incomprehensible physical differences in them, in addition to the frequency of electromagnetic oscillations [54].
Further about the structure of the atom itself:
“The peculiarities of the laws of compaction of energies in atoms create 3 energy levels in them, nested within each other in the form of vector-directed spirals of rotation. Different types of atoms contain different numbers of quanta. Energies are collected in the atom, following the law of the priority of energies of the internal structures of the atom over external ones.
The third energy level of an atom contains 55% of its energies, the second 33%, and the first 12%. At all energy levels of the atom, the energies are heterogeneous: the third and second levels contain two types of energies, and the first external level contains five types of energies in various combinations with each other.”
As far as I understand, the first level is, in our opinion, valence electrons, the second is distant orbitals, and the third is near orbitals.
“This gives rise to a wide variety of properties of elements, as well as their ability to interact with each other, giving rise to a whole variety of natural and artificially created substances. All natural elements are divided into 5 types - in accordance with the five types of energies at the first atomic level, one of which predominates in percentage terms over the rest in the atoms of each type.
In earthly language, these types of elements have the following names:
Active metals
Medium metals
Semimetals
Nonmetals
Noble gases
The properties of these types of elements differ from each other, which is due to the predominance of different types of energies at the first, external energy level of the atom:

In active metals, magnetism predominates.
In medium metals, electricity predominates.
In semimetals, radio waves predominate.
Non-metals are dominated by heat.
In noble gases, light predominates."
The following is a description of the structure of the hydrogen atom and all other elements from it:
"In an atom of the same element, when it is created from the ethereal energies of the elements of the Universe, the same number of quanta is invested. The ratios of other energies in the atoms of different elements also differ, which determines the difference in their physical and chemical properties and the identity of the properties of atoms of one element."
I can only briefly add that the total number of quanta in their understanding of the hydrogen atom is 1600, and for the remaining elements one must multiply this number by the relative atomic mass of the element, which looks logical, like ours.
This is something like this, but I haven't looked through and analyzed all the information. Not everything is entirely clear.
Either their imaginative thinking is too developed, or they are humorous, taking the opportunity to make fun of the not very erudite physicist who asked questions from the earthlings. Obtaining the necessary information depends mainly on asking the right questions and clarifying their answers. And here, on our part, "scientific crocodiles" must take part, which cannot be fooled on chaff. In my opinion, for better mutual understanding, I would recommend that the presenter invite the following scientists who are familiar with both traditional and alternative science and have their own original world-class developments. This is L.E. Urutskoev, A.G. Parkhomov. A.I. Klimov, A.A. Prosvirnov, I.E. Bulyzhenkov, V.A. Kashcheev [55]. I would also add Andrea Rossi here for pepper [56]. And then a kind of "brainstorming" can bring unpredictable results.
12. Alien energy conversion technologies
I will touch upon this area very briefly, since more time is required for detailed study and analysis [57]. In addition, at this stage of our low spiritual development, the MC has no right to share technical details with us, only in general terms and florid presentation. It should also be noted that the meaning of many of our terms is somewhat different (quantum, etc.), and the translation from their language, with all due respect to the contactee Irina Podzorova, was not made by a specialist. Therefore, some inaccuracies arise in the understanding and interpretation of the information received.
According to lighting sources. We have ordinary lamps, in particular incandescent ones, and they have "Different solutions, but the basic principles are the same everywhere. Tubes (nanotubes) are built into the walls, which, when a person enters, begin to release radio waves 1.4 mm long. And they spiral out. The indoor air consists of gases. And the atoms of these gases react to these radio waves and they begin to release light energy. And this energy, being reflected, returns again to the atoms, and they are restored and can again produce light."

In my opinion, perhaps, firstly, the 1.4 mm wavelength is some kind of multiple of the visible spectrum, and therefore it resonates. Secondly, this wave may be compensated like an in-phase wave [8], and here a more complex interaction occurs when obtaining a phase shift due to the reflection of radio waves or light. As is known, it is possible to achieve resonance in the high-frequency region using low frequencies if they are multiples of an integer.

"Nanotubules are a transmitter of radio waves, and the energy is already in the walls themselves, like magnetic fields. And these fields are sent to the floor, ceiling and walls from the generator of that room. The box is white, and inside it there is some kind of liquid, more like a gel, and there are some disks in there. The generator has a lot of energy, and it can convert it."

"It can also take energy from space - light, heat, etc. And in spaceships there is a more complex converter, which also takes energy from stars located at great distances. There is also a setting for receiving energy through the skin of the ship, and energy also goes to the engine."

Let me immodestly suggest that the mechanism of energy intake from stars coincides with my vision of the absorption and emission of neutrinos and antineutrinos by matter during artificially generated jumps in the energy density of the Physical Vacuum [30, 32].

The following is a description of the design of nanotubes, the material from which they are made and the principles of their operation. I'm omitting this part so as not to overload the review.

"Field generators are special magnetic (electrodes) rods. These are all first level fields (first level energies, electricity, magnetism, etc., see chapter 11). And there are also fields of the second level - these are gamma quanta, as well as fields of the third level - gravitational fields, which are used in gravitational engines and to create antigravity.

The rods themselves come in different types. They contain zirconium, more hydrogen, then more calcium and carbon. Zirconium 28%, hydrogen 14%, Calcium 7%. This is already enough to receive fields. You can take 12% of hydrogen, and divide the rest in half. Most likely obtained by hydrogenation (at the molecular level)."

Next came questions and answers on electricity and batteries.

"Like electricity, no, we have magnetic field engines. They can control gravitational fields, decreasing or increasing them.

Electrical energy can be obtained from radioactivity, even from the energy of the sun, that part of it that is associated with radioactivity."

I believe that these are also in-phase waves, but with higher frequency and therefore energy. Ordinary gamma radiation is absorbed along the way by the Earth's atmosphere, without reaching energy converters.
"As for batteries, they are direct current, with an anode and a cathode. Electrical energy itself can be obtained from a magnesium alloy containing molybdenum. That is, an alloy of molybdenum, magnesium and tellurium. Plates are made from this alloy, and they convert radiation into electricity. This electricity can be stored in rechargeable gel batteries, which consist of intertwined strands of silicon (silicon wool) suspended in a solution of copper chloride. You can also use cotton wool from tetravalent carbon, but silicon stores energy longer. Often the cotton wool is woven into a honeycomb pattern."
Next question: We have plus and minus, electrostatics, electrons and current flow, and what about you?
"We just have energy in a frame, we don't divide it into electrons, just a certain amount of energy of the first type moves either in space or by transferring its quanta from one atom to another. This is usually achieved by releasing energy in the atoms themselves. (The physics is different here).
"We knock this energy out of the atoms, and it begins to flow in one direction or the other at a certain frequency. And these quanta can even leave the conductor and move between other atoms themselves. And electric fields can even move in Vacuum themselves. They are freed from atoms."
Thus, in their understanding, electricity moves along a conductor not as electrons, but in the form of quanta, albeit with a long wavelength, like light in space. Which is closer to understanding the physical meaning than ours.
Further:
"Just as gravity propagates in space, any energy can propagate in the same way. Energy itself does not need intermediaries in the form of atoms through which it moves. But we need a vector so that the energy is released from the atoms, and a screening field so that the energy does not return back to the atom."
Next came more important questions, since shielding the energy field can lead to anti-gravity effects.
Question. How can you shield energies? The principle itself. With the help of chemical elements? We simply don't have such a concept on Earth.
"There is a concept of field. It has density, and we call it saturation. That is, a certain number of quanta, the energy that creates the field, in every cubic millimeter of space. And when the saturation reaches a certain level, a screen is created.

For example, this can be done from a combination of thermal and magnetic energy. But before you screen something, you need to learn how to isolate it in isolation. You need to create a converter. The simplest converter releases five energies of the first level - heat, light, electricity, radio waves, magnetism. How energy begins to be released from atoms of a substance in the form of powders under the influence of fields.
To create a converter, you need microcircuits.
Converter - for example, heat and light enter a certain barrel. A substance is sprayed into a barrel in a vacuum that reacts with it and transforms light. It is easier to extract energy from tetravalent atoms, such as carbon. Light enters the barrel window in pulses, and carbon atoms absorb them. Electricity is being collected. Silicon wool is produced by heating the silicon under pressure and pulling it up like a pipe. Some other chemical reaction occurs there and a form is obtained when one atom clings to another" (most likely, like carbon fiber).
Question: What other types of batteries are there, for example, are they carbon-based?
"There are also powder batteries, a plate and powder from it like soot. An old low-capacity option for devices, and can be charged from an electric field."
I omit the composition and structure of the plates so as not to completely confuse everyone. Anyone interested can read the source for themselves.
As I understand it, they also have a similarity to our solar panels, which convert light energy from their Sun (each planet has its own Sun) into electrical energy. Only the composition of their plates is selected so as to absorb the entire spectrum coming from the star, and therefore the transformation is complete (5-10 times more than ours). Here I can only make the assumption that most of the spectrum of the Sun is a type of in-phase waves shifted by 180 degrees [8]. If we finally accept this hypothesis and start doing something in this direction, then creating such converters will not be a difficult technical task.
They also indicated the difference between their converters and ours. We must have two contacts, plus and minus, and the circuit must be closed. That is, chemical reactions are used, and our batteries would more accurately be called chemical generators. Their energy flows only in one direction along the gradient. That is, quanta accumulate, and then the flow of quanta moves like a current. "Quantum is like two golden-colored tornadoes."
Next comes a very important, although incomprehensible, section on how they are shielded from gravity. They use this principle during interstellar travel (see Chapter 13).

To shield from gravity, magnetic energy is released, which blocks the planet's gravity.
“The field from this source is directed downward, and it should rotate. Due to the rotation of the magnetic field, the gravity that attracts the ship is shielded.”
Question: How does the magnetic field emit, what kind of coils, rods, etc., what kind of converters are that emit it? And how many are there?
Answer: “Some substance is white and soft, made of hydrogen, oxygen, calcium and heavy iridium. And all this together is dissolved in water and is in a gel state. And a magnetic field passes through it. And the magnetic field itself is created by a motor or converter.”
Question: How does the converter itself work?
Answer: “A white box into which light enters and is converted by the same rods into a magnetic field (not electric). And the magnetic field rotates, there is liquid there, and suppresses macrogravity due to the fact that gravity collides with the magnetic field of the machine and goes away.
Question: Does this helium liquid somehow spin mechanically?
Answer: “It unwinds under the influence of the same field. It rotates quite slowly (like clockwise along her hand). It spins in a flat disk, like a plate. The Plate itself is made of silicon, oxygen, carbon, i.e. oxides that do not allow electricity to pass through. Feels like porcelain."
Thus, in my opinion, it looks like a Schauberg plate, where the liquid was also swirled in a disk.
Here is the shielding of electricity. And again, most likely, the magnetic field is compensated by the type of bifilar Cooper coils. And slow rotation is created to generate an end force like Kozyrev’s. More precisely, it is itself obtained under the influence of a compensated magnetic field.
This is only a small part of the information, but I think it is quite enough for the first time.
13. Methods of interstellar travel.
It should be noted that, depending on the distance, different principles and engines are used for movement both within planets and for visiting other Galaxies (hundreds and thousands of light years). However, they have no limitation on the speed of light.
A distinction is made between intraplanetary travel, interplanetary travel, and long-distance interstellar flights [58].
For travel within the planet (for example, moving around our planet from one base to another, and there are more than a hundred of them on different continents), the so-called intra-atmospheric engine is used.
“The operating principle of the intra-atmospheric engine is based on interaction with the gravitational fields of the planets. A special anti-gravity electromagnetic field is created, which “screens” part of the ship from the planet’s gravity or changes the direction and strength of the gravitational field, thanks to which the ship can move in any direction, sharply changing direction and speed.

In this case, a protective plasma field is usually created around the ship, within which a constant level of gravity is maintained. Thanks to this, those who fly in a UFO do not experience overloads, and they do not deviate in different directions due to sharp turns. The protective plasma field appears as a ball of white to red color, depending on the amount of energy directed by the pilot to create it."
Rice. 7. Planetary engine design [58]
“The planetary engine picks up the magnetic fields of the surrounding planets and sends data about them to the computer. After the pilot selects a destination planet, the planetary drive creates a magnetic field around the ship, attracting it to the desired planet. The stronger this field, the faster the ship will fly. Its maximum speed is 1/8 of light speed.
If you just need to fly away from the planet into space, then you need to press the “move away from the planet” button on the remote control, after which the planetary engine will create a magnetic field around the ship, pushing it away from it. The stronger this field is, the faster the repulsion will be.
During operation of the intra-atmospheric and planetary engines, weightlessness can be created in the ship.
The ship's on-board computers recorded information about the characteristics of the magnetic fields of each planet where it was. The pilot takes off from the planet using intra-atmospheric engines, and at an altitude of about 150 km turns on the planetary engines.
On the remote control he can select the “move away from the planet” button, after which the ship will move away along the trajectory specified by the atmospheric engine. The pilot can use special buttons to change the direction and speed of flight.
You can also immediately select a planet from a list on the computer, and a special computer program is adjusted to its magnetic field, which is detected by special magnetic-field-sensitive plates built into the outer walls of the ship.
Magnetic fields extend over many billions of kilometers from the planets, and the on-board computer distinguishes between them and selects the one needed to direct the flight there. So the computer already knows which planet is located at which point in space.
In the power plant and in the planetary engines there are plates made of a special alloy “fakepa”, which convert cosmic radiation into electricity and visible light.
Cosmic radiation enters from the "antenna" on the roof of the "dish" into a converter in which these plates rotate rapidly to achieve a larger area of contact with cosmic radiation, due to which electricity and light are released.

Composition of the alloy "FAKEP":
Magnesium - 40%
Titanium - 25%
Tellurium - 20%
Palladium - 15%
For long-distance flights, gravity engines are used [59].
Very short excerpts from the description of the design of this type of engine for long-distance flights, naturally, at superluminal speeds. See the link above for more details.
“The gravitational engines of their ships operate on the principle of accelerating gravitons in a plasma field. Gravitons are best obtained from tetravalent elements such as carbon and silicon.
The plasma field does not allow gravitons knocked out of matter to leave the engine; they begin to rotate along its internal contour, quickly picking up speed above the speed of light.
Six kilograms of carbon in the form of finely ground graphite must be placed in the graviton chamber (this amount is enough to travel 30 light years if the mass of the ship with all its contents is no more than 700 kg).
When the speed of gravitons reaches four times the speed of light, the accumulated energy will instantly transfer the ship to a pre-selected point in space, after which the gravitons will return to matter, but it will be unsuitable for repeated movement.
Composition of the “BADAR” alloy, which makes up the plasma generator and graviton chamber:
Titanium - 50%
Molybdenum - 26%
Tungsten - 14%
Carbon - 7%
Sulfur - 3%"
Here's a short summary. As a metallurgist by profession, I can say that the alloy compositions they give are most likely composites. Because if you fuse such a composition, the result will be God knows what.
14. Features of embodiment (reincarnation) in different worlds and memory blockade Here I will mostly use data from the MS, scattered throughout many dialogues and texts. Mainly through dialogues with non-incarnate Spirits, who, having reached their 6th level, have access to information. The blockade of memory that exists during incarnation, both about their previous incarnations and to the information of the “Spirit of the World” (I retain their terminology), is removed from them. After staying for some time at the 6th level of density and realizing the previous reincarnation, mentors, usually of a higher level, are assigned to a certain Spirit from the Spiritual World, a task is set that the Spirit must complete in an incarnated body, and a place is sought (country, city, family) and time for implementation. And this is not easy. Because different planets, countries, cities and families have different levels and other qualities of vibration. The same applies to the fine-material world of plasmoids. Since there are hundreds of times more plasmoids than bodies in our physical world, then, naturally, Spirits most often incarnate there. However, due to the difference in life time (plasmoids live tens of thousands and millions of years, and humanoids, as a rule, only from 500 to 15,000 years), this difference evens out. The Earth is an exception in the time of human life, so its vibrations are now being increased.

In some cases, when a high-level Spirit must incarnate to solve particularly important problems and its vibrations are poorly suited for incarnation in a given environment (family, planet), special conditions are created in advance. This was the case during the incarnation of Jesus Christ and other high Spirits on Earth [46].

During incarnations, memory is blocked in order to create more difficult conditions for existence and thereby the opportunity to accumulate more energy. Although the spiritual experience accumulated in previous reincarnations remains, which allows one to more correctly intuitively go through (or not go through) difficult life situations.

After incarnation in the physical or subtle world, depending on your activity, your vibration level can be either increased or decreased. Moreover, very often there is a kind of swing, either an increase in the level, or a decrease in it, if you have not completed the task. If we consider incarnations on Earth, their uniqueness lies in the fact that due to the diversity of life and confusion, Spirits here most often fall down (Zhirinovsky, for example, fell from level 18 to 13), but at the same time gain unique experience. Some, like Vadim Chernobrov, a well-known researcher of anomalous phenomena and head of the Cosmopoisk organization, managed to rise from level 9 to level 15.

That's all, briefly. But, in my opinion, a very important question arises here, the answer to which I did not find in the MS, but perhaps it will be discussed in subsequent dialogues.

Let's say that a certain high Spirit landed on a planet with a low level of vibrations. His memory is blocked, so, despite his innate desire for kindness, love and light, under the influence of his parents and society, he will adapt to a morally primitive life. And naturally, it will lower its vibrations and its spiritual level. This is the scientifically known “Mowgli” effect, when a stolen human infant was raised by wolves or monkeys and became disabled. Or the opposite example, when a low Spirit ends up on a highly developed planet of the MS, such as Burkhad, and they begin to instill in him the correct worldview from infancy, and then regularly control him throughout life. In such conditions, even the laziest Spirit will raise its vibrations.

Another incomprehensible aspect in the structure of the MC Universe is the experience of previous reincarnations that is poorly taken into account in assigning a spiritual level number. For example, with, say, the same 12th level of the disembodied Spirit, one soul went through a conditional “swing,” i.e., it incarnated many times in different physical and plasmoid worlds, occupying different social positions there. She lived on different, largely antagonistic planets, for example, on Burkhad and Selbet, rose many times above her last 12th level and fell below it. And another Soul of the same level went through significantly fewer reincarnations, but calmly, consistently, step by step, without incidents, rose to the same 12th level. Let's call this the revolutionary and evolutionary path of soul development. Naturally, with the same energy of love, the experience of the first and its potential capabilities will be much higher. Therefore, if she has to incarnate in some difficult era with the task of accomplishing something significant there, then the first soul will have a much greater chance of completing the task. And this is hardly taken into account by the mentors assigned to the Soul, accompanying it through life, before the incarnation of the Spirit.
But an even greater danger will arise if souls of the 2nd evolutionary type reach the high 19-21 level of guardian angels, and their work as mentors will be in deciding which lower Spirit should go where to incarnate and what task to perform. Here, Spirits of the 2nd type may have inaccuracies and mistakes, for which millions of people then have to pay. For example, during a critical period, we were given Tsar Nicholas II in Russia, who came only from the 3rd spiritual level with the task of preventing revolution. And he, naturally, failed to cope with this task, which subsequently affected the entire history of Russia and the world and delayed the Earth in time from joining the MS. And the levels of most rulers on Earth are below the average earthly level [60]. Please excuse me for these thoughts, but only the Creator is sinless, and his managers, including those from the MS, sometimes make mistakes, using the free will given to us by God. Therefore, even at this level there are inconsistencies and overlaps.

15. Reasoning about MS

I have not yet had time to read a lot of information from contactees, and to comprehend what I have read. I did not cover many aspects in the article. I hope this is a thing for the future. But to make the article more informative, below in the form of brief expressions I provide individual quotes from the Cassiopeia website. They will give a more complete picture of the laws of the Universe, which we are ordered to follow if we want to live cheerfully and happily. Since “only a moral regime provides energy” [27].

“The shape of the Universe is like a sphere closed on itself. If you fly from one Galaxy to another, you will return in a circle. That is, the end of the Galaxy cannot be reached.
There are Galaxies at a distance of hundreds of billions of light years. There are 10 to 240 degrees of light years away. This is the total size of the Universe, including intergalactic space" [61].
“We can incarnate in any worlds, both subtle and dense material bodies, whose nervous system is suitable for our conscious manifestation.
The Universe is infinite, just as God is infinite, who created it and continues to support it with His Energy of Love, which can be perceived by intelligent spirits in the form of a special Spiritual Light, giving us Love and Wisdom and Strength for its rational, and therefore Divine, manifestation. It is through this Light that we communicate with God, in all religions and confessions, as well as outside them.
The Spirit of Light, or as it is more familiar to the Russian language, the Holy Spirit always lives in all of us, but is shown only when a person’s vibrations rise sufficiently.”
It should be noted that God and every person are free to raise or lower their vibrations. “God respects the freedom of choice of each of His children, which He Himself laid in us, as proof of His selfless and boundless love for all of us.”
“Events of the Spiritual world are reflected on the material level. The connection is schematically represented by a Tesla coil” (for information. Tesla incarnated into our physical world from high-level plasmoids, but here, like most of the high spirits who came to us on Earth, he lowered his vibrations [39, 40]).
“How parallel realities exist, physical or in the astral plane. That is, an event that could have happened, but did not happen. Real events physically exist. And in the astral plane events can be formed that were not fulfilled in physical reality, were not embodied. They exist there only in mental images, not in our real three-dimensional material space. The astral plane is an egregor created by the thoughts of individual people. And the events there may be different (the war did not happen). But in physical reality this has already happened and the city was destroyed. A written book creates its own egregor, and readers fill it with their vitality. The more people read it with feeling, the more powerful this egregor is.”
“On the astral level there are parallel realities created by us. But there is only one material, manifested reality.”
Question: Can these astral realities somehow influence material reality?
Answer: “Like any egregors through your faith. Any well-written book, published in large numbers, influences those who read it. But depending on people's subjective perception, it can have both a positive and negative impact."

"That is, the influence of parallel realities occurs according to the general law that the spirit influences the body. And on the matter, the spirit of those around. The powerful influence of a leader on the spirit of his contemporaries."
Question: Who decides where to incarnate a disembodied spirit and what world it should go to?
Answer: "This is decided by the spirit itself together with its consulting angels (the consulting angels themselves are on the 22nd spiritual level). These angels have their own consultants on a higher level, and they have guided him in more than one incarnation."
Question: What does knowledge give a person, from what spiritual level he incarnated on Earth?
Answer: "Knowing what you were like before your previous incarnation and understanding what character traits you need to work with in order to go beyond this level and rise."
"You can either go up or fall down. There were cases when Spirit dropped from 18th to 6th. Moreover, he didn't kill anyone or do anything bad. I just had negative feelings about myself, because I couldn't cope with the living conditions. And thereby lowered my vibrations."
Question: Why should I strive somewhere when I have freedom of choice?
Answer: "It shouldn't. There is freedom of choice. But it assumes that you must strive for the Light, develop love in yourself, and be one with God. Why might he want this? Because subconsciously the spirit of any person remembers its merger with the Light when it was just born from God. In the spiritual world, we were all born of God. All. Even demons. Aliens, plasmoids. We are all born of God.
What is God? God is a being filled with love, happiness, and selfless desire. And we are all born from this spiritual light. Therefore, in the spiritual heart of every Spirit, no matter how low its vibrations, there is a desire to be loved and happy. We never lose our likeness to God. But if we voluntarily abandon the path of light, God leaves us to live in our choice, he does not give us his help, a feeling of happiness and love, since we ourselves have abandoned it.
And we begin to feel a shortage of these energies - from the world, from God, from relatives. We begin to see the negative and react to it. And thereby destroy yourself and destroy the world around you. Contribute to the degradation of surrounding people.
This is also a choice, and from God's point of view, you have the same right to it as the right to development. But every choice has consequences. And before choosing darkness or Light, you should consider the consequences of one or another choice.

But you can also develop in degradation. It's like growth in the opposite direction, increasing its degradation. The mass of negative energies is increasing."
"It should also be taken into account that in this world, in comparison with the time of the birth of the soul and previous reincarnations and life in the intervals in the spiritual world, we remain only for a moment, like the time of a burning match."
Question: Is it possible to incarnate in the future?
Answer: "Yes, the timeline exists simultaneously. And at the same time there is a past, present and future (as in Lazarev at the subtle levels of the Universe). But this happens rarely (incarnation in the past or future). Usually incarnation occurs in the present, that is, in real time."
Question: Causes of ailments?
Answer: "They often come from quantum leaps in the Universe. From a quantum transition to which you need to adapt. The onset of a new phase.
The abrupt phases of a quantum transition occur within a few hours. This quantum transition that everyone is talking about will not end, but new phases will occur. A cycle, then a lull for two or three years, then a cycle again."
Question: Is there a multiverse, a huge number of worlds and spaces?
Answer: "This is the perception of what I said from the very beginning. There can be many worlds in one space. Only in other wave spectra in the same space of yours. Like, for example, radio waves with different information around you, which you don't feel because you don't have receptors."
Question: Are there still gradations in vibrations in these 56 worlds around us?
Answer: "They also have vibrational sublevels."
In almost all dialogues, the MC's wish for the inhabitants of the Earth to develop and spiritual improvement, as the basis of any civilization, slips through:
Earthlings are now on the path of raising their spiritual vibrations.
Archangel Raphael: "I want to wish all people - the main thing is to develop a feeling of Love, since this is the main feeling in life. Stay in the love of the Creator, our heavenly Father, and never leave it.
In one incarnation on Earth, you can rise to any number of spiritual levels with a corresponding conscious increase in your vibrations, growth and development in love, faith, patience, humility, chastity, mercy and helping others.
I would like to wish earthlings to realize that life in a dense material body on Earth is given in order to make a choice towards light or towards its absence - what you call darkness.

Incarnation on planets like Earth is a very serious chance for serious advancement through the levels of the Spiritual World. I want to wish each of you that this chance is used to the maximum possible" [38].
As you can see, they (MC) have a very kind attitude towards us and they, as our curators, are interested in our improvement and development. At the same time, from my point of view, some questions arise for them, as well as recommendations from our side.
Having studied, however superficially for now, the information from MS, thanks to them for this opportunity, I would like to clarify some points. According to their information, 12,000 years ago, they cleared our planet of radiation in three years. This means they have the technology to convert radioactive nuclei into stable isotopes. That is, they can affect the half-life of elements. The experience of Chernobyl, the radioactive zone of which self-cleanses itself of contamination tens of times faster than our scientists predicted, confirms the fact of the intervention of the MS. This is a key issue for the Earth, otherwise we will all be overgrown with radioactive dirt, especially in light of the events in Ukraine. Could they, without revealing details, show us general approaches to influencing the nuclei of atoms that are not dead-end, like ours? By the way, in the new direction of LENR, which appeared not so long ago in alternative physics, such effects spontaneously occur [2, 3].
Another unresolved problem in the MS that we all inherited from the distant past, which also concerns earthlings, is the relationship within it with the lizard-like humanoids from Selbet. Although they are under control, there is still a danger for everyone. At the same time, if the most active of the Selbetites remove, at least partially, the blocking of memory (the MS has such capabilities), or influence their memory through the astral plane and show that in previous incarnations they were, for example, Burkhadians, earthlings, etc. ., and suffered from the Selbetites, then it is quite possible that this knowledge will reduce their aggressiveness.
The lack of feelings of love, which causes increased aggressiveness, can also be reduced with closer contact with the born offspring. Since they are egg-laying, their contact is weak physiologically (probably they use an incubator). If you transfer them to the natural gestation mode in nature, and in the future do not send the young shoots to boarding schools, but raise them yourself, using your time and care, then this can also have a positive effect. By the way, this is also the sin of Burkhadians who give their children to be raised by biorobots. Thus, the connection with nature is lost, and hence there is a misunderstanding of the psychology of earthlings and the events taking place among us (see Chapter 9).

Additionally, you can advise the MC that their security service should include representatives of all planets (contactees), even those not included in the MC, since everyone's experience is different. They can even be included in committees with advisory voting rights. Earthlings, for example, have vast experience of conflicts and wars, and we can smell danger. How Sharikov in Bulgakov's "Heart of a Dog" smelled cats. This could be useful to the MC, since the main thing is not to eliminate the consequences of conflicts, but to prevent them.
So, the picture of the world turned out to be somewhat different. Although, as I already noted, it is reflected quite fully in religious and esoteric treatises and we had time to prepare. But everything has its time and quantity sooner or later turns into quality. You just need to restructure your consciousness a little. After all, in material life, little has changed for us - you go to work, earn a living, raise children, try to get joy from life, etc. We, especially in Russia, have not yet experienced this. We will survive this too.
At the same time, obtaining this new information, especially its verification, can have a shocking effect on the scientific and other public in various fields of knowledge. First of all, in descending order, historians (see Chapter 9), philosophers, astrophysicists, biologists, paleontologists, archaeologists, sociologists, other physicists, chemists, etc. If young people and students still have fun with this (they is the same as cramming), then for most scientists, especially teachers and staff of the Academy of Sciences, this will be stressful. You will have to completely change your worldview and all past titles and regalia will not matter. It's like a general start with the young and lively, without the handicap required for the elderly and weak. Therefore, the first normal and expected reaction of most traditional scientists will be aggression. This effect is described in psychology textbooks.
It should be noted that supporters of more progressive alternative science, including alternative physics (LENR, etc.) will also find themselves in a difficult position. Their postulates also differ from the truth. And it will no longer be relevant to criticize old provisions, which they sometimes do now.
I also found myself in a similar position. Much of what I have on my desk, not yet published (I was waiting for better times), has already been partially revealed in the information from MS. That is, there will be modernized plagiarism. It is also clear that you do not give birth to new ideas through your work, but they come to you from there. And now, in addition to your last name, you will have to put an invisible Co-author next to you.
16. MC's wishes to earthlings. Incarnation on Earth as an opportunity for a leap in spiritual development Alien civilizations, like any intelligent beings, are interested in the development of various forms of life, especially our earthly life created by them, in accordance with the structure of the Universe and the tasks set by the Creator. Despite the free will left by the Creator (usually, according to our esotericists and psychics, it is 15%), compliance with universal laws allows us to develop successfully and brings joy and good luck into our lives. There is no need to invent anything else. As you know, they don't interfere with someone else's monastery with their own rules.

They receive the correct worldview and structure of the Universe from the cradle and absorb it with their mother's milk. Therefore, they do not have a special religion, as such, among the Earthlings. It is enough to understand that there is a Creator, there is love and the energy of love that underlies the whole world, morality and ethics, the task of developing and raising your vibrations. And then the wind will blow into your sails. In general, everything that is briefly outlined in the Sermon on the Mount.

We have to relearn, getting bumps, because other truths were drilled into us from childhood, without giving us alternative knowledge, so that we have a choice. In my opinion, the sooner the whole world knows about MS, the better. It's even better if we receive their books and children's textbooks (children perceive all this more easily, since they are more open to the world), the faster we will change our vector of development from aggressive to creative and peace-loving.

As far as I could understand, analyzing different contacts, they (MS) and we have a slightly different approach to the world. Our approach is primarily based on two opposites: good or bad, plus or minus, etc. This is necessary to create a potential difference and release energy, the so-called concept of unity and struggle of opposites. And in order for there to be unity and opposites not to destroy each other, we need someone third, of a higher level, allowing them to coexist and fill the Universe with energy. That is why we have the principle of the Trinity in our religious teachings. This principle of the Trinity, adopted by them, allows society to reduce its aggressiveness and at the same time allow opposites to develop.

Many dialogues on the Cassiopeia website contain appeals to earthlings with wishes to follow the path of Light. Here I present only one of them - a clear and emotionally filled address from Zaliatara (representative of the planet Raom-Li of the Pleiades constellation, Vanga's curator) to earthlings:

"I have been familiar with your civilization for quite a long time, and, indeed, it has very great development potential. Your genotype is composed in such a way that you have completely opposite energies, you are in a world with an amazing diversity of nature, resources, conditions, time cycles, climate and everything else. You have a planet of a riot of colors, emotions and some impulsiveness of feelings. This is not enough on many other planets of the Interstellar Union. But on other planets of the Interstellar Union there are other qualities that develop in the Spirits embodied there.

So, I want to turn to each of you and say that Spirits do not randomly land on this planet. If you decide to incarnate here, and if your mentors and consultants approved the incarnation on Earth, then this indicates that your Spirit is ready for a sharp leap or breakthrough towards spiritual development. Whatever level you were initially at, in any case, your Spirit perceived this incarnation as a chance. I want to encourage you to see every day of your life on Earth, which may be the last day of your incarnation, as an opportunity to make this spiritual leap towards the Light, so that you see every object as a tool for developing yourself, developing love in yourself, so that you see every person you meet as your brother or sister, children of the One Father, who looks at you all and who loves even your enemies as much as you yourself. Only awareness of this can dissolve your aggressive, hostile emotions in the Light of love. I wish for all of you to realize unity with all types of Galactic life and with all your Spiritual Guides. See you soon, dear friends!”

Perhaps there is no better way to say it.

17. Instead of a conclusion

Being at the moment in the material world, and trying to cognize it without going beyond the material, we resemble the three blind men from the old famous ancient parable, who, feeling an elephant, argued among themselves what it was. “This is a pillar,” said one, touching his leg. No, it's a wall, said the other, touching the elephant's side. “No, it’s a rope,” said the third, tugging at the elephant’s tail.” And the lower their spiritual level, the more bitter and violent the dispute. But the truth lies on a different plane. But they cannot see the light, and modern people still do not want to. And this psychological aspect holds back our development.

For people, with the arrival of this new information, there is a real opportunity to perceive it and change their destiny. As you know, learn to take one step and you will go the whole way.

It is a pity that the wisdom of the ancients, religious ideas, numerous esoteric works and thousands of historical artifacts were still unable to turn the bulk of humanity away from the dead-end and unambiguous materialistic awareness of reality and with the consequences that stem from it - the animal instincts of pride (to achieve power and grab more for at the expense of others) and procreation. It is necessary, as in the time of Christ, to create a Miracle, so that the people believe and bow to the strong (animal instinct works again). And this miracle, in the form of increased contact with interstellar civilizations through already numerous conductors, finally happened. They are tired of waiting, afraid that due to the sharp acceleration of scientific and technological progress and the morality that lags behind it, we will do something indecent to each other and to our planet. And they are responsible for us - for the race they artificially bred, for the planet located in their Galaxy, and for our Souls, which could previously have been embodied on their planets, where perhaps their relatives are still alive in material bodies, since the average duration life on the MC planets is several thousand years.

In MS we are taught from childhood that man is Spirit. And then everything else. After all, embodiment in the material worlds is fleeting. The same thing is reflected in our religions and in thousands of books. Even in the popular song from the movie - “there is only a moment, between the past and the future, it is called life.” But for the most part, we perceive this truth superficially and do not let it inside, into our feelings, so that it becomes our guiding star. And if we, having qualitatively internally changed our worldview, became different, we would change our character, and, consequently, our destiny.

This is the hidden purpose of my article. Not so much how to give new, interesting and real information, including scientific information, but how to draw attention to another opportunity that has appeared for us to change our worldview. And our lives depend on it, as Sergei Nikolaevich Lazarev not only wrote about, but “torn his nerve” in his books, trying to convey to us this simple truth [20, 21]. After all, quantity sooner or later turns into quality. This is a law of nature that we were all taught in philosophy classes. And, in the end, as in Anderson's fairy tale, a boy will appear who will finally say that “The King has no clothes.” True, Anderson did not indicate how many predecessors this boy had, and what the king’s courtiers then did with them. I wouldn't want to be among them.

The coming of time, after which direct open contacts with alien intelligence will begin with the demonstration of artifacts and technical capabilities of the MS, depends only on us, or rather, on each of us. When we finally understand that all this exists and we are also part of the Universe, and not a system isolated in the material world with its passions, and we get used to this new reality. Our governments basically know the state of affairs, but are not interested in contacts, since they cannot withstand competition with more highly moral individuals of the MS and may lose power. At the same time, permission from our governments for contacts, although desirable, is not necessary, since the Interstellar Union relies mainly on the will of the people. Here there is no need to vote according to our usual procedure. And fraud will not work. They will simply analyze our vibrations remotely. That's all.

In the article I used only a small part, approximately 10% of the information viewed from MS from the Cassiopeia website, which I only managed to read and listen to superficially, and only partially analyze. I hope to continue studying if nothing gets in the way.
In principle, anyone can write such a review. There is enough information and knowledge for this. But here there is not even a scientific, but a purely psychological barrier, as I already noted in Chapter 4 and my article [8]. If we remove it, then the path to a scientific breakthrough into the 23rd century will be open.
Acknowledgement
In conclusion, I would like to thank all those who, swimming against the tide and experiencing great difficulties, are trying to convey new information to us. This is, first of all, Irina Podzorova and the organizers of the Cassiopeia website - Maxim Rusan and others. And through them, the MS, who finally realized that without their intervention we would push ourselves to the extreme. Also numerous esoteric scientists and philosophers, both ancient and living, especially S.N. Lazarev, whose efforts and works allowed many of us to begin to understand the foundations of our existence and life goals. And of course, many searching people, as well as enthusiastic scientists, domestic and foreign, starting a conversation with them on scientific topics, and looking for the roots of what is happening, involuntarily straying into philosophical aspects, you are surprised to discover that they think the same way, and our whole world is one whole. And there is no need to divide it into red and white. Most likely, the world is divided, and then conditionally, into the predominance of the demonic principle in people (and in our country there is also an abundance of them, regardless of their position; in the scientific interpretation these are “effective managers”), and the Divine principle. But it should be noted that low spirits have greater potential than we do for growth in our world, the opportunity to raise their vibrations and give energy to the Creator (remember the movie “The Island”). And they may be even more useful than us, if you think broadly.
Russia is the most long-suffering country in the world (Karl Marx, in order to implement his ideas about revolution, “was looking for a country that was not to be pitied”). Therefore, we will accept new shocking information more easily than others (we have nothing to lose) and convey it to the world. As was the case in the prophecies of Vanga and other seers.
The author of the article is an employee of one of the research institutes of the Russian Federation, Candidate of Technical Sciences, AIS.
Bibliography

1. www.course-as.ru
2. www.lenr.seplm.ru
3. V.A. Zhigalov. Russian mosaic LENR. Part 1. Experiments. Internet publication, 2008 (http://www.secondphysics.ru/reviews/LENR-ru.pdf).
4. Vernadsky V.K. Reflections of a naturalist. – M.: science, 1975, - Book 1; 1977.- Book. 2.
5. Treasurer V.P. Teachings of V.I. Vernadsky about the biosphere and noosphere. – Novosibirsk: Science, 1989.
6. Treasurer V.P. The doctrine of the biosphere. – M.: Knowledge, 1985.
7. Kozyrev N.A. Selected works. L., 1991. P.395-400
8. A.M. Savchenko. An alternative view of physics, Atomic Strategy, St. Petersburg, Issue 96, November, 2014, pp. 3-7, https://www.researchgate.net/publication/315110819_Alternativnyj_vzglad_na_fiziku_Brief_review_of_alter
ev=project
9. E. Blavatskaya. The Secret Doctrine, vol. 1, Cosmogenesis, “Lotats”, Minsk, 1997, C854.
10. Roerich N.K. Favorites. – M.: Pravda, 1990.
O??? 11. E. Roerich. Secret knowledge. Theory and practice of Agni Yoga, RIPOL Classic, Moscow, 2004, C800.
12. E. Blavatsky. The Secret Doctrine, vol. 2, Anthropogenesis, "Lotsy", Minsk, 1997, C1008.
13. D. Andreev. Rose of the World, “Urania”, Moscow, 1997.
14. M. Karpenko. Universum Sapiens (Reasonable Universe). – M.: 1992. – 400.
15. Tsiolkovsky K.E. The will of the Universe. Unknown intelligent forces. Kaluga, 1924.
16. Kozyrev N.A. Selected works. L., 1991. P.395-400
17. Uspensky P.D. Fourth dimension. St. Petersburg, 1914.
18. Irina Podzorova, https://www.youtube.com/@IrinaPodzorova
19. Irina Podzorova, https://proza.ru/avtor/podira
20. S.N. Lazarev, Diagnostics of karma. (Books 1-12). – St. Petersburg.
21.S.N. Lazarev, Man of the Future. (Books 1-3). – St. Petersburg.
22. https://cassiopeia.center https://blog.cassiopeia.center
23. https://dzen.ru/cassiopeia_center
24. https://t.me/infocassiopeia
25. https://rutube.ru/channel/23349637/
26. http://www.metodkabinet.eu/Cassiopeia/Cassiopeia_Publikazii_Texty/Cassiopeia_Publikazii_text.html https://t.me/Cassiopeia_publish https://blog.cassiopeia.center/
27. S.N. Lazarev, Diagnostics of karma. (Book Nine). Survival guide. – St. Petersburg, 2007. – 192 p. P.161-163, 5.

28. Savchenko A.M. “Search for new approaches to the structure of matter and the physics of vacuum”, Preprint 1-98/VNIINM, M. TsNIIatom inform, 1998.
29. Savchenko A.M., “Formation and physical essence of antimatter”, Preprint 2001-2/VNIINM, M., TsNIIatominform, 2001, https://www.researchgate.net/publication/350948279_Obrazovanie_i_fiziceskaa_susnost_antimaterii_Form
30. Savchenko A.M. On the issue of the symmetry of matter and antimatter, Atomic Strategy, St. Petersburg, Issue 117, August, 2016, pp. 3-9, https://www.researchgate.net/publication/315110509_K_voprosu_o_simmetrii_materii_i_antimaterii_Disput
31. A. Savchenko. Relationship between “strange radiation” and entropy flow from an energy source, Report, 26th Russian Conference on Cold Transmutation of Nuclei of Chemical Elements and Ball Lightning, Moscow, 09.28-02.10.2020, https://www.researchgate.net/publication/346313335_Svaz_strannogo_izlucenia_s_entropijnym_potokom_eskogo_istocnika
32. Savchenko A.M. The energetic nature of configuration entropy. Generation of entropy and anti-entropy flows. Ed. LAP LAMBERT Academic Publishing, Germany, Saarbrucken, 2015. - 51 p. https://www.researchgate.net/publication/337631547_Energeticeskaa_priroda_konfiguracionnoj_entropii_G
33. S.N. Lazarev. Diagnosis of Karma. 2nd episode, Survival experience part 2, 2014, 225, p. 200, 80.
34. Castaneda K. The Teachings of Don Juan. Separate reality. Gift of the Eagle and other books by this author. – SI, B.g.
35. Dante. The Divine Comedy,
36. [26] further: #180 Levels of subtle-material and dense-material worlds. The structure of the universe. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=j_S1f0GXIaU&list=PLnSO2NeofLnWcu2qMSr3sfnd83kljcT-0
37. [26] further: #248 Ether, Schumann Resonance, radioactivity. Types of radiation. Vibration characteristics of frequencies
38. [26] further: #141 Universe. Ether, classification of ethereal energies, nature of light, torsion fields.]:
39. [26] further: #376 Communication with the Spirit of Nikola Tesla, part 1.
40. [26] further: #377 Communication with the Spirit of Nikola Tesla, part 2.
41. https://blog.cassiopeia.center/plazmoidnye-miry
42. [26] further: #264 Is the Universe finite? The cyclical development of the Universe. The Big Bang Theory and the end of the world.
43. [26] further: #125. War in the solar system 12,000 years ago.
44. [26] further: #121. Bigfoot the whole truth.
45. [26] further: #256. Ancient civilizations: Atlantis, Lemuria, Hyperborea. Myth or reality.

46. [26] further: #283. Third conversation with Jesus Christ.
47. [26] further: #561. Why did Grear Murati come to Earth?
48. [26] further: #562. Grear Murati and his feat before humanity
49. [(http://www.chronos.msu.ru
50. S.N. Lazarev, Diagnostics of karma (Book Twelve), – St. Petersburg, 2011, pp.54-55
51. [26] further: #174 Gagarin and the Time Tape - Zaliathar's answers. https://blog.cassiopeia.center/gagarin-i-lenta-vremeni-otvety-zaliatara
52. https://youtu.be/ml0BuzPNApY
53. [26] further: #307. How does the real world work? Science and advanced alien technology. \\\\laws of physics in the Universe.
54. http://www.course-as.ru/AEM_GE/AEM_TorsGenLab.pdf
55. urleon@yandex.ru alexparh@mail.ru klimov.anatoly@gmail.com prosvirnov@gmail.com, ibw@lebedev.ru VAKatzeev@bochvar.ru
56. info@leonardocorp1996.com
57. [26] further: #503 Alien technologies for converting energy from renewable sources. Antigravity. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=w1SS5IYGk98
58. General principle of operation of intra-atmospheric and planetary engines. On-board power plant, https://blog.cassiopeia.center/ycPy4LY0_v3
59. Gravitational engines for fast interstellar travel https://blog.cassiopeia.center/jSdMi-wIfdi
60. [26] further: #248. Are the people in power random? Political egregors of the planet. Levels of spiritual development of politicians.
61. [26] further: #547.
62 [26] further: #535 MidgasCaus https://t.me/cassiopeia_publish/535
63 https://www.researchgate.net/profile/Alexey_aleksei_Savchenko

Information transmitted by our space friends through Irina Podzorova, a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations.

t.me/cassiopeia_publish

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/antropogenez-ot-inoplanetyan-ehvolyuciya-homo-sapi
April 29

#511 Anthropogenesis from aliens: the evolution of Homo sapiens. The first people. The origin of life on planets.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=alCnW0J_sHA

00:00 Start of broadcast.

00:18 Background.

Voice-over: In the summer of 1999, a thirteen-year-old girl Irina Podzorova from the village of Peski near Voronezh agreed to take a short trip on a triangular-shaped ship with aliens from the constellation Cassiopeia.

Since then, for more than twenty years, representatives of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy, which includes 116 of the 727 intelligent races present in it, have regularly come into contact with it.

1:52 Opening remarks.

Maria: Hello, dear friends! Today we invite you to a very interesting discussion with our alien friends through our contactee Irina. My name is Maria Sokalskaya, and today I will ask questions on the topic of anthropology, anthropogenesis, and about our civilization. Irochka, good afternoon, tell us who is our guest today.

Irina: Hello, dear friends, my name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today we have with us a representative of the planet Tumesout - a xenobiologist and specialist in the creation of different species (biological genetics), his name is Tuliari Kromers, or simply Tuliari. And, naturally, MidgasKaus is present with us - a biologist, psychologist from the planet Esler, a specialist in alien civilizations. He is a biologist and specialist who also studied our species. Tuliari, a representative of Tumesout, will answer, he studied the history of the creation of our race.

3:40 Earthly theories of the origin of man, a look at them from the point of view of a Tumesoutian.

Maria: I'm very glad, Tuliari and Mead, greetings, friends! Thank you very much for coming to our meeting today, because the topic is very interesting. Naturally, we are interested in our history of the origin and development of our species. We have already learned a lot from you - about how our species originated. In the following, I will briefly provide the theory of our scientists and the results of their research and ask you to comment and provide your history, based on knowledge about our race, and approximately to what time periods and stages of development those remains or the information that our scientists received belong.

Well, let me start with the fact that on our planet there are three main theories about the origin of our race. This is a religious theory, theological, which is based on the Old Testament, and in which man is the creation of God. The next theory is the materialistic theory of Charles Darwin, which our science adheres to. And the theory of natural selection, where man is a biological species, a higher mammal and has a natural evolutionary origin. This theory is also complemented by the labor theory of human origin, according to which labor helped in the development of man and his evolution. We also have another theory - paleovisit, about the cosmic origin of man, which suggests that the emergence of humanity is associated with the activities of other civilizations and that in ancient times man directly communicated with representatives of alien intelligence. And one of the founders of this theory is the Soviet mathematician Mates Agreste, who in his article “Ancient Cosmonauts” suggested that our planet was visited by alien civilizations in the past.

These three theories are common on our planet. I think that based on the information we received from you, there is some truth to every theory, yes?

Irina (Tuliari): Yes, it’s like three views of the same reality. Well, that's like three perceptions of the same reality. From them you can put together a single picture, just like from puzzles, just like from a construction set you can put together a single picture. In such a complex process as the emergence of man, or, as we prefer to say, the creation of man, all three theories, all three forces participated: the forces of the material world, the forces of the Divine world, and the forces of other civilizations. In addition, a fourth force also participated, which is the force of the subtle material world. That is, the dense material world, the subtle material world, the Spiritual world and other intelligent civilizations.

Maria: This is precisely the puzzle that we are missing, probably, in order to create an overall picture where all these three theories can harmoniously merge together. Our scientists naturally use those material remains or archaeological materials that they were able to obtain from various layers of the Earth.

Irina (Tuliari): And when your scientists find these materials, do they examine the contents of the etheric matrices on their astral screen or contact the Spirits of nature?

Irina: He's asking seriously now.

Maria: Yes, I can explain to you that our scientists, unfortunately, do not yet possess such tools, such capabilities that our alien friends possess.

Irina (Tuliari): All of you have these opportunities.

Maria: Yes, the possibilities are all within us, but they have not yet been discovered and recognized by official science. So they study all fossil materials using the carbon isotope method and try to determine the age. That is, they have a very limited set of research tools.

Irina (Tuliari): Haven't they encountered such a paradox that in the same remains, taking analysis from different parts of the same bone, one can find different isotope ratios?

Maria: In fact, they have already come to the conclusion that this method is not one hundred percent accurate. They themselves understand that the error is high. But since they have no other methods of understanding our history, then from the remains that they extract, they try to create some kind of chronology in accordance with the place where they found them, with the layer, with age.

Irina (Tuliary): How is it possible to study history without referring to the Time Tape of the past?

Maria: Well, as you can see, perhaps our scientists do this too. That is, they find various remains of these primates, so to speak, or hominids, as they are called, and based on these remains and the cultural heritage that they left, they try to build a chronological line of how man evolved. Because, of course, they do not accept the theory of divine creation.

Irina (Tuliari): Not all the remains can be found, only a small part can be found.

Maria: Yes, naturally, they find a small part, but if they find some remains that are very different from each other in their structure, then they begin to attribute this to different stages of human evolution or to transitional forms. For example, the most ancient remains found were found in Africa, so scientists believe that it was in Africa that the human race got its origins. And these two species were called Australopithecus and Kenyanthropus. Then, based on these remains, they continue their research, looking for the next bones and skulls by age.

Irina (Tuliari): So, they believe that the mutation that led to the emergence of intelligent beings from non-intelligent ones, from animals, occurred somewhere in Africa, and then people, intelligent beings, began to settle?

Maria: Yes, this is exactly the theory that our species began its origin from primates with the help of mutations and began to spread to other continents. That is, that we had a single continent of Pangea - our scientists also came to this realization, so they proceed from the fact that these species began to spread across a single continent, approximately from the territory of Africa. Then, from them, “handy man” emerged, about one and a half million years ago, and then began to further develop with the help of tools, upright walking, and the result was “working man.”

Irina (Tuliari): By the way, if you look at this theory - if you want me to comment on this theory about the African origin of one or more ancestors of people from primates - I can only say that it turns out like this: the mutation turned out to be quite stable, and During the reproduction of the species, for some reason, a reverse mutation did not occur. This is despite the fact that they lived in nature, and there are many examples of the reverse development of a rational being, one might say, into a creature living by instincts, like an animal, with a suppressed mind, if it is left without education among rational beings. That is, if some creature has remained among animals since childhood, it will remain so. The tongue will not acquire and will not be able to manifest its intelligence.

Maria: Yes, we have such rare cases.

Irina (Tuliari): Because his brain will lack neural connections through which the Spirit can correctly navigate the world around him. He will form neural connections that will appropriately convey to him the reality of the world where he lives, among nature. And he will use only instincts.

Maria: I see. We have such examples, the so-called “Mowgli”, who grew up among animals. Naturally, they did not develop social qualities and abilities.

Irina (Tuliari): But you don’t have an example of raising an intelligent being from animals.

Maria: Yes, that's true.

Irina (Tuliari): What does the fact that you have an example of one, but not the other, say?

Maria: Yes, our scientists actually face a lot of questions to which they have no answer. Due to the fact that, firstly, they do not have enough tools to study historical facts, and secondly, they have not developed their own abilities, as you rightly said, to look into the Time Tape and get information.

Irina (Tuliari): Moreover, the very “mutation” that, according to this theory, caused the emergence of Homo sapiens, sharply separated him from animals, because they began to change the environment, cognize it and create their own language, their own culture.

Accordingly, if this “mutation” existed on its own - one or its chain - then it could be identified by comparing, one might say, cellular DNA in those very first human remains and those primate bones that are also found next to them . It happens that they are together, I just know about it. And you can find out which DNA sequence has mutated. If this was found out, such a mutation could be artificially induced in modern primates. However, this does not happen, which means it is not a matter of mutation. And I know very well that with micromutations and their series it was impossible to ensure that a rational being, a person, would develop from primates, so that the Spirit would incarnate in him. Well, I will say more traditionally for science: so that consciousness arises in his brain.

Maria: Yes, these are actually logical questions that our scientists cannot answer.

Irina (Tuliari): We say “the Spirit became incarnate”, you say “consciousness arose” - consciousness, which was divided into self-consciousness and, in fact, consciousness. This means that a subjective reality began to form, which began to reflect the objective one. Moreover, consciously, because the subject understood his difference from the world around him and his uniqueness.

For this type of consciousness to arise, a simple mutation is not enough. The world where consciousness arises is outside the world of matter and is strictly hierarchical. This means that in order for a consciousness of this type or a mind of this type to arise in the brain of one or another creature, protection or permission from similar consciousnesses located outside the material world is necessary. Now I’m just speaking for scientists - and do you think I’m explaining it clearly for scientists?

Maria: You know, I’ll tell you that, probably, for those scientists who adhere to the theological theory of the creation of man, this will be a clear, logical and self-evident explanation. And for followers of the Darwinian or alien theory it is probably less acceptable. And this is understandable, because everyone has their own worldview.

Irina (Tuliari): That world that is outside the material world - let’s call it the world of thoughts and feelings. Your thoughts and feelings are located in the matter itself, and seem to “permeate” it with very high vibration, very high frequency fields. And there are fields that are located in space, independent of the material world, which you call “space”. The entire material world is usually called “cosmos”, from the Greek “beautifully arranged”, that is, “decorated”. Greek philosophers called the material Universe this way, because in every object, in every object, they saw the beauty of the One who created it from his energies. That's why they called it a "decorated place." That is, the words “space” and “cosmetics” have the same root, from the words “beautiful”, “to decorate”.

Maria: “Well-appointed.”

Irina (Tuliari): Yes, something pleasing to the eye.

Maria: Yes, a very precise definition. Our scientists are still far from such a deep and subtle understanding of all levels of the universe.

22:26 About the nature of consciousness, the Spiritual world in the understanding of earthly scientists, the reasoning of the Tumesoutian.

Irina (Tuliari): A scientist is also a certain consciousness that is located in the body. And in this consciousness there are thoughts, feelings, emotions, will, and so on - all the same components that we all have. This means that the question arises: how does he explain to himself the existence of himself in the space where he lives? Yourself – that means, your thoughts, your feelings, your emotions. Does he call them material?

Maria: Yes, the majority of our scientists adhere exclusively to the material paradigm of understanding our Universe, the world order, because they do not have developed other senses and perceptions. They do not have astral vision, they do not have the opportunity to go into the Time Line and sense the Spiritual World.

Irina (Tuliari): They have a Spiritual heart, right?

Maria: They have a Spiritual heart, but it works at the level of moral and ethical standards of society, that is, they do not connect it with the Spiritual world, with the divine presence in our universe. Moreover, they have no idea about the existence of plasmoid worlds.

Irina (Tuliari): Maybe they call the Spiritual World something else? When we study other civilizations, we very often come across the fact that in the same civilization different, one might say, professional classes or social communities on one or another planet call the same phenomenon in completely different ways, use different words and describe different terms. And because of this, there are interpersonal and intergroup conflicts that can only involve the emotional-mental sphere, i.e. emotional-mental and emotional-mental sphere, and can even lead to certain physical consequences.

Maria: Yes, I understand you, all this is present in our society. But the fact is that, as you know, and MidgasCaus will confirm this to you, our society over the last few hundred years has developed exclusively in a materialistic way. This means that the spiritual sphere is completely ignored in scientific research.

Irina (Tuliari): Maybe they call Spirit just some special form of matter?

Maria: No, the Spirit is absolutely not taken into account and is not taken into account in scientific research. Moreover, this is called a pseudoscientific theory - if they try to explain some material phenomena from the point of view of the Spiritual world or alien civilizations.

Irina (Tuliari): What do they call their child's faith, for example, in a fairy tale? This faith of his, which begins to create his reality for him?

Maria: Well, for them these are illusory ideas that are not confirmed in any way. That is, they are looking for confirmation of everything.

Irina (Tuliari): Illusory representation of whom?

Maria: A child who believes in a fairy tale. Because there is no material evidence of the phenomena in the fairy tale.

Irina (Tuliary): What place, what part of the child believes in a fairy tale?

Maria: His fantasies, fictitious.

Irina (Tuliari): Okay, fantasy. Where are his fantasies?

Maria: Naturally, scientists reduce it all to the activity of the brain, that is, again, to material objects.

Irina (Tuliari): So they believe that some part of the brain believes in a fairy tale?

Maria: That these are all thought processes, this is all the activity of the brain.

Irina (Tuliari): So, some part of the brain believes in a fairy tale, some part of the brain understands that it believes in this fairy tale, or what?

Maria: Naturally, the child's brain believes in the fairy tale, because he has no other information that, let's say, contradicts this.

Irina (Tuliari): But if the entire brain believes in a fairy tale... And this conversation, by the way, is related to the origin of man, because until we understand the nature of consciousness, it is pointless to talk about the difference between man and animals. And if we don't distinguish humans from animals, we won't figure it out, and no bone remains will help, no matter what they are called.

The question is deeper here. Here the question is more philosophical, it lies more in the sphere of feelings. Now we have come to a very important point. Any scientists, materialists have children. The child of any materialist can believe in the immaterial - that which does not exist in the material world. When he believes this, he imagines images that exist somewhere in his mind. The scientist himself knows very well that these images exist in the child's mind.

Maria: But not in the material world.

Irina (Tuliari): Yes, but they are in the child's mind. And if he considers consciousness itself to be something material, then it turns out that there are also images in the material world?

Maria: I don't think that consciousness is not considered material. That is, these are rather psychological concepts. Material for us is something that can be touched.

29:45 Tuliari about the brain and conscious activity.

Irina (Tuliari): Let's not introduce new terms for now: "psychological" tells me absolutely nothing now, we are now talking about the material and immaterial world. We have now settled on the fact that consciousness is recognized as some form of brain activity. The brain is material. If the brain is material, then the form of its work can only be material - so it turns out? If these are precisely the forms of his work.

Maria: Neural connections are material.

Irina (Tuliari): So neural connections are consciousness?

Maria: Well, a product of their work.

Irina (Tuliari): And only consciousness?

Maria: Consciousness is probably not material after all. The question here is what do we mean by "material". That is, for our scientists, "material" is something that has a physical form.

Irina (Tuliari): Yes, but physical form can be in the form of a substance, and it can be in the form of a field. There are also physical energies, physical matter, physical substance. Do you consider both physical matter and physical energy to be physical matter?

So you say that the materialist does not completely understand the fact that consciousness, before entering the brain... We will not now use the word “incarnate”. Because the word “incarnate” means “to acquire flesh” - to acquire a dense body or a subtle body. It’s just that the word “flesh” here means matter of any type: compared to the Spirit, they are all dense, in fact.

I'm trying to reason logically, I'm a rational being - and I'm trying to use ordinary logic. Logic for me is the laws of thinking, which are the same for all worlds, because they are based on the same principles. That is, now I use analysis - that logical operation that you call “analysis”. And, using ordinary analysis, I come to the conclusion that those material scientists who consider consciousness or mind to be a product of the brain cannot consider it immaterial. Because if they recognize it as immaterial, they will have to admit that it simply manifests itself through the brain, but is in no way created by it. The material can only give birth to the material.

Maria: I’ll explain to you now how our scientists reason. First, they obtained this material evidence of the existence of other species or subspecies of man that preceded him. They analyze the size of the brain and see that different remains have increasingly larger brains.

Irina (Tuliari): And what follows from this?

Maria: From this it follows that under the influence of external conditions, work, overcoming some difficulties, the human brain grows and develops - and thus human evolution occurs.

Irina (Tuliari): What does the evolution of a creature have to do with the size of its brain?

Maria: They connect the fact that the larger the brain volume of a conscious being, a humanoid being, the more conscious it is, the more viable and the closer it is, let’s say, to the modern.

Irina (Tuliari): Well, then they should ask elephants to solve their physical, mathematical, economic problems. How many times greater is the volume of his brain?

Maria: I think that this is not the only factor, but one of the important ones.

Irina: He is also a comedian.

Maria: It’s great that our guest has a good sense of humor, I completely agree with you.

Irina: Mead has already sent this: a cartoon of a scientist coming in, in a white coat, with a pencil and a notepad to the elephant, giving them to him - and he writes something with his trunk.

Maria: I really saw such elephants at work: there was no video editing, they really painted a picture in which there was an elephant. Elephant drew an elephant, drew a sun and green grass. It happened before my eyes.

Irina (Tuliari): In any case, these movements are no more difficult for his animal Soul, his animal instincts, than the movements of, for example, the larynx, tongue, respiratory tract (there are also muscles there) of the same parrots, ravens, and so on, which pronounce quite complex phrases.

Maria: Moreover, I saw dolphins, and I even have this picture: dolphins also drew.

Irina (Tuliari): What kind of brain does a parrot have, for example, and what kind of brain does an elephant have? In any case, they can be taught, that is, this is called animal training, and they can remember these movements - like a parrot, like a crow, like an elephant. But now we are talking about conscious activity. Conscious activity is when an elephant, for example, draws not only an elephant, but takes and draws what it wants, some other images that it will see in the world around it. For example, he will come up himself, pat the driver on the shoulder with his trunk, show him a pencil and paper - and simply begin to draw the surrounding landscape, because he likes it. This is already a conscious activity, as an expression of the Soul, as creativity.

Maria: I understand you. But, returning to our primates...

Irina (Tuliari): Now we are talking about consciousness. So what is science's idea of it, of the human mind? Is it a material object or not?

Maria: It is not a material object because it cannot be touched. This is a product of the activity of the nervous system, neural connections.

Irina (Tuliari): Does he really exist?

Maria: Naturally, it really exists in our individual.

Irina (Tuliari): In what world?

Maria: Well, it's not called the Spiritual World.

Irina (Tuliari): What do they call it?

Maria: This all happens in the physical world. That is, manifestation - what the mind does, how it manifests itself - it manifests itself in the physical world. Our scientists do not have such categories of understanding as the Spiritual world.

Irina (Tuliari): But do they have the concept of "immaterial"?

Maria: There is, of course, the "immaterial world" or there are "intangible values", but they in no way relate to the spiritual, in the sense of the divine.

Irina (Tuliari): Can "immaterial" simply be called "spiritual"?

Maria: Well, there is such a thing in our society: there are spiritual values, etc.

Irina (Tuliari): “Spiritual heart.”

Maria: Yes, “Spiritual Heart.” But this is not the terms of our scientists. That is, they must adhere to certain work rules, certain criteria, how they evaluate any...

Irina (Tuliari): What prevents them from calling immaterial consciousness the word “Spirit”? It's easier.

Maria: That is, all this is something that cannot be touched, seen, or verified empirically.

Irina (Tuliari): How impossible it is to touch, to see, if they themselves see pictures in their minds that they cannot see with their eyes closed. They can see it, right?

Maria: Yes, but in their professional activities this is not evidence.

39:37 Evidence of human origins for earthly scientists.

Irina (Tuliari): Well, if they can see it, how can it not? What then can be evidence?

Maria: This is not evidence for the scientific community.

Irina (Tuliari): Why not?

Maria: In the evidence base of scientists, evidence is only what other scientists can see and touch.

Irina (Tuliari): Proof of what? What do they prove?

Maria: For example, proof of human origin. Therefore, they adhere only to those facts that they have in their hands as material evidence.

Irina (Tuliari): How can they then imagine that a certain animal acquired some kind of mutation - and the result was another animal, but with a more intelligent form of behavior? After all, if they do not understand what “consciousness” is, how will they compare how one animal differs from another?

Maria: So they do excavations, they get various fossil evidence in the form of bones and skulls. They also look at the environment they are in, and when they see that there is some kind of cultural layer (inscriptions, drawings on the walls), some tools around these bones, they try to build an evolutionary and chronological chain in this way. Scientists, naturally, measure the age of these remains in their own ways (for example, the one I mentioned, carbon isotope) and try to build such a chronological sequence from these remains. For example, a very interesting fact is that they date the first human, Australopithecus afarensis, to be about two and a half million years old. From four to two and a half.

Irina (Tuliari): How do they know that it was a human and not a primate?

Maria: They already see that this primate is somehow different from other primates. Then they find other remains, which, again, are different.

Irina (Tuliari): What difference does Australopithecus have from primates?

Maria: That they are already erect, that is, they are already basically...

Irina (Tuliari): Well, they didn’t see how they walked, but they only see the bones. Yes, the skeletal structure is good. Yes, there you can distinguish an upright creature from a non-upright one. Well, how do they distinguish between what is reasonable and what is not? Here, upright walking is not yet intelligence.

Maria: That's why they assume. Therefore, we say that this is only a theory, these are not facts proven by any other methods. I am now explaining to you how our scientists reason and how they arrived at such results. They received this fossil data, they dated it, distributed it along the chain - that is, they saw changes in the skeleton, changes in the size of the skull, in the size of the brain, respectively. Over time, some tools, some crafts, and primitive dwellings began to be found around these finds, which were improved. And on this basis, scientists have built their theory, which approximately coincides with the data that you gave at one time - that man was created three million years ago.

Irina (Tuliari): So, now I understand you in such a way that they explain the very emergence of consciousness in these animals that became people by mutation, and they call consciousness a function of matter. It’s like, for example, water with a salt solution: both are matter, but their combination causes the taste of salt - salty. And this taste is similar to consciousness - do I understand correctly now?

Maria: You know, now it’s very difficult for me to bear this imagery, because salt is salty by itself and without water. That is, salt only adds taste to water by mixing with it.

Irina (Tuliari): Well, just like salt gives taste to water, a special combination of, so to speak, neural networks gives the brain intelligence. So, what?

Maria: Well, I think so, from the point of view of our scientists - exactly so. That this is a gradual evolutionary process that lasted millions of years.

Irina (Tuliari): Let's imagine that salt, as the keeper of salty taste, is the keeper of genetic information, DNA. And water is the brain. We added one to the other - and we got a salty taste, that is, intelligence. Do I understand correctly now?

Maria: This is not immediate, from the point of view of our scientists, it is a very long process.

Irina (Tuliari): That is, taste seems to exist, it is a product of matter, but at the same time it is not material - in the sense that you can measure it, touch it, or somehow describe it with material words: “weight”, “mass” ", "volume". Am I speaking correctly now?

Maria: These are all scientific theories that they build on the basis of observation: for example, they see that our modern primates, when trained, achieve some results, they can learn something. And, naturally, these experiments take place in a very short period of time. And when they build their theory, they understand that these processes lasted a very long period of time, millions of years, and therefore, under certain external conditions (that is, some external conditions are the impetus for development) ...

Irina (Tuliari): For example, you have a cat. So you gave her a piece of meat. How will she feel?

Maria: How will she feel? Well, the desire to eat it.

Irina (Tuliari): When will she eat it - in this process?

Maria: Saturation.

Irina (Tuliari): And what will she feel on her tongue?

Maria: Taste.

Irina (Tuliari): Taste. And if I give you a delicious candy and you eat it, how will you feel?

Maria: I will taste it too.

Irina (Tuliary): So how are your feelings, yours and the cats’, different? There is one difference.

Maria: For example?

Irina (Tuliari): You can describe him, but she can't.

Maria: Yes.

Irina (Tuliari): And who describes in this case? Who separates himself from taste and can describe it?

Maria: My awareness. Conscious Spirit. Thanks to this, there are tools for description.

Irina (Tuliari): Of course, these instruments are, first of all, your words, which are stored in your memory.

Maria: I understand you perfectly. But...

48:20 Tuliari about the process of human evolution from animals. Source of the Spirit.

Irina (Tuliari): In order for an animal to begin to evolve and turn into a rational being, a special energy had to settle in its brain - consciousness, the very awareness that you are talking about now - which just began to accumulate words in its memory. For example, the creature did not just look at the tree, but called it with the sound "ua" - and put this sound "ua" into its memory. And every time he looked at a similar tree, at a similar object, this word surfaced in his memory, and the creature could figure out that it was "ua" and not "au", which it, for example, called water. This is called "language shaping." It can be in a special energy matrix, which has its manifestation simultaneously in the physical brain, and in the reality of thoughts, in the reality of consciousness itself.

And this reality of thought in the Russian language, in which Russian people communicate, can most simply be called the reality of the Spirit. Why the Spirit and not consciousness? Because consciousness, or thoughts, or emotions are only a manifestation of the Spirit that lives in the body and uses the body. How does he use it? He perceives reality through it and acts. That is, the difference between the Spirit of a living being and an object is that it acts, it somehow changes this reality in accordance with its desires, with its needs. When consciousness begins to perceive reality, Spirit begins to perceive the reality of the physical world. He understands to himself that he has certain needs in order to change his state of consciousness in which he is, to those that bring him into a special state - this is happiness, love, harmony, so that he can become closer to that The source from which he came. And this Source is in the Spiritual world - this is Absolute good, this is Absolute love, Beauty, Happiness, Truth. And it is precisely this that we all strive for in the material world in different ways, ordering this world. Every child here knows this.

Maria: We know about this in our Project: both what you are telling us now and what you are now trying to lead us to. In fact, this is a level of awareness and consciousness that the broad masses of our civilization have yet to achieve. Our Project, for example, is precisely aimed at helping individual people with this.

Irina (Tuliari): What level should you reach? Exactly like what I just said?

Maria: Yes, the understanding that our world consists not only of material components that explain our entire universe, but that our world is much more complex and complex. And the most important component of this world is the Spiritual world, from which everything begins. Then a world of subtle-material entities appears, plasmoid worlds. These two components are missing in the understanding of our scientific community.

Irina (Tuliari): I just don’t quite understand what the mind that lives in the body of a scientist who doesn’t understand these things calls itself. What does he call himself? He who?

Maria: He calls himself a “reasonable man”, first of all he feels like a body.

Irina (Tuliari): What does he call his images and thoughts? Feelings finally? Not your child - your own?

Maria: For him they are not an evidence base for his scientific work.

Irina (Tuliari): But they exist?

Maria: They exist, but they are not yet accepted by the scientific community.

Irina (Tuliari): Does he observe them from the outside - or is he involved in them and considers himself to be them?

Maria: This needs to be discussed with individual scientists who are working on this.

Irina (Tuliari): For example, by anger. Imagine, remember the emotion of anger. For example, were you angry? Every person was angry about something - this is a natural emotion, this is the emotion of remaking reality in accordance with their needs, desires, and so on. And this emotion that a scientist experiences when he is angry at something - is it felt as something separate that he feels, or does he himself turn into a stream of anger?

Maria: Naturally, he turns into a stream of anger, but when he is engaged in scientific activity, he has certain rules and certain criteria by which he must conduct his scientific activity. Therefore it is not included...

Irina: Oh, now Mid is telling him.

(MidgasKaus): We are now talking about history, and those emotions that you talk about to Masha through Irina are studied more in psychology. And they call all these specific movements of the mind, consciousness the psyche - again, from the word “psychí” (Greek “soul”).

Maria: Yes, psychology deals with this, not anthropology.

Irina (MidgasKaus): And they don’t have such contact with scientists of different specialties. For example, those who study history or anthropology are not in such contact with those who study psychology as to create some kind of joint teaching in which all the knowledge that the psychologist, anthropologist, and so on would have received would be harmoniously laid out. For them it is more scattered.

Maria: The fact is that even our psychologists can only work with contemporaries, that is, with living people. They cannot analyze the mental processes of our ancestors who lived millions of years ago to evaluate how they developed, how they thought. In other words, they can only evaluate some written historical sources left by our more recent ancestors.

Irina (Tuliari): If you have remains, it means you have certain DNA. And using DNA, you can already create a model of the brain, a model of the psyche, as you call it, of a prehistoric person and work with it. Do you, for example, have such a concept as “age psychology”?

Maria: Yes, but it is based on studies of living people.

Irina (Tuliari): Yes, but developmental psychology also studies the psyche of people of this age (for example, up to a year), with whom you cannot talk, and create some kind of psychological portrait, but this psychology is based on a model of the infant psyche - you have there is such a psychology: how he feels, how he behaves, how he thinks, how he sees reality, and so on. There are such models, but how close they are to reality is, of course, a matter of perception of this subject by each individual scientist who has worked in this field. Well, why, according to this analogy, cannot there be such a science as the psychology of prehistoric people?

Maria: I'll tell you why. Because the child can be observed and various experiments can be carried out with him. With prehistoric people we don't have this opportunity. That is, our scientists study only the remains, only what they left behind, the so-called cultural layer.

Irina (Tuliari): What did they leave besides the bones?

Maria: For example, tools, their homes, decorations.

Irina (Tuliari): You can understand the inner world by tools, dwellings and decorations.

58:55 The beginning of our civilization, the first people.

Maria: Naturally. That's why he built a more or less logical chain of development for himself, finding the remains of less developed and more developed human individuals. And our question that interests us: what kind of remains do our scientists find? Were these really intelligent beings? Because we already know, from you we received information that the first nine pairs of intelligent people who were created by your civilizations in commonwealth three million years ago were about four meters tall, had fair skin, were upright and were mostly similar to us in their physiology. Question: What are these different types of primates or humanoid creatures that our scientists find?

Irina (Tuliary): These creatures were created in the amount of 18 individuals. Later, when they began to give birth to children, due to the fact that the gravity on Earth was greater than on Tumesout, a mutation almost immediately occurred that began to reduce their growth by stopping the production of the hormone somatotropin. Accordingly, somatotropin itself was previously produced in smaller quantities. And the cells sensitive to somatotropin on the terminal phalanges of the bones became less sensitive, that is, due to this, growth decreased.

When it comes to skin color, there is nothing more variable than skin color, especially under the tropical sun. That is, there was only one climate then, it was quite warm, there was no winter. There was no such heat, there was no such sharp change of periods - autumn, spring, summer. It was just a certain, one might say, eternal summer, but in which there was some precipitation - rain. And it could rain, for example, for a week there, then, for example, there could be two weeks of sun, and between them it could still rain. This was all regulated by plasmoid civilizations, depending on the needs of the plants, animals, and so on that lived there. And people who were under the sun, even if they were born with light skin, naturally, they acquired what you call a tan, a dark color as protection. That is, it is a protective reaction against the penetration of certain rays of special frequencies into the human body.

Maria: And in what period of time did the height of these people decrease, let's say, to about our height or even lower (since we know that there are shorter remains)?

Irina (Tuliari): As you know, representatives of the planet Disaru are almost your height, and there are even cases where they are seventy meters, eighty meters. It is rare to be taller than two meters, but this, by the way, happens on Earth: there are tall people, taller than two meters.

Maria: Especially lately here.

Irina (Tuliari): And there are adults less than three meters tall, with certain genetic characteristics. And the people themselves on Disara are mostly migrants from Venus, and the migration to Venus took place, as you remember, two hundred thousand years ago, and we earthlings were already of such stature then. And when the first ones began to be born - literally, maybe five hundred to seven hundred years after the appearance of the first hybrids, their growth already began to decrease. Well, it didn't decrease sharply, but gradually, and after a couple of thousand years they were already like that for the most part. Therefore, skeletons of such large people are found very rarely.

Maria: We know that they are found, but they are hidden from the public.

Irina (Tuliari): But there are simply fewer of them, they are not even buried deeper - there are simply fewer of them than those that have accumulated over the remaining millions of years.

Maria: I see. Did I understand you correctly that those humanoid remains that are found are those creatures that lived in parallel with the first hybrids, that is, Homo erectus, Heidelberg, Neanderthal?

Irina (Tuliari): And people. You need to look at the DNA. You can find people whose DNA is different from that of a monkey.

Maria: That's why they claim that these were prehistoric people, because their DNA is different from the DNA of primates.

Irina (Tuliari): Well, yes, you can find them, because they already began to live three million years ago - that means they already lived there all over the Earth, and your scientists find them, they just call them differently, because different, as I said...

Maria: Skull structure?

Irina (Tuliari): The fact is that this structure of the skull was different, not just in different periods - it could be different in different parts of the Earth, because there were also mutations that determined the structure of the face, facial bones, to which then muscles were attached, and, accordingly, different faces. That is, these are such genetic characteristics.

Maria: So, the remains that were found are 400 thousand years old?

Irina (Tuliari): 400 thousand years ago - this was even before the migration to Venus and Mars.

Maria: I see. It turns out that these were already people who looked approximately like us. Because according to reconstructions, these people look more ape-like to us. That is, “homo erectus”, or Neanderthal, or Heidelberg man. Well, when they restore it, they reconstruct the face from the skull.

Irina (Tuliari): I understand, but the point is that the changes in the bones themselves... The point is that it was the same genetics as yours. And as for, for example, more massive jaws - well, there are still people with a large and thick lower jaw, with large teeth that protrude forward. That is, it was what we call a type of mutation. This, too, naturally, was an adaptive mutation, because strong enough muscles had to be attached in order to chew rough food, for example. There was fire for quite a long time, but it was, so to speak, saved. Most ate herbs and fruits. As I said, until 12 thousand years ago they were vegetarians, although they could live next to animals. And some even sacrificed the same animals to plasmoid civilizations. They could hunt them, but they could not eat them. And even if they tried, they could get sick or, if they ate a lot, even die, they quickly found out from their own experience. This was, naturally, after people dispersed across the Earth. They began to live among nature, and aliens contacted them, but only if they agreed, there was a request.

Maria: Request from people?

Irina (Tuliari): Yes, when people had a request, they could be contacted. And if, for example, the plate sat down and people did not approach it or even left, then the rules prohibited any kind of violent contact.

1:09:38 The primate from which man was created.

Maria: Tell me, please, when did the primate from which the first hybrid was created disappear from the face of the Earth, and for what reason?

Irina (Tuliari): When did that primate disappear? Its population also disappeared due to natural mutations, it simply passed on to others. Well, maybe about five hundred thousand years ago.

Maria: Five hundred thousand years ago... And in which of our primates is it most expressed?

Irina (Tuliary): Chimpanzee.

Maria: Indeed, the chimpanzee is considered our closest relative, almost 99%.

Irina (Tuliari): Yes, it’s there, it’s just that he was taller and had a slightly different facial structure. That is, not the kind of jaws that stick out forward, but a little flatter.

Maria: A flatter, rounder face, close to ours, right?

Irina (Tuliari): Yes.

1:11:00 The origin of life on Earth.

Maria: Please tell me, is there in the Interstellar Union materials and samples collected from the Earth from the very beginning of its discovery? That is, five million years ago. Including living organisms. Has such material been collected from our planet?

Irina (Tuliari): Well, initially it was planned and studied, now there is just information about it.

Maria: I see. That is, no material samples have been preserved from our planet?

Irina (Tuliari): There was no such need.

Maria: Is there any information or research on the origin of life on our planet in principle?

Irina (Tuliari): Naturally. Our ancestors immediately when they arrived, when they discovered your planet, even before people appeared there (five million years ago), they saw a very rich nature: there were a lot of plants, insects - a very rich world. And when the ship (cone-shaped) landed, without even leaving the ship, our ancestors entered a state of altered consciousness, went into the Astral and began to scan the subtle-material space, look for plasmoids that are responsible for this area where the ship landed. They made contact, greeted us, and mentally (you don’t need to know the language there) began to establish contact with them.

And then, when scientific groups arrived, specialists in contacts with subtle-material civilizations began to arrive. We have specialists in contacts with earthly civilization, as well as specialists in contacts with subtle-material civilizations of planets, stars, and so on: they study the types of portals and various types of plasmoids. They also flew to Earth, entered into contacts and compiled a database: what plasmoid civilizations there are, what they are responsible for, and recorded the results of negotiations. How did the plasmoids react to the appearance of the spaceship? They naturally rejoiced because their intelligent brothers arrived in dense bodies.

Maria: What information did they share about the origin of life on our planet?

Irina (Tuliari): Scientists began to ask about how the Earth and the entire solar system were formed, plus they also came into contact with the plasmoids of the Sun and found out that the Earth was formed gradually. Plasmoids created it from certain cosmic dust particles - we say, “elements”. At first she was in the subtle world, as a thought form. Then they influenced space in such a way that the dust particles began to collect in a certain ball, which was filled with elements, only they were not in the same form as they are now: the temperature was high, because the Earth’s core was very close to the surface, the formation process was going on inside , and it was dark on Earth. This is data from the time when there were no representatives of the Interstellar Union there - this is data obtained from plasmoids. They were written down by the scientists who received them.

On Earth there were some uneven mountains, stones, and above them a dark sky and clouds - those elements that made up hydrogen, oxygen, were collected in water, but this water was still high. Then, under the influence of plasmoid civilizations, the clouds began to gradually thicken, and the temperature in the atmosphere began to drop - which means that water, which was in the form of steam, began to fall to the ground, and there was less of it in the atmosphere. Therefore the light of the sun appeared. And when the light of the sun appeared there and water fell, water, as a very good solvent and conductor of energy, began to react with those substances that were on Earth, with those mountains and stones. And there were a lot of different substances that were collected from all over space - more precisely, from that place in the solar system.

And, accordingly, dissolved substances began to appear in the water. The climate then was such that strong lightning constantly occurred: plasmoid civilizations (Spirits of the Air, plasmoid sylphs) produced such energies in the atmosphere. With the help of these lightning and sunlight, the plasmoids directed atoms and molecules in such a way as to produce more complex substances, more complexly structured, which could already become the framework for the embodiment of group animal Souls, which you call the Souls of microorganisms.

Maria: So we are now talking about the origin of biological life?

Irina (Tuliari): Yes. From these substances, which became more complex, a framework was gradually formed. And when the frame was ready, plasmoid civilizations directed certain energies of the material world at them through sunlight - and they formed something like sticky clay with pores inside. Certain substances began to accumulate in these pores, which could not come out and spread throughout space, as happens in a solution. These substances began to react with each other - and when they formed, one might say, the first such basis for the creation of the Soul, plasmoid civilizations created a group Soul, which was placed in these substances. And it has already begun to react appropriately to the world around it, further divide, multiply, that is, simply separate from itself a part of the substances surrounded by a certain film of other substances - and another part of the group Soul (it was a group Soul) moved into this separated part those substances.

Gradually, complication occurred, and this first cell (let's call it a “bacterium”), like any biological organism, had to eat. It has a very simple structure, without mitochondria, there is a very simple energy exchange, maybe two dozen ATP molecules. Very short-lived, they could live only a few hours, but nevertheless they were already Souls that gradually began their evolution in bodies through mutations in these simplest carriers of genetic information. Then it was only ribonucleic acids - RNA. They were very short, primitive, but nevertheless transmitted genetic information. Gradually, with the appearance of new properties, like some kind of environmental challenge (for example, more salty water), an enzyme appears that protects this cell, and then this enzyme is fixed in RNA - and it becomes longer.

Maria: That is, these were natural evolutionary processes under the influence of plasmoid civilizations.

Irina (Tuliary): Natural, we call “natural”, controlled by the Spirits of nature, who still have intelligence.

Maria: Plasmoid civilizations.

Irina (Tuliari): Yes, plasmoid civilizations, because if you simply mix these substances and do not infuse them with a Soul, nothing will come of them.

Maria: That is, all the elements for the origin of biological life were initially already part of our planet and were not artificially introduced.

Irina (Tuliari): Yes, they were already included from the beginning.

Maria: So, they weren’t brought in by some alien civilizations?

Irina (Tuliari): No.

Maria: I see. We are now talking about the origin of twelve billion years ago, according to the Interstellar Union, right?

Irina (Tuliari): No, the planet itself was formed later.

Maria: Later - that is, older than twelve billion years?

Irina (Tuliari): No, later - that is, in a sense, closer to us.

Maria: That is, the age of our planet, according to your calculations or according to information from plasmoid civilizations...

Irina (Tuliari): Well, if we translate it into modern language, it’s somewhere around six billion.

Maria: Six billion? That is, our planet was born six billion years ago and from inorganic...

Irina (Tuliari): And subtle-material life, somewhere, maybe one and a half billion years later, has already begun to form, having gone through the preparatory stages. We call them “the cradle of life.”

1:23:27 The origin of life on other planets.

Maria: “Cradle of Life” is a very beautiful name. Tell me, please, is this how life originates on all planets or are there any others?

Irina (Tuliari): For everyone, with the help of plasmoid civilizations. It happens differently there. It happens that a particle of some substance or a frozen spore of some microorganism is brought, for example, in the tail of a comet or with some kind of meteorite. Or some kind of cloud of dust that is simply flying around the galaxy - for example, it came out of... Well, there is a planet, and somehow - for example, from a collision with an asteroid or some other processes occur there, displacement orbits - some part of its matter, these dust particles, ends up in space, in outer space. And some microorganisms can survive, that is, they fall into suspended animation and spread in space, but this did not happen specifically on Earth. Plasmoid civilizations said that they took material from the very crust of the Earth, from the atmosphere, where there were various gases (there was quite a bit of oxygen, but in any case there were other gases), and from water.

1:25:14 Reasons why intelligent life on Earth did not appear naturally.

Maria: Very interesting. Tell me, please, did you not receive information from the Spiritual World and from plasmoid civilizations, why on our planet that race of primates did not go through a natural evolutionary path? Why was your intervention necessary?

Irina (Tuliary): Our ancestors waited two million years, but primates did not evolve. The ancestors asked the plasmoids - and they said that a smooth intervention was necessary, since primates live in conditions that do not contribute to their evolution: they have everything - and they do not “think”, do not turn on their brains to create new neural networks for his height. They did not find themselves in conditions where this was necessary.

Maria: So, it is a fundamental mistake of our scientists to think that earthly primates were capable of evolving naturally.

Irina (Tuliari): Well, on many planets this actually happened on its own, without intervention, but on yours it required hybridization.

Maria: That is, only due to the fact that our conditions are too comfortable?

Irina (Tuliari): Yes, there were practically no enemies. The fact is that even predatory animals (for example, the same predatory dinosaurs) had other hunting needs, for other animals, and posed virtually no danger to these primates, especially taking into account the fact that primates climbed trees very well, although, Of course, they could have walked on land. By the way, primates were also very good swimmers and divers, and loved to swim in ponds. They lived in the trees, picking some fruits and leaves.

Maria: We were vegetarians.

Irina (Tuliari): They could have eaten some kind of insect or something else, but that was not the main thing.

Maria: You know, now, when you describe the features of this primate and the fact that there was no need to evolve, I have some kind of involuntary association with our modern race. Unfortunately, we are only capable of any breakthroughs when we are put in uncomfortable conditions. Something like this must happen to our civilization or to our society so that we begin to think and look for some ways for development. Surprisingly, we have retained this feature from that primate.

Irina (Tuliari): This is called the law of social evolution. When a person or any other being has sufficiently comfortable conditions for his body, he begins (especially if he has no knowledge of the Spiritual world) to pay attention only to the body and its pleasure and he has no need to change anything.

Maria: That is, to degrade.

Irina (Tuliari): Yes, if he does not need to change anything, then there is no need to think, for example, about the reasons for the appearance of this world in general. Well, there it is, I live here and I live. I won't be there tomorrow – so what? I wasn't there before. Since I won't be there, that means I won't feel anything. And if I don't feel anything, then why should I think about what qualities to develop in myself? Some will develop on their own.

Maria: Yes, you're absolutely right.

Irina (Tuliari): Therefore, for materialists who believe that with the death of the brain, with the disintegration of brain tissue, consciousness completely ends, as if the light goes out and there is nothing anymore, and since there is nothing, there is no consciousness itself. This means that there is no one who will be aware of his existence. And if there is no one who will be aware of his existence, it means that all the qualities accumulated before the death of the brain turn into complete and absolute zero, into absolute emptiness. And if this is so, it means that the purpose and meaning of life is only in the material world.

And in order for people with a materialistic consciousness to develop precisely in the spiritual direction, such events and uncomfortable conditions are automatically created - not even by some Higher powers, but by the people themselves. And people begin to understand what is good and what is bad. That is, they acquire some moral values and begin to understand that if they enjoy, for example, food at the expense of another (that is, simply take away from him), then other creatures, other individuals, even if they are just animals, will hurt in defense . And so that it doesn't hurt, that means you can't do that. That is, through pain, through negative experience, they begin to accept moral values. Because they have no spiritual understanding.

1:31:40 Possibility of repeating the hybridization experiment.

Maria: We come to the conclusion that without spiritual development, no material development will lead society to prosperity. It will only be a question that sooner or later society will come to degradation.

Well, I'm coming to the end of our interesting conversation. I have another question: is it possible now to repeat the same experiment with the creation of our race?

Irina (Tuliari): Well, that is, with modern chimpanzees?

Maria: With a modern chimpanzee or some other primate in principle.

Irina (Tuliari): Theoretically, of course, it’s possible. You just need to select certain genes and do experiments with them. And in the beginning, you need, naturally, to agree with representatives of the Spiritual world, the Consulting Angels, so that they highlight, one might say, a certain Spirit - and he must voluntarily go into incarnation for the first time into this type of body, which has just hybridized from an animal.

1:32:57 Experiments on hybridization on other planets.

Maria: Are there also experiments being done where the genes of animals and humanoids are combined, or is there only hybridization going on now?

Irina (Tuliari): On Earth, no.

Maria: No, I don’t mean the Earth, but generally within the framework of the Interstellar Union or GFS.

Irina (Tuliari): Yes, such experiments exist in the constellation Virgo, in the constellation Ursa Major. There are experiments on hybridization of animals with each other, plants with each other, interspecific experiments - between intelligent humanoids and non-intelligent ones, and between forms that have only animal Souls. Experiments are also being conducted on the hybridization of animals from different planets and plants from different planets.

Maria: Aren't such experiments carried out with our animals?

Irina (Tuliari): At the moment, no. But if, for example, a scientist wants to do this, then, upon receiving the appropriate permission from the Interstellar Union, he can begin these experiments. Experiments with animals and plants do not require their consent, because they are Souls, created, one might say, to satisfy the needs of the already intelligent. In this case, it is either the biosphere or scientific experience.

Maria: I see. There must be a specific purpose for all these experiments.

Irina (Tuliari): Yes, there must be a goal, because some scientist will allocate his time and his funds for this. He will have to understand what result he will come to and why.

1:34:55 Development of our civilization.

Maria: Thank you. Well, the last, final question: please tell me what options for the development of our race and the framework of intervention and assistance were planned for our civilization? Do you have a special science and prescription for this?

Irina (Tuliari): Not science, but synthesis, a collection of sciences about young races. We have psychology, biology, sociology - specifically of young races. Do we have plans specifically for Earth? There is a plan - and more than one. In fact, any scientist who studies your planet and the civilizations on it is building some kind of specific plan to help you. Right now, at this moment in your history, we can help you through contacting - through intermediaries whom you call contactees, through their awareness. For the reason that the appearance of our ships - mass contact - firstly, will cause ambiguous sentiments on Earth, and secondly, it will deprive you, one might say, of freedom of choice, that is, the ability to consciously choose this information, focusing only on stories.

Maria: I see. Well, my question was more about what was originally planned when you created our race.

Irina (Tuliari): This was planned initially, not now. And the independent development of your race was planned, so that you yourself would develop your society, come to the arts, to the sciences - and then invite you to join the Interstellar Union, the Galactic Federation of Light. In order for the entire solar system to be filled with intelligent life, two hundred thousand years ago you were moved to Venus and Mars, where conditions were different at that time. So that there are three planets on which different civilizations with a single genetic code develop, and so that all these civilizations can be accepted into the Interstellar Union. But in order to be accepted into the Interstellar Union, you had to become conscious and understand your place on Earth, in space, among other civilizations. And for this, your spiritual evolution first had to go through in the type of body in which you found yourself - these are exactly the Spirits that exist.

1:38:00 Help to the first people of our civilization from the outside.

Maria: What kind of assistance is allowed in this case? That is, to transfer some kind of tools, handling fire, building a home, and so on?

Irina (Tuliari): It was possible to transfer tools, some knowledge, information. But even if it was transmitted in a scientific form, creatures who have not had experience interacting with the objects that their parents talk about will still inevitably mythologize it.

Maria: The first eighteen individuals - what did they receive from their creators for their development?

Irina (Tuliari): They were taught to speak the language, social skills were instilled in them - dressing, taking care of their bodies, etc. They told them who they were (well, we are, of course, like your ancestors), and even showed them a video of how they flew from the stars. We understand perfectly well that they later passed this on to their children as a fairy tale, a myth.

But we, our civilization, passed this on as knowledge. Well, the Burkhad people also took part there, the Selbet people. And then, later, the Lyrans (representatives of the Lyra constellation), Shimorians and so on arrived. And they passed on knowledge when people had already left the base.

Maria: How many generations have lived on the base?

Irina (Tuliari): Not at all. Almost immediately, when they became adults, after an attempted murder by the Selbetites using a poisonous tree (the history of which you know), they were released. They were taken to a prepared place in nature so that they could develop on their own and not live on the base. They decided that if the Selbet people came up with this, it means that perhaps there is someone else who is planning evil, and can already arm them - well, not so much with weapons, but take some kind of scientific instruments - and use them as weapons , already oppose the creator.

Maria: So, they were practically hidden in this way from possible negative influence. But were they given some tools and taught how to build houses?

Irina (Tuliary): They were already built for them (from logs, with pyramidal roofs), and people were shown everything that they could collect - plants and so on. They began to live there, and then they flew to contact them and told them how to cultivate the land in order not just to collect fruits, but to grow something. That's all it was, yes.

Maria: That is, they were actively supported and helped to adapt to the external environment. Thus, our civilization received support for its further development.

1:41:45 The dispute between Cain and Abel, the first murder.

Irina (Tuliari): Well, yes, and the Spirits were different. When they found themselves in nature, without the daily care of their creators, who were perceived as parents, this encounter with wild nature was a shock for them. Some began to lower their vibrations and come into conflict with each other. And already in the second generation the first murder occurred.

Mary: This is what we know about the story of Abel and Cain.

Irina (Tuliari): Yes, everything is presented there more in images, but a certain reason could be traced.

Maria: Is this really connected with eating meat and vegetarian food?

Irina (Tuliari): No, there was another reason, but it was, one might say, not because of food.

Maria: We would be interested to know if you know the true story of what happened there and served as the basis for this legend and this tradition in the Old Testament.

Irina (Tuliari): Yes, I know this story, they really were two brothers from the same mother - let's call them Cain and Abel, as they were called in the Russian translation. Two brothers from the same mother - at that moment they were in a forest clearing and began to talk to each other. They had a dispute: one said that the more perfect creation of God is fruits (like pomegranates, so big), and the other began to say that animals are more perfect. So they argued about this - and one of them killed the other out of anger. This is what served as the basis. But they went on to name what we explained to both them and their parents, that there is an Absolute, which from its energies (we did not say “energy”, we said “types of Light”, energy was called “Light”) creates these or other forms that you see. And any fruit that you touch, any blade of grass, are the thoughts of the Father who loves you.

Maria: Yes, let's just say, very important, good teaching and explanation. But, unfortunately, we can say that this was the first fact of violence and murder in our civilization.

Irina (Tuliari): One thought that plants were more perfect for him. He said that they contain more of that Light. As it is written in the Bible, one brought an animal as a gift to God, and the other brought plants. This does not mean that they brought it directly in their hands, they called it that - a worthy gift. They didn't bring it, but called it a worthy gift for people: one – plants, the other – animals. But it's not for free, not for eating, but simply for benefit, including those that are more perfect in appearance, that is, for the benefit of the eyes. One said he liked plants better. The other is that I like animals more. And one felt that he violated his sense of beauty and insulted his concept of God. And the other one thought so too. They came into conflict, but the first brother did not immediately kill the second. At first they just started fighting: the first one grabbed a stone, just wanted to hit his brother harder to cause him more pain and drive him away. They knew the blows hurt. Although they were already grown men, before that they were children and knew that fights caused pain when they fought with each other, they had this experience. Therefore, Cain grabbed a stone and hit Abel on the head in order to drive him away. Abel fell, Cain came up to him, began to bother him - all this is in our story about the first people. And when he saw a trickle of blood from his head and saw that his brother was not getting up, he ran away. He understood, he saw how they were dying.

Maria: So this was your first encounter with death in general?

Irina (Tuliari): This was not the first encounter with death in general: they saw the death of animals. But this was the first encounter with the death of their own kind.

Maria: Tribesmen.

Irina (Tuliari): Exactly like a brother.

Maria: It turns out that the parents have not died yet, they have not yet had examples of the death of a reasonable person?

Irina (Tuliari): Their parents were still alive. This was both the first encounter with human death, and, at the same time, the first encounter with death at one's own hands. Because before that there was no understanding of animal sacrifices and, for example, he did not kill animals. And those insects that could be killed as harmful were not yet found in that place and at that time. And I had no experience of killing someone. Cain simply had experience in fighting. And, accordingly, it was a very big shock for him: something actually happened to his brain there, then he went crazy, or something, some kind of state...

Maria: Insanity.

Irina (Tuliari): Inadequate, yes.

Maria: Dear friends, thank you very much for your interesting story, answers to our questions, counter questions, which were also very interesting.

Irina (Tuliari): Thank you for your answers.

Maria: And we hope for new meetings, new interesting discussions.

Irina: Dear friends, thank you also for watching, thank Masha for the interesting questions and answers, thank our interstellar friends and send the Light of my love. See you again!

Maria: See you again!

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova – contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations;

Maria Sokalskaya – assistant director, moderator and curator of the Cassiopeia Project;

Tuliari Kromers (planet Tumesout) - xenobiologist and specialist in the creation of different species;

MidgasKaus (planet Esler) – biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/ob-ehnergeticheskoj-rabote-s-prostranstvom-praktik
April 30
About energy work with space. Practice
There is energetic work with spaces in alliance with subtle civilizations. This helps fill the space with certain energies. Here, of course, you need to remember that the space where you are contains both the physical level and subtle material levels, as well as the spiritual and astral levels.
The astral atmosphere permeates all levels of density and is itself filled with your energies, charged with emotions, feelings and thoughts. And those people who live in this space constantly charge this space with their energy state. Perhaps it has happened to you when you entered someone's house for the first time: somewhere you felt more or less comfortable. This does not depend on the wealth and purity of the environment. These are the energies of people, the astral atmosphere. If a person or a group of people lives there, for most of the day, when they are awake, negative vibrations, low mood, melancholy, anger, and so on prevail, then a certain cloud of energies gathers there, which attracts dark, destructive plasmoids. All together, this creates a negative background in which it will be difficult to think about something bright or meditate. Even if you hang ten icons there and light candles, the atmosphere itself will just get in the way.
If you feel that it is safe for you, then no danger can be attracted. You need to understand that even if you raise the vibrations of some space and go about your business, but other people live in this space, they will not necessarily send the same energies. It is better, of course, if everyone is together - a group of people - to direct the light energies. For example, during group meditations, it is useful even to simply gather in a room, let there be 5-6 people, stand in a circle, hold hands, and say, for example, the Esler mood out loud to everyone. You will immediately feel how an energy column has appeared in the center of the circle - and mentally everyone together begins to think about its expansion and pronounce special words, for example:
"The Light of God is in my Spiritual heart, I let the Light of love, acceptance, truth, happiness pass through me. May all sentient and thinking living beings in this space find harmony."
You can use your own words. And you begin with thought forms, saying this, at the same time spreading this pillar, mentally expanding it and going outside the room - and you will feel a whirlwind. After practice, be sure to thank God, thank your Higher Self, and your supervisors out loud.

Timecode: 1:04:40, #513 KINESIOLOGY - psychology of personality self-regulation. Energy management through the subconscious.
Algir Trushiro is a representative of the planet Disaru, a doctor, psychologist and specialist in sports psychology.
November 2022
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/shedevralnyj-otzyv-na-deyatelnost-iriny-podzorovoj
May 4
A masterpiece review of the work of Irina Podzorova
Hello, friends. Today I would like to express my gratitude to Irina Podzorova . You can't imagine ✍ how her knowledge, given to her from above, has a positive impact on my current disclosure and creative fulfillment in everyday life.
Let's start with the fact that by listening to her video lectures (lessons, live broadcasts), you begin to better understand the universe. And when you realize this, then such creative changes occur to you that improve your manifestation in this life as a happy person, life-provided with all the benefits of the universe and simply loved and loving, who is able to easily overcome any life lessons that you have planned for yourself even before its incarnation.
How did this affect me, you ask? Very simple. From an eternally offended victim of despondency, I turned into a happy, self-sufficient woman who is capable of reproducing divine structures in the form of poems, joyful meetings with the outside world, being a happy master who leads people to the Higher Self, and there is also the opportunity, together with the Transformational Light plasmoids The Galaxy Networks help not only people in clearing them of blocks and other spectrums of distortion of the human structure, but also help in clearing earthly spaces together with plasmoids.
But the third stage of contactees, which I have already completed, it expands you with its knowledge to the scale of the planet 🌍🪐🌟, where knowledge is transmitted to you through Irina Podzorova, which you have long wanted to receive, but could not find where to get it.
Thanks to Irina Podzorova's ability to hear, feel and see manifested worlds in other dimensions, I was able to feel the energy of the planets in the solar system, which I am very happy about. Irochka teaches all this at the third stage. I am still mastering the knowledge I have acquired. And I feel that they are of a grandiose scale, which will be unpacked in me for several years. That's exactly how it goes. In a week of training, several years of assimilation of the acquired concentrated knowledge from curators-interstellar friends (humanoids and plasmoids) and simply mentors of the Spiritual World of the Higher Forces of the Universe, be it archangels, the teaching system, etc.

Maybe I don’t speak a language that is completely understandable to you, my dear readers, but it’s difficult for me to explain in a different way the mystery of magic that is happening to me now. It’s just that the more interesting experience from my star friends and good contact with them contributes to a different speech and a unique presentation of thoughts. But Irina Podzorova always speaks in a language that is more understandable to us all. And no matter how many of her video lessons I watch, they all go to the future, to the treasury of my new knowledge. And when you meet her in person, not only my heart, but also my entire physical body turns on. 😁I clearly begin to feel everything, feel it and begin to experience moments of happiness in another dimension, other mental images are coming - brighter, more soulful and blissful 🙏. For me, video tutorials from Irina Podzorova are all her videos on the Cassiopeia channel. You can just sit and take notes, and then simply create a textbook on the skills of transforming yourself in the 🌰Light of the Creator. That's all.
Dear readers🧑💻. I thank everyone who responded or did not respond to my review about Irina Podzorova🌰. God willing, I will have many opportunities to meet her again in my life, to hug her and participate in the next contact courses with her direct participation✨ Irina🌹. I wish you to achieve the perfection of your luminosity that you have planned for yourself, and which makes you even more blessed and happy in this earthly world🙏.
With love, your friend and colleague🌑 - Irina Getman ♀
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pryamoj-ehfir-obshchenie-s-duhom-leonardo-da-vinch
May 6

#512 Live broadcast. Communicating with the Spirit of Leonardo da Vinci. Equipment according to the inventor's sketches.

---

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Bo3BJ4TzxJA

00:00 Start of video.

00:04 The impact of the “Da Vinci Egg” of the Cassiopeia Center on humans.

Maxim: Dear friends, hello everyone! We have just arrived from Moscow and were in our wonderful Center. We are like frog travelers, lately we haven’t even rested, moving around our vast Russia, as if in a Kirchiton plate. As a manager, I have a huge number of things to do, Irina won’t let me lie.

We decided on the latest interesting news from our Project about our products, retreats, movements, about the latest developments (and we have such), about everything that helps us live, exist, to bring to you at the end of the program so that you feel comfortable.

Today is not a simple broadcast either. Today our guest is Leonardo da Vinci. This is a very interesting, unique personality about whom there are legends. Tonight we will learn the secrets of Leonardo da Vinci and learn from him how everything really happened. And I’ll leave everything else for the end of the broadcast.

I will delight you with interesting, cool news, and leave a little intrigue. Leonardo da Vinci is our guest here today, because I recently brought equipment to our Center from afar, I won’t say where from yet. Unique, state-of-the-art equipment, nothing like it anywhere else in the world. One of the very famous people, a nuclear physicist, collected this equipment and, unfortunately, went into disincarnation and asked his son to give this equipment to us.

One of the equipment is the “Kozyrev camera”. These are not “Kozyrev mirrors” - this unique restorative energy chamber is assembled on the basis of the “Kozyrev mirrors” effect.

Another thing – I don’t even know what this equipment is called, I’ll find out today – I called it “da Vinci egg”. This is such a cool chamber: it opens, you sit in it, in this chamber you can find yourself in completely different structures of our universe. For example, in one of those 56 levels of subtle perception of reality that our Interstellar Union spoke about, you can either find yourself in the Spiritual World, or go to the Astral, to the Time Tape, to see the past, future and present.

Everything else will be delicious later, but now let's meet our friend.

07:50 Introduction of participants.

Maxim: Irina, who do we have today?

Irina: Hello everyone, dear friends! Today we have with us LiShioni, a representative of the planet Shimor. He helped the Spirit of Leonardo da Vinci through the Astral to be present here in astral space, to come here from the world of disembodied Spirits. LiScioni says he showed him this space and helped him tune into the vibrations of the contactee.

So here are LiSioni from the planet Shimor and the now disembodied Spirit of that man who is known on Earth as Leonardo da Vinci. He greets you.

09:53 The spirit of Leonardo da Vinci about his incarnations and Spiritual levels.

Maxim: Leonardo, I greet you. And the first question: please tell me, since you came, does it mean your Spirit is not embodied now?

Irina: Not embodied.

Maxim: Tell me, please, at what Spiritual level are you now?

Irina: Now I am at level 17.

Maxim: At level 17, did you emerge as Leonardo da Vinci or were you still incarnating?

Irina: No, I have already incarnated, but on another planet. This was not in the Milky Way galaxy. It was a humanoid type civilization. Shows creatures similar to the Gihors, but says that they are not in our Galaxy.

Maxim: After Leonardo da Vinci was, did you manage to incarnate one or more times?

Irina: Once.

Maxim: What is the lifespan of the civilization in which you incarnated?

Irina: If we translate into earthly years, the lifespan of that civilization is about 600 years. But I stayed there in embodiment for 300 years, because my body died as a result of a space expedition due to the imperfection of the ship during experiments. I came out of a gravitational jump near a star (this civilization was only testing gravitational engines).

Shows a picture of how it happened: it came out almost in the chromosphere of a star, some kind of red giant. The shell of the ship melted and a mini-explosion occurred. This ship exploded because its shell collapsed within the high-temperature space near the star.

Maxim: What did you do in your last incarnation?

Irina: I was an astronaut, a tester of ships new to our civilization, which already exist in the Interstellar Union.

They are talking to LiSioni now. LiScioni says gravity-powered ships have been around for a long time. And in that galaxy, which is located in the constellation Monoceros, the local Interstellar Union is just being formed. There are only a few planets there, and they are still conducting experiments on the rapid movement of spaceships. And he is one of the testers.

Maxim: Great, that is, in your previous incarnation you were a tester.

Please tell me, do you remember well your life when you were incarnated as Leonardo da Vinci? At what level have you incarnated?

Irina: I remember. I incarnated in Leonardo da Vinci on the 15th level.

Maxim: And disincarnated, if it’s not a secret?

Irina: On the 20th.

Maxim: During the life of Leonardo da Vinci, you rose five levels.

Irina: Yes. And now it came out on the 17th. I dropped three levels because, due to my profession, I did not pay enough attention to the development of spirituality; the development was more technical. And there was an exit from the incarnation ahead of schedule due to a disaster.

14:04 The spirit of Leonardo da Vinci about childhood in earthly incarnation.

Maxim: Leonardo, I haven't read deeply about you. I can’t even imagine when this could have been done, because I travel all the time. Can you tell us where you were born, when Leonardo da Vinci was, and how you initially grew up, in what family, where were you raised?

Irina: Yes, I remember that. You call me Leonardo da Vinci. So, the second part of this name is not a name, but the city where I was born. It still exists. It's called Vinci. As a Spirit, I remember: I was born and until I was four years old, I was raised by my mother, her name was Ekaterina. And after that, my dad took me to his new family, where I had a stepmother. She and her dad lived poorly, fought, and then she left the incarnation (died). Then my dad married again, that is, he changed families. My dad worked with papers, as a lawyer, but I didn’t want to do that. I missed my mom. This is how my childhood passed.

Maxim: Why did you miss your mother?

Irina: Because I remembered her at four years old, I asked my dad to return to her so that they could get together. But dad said that he had a casual relationship with her, he did not want to live with her. She was of low birth - a servant, that is, below him, and he was of fairly high origin.

Maxim: It turns out that your dad left when you were four years old, and you lived with him?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: So dad left or mom left?

Irina: My dad took me from my mom. Because my mother and I lived poorly together. When dad came and picked me up, mom couldn't do anything. She was illiterate. I just took it and that's it.

Maxim: Do you know if your mother was from this area or another?

Irina: My dad told me that she came from somewhere in the east (from the banks of the Danube or further east, from somewhere in these countries).

Maxim: Was your mother beautiful?

Irina: Yes. He shows me the image of a young woman, quite dark, such long black hair, black big eyes. He shows it as he remembered it.

18:18 The spirit of Leonardo da Vinci about his artistic abilities on Earth.

Maxim: Interesting. Tell me, please, where did you study later, how did you comprehend science?

Irina: I studied to be an artist, my father sent me to a neighboring town to a master, a fairly elderly man. I learned from him to draw pictures and sculpt sculptures, crafts from wax or clay, and trained to translate images into material forms.

But my father didn't want to send me there. He wanted me to earn a lot of money, to also be a lawyer like him, to deal with clients, but I didn't want to, I wasn't interested. Then I painted a picture with a woman in front of my father; I was twelve years old at the time. When dad saw how I drew it, he was very surprised and sent me to study, but at first he didn't want to.

Maxim: It turns out that it was embedded in the memory of your Spirit that you are a good artist?

Irina: I wanted to draw, because before this incarnation, until the moment I incarnated as Leonardo, I was an art teacher on the planet Esler.

Maxim: That's where it comes from – an art teacher.

Irina: I didn't remember this, but I was always drawn to depict something. It was warm enough for us. We lived in the city (but shows an almost rural area, trees everywhere, a forest with paths, shows that he sees a lizard, remembers what it looks like, comes home - he has a sandy area near his house - takes a stick and draws on the sand from memory) .

21:15 The spirit of Leonardo da Vinci about earlier incarnations on Earth.

Maxim: Leonardo, please tell me, have you had any other interesting, significant incarnations in our galaxy, besides Leonardo da Vinci on Earth. I believe that Leonardo da Vinci was a very significant incarnation, because we still remember you. Based on your sketches and drawings, people create entire machines and devices. What other significant incarnations have you had?

Irina: I had a significant incarnation, but it was during the time of Christ.

I was a Roman soldier named Elastrus. I was the same Roman soldier who was sent to guard the tomb of Christ when he was buried.

Maxim: So you are one of those who were immobilized by Archangel Gabriel (Mirah Count).

Irina: I didn't know that it was Archangel Gabriel. He is now showing me this event, switching to another part of his memory.

LiScioni also welcomes everyone and says that the disembodied Spirit can turn to different parts of its memory, because all its memory of all lives is collected in the general memory of the Spirit. Therefore, he tunes into one or another part of the memory and can show pictures that he experienced in different bodies. The memory is accessible to him, not blocked, he is not embodied.

Maxim: Did you participate in the war 12 thousand years ago on either side?

Irina: In the war 12 thousand years ago, I was embodied in a plasmoid civilization in the Deneb star system, I was embodied there for about 3 thousand Earth years. Then he came out of incarnation. At what level of density I was embodied - now I will calculate what your density levels are, because they are considered differently by plasmoid civilizations. On the 48th, that is, in a fairly "thin" civilization.

Maxim: "Undensified", I would say.

24:04 The spirit of Leonardo da Vinci on his passion for music.

Maxim: Let's return to Leonardo. When you were four years old, you went on to study to become an artist, a sculptor - and what happened next?

Irina: I was interested in music. He shows me one of that teacher's students: his name was Sebastian or Sebastian, he was fond of music and taught me to play an instrument - such a round thing, and there are strings there, like a harp, only small.

Maxim: Domra?

Irina: No. It looked like a shell, it was made of silver, and there were strings.

25:00 The spirit of Leonardo da Vinci about interests in earthly life.

Maxim: What you invented, what you created - where did you get these images from?

Irina: I could take from the Bible, for example, from the world around me. He could draw some rulers, their actions, some battles, wars. I could also draw nature and people. I took scenes from biblical tales: for example, I drew Jesus, the Virgin Mary. And I painted a lot to order, because, as I said, I studied with an artist. I also wrote down poems in my notebook (personal diary), I wanted to write a book. I wrote various observations of nature. Then I became interested in what a person looks like. And I took lessons from an anatomist, who told me what a human skull or a human eye looked like, and drew them.

Maxim: Did you conduct experiments on people yourself in order to understand what was inside them?

Irina: Above people - no. I conducted experiments on animals.

He shows me a bird, like a dove. He bought it at the market and painted it both outside and inside. I opened it up and drew what it looked like inside.

Maxim: Why did you do this?

Irina: I was interested in how everything works there, I studied anatomy.

Maxim: Yes, I studied anatomy. Where did you get the drawings of various equipment? It seems to me that it was not even very earthly equipment at that time.

Irina: I was just thinking about a lot of things and how to make a person's life easier. For example, when I lived in the palace of the King of France (shows a tall castle), I was tasked with making a staircase that ran from the basement to the roof. Then I also worked on making a bridge across a river in an abyss (such a mountainous area, that is, he was also involved in archeology). I came up with these mechanisms to make my work easier.

28:48 The spirit of Leonardo da Vinci about contact with a representative of the planet Shimor.

Maxim: So you just came up with mechanisms?

Irina: I thought then that I was just making it up. And already when I left the incarnation, I realized that representatives of the planet Shimor, that is, the LiShioni race, were in contact with me. I have not been in contact with him, but he knows who I have been in contact with. They came to me through a dream (you call it the Astral), through the Spiritual world and suggested various ideas to me. When I was thinking about something, about some idea, I asked myself what it could look like. And either on that day or the next day an idea came to me as an image - and I drew it.

30:33 The spirit of Leonardo da Vinci about the capsule "Cell of Inner Light".

Maxim: At the moment I have something based on your sketches. I'll tell you now, explain and try to explain to Irina what these sketches are. I can't show them on camera now. Then I will make a separate good video where I will show you all this equipment. I would like to ask you. You had a sketch of a very interesting camera with 16 "petals" that are closed together like palms. And the most interesting thing is that this chamber consists of three types of metal, which are superimposed on each other through dielectrics, through wood. Do you have any memories of this sketch at all? Because it was found in the Vatican - and based on this sketch, the nuclear physicist assembled a unique installation

Irina: Are you talking about a capsule, the so-called “cell of inner Light”?

Maxim: What is it called? Capsule “cell of inner Light”?

Irina: Yes. It should have no sharp corners.

Maxim: Yes, it has no sharp corners, is semicircular, it has 16 plates that expand towards the center, they are assembled in a circle. The first metal is stainless steel, the second metal is copper, and the third metal is aluminum.

Irina: I installed other metals there, especially since there was no aluminum then.

Maxim: There are alloys, not pure metals.

Irina: Aluminum - I know what it is, from another life, from life on a planet from another galaxy, it is there. But at the time when I lived in Leonardo’s body, we did not yet have such metals. I don’t know when it appeared on Earth, when it was discovered and began to be used in various techniques. But when I lived there, he was not there. There was copper, there was iron, there was silver, gold. There were various alloys. Well, of course, mercury, etc.

Maxim: Yes, mercury, unfortunately, was used to melt some structures. Please tell me, how did you make this camera?

Irina: And what do you call steel?

(LiScioni): Steel is iron, but there is nickel, chromium and other metals, it also did not exist when Leonardo lived.

Maxim: Leonardo, please tell us about the “capsule of inner Light” that existed in your time, because this one is assembled in the image and likeness of the capsule that you drew. What does it look like, what does it consist of?

Irina: At first it was called “capsule of internal Light”, and later I called it “capsule of golden glow”, so named by analogy with the “golden ratio”. It was made according to the principles of the Golden Ratio. There were different curved strips - not like wires, but thicker ones.

Maxim: Yes, sheets of metal.

Irina: He shows me that it was internal filling, and on top there was wood.

Maxim: Yes, there are wooden plates on top, now I can even show Irina and you what these plates look like. I can't show the whole camera now, but I can show part of what these plates look like.

Irina: He looked through me. He says the metal shines interestingly. He used certain sheets of iron, pure copper and silver. He used silver instead of aluminum, as I understand it.

Maxim: Yes, by the way, aluminum has a silver coating.

Irina: There were various experiments, but only when I met King Francis, because before that I did not have the funds for various metals. I rearranged different layers, placed one metal closer to the inner edge, then another, experimented.

Maxim: I’ll tell you that based on all your notes, all your sketches, alloys were specially collected. These are not pure metals, these are actually metal alloys, there are semi-precious metals fused into copper. And this is not pure stainless steel, there is also an alloy, I just can’t talk about the technology.

Irina: At that time there were no such technologies for different alloys and different metals, they were simpler.

Maxim: I'll tell you even more. You described what the electrons of these alloys look like, and the alloys were made based on this.

Irina: Yes, I described what they should ideally be like, the so-called ideal “cell of inner Light” or “cell of inner golden radiance.” “Cell” I called it, because in it they seem to retire and withdraw into themselves, as you call it, into contemplation of the flow of time, which is superimposed on the ethereal flows of the subtle material structure of space that permeate this cell.

Maxim: Did you make such a camera for yourself?

Irina: I sat in it and did experiments.

Maxim: Tell me honestly, what did you see in this cell?

Irina: I saw different options for the future.

Maxim: Yes, researchers told me about this.

Irina: I saw space. In this chamber there was clearer contact, I saw stars. I saw that the stars were approaching and the Earth was moving away; I saw Space as a dream. And when I saw various pictures, I asked myself: “What is this?” And I received answers that this is the future. But it was only when I came out of embodiment that I realized that these were different futures that were changing. One option could give way to another.

Maxim: Yes, I have recordings of working with this camera, there really were variations of the future, and many variations of the future that were seen were then performed. Therefore, the camera is really very interesting. Can you travel through time in this chamber?

Irina: Physically, no, this is not considered a trip. But mentally, mentally

- yes.

Maxim: Can you dive into the Time Tape and see your future in different variations?

Irina: You can look at the past. But I didn’t focus on it. I was interested in the future of my fatherland, how a certain confrontation between princes or counts would end.

And then (I remember it was in the evening, on the full moon) I looked so far into the future that I saw some strange machines that were engaging in battle with people. They were riding without a horse, and on top of them were what I thought were strange clubs with a hole in the middle.

Maxim: The tanks are ours.

Irina: I thought: “What is this? This is some kind of dream."

41:10 The spirit of Leonardo da Vinci about encrypted diaries.

Maxim: There is information that you encrypted your notes. The most interesting thing is that you wrote them in mirror image. Why did you do this, why did you write in mirror image in your books?

Irina: Well, what about “why”? I still didn’t have enough to go to the fire. There were also Catholics there; they could have recognized him as a heretic.

Maxim: And burn it?

Irina: Yes, he could have executed me or hanged me.

Maxim: What, you couldn’t read the mirror image and prove that you wrote it, and then execute or hang it?

Irina: Not only were they a mirror image, they also contained a code that only I knew. These were meaningless scribbles; if they had taken them away from me, they would have understood nothing. I had several diaries, some were in mirror image, there was nothing important there, but I wrote especially important things and thoughts in code, encrypted.

42:35 The spirit of Leonardo da Vinci about the painting “Mona Lisa”.

Maxim: You know, everyone is very interested in your story of painting the Mona Lisa. Please tell me what kind of picture this is, where did you get this image?

Irina: There is also the name “Liza” - this is Lizaveta, my very good friend, one might say so (smiles).

Maxim: “Girlfriend” and “smiling” - does that mean you had something going on?

Irina: We met with her when I was young. I want to say that her father ordered me to paint her portrait. He was close to some duke, who was later killed by the French king.

Maxim: And he ordered you to paint her portrait?

Irina: Yes, before the French troops arrived in Italy, I lived almost all the time by painting to order or making sculptures to order (shows a lion and a horse). I received orders from various people who wanted to have beautiful things, they paid me money for it. Customers might come, or they might not. And one of these orders was a portrait of Lisa.

44:23 The spirit of Leonardo da Vinci on the architectonics of the space of the “Cell of Inner Light”.

Maxim: Yes, guys, I see that one of you guessed that this is a “time machine.” Yes, to some extent this is a time machine, but we will not travel with you in real time in this capsule, but we will travel in mental space through the Astral and will even be able to see some situations of the future.

Irina: That is, if we sit in this cell and leave, we will leave at the same time, not in the future.

Maxim: The chamber measures more than two meters high and more than a meter wide. You enter it, it closes, and the entire session takes place in complete darkness.

Irina: (Spirit of Leonardo da Vinci) Of course, only by remaining in complete darkness surrounded by these metals, folded into a certain structure that repeats the architectonics of space, in your opinion, the 7-8th level of density, is this possible.

Maxim: Does this chamber repeat the architectonics of space of the 7th–8th density level?

Irina: Yes, they are located like that. The chamber, naturally, consists of physical metals, but it repeats the levels precisely with its layers.

Maxim: Let's go back to the Mona Lisa. Your father ordered her portrait for you, and did you paint her personally?

Irina: Yes, of course. She came.

Maxim: Why is she in monastic form?

Irina: This is not a monastic look. It’s just her clothes, ordinary clothes of that time.

46:41 The spirit of Leonardo da Vinci on creating a family.

Maxim: Please tell me, did you have a wife? Have you left behind a legacy, descendants?

Irina: No, there was no wife.

Maxim: Why?

Irina: I was too passionate about creativity, I spent almost all my time in the workshop. And there was no energy or time for any kind of relationship. Of course, I had temporary relationships with women. We met, and when they realized that I would not give them as much attention in family life as they wanted, especially when children appeared, they left. That is, women of that time (I don't know how things are with you now) were very practical. In the sense that they immediately saw the man: whether he is reliable for family life and whether he is a good father. They didn't see this in me, they just met. They liked me, they told me that I was quite handsome.

Maxim: Did you draw your portraits?

Irina: Yes, I painted myself several times.

Maxim: Did you sign them as yourself or encrypt them somehow?

Irina: No, just a self-portrait.

Maxim: Is this your personal portrait?

Irina: There were several of them: when I was young and when I was older.

46:25 The spirit of Leonardo da Vinci on the attractiveness of the image of the Mona Lisa.

Maxim: Why do you think the Mona Lisa has such an attractive image?

There is still a huge amount of discussion about this picture. They say that you rewrote it, altered it, copied it from someone.

Irina: From her, from Lisa.

Maxim: Why “Mona”?

Irina: “Mona” is an address to a woman.

Maxim: Did you have something, did you have an affair?

Irina: Yes, we had an affair when I was drawing her.

Maxim: Oh, did you seduce her while you were drawing her image?

Irina: Yes, when I drew her, we liked each other. When we were in my studio, we sometimes had to interrupt the painting process for some other things.

Maxim: Interesting you there, while painting the picture. Is she charged with your sexual energies?

Irina: You just asked me why she has magnetic power. Because I loved this woman. This is the image of a perfect woman, which reflects the feminine essence, feminine energy, as you say.

Irina: Look what they write!

Maxim: “And you’re a walker, Leonardo!”

A creative personality, he painted great people, especially since he was without a wife.

Irina: When I painted it, I was really in love and transferred the energy of my love into this picture. Therefore it has magnetic force.

Maxim: But this smile is magical - did it happen that way or did you make it so magnetic on purpose?

Irina: I simply put the energy of my love into her, charged her with my energies, so you feel this charge.

Maxim: Now I know what I will imagine when I look at the painting “Mona Lisa”.

50:45 The spirit of Leonardo da Vinci about the painting “Savior of the World.”

Maxim: There is a big debate about whether you had such a picture – it’s called “Savior of the World”.

Irina: He shows me the painting “Savior Jesus”, where Jesus is wearing a crown of thorns.

Maxim: I don’t know, they asked a question about the painting “Savior of the World.”

Irina: He shows me Jesus in a crown of thorns.

Maxim: Is this your painting?

Irina: Yes, I painted it in the church. I was also hired by various Catholic priests to paint in the newly built church. I even rode horses to another city to paint there. And then the church paid me, I could live there for several weeks, paint the walls.

Maxim: Did the church pay well?

Irina: Yes, they paid not only me, but everyone who built this temple, and my assistants. They gave me assistants to bring me various brushes and so on. I could live near the church. Naturally, they saw how I painted and wanted me to come to them again, so they did not skimp, paying for my work, my creativity, so that I would be interested in further collaborating with them.

52:25 The spirit of Leonardo da Vinci and LiScioni about the number of levels of the Astral World.

Maxim: Well said. Leonardo, please tell me, but the “principle of the golden ratio” - why is 108 considered its number?

Irina: This is my opinion. Because the number 108 reflects the number of levels, as you call it, the intermediate world of the Astral World of the Milky Way galaxy. There are different gradations of how these levels are defined, but some people feel that it is 108 levels.

Maxim: 108 levels of what?

Irina: The astral world in our Galaxy.

Maxim: Are there really 108 levels of the Astral World?

Irina: Some people think that there are 108 levels.

Maxim: That is, in addition to that gradation of 59 levels of the subtle world?

Irina: This is not the subtle world, but the Astral world.

Maxim: And there are really 108 floors in the Astral World?

Irina: If at the level of our Galaxy, then yes.

Maxim: Very interesting. I should write an article about this later, Irish. It would be very interesting to hear what these 108 levels of astral space are, which, by the way, we have not talked about anywhere.

Irina: LiSioni is telling me now.

(LiScioni): I will now simply say according to the teachings of the Interstellar Union. You remember that there are 7 levels of the Astral World on Earth?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: The 7 chakras that are manifested through the physical body depend on this. Also, any other planet has a different number of them. It is believed that in the Milky Way galaxy, if you look at the gradations of the Interstellar Union, there are 84 levels of the Astral World. But some civilizations divide each of these levels into several more - and they get 108.

Maxim: Leonardo, the painting “Savior of the World” (this is Jesus Christ with a glass sphere) is considered the most beautiful question mark that has ever been painted. Question: is this your painting?

Irina: He didn’t show me Jesus with a glass sphere. He says that he painted Jesus, whom he called “Savior,” in a church with some kind of crown of thorns.

Maxim: And you didn’t draw Jesus with any glass sphere?

Irina: No. He doesn't confirm.

56:10 The spirit of Leonardo da Vinci about the painting “The Last Supper”.

Maxim: Tell me, did you draw the painting “The Last Supper” from the original? And how did you end up there?

Irina: I already said that at the time of Christ I was a Roman soldier. That is, I could not have been at the Last Supper; the disciples were there too. I was incarnate at that time, but at the time when the Last Supper took place, I was somewhere among the Roman soldiers.

Maxim: How did you see the image of this Last Supper? How did you draw it? Or did you go to your cell and then come back?

Irina: Not on camera, it was like I saw it in a dream. Vision. My spiritual supervisors suggested this to me. For example, one of my spiritual guides, as you call it, was Archangel Uriel. And Archangel Uriel (I found out this later when I came out of incarnation) sent me exactly this image. I then believed that he came down from above, because I considered myself a manifestation of divine harmony, which harmonizes the world around me when I was incarnated.

Therefore, the painting “The Last Supper”, what the people look like there, Jesus there in the middle, was suggested to me by Archangel Uriel, my curator, that is, he sent me the image. And I painted it, I later recalled this image in my memory: all the clothes that the characters in the picture were wearing, the expression of the eyes, the expression of the faces. That’s how I saw it, and that’s how I depicted it.

Maxim: But they say that you portrayed Christ when you imagined a boy from the church choir - is this true?

Irina: What?

Maxim: When you painted Christ in the painting “The Last Supper,” did you see his image or did you take this image from somewhere?

Irina: No, it just came to me from above. Just as I imagined.

58:49 The spirit of Leonardo da Vinci on his relationship with Michelangelo.

Maxim: (reads the chat) “Were there any like-minded friends around Leonardo who were similar in spiritual vibrations?”

Did you have friends who were the same artists, also painted, also related to the biblical theme?

Irina: Yes, I had various artists.

Maxim: (reads the chat) “Why did you and Michelangelo have such a strained relationship?”

Irina: The name just sounded a little different. Read it again.

Maxim: Michelangelo. Or pick something similar in sound. Michelangilo.

Irina: Not Mikel. Like Mikhail, more likely. And not Angelo. He now shows a young guy.

I wouldn’t say that there were strained relations, we just argued a little about different subjects of art. You could say that he saw me as a competitor in front of his teacher.

1:00:21 “Golden Ratio Glow Chamber.”

Maxim: Very interesting. Tell me, please, how much equipment was assembled based on your sketches?

Irina: I didn’t follow this, I was later incarnated on another planet, I don’t know. You told me about the sketch that I drew. “The Cell of Inner Light.”

Maxim: I liked “The Golden Ratio Capsule” better.

Irina: “Golden glow capsule.” I’m just reading it, the contactee speaks Russian, and in Russian there are similar words “section” and “glow”, so I used this expression, I also liked it. I learned from you that it is implemented in this form.

Maxim: I’ll invite you later, I’ll invite MidgasCaus, and together we’ll talk a little more about this chamber, how it affects a person from the point of view of the physical body, from the point of view of subtle structures and from the point of view of the Spiritual world, of course. This will be a separate cool broadcast when we have already built a building for this equipment, because the equipment is very large.

I know that you don’t know about the second equipment, I won’t ask you. This is about the “Kozyrev camera”.

Irina: He doesn’t know who it is.

Maxim: Yes, he doesn’t know.

Irina: They already wrote: “Golden Ratio Glow Chamber.” They have already composed a poem for us.

Maxim: By the way, I propose to call this equipment this way, now I’ll even write it down: “golden section luminescence chamber.” It sounds very nice. This is unique equipment. There is no other equipment like this in the world. The nuclear physicist who assembled it died, went out into the transition and asked his son to transfer this equipment to our Center. So I went and picked up this equipment.

And we will even install a separate building for this equipment, because it is very large. It is impossible to place it anywhere, you can only make a separate building for it, so that everyone who wants to come to our Center can spend time there. Because we will spend 45 minutes in the “Kozyrev chamber” and 45 minutes in the “golden section luminescence chamber”.

Irina: I already feel that I will sit in this cell, contact our friends and tell them what they say.

Maxim: Well, Irin, I will let you, of course, be the pioneer into this chamber. I'm even interested in what you'll see in that cell.

Irina: What plasmoids will we meet?

Maxim: And we will shoot a separate video where you will find yourself in this cell. I think that you will tell me a lot of interesting things in this cell.

Irina: I'll also activate Burkhad's matrix there.

Maxim: Oh, listen! And there are special channels there on both sides, below and above. In general, it will be cool!

1:04:25 The ghost of Leonardo da Vinci about the mother.

Maxim: Yes, it is true that Leonardo's mother was of Eastern origin.

Irina: He says that she was from the east, but he didn't remember her from the age of four and never saw her again.

1:04:37 The spirit of Leonardo da Vinci on the similarity of physical bodies.

Maxim: (reads messages from the chat) "I look like all the women from your paintings."

Oh, Leonardo, look, there is such serious flirting here. "I look like all the women in your paintings," what would that mean? There is a woman who looks like all the women in your paintings.

Irina: What does this mean?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: This may well mean that you incarnated at that time, and therefore your body took such forms. And perhaps it was you that I have been drawing all my life. And it's a pity that we didn't meet.

Maxim: Look, he’s flirting too, wow! This is interesting.

1:05:37 Message to earthlings from the disembodied Spirit of Leonardo da Vinci.

Maxim: Leonardo, imagine, you once saw the future, options. Imagine that you are now in this future, but you are in the Spiritual world. What message would you like to convey to the people in your future now?

Irina: I wanted to tell you, dear earthlings, because I remember myself as a resident of the Earth, and a resident of another planet, and a resident of Esler, and those who are on this planet in another galaxy. And now, synthesizing the experience of various incarnations, I want to address each of you with a reminder that you are eternal immortal Spirits. And that the person who looks at this world through the eyes is part of a larger entity that contains the experience of many people and not only people, but also many beings. Therefore, I want to wish you, set only high goals in your life: this is Love, this is beauty, this is helping others, this is knowledge and, of course, creativity. I thank Maxim for meeting the person who created this capsule and transported it to your Center.

Maxim: I transported it myself.

Irina: And for these goals that I wish you to achieve, I am sure that this camera, this “capsule of the glow of the golden ratio” will help you, because it will help you go into more elevated states of mind and comprehend Eternity there.

Maxim: Thank you, Leo, thank you so much for devoting time, which you don’t have in the Spiritual world, to us here on this planet.

Irina: Yes, for you this is a certain time, for me it is a subjective time, which for me, by the way, passed subjectively very, very quickly, because I was pleased to be with you in your field. You are very creative people and also want to improve this world, just like I did in my time.

Maxim: I really want a piece of you to always be present in our Center. Because in our Center we will also create new and different equipment, which is what we are doing now. And, in this regard, of course, I would like to tell you a lot of different news. But first of all, I want to thank you for coming.

Irina: Yes, thank you.

Maxim: We are not saying goodbye.

Irina: I'll tell you now. We thank Leonardo and also thank LiScioni for his assistance in this contact. And now we will have news of our Cassiopeia project. I ask you to pay attention to them, because they are no less important for all of us than news from the Spiritual world. After all, the material world is a continuation of the Spiritual. Now we have told you the vision of your spiritual brother from the Spiritual world, and now I ask you to know and listen to the news from the material reflection of the Spiritual world, which our spiritual brother embodied in this body will convey to you.

Maxim: Yes, the head of our Project.

Irina: I want to thank you all, see you again!

Maxim: So, we will now have the most interesting news of our Project!

Dear friends, as you many know, we had a retreat in Moscow in our new Center, a wonderful opening of the Center took place. I am waiting for everyone who did not have time to visit us at the Center to visit us in Moscow at the Center. Sometimes in the evenings you can go to the evening bath. We have a wonderful bathhouse attendant there who knows how to properly give bathhouse events.

I would like to inform everyone that from December 1 to 8, we can meet with all of you in Minsk. We are opening our wonderful new Center in Minsk. Viola, hello! Girls, hello. I know that very cool, highly qualified specialists will work there, esoteric “lighters” who can really light up the Belarusian Center. They officially prepared the documents. We have an official organization, an official “sect”, which will carry the principles that were laid down in the original organization registered in Russia. We will continue to unite.

Therefore, from December 1 to 8, everyone who is near Minsk in different territorial zones can come to our retreat, where Ilya Alexandrov will conduct training, where Guzel Malyarova and Katerina will be present, who will conduct “Cosmohealing” sessions. It's all-inclusive, except for personal receptions. Everyone who studies at our retreats gets personal appointments with Irina - this is our new policy, a new trend in our organization. Therefore, from December 1 to 8, we are waiting for you in Minsk, we are waiting for you at our wonderful training retreat. This will be the 1st level of contacting. And, accordingly, at the opening of the Center, many masters will receive the Center: these are “Crownoscope”, “Aurabook”, “Oberon” and other types of different massage techniques - everything will be in our new Center in Belarus.

Then the information about Abkhazia changes again, we have decided for sure. I was simply misinformed that there were no tickets to Abkhazia, so we canceled our retreat in a wonderful place and moved it to the Center in Voronezh. By the way, there is a link under this video in order to get to this retreat: where to call, write, what application to submit. The number of places there is really limited: 48 people are already there - only 70 people will be there. Few places left. Call, write, declare yourself, I will be glad to see you in Minsk.

And one more very important news: we will have New Year in Abkhazia, guys. This will not be just a retreat, it will be just a mega-movement with a huge number of different masters - even those who have not yet been in the Project. We have new masters there. This retreat will be called “all inclusive”; there will be no need to distribute any “donation” to the masters. There will be masters' practices all day long. For us, this New Year will be focused on practices - “practical New Year”. It will be divided into zones, into spaces. Lecture moments will be a maximum of 1–1.5 hours. And so, basically, everything will be in practice. A huge number of masters, a huge number of practices.

Therefore, guys, everyone who wants to spend this New Year with us, everyone who wants to relax with us on the seashore with wonderful practices - we will have a huge warm pool there, heated. Therefore, we are waiting for everyone in Abkhazia.

I will give more detailed information on the next live broadcast. But the fact that we have determined for sure that he is in Abkhazia - today I am announcing this only because you can buy tickets in advance. What date will it start, what date will it end, who to call - the link is under this video. Register in advance for the Abkhaz event. This will be a multi-training with a huge number of masters. There won't even be "advanced" prices, there will be "all inclusive". This program will be unique. Such programs, such retreats have never existed in Russia. There will be about 9 different families and types of masters, from different directions, from different faiths.

I won't tell you everything, I will leave it a secret for those who will actually be able to get to this unique event. But this has not yet been done in Russia. There has never been such a number of masters, relatively speaking, included in the event. I don't even know what to call it correctly. Irin, what will it be like when it's always just practice, practice, practice? By the way, you have as many as 6 practices there.

Irina: Spiritual training.

Maxim: Mega-spiritual training! New Year's, where you and I can not listen to any boring lectures, and not think that we are always late for something. It will be all day. You will be able to visit different masters, different practices, different personal sessions. This super-mega-training "all inclusive" will be on New Year's Day, if I'm not mistaken, from December 29 to January 7. There we have 9 days of wonderful rest with practice, with field trips to places of power. In general, let's have a complete rest. I don't want to burden myself with any kind of training this New Year; I just want to constantly engage in spiritual practices with various masters. Try, try, try and try again. Therefore, I am waiting for all the "Cassiopeans" for the New Year in Abkhazia. The link is under this video, you can read everything.

01:18:25 Cassiopeia Energy product.

Maxim: And the most important news! We have a brand new product, guys. This is a unique product, called “Cassiopeia Energy”. If you were looking for vitality, tone and energy in this space, we found them for you in this structure.

“Cassiopeia Energy” is the energy of the Earth and the Universe in every cell. This is simply a unique multicomplex, which is extracted using the acidophilic method, that is, not simply through drying, but through a nitrogen environment while preserving all the nutrients of the grains of germ wheat sprouts. And this is not just from juice, but from purified juice of germ wheat.

And the most interesting thing is that his testimony is simply phenomenal. It is without preservatives, without GMOs, without dyes, without stabilizers. This is pure nature, pure energy. Vitamins: A, C, E, K, B, B1, B6, various protein structures, substances, microelements. That is, with regular use, Cassiopeia Energy has a multifaceted effect on the human body, a natural increase in vitality, an increase in libido (both female and male). I think it will be very interesting. We have a test group, some even squealed from increased libido, so we had to reduce the libido level of the experimental group. Reduces the risk of cancer. And this is true, we have very serious research on this matter.

Helps say goodbye to anemia. Relieves conditions in cardiovascular diseases. Improves vision, removes toxins from the body, calms the nerves, helps to gain harmony, and about 65% of our group lost weight while taking our drug. Increases the effectiveness of sports training.

I'll show you even now. These are such cool capsules. They can be dissolved in water. Green powder inside. And this green powder can be used as an energy drink with a huge amount of vitamins, minerals, and different structures. And it really rejuvenates the body and affects the health of hair and nails. Therefore, I recommend this product to everyone who wants to be in a constant state of resource, in good shape. This is not a dietary supplement, this is a natural food product, guys, this is not a chemical. Everything here is very alive, the real energy of the Earth. And we extracted this energy from the Earth in a special way.

I won’t tell you all the secrets of the technology. Try it, just try what it is - and you yourself will understand what movement is, what life is and how to move. And what are the indications for use: for persons with weakened immune systems; To old people; for allergy sufferers; overweight people; those who experience frequent, constant stress; persons with chronic diseases; suffering from depression and headaches. This drug is even recommended for people with the herpes virus.

Guys, I’ll be honest, everything is created in the Project so that you can reach a resource state using natural things. And in this resourceful state, to carry a huge amount of Light, Love and give other people the opportunity, as we like to call it, to “wake up”, that is, to open their eyes and move forward together on this wonderful energy flow of joint Love and that Light, due to which we we all exist together with you.

And I want to say a huge thank you to all of you! These are not just drugs that we produce for you. These are not even drugs - they are part of the Soul of the Project. And accordingly, we guarantee you very high quality products, which I carefully monitor. And at the same time, by purchasing these products, you make it possible for the Project to exist.

Guys, I’ll be honest, this is a minimum batch, because it is very difficult to produce. There is very little of it - in total there are now 300 boxes of Cassiopeia Energy. Its price will be 2500 rubles, and if you buy 2 – 4800 rubles (this is the recommended rate).

And the money that you spend on purchasing your resource wealth goes to the development of our Project. And I, as the Project Manager, will always make sure that the Project grows and develops so that you can come in comfortable conditions. In these conditions, one can exist, stay, be educated and receive spiritual knowledge only on “donation” terms.

Guys, thank you all so much for your support. As the Project Manager, I will continue to try to find very cool things that you will use every day in the gym, in everyday life, and at work.

Try it and give feedback. If it doesn't work for you, I'm ready to return the money back. Try it, I know for sure that it works. I know for sure that all this is very cool, there are instructions there. Then you buy it, read it - it's real. I'm not kidding. It really works, there is nothing superfluous or "left-handed" here, we have passed all certifications, received all licenses and approved all the research that we conducted with this wonderful product.

"Cassiopeia Energy" for ever! We are waiting for everyone at the Minsk retreat, we are waiting for everyone in the New Year. Guys, before the New Year there is a lot of partying and fuss again. I hope that we will see you soon. I just said goodbye to some in Moscow. Until our new retreat! There will be some very interesting new energies at this retreat.

Guys, bye everyone, I'm ending this broadcast, I hugged everyone.

(reads chat) UAZ made in 1981 - I was specifically looking for this vehicle to transport manure and soil in the new Center, that's why I have this UAZ there. It costs 70 thousand rubles. I think this money can be spent on it in order to save the enormous work of those volunteers who are in our Project.

I hugged everyone, thank you again for being with us, for watching us. Irish, tell everyone "bye", otherwise they think that I'm the only one left here.

Bye everyone!

Irina: Bye everyone!

November 13, 2022

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova – contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations;

Maxim Rusan – head of the Cassiopeia Project and the Center for Spiritual and Physical Development;

LiShioni – representative of the planet Shimor, sociologist, specialist in the astral world and its interactions with the material world;

Leonardo da Vinci - disembodied Spirit, artist, scientist.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/midgaskaus-o-psihicheskih-boleznyah-profilaktika
Interstellar Alliance
May 7
MidgasKaus about mental illness. Prevention in the Interstellar Union
In the Interstellar Union, mental illnesses do not currently exist, because we are engaged in the prevention of these disorders, starting from the genetic level and, naturally, ending with the level of care for the integration of the Spirit into the body from the moment of conception. This is part of our culture.
There are prevention methods that are based on talking with your body, working with your brain, and regulating hormones. There are forms of depression when the hormonal system is upset, and this begins to affect the mood of the Spirit itself. Because, as I already said, just as the Spirit influences the body, so the body influences the Spirit while they are together. Not for the whole Spirit, but for the embodied part, for what you call the Soul. And they have an influence on each other: just as the Spirit can change the vibrations of the body and its state, so the body and its state can change the vibrations of the Spirit. This is a two-way process.
It happens that various hormonal disorders, including, for example, from an imbalance of various substances, microelements, vitamins, various intoxications, parasitosis, infectious diseases, begin to affect a certain hormonal background. And from this, emotions (the emotional component), will, begin to change, and, at first glance, causeless depression and oppression arises.
Depression is not just despondency, not just boredom, not just melancholy, it is also a certain state of the body when, for example, there is a deficiency of vital energy. Or, with some forms of inability to manage vital energy, a person begins to engage in some specific activity, which he quickly gets bored with, and he switches to something else, and as a result, nothing satisfies him, and he becomes depressed. Many races have similar forms of response, the closest to you are the representatives of the planet Disaru, they have the same physiological and energetic structure as people. But, nevertheless, the development of Interstellar Union medicine and methods of disease prevention made it possible to reduce the occurrence of mental and psychiatric problems to zero. There is not a single psychiatric hospital there; this is all decided at the level of communication with your body, with your Higher Self.

As for the Earth, I want to say that working with mental or mental illness is the very first stage in the development of your medicine in helping people. Because before eliminating any physical, deadly diseases, you first need to teach the patient to work as a whole with his brain and his body. And here what we call prevention plays a role. That is, educational standards for children in schools that teach how to work with emotions, how not to accumulate blocks, how to talk to your body so that one or another endocrine gland produces less or more hormones depending on its needs, so that harmonize everything.

For example, if we take a person, his pineal gland, pituitary gland and hypothalamus, like three musicians in an orchestra, must play absolutely harmoniously. Only then will the content of various mood mediators in the cerebral cortex be normal.

We teach from childhood to work with blocks, but, of course, this is all – free will, freedom of choice for everyone. If someone does not want to do this out of their free will, they may develop a psychosomatic illness. But we don't have a specific area of medicine that would only deal with this; then it would simply eliminate various consequences with the help of medicine.

But the technology of the Interstellar Union is quite advanced in this regard. We have many directions on how to restore humanoid bodies. There are also energy methods and physical methods. But pharmacological methods of treatment and prevention have faded into the background; they are used rarely and specifically for each cell, that is, at the cellular level. For example, we have very developed so-called nanotechnologies in medicine. There are certain microchips that can transport various substances to certain cells that are pathologically altered in a particular organ, and introduce them into the membrane of the cell itself.

This is somewhat different from your pharmacology. Because if you, for example, are prescribed a non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drug that eliminates pain, inflammation and dysfunction of the spine or any other organ, or a headache, or something else, then its effect extends not only to these organs, but and on the gastrointestinal tract, kidneys and heart. Undesirable side effects occur because you do not yet know how to precisely deliver the desired chemical to the place where it will restore the disturbed balance in your body. It affects everything at once, there is no targeted effect. And here we solved this problem about 6 million years ago.

We have such diagnostic methods, for example, in every home anyone who wishes can install them. Firstly, we have a home computer in every home; it is not just one computer that stands in a certain place, but a so-called system that is built into the walls, ceiling and floor of the house itself. And at a certain place in the wall there is a panel (shows a place on the wall of a different color), you can put your palms there, and the computer will diagnose you by the composition of your breath, by various parameters, such as, for example, the composition of the sweat released from the skin, as well as by various energy parameters of the etheric body, etc.
There are special sensors, and on a special screen in the wall they will show the state of the body, where all your indicators will be: how many substances are in the blood, what is the state of the cardiovascular system. If we translate this into earthly language, then all the parameters of the blood test, blood pressure and also various pathologies will be displayed on the screen. If there are any foreign substances or microorganisms that have caused damage, these will also be shown on the screen and the organ that is damaged will be shown and advice will be given.
Timecode: 03:11, #515 Psychotypes according to Anuashvili - two portraits of one person. Nanotechnologies of alien medicine. MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations.
November 2022
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/kineziologiya-psihologiya-samoregulyacii-lichnosti
May 7

#513 KINESIOLOGY - psychology of personality self-regulation. Energy management through the subconscious.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=3ZxN-6ttXOQ

00:00 Start of video.

00:58 Presentation of conference participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, and today there is a representative of the planet Disaru here, who is a specialist in sports psychology. He is a psychologist who trains athletes, a doctor. His name is Algir Trushiro. And, naturally, MidgasKaus is with us - a representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations.

02:00 Algir Trushiro about the history of the origins of kinesiology.

Julia: Friends, good afternoon! My name is Yulia Predtechenskaya, I am a psychologist, kinesiologist, I work with adults, children, adolescents and families. Today we will continue the topic of kinesiology, because this is a very broad area. I would like to ask a question: how was kinesiology created?

Irina: Where was it created?

Julia: Of course, there is a history of creation on Earth, but I am interested in the internal spiritual reasons for this phenomenon. Was this knowledge transmitted - or is it an invention of earthlings?

Irina: Initially or later?

Julia: First, initially, since it is known that kinesiology originated in the twentieth century in the 40s.

Irina: Such knowledge existed before, even among ancient people. Everything came from yoga: the laws of functioning of the human body and the human Soul, the psyche - it was all studied together, it was simply stated in other terms, and this is ancient knowledge that is already 5,000 years old. They had it in the time of Krishna, but the planet Shimor, for example, is more involved in this, that is, healing the body through any movements filled with thought forms.

Julia: Very interesting.

Irina: I live on the planet Disaru, whose inhabitants coincide with you in their physiology more than the Shimorians, because we are two branches from a single tree, we have the same body. MidgasCaus invited me, deciding that I could answer these questions for you, based on the structure and functions of your body. I didn't just study all this from books and information, but I can answer it myself, since I have the same body as you.

Julia: Oh, this is very interesting, great! This will, of course, be easier for us to understand.

Irina: Yes.

04:48 Algir Trushiro about kinesiology on other planets.

Julia: Then the next question. How does kinesiology continue to develop now, since there are already more than 300 different directions unofficially? What is this: some kind of transmission to us or are we ourselves so inventive?

Irina: This is combined with psychology. Each kinesiologist can be the founder of a new direction, pass it on to students, just like in yoga: there are a lot of schools in yoga, and in each school, ashram, there are many teachers, and they pass it on in different ways, putting their individual experience into this transfer. Therefore, kinesiology is not so much a theory as it is a practice. And therefore, each teacher passes on to his students, other followers, his own personal experience, which is not the same, because different people turned to him - not the same as another teacher - and he already has different experiences of interacting with different people who suffer from various ailments.

Julia: Is it possible that kinesiologists who create their own methods are contactees and receive this knowledge?

Irina: Every person is a contactee - at least with their Higher Self. Of course, there are many contactees who are in contact with external entities - they are everywhere, in any profession, including medicine and kinesiology.

Julia: It’s interesting to know what other planets use kinesiology besides Earth?

Irina: Planet Shimor is studying the influence of movements on emotions and vice versa, that is, a direct psychosomatic connection, and this was also studied on the planet Disaru. This was also paid attention to on planet Esler, but less. But the planets Burkhad and Tumesout were studied only among other sciences, without devoting much time. For all this knowledge, we have a slightly different terminology, a different understanding of these processes, because we perceive the body not just as a shell, but as a full-fledged part of a living being, a humanoid. This part, which is the manifestation of spiritual energies in the material world, and every muscle, every bone, every tendon is a manifestation of spiritual energy and embodiment. That's what we call incarnation. Although the elements of the material body are taken, naturally, from the environment - from the biosphere, atmosphere, lithosphere of the planet - but atoms and molecules, entering the body with the flow of air, food and water, as well as directly coming into contact with the environment, already being built into the body, are charged his Spiritual energy and become his continuation.

Julia: This is very similar to what is happening in such areas as energy kinesiology, where there is a lot of work about subtle bodies, about the Spirit, the Soul.

Irina: He's talking about the Spirit.

Julia: What do you mainly use kinesiology for, for what purposes?

Irina: For us, this is part of sports medicine, although we call it not "sports medicine," but "sports psychology." The inhabitants of the planet Disaru love to play sports, including competitive ones, because it gives them a feeling of victory, a sense of self-expression, self-realization. We are more like you because our brains are almost identical. There are nuances, but they are small. Therefore, the joy of movement and the joy of victory, of being the best of the best, is characteristic of us. We have quite strong power instincts, just like you.

Julia: Does kinesiology help you achieve victory?

Irina: This helps in training, and there are also some techniques that help you quickly relax, fall asleep quickly (even when something prevents you from falling asleep - some thoughts, unexpected extraneous sounds), and wake up quickly. Having relaxed your body to a certain extent, you can not hear or feel it, and it is easy to leave the body. Before the Soul leaves the body, it needs to relax. And if it does not relax, then the Soul will return.

There is also a certain diagnostic and therapeutic meaning in the fact that questions go through the body to the organs: through kinesiology we also communicate with our organs. We fill our body with light, love and communicate with its organs when something inharmonious happens to it. Although our medicine is quite developed (we have the medical technologies of the Interstellar Union), this is more of a preventive method, feedback from the body.

Julia: It turns out both prevention and very good self-regulation - the ability to manage one's states: if necessary, cheer up, if necessary, calm down.

Irina: For example, you can come to an agreement with the body. I agree with my body, for example, that as soon as my liver does not have enough fluid or there is not enough water for biochemical reactions, my muscle will work: a certain finger will give a signal or my hand will rise. You will sit and do something - and your hand will actually rise.

Yulia: This is even similar to trance techniques of self-hypnosis, when they give instructions to the body - and it begins to react. It sounds like you have a connection between kinesiology and hypnosis techniques.

Irina: We don't call it hypnosis, it's just feedback from the body, an agreement with it.

13:12 Algir Trushiro about the science of communicating with one's own body on other planets.

Julia: Great. Tell me, do you use muscle testing?

Irina: We need to explain a little what you mean by muscle test.

Julia: Muscle testing is the main tool of kinesiology, just as we use kinesiology on Earth. The main difference between kinesiology and other areas is that muscle testing is used. That is, we test the muscle and, based on its response, we understand whether there is an imbalance or not, what the problem is, what tool to use - this is the main thing. And the muscle works on the principle of "yes-no", "strength-weakness".

Irina: We are just asking this in our minds. Everyone works with themselves. We can mentally contact. But in such a way as to determine specifically by the muscles and ask "yes-no" through the muscles - of course, you can set it up that way, but we're just going the other way.

Julia: I wonder if there are planets where they use muscle testing?

Irina: I have never met anyone like that.

Julia: This turns out to be a unique phenomenon for earthlings.

Irina: Unique, yes. This is exactly what I have never seen.

Yulia: Perhaps because not everyone is able to directly talk to the authorities so quickly and see something.

Irina: Do you have a subject at school called “Safety of the Spirit in the Material Body”? You must be taught how to communicate with your organs.

Julia: There is no such item yet.

Irina: He hasn’t communicated with earthlings yet. Now we will surprise him.

Julia: Exactly. You see, we are surprised - and they are surprised: how can this be, right?

Irina: And if, for example, a child hits himself, how will he relieve the pain? Or ask what is damaged in the body, what does it need to restore? If, for example, he falls and gets scratched, he needs to ask the skin, the blood cells, turn to this place, ask him for forgiveness for his carelessness, send him the Light of love and ask: “What should I do, what substances and how to apply it in order to restore tissue? Even our parents teach this to their preschoolers.

Yulia: We should at least spread kinesiology and psychology first, so that people know at least something.

Irina: What do you think, as a psychologist, about such a subject at school?

16:05 The path of kinesiology to scientific recognition.

Julia: Great subject. But, in my opinion, society is not yet very ready, because all such innovations are still experiencing great resistance. By the way, I have a question about this: why is this so?

Irina: Resistance to what?

Yulia: Let’s say, if we take the same kinesiology: we open Wikipedia - and there are articles there that this is anti-scientific, that this is some kind of nonsense, quackery, you shouldn’t believe it. Although the methods work great, people get healthier and improve their lives. But this is exactly how it appears.

Irina: Mead is speaking now.

(MidgasKaus): I have already communicated with earthlings, with Irina and other contactees, and studied certain scientific communities through them. What you call pseudoscience - why is it called that? Because research on certain practices has not been published. There is a specific path that every innovation must go through, testing - there must be a certain scientific work. It is quite possible to carry it out for kinesiology. But for this we need a person with a higher medical education who will conduct his scientific work and who will know kinesiology.

What does he want to prove? For example, that kinesiology is effective against some disease. He is doing research. The study is usually conducted in this way: he will invite (for example, by advertisement) people who suffer from this disease, and will treat one group with the kinesiology method and the other group with the usual methods for the disease. Tests, ultrasound results, etc. must be taken from these two groups. - "before and after". After, for example, ten days, the results must be compared, and there must also be a third control group that did nothing at all. Of course, this is a rather difficult path, because you need to find people who will voluntarily participate in this experiment - and they must give written consent. Usually in such experiments (where they talk about their feelings), especially in the research of new treatment methods, people do not want to participate just like that, they ask for some kind of payment for it - this is natural. If this is a government study, then the government pays. If it is private - yours, for example, or any other doctor - the state, of course, will not pay for the interest of a private person.

And when the researcher has already looked at the results of objective scientific evidence that is accepted in your scientific community (and they are all known), when it is already clear that there is a certain effect based on the analyses, then you can already publish an abstract - or what is it called?

Julia: Research, research results.

Irina: Yes. And this can already be published, including in certain medical journals, scientific communities - now there are quite a lot of them on the Internet. But the most difficult thing is precisely the organizational and financial side of the matter: it should not be one person, but an entire organization that will undertake this research and which will face certain risks of not being able to prove anything, and being left without a review or abstract. Nevertheless, all scientists who proved something took risks and carried out their research. This is if you want to go through scientific recognition.

And besides, you need to be prepared for scientific criticism. What is scientific criticism? This is when any willing doctor or scientist in this environment who will read your abstract will doubt - there is such a thing as scientific doubt - and he can question any of your conclusions. And when he questions it, he can initiate his own research, which will either confirm or refute yours. And then either there will be confirmation or not. A scientific discussion may arise, and the main thing here is to remain in high vibrations, because in science there are no absolute truths. In science, there are certain hypotheses that are justified by other hypotheses. Only some of the hypotheses can be accepted as an axiom - and then temporarily, until proof comes that it was not true, or, for example, some new law of nature is discovered. And kinesiology for medicine (especially its energy forms) is largely connected with the new laws of nature for you. To open them to the scientific community, this requires a scientifically minded mind that will be ready to criticize and, of course, will be ready to correct its own mistakes, and is also ready to financially and organizationally invest its energy in this.

Julia: Yes, there are big challenges. Nowadays, research is gradually being carried out even in psychokinesiology, when they use special devices to measure the state of blood pressure, pulse and other physiological parameters before and after kinesiological correction.

Irina: He now tells me that the state of pressure is one thing. If you are looking at hypertension, then monitoring over time is necessary, because simply meditation or a state of altered consciousness can lower the pressure, but this will be temporary. Dynamic observation is necessary, and for this people must voluntarily write certain statements, but usually, as far as I know people, they do this for a reason, but with the desire to earn something. Precisely those on whom these experiments are carried out.

There are experiments in order to test a new medicine. First they test it on cell cultures, then they test it on animals - first on a small sample of animals, then on a large sample - and then there should be the first use in humans. As a matter of fact, this medicine should not be put on sale until it is fully tested. Who has to prove that, firstly, it is safe, and secondly, that it has a certain effect on this disease, removes some symptoms or changes some functions, chemical composition and how exactly does it change? Who should do this? Naturally, the one who invented it. If the inventor works in a pharmaceutical factory, then it bears all the expenses, now private pharmaceutical factories. After all, this is the same thing, only the medicine is not in the form of a chemical compound, but in the form of certain psychophysiological constructs.

Julia: Yes. Thanks, interesting. It is clear that much work remains to be done in order to bring this into a scientific format, if it is needed at all. It works in any case, very effectively, but research continues.

Irina: This is exactly the answer to the question about Wikipedia.

Julia: Yes, I understand.

Irina: For example, you go to the pharmacy. Would you like to buy a medicine there that has not yet been studied by anyone?

Yulia: The fact is that it is being studied and there are results, it's just not in such a familiar scientific format, although more and more research results are appearing that are already close to scientific ones. For example, in Oxford they are studying the effectiveness and reliability of the muscle test and have now come up with a figure of 75% reliability.

Irina: He is now telling me that here we just need to determine priorities, which path this or that kinesiology healer or kinesiology doctor who deals with this will take: he will follow the path, so to speak, of the esotericists - or he will follow the scientific path. There are already two different paths and two different consequences.

Julia: Yes, I agree. And there are a lot of directions: someone can go in science, someone can go closer to esotericism.

Irina: Esotericism is a completely different terminology and a different attitude. And even if energy kinesiology is translated into scientific kinesiology, then it is necessary to select terminology and formulate it more and more carefully.

Julia: Yes, it is.

Irina: I know that for you, esotericism, religion and science are three branches of a single knowledge. For us they are united, but for you it is all divided, therefore, when you enter areas, one might say, from one egregor to another, you must follow the laws of the egregor where you came.

Yulia: We have a direction, for example, psychotherapeutic kinesiology, which is already officially registered in the Professional Psychotherapeutic League as one of the areas of body-oriented psychotherapy, that is, we have managed to take such a huge step.

Irina: Psychotherapy is already a science.

Julia: Yes, yes.

Irina: So, maybe not all species are listed on Wikipedia. By the way, anyone can write Wikipedia, and if you want, you can go there and write that this particular species is recognized by science.

Julia: I have an idea, okay.

28:55 Algir Trushiro about the role of mudras in self-healing.

Julia: I want to know this thing. Because we use muscle testing here, we also use finger tests: they look like Indian mudras - different finger positions - and we use them to determine exactly where the imbalance is. There is some kind of problem - and what is its cause: is the main reason in the body and the functioning of organs, bones, muscles, or is it a chemical reason (a person ate something wrong, does not eat properly, or some other variants with chemistry), or the reason is emotional (a person has negative emotions - and this leads to problems) and so on. There are a lot of gradations in how to determine the cause, and as I understand it, since you don't use a muscle test, you probably don't use finger tests, is that right?

Irina: I know what mudras are and what they are used for. I can give an answer both esoteric and scientific - for me there is no problem moving from one terminology to another. I will give first for the esotericists. Finger tests or mudras are all one knowledge, just conveyed a little differently: either in the language of the 5th century BC and in Sanskrit, or in the language of the 21st century and in Russian, but they have a single basis, a single mental justification. This rationale was born from the experience of certain sensitive people who felt the flow of energy. The fact is that in physical hands there are ethereal channels - the channels of the etheric body. And here in the palm there is a mini-chakra - a mini-energy center through which we can exchange energy. Now what do you feel?

Julia: Some kind of warmth, expansion.

Irina: Yes, you feel my energy, right?

Julia: Yes, I feel it.

Irina: What is she like?

Julia: Soft, maternal, I would say.

Irina: If you feel energy from a distance, then you are a good empath - one who feels the state of another person, because his emotions are his energies. And you are a good psychic - a hypersensitive person who can sense energies from a distance. Not everyone can do this, but you have this sensitivity.

Julia: Thank you.

Irina: And every finger has such a channel inside - an ethereal finger.

Julia: Are these meridians? Are we talking about meridians now?

Irina: These are the channels of the etheric body. The etheric body consists of vital energy, of certain types of prana. It is also heterogeneous, it consists of several types of ethers and, accordingly, of etheric matrices of organs, including etheric matrices of fingers. And when the thumb begins to close into the ring - that is, you see, Irina's hands are positioned in such a way (palms open vertically) that the fingertips can only be folded like this (thumb closes with index finger, thumb with middle finger). But it won't work like this (index finger with middle finger). At the fingertips there are points from which energy, an etheric channel, also comes out: from this too (thumb of the left hand), and from this (thumb of the right hand). This can only be done by applying different hands (the fingertips of one hand to the fingertips of the other hand). And if we want to connect the fingers of one hand, then only with the thumb to connect the fingertips. And that's why mudras are based on all these different figures. By touching the thumb with our fingertips, we activate the flow of energy in the hand that is responsible for the etheric matrix of a particular organ. There are what you call biologically active points, but I'll explain it to you scientifically: here at the fingertips there is a collection of very sensitive receptors of the nervous system, touching which, feeling this touch and putting the meaning of healing into this touch, a person tunes his body .

Julia: It looks like you are talking about how you can heal yourself with the help of mudras, right?

Irina: Regarding mudras - yes, in addition to healing, they also have the function of increasing vibrations, like mantras.

Julia: Energy healing.

Irina: Yes. There are even special mudras for revealing the ability to communicate with Spirits, with the Higher Self, for purifying energy, for dissolving blocks. As for tests, of course, you can configure your body in such a way that you can get answers through your fingers, through finger tests. It’s just that we assume mental communication.

Julia: So you can just ask what the reason is, right?

Irina: Actually, you can ask this too, but everyone should ask their body, and the teacher only tells you how to do it. Because the physical body mentally gives it an answer.

Julia: Yes, I understand what you are talking about.

Irina: And you have finger tests, muscle tests are used to diagnose another person who does not speak with his body or with his Higher Self. So that by touching him, you can feel this answer yourself.

Julia: Yes, it is. It just speeds up the process a lot, and besides, many people really don't have access to their Higher Self or don't know how to contact and receive answers from the body. That’s why a muscle test is such a lifesaver, because you can help anyone if you have a muscle test.

36:35 Algir Trushiro about the safety precautions of a practicing kinesiologist.

Yulia: Please tell me, is there any safety precautions and is any safety precautions generally necessary for a practicing kinesiologist when he works with people?

Irina: It depends on who you work with. If, for example, he has signs of an infection of the bronchopulmonary system, it is better to wear a mask.

Yulia: I'm rather asking about energy things, about energy security.

Irina: Energy mask, ha ha!

Julia: Yes.

Irina: Okay. If you are talking specifically about energetic protection, then the best energetic protection is the confidence that you are already under the protection of the Light, under the protection of God and that nothing will pass to you. It's believing in yourself.

Julia: However, could there be any phenomena that you "picked up" something, although you were hoping for protection?

Irina: Of course. This may occur in people with a hypochondriacal personality.

Julia: What warehouse?

Irina: Hypochondriacal.

Julia: Only in this case?

Irina: As a psychologist, you know what this is?

Julia: Yes, of course, I know. That is, if a person himself suspects, they say, I'm going to get sick...

Irina: This is a certain psychotype of personality that is prone to anxious and suspicious states. He himself has many blocks in relation to himself, in relation to lack of faith in himself and some, perhaps, hidden blocks of fear. But he needs to not feel this: he needs to first dissolve his blocks, and then work with others.

Julia: It's all just a matter of fears, lack of self-confidence and blocks - so do you think?

Irina: If we are now talking about energy protection.

Julia: Yes, about energy.

Irina: Nothing can "attract" to you unless you attract it yourself.

Julia: And here's another moment. Perhaps some theme may resonate: if it is not fully worked out in the person himself, then he can attract.

Irina: Of course, it can also be the case when a person diagnoses: and if there is a similar block, then it can manifest itself as pain, or itching, or unpleasant sensations in the person's body. But this is his body that reacts to the energy of another body, because your body also feels energies - and if it reads something similar to itself, then it gives you certain information about your problem with an unpleasant sensation, pain, itching or dizziness. This happens, yes. There is no need to be scared, here you just need to tell this feeling: "Okay, I'll work with you when I'm alone." And be sure to then sit down, relax, calm your mind, again recall this feeling in your memory and ask what your body wanted or the part of the body in which the unpleasant sensations appeared. Ask what the body wanted to tell you with that pain. Conversation with yourself.

Julia: Yes. In such cases, we make self-correction in order to improve ourselves, or we go to another specialist to work on it.

Irina: Yes. I also already tried asking the body - and it really answers.

He answers mentally, thoughts come.

Julia: Yes. A good option, but, unfortunately, it is not available to all earthlings.

Irina: Yes, I can imagine a person coming to an appointment: “My leg hurts.” - “Let’s sit down now and ask: “What do you want to tell me with your pain?” I wonder what the person will say?

Julia: That's the point. And this concerns not only physiological problems, but also mental and psychological problems too.

Irina: For example, which ones?

Yulia: For example, a person has problems in relationships or problems with work, some kind of stress.

Irina: Does he have problems or problems with him?

Yulia: It could be both at the same time, but if a person came to an appointment, then this is probably his problem. Why would he suddenly start working with someone else? He perceives the situation as problematic, creating discomfort: he cannot, for example, start a family or cannot find mutual understanding in the work team.

Irina: To create a family you need the desire and energy of not one person, but two.

Yulia: On the one hand - yes, on the other hand - your own blocks can interfere, and if they are not worked out, then the search becomes difficult.

Irina: If he hasn’t worked through his blocks, then what problems can we talk about somewhere outside of him if he hasn’t worked with himself yet?

Julia: Then I don’t know. In general, we have very few people who come even for psychotherapy, very, very few who come to work with themselves. And only a few people know about kinesiology, so we have a huge field for activity.

Irina: They are both smiling now. And in a nutshell: when you meet a person and he makes his request, you ask what his problem is and what goal he wants to achieve. You understand which way you need to take it from the request to the goal. And when he says this (he will also say what he wants) - briefly but clearly explain to him in simple words that he acts on his own, you will simply help him. Then he can find out everything himself, ask, clarify and dissolve through his own, for example, superconsciousness - you can use this term or “subconsciousness”, it is not necessary to say: “Higher Self” - you can also say “your Divine essence”. What is the word God, in my opinion, do all Russian people know?

Julia: Yes, they know, of course.

Irina: Even atheists - they simply call nature God. This means they will understand “your natural essence.”

Yulia: You can, of course, tell me, but I have an easier way for many: I simply teach kinesiology to those who want, people from scratch, who know nothing, who can have absolutely any education.

Irina: I feel that you are still receiving people.

Julia: Yes, both admission and training.

Irina: Because many energies pass through you.

Julia: Which ones?

Irina: It’s clear that you work with many people, there’s a flow. And you get tired sometimes too.

44:20 Algir Trushiro about energies, channels, author's methods.

Yulia: That's why I'm asking some questions. Maybe you can give me some advice on how to be less tired? How to maintain energy when you practice, when you teach?

Irina: The best way to preserve your energy is to understand that you are helping people, and that you are giving them the opportunity to raise their vibrations, to be happier, to be more loving, to be loved. And this will give inspiration, and "inspiration" from the word "Spirit" - your Spirit, which is the Higher Self in the Spiritual World, has breathed into you new energies, new strength.

Yulia: This, of course, supports when this process is going on, especially when you see the results - it gives energy. I just wanted to ask about energy. What energies do kinesiologists work with? Are these personal channels, a personal energy channel?

Irina: If he is not a contactee, yes, it can be a personal channel. If he is not a contactee with someone other than the Higher Self, then these could be his energies. If he is a contactee with plasmoid civilizations, these are his curators: if they wish, if they want, they can give him their energies. Angels can give their energies. Humanoids: for example, I am now outside the body, and Mid is outside the body - we can, if we wish, direct Irina or even you (but for this we will need to move into your space) into your aura our energy, that is, our life force, which (part of it) is also located around the astral body. You can also give energy for some purposes: for example, to support a person, to restore his energy structures, his etheric matrices, to calm him down, and so on.

Julia: In this case, it turns out that each specialist can work on completely different energies, depending on who he has a connection with, what vibrations he has.

Irina: Yes, exactly who he has a connection with. It even happens that if he has a connection with plasmoid civilizations that understand themselves, their mission as healing, or with Angels, then they give him light vibrational energy filled with the Divine Light of love. But if a person who came to an appointment received this energy of love, and then went and began to lower his vibrations, the energy of love will not only begin to leave him, but simply those light forces that gave this energy will give him such lessons, so that he understands that he is lowering his vibrations, so that he does not use their light energies for some destructive purposes.

Julia: Interesting. This is when the energy of the specialist and the energy of the client do not match, right?

Irina: This is when, for example, the light channels filled a person, but the person came and began to quarrel with his family. And he may get worse, an aggravation will occur, because those Higher powers - Angels and plasmoids who gave the energy - feel that he has used it destructively, and do it in such a way that he will begin to experience pain or an aggravation. So that he comes to his senses, looks at himself, takes care of his problem, and not the problems of the relatives whom he is trying to remake. I'm just saying this as one example.

Julia: It’s interesting that one of the methods I work with, the kinesiological method, says that we work with common energy. Not with some personal channel, but with general cosmic energy, and we provide a person with exactly the energies that he needs, his personal ones, for his problem.

Irina: Even if you work with general energy, there are still those guides in the Spiritual world or in the subtle worlds who help this ocean of energy become streams and flow first into your field.

Julia: So there are always more assistants?

Irina: Yes, there are such “stewards” who regulate the flow. Now he’s showing me the water tap: either do less or do more - regulators, yes.

Julia: But is it really possible for a person to channel exactly his energies? So that there is not such an imbalance that he may not be ready for a certain frequency of energy and he needs to conduct his own.

Irina: And for this we need to warn him: if he feels better and again destroys himself with some negative thoughts, feelings and emotions, then perhaps he will have an aggravation, because this is a lesson from the Higher powers due to the fact that he returned to destructive states again. As soon as your Spirit or your mind, one might say, returns to a destructive state, the body immediately reacts. Is it possible to explain to every person - I just explained it in understandable words?

Julia: Yes, of course.

Irina: For example, will any person who comes to see you understand this?

Julia: Yes.

Irina: You can explain it this way. If he even has a question about how you know about this, then you can say: “I study many scientific and spiritual practices of the world, and also communicate with my intuition, with my Divine Self, with my Light.” Or you can simply say that this knowledge came from the heart or from the Spiritual world. You also need to look at how to say it so that a person understands that this is your knowledge that you took, for example, from intuition. Or, for example, he is generally a materialist and will be wary - this is my experience as a kinesiologist.

Julia: There is one interesting nuance. The fact is that many people know how to do it. Nowadays there are a lot of people who read about psychology and study some spiritual things. And many people know how to do it: that there is no need to be on low vibrations, there is no need to linger in negative emotions.

Irina: You can say, not “vibrations”, but simply “emotions”.

Julia: Yes, emotions. There is no need to get stuck in negativity, you need to think positively, get into some positive settings of your own, and harmonize. But the problem is that when there are blocks, it is very difficult for a person to do this. And, in fact, one of the tasks of psychokinesiology is to help with this, to help reconfigure the subconscious, to remove blocks.

Irina: Of course, this can be very difficult to do, but nevertheless, any step towards the Light adds Light to a person's mind - and he already sees the next step. The one who walks will master the road.

Julia: Yes, I agree. This is such a complex job. Through correction, we helped to work with the subconscious, remove blocks, and now we say to the conscious mind: "Well, you, too, try to keep yourself positive."

Then I want to ask you this. If there are authors who created the method through their channels and received this information as a contactee, can the authors of the method block this channel and stop the method from working? Is it possible?

Irina: No. Their curators are already working with other people, their students.

Yulia: That is, if the method is transferred, it will continue to work regardless of what the author wants? Interesting, thanks.

Irina: The author of the method is not its owner - he is a conductor who initiated the appearance of this or that information in the physical world of planet Earth, but he is not the owner of this information, just a conductor.

Julia: Thank you.

53:28 Algir Trushiro about the universality of kinesiology.

Julia: Please tell me, do you think there are any contraindications to kinesiology? Or is it such a universal thing that suits everyone?

Irina: There are no contraindications. Naturally, a person must be in a conscious state, without acute febrile states, without acute states of delirium, psychosis, when a person does not understand anything, because he simply cannot give you feedback.

Julia: But a muscle test can do it!

Irina: There are different states. You still need to talk so that the person at least tells you what his question is and what his goal is. Otherwise, this is a universal technique, like yoga. We can say that this is yoga using the energy of another person. There are yogis who also work with the internal energies of the body, even without any specific poses, just mentally - there are such forms of yoga.

54:55 Algir Trushiro about the importance of a kinesiologist's work on himself.

Julia: What do you think is the most important thing for a kinesiologist to work effectively as a kinesiologist?

Irina: As I already said, it's constantly being "clean", constantly working on eliminating your blocks, if there are any. If they are not there, then make sure that you do not acquire any blocks, do not adapt any energies to yourself, and become a pure conductor. If you even feel anger, irritation, resentment, do not block it, do not push it into the subconscious part of your memory. Just imagine that you are in the flow and at the same time passing this energy through yourself, and immediately ask the question what you want to change now, why. And so on, with each emotion having its own job. It is very useful for a kinesiologist to keep an emotional diary so that he can track his emotional state. Also, in order to be a pure conductor, feel a person well and conduct the energies of healing systems through oneself, it is necessary to remove and harmonize negative mental attitudes, which can also generate blocks. But mental attitudes are usually a "take-give" conflict, a certain egoistic understanding of love and a certain distrust of oneself, and the world, and God. These negative mental attitudes, which may have been received in the family, in upbringing, must be identified and replaced with positive ones.

Julia: Yes, yes, that's roughly how kinesiology works.

Irina: He still needs to work on himself.

Julia: Yes, naturally. All specialists must either work with themselves, or turn to someone, go to their own therapy.

Irina: You can go to someone else, but this does not negate the responsible increase in your vibrations.

Julia: Yes. Interesting. The reliability of the muscle test is interesting - it is now estimated at 75%, but this is an average figure. It is clear that there are those who will test with a higher reliability, and there will be those with a lower one. How do you think we can make testing reliability as high as possible?

Irina: Increase sensitivity through the methods that I have listed. Also work on opening your chakras and energy centers. Increase energy levels. Engage in energy practice: the same yoga, qigong increase energy, various meditations.

Yulia: Raising energy levels - yes, it's interesting. We also say that it is necessary to test the "state of ignorance," that is, not expect any answer.

Irina: Naturally, you need to say the first answer. But in order for it to come without distortion, you need to be pure.

Julia: Yes, to be a pure conductor. Thank you.

It is also very interesting to compare the effectiveness of kinesiology and other areas. If we take, for example, energy directions - there are many of them now: reiki, thetahealing, cosmoenergetics, cosmohealing - is it possible to make some kind of comparison or is it difficult?

Irina: What does "comparison" mean?

Julia: Efficiency. To what extent will the methods produce the desired healing effect?

Irina: This is individual for everyone. Which suits whom? And it happens very often when some combination is effective.

59:37 Algir Trushiro on identifying physical and spiritual needs.

Julia: Here’s a question. There is such a thing as sabotage, when even a muscle test deceives: that is, the client subconsciously for some reason does not want to get the result that he claims. So he comes to an appointment, declares, for example, that he wants to earn such and such an amount of money per month, but the body shows that it does not, that it is sabotaging this result. How can you explain such a phenomenon?

Irina: So he is in an illusion. He accepted the goal of some other person or group of people as his own, and his Higher Self gives him a different answer through the body. It's like self-deception. In this case, if he names the amount, you need to ask: “What amount per month would suit you?” He will name, for example, a specific one. “What would you spend it on? How will she help you become happier?” If this is not his goal, he will either find it difficult to answer, or will say that he will spend it on someone, for someone. Then say: “No, but how exactly for yourself? You want to make yourself happy. What do you need this money for, you personally - not someone from your environment, but specifically you?” And it is very useful to ask yourself to realize what your material needs are. You need to ask how much money would be enough for you personally for a comfortable stay and spiritual development. What does the concept of comfort include? Of course, it is different for everyone, but usually it is the satisfaction of physical and spiritual needs. Here, if you analyze your needs like this, you will see that in fact the amount required for your comfort level is even less than you expected. We have spiritual happiness, which does not depend on material conditions, but there is physical comfort - that is, the joy of having something. But again, if you have it and you are happy about it, that’s completely normal, it raises your vibration. But if you are happy that you have something that others don’t have, then this is called arrogance, it lowers the vibrations. Pride, pride.

Julia: Pride, pride.

Irina: Arrogance. Some people may want to buy something not because it is necessary for their happiness, but simply because it is necessary for their arrogance, to feel superior to others. And arrogance itself lowers vibrations, and the financial flow is directed not towards spiritual development, but towards destruction and lowering vibrations - that financial flow that is given by the Creator of the worlds, that level for spiritual development. This is, as Christ said, “burying talent in the ground.” “Talent” was a measure of silver money, and burying it in the ground meant simply directing the divine gift to one matter for certain conditions that lower vibrations.

1:04:40 Algir Trushiro about energy work with space.

Julia: I also want to ask a question about energy work with spaces and groups of people. Surely you have something similar - maybe this is some other direction?

Irina: Energy work with spaces is, yes, in alliance with subtle civilizations - this is communication in order to fill space with certain energies. Here, of course, you need to remember that the space where you are contains both the physical level and subtle material levels, as well as the spiritual, astral level. The astral atmosphere permeates all levels of density and is itself filled with your energies, charged with emotions, feelings and thoughts. And those people who live in this space constantly charge this space with their energy state. You may have seen it when you entered someone’s house for the first time: somewhere you felt more or less comfortable.

Julia: Yes, of course.

Irina: And this did not depend on the wealth and cleanliness of the situation. These are the energies of people, the astral atmosphere. And if a person or a group of people lives there, for most of the day, when they are awake, negative vibrations, low mood, melancholy, anger, and so on prevail, then a certain cloud of energies gathers there, and dark, destructive plasmoids can be attracted. All together this creates a negative background in which it will be difficult to think about something bright or meditate. Even if you hang ten icons there and light candles, the atmosphere itself will just get in the way.

Yulia: How safe is it for a practitioner to work with such things as correction of space: correction of an apartment, correction of a city, or maybe even correction of an entire country?

Irina: It depends on what methods, there are many methods.

Julia: In energy kinesiology - this is what we work with.

Irina: Again, if you feel that it is safe for you, then no danger can be attracted.

Yulia: How effective can it be when there is a person and a large space? Is there enough strength and energy to channel some forces there?

Irina: There is enough power to conduct energy, but you need to understand that when you conduct these forces and increase the vibrations of some space, you will go about your business, but other people live in this space who will not necessarily send the same energies.

Julia: Yes, of course it is. And if a practitioner works with a group of people at once, then everything is fine, there will be enough energy and the result will be positive?

Irina: But it's better if they are all together - a group of people - to direct these energies. For example, during group meditations, it is useful even to simply gather in a room, let there be 5-6 people, stand in a circle, hold hands, and say, for example, the Esler mood out loud to everyone. And you will immediately feel how an energy column has appeared in the center of the circle - and mentally everyone together begins to think about its expansion and pronounce special words, for example: "The Light of God is in my Spiritual heart, I let the Light of love, acceptance, truth, happiness pass through me. May all sentient and thinking living beings in this space find harmony." You can use your own words. And you begin with thought forms, saying this, at the same time spreading this pillar, mentally expanding it and going outside the room - and you will feel a whirlwind.

How do you like that?

Julia: Interesting. We need to take note. During training, practice this option - why not?

Irina: For example, you will be the presenter. Everyone will join hands, you will speak. They will close their eyes - so will you. If you all hold hands, you will speak, and they will all repeat in unison. Before that, you will give instructions on what to present to them so that they can. After practice, be sure to thank God, thank your Higher Self, and your supervisors out loud. And then you can ask everyone how they feel.

Yulia: I will do so, thank you, a very interesting point, an interesting addition to our practices. I guess I'll stop asking questions here. I thank everyone: Algir, MidgasKaus, Irina, I thank all the listeners! I hope it was useful and interesting.

Irina: I also thank Algir, MidgasKaus, Yulia, very interesting. Dear friends, thank you for watching this video. I hope you felt our bright vibrations, our wishes of love, see you again!

November 16, 2022

Participants:

Irina Podzorova - contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations;

Yulia Predtechenskaya - psychologist, kinesiologist;

Algir Trushiro - representative of the planet Disaru, doctor, psychologist and sports psychology specialist;

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/midgaskaus-o-metode-opredeleniya-psihotipa-chelove
May 8
MidgasKaus about the method of determining a person's psychotype according to Anuashvili
What you call the Anuashvili effect is known in the psychophysiology of the Interstellar Union. The fact is that the left and right parts of the face, as well as the upper and lower ones, have different distributions of muscle microtonus. There are muscles and vessels that make up the subcutaneous structure. This does not depend on the skull itself. On the skull there are various muscles, vessels, ligaments, connective tissue subcutaneous tissue, and only then the skin itself and its upper part. Facial expression depends precisely on the degree of tension in the facial muscles.
Facial muscles are what the face itself consists of. It does not consist of skin, but of the facial bones of the skull, facial muscles and skin. So, different expressions on different sides of the face are given precisely by different degrees of tension in these facial muscles.
Muscle tension is a certain tone, muscle contraction, which is regulated by various impulses from the nervous system. The degree of tension in the facial muscles in the face, as in the whole body, is regulated by signals from the nervous system through special neurons inserted into muscle fibers, which are called "movement neurons" (editor's note: motor neurons).
The nervous system, in turn, is tuned to the spinal cord, to the brain, to various endocrine glands through the neurohumoral regulation system, and all this is influenced by the Spirit itself. That is, in a more harmonious person, who has few blocks, a calmer, peaceful internal state, signals of peaceful high vibrations pass through the brain along the nerve pathways in such a way that they almost equally affect the facial muscles in different places, and the same tone appears. Therefore, in more harmonious individuals, the comparison of different sides of the face - left and right, right and left - coincides with the usual state of the real face that we see in a person. And if there is some kind of hypertonicity of one part due to the hypotonicity of another part, then there will be a distortion, and this just indicates that there is some kind of psychosomatic tension. Perhaps this is some small block, perhaps it is just temporary stress, some kind of emotion, and this causes the muscles to tense differently.
Moreover, this effect manifests itself not only on the face, but also on the entire body. The body consists of muscles. Thanks to muscles, you can move your entire body, from your fingertips to your limbs when walking, for example. And also conversation, blinking of eyes - this is all the work of muscles. In fact, various diseases of the joints, spine, and internal organs are very often associated with hypertonicity of the muscles, which are constantly in a tense state, and this causes the internal organs to tighten and, for example, spinal discs or parts of the joint to move relative to each other, especially if this joints of the spine. Why does this hypertonicity occur? From constant chronic stress, because when adrenaline is released by the adrenal glands, an effect occurs such as tension in the striated muscles. This effect is associated with the instinct of self-preservation, because the tension of the muscles of the limbs and large muscles of the back serves so that in a state of anger or fear a person can escape or fight. If it persists for a long time, then it already has a large block that needs to be dissolved. And if it's a temporary block, then it's temporary. In different states, in different moods there may be different images.

Timecode: 19:32, #515 Psychotypes according to Anuashvili - two portraits of one person. Nanotechnologies of alien medicine. MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations.
November 2022
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pryamoj-ehfir-obshchenie-s-duhom-sergeya-bodrova
May 9

#514 Live broadcast. Communication with the Spirit of Sergei Bodrov.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=MJfc8FXPESM

00:00 Start of video.

00:35 Opening speech by the Project Manager. News "CASSIOPEIA".

Maxim: Well, dear friends, hello everyone! Again, I am starting this broadcast with you. Today, as always, we have a very interesting live broadcast. We thought for a very long time about who we should invite, and a large number of people made a request for Sergei Bodrov.

I know that he is a man with a capital M, a patriot of his country, I know that he died tragically. True, there were versions and assumptions about how he died. The big plus is that, as always, I did not prepare for the broadcast; I don't know what questions you will ask from the "Q&A" chat. Live". Some have already been collected. Many thanks to my assistant Lena, she collected these questions for me from the chat. And before I start the broadcast, I want to tell you the latest, interesting news from the CASSIOPEA Project.

I know that many people do not like this news, many do not want to listen. But I'll be honest, it's precisely because this news reflects that our project has the opportunity to convey information to you, to conduct these Sunday broadcasts, without thinking that these are weekends.

Although for the last 2 years I have forgotten what a weekend is, because I spend all day working on the development of the Project. And I would like to separately thank the huge number of people who sincerely help him develop with their donations and gifts that they send and transfer. So thank you very much again! Due to the fact that we have a large, very strong team, already formed around the world, you and I can grow and develop together in the Light of Love and happiness, which we talk about at each of our retreats.

I would like to tell everyone the good news that we will have a New Year's retreat in Abkhazia. But it's very hard for me to call this a retreat, because there will be mainly practices, scientific work, research moments, a huge number of masters, esotericists, energy practitioners, cosmoenergists, cosmohealers, kinesiologists will participate in them. We unite with scientifically proven approaches and little by little we begin to translate esotericism into the mainstream of psychology. Therefore, this New Year will be a celebration of meeting all the friends of CASSIOPEIA. Guys, we are waiting for you all!

I am waiting for you with open arms at this huge event. After all, this will not just be a retreat, but a long-awaited meeting of all friends in one place. You will be able to go through absolutely all the practices, there is no additional training, everything is included in the cost of the retreat - 20 thousand rubles. For nine days you will be in complete esotericism, with the opportunity to visit all the masters in the program without any donation. Everything is included in the cost of the retreat itself. Accommodation – about 25-30 thousand rubles. per person including meals + travel. I invite everyone to this wonderful New Year. Honestly, I want to relax and spend it in wonderful practices, in a team of wonderful people: Guzel Malyarova, Ivan Yonten, Zhanna Zlotnikova (our new Cassiopean), as well as a researcher who deals with issues of kinesiology.

All this will be, everything is included in the general retreat program. There will be no boring lectures, mostly practice, even Irina Podzorova will conduct one interesting practice every day, and she has a lot of them with our interstellar friends. Plus a simple evening conference answering questions: 1.5-2 hours every evening with Irina and our masters, we will analyze absolutely any area of esotericism and psychology, answer your questions.

(reads comments in the chat) “Keep it up, you are the best!” Tim Khvorostov, respect! We try to be the best, we try to build a team.

“I wanted to know the cause of death.” By the way, I don't know either. I haven't read the version about this. With me it will be very easy for you to conduct this broadcast.

Another very important event. We are opening our branch in Minsk, Belarus. This is also a very serious event for us. Now the masters who will work in the Minsk branch have left us after graduating. The masters are amazing, the girls are super! When you understand what voice therapy is (and there is one girl who will do it along with the equipment), you will understand that everything in this world exists in the form of Love and the happiness that we talk about in our Project.

The retreat in Minsk will be dedicated to the opening of the branch from December 1 to December 8, 2022. Call the number: +79889100040. By the way, regarding the New Year, the link is under the video. New Year's retreat - from December 29 to January 7. You can go to a retreat in Minsk, and then to Abkhazia for the New Year.

In the meantime, from December 1 to 8 in Minsk, at the Cassiopean Center in Domodedovo - this is our newly opened center, you can watch the video presentation in previous broadcasts - we will be training in the “Tree of the Pillar” method. This is December 3rd – 4th. The method is unique, it is taught by Master Alleyya, she is a wonderful specialist in various forms of schools, energies, space, and this is a unique method that was passed on to her by her interstellar friends. To sign up for the retreat, call: +79653606010. Guys, call, write, very cool!

And we also opened a cool project called “CASSIOPEA. Codes". Now each person can calculate his personal code, and on the basis of this personal code he can understand what his predispositions, tasks of the Spirit and body are. This calculation is used by our interstellar friends who exist in our Galaxy. They provided us with this calculation so that we could grow and develop spiritually. Guys, this is all subject to donation, your gratitude to our Project, which provides you with such opportunities.

I also want to remind you that we have opened an online store where you can buy OM tea - a wonderful product: anti-cancer effect, lymph cleansing, as well as a new product - Cassiopeia Energy. This is something unique: we hid the energy of the Earth in a cell, and we transfer this energy to you. Please read in the online store what this product is and what it is needed for. It increases female libido tens of times, and, accordingly, male potency too - due to a complete increase in the energy of the entire body.

Another product is probiotics. 90% of our immunity is located in the stomach and intestines. Probiotic organisms, which were developed with the help of our interstellar friends, enable you to fully tune your immunity, establish the nutritional environment of the stomach and intestines, so that your body receives only the necessary substances, without acidification and alkalization. Probiotics are our living microorganisms, not dietary supplements, not drugs. Live microorganisms that help adjust the internal flora of the stomach, intestines on which your immunity, lymph and much more depend. All this is in our online store. Link below the video.

Thank you all very much for listening to me, my speeches, the most interesting news!

(reads chat comment) “Lots of chatter.” I can’t do anything, I agree, I talk a lot, but to the point.

Thank you very much for supporting us, for existing! And even the products that you buy make it possible for our Project to exist and develop. I do not divide the support of the CASSIOPEA Project into any shares, that is, if I am listed as an individual entrepreneur, then I invest all the money in the Project. The same goes for you: if you want, you can always send a gift, support, donation. I also invest in the development of the Project. For me, this Project is the basis of my entire life, so I can talk a lot about it.

Once again, see you at the New Year's holiday in Abkhazia! There will be a Santa Claus whom you will remember for the rest of your life, I guarantee you! You have never seen such Santa Clauses before, and this will be the main surprise of this New Year. And finally, I invite our wonderful Countess Irishenka. They are already waiting for you, they are already kicking me out, they say I talk a lot (laughs). Have a seat. Finally we will start our broadcast.

13:05 Greetings. Presentation of participants.

Irina: Good evening everyone, dear friends! Hi all!

Maxim: What are you like today! I see you have had your hair cut and dyed.

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Such a beauty Bonacieux!

(reads comments in the chat) “Come on Murka!” Yes, we cannot give any Murka.

“Bloggers have problems with excess weight, I see.” Guys, if anyone has problems with excess weight, come to our Center. In our Center, no one has problems with excess weight; there is a problem with the perception of this excess weight by those who pay attention to it.

(laughs)

Irina: It’s like the joke: I suffered from excess weight, went to a psychologist and now I enjoy it! (laughs)

Maxim: (also tells a joke) My doctor forbade me to eat a lot, but I gave my doctor 100 dollars, and he allowed everything. (laughs)

I greet you, Irina, I greet the Spirit of Sergei Bodrov!

Irina: He laughs too.

Maxim: Laughing too?

Irina: Yes, he says that he listens through the perception of the contactee and tunes in to transmit answers, and hears what we say. He hears jokes and laughs. “It’s funny,” he says.

14:43 Appeal to the Spirit of Sergei Bodrov.

Maxim: Seryozha, please tell me, do you remember well your incarnation as Sergei Bodrov?

Irina: I remember, but I have already connected with my Spirit.

Maxim: That is, you are in connection with your common Spirit, your Soul is completely united?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Yes, I was surprised when your Curators came to me at my level and introduced themselves as inhabitants of other planets. I was surprised that they wanted to hear me through a contactee; I didn’t know such a word, I only knew “medium” - the one who transmits messages from the world of the dead. When I lived on Earth, they used this concept. Why was this session needed, what can I say? I was assured that you, dear friends, would be interested in hearing from me.

Therefore, I welcome everyone and thank you for the invitation! Your Curators also told me that this video can be seen even by those people who knew me during my lifetime. And I thank everyone for your warmth, for your Light, for your Love, which you send me to the afterlife, you believe that I exist. I come to many of you in a dream.

Maxim: Sergey, thank you very much. I understand.

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): That they remember me warmly, forgetting about some rough edges that I had during my life.

Maxim: Can I contact you - Sergey?

Irina: Yes, you can.

16:44 Incarnations of Sergei Bodrov.

Maxim: Please tell me how many incarnations you had in this Manvantara?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): 538 is over.

Maxim: Please tell me, have you incarnated somewhere else besides Earth?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Yes, I incarnated in subtle-material civilizations.

If we take dense material civilizations, humanoid ones, then I incarnated, besides the Earth, in the civilization of Sirius (the civilization of Ashtar, Irina’s clarification), in the Artamush civilization (MidgasKaus, translating into the language that is familiar to earthlings, says that we call them Lyrans, Irina’s clarification).

Also, on one of the colonies of Burkhad, I was incarnated, and in other Galaxies, in humanoid civilizations.

I had my last incarnation, before Sergei, on Earth, but only at the 9th density level.

Maxim: So you incarnated into a subtle-material civilization of the 9th density level on Earth?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Yes.

Maxim: Please tell me, when you incarnated on the 9th density level, from what spiritual level did you come?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): When I incarnated at the 9th level of density, I came from the 8th level of the Spiritual world.

Maxim: Tell me, please, at what spiritual level did you enter into Sergei Bodrov?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): On the 12th.

Maxim: That is, from the 8th spiritual level you incarnated at the 9th level of subtle-material civilization and reached the 12th spiritual level. And from level 12 he entered into Sergei Bodrov?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Yes.

Maxim: Tell me, please, at what level did you leave Sergei Bodrov?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): I am now on the 13th.

Maxim: Yeah, that is, it went up to level 1!

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Yes.

Maxim: Great.

19:30 Tasks of incarnation and agreement of the Spirit of Sergei Bodrov.

Maxim: Please tell me, have you completed your tasks in incarnation?

Irina: I didn’t complete all the tasks.

Maxim: Please tell me what your tasks were? Which ones did you complete and which ones didn’t?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): I had a task, we agreed with three Spirits (shows), which I had to incarnate on Earth, and I only embodied two.

Maxim: You only had two children?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Yes.

Maxim: The third one was supposed to be born, but was not born?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Yes, it turned out that he could not incarnate, there were some problems.

Maxim: What were the problems?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Happy conception. And when the Spirit had to make another attempt, I myself came out of incarnation. His next attempt was supposed to be in 2005. I learned about this after leaving the incarnation. I didn't know then.

Maxim: Were there any agreements in the Spiritual world with these Spirits that they should come to you and incarnate?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Yes. We agreed with the Spirits of the wife and children that we would all meet together. That my wife and I will give embodiment to these three Spirits.

21:07 The childhood of Sergei Bodrov.

Maxim: I see. Tell me, please, where did you grow up, what kind of family were you brought up in?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): I was born in Moscow, in an ordinary family, was an only child, and studied at a school with in-depth study of foreign languages. My father was interested in Western art (films), and my mother, on the contrary, studied history and was a historian. My father was involved in cinema and wrote something.

Maxim: Seryozha, I'm sorry, unfortunately, I haven't read your biography. There were a huge number of requests...

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): My parents loved me, there were no conflicts in the family. I liked studying at school, I was interested in all subjects, I studied them and was interested in many things. And he was very sociable (shows that he has many friends), but at the same time he did not enter into conflicts.

22:52 Meeting his wife, Sergei Bodrov's profession.

Maxim: Tell me, please, where did you meet your wife?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Near America, in Cuba.

Maxim: To Cuba?

Irina: Yes. He shows me a business trip, they went for work.

Maxim: And before you got into films, what did you work with?

Irina: Historian. Shows that he studied the history of some art.

Maxim: And did you meet your wife when you were already in the cinema or not yet?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): It was.

Maxim: Did she recognize you as Sergei Bodrov when you met her?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Yes, she recognized me. At that time I had already gotten a job in television, but not much time had passed. My main occupation was art, I studied history.

Maxim: How did you meet? Did you fall in love with each other at first sight?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): I felt that I already knew her when I met her. There was a lot of greenery around, palm trees, beautiful nature. I saw her, and she saw me, we looked into each other's eyes and said hello. We suddenly started talking (he smiles). I felt that I had known her for quite a long time, although I had not seen her before. Then she told me that she felt the same, and we had Love. And in the Spiritual World, I found out that she and I had an agreement for us to meet.

25:11 About the killing of a snake, an incident from the life of Sergei Bodrov.

Maxim: Thank you very much. Tell me honestly, why did you kill and eat the snake? For some reason this question is asked.

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Killed and ate a snake? (surprised)

Maxim: Has this ever happened in your life?

Irina: Well, yes, he remembered. He didn't eat it, it was a joke, he was playing a role.

Maxim: What kind of joke was that, what role? Where did this snake come from?

Irina: He shows me the mountains, says that it was among friends, shows the image. There is a circle of friends, his acquaintances, and it was a role that he is like a savage or something.

Maxim: Was it a film, shooting?

Irina: It was more like a joke.

Maxim: I understand.

26:33 Attitude towards the role in the film “Brother”.

Maxim: Valentina Vorontsova sends her deepest regards to you. Do you know this one? You probably need a photograph to see the energy through Ira?

Irina: Yes, it’s difficult through a surname.

Maxim: I understand, I know, we have already tried to do this. We need to show the photo to Irina so you can look at the energy. Sorry.

They ask if you remember your character in Alexei Balabanov’s film “Brother”?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): I remember. But when you connect with the Spiritual Self, consciousness changes and memory changes. Of everything that was in the earthly body, you do not take every episode, but only the most important. And you transfer it to the memory cells of the Spirit. It is no longer the brain that remembers, but the Spirit.

Maxim: I understand.

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Therefore, what roles I played, what actions I performed (I ate the same snake) - this is the memory of the brain. When you connect with your disembodied part of the Spirit, you will perceive everything completely differently, more in the form of feelings. Not in the form of images. I remember what I played in this film, the main moments, but literally, no.

Maxim: Okay, answer the question then. There is a line in the film: “What is strength, brother?”

Irina: He repeated the answer to me that he remembers his life, but does not focus on any individual words. Remembers in general.

Maxim: Okay, Seryozha, I understand.

Irina: Because consciousness changes.

Maxim: Please tell me, do you think, from the point of view of the Spiritual world (where you are now), does the film “Brother-2” raise people’s vibrations or lower them?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): What do you call vibrations?

(Irina) Now I will explain to him what vibrations are. We call spiritual development vibrations.

(Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Well, it depends on how you treat him. If it’s like a story about bandits, criminal showdowns, then it may be downgraded, because there are a lot of fights, murders, and cruelty.

And if we treat this as a story about friendship, betrayal, loyalty, and how a person overcomes all this cruelty and remains himself, the bright person he can be in those circumstances, and does not betray anyone, seeks justice - then it increases . This needs to be handled correctly.

30:03 Faith in God.

Maxim: Is it true that you are a descendant of Genghis Khan?

Irina: Laughs, says: “I’m hearing it for the first time.”

Maxim: Tell me, please, were you a believer?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Well, yes, I believed in Christ. I was baptized and prayed.

Maxim: Did it help you when you entered the Spiritual World, your faith?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Yes, I prayed. Including just before leaving the incarnation, but not about himself, but about his son, daughter and wife. That God would preserve them from all evil, that they would remember me only with Love, without any sadness. I didn't want them to feel bad.

30:53 The last day of the life of Sergei Bodrov.

Maxim: Please tell me what happened to you? You say that you prayed before leaving the incarnation. What was the situation that allowed you to understand that you would leave the incarnation?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Yes.

Maxim: What kind of situation?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Just the way out of incarnation. Maxim, the situation that happened before the incarnation is usually the one that the Spirits remember best from the entire incarnation.

Maxim: Can you tell me what happened?

Irina: (explains) How is it remembered? The spirit takes more experience from there, from this body.

Maxim: Guys, if I deceive you and say that I was preparing, will you believe it? Let me deceive you and say that I was preparing for the broadcast, and then I will simply ask questions, and you will not write me any nonsense (laughs).

Irina: He shows me the last time before leaving the incarnation, he says.

(Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): I felt in the morning of this day that perhaps I was seeing the sun and sky for the last time. I had such thoughts, a bad feeling.

Then we went to the mountains to film, and along the way an offer came to film it on another day. It's as if something broke with them (shows problems with filming). Not the one my father filmed, but the one I myself had already decided to do. This was my second film, it was my creativity. I wanted to be not an actor, but someone who makes films - a director.

Maxim: (gives Irina water and reads a message from the chat) Alena writes: "Better whiskey for Max to sleep." Guys, I haven't been drinking alcohol for the last 3 years, I don't like it, I don't feel good after it. I like to live without alcohol.

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): We went to the shooting with a whole crowd - 50 people (shows Irina that they have some animals there). On this day, everything went wrong, the material was constantly re-shot, because all the animals (horses) were breaking away from those who were holding them and wanted to run away. At that time I did not know what was happening, although my Soul, my subconscious told me that it was dangerous. But I didn't pay attention to these signals. I was nervous, irritated (they show: he is angry, smoking cigarettes).

And then I said: “That’s enough (it was already evening), we’ll go back!”

An offer was made to spend the night in another place, at the top (shows the mountains and a cluster of houses there). I said that we were all tired that day and needed to get some sleep, so we would go back to the big city. It was already getting dark, twilight, we got into the car, and it started to drizzle. And suddenly we heard everything. Imagine the sound as if 20 trains were traveling at once, a hum. Nothing was visible, and then (shows a large car, a guy sits next to him and looks back) we saw a huge wall, larger than a twenty-story building for sure.

Maxim: Wow! Was it an avalanche or something?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): We didn’t understand. She was approaching the car, I began to pray. The driver who was there and the police said that something had fallen from the mountains, some stones, a landslide. They began to use obscene language and tried to quickly drive away, and then I heard a grinding sound and the car began to skid somewhere. He began to fall and felt a blow to his head, like a stone. Pain, I saw that my nose was bleeding. My last memory is how I tried to pick out the snow with my hands, it was very cold and I couldn’t breathe. He conveys feelings to me. Severe pain in the chest, in the area of the ribs, and darkness.

38:23 Sergei Bodrov’s transition to the Spiritual world. Analysis of what happened with the Consulting Angel.

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Then Light. I thought it was the light in the window, that it was night, and I woke up. It was as if I saw this in a dream.

I thought: what a terrible dream I had! We have to get up because we're filming. I thought it was still the morning of that day. We need to go to filming. I tried to get up and realized that I couldn’t see my hands, I didn’t have a body.

Maxim: And what did you think?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): I was confused, I thought that I had gone crazy, because there was an altered consciousness. I didn't understand what was happening.

Then from this Light came two tall white figures, the height of two people. They came up to me and said: “We welcome you!” At the same time, they did not move their lips, they spoke mentally. But I heard them inside me: “Everything is fine, don’t worry, we came for you, your body is dead.”

I say: “What about my son, will I never see him?” I started asking them questions. They said: “You will learn everything from your Spiritual teachers, from the Angels and from God himself, the Source himself. Only for this we need to get to the level you are at now.”

After which I extended my hands to them, and we began to climb up. There were some flashes of different colors around: green, blue, red. It was as if we were flying inside a rainbow, or not even a rainbow, but the northern lights.

Then we found ourselves in a clearing. An earthen clearing, many flowers, a lot of grass. I was told that this was mentally created by other Spirits who are there, and I see all these objects due to the fact that I am on the same level as them.

Then I began to wait for my Consulting Angel to come and show me what had happened. The consulting angel came to me, unfolded a screen in front of me and began to show my life. And I saw that I came out of embodiment because of a huge glacier, an avalanche. It was not a classic avalanche, like a piece of some kind, but a very, very large glacier that killed my body and many other people. I only found out about this later. Because when I was in that moment, I didn’t fully realize what was happening, what kind of wall it was.

42:23 Reasons for leaving the incarnation of Sergei Bodrov.

Maxim: Tell me, please, was this planned by you in the Spiritual world, such a way out of incarnation?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): No, this was not the planned exit.

Maxim: Why exactly did this happen from the point of view of the Spiritual world?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): I also asked this question. Because I didn't listen. But when I connected with my Spirit and analyzed my entire incarnation and last day...

Why do I remember this particular moment so well? Because I analyzed the last day many times. Therefore, it was well preserved in spiritual memory, and I realized that I could have avoided it. If only I had listened to the signals that my intuition gave me, that it was generally dangerous to be in the mountains that day. And even more so, I was warned that filming needed to be postponed to the next day (as I already told you at the beginning, it was proposed to do this).

And for me (I later recalled and analyzed this moment) after I heard: “Let’s reschedule!” - the first thought was: “Yes!” But I didn’t listen to her and therefore entered the line of probability where the exit from incarnation occurred.

(Irina) He shows me that he could have avoided this.

Maxim: I understand you.

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Simply by my own will, without listening to my heart, intuition, without listening, as you say (your curators explained to me), my Higher Self, which communicates, and then communicated with me through intuition, I exposed my body of mortal danger. In addition, I also endangered those who were with me. Because if I had refused to go as the director of that film, all 50 people would have refused and not gone. You can say that I consider myself responsible for their exit from incarnation too.

44:56 Family of Sergei Bodrova, the desire to be embodied in the same generic egregor.

Maxim: Tell me, please, what did you affectionately call your wife?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): I always called my wife “Light”, “Light of my Soul”. She is Sveta.

Maxim: Did you call him affectionately, for example, Svetulek, Svetik?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): I called it differently.

(Irina) “The light of my soul,” he tells me. At least that's how I perceive it.

Maxim: I understand. Tell me please, do you have two children?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Yes.

Maxim: If they told you now that you now have the opportunity to convey everything you want to your wife and children, what would you convey?

Irina: Smiling.

Maxim: Just imagine: your wife and children will definitely see this video. What do you want to convey to them?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): I want to say, firstly, to you, and Irina, and all the viewers, that they feel that I am communicating with them on an intuitive level. I communicate with them mentally: being at my level of the Spiritual World, I send them my thoughts (shows this connection as a thread). I communicate with them, and I want to say that I am thinking about incarnating soon. And I ask my Angel Consultants to consider the possibility of my incarnation in my own family, the ancestral egregor, in the family that I left. Either one of their children or their children. But for now they are considering this possibility.

Maxim: Do you want to go back to Earth?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Yes.

Maxim: Did you like being on Earth?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): (smiles) What do you mean you liked it? There was an experience that I needed here and now, and which helped me move up one level. Although before this incarnation I planned to move from the 12th to the 15th, I was more interested in material things than spiritual ones, so it didn't work out for me. I'd like to try again.

47:54 Sergei Bodrov's appeal to his mother, children, father.

Maxim: Still, what would you like to convey to your wife and children? Or anyone else. Now is such an interesting moment. Maybe there is someone to whom you wanted to give something and didn't have time? Now it can be done.

Irina (Sergei Bodrov's Spirit): I would like to tell my mother.

Maxim: Mom?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Yes. Out of the whole family, she worries about me the most.

(Irina) She (he is showing me now) has a block of pity and melancholy. MidgasCaus clarifies that he conveys emotions and feelings to me, as I understand them at my level.

Maxim: And what would you like to tell your mother?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): So that she calms down and does not cry inside herself. Not externally, but inside herself (shows tears in her Soul). She didn't even come to terms with my leaving, but with the fact that my body wasn't found. It cannot be found, it is nature.

Just remember that nature took it, and it is not so important where it is now and in what condition. In the end, your body too, and the body of every living person who is now left in this life, they will also turn into dust, ashes, into something completely insignificant for you.

However, everything you take away from Earth will be an experience that will help you move closer and closer to the Light. You can go to the Light of Love and faith in different ways: you can through art, as I did, or through serving your neighbors, as many others did. But I want to ask you, mom (speaks and smiles). Mom, I want to convey to you the Light of my Love, gratitude, knowing that you embodied me. I ask you to calm down. My body is where it should be, in any case, this is not a reason to scold myself for something. I love you.

Sasha, I want to say that you are doing everything right (I'm telling my son).

Maxim: I understand, Sasha is a son.

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): And your passion for music largely reflects my worldview, because when I conceived your body, I was in a state of true Love for you, as a Spirit, and for your mother, and therefore passed on your developmental tendencies spiritual qualities that you now have.

As for Olga (daughter), I want to say that I am very glad that Sergey is next to you, and I send you the Light of my Love. And once again I want to repeat to Olga and Alexander that I am now in the process of developing a plan for my incarnation, and I consider the implementation plan for you or your children as a priority. If this is possible, harmonious and creative for all Spirits - for me and for you. And, of course, if your non-embodied parts give their permission to this, as do your Consulting Angels. Everything should be in harmony.

Maxim: I understand, thank you! What about your father? People ask me here, is there anything you want to tell your father?

Irina: Father?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Dad, I'm proud of you, of your films, and I thank you for giving me the invaluable experience of entering into the image of another person. Although I didn't want it (shows a role that I didn't want to play, and my father persuades me).

54:10 "What is the strength, brother?" Participation in the programs "Vzglyad" and "The Last Hero".

Maxim: Sergey, thank you very much! I still have questions.

Tell me, please, what is the strength, brother? How will you answer this question, having already left the incarnation?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): In Love, of course! I realized when I connected with my Spirit that the most valuable quality here that everyone strives for is Love. In all its manifestations. But this does not mean that the words that I said as a character in the film, that there is strength in truth, are not true. Truth and Love are very similar to each other, because truth is a state of Love manifested in action. When you feel the truth in yourself, you show Love.

Maxim: For what reason did you leave the "Vzglyad" program?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): There were other projects, films. It became uninteresting. In general, I liked to change my occupation.

(Irina) Shows me his adult self. He was sociable and often changed his occupation: he loved to travel somewhere, he loved to play sports. This is the kind of life he had.

Maxim: You were the host of the “The Last Hero” program, what did you learn from this experience? Did you enjoy being the host of this program?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Experience of communicating with different people in different situations, even difficult ones for them. Sometimes I wanted to be in their place, performing some tasks.

(Irina) He shows me a series of faces, I don’t know them.

56:38 Responsibility for the death of the group.

Maxim: Please tell me, don’t you regret that so many people died with you?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): I have already said that I consider myself to some extent responsible and even guilty. Because if I had not gone, listened to my heart, they would be alive.

Maxim: It’s probably still the choice of the Spirits themselves to be nearby?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Yes, of course, this is the choice of the Spirits. But you know, if I were in their place, and they called me to go, I would go too. This is the group's aspiration.

Maxim: How many people died?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): There were 42 of us.

Maxim: How many died?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): I haven't met everyone, but of those I have met (shows a young guy)... The Consulting Angels told me when I asked them that of those who were in this car, not no one survived. And the rest who left earlier, even before us, they stayed.

58:19 Address to the audience.

Maxim: Sergey, now you have the opportunity to address all earthly inhabitants, not only your family and relatives. What would you like to tell them when you get to the Spiritual World? Coming out of incarnation in such an interesting role. You are considered a folk hero, in fact.

Irina: He says that he is surprised by this because he didn't do anything special.

Maxim: Your films, your charisma, your approach to the world and life have inspired many people. What would you like to say to these people whom you have inspired? What should they do next on this planet, how should they live?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): I want to tell you that there are still many good films where I was an actor or director. There are a lot of good films. And I believe that my activities in films or as a presenter are not at all the main and not important.

I showed the image of the struggle for justice, honesty, openness, despite difficulties, sometimes even danger to life. I believed that these were moral values that were important to preserve in all generations of people, regardless of external circumstances. Therefore, I took with me from incarnation the Love for family, art and the creation of many things.

I want to address my admirers from the Spiritual world. I know that there are many of them, I feel their energies. I want to ask you, dear friends, to remember that each of you who honors me can be the same as me in your life. And do something for yourself, your family, your country, and this will be your experience. Never be afraid of anything in earthly life, because the time while you are afraid and do not take action is spent in vain. Even if you are afraid that something will happen to you, you are not delaying the end of your body. You are simply depriving yourself of the opportunity.

1:01:20 Sergey about the war in Ukraine.

Maxim: Sergey, thank you very much! We have a burning question. I am informing you that we are now at war with Ukraine. How would you comment on what is happening?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): (sadly bowing her head) This is very bad. I am very upset by what is happening, figuratively speaking, a second Chechnya. One of the heroes, Ivan, whom I played, and other heroes of my films were precisely people who went through the Chechen war. Although I personally did not fight, I had a good feel for their condition when I took on these roles.

After any war (I'm talking about the Chechen war now), when you have to kill other people in order to survive yourself, this sows cruelty in the heart. And the cruelty of the Spiritual heart, which I now feel, figuratively speaking, is covered with a hard crust that is impervious to the Light of Love of others. And this may be so until this Spirit goes through much suffering and learns that any life is valuable.

Whatever beliefs this person may have, whatever language he speaks and whatever he strives for, until all people learn this from their experience of suffering, they will not be able to translate this truth into the reality of earthly life. I am very sorry that without suffering people cannot realize the simple truth that every other person wants to live exactly the same way you want to live.

(Irina) He became sad.

Maxim: I understand.

1:04:08 Wishes to people who are interested in esotericism.

Maxim: I have another question for you. The last one is probably the last one on this broadcast. What would you like to say to those people who are interested in esotericism?

Irina: She says it’s a good question.

Maxim: I know you were not an esotericist.

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): I was interested, I read books (shows). But yes, I didn’t fully believe it. What would I like to say to people who are interested in esotericism?

Dear friends, it doesn’t matter what you are passionate about. It is important what you get as individuals, as free rational people, as embodied Spirits, whether you fulfill your task of incarnation. Look into your heart. If there is peace, Love, tranquility, harmony, and you are ready to share this with your loved ones, then you are on the right path, no matter what you are passionate about. And if there is sadness, despondency, fear, condemnation, hatred and resentment, then your hobbies will in no way help you be at a high level after leaving the incarnation, no matter what you think about yourself.

1:05:43 Exchange of thanks.

Maxim: Thank you very much, Sergey! Thank you for coming to us on this broadcast. We thank you very much. They really wanted to see you here.

Irina (Sergei Bodrov's Spirit): Thank you for the questions, they were very interesting. Thank you everyone! Thank you, Maxim, thank you Irina. Indeed, conveying images... I'll explain now. I have only talked a few times with living people, with mediums, and I myself have not yet developed the ability to convey images and words correctly and in order. Therefore, I confused the contactee Irina a little, which is why she stammered, for which I apologize to her, and to you too.

Maxim: Thank you very much, Seryozha! Thank you, LiShioni, thank you, MidgasCaus, for your support, for inviting Sergei Bodrov to join us, who agreed to participate!

1:06:41 Significant incarnations of Sergei Bodrov.

Maxim: Seryozha, I want to ask the last question. Have you had any other significant incarnations on Earth?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): I was incarnated as a Catholic priest who fought the Inquisition (shows the end of the 16th century), and who in the end was himself accused of aiding heretics and executed by hanging.

Maxim: Fun.

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): And there was also an incarnation in Japan (shows a warrior-soldier with a sword).

Maxim: And during the war 12 thousand years ago on Earth, did you incarnate before or after that?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): I was incarnated at that time, but in another Galaxy (shows creatures with three eyes, somewhat similar to Kirchiton, only they have a neck).

Maxim: I understand.

Irina: Yes, and the skin color is different.

Maxim: Seryozha, thank you very much! I hugged you again. I send you the Light of my Love and wish you to come here to the planet according to the implementation program and reach the highest level possible for your existence on this planet.

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): Thank you for the opportunity to address not only your viewers, but also your family. I really appreciate you giving me the opportunity to reach out to them in this way.

1:08:25 Reminder about CASSIOPEIA events.

Maxim: Thank you! Dear guys, once again I want to remind everyone that we are having a New Year's retreat in Abkhazia from December 29 to January 7. Tel.: +79889100040. We will hold such conferences there every evening. I think you and I will be able to make any requests for any spiritual or subtle entities.

The New Year will be simply bomb. A huge number of masters, you have never seen such a number. This is the only retreat that brings together such a group of masters in one place.

All the Cassiopeans who know me, Irina, and we are waiting for you this New Year. We enjoy, practice and relax in this New Year.

Plus a retreat in Minsk from December 1st to 8th, 3 or 4 places left. We can conduct it together with you, there will also be a training program: the first stage of contactees. Tel.: +79889100040, Elena. Call, dial, she will be very happy to tell you everything.

On December 3rd – 4th in Moscow, at the Domodedovo Center, training in the "Tree of the Pillar" method, from Alleya, our wonderful master. Link below the video.

And of course, use the calculations of personal codes from representatives of the Interstellar Union, who help us grow and develop.

The CASSIOPEIA Project contains not only personal codes, but also other calculations, such as the calculation of the Spiritual level - this is exactly what we talked about on this broadcast. Sergey is now at the 13th level of the Spiritual World, he has reached the 12th. Therefore, you can also calculate what level you have reached here. Plus there is the “Tree of the Pillar”, “Tree of Life”.

Irina: He also wants to say that Maxim lists some very interesting practices. “I would go myself if I had the opportunity” (smiles).

Maxim: In any case, I invite you, if this is possible. If you come to us there, we will be very glad.

1:10:48 Sergei Bodrov’s wishes to the audience.

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): I want to say, dear friends, that I did not listen to my intuition, and in the end this led me to exit the incarnation, although this could have been avoided. Please develop your intuition and always listen to your heart and not your mind, which will tell you something. Your mind will lead you into such a jungle that you can lose not only finances, money, health, but also your life. And the Spiritual heart, intuition will always lead you to the Light.

Maxim: Sergey, what did you dream about all your life when you were on the planet, tell me honestly?

Irina (Spirit of Sergei Bodrov): I dreamed about a lot of things (shows a whole bunch of flowers, where each of his dreams is like a flower). If you imagine that a person has one dream - this is one flower, then I had a whole bouquet of them.

If we sum up all my dreams at different ages, in different states of my consciousness, I can say that I dreamed that Sveta and I would have a happy family, to give our children Love, as my mother and father gave it to me, and teach them what I know myself. I didn’t dream of being famous, but I dreamed of becoming an example of courage, perseverance, patriotism and honesty, first of all to myself, with each of my images in films. I dreamed that people would embrace this image even if I wasn't famous.

Maxim: Seryozha, you were famous anyway. The people loved you very much, your inner power of Love, your openness, the ability to enter into character and play exactly the character or representative that reflects Russian reality.

Irina: He says that he didn't dream of being famous.

Maxim: Okay, modest Sergey. I understand.

Guys, please go to our online store and look: there are bomb products for you. There is everything you need for health and a happy life, increased energy.

Online store "CASSIOPEIA". There you will find everything you need to become happy, cheerful, healthy, rich (from the word "God", saturated with God). Guys, thank you for being with us! Bye everyone.

Thank you, Sergey, for the broadcast! See you in the New Year! Santa Claus will be simply unreal!

Irina: Bye everyone.

November 20, 2022

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, subtle-material civilizations and the Spiritual world;

Maxim Rusan – head of the CASSIOPEA Project and the Center for Spiritual and Physical Development;

MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms;

LiShioni – representative of the planet Shimor, sociologist, specialist in the astral world and its interactions with the material world;

The spirit of Sergei Bodrov - actor, presenter.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/porcha-informacionnye-ataki-zashchita-ot-magichesk
May 10
Damage. Information attacks. Protection against magical programs. Prevention of infection by fear Damage is a negatively charged thought form consciously created by a person, which in the astral is strengthened by the energies and thought forms of plasmoids, the curators of this person - a magician or sorcerer who is a contactee. He contacts consciously, unconsciously or semi-consciously with certain plasmoid curators. It happens not only with earthly forms, but also with cosmic ones. There are different kinds of magicians. They create a negatively charged program from their thought forms, strengthening them with conspiracies, rituals, and concentration of their consciousness for various purposes.
Usually the goals of creating damage or a negative magical program are the goals of aggression, superiority, elimination of a person who, in his opinion, is, as it were, superfluous, who is not needed, who needs to be removed. This is very similar to a crime, only it is committed not by physical methods, but by energetic ones. This thought form is also charged with the energy of plasmoids, that is, it is strengthened. We call it the magic program. This thought form determines exactly how it will influence a person.
If it is sent to a certain person who does not have negative blocks in his chakras, similar to the vibrations of the person who created this thought form, and his plasmoid curators, then it will be reflected from his field and will simply be in the astral plane. It can attract a person with similar vibrations, but its effect will still be weaker. This will be like a test of the aura - the life shell. It will already lose its power against a specific person.
The main means of safety against negative, magical influences are forgiving your offenders, doing good deeds, developing yourself in the Light of Love and getting rid of information that brings fear and destruction.
There are many negative magical programs that are charged specifically with fear. Even if a person is afraid of something else, but there are fears in his life, in his chakras there are blocks charged with fear, then it is already possible that this negative magical program will work. She will most likely have something to attach herself to. After it attaches to a person's chakra, to his astral field, to the etheric field, it gradually, not immediately, begins to grow into it, take down astral roots and begin to influence the person's behavior and health. It strengthens the existing block, attracting various entities and so on. It depends on the purpose of the program.

Removing negative energy blocks. Methods for destroying magic programs

The magical program that exists is removed along with the block on which it was attached. This block is charged with negative emotions, feelings and thoughts of the person himself. If you go to the Higher Self and ask him if you have blocks, and they answer you: "Yes," then ask what emotions this block consists of. To transform, you need to speak out loud thoughts that are opposite to this emotion. For example, if it is an offense, then it is necessary to forgive. If this is fear, then you need to say that you trust yourself and God. Opposite words must be spoken while in a state of communication with the Higher Self (editor's note. For more details, see the "Manual for practical work with negative blocks...").

There are also methods for destroying magical programs using reiki, cosmic energy, and some magical practices. Their most effective work will always be with the elimination of the block itself. A magical program can be destroyed, but if the block itself remains, then, sensing that the program has been destroyed, the magician can simply repeat it. And if the block remains in place, then everything will return to normal.

When this block dissolves, all the energy that was in it, including the negative magical program, also disintegrates. And not only does it disintegrate, it returns your own energy, and the energy and life force that was invested by the magician and the plasmoids into this negative magical program, when disintegrating, turns into your own Light. That is, it flows into your field, you have more strength.

This can be felt by the person who initiated this magical program. He often leaves a mini-energy channel in the form of very thin, practically invisible threads in the astral plane that lead to this magical program. He can feel the dissolution of this negative magical program and in some way can provoke the person into aggression so that he returns to these low vibrations.

If you do not meet his expectations in this regard, then he will be powerless to harm you in any way. He will simply remain in low vibrations and go through his own lessons. And you are in the high ones.

Timecode: 17:56, #284 Live. Answers to questions from viewers from the Telegram chat: CASSIOPEIA_LIVE

MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien life forms;

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in the astral world and its interactions with the material world.
June, 2021
May 12

#515 Psychotypes according to Anuashvili – two portraits of one person. Nanotechnologies of alien medicine.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/psihotipy-po-anuashvili-dva-portreta-odnogo-lica-n https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=tO62L3orEb8

00:00 Start of video.

00:18 Background.

Voice-over: In the summer of 1999, a 13-year-old girl Irina Podzorova from the village of Peski near Voronezh agreed to take a short trip on a triangular-shaped ship with aliens from the constellation Cassiopeia.

Since then, for more than 20 years, representatives of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy, which includes 116 of the 727 intelligent races present in it, have regularly come into contact with it.

01:52 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today with us are MidgasCaus - our Curator, biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations from the planet Esler, and Andrey. Hello Andrei!

Andrey: Good afternoon! My name is Andrey Nadtochin, I am a psychiatrist, psychotherapist. I asked about the method I have been consulting for for 18 years, the Anuashvili method. I would like to ask a few questions about it that interest me.

Irina: Okay, thank you. Meade is ready for the conference. Let's listen to the questions.

Andrey: Quite narrow questions, they relate mainly to this particular technique, but before asking them, there is a personal interest.

Irina: If the questions are specifically about this technique, a little more for our viewers. To make it clear what we are talking about using more common terms, so that they don’t have to go find out the meaning in the dictionary.

03:11 Mental illnesses and their prevention in the Interstellar Union.

Andrey: Yes, so that it doesn’t look like some kind of advertising on my part. But before we get into the method, here's just a general question. I watched a broadcast on the topic of doctors and medicine from aliens. And the question is: do aliens have mental disorders, and in what form do they occur?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Mental illnesses do not exist in the Interstellar Union at the moment, because we are engaged in the prevention of these disorders, starting from the genetic level and, naturally, ending with the level of care for the integration of the Spirit into the body from the moment of conception. This is part of our culture.

Andrey: Great. And aliens don’t have depression as such?

Irina (MidgasKaus): There are prevention methods that are based on talking with your body, working with your brain, and regulating hormones. There are forms of depression when the hormonal system is upset, and this begins to affect the mood of the Spirit itself. Because, as I already said, just as the Spirit influences the body, so the body influences the Spirit while they are together. Not for the whole Spirit, but for the incarnate part. To what you call the Soul. And they have an influence on each other: just as the Spirit can change the vibrations of the body and its state, so the body and its state can change the vibrations of the Spirit.

Andrey: That is, this is a two-way process.

Irina (MidgasKaus): This is a two-way process, and it happens that various hormonal disorders, including, for example, from an imbalance of various substances, microelements, vitamins, various intoxications, parasitosis, infectious diseases, begin to affect a certain hormonal background. And from this, emotions (the emotional component), will begin to change, and seemingly causeless depression and oppression arise.

Depression is not just despondency, not just boredom, not just melancholy, it is also a certain state of the body when, for example, there is a deficiency of vital energy. Or, in some forms of inability to manage vital energy, a person begins to engage in a certain activity, which quickly gets boring for him, and he switches to something else, and as a result, nothing satisfies him, and he becomes depressed.

Andrey: Are we talking about a person now?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, we are talking about a person, but many races have similar forms of reaction, the closest to you are representatives of the planet Disaru, they have the same physiological and energetic structure as people. But, nevertheless, the development of Interstellar Union medicine and methods of disease prevention made it possible to reduce the occurrence of mental and psychiatric problems to zero. There is not a single psychiatric hospital there; this is all decided at the level of communication with your body, with your Higher Self.

As for the Earth, I want to say that working with mental or mental illness is the very first stage in the development of your medicine in helping people. Because before eliminating any physical, deadly diseases, you first need to teach the patient to work as a whole with his brain and his body. And here what we call prevention plays a role. That is, educational standards for children in schools that teach how to work with emotions, how not to accumulate blocks, how to talk to your body so that one or another endocrine gland produces less or more hormones depending on its needs, so that harmonize everything.

For example, if we take a person, his pineal gland, pituitary gland and hypothalamus, like three musicians in an orchestra, must play absolutely harmoniously. Only then will the content of various mood mediators in the cerebral cortex be normal.

I hope this answer is clear? Because I don't quite understand him now. Do you understand what he's talking about?

Andrey: Yes, absolutely. There may be both a disruption in production and a disruption in utilization. The most important thing is their harmonious interaction.

09:35 Diagnosis and treatment methods for aliens.

Andrey: Regarding psychosomatic disorders. It is clear that when you need to go to a surgeon, you will first have to perform an operation, and then turn to the Soul.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes.

Andrey: Recently, due to a lot of stress, we have had a lot of psychosomatic disorders. But among aliens, psychosomatics is completely defeated? Or does it still happen sometimes?

Irina (MidgasKaus): We don't have this either, because we teach from childhood to work with blocks, but, of course, this is all - free will, freedom of choice for everyone. If someone does not want to do this out of their free will, they may develop a psychosomatic illness. But we don't have a specific area of medicine that would only deal with this; then it would simply eliminate various consequences with the help of medicine.

But the technology of the Interstellar Union is quite advanced in this regard. We have many directions on how to restore humanoid bodies. There are also energy methods and physical methods. But pharmacological methods of treatment and prevention have faded into the background; they are used rarely and specifically for each cell, that is, at the cellular level. For example, we have very developed so-called nanotechnologies in medicine. There are certain microchips that can transport various substances to certain cells that are pathologically altered in a particular organ, and introduce them into the membrane of the cell itself.

Andrey: We can only dream.

Irina (MidgasKaus): This is somewhat different from your pharmacology. Because if, for example, you are prescribed a non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drug that eliminates pain, inflammation and dysfunction of the spine or some other organ, or a headache, or something else, then its effect extends not only to these organs, but and on the gastrointestinal tract, kidneys and heart. Undesirable side effects occur because you do not yet know how to precisely deliver the desired chemical to the place where it will restore the imbalance in your body. It affects everything at once, there is no targeted effect. And here we solved this problem about 6 million years ago.

Even funny! (laughs)

Andrey: Yes. Six million years ago we did not exist.

Irina: And we have such diagnostic methods, for example, in every home, anyone who wants can install them. Firstly, we have a home computer in every home; it is not just one computer that stands in a certain place, but a so-called system that is built into the walls, ceiling and floor of the house itself. And at a certain place in the wall there is a panel (shows a place on the wall of a different color), you can put your palms there, and the computer will diagnose you by the composition of your breath, by various parameters, such as, for example, the composition of the sweat released from the skin, as well as by various energy parameters of the etheric body, etc.

There are special sensors, and on a special screen in the wall they will show the state of the body, where all your indicators will be: how many substances are in the blood, what is the state of the cardiovascular system. If we translate this into earthly language, then all the parameters of the blood test, blood pressure and also various pathologies will be displayed on the screen. If there are any foreign substances or microorganisms that have caused damage, these will also be shown on the screen and the organ that is damaged will be shown and advice will be given.

How do you like this kind of medicine?

Andrey: We have “Aurabuk”, imago diagnostics.

Irina (MidgasKaus): This is a very good device, which works on the basis of reading vibrations, that is, the frequencies of certain organs and microorganisms through a computer program. We also have such technologies, but they are already built into our homes.

Andrey: We have room to move.

15:56 Similarities and differences in the manifestation of Spirits in different incarnations.

Andrey: The next question concerns the temperament of aliens. In fact, I am interested precisely in those whose genotype is present in a person. Are we like our creators? Do they, just like us, have psychotypes, or are they all calm, balanced and harmonious?

Irina: Of course, we have psychotypes, there are differences from each other, this is not only a parameter of the body, it is a parameter of the Spirit itself, which has become incarnate. But, just like on Earth, we have many theories, different scales, names of psychotypes. There are even more of them than on Earth, because there are a lot of scientists who have put forward their theories on this matter, there are various test systems, and it’s all the same as on Earth.

As for the names, are there any similarities? Firstly, we have a common Spiritual world from which we all come into incarnation. Naturally, our similarity is that we all have feelings, thoughts, desires, emotions, will. But they can manifest themselves in different ways, depending on the type of body, and on the type of civilization, the society itself, where the upbringing and childhood of a particular humanoid takes place.

Andrey: Does it still depend on upbringing?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Thoughts, feelings, emotions themselves can manifest themselves in different ways. You have this on Earth too. Because, for example, a feeling, an emotion of fear in a child from one country, may manifest itself differently in another country, if the culture there is different.

Andrey: Yes, and Mowgli children are like an extreme example, when a child is raised by an animal and does not become a human. This is just understandable.

Irina (MidgasKaus): There are also cultural, philosophical and religious differences in society. Ideological differences also leave their mark on the manifestation of your Spirits. Because the ideology of the society where you are directs your mental fields, your thoughts into certain ideas, and this all affects the manifestation of your Spirits. And moreover, the language you speak already builds for you this or that picture of the world.

There is such a science in the Interstellar Union, which is called “psycholinguistics”. This is a very interesting direction in which various languages of the Galaxy are studied, including the languages of the Earth, from the point of view of the effectiveness of using certain linguistic stimuli to increase vibrations, to fulfill the tasks of embodiment.

19:32 Method for determining a person’s psychotype according to Anuashvili.

Andrey: My preliminary questions are over, and I would like to touch a little on the Anuashvili method itself, talk about it, with your permission. This is the method that determines a person’s psychotype from a photograph, from a face. It is based on determining the functional symmetry of the two hemispheres. You can use two methods: either by examining the phase portrait, that is, the so-called angles on the face, or the second method is by measuring electromagnetic radiation.

I saw these electrodes in the original. They are large, military electrodes, which took readings from the scalp at symmetrical points, and through a certain mathematical calculation, two parameters were determined. The first parameter is the degree of predominance of the work of one of the hemispheres, the second parameter is the consistency of the work of the two hemispheres. And it turned out that the higher the symmetry on the face, the higher the degree of personality harmony according to this method.

More than twenty years ago, even earlier, when the first cosmonauts were recruited, they were already looking for people with a more symmetrical face. It was believed that these were more stress-resistant people.

Irina: I even wanted to go. I'm interested.

Andrey: Just a photograph is enough. The computer builds two portraits, that is, it divides the portrait in half, and from each half a whole portrait is formed, and the hidden emotions of the right and left hemispheres are already visible. We may encounter cases where these two portraits are not similar to each other at all, that is, the consistency of the hemispheres is low. Thus, we can define a chaotic psychotype, that is, an introvert with a high degree of eroticism.

Anuashvili has a conditional overlap and similarity with other typologies, but it is precisely in the way he defines the psychotype that he is unique. There is, of course, physiognomy, and the typology and psychotypes of people have been successfully studied for quite a long time, but this did not become reliable information; Anuashvili, from his point of view, still has an accuracy of determination above 90%.

It is also based on the so-called background principle of information perception. He says that in order to investigate some inconspicuous moving object, it is not necessary to do this directly, it is enough to examine the background of its work. And for the brain, the background of its work is the face, you just need to be able to read these signs. And it is precisely in the lines drawn through the corners of the eyes, nasolabial folds, the midline, and also drawn through the corners of the mouth that we determine the so-called phase portrait.

And if I explained it clearly to your guest, then I have a question. Does a more symmetrical face really indicate that a person is more harmonious and more psychologically secure?

Irina (MidgasKaus): I understand the question. What you call the Anuashvili effect is known in our psychophysiology. The fact is that, as you say, the left and right parts of the face, as well as the upper and lower, have different distributions of muscle microtonicity. There are muscles and vessels that make up the subcutaneous structure (shows). This does not depend on the skull itself. On the skull there are various muscles, vessels, ligaments, connective tissue subcutaneous tissue (shows such layers in the head), and only then the skin itself and its upper part. And the facial expression, as you said, depends precisely on the degree of tension in the facial muscles.

Facial muscles are what the face itself consists of. It does not consist of skin, but of the facial bones of the skull, facial muscles and skin. So, it is precisely the different degrees of tension in these facial muscles that give different expressions on different sides of the face. What is muscle tension? This is a certain tone, muscle contraction, which is regulated by various impulses from the nervous system. The degree of tension of facial muscles in the face, as in the rest of the body, is regulated by signals from the nervous system through special neurons inserted into muscle fibers, which are called “movement neurons.” I hope you understand what I'm talking about.

Andrey: Motor neurons.

Irina: Neurons of movement (laughs), that’s how I translated it.

(MidgasKaus) The nervous system, in turn, is tuned to the spinal cord, to the brain, to various endocrine glands through the neurohumoral regulation system, and all this is influenced by the Spirit itself. That is, in a more harmonious person, who has few blocks, a calmer, peaceful internal state, signals of peaceful high vibrations pass through the brain along the nerve pathways in such a way that they almost equally affect the facial muscles in different places, and the same tone appears.

Therefore, as you said, in more harmonious individuals the comparison of different sides of the face - left and right, right and left - coincides with the usual state of the real face that we see in a person. And if there is some kind of hypertonicity of one part due to the hypotonicity of another part, then there will be a distortion, and this just indicates that there is some kind of psychosomatic tension. Perhaps this is some small block, perhaps it is just temporary stress, some kind of emotion, and this causes the muscles to tense differently.

Moreover, this effect manifests itself not only on the face, but also on the entire body. The body consists of muscles. Thanks to muscles, you can move your entire body, from your fingertips to your limbs when walking, for example. And also talking, blinking eyes - this is all the work of muscles. In fact, various diseases of the joints, spine, and internal organs are very often associated with hypertonicity of the muscles, which are constantly in a tense state, and this causes the internal organs to tighten and, for example, spinal discs or parts of the joint to move relative to each other, especially if this joints of the spine.

Why does this hypertonicity occur? From constant chronic stress, because when adrenaline is released by the adrenal glands, an effect occurs such as tension in the striated muscles. This effect is associated with the instinct of self-preservation, because the tension of the muscles of the limbs and large muscles of the back serves so that in a state of anger or fear a person can escape or fight.

Andrey: Wonderful explanation! Yes, in fact we can see extreme cases, the face of an alcoholic, for example. Mead now says that this is a temporary state, but, unfortunately, I am faced with the fact that there is a “mask of sadness”, for example.

Irina: So he just has a block.

Andrey: Yes. This is already a long-term condition.

Irina: If it persists for a long time, it means that it already has a large block that needs to be dissolved. And if it’s a temporary block, then it’s temporary.

Andrey: For me, the discovery was that the state of the Spirit is also manifested in images.

Irina (MidgasKaus): In different states, in different moods these will be different images.

31:10 Psychocorrections according to the Anuashvili method.

Andrey: There is a possibility of reverse research using this method. I ask you to bring photographs from childhood, a passport, a driver's license, and we look at a twenty-year period, study, and determine approximately the same state of the psychotype.

But another question is that when working, this diagnostic itself is very effective. Within three minutes we already determine the psychotype. But within one and a half to two hours of correction work (there is a second part of this method), in almost all those who contemplate the image synthesized from their own face from a photograph, from its left and right halves, a psychocorrection mechanism based on biofeedback is triggered , according to Anuashvili. What is the result? Facial tension goes away, symmetry increases, a good mood appears, and then the task is to retrain the person.

Irina: Mead is now telling me that this can be done through the Higher Self, through contact, dissolving blocks.

Andrey: I told Irina before the broadcast that what I'm doing right now is combining these two methods. This is an experimental stage, I want to see how it will look in practice next.

I have such experience. I worked with children with attention deficit, and accordingly, I periodically recorded encephalographic data for these children before and after the session using the Anuashvili method. And it turned out that Anuashvili's method increases the amount of alpha rhythm, the resting rhythm, which in fact in children with attention deficit is either very low or absent. But at the same time, it seems impossible to start this alpha rhythm using other methods. It is believed that this is an organic lesion. I understand that while this is my personal experience as a specialist, this is not science yet.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, contemplation of such persons makes it possible for the Spirit itself to send information about this violation to the Higher Self through the visual channel, and then through the spiritual channel. And the Higher Self is already correcting the functioning of the brain.

Andrey: That is, I have been working here as an esotericist for 18 years, it turns out?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, you work in such a way that you send a message to the Higher Self of a person, demonstrating the face of this person, distorted by blocks, through his own eyes of the physical body. And the Higher Self itself harmonizes the process.

Andrey: So what we call biofeedback is actually receiving information from the Higher Self?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, but this may be a temporary effect if he does not work with the reasons later. This is bioenergetic alignment, but he will still need to dissolve the blocks later.

Andrey: My task for 18 years as a psychoanalyst was to help a person understand blocks, resistance, and overcome anxiety. Another thing is that there was always a question: at whose expense is this happening? Because the gypsies could have placed a mirror in the middle of the photograph, and their faces were already visible.

Irina (MidgasKaus): You know the effect of the influence of various emotions on people’s facial expressions. For example, if a person smiles when he doesn’t want to, or, conversely, wants to cry, this distorts his smile.

Andrey: Yes, I agree. But we conducted this experiment almost 20 years ago, and my first question was: what will happen if a person is depressed and smiles. Unfortunately, his psychotype does not change. It also happened when I conducted research on large enterprises that people smiled, trying to hide their emotional state. No, the psychotype does not change, it is a fairly stable state. The fact that he smiles will not mislead the program.

Irina (MidgasKaus): There are some theories in your psychology, I have heard about them and I know that some psychological schools on Earth recommend that various depressed patients or those in a state of low mood simply smile forcefully and act as if nothing is happening. But in fact, without addressing the cause itself, it cannot eliminate depression. It's just that a person will force himself to do it, to smile, but will not feel an inner state of upliftment, and this will make him even more sad, upset that he cannot succeed in this method.

Andrey: Yes, another reason for disappointment.

Irina: He will disguise it to himself, enter a state of self-deception, an illusion about himself, that I am the person I want to be, but in reality I am not. The state of self-deception cannot be too long, because the reality that exists around a person and in himself, in his psyche, brings him back to the same vibrations.

Andrey: How sustainable this is, of course, I can only speak from my own example. I had quite a lot of problems, not only with severe addictions, but I gave up alcohol and cigarettes 18 years ago. In fact, the merit of this method is 100%, because the impulsiveness in my behavior has become much less.

I have a personal question, how correct is it to ask? It concerns the level of my incarnation. I imagined that the increase in the level of vibrations of me as a person, my life, occurred precisely under the influence of this method to a large extent. Is this a delusion of mine, because I am not a spiritual person, at least?

Irina (MidgasKaus): I believe that the increase in your Spiritual level, this is my personal opinion, was due to mercy, compassion for people who asked for help. You wanted to help them, and not just wanted, but helped, they thanked you, and you felt that you had helped them, you were happy for them and for yourself. This raised your vibrations and contributed to the growth of Love.

Andrey: I see. It was not possible, so to speak, to push everything into technology (smiles).

Irina (MidgasKaus): I believe that this is your internal work.

Andrey: Yes, accepting people as they are.

Irina (MidgasKaus): And help.

Andrey: It is very difficult for me, as a doctor, of course, to accept the actions of other people aimed at destroying their health, but, on the other hand, everyone has their own choice.

39:51 Possibility of attunement between a person and an alien.

Irina (MidgasKaus): I'm looking through the contactee. It’s clear from your look that you had some pretty severe disappointments with people close to you, but they were internal, mental, and you quickly switched to the positive. And in general, probably since you were 16 years old, you haven’t built any illusions about human nature, you know that everyone can make mistakes, and no one is perfect.

Andrey: Yes, that's for sure.

Irina: What will you tell him?

Andrey: That he is a great psychologist. It's a pity that we don't keep in touch.

Irina: Do you want him to be your curator?

Andrey: Of course, I am such a fairly convinced materialist, but if I hear it in my head in some other form.

Irina (MidgasKaus): These are just thoughts. You send thoughts, and a response arises. To hear me, you need to tune in to me, and the easiest way to do this is through the Higher Self. Ask your Higher Self, first tune in with it, clear your mind to the state of a blank sheet of consciousness, imagine that you are just a blank slate. And you will have certain thoughts in the form of words and a stream of mental images, and sometimes you will even say them without having time to realize them with your mind. This is the state of flow.

Andrey: And now MidgasCaus tried to tune me in?

Irina: Do you want to tune in with him?

Andrey: It was just a strange feeling.

Irina: He sends energy through the image, but in the Spiritual world there is no distance, and he sends such energy. What do you think of his energy?

Andrey: I understand that Esler and Burkhad have different energies?

Irina: Yes, they are different.

Andrey: My last question was that I assumed that I was very familiar with Burkhadian energy.

Irina: How do you like Esler's?

Andrey: It's softer.

Irina: Yes, exactly. Look, you can tell the difference! And you say you are a materialist. You are a sensitive person. Indeed, many people note that the Burkhadians' energy is not only harsher, it is more structured, while the Eslerians' energy is softer. I was told this more than once, and I didn't tell you this, so this is already a test, as they say, of your feelings. Do you subjectively like her?

Andrey: If Burkhadian is so ringing and high-frequency, that is, you can fly away, then what I felt now is rather such light, calm music.

Irina: Yes, exactly, calm music in which you want to relax, right?

Andrei: Yes.

Irina: They are like that. Even their men are affectionate, gentle, soft, they have such a character.

43:53 The importance of the patient's responsibility for his recovery.

Andrey: But with all their tenderness, they understand people very well, because at least what I heard today reflects what is close to me, as I understand it. But I have a question: do we really change the state of the Spirit, and therefore the body, by working with symmetry, with the face?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, through the Spirit you can influence the body, and through the body the Spirit. Whether he will sustain these changes is another matter entirely. But he will be able to retain them after communication with the Higher Self, and after any psychotherapeutic method, and even after pharmacological influence, which can also be used to influence the Spirit through the body. As a psychiatrist, you know this well. Whether he will maintain the changes on his own, without these influences, will depend on his independent work on himself and on taking responsibility for his psychological, spiritual and physical state.

45:10 MidgasKaus recommendations to psychotherapists and all people of the Earth.

Andrey: Unfortunately, I heard a difference here: they, on other planets, have prevention, but they come to me for help in extreme conditions.

Irina (MidgasKaus): So, your first explanation should be.

What do I recommend? There must be explanatory work, that is, first listen to the person and explain to him what is happening, in understandable terminology, but without distorting the truth. In the sense that, for example, do not transfer any responsibility or blame for what is happening to other people.

For example, if a person comes to you, as a psychiatrist or psychotherapist, and says that an evil neighbor is trying to harass the patient with witchcraft, then it is not recommended to tell him that he needs to protect himself from her, needs to move somewhere, or something else. then do it. This will only strengthen the person in the opinion that he is a victim of an attack on himself and a violation of his personal boundaries. It is necessary to restore his personal boundaries, increase his self-confidence, dissolve the blocks of fear, guilt, anger, resentment that attract to him, perhaps, magical influences or plasmoid civilizations of a destructive nature. And after this the person will not feel any attacks.

Andrey: For us and big psychiatry, of course, it is much easier and more common to act pharmacologically and extinguish this fear.

Irina (MidgasKaus): This is, of course, possible, I also studied your various medications, starting from phenazepam and ending with more modern ones. And I want to say that the question arises here: will a person retain these vibrations, this state, without this pharmacological effect? And if this pharmacological effect is lifelong, then other internal organs inevitably begin to suffer, because you do not know how to deliver these substances precisely to those cells where they should have their effect.

Andrey: We treat one thing, we cripple another - the principle of such medicine.

Irina (MidgasKaus): (smiles) This is not because we are treating and crippling others, this does not arise out of malice, but because your medicine is at such a level of development at the moment. As soon as you fulfill all the conditions and join the Interstellar Union, if the inhabitants of your planet want it in an open vote, then, naturally, all medical technologies will be provided to the Earth along with the best specialists who will integrate them into your earthly reality.

Andrey: Great! All that remains is to stop the wars and vote.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, it remains to stop wars for 5 years, abolish the death penalty and the law on the right to abortion in all countries, and fulfill the remaining conditions. It's very simple - respect for life. You just need to add a clause in the constitutions of all the states of the Earth, there are now more than 80 of them, that human life (you don't even have to write "incarnate Spirit," just "human life") is a priority over all other laws.

Andrey: Thank you, MidgasCaus, Irina! I had such an amazing process, I believed even more in the method we use.

Irina: Thank you.

Andrey: I heard some approval today, it inspired me.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Okay. I feel interested and that you are listening to every word. And if you wish, and contact with me will be approved by your Higher Self, I am ready to tune in with you and be your curator.

Andrey: My Higher Self has long agreed.

Irina: Now you need to tune in with him, that is, accept astral thought forms (he is here in the Astral). Then convey it in words. This, of course, requires work.

(MidgasCaus) And you will already set up the contact with Irina and me separately from the conference.

Andrey: I see, thank you. I'm out of questions.

Irina: So, dear friends, it was a very interesting conference and conversation. Congratulations to Mid on your new contactee, and you, Andrey, on your new curator. Mead smiles.

Thank you, dear friends, I hope you found it interesting and useful. The answers were interesting. Thank you for being with us, thank you for your gifts - both material and spiritual, and your Light, for raising your vibrations, which affects the fate of the entire earthly civilization. Until next time.

November 23, 2022

Participants:

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, subtle-material civilizations and the Spiritual world;

Andrey Nadtochin – psychiatrist, psychoanalyst, expert of the Anuashvili method;

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/midgaskaus-o-veshchestve-horol-s-dreva-poznaniya
May 13
MidgasKaus about the substance “horol” from the Tree of Knowledge
The author of the picture on the right is Mikhail Sergeevich Grinevich
“The history of the creation of our civilization 3-5 million years ago”
I studied this topic in the history of the Earth, studied the topic of the creation of your race, and, of course, this is a treacherous crime that the representatives of Selbet committed. For their own internal reasons, they decided to try to destroy earthlings in order to then create the preconditions for the creation of another hybrid with the combination of genes they desired. But since murder, of course, is a crime in the Interstellar Union, they decided to present everything as an accident.
They were good biologists and took advantage of a tree that can be expressed in Russian letters and sounds as “khorol”. This tree was grown at the base. This tree could be adapted to the climate of the Earth at that time, and it was intended so that representatives of the planet Tumesout, by eating it, could stimulate their brain activity. That is, to put it in a language that you can understand, there was a complex of substances - plant flavonoids, which acted on the Tumesoutian's brain in the same way as nootropics and mental stimulants act, that is, as stimulants of mental activity.

They acted locally on the brain and did not cause any side effects on the body of the Tumesout people themselves, because they already had developed science (the plant itself was genetically modified). It has been modified in such a way that the beneficial properties of this plant remain. But for earthlings, since they had the genetics of other organisms and their own metabolism, there were no necessary enzymes that would break down this substance. It accumulated in people's bodies in toxic doses and caused cell damage, let's say poisoning.
Selbet biologists, knowing this very well, persuaded some people to eat this fruit. You can read this story in the Bible, where, under the guise of mythology, a very real story that happened is told. It's just called there "The Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil." Why was it called that? Because the Selbetite who offered this to people said that "you will learn the secrets of the world that your creators are hiding from you." He said that they fly among the stars and know a lot of things that are not yet available to you, and this is all thanks to this tree, which gives knowledge. They were already adults, but they trusted their creators and therefore decided that the Selbet man was telling the truth. But not everyone decided that way.
Five people: three of them women and two men, young people, quite tall, decided to listen to him, went to this tree themselves, without the Selbet man, to one of these trees - there were several of them, and picked the fruits. These trees were not protected, they were not monitored, because people were warned that they were dangerous and that their fruits should not be eaten. Then, since some said not to eat, others said to eat, and they trusted them equally, they simply thought that the first were hiding something from them because it was too early for them to become acquainted with this knowledge. And that's why they believed the Selbetites.
After they ate it, and these substances do not act immediately, several hours passed and they did not receive any knowledge. They were drowsy, they just wanted to sleep. It's like a sleeping pill. They didn't feel bad or anything else, they just fell asleep and might not wake up, that is, they had toxic poisoning. But they were found in time. By the way, one of the people found it in this Garden of Eden and informed the representative of Burkhad. They went there and moved them into the room. At first it was not clear what happened to them, then they were put in some kind of capsule that scans the body so that it would be clear what substances got into them or what kind of disease it was. This is a diagnostic device.

And it became clear that they were poisoned with this substance. Therefore, they were given antidotes and then their internal organs, which were damaged, were also restored. But this is already a well-known story. After they were saved, and they were all saved, they told who advised them to do this. Selbetovets and his minions were sent to the planet of criminals, and the people were told (so decided) to live on their own. Because if they did not fully trust their creators and did not even approach the Tumesoutians or Burkhadians to say that they had received such an offer, then such a suspicion arose that the next thing these people would do would be to harm themselves or their creators. And this was the first argument. And the second argument was that they were already adults and it was time for them to settle around the Earth.
Timecode: 04:20, #519 Psychoactive substances that alter consciousness. How to get rid of addiction?
MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.
December 2022
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/praktika-ochishchenie-ot-ehnergij-ubijstva-dlya-vo
May 13

#518 Practice “Cleansing from killing energies” to restore the etheric body from MidgasKaus.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=V3r3ycwR9sI

00:00 Start of video.

00:20 Clearing damage to the killer's etheric field in the presence of blocks.

Irina: I, Podzorova Irina, also conduct such sessions - to cleanse the etheric field from these damages, but through the Higher Self. This can be done in a state of meditation, relaxation.

(says MidgasKaus) First, before you do this, you need to check yourself for the presence of negative blocks in relation to these killed. If there are any negative feelings, then it will not be possible to heal the etheric field. First you need to dissolve the blocks. If there is any anger, hatred, revenge, or even a feeling of guilt or regret in front of them, we clean all this first. That is, here the feeling of guilt also reduces vibrations, like anger. Both are low vibrational feelings. To heal the etheric field, you first need to transform these feelings into Light, and only then pronounce a special formula. I'll tell you now.

First, the one who was the killer (woman or man) remembers the circumstances of the murder and looks at his feelings, as if asking: “Do I have a block here of aggression, anger, hatred, or guilt?” If the answer comes from the Higher Self that there is, then since this Spirit has already left the incarnation, it is necessary to ask whether there is a necrotic attachment to it? A necrotic attachment may still form in the killer, and this murdered person will suck the strength out of him, take it away from him. As I already said about necrotic binding, it may or may not exist. It depends on the level of the Spirit, where it goes, and on the degree of its awareness. The binding may or may not form.

But if there is a necrotic attachment, first we cleanse ourselves of it, as I already said. First, we help the person to interrupt it and regain their energies. Next we dissolve the block if there is no attachment, but there is a block, for example, anger, hatred, resentment or guilt. If it is anger, hatred, resentment, then we are working with the Spirit. If this is a feeling of guilt, regret, and a person cannot forgive himself for this matter and experiences despondency, then we forgive ourselves using the techniques of self-forgiveness. There are quite a lot of them.

Next, we make sure to invite the Spirit who was brought out of incarnation. If his name is unknown, we simply say: “I ask the Spirit whom I brought out of incarnation to come.”

03:33 The influence of massacres on the human etheric field.

Irina (MidgasKaus): And if there were several or many of them... If it was, for example, a military man who simply took part in the battle on such common aircraft as a large bomber. When it flies, its job is simply to release bombs and avoid interception by fighters and air defenses. Where these bombs landed, who disincarnated, what condition they were in, what age they were - of course, he doesn't know. In any case, there will be completely different people there: different genders, ages, spirituality, etc. And everyone will leave the incarnation because of this act of his, which means that the etheric matrices will be damaged very much, because there were a lot of people at once, and they left the incarnation. And even those who will come out of incarnation later from wounds inflicted on them, which they cannot heal, will also further damage his etheric field.

Also, the etheric field will be damaged by its commander, who gave the order to directly bombard this city or this part, because it will be like a customer. And so on it will all spread. Can you imagine the damage it will cause? In addition, it may be able to make more than one sortie; there may even be several sorties a day, in different ways.

(Irina) Now she'll think: "What's left of his ethereal field, right?" (laughs)

Inna: No, I listen and immediately seem to put it into practice.

Irina: It's like you're introducing yourself. I see you have some internal work going on.

Inna: Yes, I'm thinking about how to apply it further.

05:55 Cleansing the etheric field of a woman who has had an abortion.

Irina (MidgasKaus): If this is a woman who has had an abortion, she calls on the Spirits of children. I will now tell you about a woman.

If this woman wants to be healed from damage, she says: "I ask those Spirits whom I disembodied, who wanted to incarnate with me, to come to me from the Spiritual World." Spirit or Spirits, depending on the situation. They will stand in front of her, and, by the way, if there were several abortions, then fewer Spirits may come. This may be due to the fact that the same Spirit tried to incarnate several times.

Inna: That's it! This was my next question. How do we see it when a woman says six, for example, and we, going to the level of the unconscious, see five. Why? Now I understand why this could be.

Irina (MidgasKaus): And then they come, even if they are already embodied. Their Higher Self feels this call, and they definitely send their phantom, because it is in their interests to unravel this situation too.

They all come in the Spiritual world, and the woman says: “I ask your forgiveness for bringing you out of incarnation. Because I blocked your path to this world. Because I didn't allow you to see the sun. Because I have never fed you with my milk. For never once putting you to sleep in her arms. Because I didn’t become your mother.” You can speak arbitrary words, depending on your intuition, but there it will be connected with motherhood. “I did this in a state of unawareness, fear, rejection, aggression.” She doesn't make excuses, she just explains to them.

Inna: Admittedly.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes. And he tells them: “I did it in this state. I send you the Light of my Love so that you are truly happy, so that you know God and become bright Divine beings.” And she must imagine the Light that is coming to him or them.

(Irina) (laughs) How do you feel?

Inna: Thank you! Everything responds, everything is so!

Irina: Have you felt something yet?

Inna: I use it, and I understand that I am doing it correctly, and it really works.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Then she looks to see if they accept the Light (they usually all accept it very well), and says: “I wish you bright, favorable incarnations in any of the Divine worlds. I wish you to find good, loving parents and send them the Light of my Love and gratitude for the fact that they will fulfill my role.”

(Irina) How do you feel?

Inna: Thank you! I want everyone to understand and realize this. Because, indeed, when we work on the Spiritual level, it very well opens the path of Love to those children who live nearby. And bright Souls fly away with ease, in fact, to where they belong.

Irina: Then they will leave, and the cleansing stage begins. We released them, asked for forgiveness, and filled them with Light.

The woman herself says: “I (says her name, says it out loud) ask for forgiveness from God, or Heavenly Father.” Asking for forgiveness from God does not mean that God is offended. This is the desire and desire to be reconciled with God, with Divine energies and to unite with them.

“I ask forgiveness from Heavenly Father (He is an intelligent Spirit, he hears and understands everything) for disincarnating His children. I ask my Heavenly Father to fill me with the Light of Divine Love and cleanse with his Spirit all the etheric matrices of my body (or my energy structure, my aura) at the DNA level of each cell.”

Then she will observe, she will have certain sensations. The Spirit of God in the form of Light will pass from the top of the head to the tips of the toes and cleanse every cell.

Inna: Oh, how valuable this is, thank you very much!

Irina (MidgasKaus): You, as a guide, as a master, will ask: “What do you feel?” You will need to ask her to describe these sensations. Then say: “Take a slow, deep breath and imagine how these energies are distributed throughout your body.” That is, with our performance we help her cleanse her body.

Be sure to let the woman say: “I thank and accept, I love and bless. I promise to use this energy to develop unconditional Love!” After this session, the woman will be absolutely clean, as she was before this act.

Inna: MidgasCaus, this is such valuable information! Thank you so much for passing this on! This is very necessary, it will help many!

12:28 Cleansing the etheric field from the energies of several or multiple murders.

Irina (MidgasKaus): As for murders for other reasons. It’s the same if it’s a killer in a war or in some kind of domestic conflict. He also enters an altered state of consciousness, meditation, connects with the Higher Self and says: “I ask the Spirit to come (if he knows his name, he calls it), whom I disembodied. We are having a serious conversation."

If he doesn’t know them, if he was on the battlefield, but knows for sure that people died from his actions, he must, firstly, stop treating them as enemies. These are Spirits who are equal before God. If inside, in his heart, he continues to treat them as enemies of his state, he will not be able to sincerely forgive them and ask for forgiveness. He will do this formally, which means that the matrix will not be completely cleansed.

Inna: I see.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Therefore, if he feels that he is ready to forgive them and ask them for forgiveness, then he must also enter an altered state of consciousness (we say meditation, communication with the Higher Self) and say: “I ask you to come from the Spiritual peace (if he does not know the names) of all the Spirits whom I have disembodied.”

Further, depending on the number, and he may have one, two or several hundred disembodied, this also happens, he will definitely welcome them. By the way, this applies to any contacts with Spirits, as well as to a woman. “I welcome you, thank you for coming.” Or: “I welcome you, thank you for coming.”

Then he begins to say: “I ask you for forgiveness for my cruelty, for my aggression, for my misunderstanding, dislike, for disembodiing you, for anger, for hatred (he begins to ask for forgiveness for everything), for misunderstanding of the situation, for unconsciousness,” which will go to him as a thought. The Higher Self itself will tell you what needs to be said specifically to him. I’m speaking in general now, but you can’t act according to a template.

“I did this in a state of complete comparison of myself with the egregor of the country. I did this in a state of spiritual unawareness. I did this in a state of defense, for example, protecting (if he was defending someone) from your actions of other people.”

First you must ask for forgiveness, and then say: “I forgive you for your aggression, for your attack, for your hatred (list specific qualities or actions, depending on the circumstances). I recognize that you and I are equal in the Light of God and I send you the Light of my Love.” Light will also be sent to them, and they will accept everything.

If someone does not accept, then say: “I ask your forgiveness, my dear spiritual brother, for the pain that I caused you, for the horror of sudden disincarnation. Please, be happy! I wish you bright, favorable incarnations in any of the Divine worlds. I'm letting you go. May my Light of Love always be with you!”

He will feel full, they will send him the energy of Love, because they will be glad that he has realized.

And then the same thing happened with the woman. Let this person, a military man, for example, or someone else say out loud: “I (name) ask forgiveness from God, the Heavenly Father, for my unawareness, hatred, anger, for the disincarnation of His children (or His child, or His child, or many His children). I ask You for forgiveness, my Heavenly Father, I ask You to fill my body and my aura with the Light of Your pure Divine Love and cleanse with this flow my entire etheric body (or my etheric field) at the DNA level of every cell.”

And the same thing: a flow will pass through it. You ask: “What do you feel?” He will have quite strong sensations.

(Irina) How do you feel? (addresses Inna)

Inna: I don’t know why, but I feel some kind of goodness and lightness, relief or something, that we now know about this. We now know how to deal with this correctly.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Then let him also say: “I thank and accept, I love and bless. I promise to use this energy to develop unconditional Love.”

Then he will be absolutely pure and will not pass on any of his damage during conception to his children. And moreover, his worldview will change. And if suddenly a situation arises again that again requires him to disincarnate, it will be difficult for him to decide on this, because he will remember these sensations. He will see in every person (even if it is a soldier, a military man) not an enemy on the other side of the front, but the same as himself, or another incarnation of himself, who is also expected. The same person, a man who wants to live, and for whom his relatives, beloved children, mother, wife, and no less than him, are also waiting.

Inna: Well, yes, it is very relevant today.

Irina: Yes, very relevant. How do you like that?

Inna: May God grant awareness to everyone!

Irina: How do you like this technique?

Inna: The technique is really cool. I am still immersed, I feel the Spiritual world and understand that this all works, that this is the right position. Very valuable information! Thank you very much, MidgasCaus!

Irina (MidgasKaus): I studied these techniques in schools.

(Irina) So, dear friends, thank you for watching this video. I hope you found it interesting and useful. Try it, apply it.

If you want to do it yourself, you can do it yourself. If you want help with special questions, techniques, to be with you and help you get through it all, you can sign up with any master of our Cassiopeia Project. I teach this to everyone. If you come for training or a retreat, you can come to me for a personal appointment, and we will work with you.

I send you the Light of my Love, gratitude for the fact that you exist, for the fact that you take this information seriously. Thanks to this, it begins to change your life and allow you to more consciously achieve your goals and fulfill the tasks of embodiment. See you!

December 4, 2022

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, subtle-material civilizations and the Spiritual world;

Inna Timraeva – coach, metaphysics psychologist;

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/midgaskaus-ob-upotreblenii-muhomorov-i-ehnteogenov
May 14
MidgasKaus about the use of fly agarics and entheogens on Earth
I am familiar with this plant, this mushroom. Treatment of diseases with the help of such mushrooms and plants has been used in ancient times. And they were used not only for treatment, but also for changing consciousness.

Consciousness is the energy for perceiving the world around us. You understand it in the sense of only the material world, but this category is broader. Consciousness can perceive the dense world, the subtle world and the Spiritual world. And to change the focus of consciousness on one or another world, similar substances have been used since ancient times.
In addition, similar mushrooms and the substances they contained were used to treat various infectious diseases, for example, even cancer, as an anesthetic, to suppress cancer cells, etc. At that time, when there were no modern medicines and there were no means that could destroy a cancer cell, there were different recipes. That is, due to some toxins, it happened that people were even cured. But, naturally, as I already said, both in relation to drugs and in relation to herbs, and now such recipes exist, I know them, I have studied them.
I'll just say that without identifying and eliminating the spiritual cause of this disease, the effect of any remedy, including fly agarics and modern medicines, which, by the way, can be no less toxic... We are talking about modern chemical medicines that are obtained artificially, they can be no less toxic to blood cells, liver, etc. There are also certain dosages, and in case of an overdose, a person can be poisoned. Even if you follow everything, all these recipes, but do not eliminate the spiritual cause of the disease, then they may not work. Either the effect is temporary, or it is not enough, or the disease may transform into another form or into another organ.
If we say a few more words about oncology, there is a difficulty there: such diseases, when part of the cells for some reason rebel against the body, speak of serious internal conflicts. Since this disease is not just a disease, it is deadly, that is, a person can come out of incarnation at any moment, it is recommended to talk to your Higher Self first and ask whether it is planned to come out of incarnation within, for example, the next year . The answers are needed in order to understand how much time there is to complete the remaining tasks of life. And only then can you ask about the spiritual causes of this disease and eliminate them. Whether it is plants or drugs can be used strictly individually.
As for consciousness, the use of drugs to change consciousness to direct perception to some subtle world or to an easier adjustment to the Spiritual world, so that blocks do not interfere - yes, this was used. How do I feel about this? My opinion is that the most natural way and the most effective for spiritual development is when a person dissolves his blocks, meditates, etc. He himself, with the help of his energies, which are given to him by God, and they are given to everyone, achieves these states. That is, in fact, in your body as earthlings there are all those substances that you call entheogens, wherever they are: in plants or artificially created. They are also synthesized in your body. Those substances that you take, if they affect your brain, it means that there are receptors in your brain that they can connect to. And if there are receptors, it means that in your body there is a substance that is the same or similar to it that you are taking. This means that you can control its release using special psychotechniques, spiritual practices, etc. That is, I treat this as the unconsciousness of a person who simply does not know any other way. If a person is not able to get answers without a substance, then when he takes it, it is not at all a fact that he will ask or remember something, or receive the undistorted answer that should be there, because there will be a change in consciousness. And if he has not been taught to maintain awareness even in a state of ordinary consciousness, then when it expands, his attitude towards the same issue may completely change. He may lose self-control even in constructing a sentence. I believe that any person, even if he has blocks, but if he works to talk to his Higher Self, then the answer to what they consist of and how to get rid of them can be received in any case and begin work on it.

I told Irina, and Irina told her students, what to do if the blocks are so large and heavy that a person cannot hear a single thought. There are special techniques, special words that a person will say in order to get rid of some of these blocks in front of the Higher Self. For example, there is a special technique for working with fears, working with anger, with grievances, etc.

When a person says that he cannot hear the Higher Self, the master begins to ask what problems he has in life. And the person talks, for example, about his fear, anger, resentment, etc., about some kind of negative emotions. And using a special technique, the master works with a person precisely through this emotion, bringing it to the surface, helping to dissolve the block. And after this, a person can ask questions about the cause of the disease.

This will be a more reliable, more natural method, and anyone can do it, of course, if they want it. But if he doesn’t want to, then no plants will help him. This is simply a person's desire.

Timecode: 14:24, #519 Psychoactive substances that alter consciousness. How to get rid of addiction?

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, subtle-material civilizations and the Spiritual world.

December 2022

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pryamoj-ehfir-s-duhom-nikolaya-gogolya

May 16

#520 Live broadcast with the Spirit of Nikolai Gogol.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Tf5bPkxBcqM

00:00 Start of video.

00:02 Greetings from Maxim Rusan. Innovations of the CASSIOPEA Project.

Maxim: Well, greetings everyone again. We generally have mysticism: the second broadcast, as soon as I finish 10 minutes of my airtime, Irina sits down - and everything disappears.

Therefore, let's be careful, once again I will quickly go over our innovations (for those who don’t know). Links to all innovations will be under this video.

So, first. The New Year's retreat that we will have is a retreat of a new format: we, the 12 main masters. But due to the fact that I see how registration is going on, there will not be 12 masters, there will be at least 30 masters of different formats, from different schools, different directions, not just “Cassiopeia”. Therefore, in general, in principle, we are expecting not only the masters of “Cassiopeia” to attend this retreat. We will even give some masters the opportunity to speak and represent their school at our retreat. We are for harmonization, we are for unification.

Second point. Project “Cassiopeia. Codes” - our curators of the Interstellar Union began to transmit information to us. They talked about the world matrix, that everything is in numbers, everything can be described in numbers. Overall a very interesting project. Young, but moves well. This project “Cassiopeia. Codes" is currently holding a huge drawing - more than 50 prizes. There are books, Project products, various T-shirts, T-shirts. In general, everything is just very cool.

Further. After thinking for a very long time, we have a new product of 100% natural essential oils - this is “Cassiopeia Aroma”. This is the energy of transformation of etheric reality. MidgasCaus gave us a set - a group of oils with the help of which you will work with us, with our chakra system, with our etheric fields for various types of harmonization of the energies of your chakra structures. There will be a conference with Mead on these oils in the near future. He will explain in great detail and competently how to work with these oils, how to harmonize them, how to structure them into your etheric energy system.

The most important thing is that you can see everything on our website and buy it on our website. Before the New Year, we have prepared for everyone who buys “Cassiopeia” No. 1 sets from us, these are the gifts - these are bracelets, I’ll even show you more closely. They unscrew and twist. There’s this little thing here, essential oil is dripped into it, a set of essential oils, and you can feel new flows of your ethereal reality all day long. But this is a gift from the Cassiopeia Project due to the fact that we have a new Project. And I tell you honestly and frankly: you will be surprised by the price of a set of natural 100% essential oils from different global manufacturers (elite manufacturers), with a full chromatogram for each oil.

Well, let's go to Gogol? Yes, Irishenka, sit down. I hope that nothing will freeze now, because we have already done everything possible so that this broadcast does not freeze.

03:55 Greetings from Irina. Maxim's addition on the new products of the Project.

Irina: Hello again!

Maxim: Yes, and more, guys, I’ll watch...

(reads chat) “I already ordered two sets.”

You couldn't order two sets, they're not on sale yet!

Irina: Interesting.

Maxim: They are just coming out now. Guys, look at the Cassiopeia Project probiotics on our website in the near future. We now have our own small online store, look at everything on our website, all the information will be there: when it goes on sale, everything will be on the website. In the near future, just the nearest, nearest.

04:47 Reasons for turning off your computer.

Irina: This is how the chips are tuned to the Spirits, so they create an electromagnetic field that temporarily begins to affect the computer in general. I have chips, they begin to tune in to the new guest. You yourself saw, dear friends, that all this began when I sat down here and tuned in to contact.

Maxim: Last time it was the same. When we communicated with the Spirit of St. Andrew the First-Called.

Irina: Yes, the same thing.

Maxim: The same thing. I just talked about the Project, only you sat down, began to tune in - and turned everything off. It’s not even a camera here, guys, our entire computer was turned off. Now our computer shuts down completely, but, unfortunately, we don’t have any other computers.

Irina: This is how the chip is configured, because it switches to another mode. Because the Spirit with whom I will communicate is new for him, new energy for me. Therefore, in order for me to convey information accurately and correctly, I need to adjust my mental field to his. And this happens with the help of chips in this case, yes.

06:00 Presentation of the Spirit of Nikolai Gogol. Incarnation after Gogol.

Maxim: So, Irish, I want you to introduce our guest today, how he positions himself, and how he presents himself.

Irina: Dear friends, hello! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. I hope the chip is configured by now.

Maxim: And he won't turn off the computer again, Irin.

Irina: Yes, I hope he has already tuned in and will not switch to another mode.

Present with us is the disembodied Spirit, who was known in one of his incarnations as Nikolai Gogol, such a person, a writer. He tells me that he greets everyone, and says that after life, after incarnation in the body of Nikolai Gogol, he had another incarnation.

Maxim: What are you talking about! And where?

Irina: He also had an incarnation in Russia. More precisely, he was born in the USSR, on the territory of the Sukhumi region.

Maxim: Sukhumi region?

Irina: But there he now shows me a Russian man. Russians lived there. Russian community, or something.

On the territory of the Sukhumi region, not far from Sukhumi - now shows mountains. And his name there was Yuri. He incarnated... So, he is now showing me what year it is, the numbers. 1953.

Maxim: 1953?

Irina: 1953.

Maxim: When did Yuri die?

Irina: I left my last incarnation in 2009.

Maxim: In 2009?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: I understand.

Irina: He’s showing me the car now. Shows that he was a driver, but did not remember his incarnation in Gogol's body. And when he came out of his last incarnation, when he united with his disembodied part, he remembered everything.

08:12 Levels of embodiment and tasks of the Soul of Nikolai Gogol.

Maxim: Yeah, interesting. How can I contact you?

Irina: I appeared before Irina in the image of Nikolai, because it is about his life that we will talk.

Maxim: Nikolay, please tell me from what level did you incarnate into Nikolay?

Irina: On the 4th.

Maxim: From the 4th? Wow, how interesting. What level have you reached from the incarnation of Nikolai Gogol?

Irina: On the 9th.

Maxim: On the 9th?

Irina: Now I'm on the 14th.

Maxim: Now on the 14th?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Tell me, please, how is it that you incarnated on Earth and chose, after Gogol, to incarnate on Earth again? Why not another planet?

Irina: Because I did not complete my incarnation tasks, I did not fully fulfill my incarnation task. Although I increased my level by 5 levels, I did not completely complete my tasks. I had accumulated negative energies and negative emotions.

Maxim: To him.

Irina: It was on this planet that I failed. Therefore, my spiritual mentors decided to choose my incarnation on Earth again. There were no other options.

Maxim: First of all, I thank you for responding and coming to this broadcast. We are now in the 21st century, and technology allows us to transmit everything you say to a huge number of people.

Irina: Yes, when I was Yuri, I had a camera. I shot various videos about nature and also posted them on the Internet. He says he is familiar with this technique.

Maxim: To him.

Irina: He is also a photographer. He says his favorite hobby is photography and nature videos. He is now showing me how he does it.

10:21 Birth, childhood, family of Nikolai Gogol.

Maxim: Can you tell me where you were born and raised? What was your family like?

Irina: In Nikolai’s body?

Maxim: Yes, Nikolai Gogol.

Irina: I was born in a city whose name was dedicated to peace. Something like "Peaceful City".

Maxim: Myrhorod?

Irina: Yes, somewhere like that. He is now showing me a map: somewhere between Kharkov and Kiev. At least, now I see Kharkov - he is showing me now - and Kyiv. And this one, where he was born, is somewhere between them - something like this.

Maxim: I understand.

Irina: I was born into a family, as I thought then, the first son. But then my mother told me that two of my brothers were already born, but died when they were little. That's why I was the oldest. In general, we had many children in our family.

He shows me 10 more children, including several boys.

We had many children in the family, my brothers and sisters, but many died when they were still small children.

He now shows the boy and says that this is his brother Ivan. He died when he was 10 years old. Shows a few more there.

Maxim: They say that your childhood was very hungry. You were starving - is it true?

Irina: No, we didn’t starve. We lived poorly, but there was no hunger. Because my father worked somewhere while my mother looked after the children.

He is now showing me that my father is writing something, he was some kind of civil servant, an official. It was a large building where the city government was located, as I understand it.

Maxim: What were your hobbies as a child?

Irina: As a child, I was taken away from my mother early. I was sent to school early. Moreover, it was a school where I did not come home, in another city. I studied there from the age of 10, missed my mother and studied various subjects. But I didn’t really like studying, I wanted to go home. And when I was at home, I liked playing outside and spending time with other children. I had no interest in sitting with books, I was interested in walking somewhere on the street and in the forest. We went home in the morning (especially in the summer) and came in the evening.

He is now showing me various images of nature. Loved to play with children.

14:13 Love relationships of Nikolai Gogol.

Maxim: Tell me, please, what kind of relationship did you have with the girls? And did you have any relationships with women in general in your life, in the future?

Irina: Which girls?

Maxim: Were you friends with girls when you were a child?

Irina: With your sisters?

Maxim: No, not with close sisters, with other people’s girls. Have you talked to strangers' girls?

Irina: We were just playing.

Maxim: When you grew up, did you have sexual relationships with women?

Irina: No.

Maxim: Never happened?

Irina: No.

Maxim: What contributed to this?

Irina: He shows me two women.

I did not find reciprocity. I talked to them, confessed my love to them, but did not find reciprocity. They were higher than me in status.

"Masha" of some kind. Maria shows a very beautiful girl.

And Katerina. Then Katerina married my friend. I did not find reciprocity.

He simply confessed his love, but he was rejected. They didn’t sharply reject, but simply said “no.”

Maxim: You were a virgin all your life, you didn’t have any relationships with women, right?

Irina: I wanted to get married, but it was impossible without love. I didn't love anyone else as a woman, so I didn't enter into a relationship without marriage, because that's not love.

Maxim: I will ask now, perhaps not a very correct question. We now have people who say that you liked boys more - is that really true?

Irina: What do you mean “liked boys more”?

Maxim: For sexual relationships.

Irina: He covers his eyes with his hand like this.

Maxim: Sorry, I ask such questions because they send me these questions, I can’t help but ask them.

Irina: I didn’t have that. There was no sexual relationship. I didn't even satisfy myself, if that's the case.

Maxim: Thank you very much, I apologize again for such a personal question.

Irina: Well, maybe only in adolescence, when I was about 12. I saw a neighbor girl who, one might say, walked by in a very short skirt. I felt excited and wanted to touch my organ. And when I did this, I myself felt disgusted and disgusted.

Maxim: Thank you for the revelation.

17:19 Mysticism in the works of Nikolai Gogol. Communication with the other world.

Maxim: Tell me, please, but you wrote mystical works - have you been interested in this mysticism since childhood?

Irina: My mother told me a lot of scary stories about demons, brownies, and goblin. My mother told me, other children told me, including those at the school where I studied. We also passed these stories on to each other. I loved them so much because I imagined all these stories. I felt that there was a grain of truth in them. There are different evil Spirits and good Spirits. In general, I liked everything mysterious, what is hidden, what is not said openly. I have always loved mysteries, I even wrote down these stories in my notebook.

Maxim: To him.

Irina: They were attractive to me.

Maxim: Tell me, please, have you personally become acquainted with this world of the dead, Spirits?

Irina: I felt, I communicated, I had the voices of the dead and the voices of Spirits. I heard them in my head as a child. And only when I came out of incarnation, I realized that different Spirits were coming to me. Including those Spirits from my level, from where I incarnated. They scared me.

Maxim: From level 4, right?

Irina: Yes, they scared me, showed me terrible dreams, so I told my mother about it. In many ways, my interest in the world of the supernatural was caused by the desire to protect myself from these incomprehensible phenomena. I was afraid of them because they showed me various terrible visions. I accepted them as truth.

Maxim: I'll now move on a little to your original incarnation as Gogol from the 4th level. How did you get to this 4th level?

Irina: I got to the 4th level because in my incarnation before Gogol I was incarnated in the same family. In the generic egregor, you say. But this was in the 17th century. My name was Ivan, I incarnated as Ivan from level 10. He studied at the seminary and became a priest. And then I betrayed my faith and my wife, leaving the family for a young woman, cheating on my wife. For this I was deposed from my rank. Therefore, I became angry with the church authorities, with my wife, and even more with this mistress. I believed that all this was because of them, because of women. I didn't want to take responsibility. Although it was my decision. I believed that they had deceived me, that they had seduced me. My wife seduced me. When I married her, she then began to treat me with disdain. My mistress seduced me with her bodily forms so that I would lose the opportunity to serve God. I blamed them for everything. Because of this, I ended up on the 4th level, there was a lot of anger both at myself and at them.

21:39 Acquaintance and friendship N.V. Gogol with A.S. Pushkin. The idea of writing "Dead Souls".

Maxim: Thank you, Nikolai. Tell me, please, were you familiar with Alexander Sergeevich Pushkin?

Irina: Yes, we knew each other. We corresponded with him and communicated in person.

Maxim: Yeah. Have you met him in the Spiritual World?

Irina: Yes, I have. I met him later, when he himself came out of incarnation.

Maxim: Yeah. People are wondering who helped you write the work “Dead Souls”?

Irina: What do you mean “helped”?

Maxim: Many people believe that you received information from the other world.

Irina: I described my reality as I saw it. As for the idea that was given to me, yes, it was the idea of Alexander Pushkin.

He shows me an image of two people sitting talking in some huge room.

Alexander told me a funny joke, an anecdote that formed the basis of the works “Dead Souls” and “The Inspector General”. These were his stories, and these were comedies. I wrote them so that readers would laugh at those people who are described as heroes of the works. Because, for example, in “Dead Souls” various vices of people are described, but in a funny way. And precisely those associated with embezzlement, bribery, greed, etc.

Maxim: I understand. That is, Alexander Sergeevich Pushkin influenced what you wrote?

Irina: He gave the idea, but he didn’t say that he would write it. I just told an anecdote, we laughed, talked about it - and I got the idea to write a play from this anecdote, “The Inspector General,” and then “Dead Souls” later.

Maxim: Where did you meet Pushkin?

Irina: In St. Petersburg.

Maxim: How often did you see each other?

Irina: Personally, we met with him 10 times, but we corresponded often, wrote letters to each other.

24:42 Gogol’s destruction of his works. Living place.

Maxim: Yeah. I understand. Please tell us in more detail: they say that you burned your works. You burned the second volume of Dead Souls - is that true?

Irina: I burned it twice.

Maxim: How is that?

Irina: The first time I wrote it - and not only did I burn it, I burned many other things. And then I wrote again. For me it was like being cleansed by fire when I didn't like it. I reread a lot of what I wrote, the manuscript, if I didn't like something, I burned it, then recreated it. Like cleansing.

Maxim: Please tell me, what other works did you burn, besides your "Dead Souls"?

Irina: I burned drafts of many works, the same "Viy", "Taras Bulba", some "Players". I burned drafts of the work, entire chapters, and then wrote differently. Not the way it was originally.

Maxim: Yeah, how interesting. It turns out that all these works were practically purified by fire?

Irina: Smiling.

Maxim: As you say, all works, it turns out, were purified by fire?

Irina: I was so convinced that I could not start editing the work while the old version was lying on the table. I needed to destroy it and then work on a new one.

Maxim: Yeah. Is this your inner conviction or did someone tell you?

Irina: Did you give me a hint? This was my opinion, my attitude.

Maxim: Internal installation?

Irina: Yes, because when I started writing again, this option bothered me. I wanted to start it all from scratch.

Maxim: They say that you did not have permanent housing - is this true?

Irina: It wasn't. Of course, I could return to my mother. To the village where she lived, in the Poltava province. But I sometimes came to stay with her, and then went back to the city. I traveled to St. Petersburg, to Moscow and generally traveled around the world. But I either lived with friends or in a house where small separate rooms were rented.

Maxim: To him.

Irina: Like an apartment, only it's a room.

Maxim: Yeah. Basically, you traveled around the country and lived in hotels - or did you live in one hotel?

Irina: I changed it. This is not a hotel, this is an apartment building where you could rent a room. Not an apartment, but a room with a shared kitchen.

Maxim: Where did you earn money for all this?

Irina: The fees come from what I wrote and from the fact that my books have already been published. For example, for a long time I lived on royalties from Evenings on the Farm.

Maxim: Near Dikanka, right?

Irina: From the book "Evenings on the Farm," and my mother also helped me. She sent it to me too.

And at the time when I worked as a clerk in the department that records property in St. Petersburg, I wrote some certificates, and also received some money there. And I managed to save a little.

And at that moment, when I worked as an assistant to a historian (he is now showing me around the institute), taught people, gave lectures on history, and also received money for this, which I managed to save for my future life. I saved so much that I even went abroad.

29:29 Gogol’s full surname, signature “Alov.” The work "Viy".

Maxim: Yeah. Tell me, please, Gogol is not your real name?

Irina: Why? My real one.

Maxim: Gogol is his real name, right?

Irina: If you’re talking about Yanovsky, then I myself abandoned this second part of my surname.

Maxim: Why did you refuse?

Irina: Because I didn’t want to be associated with a Pole.

Maxim: Why?

Irina: This is a Polish surname.

Maxim: Why didn’t you want to be associated with a Pole?

Irina: Well, of course. Nicholas, our emperor, was suppressing an uprising in Poland and at that time looked with suspicion through his secret investigation at all people with Polish roots who were engaged in writing activities. Why did I need extra problems?

Maxim: That's it, I heard you. Thank you very much! It’s just that, let’s say, I don’t have the information you just said, so I asked.

Irina: This is an interesting answer.

Maxim: What kind of surname is Alov? Whose last name is this?

Irina: This is not a surname, it's just a signature. At one time I avoided fame and signed myself as Alov. This is the second name for signing works.

Maxim: Yeah. Tell me, please, but when you were Gogol, electricity already existed?

Irina: No.

Maxim: There was no electricity, right?

Irina: It doesn't show.

Maxim: Thank you for your answer.

Irina: I know what electricity is, I already lived in the twentieth century.

Maxim: I want to return to the work "Viy". In fact, films have been made based on your work. And the film was scary enough, so when I watched Viy for the first time, I closed my eyes. I was even afraid when I was little.

Irina: Have you read "May Night"?

Maxim: No.

Irina: About a girl who drowned.

Maxim: No, I haven't read it

Irina: It’s also interesting there.

Maxim: I’ll definitely read it now.

Irina: Read it. There are many stories there that were scary because they were taken from childhood stories that we told each other.

Why did I decide to write them? I saw that people liked the description of these stories along with the description of life in the Poltava province. I put it together and people were interested.

Maxim: (reads the chat) Look, Martin Martyn writes to you: “This is what it means not to be married and not to spend money on women. So I saved up money for travel.”

Tell me honestly, did you want to start your own family and have children?

Irina: At first, when I confessed my love to Maria, and then to Katerina, yes, I wanted to. And then, when they refused me, I didn’t want to anymore.

Maxim: Yeah. Please tell me about Viya. When you were writing, did you imagine yourself in the character?

Irina: No, not myself.

Maxim: Did you write from the outside?

Irina: It was a collective image of magical ideas about witchcraft and magic in the Russian outback.

Maxim: Yeah. This is really your work, your collective image, the fantasy that you realized in books, right?

Irina: Well, of course, these images came to me, they came to me on their own. I thought that I had made up a lot of things, but when I had already left the incarnation, I realized that they were also suggested to me by certain entities of a subtle-material nature.

Maxim: Tell me, please, does Viy really exist?

Irina: Creature? Any evil Spirit can take on an image to frighten. It can also take on the image of Viy and be called by this name - Viy.

33:48 The last incarnation of Gogol. Contact with Jesus.

Maxim: Tell me, please, when you were Yuri, did you read your works as Gogol?

Irina: Yes, of course. Read.

Maxim: When you read them, nothing twitched inside?

Irina: When I read them as a child, it was vaguely familiar to me and I was interested. And I even asked my mother to get me those works by Gogol that were not in the library.

But I liked other writers too. I actually loved reading as a child. I liked, for example, reading poems by Zhukovsky, the same Pushkin, etc. I didn’t focus specifically on Gogol, but as a child I generally loved to read.

Maxim: (reads the chat) Guys, there is no censorship for questions. I read the questions from the Q&A chat. Live" and from your chat in which you are now writing to me. That’s why I don’t have censorship, I have spiritual censorship. Somewhere I managed to read something, but somewhere I didn’t have time to read something. So I try both here and there. But when YouTube is turned off, we will most likely switch to the “Q&A” chat. Live".

Here I am returning to “Question and Answer. Live”, one second – and the first question that I’ll find now.

Tell me, please, at that moment you simply understood that you were communicating with Spirits? Have extraterrestrial civilizations, as we now call them, contacted you?

Irina: No, Angels contacted me. And Jesus communicated with me when I stood at the Holy Sepulcher in Jerusalem.

Maxim: Did Jesus get in touch?

Irina: Yes. There was one contact. He is now showing me how he saw it.

Jesus said some words to me that made me lose my temper. Told me that I was doing the wrong thing with my life.

Maxim: What were you supposed to do in your life?

Irina: I had to carry the idea of Divine light, Divine justice in my works. But I only ridiculed the vices of society and wrote little about how to get out of this state. How he mocked, or something.

Maxim: Since this is how the conversation started, please tell me, is it true that in your works you showed a special attitude towards Jews?

Irina: No, I treated all nationalities equally. There were quite a lot of Jews in the Poltava province, as well as other nationalities. For me, being a Jew, a Tatar, or a Russian made no difference.

Maxim: (reads the chat) Guys, Gogol is not embodied.

Irina: Was embodied.

Maxim: Was incarnated after Gogol into another person.

37:03 The plot of “Dead Souls”, volume two. Funeral of the “living” Gogol.

Maxim: Listen, can you share a secret?

Irina: What?

Maxim: Well, I’ll be honest: this is the first time I’ve asked this from the Spirit, who is no longer incarnate. Can you tell me a short story about the second part of Dead Souls, which you burned? What was it about?

Irina: There was a continuation of Chichikov’s story. About the fact that he himself became the governor, and that he introduces laws that are detrimental to his city. I described all this there, how people circumvent these laws, how they laugh at him there - such things.

Maxim: Yeah. Thank you.

Irina: And he gets angry because of this, sends various secret investigations - in such a humorous way.

Maxim: They say that they partially found the second volume of Dead Souls, which you did not have time to burn.

Irina: We found some excerpts, I heard about it. But these were just excerpts, some specific chapters.

Maxim: I want to approach a very interesting question in general, this is precisely a question of a very mystical nature. Tell me, please, were you a member of any sects, orders, Masonic lodges, perhaps?

Irina: I was Orthodox. No.

Maxim: Orthodox, right?

Irina: I was Orthodox.

Maxim: Did you go to church?

Irina: Yes

Maxim: Did you believe?

Irina: Yes, of course, I went and talked with priests. I had my own spiritual leader, spiritual father.

Maxim: Thank you. They say that you were buried, but at that moment, when you were buried, you had not yet died and were in a lethargic sleep. This is true?

Irina: No.

Maxim: And when they opened the coffin, they say the coffin was scratched from the inside - how is that?

Irina: He says that he did not enter his body after he lost consciousness. His life thread was severed - and he was immediately taken to the Spiritual World.

39:36 The last days of Gogol's life, the cause of death.

Maxim: In general, can you tell us a little about the last minutes, hours of your life?

Irina: There was a lot of fuss, and many doctors were called. There were no relatives, relatives or loved ones next to me. Only doctors and people who called themselves my friends. I want to say that they considered themselves my friends more than I considered them.

I wanted to be alone. I was depressed and wanted to be alone for many reasons. Life no longer made me happy, I didn’t want to do anything. The doctors came, I was at the house of my friend (some Alexander, he shows me), I was already in Moscow. And this Alexander called the doctors, he said: “You need to eat.” But I didn’t want anything.

I wanted God to open my path to me, and my confessor Matvey told me: “Pray and fast - only then will God open the path for you.” He told me that my book, the second part of Dead Souls, would have a bad effect on people. He told me specific places. I didn't agree with him at first. Then I realized that he was right. And I realized that this work should never see the light of day. But when I decided to burn it, a voice told me to burn my other works (he now shows that he wrote about the church). I wrote about the church, about life in the church, and another series of stories.

And I took all these notebooks and destroyed them. And when I saw this, I realized that it would take a very long time to restore. And I was deciding whether I should quit writing altogether. Maybe go to my mother. But the answer did not come to me - and I felt very bad.

Moreover, I missed Katya, who had already died, I wanted to see her. This is the same woman who rejected my love, but she was already married to my friend. We just saw her and talked.

I realized that everything I wrote was against God. I felt that God was angry with me.

Maxim: To him.

Irina: I didn’t want to eat anything and felt weak, headache, and stomach pain. Then the owner of the house where I was, Alexander, called the doctors, and they began to give me different diagnoses. They said that I allegedly fell ill with typhus, and they began to tell other lies. The last few days they forced me to eat - I spat out the food.

They forced me to eat, drink and bathed me in cold water.

And then they gave me some kind of medicine, which made me feel very, very bad, my heart ached, and I fell into unconsciousness. And when I came to my senses, I saw that there were leeches hanging on my face. It was the doctors who began to mock me against my will. Then I was very angry with them, but I couldn't do anything, I couldn't even raise my hand. It was very hard, I had the feeling that my arm weighed many kilograms. And when I tried to throw them off, they held my hands. Then they tied me up. I was very angry, at that time I could not understand that they wished me well and in this way they were trying to cure me.

And then I began to ask God to end my torment, and lost consciousness. And that's it, after that I never came to my senses again. Only when I came to my senses, I was already at level 9. They showed me the state in which I found myself there and why I got there.

Maxim: Irochka, please drink some water. Everyone cares about you. You've had it in your hands for a long time.

Irina: Now he just shows me all sorts of pictures.

Maxim: Everyone asks me to give you some water. It's been in your hands for a long time.

Irina: Yes, thank you. I've had it in my hands for a really long time. I even forgot about water.

Maxim: They ask if the story is true (maybe, of course, you don't know, you died) that your head was cut off?

Irina: Which head was cut off for me? I told you how it all happened.

Maxim: Yes, but they say, then either in a coffin, or something else...

Irina: It’s impossible to look after your body in a coffin. I've already left it.

Maxim: There is information that your skull is in the possession of some person who collects such things.

Irina: I don’t know anything about this, because I came out and was not connected to the body. And I don’t know what happened to him.

Maxim: Thank you. Tell me, please, it turns out that you died and didn’t turn over in your grave?

Irina: I never came to my senses again. I was not in the body, as I said, when they started holding my hands, and when I lost consciousness. Then, when I asked my Consulting Angel the cause of death, he said that I was given the wrong medicine and I was poisoned, so my heart stopped.

Maxim: Great overall. Healed.

Irina: Wrong medicine in a large dose. But it wasn't on purpose to kill me. This is due to illiteracy.

Maxim: For good. Let me ask one more very intimate question. When you were Yuri and lived in the Sukhumi region, did Yuri have a last name?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Which one?

Irina: Oreh, Oreshkin, Oreshko.

Maxim: Oreshko, Oreshkin?

Irina: Now in letters: Oreshkin.

Maxim: Oreshkin?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Yuri Oreshkin, born in 1953.

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Photographer?

Irina: Actually, I worked as a driver, and this was my hobby.

Maxim: Driver-photographer, yes?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Thank you very much.

(reads the chat) He just told me what he died from. Doctors gave him medicine that stopped his heart.

Irina: When I was in Yuri's body, I died of a heart attack. The heart was sick from a large number of certain excesses.

Maxim: Wait, what was your relationship with alcohol?

Irina: It wasn’t the alcohol, I smoked a lot. I mean when I was Yuri.

Maxim: Oh, wait, I'm a little lost.

Irina: He’s telling me now that when he was Yuri, he had a heart attack.

Maxim: That's it, I understand.

(reads the chat) Violetta writes to me: “Maxim, the second part of the work has been written and published.”

Irina: Maybe it was written, but not by him. He didn't have time anymore.

Maxim: You didn’t write the second part and publish it, right?

Irina: I knew for sure that there were certain sheets left that I did not destroy, because, firstly, they were not in one place, in the closet. They were in other places, including some lists or extracts that friends had, which I gave them to read. So I couldn't burn everything.

49:36 Moments of regret in Gogol’s life.

Maxim: Please tell me, when you were Gogol, are there moments that you very much regret and would you have done something differently?

Irina: Yes, I regret that I treated people incorrectly, without love. I was very selfish - I understand that now.

I could, for example, be offended by a person and not communicate with him because of some trifle. I could be very harsh, I could offend a person myself. I came to visit, they gave me different food, and instead of agreeing or refusing, I could say that they gave me a lot or they gave me little. It was very ugly, I behaved selfishly. Yes, I regret that I behaved this way.

I regret that I was offended by many people who told me the truth. To those who wrote the truth to me when I published my letters to friends. I heard a lot of condemnation addressed to me, I was very offended and did not want to communicate with anyone. Even with those friends with whom he was before (he is now showing me Sergei, Vissarion). When they wrote criticism of my book, I was very sensitive and did not want to communicate with them - I regret it.

And I also regret that I burned these books. You just had to leave them to your friends and, if God wanted, they would see the light. Like my other books. And if not, then no one could publish them. I didn't understand then that any book—let alone a book, even an article in a magazine or newspaper—appears there by the will of God. This is not just a matter of chance.

As the prophet said: "There are many plans in the heart of man, but only what is determined by God will come to pass." I misunderstood this point and therefore burned my works. Although if I didn't do this, many of my books would be in a different form than you know them now.

I replaced God's will with my own will. I believed that these works were my property, but this was not the case. These are the words, thoughts and feelings that passed through my heart. But they did not belong to me after I put them on paper. They belonged to humanity, and I robbed him of the opportunity to understand my heart.

Maxim: Thank you. Thank you.

53:58 Parting words to Russia and Ukraine in connection with the war. Plans for future implementation.

Maxim: Now I have a rather interesting question. At the moment there is a war between Russia and Ukraine.

Irina: This is unthinkable. If at that time they had said that such a thing was possible in the future, no one would have believed in such a prophecy.

Maxim: Please tell me what you would like to convey to both Russians and Ukrainians?

Irina: Russians and Ukrainians? Remember that you are receiving communion from the same cup. How can you, having received communion from Christ alone, shed each other’s blood? Where is your faith? Where do you place your conscience? You will stand before Christ - how will you look him in the eye?

This is what I address to both Russians and Ukrainians equally. You are of the same faith. Your blood comes from a single root. You shed each other's blood, organizing a fratricidal war. How will you look into the eyes of Christ, whom you prayed for victory over each other?

Maxim: Dear friends, of course, I don’t like asking things lately, but if there were more likes, more people could watch us. We'd end up on YouTube more.

In fact, now Youtube is completely blocking us, blocking our links, blocking our channel. And only a conscious like given by you gives us a small chance that others can see us and subscribe to us. If you have not subscribed to us, subscribe so as not to miss the next video and the next live broadcasts, which we are preparing for you with complete love.

I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart.

Irina: Thank you.

Maxim: I want to thank you very much for agreeing to this meeting. I'm sure this meeting will explain some things to many people. Because our history was written by the state, and people can remake it. Today's moment of our communication has given us the opportunity to find out many things about how you lived and how you died.

Anyway, here's the last question. What illness did you have that you suffered from and for which you were cured?

Irina: I was sick with a lot of things: malaria, cholera. Then my Angel Advisors showed me that I had many living organisms in my body.

Maxim: To him.

Irina: I wasn’t sick with anything, I was just depressed. I wanted to be alone, I wanted to fast, to pray. But I was in an environment where I was given the wrong, very bad, poisonous medicine. And I was too weak to protect myself and go somewhere. They showed me that if everyone would leave me alone and show me love and not violence, then I myself would get up and ask for food when I came out of my state of being lost in this world. They didn’t let me do it, they didn’t give me time.

Maxim: I always ask the Spirits who come to us: what would you like to say to all the people who are watching us now? Not only Russians - all the people on this planet who are watching us now.

Irina: I want to turn to you and tell you what gave me the greatest happiness when I was in the incarnation of both Nikolai and Yuri.

I got happiness from being able to create. When I was in Gogol's body, I received pleasure from inventing a person and describing his life. When people read about it, I felt like I was alive and that I was in it. And this was the pleasure of creating a new world.

When I was in Yuri's body, I enjoyed taking different photographs of nature and comparing them with each other. By creating some albums and showing them to people, I showed the beauty of this world.

That's why I want to contact you. Look around you, you will always find an opportunity to create something new and enjoy it. Because you are children of the Creator. The Creator enjoys creating different universes. Be like him - and you will not have the need to do evil. Because evil is created only by those who have stopped in their development and their creativity.

Maxim: I thank you again. A huge low bow to you.

Oh, I’ll ask one more question! Where are you planning your next incarnation? Is there such information - or is it a secret?

Irina: I haven't thought about it yet. I'm now at level 14, I'm not thinking about the possibility of new incarnations yet.

Maxim: Not yet?

Irina: I didn't plan it, I'm still analyzing the experience of previous incarnations. I had three incarnations in a row on Earth, in the third level of density. Therefore, I would like to go to another world, to a different level of density. I would like to feel myself in a thinner body.

Maxim: I understand, in general.

Irina: And also create.

Maxim: Subtle material civilizations will create. Thank you so much.

Guys, thank you all for your likes, thank you for your support. We are waiting for you in the New Year in Abkhazia. I am sure that you will remember this New Year for the rest of your life. Bye everyone, thank you very much, see you again!

December 11, 2022

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova – contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations;

Maxim Rusan – head of the CASSIOPEA Project and the Center for Spiritual and Physical Development;

The spirit of Nikolai Gogol is a writer.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/irina-podzorova-ob-aktivnosti-solnechnoj-ehnergii
May 16
Irina Podzorova about solar energy activity
Today (editor's note: April 21, 2024) there were a surprising number of plasmoids on the ship, and terrestrial ones at that. They were brought there. I talked with some plasmoids of the Earth element, with the gnomes who were on Ashtar's ships, they looked around with interest. Many of them, as I understood, were there for the first time, and I asked them:
"How did you end up here?"
They said:
"We felt such a flow, as if a desire to rise here."
Then I saw solar plasmoids and also asked them how they got there. And they said that they, too, were attracted to this place by a certain energy flow.
I saw how the astral bodies of the Ashtar team work with both people and plasmoids. Plasmoids, especially the elements of Earth, are now very stressed because they have to process a lot of negativity.
And solar plasmoids send energy to Earth again and again for support. In the physical world this manifests itself in the form of magnetic storms. Recently, in Voronezh, the northern lights were practically visible. Previously, this happened only in the north, now here too. It is clear that this is a certain impact on the atmosphere, "hello" from our plasmoids.
I thanked the plasmoids of the Earth and the plasmoids of the Sun for their work. They thanked us, me, our project and all of you for making this world cleaner, brighter and kinder. They said that they really like talking to us.
Solar plasmoids also said that during the two weeks (before Easter) the energies of the quantum transition are very strongly activated. Every day there is an acceleration that began 10 days ago. And every day the rotation of quantum fields is accelerating, as they explained to me.
Some earthly plasmoids, gnomes who live underground, process all the energy that we produce into the energy of the Earth's fertility. They can also process negative energies, but they need help for this, it's hard for them to do this. I thanked them, sent them the light of my love and promised that we would do meditations to fill the Earth with light more often.
And they said that for high-vibration people this time is also like a cleansing, an increase in vibrations even more. Because raising vibrations and transitioning to a different state is impossible without changes, transformation, and cleansing of everything that interferes.

Therefore, for high-vibration people, a period of purification will also arise, which will ultimately lead to good. And for low vibration people it will be harder because they are not used to such energies.
Final word after the practice “Light body” from 04/21/2024
Irina Podzorova is a contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations.
April 2024
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/iskusstvennyj-intellekt-i-robototekhnika-na-planet
May 16

#521 Artificial intelligence and robotics on the planets of the Interstellar Union. Chipping, biorobots.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=YfvDv5gh9CM

00:00 Start of video.

01:00 Greetings.

Irina: Hello, dear friends. My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today in the astral body next to me there is a specialist in the construction, repair and modification of robotics, artificial intelligence systems used on planets in urban environments, as well as in spaceships, from the planet Burkhad. His name is Archaeoste Midpuri. Archaeost, I greet you.

Valentin: Good evening, my name is Valentin. I'm doing programming. And lately I have been interested in questions of artificial intelligence, since we are now in the era of artificial intelligence, it is developing quite quickly, and we have several questions for you.

02:12 Regulation of the use of robotics in the Interstellar Union.

Valentin: Question number one: is there a committee on the Council of the Interstellar Union to regulate the use of robotics in the civilizations of the Interstellar Union, and who heads it?

Irina: We do not have a separate committee on these issues. We have a chain, several scientific communities in this area that you named. We do not have a general committee. For example, I am a member of one of the scientific communities for the study of artificial intelligence. The department of practical science or the application of science in practical use is in charge of everything - there is such a department. It is located in the Interstellar Union, on the planet Burkhad, and is led by Rastimr Pryuoshti.

Valentin: So this is some kind of advice, a community?

Irina: This is advice on the practical application of scientific theories. Not only in the field of artificial intelligence, but in any science in general.

03:38 Areas of use of robots in the Interstellar Union.

Valentin: What is the scope of activities where robots are predominantly used? We already know about agriculture, mining and construction industries, medicine and navigation. And what else?

Irina: This is also the transport system, the construction system, the extraction and processing of mineral resources (as you say, minerals). And on some planets and their satellites, especially if these are some small colonies of the Interstellar Union, these may even serve as law enforcement functions - robot policemen. And also on the planets of criminals, biorobots maintain order and compliance with the laws of those planets. That is, our functions are varied, if we are talking about biorobots. And if we are talking about artificial intelligence embedded in microsystems, which you call microchips, then this use is broader: documents, bank accounts, plus medical microchips. The same ones can perform many different functions.

Well, of course, we have the Network. You call it the Internet space.

We also have a similarity, only it is based not on radio wave communication systems, but on quark-gluon ones. In this Internet space, residents of different planets can communicate through various devices. Moreover, this happens not only within one planet, but also within the Galaxy, and there are even devices that connect intergalactic communities. And all this is not at the speed of light, not at the speed of radio waves - this information is transmitted faster. There are certain, as you call them, computers, there are on-board computers (for example, in spaceships), there are computers in homes, and there are personal computers for humanoids. A humanoid's personal computer can be integrated into its body, or it can be external. They are connected to the neural network of his nervous system, brain or organ that replaces the brain (there are different organisms).

Valentin: Is it like built-in microchips?

Irina: Yes, it could be a certain type of nervous system, and the microchip transmits the signal directly, as you say, to nerve cells, to neurons. There are such devices.

07:00 Robots in the service of Ashtar Sheran.

Valentin: Continuation of the question. You have already partially answered it, but people are wondering how robots are used in the service of Ashtar Sheran. Apparently they are asking about combat robots.

Irina: Combat robots? There are robots that don't look humanoid. They come in completely different shapes, sizes, and purposes. For example, there are robots, as you called them, probes, robot ships. These are such automatic ships that you call automatic probes. They can visit any planets on autopilot, collect some data, even come into contact with certain communities, if this is allowed in the Interstellar Union. The civilization of Ashtar Sheran belongs to the Galactic Federation of Light. I'm a little familiar with their technology: it's not identical to ours, but it's on the same level.

08:08 Spiritual creativity in the Interstellar Union and robots.

Valentin: Thank you! In what areas of life have you decided not to use robots and artificial intelligence? And why?

Irina: In the spheres of spiritual creativity. What do we call spiritual creativity? This is the transfer of information from curators. This is the transfer of information from spiritual curators, from plasmoid civilizations. Also training in communication with other worlds, other forms of life in the subtle worlds, in the Spiritual world and assistance. This, as you say, is a spiritual guide, a spiritual healer - everything that is connected with the conduction of energy and information from the Spiritual world and from the subtle world. Because this information is transmitted not only through the brain, intellect, but also through the Spiritual heart, which biorobots do not have. They can't be configured like that.

Valentin: Yes, now it’s clear. I just wanted to ask about the layer that is between a person and the Spiritual world - how did you remove it?

Irina: What do you mean “the layer was removed”?

Valentin: It's like a translator. I just wanted to ask for a better understanding, and you have already answered, so to speak, this part.

Irina: Several million years ago there was a wide discussion about what can be trusted to biorobots, what can be taught to them, what cannot be taught to them. There was not only a discussion in scientific and public circles, but there were also quite interesting experiments, the results of which were preserved in our archives.

Our archival materials preserve how, for example, a robot was assigned to conduct some kind of teaching activity (for example, on the topic of astral travel) and was given all the information. Despite the fact that all the information was given to him, he could not do it correctly, because each humanoid who entered the Astral had his own individual experience. And this robot teacher could not integrate his experience with his own, because he does not have it: they cannot go to the Astral. That's why it was ineffective.

11:03 Artificial intelligence in creativity.

Valentin: I understand, thank you. Some of our buildings - in particular, ancient temples - contain such detailed drawings that our modern technologies are not able to replicate this. In this regard, the question is: do you use artificial intelligence in creativity as an assistant, a generator of ideas?

Irina: Just as a performer - yes, it can be used. On some planets it is customary to purchase a personal robot. A personal biorobot that will carry out the instructions of its owner, who bought it. It's like you have a personal car - also a personal biorobot. Naturally, every owner is interested in taking care of it so that it will serve him longer. The point here is not only about cost and material value, but also about the fact that each biorobot is made in such a way that it is tuned to the personal preferences of a given humanoid and will be able to perform its duties better than a new one. If a creative person purchased it, he can instruct him, for example, to draw something, or sculpt, or do something else - just follow some instructions. But usually this is not done because... Well, I haven't seen a creative person who would be completely happy with the way the robot did it. Usually he still sees it in his own way.

Valentin: Well, yes, we are now developing, for example, musical artificial intelligence. You can ask him a topic - and he shows the options, and you choose. For inspiration I mean.

Irina: There is something, for example, even with you, that you can set him up so that he composes some poetry. But what kind of poet will then publish these poems? They will still not completely coincide with his vision, even if he sets the program. For this you need a Spiritual heart that loves, dreams, strives. The biorobot has a program. Although, of course, the program can be very complex: it can talk, move, it can even behave like a person or like a humanoid, but it is impossible to foresee all situations. And this inability to foresee all situations greatly affects creativity.

Valentin: For example, create some beautiful pattern for a new building, so as not to bother. Because the projects being built are very complex, judging by what we see in our churches. How does this happen for you, the entire project is calculated?

Irina: The fact is that the very idea - what kind of building it should be, what it should be for, what shape, color, size it should be - is usually made by humanoids, intelligent Spirits, depending on their understanding of space, on their understanding of spatial energies. This is how they express their need for creativity. As for calculations, your calculators do this too.

Valentin: I mean, in our country, a person still builds this entire three-dimensional model with his hands. What we see in ancient Indian temples is something that would never even occur to us.

Irina: You have programs that can build a model based on given points. We have it too.

Valentin: Well, for example, create some kind of three-dimensional flower and just sit and look at the options that it offers.

Irina: What does it mean to “create a flower”?

Valentin: Well, a sculpture of a flower, for example. Not everyone, as you said, is satisfied, so to speak, with the results or ideas that artificial intelligence generates. Well, at least take a look, maybe see something new.

Irina: Yes, of course, he can look, but in any case, he himself will be considered the creator, he put in the program. Because these personal biorobots are immediately sold to the public with the right of the one who bought them to change the programs - of course, within certain limits, so that this biorobot, for example, does not harm others.

16:04 Dependence on robots and creative thinking.

Valentin: Why am I asking? Because we are now worried that artificial intelligence will take away jobs from creative people. Now they create quite beautiful paintings and musical works, so I ask.

Irina: Yes, I understood the question. Indeed, there are civilizations that, one might say, became dependent on robots for everything - and this ultimately negatively affected their development, because they stopped thinking creatively. They stopped striving forward, stopped discovering something new, stopped striving to understand the Universe, to know themselves, and became simply consumers of the benefits that robots created for them. As a result, their vibrations decreased, because they were gradually losing desire, losing the desire to develop spiritually. The whole point here is that the humanoid itself, like earthly man, is structured in such a way that if he does not strive to create something in his life and work for the benefit of himself and the development of his society, then gradually he will acquire such a quality of character , which is called “laziness”. Laziness is the absence of the need to direct one’s will to perform certain actions. And if laziness appears in one area of life, it will inevitably affect all others - slowly, but it will happen. In the end, we will get a person who not only does not develop, but also degrades. After all, because the creative energy and energy of his body remain unclaimed, they begin to provoke him to negative feelings and emotions in relation to the world where he lives, and the person becomes dissatisfied with everything.

18:23 Types of biorobots.

Valentin: What is the point of making biorobots that look like humanoids? In what parts of the body do biorobots contain living tissue?

Irina: There are different types of biorobots. There are those that consist almost entirely of artificial materials, artificial polymers - from certain atoms that are artificial polymers. And there are those that are grown on the basis of living tissues. But this is usually in order to externally replicate a humanoid. If, for example, this humanoid does not live on a given planet, but you want to have a certain copy, then it is easier to grow a biorobot based on its cells. But still, partially artificial materials will be used there. It’s just that in many cases such a biorobot is more reliable.

Depends on their purpose. If we take a biorobot from living materials, it is usually for personal use. And if we take from artificial materials, then it is more for some kind of work: for example, in production, construction, road work, etc. Living materials (cells from biological materials) are not suitable there due to their vulnerability.

20:05 Built-in chips and control of robots in the Interstellar Union.

Valentin: If every subject of the Interstellar Union has a chip implanted, does this give him the opportunity to control his robots remotely? If yes, at what distance?

Irina: We do not have a universal law on the implantation of chips. Each planet is left with freedom of choice in this regard. I want to say that not all planets have residents implanting certain chips into themselves. Some people use external devices. Some civilizations believe that such a connection with machine technology, with artificial intelligence, makes them, in some sense, a little artificial, and not natural creations of God. There are such views.

Valentin: So, like, “we are freer”?

Irina: Not that even free ones - some believe that the system built into the body makes a person a little more “biorobot”, i.e. similar to these automatic programs that are found in other biorobots. And those who already have chips naturally consider themselves free, and that this has not in any way affected their connection with God or freedom. That is, there are different views. And therefore, the law of the Interstellar Union left complete freedom (not just to each planet, but to every humanoid on all planets) to introduce these chips or not. The only thing is that if, according to the law of the planet, microchips are introduced at birth, then permission for this is given by the parents as those responsible for the maintenance, nutrition and integration of the child into society.

22:14 Freedom of choice for microchip integration in the Interstellar Union.

Valentin: Many fears are connected with this. People are afraid of chipping, if it happens, because it kind of controls you, that is, they constantly scan you, they know where you are.

Irina: The whole point here is that humanoids can change their decision more than once. There are cases when someone who did not adhere to the idea of introducing chips, seeing that it brings more advantages and conveniences, agrees and himself declares his right to introduce these chips. And it happens that someone who has already been chipped since birth, or since childhood, or as an adult, decides to compare his condition without them. We have special devices that completely free the blood and all body tissues from these microchips. There are similarities to your electromagnets, only they work on the principles of microgravity attraction. Depending on the frequencies of those elements that are included in this chip. They are attracted to one place in the body, and then painlessly and without damage are removed by special scientists. Both procedures are absolutely free for all residents of the Interstellar Union. The only thing is that on some planets certain types of chips can be sold by various factories - and then those who want to introduce them will have to pay for them, but the procedure itself is free. This is included in the medical care of residents of the Interstellar Union.

Valentin: So, at any moment you can say: “I don’t want chips, take them off me.”

Irina: Yes, come and document that this is your will. After this confirmation, you will be asked if you understand that you will not have some benefits - for example, related to health, because the microchips that are in the physical body not only perform communication functions through the intergalactic Internet or control of biorobots. They constantly scan all the cells of the body, blood composition, blood gas composition. For example, at the slightest sign of oxygen starvation, a special system is immediately launched that checks what the reason is.

Let's take, for example, your problem. I just heard about your world from my good friend Sitiyaraum, who is a doctor on Burkhad, and these are the chips he integrates with earthlings - with contactees who have given consent to this. He also studies the health of earthlings, and he told me that there is a problem with human health when microthrombi collected from blood cells can be dangerous, they can block large vessels - and blood will no longer flow to the heart or lungs . And this can cause destruction of the brain due to oxygen deficiency and exit from incarnation. So, if there were microchips, then at the slightest decrease in the level of oxygen in the blood - even one that a person himself does not yet feel - special body scanning systems would immediately turn on. These microchips are not on their own, they form an electronic network, and they help scan each other. And if problems were detected in any vessel, they would be on the spot with a fairly high speed (2-3 seconds) and would take from the blood itself those substances that dissolve the clot - they are there.

27:00 Screening the health status of a humanoid through microchips.

Valentin: They don’t signal somewhere, to some device, that there is a problem?

Irina: If you configure microchips with some external device, then they can. They can show that there is a problem and what caused it. But some humanoids do not do this, so as not to distract themselves with constant disruptions in the functioning of the body. Everything can't be perfect all the time. I haven’t heard of anyone interested in this, except perhaps some doctors who are interested in work. For example, the local temperature has slightly increased somewhere, little enzyme has been released into the intestines to digest some substance, or microorganisms have entered somewhere that could potentially be dangerous. These can be dozens of signals every day - for what? They will do everything themselves. If you are interested, of course you can configure it.

After the humanoid, by providing personal documents (signature), confirms his desire to remove the chips and the understanding that after removal he will be deprived of these benefits, including health benefits, he will undergo this procedure. It takes a maximum of 30–40 of your minutes.

Valentin: We just have our own fears here. Some are even interested in how many dead cells remain on the bed - this can lead to panic.

Irina: How many dead cells remain on the bed after you sleep? Many hundreds of thousands.

Valentin: We have some who can go crazy because of this, they say, they need to quickly vacuum everything.

Irina: Basically, I heard that there are types of microinsects that are invisible to the human eye, but which use these dead cells for food. In this case, they perform a useful function to prevent rotting and harmful microbes. Sitiyaraum also told me about this. And in general, I also visited your beautiful planet with him.

At what distance can biorobots be controlled? Usually within 20 meters. Because to manage further, we need some more complex systems. And with the help of their microchips - within 20 meters. Because in order to send this signal further through the quark-gluon coupling to the control, more energy needs to be collected.

Valentin: So you need a special device, right?

Irina: You need some kind of device, like your remote control, that has a certain battery that will use an element, for example, solar radiation.

Valentin: Well, you call your robot from work and say: “Brew some coffee, I’ll be there in 20 minutes.” Isn't it possible to do this anymore? It turns out that you need some kind of special device for this?

Irina: For this you need to program in advance.

Valentine: Logical.

Irina: When you go to work, the robot stays at home, and if you need to see a certain result when you come home from work - certain food, or drinks, or for the house to be cleaned, etc. – you simply indicate the time when you return and how much work must be completed. Of course, taking into account his capabilities, which he has more than a person, because he does not need rest, but they are not infinite. Or then there should be several biorobots - and in this case, when you come home, everything will be ready. And if not, this is a reason to take it to a repair service.

I've already imagined: one goes to work with you, and the other stays at home.

31:51 Robots on alien bases on Earth, astral contacts with them.

Valentin: In one of the anomalous zones, the Khoper zone, there is a sealed old base. While studying it, we were able to observe a process there that I want you to explain. Because there we saw a certain sarcophagus in which a robot lay. Then a specialist in the Astral flew there, and he seemed to combine with him - he ended up inside the robot and performed some necessary actions, and then returned the robot back and flew home, i.e. without physically arriving there. We are interested in what this is all about and how it is possible.

Irina: I'll show him in my mind now. This is the city of Novokhopersk - just the place where I lived, a map of the Voronezh region, as it looks from space, he doesn't know our inscriptions.

I roughly understood what was going on.

I just presented the map now. What does "why is it this shape" mean? I just imagined how they draw the Voronezh region on our map of Russia. But he doesn't know, he's now asking why she's shaped like that. Because he doesn't know our administrative division, what exactly the region looks like. From space, it is not separated from others, so to speak.

Valentin: The island simply floats in space.

Irina: Yes, if you look from space, there are no boundaries drawn there.

Valentin: This is the old Tashigan base.

Irina: He says that these are not Tashigans. Now I simply tell him: here is the Sea of Azov, here is the Caspian Sea, here is approximately the city of Moscow. Now try to imagine her at this distance. Because where will I get a card?

Yes, I know where Irina lived, where she came from, from what point, because they showed her to me, told about her as a contactee and showed where she came from. If it's the mothballed base you're talking about, it's not entirely mothballed, there are actually automatic systems, biorobots. And it was jointly owned by Ticht and Disnita. And the Burkhadians were there, and one of Tashig's colonies was Arshiopa. But they are not exactly Tashigans: they are taller and their skin color is not gray, but some kind of silver, more towards white, metallic. That is, this is one of their colonies, where they have already genetically crossed with another race. There was a rather interesting base under the forest. It was mothballed approximately 115 years ago, but "mothballed" means not actively used. In fact, there are present there, but not living people, not living humanoids, but automatic robots. But they can fly there at any moment.

Valentin: Yes, we saw that there was robotic activity there, we didn't see people. This process is just interesting.

Irina: There are also spaceships there, like disks. They are underground, some kind of hangar there - he shows me this picture.

I wasn't there, but I saw her images and drawings. And as for contact with a robot in the Astral - if he went into the Astral, then it was not contact with the robot itself. Every home, as you know, has a keeper. Any dwelling, any house has guardians. They can appear to astral travelers because they, being in their own world, at their own level of density, can go out into the Astral with part of their consciousness, just like people. And they can interact with the inhabitants of the physical world through the astral world.

Valentin: What about robots?

Irina: Robots can be configured to detect plasmoid civilizations, some kind of data transmission. But we don't have the ability to react to the Spiritual world (the Astral is part of the Spiritual world). The robot can only be tuned to the material, since it itself consists only of matter. It has no Soul. For example, even animals have a Soul, an animal Soul.

This is also part of the Spiritual world, and spiritual energies are invested in it. Even if it was created by subtle-material civilizations, they invest in it not only subtle-material energies, but also their feelings, emotions, instinctive programs created by their mental programs - and this is already considered a spiritual essence. But the robot does not have this: it is not created by plasmoids, but by other robots. Because now, for millions of years, our engineers have not produced robots themselves. I don't know any of the young students who would agree to take the place of a robot and devote their incarnation to assembling some parts.

Valentin: No, it's more like remote control of a robot, only he was nearby.

Irina: This can only be if this astral traveler first came into contact with the guardian of this base in a subtle-material body, and the guardian himself could come into contact with the robot, because the robot can be configured to perceive signals from a plasmoid creature. There are special, what would you call them, etheric artificial receptors. You also have an aura camera or other ways of obtaining information about the subtle world. You can also customize the biorobot. And transfer the information to him, and he can contact the humanoids. Because all biorobots at the bases have constant communication with their owners and space specialists who work there.

For example, this base, which is a little away from Novokhopersk, under a forest, in the Novokhopersk region, is supervised by humanoids from the far side of the Moon. Sometimes a biorobot can contact humanoids at nearby bases on Earth. But his main connection is with the far side of the Moon.

Yes, this could have happened then, if with the custodian of the premises. Any base has a keeper, as, for example, in a brownie's house. And there is a base keeper there. Naturally, those who built this base and those who lived there communicate with him and are familiar with him. Therefore, he could be interested in the astral traveler. Well, how can we understand that this is not the creature that flies here all the time or has flown here before, that this is an earthling. He might wonder how he got here. Yes, there is such a thing.

Valentin: In general, as far as I know, the defense system there is so large that not everyone can fly there even in the Astral. There are some fields there, as far as we understand.

Irina: Astral defense systems are not built by humanoids - these are already plasmoid civilizations. They can build a portal system there. But they can build a portal system anywhere. They can do this in the house, for example, for various reasons. But if you ask them, you will get there. That is, when flying up to the portal, you can, for example, ask them to look at the base. Usually astral travelers are not denied this; it is not physical proof of anything.

Valentin: Thank you. And you were just talking about the laws that robots have.

Irina: He is now telling me that in astral travel there is nothing to hide from the base. Astral travel is not physical evidence of the presence of this base.

42:52 Requirements for robotics in the rules of the Interstellar Union.

Valentin: Do the rules of the Interstellar Union have requirements in robotics similar to Isaac Asimov's laws?

Irina: Yes, I heard about these laws, it’s interesting that I also announced the laws. This person who wrote, in any case, was familiar with biorobots from some source. Perhaps some subconscious memories from a past life or from one’s curators.

Indeed, we have laws that exclude the use of biorobots to cause any harm to intelligent beings. But, naturally, this does not apply to war, for example. There are some that are not even biorobots, but like automatic systems in a ship, which are like automatic weapons. You could say it's like an on-board computer. The computer is configured to bypass this law. There are such moments in their very construction, laying out, as you call it, microcircuits - only these microcircuits are laid out in some spatial cubic structure (he is now showing me a cube, and there are some kind of spirals, some kind of curls). Compliance or non-compliance with this law is laid down in these initial matrices. For example, the same thing is done with biorobots, which are used as police, maintaining order on the same planets of criminals. There is a fairly strict program that he has the right to harm any intelligent being, damage his body, take him out of incarnation (even with his resistance) (that is, he has a program that gives him the right) only under certain actions: attacking someone something, escapes, etc. And then only after exhausting all other means that he will have to neutralize this criminal, a troublemaker, and bring him under the responsibility of society. That is, there are specialists there who deal specifically with military, so-called combat programming. It has its own specifics, I am not very familiar with it, only from scientific articles. I'm not participating myself.

46:25 Actions of a robot when it is attacked.

Valentin: And if you attack a robot, what should it do? Neutralize you and take you to the appropriate department?

Irina: Report. A biorobot, for example, has a connection, the ability to report to some law enforcement base. Contact us and let us know what's going on with a message. A biorobot can do this faster than a human; it has an instant reaction. Moreover, you need to understand that the biorobot does not need sleep or air. It just needs to be charged with energy, but it sometimes gets charged from sunlight if it walks on the surface of the planet. They also do not need to breathe, but certain types of biorobots can use, for example, some gas molecules to split into atoms and also take energy from the splitting energy. But this is usually not through the respiratory tract - they absorb it throughout the skin. They do not absorb, but adsorb.

Valentin: Thank you. That is, you should not attack the robot in any case.

Irina: He can report that illegal actions are being committed. What does it mean to “attack a robot”?

Valentin: Well, what if there is insanity? Anything can happen.

Irina: Report that inappropriate illegal actions are being committed that threaten society. They will not say that they are threatening the robot, because the one who attacked the robot (even if the robot angered it in some way) and did not send it to the repair service becomes unreliable. That is, he becomes dangerous for society, he can cross the line in relation to a humanoid. In any case, the robot will send a signal, and special services, which most often consist of humanoid law enforcement (if it is in cities), will arrive on the spot, talk to him and find out what's going on. And they will act according to the circumstances.

Valentin: Since computer technology creates electromagnetic fields, can plasmoid civilizations connect to them in order to manipulate the results of calculations?

Irina: What does "manipulating the results of calculations" mean?

Valentin: Well, for example, to violate. There is some kind of scientific process going on, but some civilizations don't like it, they want to either slow down the process or completely remove it for a while.

Irina: We have a quark-gluon connection between various equipment and biorobots, so to influence it... Theoretically, you can influence any matter, but for this you need to have a lot of energy. For you, it's like exploding a glass of water. This can be done by directing energy at it, which will release the internal energy of the combination of oxygen and hydrogen atoms. They are attracted by a certain energy - microgravity. When it is released and when it quickly enters the surrounding atoms of air gases, a rapid expansion of these substances will occur, which you call an explosion.

Valentin: Our equipment emits a sufficient amount of electromagnetic fields, and even Irina will say that when some plasmoids arrive at her home, the equipment burns and everything else. This is the only way my computer freezes. And all devices in general. You don't even need to use any super energy here.

Irina: Yes, there are such electromagnetic channels for the exchange of information, but this is not a quark-gluon connection, it is easier to influence them, since they are not protected from contacts with plasmoid worlds, because for them these are like waves of energy. But again, not all plasmoids and cannot always influence this. It requires certain intentions and certain skills, because not everyone can do it. Still, radio waves or electromagnetic waves are in our density, the third density, and not another. That is, it is possible, but for this you need to have intention. Another thing is that there is the energy of some plasmoid civilizations that are surrounded by an ethereal field that already introduces interference. And this is not an intentional influence. But the quark-gluon coupling is completely protected from this, because it uses frequencies that are not electromagnetic, and they are only available here.

52:32 Experiments on modeling the consciousness of an intelligent Spirit.

Valentin: Tell me, have you had any experiments on modeling the consciousness of an intelligent Spirit?

Irina: What do you call the consciousness of the intelligent Spirit? It's just that we have a certain term "Arsiyar", but this is in my language, the language of Pikran, in the language of Burhad. It means "the shining of the Spiritual Mind in the eyes of a sentient humanoid." Or "the radiance of the eternal mind in the eyes of a temporary being." I have now translated it at a very long time, but it all fits into the word "arsiyar". This is such a part of the energy of the mind, as you say, the mental field, which constitutes the energy of consciousness. And this energy of consciousness shines from the eyes and explores all objects with its rays. The energy for perceiving the world around us cannot be faked, because it is such a specific spiritual energy. You can only make a perception system for a biorobot that will receive information through receptors and react somehow, but this will not be identical to living and eternal spiritual entities.

Valentin: What I meant here was rationality. Our artificial intelligence is still very far from intelligence. Our latest developments are approximately at the level of a child who is five years old. Such reasoning succeeds - that's all. So far, no one else has managed to advance.

Irina: What you call the mind is just a set - intelligence, memory?

Valentin: To communicate as with a living person, so that he himself learns, observing the environment, for example. People are afraid that at some point artificial intelligence will get out of control and take over the whole world. There is such fear.

Irina: How can he get out of your control if he doesn't have a goal that you yourself assign? How can a goal appear on its own if it is not included in the program? For example, you have a computer, you are now watching Skype. Could your computer think that it now wants to do something relaxing, for example? Switch off and don't work anymore. Or can he think for you that you don't need to talk on Skype, you need to watch a movie, and turn on the video for you? If this is not provided for by the program, where will his goal come from?

Valentin: I'll just explain. We were just talking about these fields, that when someone of high vibration is present there - for example, a plasmoid - there are such glitches with computers that they are not only programmed, but this simply could not happen. Several times my messages in Telegram were mixed up, from one chat they flew to another in some magical way, incomprehensible. So everything is very likely for us, in fact. And if there is a goal...

Irina: So you think that some negative plasmoid civilizations will take control of your biorobots or computers and control them?

Valentin: It doesn't cost them anything to throw out this thought to destroy, for example, something or someone with such a slight glitch.

Irina: They do this much more effectively through contact with people who are attuned to their vibrations. That is, it is not biorobots who become their obedient puppets of their own free will. And here it is much more interesting for the plasmoid itself to work than with a computer or biorobot, because it receives the energy of a person who is charged with a pleasant vibration for him.

Valentin: Yes, and there are clearly more possibilities than a computer.

Irina: You already call it - I read it in my memory - an agent of influence of dark (low vibration) plasmoid civilizations introduced into a particular society can negatively affect it, for example, by creating an egregor that will reduce the vibrations of a large number of unconscious people. Precisely the unconscious ones, who have not realized themselves as Light. They can be easily manipulated through instincts and negative feelings. Even if the feelings were initially positive, but there was no awareness of oneself as Light, they can be easily influenced through the instincts of animal nature, gradually causing negative emotions and feelings in them and obscuring the Divine Light with them. And as soon as the Divine light of reason, truth, love is obscured, you can insert into the brain through the organs of perception any mental programs that the neural network will program for a certain behavior, and this will be perceived by the Spirit as normal integration in its habitat.

I don't know if you understood what he just said.

58:44 The likelihood of an uprising of biorobots on Burkhad.

Valentin: Just recently, Irina was on a planet where there was a computer failure. Tell me, have there been such failures of robotics or artificial intelligence in the history of Burkhad?

Irina: No, it wasn’t. This failure - I also know about it - was caused artificially, by the specific intervention of a cybernetics scientist who was specifically involved in programming. He was strictly specific to programming the behavior of biorobots and developed programs that caused these biorobots to disrupt their programs. How do you have information viruses that can damage a file or program, i.e. data, information. A virus is also some kind of virtual clot of information, which contains a certain program, like a program of destruction. But it is created artificially, created by someone. It was exactly the same there. A certain experimental program was artificially created, which began to operate in such a way that it began to be transmitted through the quark-gluon connection from one robot to another. This happened all over the planet. One program - self-preservation - became the main one, it seemed to replace the instinct of self-preservation, and the robots began to fight against their repairs, etc. This is a viral glitch. There really were casualties and destruction. I would not call it a war, but there were isolated clashes between biorobots and the inhabitants of the planet.

Valentin: Questions are over. Thank you. If you have something to say about artificial intelligence, we are listening.

Irina: Thank you for the interesting questions, it was very interesting to answer them. Thank you for asking them very clearly, very specifically, clearly, and briefly. I was pleased to answer them. I also thank Irina for transmitting information in the images and thoughts that I sent her, because she does not know, for example, the language of Burkhad, and I do not know Russian, but we communicated through thought forms. Therefore, thank you for the transcription, the transfer of the contact into Russian in the words and images that you did.

I also thank you for your answers.

Valentin: And I thank you, everything was clear.

Irina: Dear TV viewers, thank you for watching this conference, I was also interested in hearing some of the answers. Some I didn't expect. Thank you for being with us. Until next time.

December 16, 2022

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova – contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations;

Valentin is a programmer;

Archaeoste Midpuri is a specialist in the construction, repair and modification of robotics, artificial intelligence systems used on planets in urban environments, as well as in spaceships, from the planet Burhad.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/biolog-burhada-ob-informacii-v-mozge-cheloveka-zap
May 17

Biologist Burkhada about information in the human brain: recording, storage, processing

In the brain of mammals, including the human brain, there is a mechanism for the formation of those information connections between brain cells that causes the formation of so-called memory traces, that is, changes in neurons and their connections with each other that are formed in response to external influences.

This mechanism, if we put it in very general terms, is similar in all humanoid civilizations. They, of course, have a different structure of the central nervous system, but the mechanism for the formation of such traces of information is similar. Just as, for example, the genetic transmission of information from parents to child is similar. That is, these are the general laws of the structure of living matter. Matter in which the life force resides.

We can say in a more understandable language: these are the general laws of the structure of living organisms in the Universe. Only they are realized through the reactions and actions of various substances, and the mechanism itself is similar. And this mechanism is that the influence of the external environment, transmitted through the sensory organs to the brain, to the central nervous system (in humans this is mainly the brain), causes changes in all structures of the brain that are fixed for a long time. In the future, they can be recorded even before the death of a person.

When information enters the brain through communication channels with the outside world (we are not now touching on the function of consciousness, but are simply talking about electrochemical activity), it enters the information processing department. In humans, this is approximately the part of the brain that is located in the frontal region. Here is the part of the brain through which the consciousness of the Spirit manifests itself, its function of recognizing information.

When information enters the brain, it, firstly, enters different sections from the visual analyzer, from the auditory analyzer, from the musculocutaneous analyzers, etc. But all the information that came from different analyzers is ultimately collected in one place. And at the same time, new proteins are formed in the neurons, which are strictly specific to this person, that is, genetically determined, and they are stored (as if a record, but this record is not in a book, but in the language of these substances). This is the first mechanism.

And the second mechanism: with long-term exposure to the same information, that is, with repetition, memorization of this information, the neuron can form new connections. Each neuron has a so-called “axon”, that is, a wire connecting it with one neuron, with many neurons, as well as with so-called target cells in other organs, in other systems: with muscles, with the hormonal system, the immune system and etc. This is how control of the organism as a body is formed. Incoming information can cause changes in the neurons of the brain in which these connections are formed. They can, on the contrary, be interrupted, new places of contact between neurons and axons from other neurons can form (what you call “synapses” - places of contact). And all this contributes to the fact that when the same information arrives or when a person desires to reproduce it, this system is activated again and a memory emerges, that is, a memory of this emerges in consciousness.

But since the brain adapts to the needs of a particular person, to his life tasks, goals, etc., not all information is stored consciously in the mind, but absolutely all information is recorded in the brain. But not all of it is available for the reasons that attention, as the ability of consciousness to direct its behavior along a channel set by the mind towards a particular goal, must be accompanied by a limited amount of information - otherwise it will dissipate.

Reproduction of information stored in the human brain

Access to stored information in the brain occurs when a person desires. When requesting, for example, a certain word or image, this system is activated (the impulse runs from one part, which is located somewhere in the middle of the brain, where the area responsible for human desires is located, to the area in which the information is located - it scattered in the frontal and temporal parts of the cerebral cortex).

And it happens that information about the same object is stored in different parts of the brain, especially if it is some kind of complex object. And in order to remember this information, different parts of the brain in which it is stored are activated: an electrical signal enters them and affects the neurons in which this information is stored. Hormones are released there, but specifically brain hormones, and when these hormones are released, the information is read, enters consciousness, and the person remembers it.

Forgetting information. Engram

Forgetting occurs in such a way that if a person does not refer to this information for a long time, it is replaced by another. But I want to say that if you look at these electrochemical changes in detail, then in reality no information is completely forgotten, some traces still remain, and you can refer to it, it’s just that the person does not consciously remember it.

But all this information that a person does not remember is stored in his brain by so-called “engrams,” that is, records. An engram is such a record, one might say, an information block, an information cloud of some data that is contained on one topic. But even if a person does not consciously remember this, it affects his perception of other information and the composition of his worldview system. Moreover, all this affects not only in childhood, when a person is small, but throughout his entire life.

Worldview is constantly changing, it is not static: it is formed not only in childhood, but is adjusted depending on certain tasks of a person and his attitude towards himself - his feelings, let's say so.
I told you about what is happening at the body level. But all information is also duplicated in the memory of the Spirit, both in the memory of the Soul, that is, the embodied part of the Spirit, and through the spiritual channel - in the memory of the Higher Self. And there it fits into special, so to speak, cells of information that are already connected with all other information.
Also, even if the brain is somehow damaged by toxic substances or poisoning, trauma, etc., and those neurons in which this information is recorded are damaged, it will be preserved in the Spirit, and it can still be reproduced, and then everything will be recorded again. This is why memories can be restored, if there is, of course, such a desire, and you can ask your Spirit, and he will send these memories, even if he consciously forgot them due to brain damage.
Timecode: 04:14, #523 Memoria (memory) - how to develop, improve, preserve? Brain plasticity. Universal Data Bank.
Kaor Styarp is a representative of the planet Burhad, psychophysiologist, biologist, specialist in anthropomorphic civilizations.
December 2022
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/psihoaktivnye-veshchestva-menyayushchie-soznanie-k
May 17

#519 Psychoactive substances that alter consciousness. How to get rid of addiction?

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=AYHdhZ7Kk7c

00:00 Start of video.

01:00 Greetings. Presentation of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today we have a conference on an interesting topic with Stanislav. Hello, Stanislav!

Stanislav: Hello, dear viewers! Hello, Irochka! I am also known as Vseslav. I am a musician. You can listen to my music in episode 505. I am also the host of our Betelgeuse podcast and editor of Cassiopeia. Today I would like to touch on the topic of psychoactive substances and so-called entheogens, because throughout history, mystics, artists, and spiritual seekers have used various substances to change the state of consciousness.

Maybe we can talk about some conscious and safe way. And it is symbolic that I looked at the lunar calendar, and today, when we are recording this conference, is the fourth lunar day.

Irina: Interesting...

Stanislav: The symbol of this day is the Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil. As you know, the first people - Adam and Eve, just ate the fruit from the Tree of Knowledge, and from this the history of mankind partly begins. And I just wanted to ask the first question...

Irina: Today, I will now introduce, questions will be answered by a biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations - MidgasKaus from the planet Esler. He studied this topic: our plants, their effect not only on the physical body, but also on energy. Because every living organism and every plant has its own etheric field, that is, its own energy, its own vibrations, which come into contact with the human etheric field.

Stanislav: Hello, Mid!

Irina: (speaks Midgaskaus) I thank you for your work, for your work, for your hard work, for making it possible for everyone on Earth to watch these videos.

Stanislav: Thank you!

Irina: Dear friends, I'll introduce you now. Stanislav, indeed, edits the video for us. Almost everything you watch passed through his hands. These are the ones here. Show your hands!

Stanislav: Still eyes.

Irina: Both through the eyes and through the heart. Okay, okay, you can ask questions.

04:20 MidgasKaus about the substance "horol" from the Tree of Knowledge.

Stanislav: The substance "horol" is from the Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil, which Adam and Eve took. I would like to know more about it: why do the Tumisout people grow and use it?

Irina (MidgasKaus): I studied this topic in the history of the Earth, studied the topic of the creation of your race, and, of course, this is a treacherous crime that Selbet representatives committed. For their own internal reasons, they decided to try to destroy earthlings in order to then create the preconditions for the creation of another hybrid with the combination of genes they desired. But since murder, of course, is a crime in the Interstellar Union, they decided to present everything as an accident.

They were good biologists and took advantage of a tree that can be expressed in Russian letters and sounds as “khorol”. This tree was grown at the base. This tree could be adapted to the climate of the Earth at that time, and it was intended so that representatives of the planet Tumisout, by eating it, could stimulate their brain activity. That is, to put it in a language that you can understand, there was a complex of substances - plant flavonoids, which acted on the brain of the Tumisout resident in the same way as nootropics and mental stimulants act, that is, as stimulants of mental activity.

They acted locally on the brain and did not cause any side effects on the body of the Tumisout people themselves, because they already had developed science (shows Irina that this plant itself was genetically modified). It has been modified in such a way that the beneficial properties of this plant remain. But for earthlings, since they had the genetics of other organisms and their own metabolism, there were no necessary enzymes that would break down this substance. It accumulated in people's bodies in toxic doses and caused cell damage, let's say poisoning.

Selbet biologists, knowing this very well, persuaded some people to eat this fruit. You can read this story in the Bible, where, under the guise of mythology, a very real story that happened is told. It’s just called there “The Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil.” Why was it called that? Because the Selbetite who offered this to people said that “you will learn the secrets of the world that your creators are hiding from you.” What motivated him? He said that they fly among the stars and know a lot of things that are not yet available to you, and this is all thanks to this tree, which gives knowledge.

That is, in principle, he told them, and they were already adults, but they trusted their creators and therefore decided that the Selbet man was telling the truth. But not everyone decided that way.

(Irina) He now shows me the number five, shows five people: three of them are women and two are men. Here they stand: young people, quite tall.

(MidgasKaus) They decided to listen to him, went to this tree themselves, that is, without the Selbet man, to one of these trees - there were several of them, and picked the fruits. That is, these trees were not protected, they were not monitored, because people were warned that they were dangerous and that their fruits should not be eaten. Then, since some said not to eat, others said to eat, and they trusted them equally, they simply thought that the former were hiding something from them because it was too early for them to become acquainted with this knowledge. And that's why they believed the Selbetites.

After they ate it, and these substances do not act immediately, several hours passed and they did not receive any knowledge. They were drowsy, they just wanted to sleep (he's showing me now, as if their consciousness was leaving – Irina). It's like a sleeping pill. They didn't feel bad or anything else, they just fell asleep and might not wake up, that is, they had toxic poisoning. But they were found in time. By the way, one of the people found it in this Garden of Eden and informed the representative of Burkhad. They went there (shows), moved them into the room. At first it was not clear what happened to them, then they were put in some kind of capsule that scans the body so that it would be clear what substances got into them or what kind of disease it was. This is a diagnostic device.

And it became clear that they were poisoned with this substance. Therefore, they were given antidotes and then their internal organs, which were damaged, were restored. But this is already a well-known story. After they were saved, and they were all saved, they told who advised them to do this. Selbetovets and his minions were sent to the planet of criminals, and the people were told (so decided) to live on their own. Because if they did not fully trust their creators, and did not even approach the Tumisouts or Burkhadians to say that they had received such an offer, then such a suspicion arose that the next thing these people would do would be to harm themselves or their creators. And this was the first argument. And the second argument was that they were already adults and it was time for them to settle around the Earth.

(Irina) This is what he's telling me now. "That is, I - he tells me - studied this history.”

Stanislav: Thank you!

13:09 MidgasKaus about the use of similar plants on Esler.

Stanislav: Are similar plants used at Esler now?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Used for what?

Stanislav: Nootropics in general. Is this necessary, some kind of stimulation?

Irina (MidgasKaus): We use plants, but not as nootropics, this is our food, we eat them. We are vegetarians and herbivores. That is, we eat plants, but we don’t have any individual plants that would only be taken as some kind of nootropics. We don’t have this in our culture and in some behavior. Yes, on some planets it is, in their traditions, so to speak, including on Tumisout. But for us it’s just food. We do not single out individual plants in any way.

14:24 MidgasKaus about the use of fly agarics on Earth.

Stanislav: Okay! But in the culture of the Earth there is such a thing as “entheogens”. That is, from Greek it can be translated as “inspired by a deity” or “in ecstasy.” That is, ancient shamans and priests used this in all sorts of mysteries. This is known. And now in the modern world, fly agaric, in particular, is again gaining popularity. The fly agaric mushroom, which in microdoses is an antidepressant and also a nootropic, and it has many, many, many beneficial properties. I would like to ask you, are you familiar with this? And in general, is it justified that people have started to actively use it recently?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, I am familiar with this plant, this mushroom. Treatment of diseases with the help of such mushrooms and plants has been used in ancient times. And they were used not only for treatment, but also for changing consciousness.

What is consciousness? Consciousness is the energy for perceiving the world around us. You understand it in the sense of only the material world, but this category is broader. Consciousness can perceive the dense world, the subtle world and the Spiritual world. And to change the focus of consciousness on one or another world, similar substances have been used since ancient times.

In addition, similar mushrooms and the substances they contained were used to treat various infectious diseases, for example, even cancer, as an anesthetic, to suppress cancer cells, etc. There were different recipes. Moreover, at that time (shows Irina some plants) when there were no modern medicines and there were no means that could destroy a cancer cell. That is, due to some toxins, it happened that people were even cured.

But, naturally, as I already said, both in relation to drugs and in relation to herbs, and now such recipes exist, I know them, I have studied them. I'll just say that without identifying and eliminating the spiritual cause of this disease, the effect of any remedy, including fly agarics and modern medicines, which, by the way, can be no less toxic... We are talking about modern chemical medicines that are obtained artificially, they can be no less toxic to blood cells, liver, etc. There are also certain dosages, and in case of an overdose, a person can be poisoned. Even if you follow everything, all these recipes, but do not eliminate the spiritual cause of the disease, then they may not work. Either the effect is temporary, or it is not enough, or the disease may transform into another form or into another organ.

If we say a few more words about oncology, there is a difficulty there: such diseases, when part of the cells for some reason rebel against the body, indicate serious internal conflicts. Since this disease is not just a disease, it is deadly, that is, a person can come out of incarnation at any moment, it is recommended to talk to your Higher Self first and ask whether it is planned to come out of incarnation within, for example, the next year. The answers are needed in order to understand how much time there is to complete the remaining tasks of life. And only then can you ask about the spiritual causes of this disease and eliminate them. Whether it is plants or drugs can be used strictly individually.

This concerns diseases and their treatment. As for consciousness, the use of drugs to change consciousness to direct perception to some subtle world or to an easier adjustment to the Spiritual world, so that blocks do not interfere - yes, this was used. How do I feel about this? My opinion is that the most natural way and the most effective for spiritual development is when a person dissolves his blocks, meditates, etc. He himself, with the help of his energies, which are given to him by God, and they are given to everyone, achieves these states. That is, in fact, in your body as earthlings there are all those substances that you call entheogens, wherever they are: in plants or artificially created. They are also synthesized in your body.

Why are they synthesized there? Because the substances that you take, if they affect your brain, that means that there are receptors in your brain that they can connect to. And if there are receptors, it means that in your body there is a substance that is the same or similar to it that you are taking. This means that you can control its release using special psychotechniques, spiritual practices, etc. That is, I treat this as the unconsciousness of a person who simply does not know any other way.

21:52 MidgasKaus on how to work on your blocks without using entheogens.

Stanislav: I see. It’s just that for some, in order to dissolve the same blocks, to talk with their Super-Ego and find out the spiritual cause of the disease, it may be useful to use something like a fly agaric, in order to dissolve these blocks at least for a while and connect with the Higher I? Because now not every modern person is capable of conscious communication.

Irina (MidgasKaus): But if he is not able to get answers without the substance, then when he takes it, it is not at all a fact that he will ask or remember something, or will receive the undistorted answer that should be there, because there will be change of consciousness. And if he has not been taught to maintain awareness even in a state of ordinary consciousness, then when it expands, his attitude towards the same issue may completely change. He may lose self-control even in constructing a sentence. I believe that any person, even if he has blocks, but if he works to talk to his Higher Self, then the answer to what they consist of and how to get rid of them can be received in any case and begin work on it.

I also told Irina, and Irina told her students, what to do if the blocks are so large and heavy that a person cannot hear a single thought at all. There is diagnostics (shows Irina how to diagnose a block), and there are special techniques, special words that a person will say in order to get rid of some of these blocks in front of the Higher Self. For example, there is a special technique for working with fears, working with anger, with grievances etc.

When a person says that he cannot hear the Higher Self, the master begins to ask what problems he has in life. And the person talks, for example, about his fear, anger, resentment, etc., about some kind of negative emotions. And using a special technique, the master works with a person precisely through this emotion, bringing it to the surface, helping to dissolve the block. And after this, a person can ask questions about the cause of the disease.

This will be a more reliable, more natural method, and anyone can do it, of course, if they want it. But if he doesn’t want to, then no plants will help him. This is simply a person's desire.

Stanislav: Of course, yes, thank you, Mead!

25:17 MidgasKaus about the help of fly agaric in getting rid of addictions.

Stanislav: Even modern distributors of the same fly agaric claim that it has such a property (they don’t even claim this, this is supposedly experimentally confirmed) that the fly agaric does not tolerate competition with other entheogens, and when taken, it displaces, in particular, the craving for alcohol, to smoking, etc. That is, it can be used as an aid in getting rid of alcohol addiction, which is now very common. At the same time, fly agaric in microdoses is less toxic than alcohol and less destructive to the personality. Do you think this makes sense?

Irina (MidgasKaus): The fact is that when replacing one substance with another, no matter what they are called, some sensations with others, etc... After all, when a person is an alcoholic, for example, he is not looking for alcohol itself and wants to drink This is exactly what you need to enjoy the taste. Alcohol is not drunk for taste. They drink it in order to achieve certain, again, states of consciousness. Which ones? You know them well.

Accordingly, alcohol intoxication has been extensively studied. Of course, it is individual for each person. But, nevertheless, there are common features when you can understand what we are talking about, what states a person is looking for in this desire to consume something. After all, a person not only wants to use something, he uses his will in obtaining funds for this, in obtaining the substance itself, etc. That is, he strives, applies the energy of his will to achieve his goal. And any goal is a projection of the energy of desire onto the mental level. That is, it is a desire that is consciously realized by the mind. And all desires live in the Spiritual heart - in the very core of the Soul, the embodied Soul in this case. Desires live there. Every desire has its own vibration. And moreover, all vibrations of the Spiritual heart will influence the level after incarnation.

If there are desires, then there is a need that caused this desire. Needs are subconscious desires. A person’s needs can be said to be of three types: physical, spiritual and social. Between the physical and spiritual there are also instinctive desires that can be attributed to both. That is, the desire to drink alcohol in this case is caused by the need for pleasure. More often than not, we will say this. In the pleasure that every person has. It is absolutely natural. But, naturally, you will ask, why then, if everyone has a desire for pleasure, does not everyone strive for this substance? Because pleasure lies in different things for different people.

For what reason can a person begin to seek artificial joy, artificial pleasure, that is, created for him by taking substances? For the reasons that he does not see this in life. That is, for some reason. Usually this is also due to blocks. He blocks the flow of Light, Love, joy, happiness from the Higher Self, from the Spiritual world, and life begins to seem meaningless to him. And until he dissolves these blocks, he will not raise his vibrations, and neither fly agarics nor any medicines will help him with this, because this is a physical level, and here you need to work with your Spirit. And therefore it does not eliminate the root cause of either alcoholism or smoking. This just replaces one thing with another, but does not solve the problem globally.

And with this problem, if he masks it, he will simply go into the Spiritual world with the contents in his heart that he will have at the time of disincarnation. But if this suits him, if he is satisfied with the level where he will end up with such contents of the Spiritual heart, which did not allow him to feel causeless joy from his existence, then, of course, this is the right of the person himself. This is his choice, and this is his experience. But I think that when he gets into the Spiritual world and finds out from what level he came, and what tasks he had, and what prevented him from feeling happy, he will have a different opinion about his life than when he was in the body.

31:05 How to help a person with advanced alcoholism.

Stanislav: And if we are talking about an advanced stage of alcoholism, when a person drinks alcohol not for pleasure, but simply to somehow suppress an anxious state. When the Higher Self sends these signals to a person that he is going completely on the wrong path. And this feeling of anxiety, of suffering in general, maybe, at least at the initial stage, somehow be stopped so that the person opens his eyes at least a little?

Irina (MidgasKaus): He may ask: “What’s bothering me?” Again this is care. It can be done easier: anxiety can be removed. That is, a person can be told that anxiety can be removed completely free of charge, without buying any substances, without causing even minimal harm to your body, but simply by introspection, talking to yourself, and this is more effective. Because when a person dissolves the blocks and connects with his Higher Self, with his Spiritual Self, and even more so, when he learns to do this himself, without a guide, at any moment, then he will have such a flow of happiness and Love that is incomparable with these sensations.

32:22 Midgascaus on how to explain to materialists about the Higher Self.

Stanislav: What if we are talking about materialists? They are done, nothing will help?

Irina (MidgasKaus): You can simply explain to materialists about the Higher Self, but using different terms. For example, Superconsciousness. There is such a term in your psychology: Super-I, Superconsciousness. It can be explained that in their Superconsciousness there is the highest potential of their brain, their personality, which can give them happiness, joy and meaning in life in the full realization of their abilities, and not something else. I think they will be interested in this.

Stanislav: Yes, and you experience all these anxious states because you are not following the program of your Superconscious, the algorithm.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Materialists can say this: “You are experiencing these anxious states because those negative emotions that brought you suffering, that you experienced throughout your life, starting from childhood, blocked your ability to be happy for nothing. But this blockage can be lifted.” Any materialist will understand this explanation.

Stanislav: Yes, thank you!

Irina: How do you like this explanation?

Stanislav: Yes, I'll try. Because all this is easier to explain to spiritual people, they accept it better, but with materialists, of course, it happens.

Irina (MidgasKaus): A materialist can say that terms such as Superconsciousness, Super-I have been studied by psychologists and scientists. There are such theories and this is recognized by completely materialistic science. They can even be told that the very words “spirituality” and “Spirit” mean “your inner world.” They will understand that the Spirit is the inner world. But if you work with your inner world and set it up correctly: in harmony with yourself, with the people around you and with the Universe...

You don’t have to say the word God, but simply say the Universe or the Universe. Because they will associate God with the religious institutions of your society, which the materialist may not trust for any reason. For example, he received such an upbringing. I received such instructions from my parents or from school, from society, that God is a fictional being, with whom some incomprehensible phenomena are explained to those who do not know about it. And this very word can repel him.

But if you call it: “harmony with the Universe”, “reconciliation with the Universe”, that is, with the entire world around you. So tell him that there is outer space that you see around you: these are stars, Galaxies... Any materialist knows about this. And there is your inner space, that is, this is your inner world. And you can make sure that they are united.

Stanislav: You can also, for example, “collective consciousness”, “consciousness of all”, “common consciousness”.

Irina: How do you like this method?

Stanislav: Yes, yes. This must be applied.

Irina (MidgasKaus): And if he wants to use some substances, such as entheogens, you can simply say that the method that you offer through Superconsciousness, dissolving internal blocks, etc., is more effective, more accurate and more reliable . And indeed it is.

You can simply suggest that he try this session. And after dissolving at least one block, and there are special words that any person can pronounce, simply repeat after you, his energies will already obey him. And even if part of the block is dissolved, he will feel differently: he will already have a change in consciousness.

Stanislav: Okay.

Irina (MidgasKaus): You can suggest just trying: “If you are interested, this method does not require putting anything into your body at all. This is simply working with your consciousness, which will make you no less happy, and it has no side effects. It can even be used for children."

(Irina) How do you like this?

Stanislav: Yes. And not toxic at all.

Irina: How do you like this proposal?

Stanislav: Great!

37:29 MidgasKaus about chemtrails and other psychotropic chemical effects on Earth.

Stanislav: For some reason, the moment that immediately came to mind was that on the planets of the Order of Six they use spraying in the air of some substances that make the population loyal to the totalitarian government and generally happy and satisfied. But do you think we have such developments on Earth?

Irina (MidgasKaus): There is research in military laboratories in different countries. Such military chemical and biological laboratories are available in all countries with a sufficiently developed weapons-industrial complex. Where the state spends a significant amount of material resources not only on arming its armies, but also on research in this area: how to defend, resist, etc. They have special military chemical and biological laboratories that can work under the guise of completely peaceful organizations - hospitals, pharmacies, some kind of research institutes, on some completely unrelated topic, like the study of geomagnetic electricity or something similar.

These laboratories employ scientists who also have military ranks. And they are there studying various... If we are talking about a military chemical laboratory, then this is the study of not only various substances that can be fatal to people in a certain concentration. But so that, on the one hand, it has antidotes so that its own soldiers do not die, and on the other hand, so that it is a sufficiently stable substance in the external environment and invisible to those people against whom it will have to be used.

Such developments are so-called chemical weapons. And the second developments are, indeed, substances that can influence consciousness, including in order to suppress it, suppress the will of a person. You've probably heard that investigative agencies have been working on how to use various substances during interrogations?

Stanislav: Yes, truth serum.

Irina (MidgasKaus): This is just one name. Various substances and their combinations were used so that a person himself would want to tell what he does not want to tell - that is, without the use of physical force, without torture, etc. So that when a certain substance is introduced, and not only with an injection, but also investigated gaseous mixture so that the person himself does not understand that this effect is being exerted on him. Because in the case of an injection, he may understand that he has been injected with something that changes his consciousness, and begin to resist it, which can distort the results.

And if he simply inhales it, he may feel a strange smell, but not connect this with the fact that his consciousness is somehow being affected, and imperceptibly he will fall into a state of not euphoria, I would not call it euphoria, but sort of artificial excitement, which may even be accompanied by negative emotions and in the mind evoke vivid memories of the past. And he will want to talk about it. That is, these vivid memories and this emotional arousal are due to the release of special hormones in the brain, hormone-like substances.

After some time, this man was examined. One might say that the investigator summoned him and with special questions, treating him fairly loyally, forced him to be frank. And the man himself said what memories surfaced, completely losing control over his speech and over his safety. That is, he no longer realized that he could endanger himself by saying something that he did not want to say. There have been such studies.

As for the global influence on people's behavior, it is somewhat more complicated, because all people are different. The whole point here is that if you simply suppress thinking, this, of course, can be done: suppress some energy, make a person more lethargic, slower, so that he does not want to commit any crimes, organize some riots. All this, of course, can be done. Moreover, not only by spraying some gases, but also by simply adding certain psychotropic substances to tap water.

But here lies the problem: along with inducing this artificial calm, so to speak, a person’s desire and energy will decrease to do something, to change in his life, including work, for example. That is, people may become less efficient, and this will then lead to nothing. The state will not be able to exist if various mechanisms do not work for it, which are built by the same people who are actively promoting their position in life. If you begin to muffle this activity in some way, they may fall into apathy. It won't bring anything.

I know that such studies have been carried out, but they have reached a dead end, because your brain, the brain of earthlings, is structured differently than the brain of reptilians, and it is somewhat more difficult to influence it. You have a good blood-brain barrier through which few substances pass unchanged. And if they do pass, they have a very strong impact on behavior.

But I’ll tell you more simply: if you spray such substances in the air to make people obedient, or add them to their water or food, this, for example, can cause their reaction to slow down. Can you imagine what this will lead to on city streets, where all people drive cars?! This is just one example. There are also people who work in hospitals and schools. The same army. Can you imagine what will happen if they simply slow down their thinking?!

45:34 MidgasKaus about the possibility of using psychotropic substances on the battlefield.

Stanislav: This is exactly what I wanted to ask. It is known that in the twentieth century, one of the reasons that psychedelics were banned was precisely the initiative of the military. Because they experimented on soldiers, and as a result of using these substances, they threw down their weapons and did not want to fight. I thought: how wonderful it would be to spray some such substance over the battlefield - and that's it: the soldiers hugged each other and threw down their guns!

Irina: Then you need to constantly spray it. They will then come out of this state and stop hugging.

(says MidgasKaus) The whole point is that soldiers on the battlefield have a so-called "dominant" in behavior, a dominant in the brain. And here a simple sedative of some kind may not help, because, despite it, they will carry out the command that this dominant gives them.

Who created it? It was created by the Spirit itself, but that Spirit that accepts into itself the attitudes that it is asked to accept as the image of the enemy. Various countries that are actively involved in military operations with other countries actively use special political technologies for their entire society as a whole, and even more so for the army (more concentrated for it). These are purely political, psychological technologies, without chemistry.

47:26 MidgasKaus about the psychological techniques of political strategists.

Irina (MidgasKaus): There are psychological techniques that can change behavior without any chemicals. In this case, an image of an enemy is created. Special words, special news, special emphasis placed on completely truthful information, that is, even without any false information that can be verified. Naturally, this would cause distrust in this image. Therefore, they usually use some truthful information, but with different emphasis. There are special psychologists, and even on Earth you have special higher educational institutions that train such specialists. They are called political strategists.

In reality, all this is used, and a certain image of the enemy is created, in which a person begins to sincerely believe and thereby creates an excited place in his brain, that is, a dominant, the program of which he begins to carry out completely sincerely. And naturally, he thereby lowers his internal spiritual vibrations, because his feelings are genuine. His feelings and emotions are quite sincere, because, as you know, what a person believed in, he created such a reality. That is, there is already an impact here at the level of the subconscious and at the level of the Spiritual heart.

49:01 MidgasKaus on the benefits of studying the Science of Imagery.

Irina (MidgasKaus): How do political strategists manage this? They use the Science of imagery, which has long been familiar to the Interstellar Union: they create certain images. Why are people susceptible to this? I believe that people are susceptible to this for the reason that in schools on Earth the Science of Imagery is practically not studied on a serious level, from childhood. For this reason, the person himself does not notice what image he is being asked to accept on faith, what energy of feeling he is highlighting, and how this can affect a person's fate. And in our country all this knowledge is given at school.

(Irina) How do you like this school, Stas?

Stanislav: Yes, we dream of such a school! We even have such a concept, such a military specialty. This is precisely the person waging psychological wars. "Cognitive wars" are also called.

Irina: Is this like a political instructor?

Stanislav: There are entire departments that are aimed at this - information dumping, etc.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, there are military men, and there are those who work in the media, quite on the salary of those government agencies that manage the army too. That is, these are general intelligence services, only they are military. There are civilian intelligence services, and there are military intelligence services. Intelligence services are those services that have a special purpose, and their actions are often not open to the people.

(Irina) We just had an interesting conversation about the Science of Imagery! MidgasCaus is telling me now.

(MidgasKaus) In the “Cassiopeia” Project, I suggest that all interested specialists also create their own course on the Science of Imagery for adults. Which will then be able to teach it to children precisely in the context of security in the modern information space from the introduction of negative images.

(Irina) How do you like this item?

Stanislav: This is great! We will definitely implement this.

Irina (MidgasCaus): Through Irina, I can have a conversation with the person who will teach these courses at Cassiopeia, and I can transfer this knowledge so that the person can teach these courses.

Stanislav: Amazing!

Irina: Interesting?

Stanislav: Yes, yes!

51:50 MidgasKaus about safe plants for conscious access to the Astral.

Stanislav: Mead, here’s a question: are there any relatively safe, legal plants among the widely known plants that would help a novice astral traveler consciously leave the body?

Irina (MidgasKaus): There are plants that are completely safe, healthy for you and legal, that is, those that are not prohibited. They, with the help of their vibrations that are in them (not even chemicals, but vibrations) help, for example, maintain awareness during astral travel. For example, for you this is a plant like carrots.

Stanislav: Okay!

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, carrots, and also apples. These plants contain, one might say, such substances... It is clear that there are vitamins and useful microelements. But besides this, they have an etheric component that, acting on your etheric body, allows you to quickly learn conscious astral exits. But, of course, if at the same time you also do exercises for these exits.

And, by the way, we also propose to Irina in “Cassiopeia” to open an online school of astral travel, where LiSioni and I, through her, gradually, step by step, will prepare everyone for a real, conscious, controlled independent astral exit. During which each person will be able to meet their Curators, fly throughout the Galaxy, and not only ours, and visit subtle worlds, navigate well and remember these journeys.

Stanislav: This is the dream of many. Almost everyone.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, this is the dream of many, but at the same time there are special preparatory actions so that students do not immediately go to the Astral. Because if they come out right away, I might lose consciousness. They are not ready yet: there is no sensitivity to energy, there is no developed imaginative thinking, they do not know how to navigate there.

First you need to start working with your energy and your chakras, etc. There are special exercises that prepare you for this. And besides, theoretical knowledge is very important here, because a person must imagine what the Astral is, how it differs from the physical world, etc. That is, we suggest that Irina open an online school of astral travel.

Stanislav: I think she won’t refuse.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes. Now we are thinking about how best to do this online...

You can also use it by diffusing essential oils from many plants, such as lavender. Lavender essential oil promotes contact with plasmoid civilizations. Many plants can be used for this: frankincense (sandalwood) essential oil also attunes a person to contact the Higher Self. It activates the sixth and seventh chakras when inhaling the smell, inhaling the aroma.

After all, when you inhale the aroma of these oils, it affects not only the physical body. When you smell something, it means that molecules of this substance have entered your body, and they dissolve in the blood and are carried throughout the body by the blood. But here the impact is not only on the physical level. Since each plant also has its own energy, it also affects the etheric, astral, mental levels, etc.

(Irina) That's what he's telling me now.

(MidgasKaus) And it is absolutely safe: it will not cause any inharmonious changes in consciousness, will not cause loss of control, or intoxication. Of course, this is safe if you do not have allergic reactions to these plants, and therefore this is a completely harmonious way to help yourself in such conditions.

56:56 MidgaKaus about the influence of herudotherapy on human energy centers.

Stanislav: Thank you! And, by the way, as for working with energy centers, I recently came across a very thick book on leeches - “Herudotherapy”. And most of it is devoted to the fact that leeches greatly influence the subtle bodies of humans. They can be planted on the chakras - the area where the energy centers are, and they have a positive effect, among other things. Do you know anything about this?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, I heard about it. Indeed, the use of leeches (shows Irina their image) in the treatment and prevention of diseases is also possible. Because they act not only on the physical body with their enzymes, thinning the blood, etc. Like any living creature, a leech naturally has its own energy, its own Soul (although they have a group Soul there). And when it comes into contact with a person, it feeds from him.

If you do this without fear, consciously, and send her the Light of Love, then the plasmoid that created her group Soul will feel that you are giving her your blood with Love. And then, in addition to the direct action of the substances contained in her saliva, the plasmoid will also send energy for healing, that is, as gratitude (shows to Irina).

Naturally, there are also certain indications and contraindications, but the main thing is to treat them without disgust, with Love. These are creatures that, of course, look unpleasant to many people, because the subconscious of many people contains programs that cause xenophobia in them. It is also necessary to work with these programs, bring them to the pure Light of Divine consciousness, analyze and dissolve them. And then you will understand that ugly creatures do not exist in the Universe, disgusting creatures do not exist in the Universe!

(Irina) How do you like this?

Stanislav: I'm sure of it! I even like some ugly ones better than cute ones.

59:41 Why do plants and animals themselves need entiogens?

Irina: Yes, but this is probably more about people who treat insects this way towards everyone and animals like frogs...

Stanislav: By the way, frogs can also be entheogenic, I heard.

Irina (MidgasKaus): They happen. They contain substances with which they protect themselves from predators. By the way, those plants and fungi that are so-called entheogens, or simply narcotic plants, also most often accumulate these substances for a reason, but in order to thus escape from being eaten by insects. That is, this is their protection.

Stanislav: It’s not for nothing that the fly agaric is called that...

Irina (MidgasKaus): For example, if we now consider a plant such as tobacco, it accumulates nicotine in its leaves (shows Irina the smell of tobacco) so that it is not attacked by certain insects - such as aphids, for which nicotine is a deadly poisonous substance. And it is precisely to protect against these insects that tobacco accumulates this substance. Precisely for protection, and not for a person to come and somehow use it. By what program does this substance accumulate? Naturally, according to the program embedded in the DNA of these plants.

And DNA takes shape over many millions of years of evolution. But this evolution, as I already said, is not accidental; it is directed by certain plasmoid civilizations. And so some plasmoids decided that just such a substance would protect their plant from insects, and thus synthesized this substance. And you can verify this, for example, by using an infusion of tobacco leaves in the fight against garden pests - such as aphids, some small bugs (shows to Irina), spider mites, etc.

That is, you can make an infusion of tobacco and apply it by spraying those plants that are affected by these harmful insects, and you will see that there are significantly fewer of them. There is such a way.

Stanislav: So the plasmoids did not mean at all, when they invented fly agaric or psilocybin mushrooms, that people would start using them to change consciousness?

Irina (MidgasKaus says): For plasmoids this doesn’t matter at all, because they don’t have a human brain. And they do not predict how a particular substance will affect a person in third density. Perhaps those plasmoids that created these Souls, and then the DNA programs that synthesized these substances, did not even suspect any third density. They simply lived in their own world and solved their own problems.

But for what reason did this particular substance begin to act on a person in this way and not in another? As I already said, this means that it resembles those substances that you have so that your Spirit can control the body with the help of hormones. And the same receptors with which it does this are affected by this substance created by plants.

Of course, this is not accidental, but, in any case, the plasmoids did not set such a goal. They solved their problems. And this is confirmed by the fact that planets have been discovered, for example, in our Galaxy, on which there are only plants and some primitive animals, such as insects. There are no mammalian animals on them, much less intelligent creatures, and yet plants are discovered there that may contain such hallucinogens. For example, substances for some races, although they generally live on other planets. It just so happens that this particular molecule acts on some receptor. Although, naturally, the plasmoids did not know this.

Stanislav: There are simply mythological beliefs among fans of the same fly agarics that they interact with the Spirit of the mushroom, or in the case of peyote, with the Spirit of the cactus...

Irina (MidgasKaus): They can interact with any plasmoid that is nearby. And it is not necessary that it will be the one who created these plants, their Soul, so to speak. But the plasmoid, having read a person's thoughts, can take on any image, as long as it interacts with this person for the purpose of energy exchange...

1:05:46 The danger of communicating with plasmoids in a consciousness altered by psychedelics.

Irina (MidgasKaus): I also wanted to say a few words about such contacts. If a person takes a substance such as psilocybin, LSD, etc., he opens up to contact with the subtle world. Because the subtle material world is, one might say, closer in vibrations to the Soul, which is in a dense body, than the Spiritual World. Therefore, first of all, he opens up to the subtle world. He himself is in the material world, but in the dense, and opens to the subtle world that is around him. And, naturally, first of all - to the nearest density levels.

What do you mean open? Opening up means not only that he is changing his perception. Firstly, he changes his perception so much that he begins to feel, see, hear, feel the touches of these creatures from the plasmoid civilization. And the second is that the vibrations of this person's brain change, and his aura (shows it to Irina) becomes more noticeable to the same plasmoid civilizations, and they see him. But they see it not as a human body, but simply as an aura. And a person’s aura is shaped like an egg. That is, they see such a luminous egg-shaped figure, usually yellow. That is, what leading chakra he has.

But who then makes contact with a person, since there are many plasmoids? Naturally, anyone can come out. But first of all, of course, it is of interest to those plasmoids that coincide with it in vibrations. And since psychoactive substances themselves do not change spiritual vibrations in any way - neither downward nor upward (after all, this is an effect on the body, and spiritual vibrations depend on the Spiritual heart, let's say so), then those beings whom he will attract you with your Spiritual heart. Not with the physical brain, but with the Spiritual heart!

And again, returning to the beginning of our conversation about blocks. If a person has blocks, in cases, as you understand, with alcoholics, with people who have not been cleared of some kind of negativity - well, who can they attract?! Only, most often, destructive civilizations of a parasitic nature, which will, for example, show something terrible in order to make an attachment to it and subsequently feed on its energy of fear, anger, and resentment. To feed on these blocks for, perhaps, many years, even after such a person has used this substance once.

Such cases are known. I have seen such people. As it later turned out through the Higher Self, such consequences occurred after just a single use of psilocin. That is, the person was then in contact with a destructive plasmoid civilization.

(Irina) Yes, I remember this incident. It’s just that a person turned to me, I took him to the Higher Self, and it turned out that the reason was his blocks, which attracted this creature to him. We dissolved the block. It was a plasmoid creature. But since the person was under the influence of psilocybe, he saw it and got scared because it took on a threatening image, with a weapon. I began to imagine that it was a soldier, standing somewhere behind the curtain, aiming at him. And it was so real that the man thought that the police had come, and for his crime, for taking a prohibited substance, they wanted to kill him.

And he, believing this, got scared, lowered the vibration of his energy even more, thanks to which the plasmoid came up and simply attached a binding (MidgasKaus is now showing me such a kind of sticky chewing gum), and left. And then, when the man had already come to his senses, he began to feel some kind of loss of strength. And he couldn't connect it with anything. Well, we went to the Higher Self. And MidgasCaus was just arriving. I remember he also came, and we all sorted out this situation together. Naturally, I tell everything without names, just to make it clear that such a situation happened.

Yes, and the second was a situation when a person contacted me who had gone through these ceremonies with psilocybo several times to expand consciousness. But it turned out that he was energetically cleansed and did not attract anyone bad to himself. But he came to me with this problem. After several mushroom ceremonies of this order, when he was in a normal state of consciousness, he practically felt that he began to lose sensitivity to energies during ordinary meditations and certain practices. That is, he said: “It’s somehow strange, I was a very sensitive person, a contactee too, I communicated. And then suddenly I realized that I was blind, deaf, and couldn’t hear anything. Not only some answers, even thoughts don’t come!”

And we started working with him. The Curator also came. By the way, they came from Burkhad and also began to look at its energy. He was very worried about this. He was told that with several doses of these psilocybes he directed such a flow of energy, such a flow of these substances into his brain that he simply, figuratively speaking, burned half of the receptors.

(MidgasKaus) Because it also contains a high content of psychoactive substances that mimic your hormones. You release them in small quantities, which are necessary for brain function. And when a person consumes them from the outside, the dosages exceed the natural ones by several thousand times! And therefore, the receptors can, figuratively speaking, burn out. And to put it in precise scientific language, greatly reduce your sensitivity.

And then it took several months of adaptation and rehabilitation of the person. It’s just that when he meditated, he felt absolutely nothing, and could not communicate with his Higher Self, but then gradually this sensitivity returned to him. He also drank certain herbs to remove toxins. I prescribed him nootropics to activate intracerebral metabolism so that these recovery processes would happen faster. Moreover, he also had a problem with the content of certain proteins in the membrane of neurons. This also caused encephalopathy to some extent. He used some quite serious nootropic drugs to get out of this state. But in the end, he said that he would not use it anymore. Because he says, “This is very strange: I stopped feeling without them.”

And I want to say now that, indeed, this happens when a person, by taking some artificial substance, reduces his natural sensitivity. This also has a certain risk, and this must be remembered.

Stanislav: This is the main conclusion that I made from our conversation and which I want to advise some spiritual seekers - that you are unlikely to achieve spiritual growth in this way!

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, spiritual growth is possible only through the cleansing of the Spiritual heart and the development of Unconditional Love in oneself. Substances do not contribute to this. A person may simply think that they give him spiritual growth, but in fact this is an illusion.

Stanislav: Thank you, Mid! Thank you, Irochka!

Irina: Thank you!

Stanislav: It was a wonderful conversation. Thank you!

Irina: So, dear friends, I thank you for watching this video. If anything, come to the Higher Self. Come to me, come to my students, come to our schools. The sensations you will get there are incomparable to short-term and artificially induced states. Try it yourself.

And they are absolutely safe and even beneficial for your health. Absolutely legal, and you don’t have to pay anything for them. More precisely, it’s not that you don’t pay anything, you can pay for them as much as your heart tells you. And not even to pay for them, but simply to support the master who will help you connect with your Spiritual heart, with your Light and receive an answer. You decide for yourself how much it costs for you, how much this session will cost. And so it is in all Cassiopeia Projects! So, dear friends, we are waiting for you! See you again!

1:16:38. End of dialogue.

1:17:01. End of broadcast.

December 7, 2022

Participants:

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, subtle-material civilizations and the Spiritual world;

Stanislav Sevostyanikhin – musician, host of the Betelgeuse podcast, editor of the Cassiopeia project;

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/duh-ryurika-o-voennom-konflikte-rossii-i-ukrainy
May 18
The spirit of Rurik about the military conflict between Russia and Ukraine
I know about this conflict because I am at level 20, I am a healing Angel and I am taking part in helping the Earth during this period.
You know, there are many probabilities of when this conflict will end and how it will end. There are many probabilities, and moreover, they change. They change, one might say, if not every minute, then definitely every day. That is, the balance of power changes, people's choices change, and the events that influence their choice change.
I just want to say: what is happening now is a continuation of a very long-standing egregorial conflict between the Polyans and the Vyatichi. This conflict existed even in my time, and I heard about it from my father, from my grandfathers, from my older generation - that the Vyatichi and Polyans often clashed with each other and fought. That is, they attacked each other, conquered some territories from each other. And it was such an egregorial confrontation. Therefore, now, although more than a thousand years have passed, all these energies in the egregor have not gone away, and they continue to manifest themselves through modern people in this form.

I only want to give spiritual recommendations on what needs to be done in order to cleanse their egregors in both Russia and Ukraine, becoming independent from the opinions of others, completely reconciling and finding something in common.

Naturally, as I already said, this conflict is very old, it is already more than a thousand years old. At that time, all these groups of Slavs, even before my birth in the body of Rurik, had a blood feud. It all started with a certain blood feud. They began to take revenge on each other for minor offenses. And the more they took revenge, the more anger, contempt and fear they released into their egregor. Although they had temporary alliances, the next generation of people came, they were imbued with this egregorial spirit, and strife began again.

There is an opportunity to stop all this. Here it is necessary to realize, first of all, all the people who are part of these nations, and secondly, the rulers of these countries, who are now responsible before God for the path of these peoples on Earth in the world community.

It is necessary to sincerely forgive each other, to let go of all the insults and all the harm done to each other, because a lot of harm was done to each other. If people start reminding each other: you did this to us, and you did this to us, you killed so much, and you destroyed so much... These accusations, in fact, lead nowhere.

Everything that happened in the past, dear friends, must remain in the past. If you want to live on a renewed Earth, renewed by the so-called quantum transition, that is, in an increase in vibration, if you want to live in a new world, you need to leave old, torn clothes in the past, and not drag them with you into the future. You need to be cleansed with forgiveness.

Forgiveness is cleansing. There is no action that cannot be forgiven if you see a brother in another (a brother is not by blood, but by Spirit). If you endlessly accuse each other: he killed these people, and this one killed these people, this one attacked, and this one also attacked, this is the road to nowhere. This charges the egregors with anger even more. And this suggests that if your generation does not cleanse these egregors now, then even with temporary reconciliation, perhaps the next generations that will come after you, to your people, they will again enter into these feuds and fight again.

I ask you to look not at the physical actions of these peoples - Russian and Ukrainian, but at those internal desires, motivations and feelings that guide them. After all, for you, if you are really engaged in spiritual development, esotericism, that is, secret knowledge, it should be clear that every person who was born in some nation is already associated with an egregor. And, as I already explained, this enmity existed for a very long time, even before Christian times, and a lot of different energies accumulated in these two egregors, which are now your lesson to cleanse, since you have incarnated.

Why your lesson, you might ask, and not someone else's? Because it was you who agreed to incarnate at this time and in this egregor. This means that you have already taken upon yourself part of the egregorial karma. And you, like any Ukrainian and any Russian who has incarnated at this time in this place, have taken upon yourself this national lesson.
Forgiveness should be unconditional - when you forgive and accept him as he is. Why did he come to your land? Because this is a manifestation of an egregor: the egregors collided again - and they felt the urge to go there, to you. And in order for them to cleanse their egregor, you must also begin to cleanse yours. It's a mutual process, really.
I wish peace both between Ukraine and Russia, and between all countries of the Earth! I wish peace between the peoples in those states in the formation of which I took part. And I also want to say that please do not rush to shift responsibility for what is happening in your states to some other states and countries. In any case, you are responsible for what happens in your space. Where you show the Light, the Light will be drawn there; where you do not show the Light, its absence will be drawn there.
Timecode: 01:12:30, #579 Let's share the secrets of Rurik_ One day live with the Spirit!
The disembodied Spirit of Rurik is the founder of the ancient Russian state.
June, 2023
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pryamoj-ehfir-s-duhom-apostola-pavla-12-apostolov
May 18

#522 Live broadcast with the Spirit of the Apostle Paul / 12 apostles / 2 series.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=N63SZ_3NahM

00:00 Start of video.

00:05 News of the Cassiopeia project.

Maxim: Dear friends, hello everyone! I'm starting the broadcast again, the head of the Project is Rusan Maxim Sergeevich.

Having seen the comments and received feedback, I realized that it was time for me, as the head of the Project, to take on a normal "managerial appearance", because the Center is almost ready, completed. After the New Year, we will launch the new Voronezh Center into operation, and we will continue to operate the Moscow Center.

Hi all! How can you hear me?

(reads messages from the chat) "Hello, dear Maxim, greetings from Magnitogorsk!" Magnitogorsk, big greetings to you! We have a lot of interesting things. And I would like to thank you all for helping the Cassiopeia Project by purchasing our products.

We have a new product "Cassiopeia ENERGY" (shows the product). This is the energy of the Earth and the Universe in every cell. This is freeze-dried juice of young wheat germ sprouts. The most interesting thing is that drying takes place in a cryogenic environment, completely preserving all the nutritional composition of the substances included in it. I recommend it to those who want to constantly be on their toes.

01:56 Release of the "Cassiopeia Family Galactic Calendar".

We have released a new "Galactic Calendar of the Cassiopeia Family". Here it is (shows the calendar). You can give this product to a family member. This is a very interesting calendar. Here is MidgasKaus, Saint-Germain, Kirchiton, our main Curator Mirakh Count (Archangel Gabriel) and up to Te Per Hredours. All those with whom we had conferences are in this calendar for the next year 2023. All information is below this video. You can go to the site and take a look. We have prepared such New Year's gifts for you.

Our next main event is a trip to Abkhazia. Registration for a unique retreat begins on the 29th.

(reads in the chat) “I became kinder in a suit.” Thanks a lot! I have now decided to go out to you every broadcast in a suit, take you literally 10-15 minutes in order to give you news of the Cassiopeia project, and then, without abbreviations, I will add more time to you so that we can conduct broadcasts. Broadcast, as it was, for an hour...

(reads) “Married. Wedding ring on hand." They noticed that I have a ring on my hand. Yes, spiritually I have already found my little man, I think that soon I will have a thinner and more amazing ring on this finger. I haven’t officially proposed yet, but she’s probably hearing us now, so I think I’ll officially propose to her in the near future. This is also news from the Project. I believe that a man should give birth to children in marriage consciously, continue the family line so that it all is harmonious.

04:02 Release of a set of aromatic oils.

The most important news is that we have created a group of aromatic oils. These are 100% natural essential oils. They are put in boxes, take a look (shows). There is a broadcast about these oils, where Irina Podzorova and MidgasKaus talk about how they act on the human body.

The most important thing is that we have a New Year's gift for all of you with this set! Essential oils for the New Year also come with a big discount. Plus, you can buy a bracelet like this (shows). It is available in gold and in white. The bracelet unwinds, and a special cap like this is inserted there (shows). My assistant Zhenya, who is now working on the Cassiopeia brand and essential oils, has already experimented. He has been wearing a bracelet for a month and it works amazingly!

Ten caps are inserted here. They are made to match every essential oil scent to keep you productive all day long. Just 3-4 drops of oil are enough per day, because we have found the coolest manufacturers whose services are used by large companies. They are located in different places around the globe. And in addition to all oils, we have chromatograms. I think that anyone who understands this can study everything and see the quality of the essential oils that we provide.

Of course, you can take these essential oils internally, but we do not recommend taking more than two drops of any essential oil. This is a very rich product, and more than ten drops can burn the lining of the esophagus or stomach.

(reads) “There is very little time... The Universe... Listen, people, wake up! You must understand why there is a fratricidal war...” Of course, people must wake up. I believe that the most important thing in this world is the word “world” in which we live. I would like to thank everyone in the world of “Cassiopeia” who, together with us, grows, develops and receives spiritual knowledge in the Project on a “donation” basis. What is “donation”? This is your payment according to your heart. This is how much you consider necessary to help our Project, joint with you, grow and develop.

And today’s broadcast is a very serious step. We took a swing at the Twelve Apostles. We want to communicate with everyone through Irina Podzorova. I know that not all apostles are incarnated, but many of us are incarnated on this planet. The time has come for the Quantum Transition, when these 12 spiritual personalities are on our planet. Only with their permission, with the permission of these people, do we make these broadcasts.

That’s why I want to invite Irishka. We have already prepared water for her here, and I prepared professionally for this broadcast.

(Addresses Irina) Irishka, please sit down.

08:20 Apostle Paul, his appearance.

Irina: Hello everyone, good evening!

Maxim: Hello everyone! Irina, who is on the air with us today?

Irina: Dear friends, today with us on the air is the phantom of the Spirit, who in one of his incarnations was embodied in the Apostle Paul.

This Spirit is now embodied on Earth, and I know this man. He gave permission to contact his Higher Self. His Higher Self allocated a phantom that retains the memory of the incarnation in the body of the Apostle Paul - that historical figure whom we know as “the Apostle Paul”. Today we broadcast with his Spirit. He is present here.

Maxim: Irina, what does he look like? How do you see him? How do you describe it?

Irina: He appeared in the image of his body, in which he lived in that incarnation. This is a short man, about one meter seventy, as tall as me. Middle-aged, he has a dark beard, large, piercing eyes, and a wide forehead. There is little hair on the head, and it is gray, and the beard is black. He is wearing a dark blue cape, the kind that priests wear.

Maxim: (reads from the chat) “Irina, you are beautiful!” - they write to you there.

Irina: Thank you!

10:38 Apostle Paul about his incarnations.

Maxim: Pavel, please tell me, do you have any other significant incarnations on planet Earth?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): Greetings! I have had several incarnations on planet Earth. For me personally, they are all significant to some extent. As for the history of the Earth, the most significant of them, that is, known to many people now, is precisely the incarnation of the Apostle Paul into the body. I have had 35 incarnations on planet Earth in its different historical periods.

Maxim: Have you had incarnations on other planets?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): Yes, I had incarnations on other planets: there were incarnations on Tumesout, several incarnations on the planet Burkhad, in many Pleiadian civilizations, civilizations of the colonies of Tumesout in the constellation Orion.

Maxim: How many incarnations does your Spirit have in this manvantara?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): 367-e.

Maxim: And on Earth? I missed it a little, I looked at what the guys were writing in the chat. I'll clean up the chat, because again some "ufologist" got started.

Irina: I know this man, he has people who love him and talk about him everywhere.

Maxim: Yes, they impose... Well, that's okay. So, who were your most significant incarnations on Earth?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): It is for people - in the Apostle Paul. And so I was still embodied at the beginning of the 19th century in Brazil as a doctor-surgeon who performed surgical operations. I was also incarnated earlier, in the early 16th century, as a man who lived in China and adhered to the Buddhist religion.

My last incarnation before the one in which I live now was also on Earth. It was in Russia in the twenties of the 20th century. I was embodied in a simple man, a peasant who participated in the Great Patriotic War as a soldier.

Maxim: (to the audience) Today's broadcast is very interesting. We got supporters of one of the ufologists, but that's okay. Now, I think, "normal people" will join in, we have a "Q&A" chat. Live".

Irina: So they subscribed to the channel.

Maxim: Yes, we subscribed to the channel.

(to the Apostle Paul) Tell me, please, are you now incarnated on Earth as a man or a woman?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): Into a woman.

Maxim: From what spiritual level did you incarnate into Pavel?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): When I incarnated as Paul, I incarnated from the 10th level.

Maxim: We even have calculations of what level a person incarnates from. You can go to our website and order a calculation for yourself from what spiritual level a person incarnated.

(to the Apostle Paul) When you were an apostle, did you enter the Spiritual world, to what level?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): On the 19th, when he came out of incarnation as the Apostle Paul.

Maxim: Have you had any other incarnations after the Apostle Paul?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): Where?

Maxim: In general, have you ever incarnated in the material Universe?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): Naturally. I talked about the incarnations that I had on Earth. But before that, after my incarnation by the Apostle Paul, I incarnated for another 300 years in a solar civilization of the 22nd density level. And then - on Earth, in those incarnations that I have already spoken about.

16:14 Apostle Paul about the task of a new incarnation on Earth.

Maxim: Tell me, please, what is your current task of incarnation on this planet?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): Now my task of incarnation on this planet is to carry the Light of the spiritual truth of the knowledge of God, to help people recognize this Truth in themselves, so that they can take the path of spiritual development, the spiritual resurrection of themselves as a conscious Spirit in that era and in the conceptual language that is accepted in the 21st century.

17:15 Apostle Paul about communication between the apostles in the Spiritual world.

Maxim: Do you communicate with other apostles now?

Irina (Spirit of Apostle Paul): Yes.

Maxim: How do you know about this?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): In the Spiritual world we all know each other. I, as a Spirit, communicate with other incarnate and non-incarnate apostles, even when my incarnate part does not know about it. The higher self of this person communicates with the apostles, this is me. This is me, and I communicate. In the Spiritual world, we maintain contact with each other despite the fact that our embodied parts do not know about it.

Maxim: You have some kind of sabantui there.

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): This is called “the spiritual community of a group that came to incarnate at the same time, on the same planet, with similar goals." And when the goals are similar, we all communicate.

Maxim: Dear friends, the questions I ask are collected from the Q&A chat. Live broadcast" from the Telegram channel. The assembled questions that I have collected, we will answer them and move on to the rest of the questions that I will see on the screen of this chat on YouTube and will be happy to ask them.

19:08 Apostle Paul about the apostles now embodied on Earth. The task of their implementation.

Maxim: How many apostles are now embodied on planet Earth?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): There are currently 8 apostles embodied in physical bodies on planet Earth, but it is not only the 12 that are counted. For example, I am not an apostle of the 12 or the 70. Nevertheless, since I was recognized as an apostle for the fact that I spread the Christian faith in my life of Paul, as the possibility of knowing God, the possibility of union with God, and gave my life for this preaching, then Jesus Christ himself recognized me as an apostle, despite the fact that I was not among the 12 or 70.

Maxim: Got it. Thank you for your answer. Do the apostles have a common task of incarnation on the planet?

Irina: The eight apostles who are now incarnated?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): Yes. This is the task - to build an egregorial community that will be filled with the Light of Love and will help people in the same action that helped build a new Christian egregor 2 thousand years ago. That is, in finding oneself and connecting with the Highest Light.

For what reason is this group incarnation necessary right now, 2 thousand years after the group incarnation of the same Souls? For the reason that at the turn of the 20th–21st centuries the Earth entered the main phase of the Quantum Transition. You all know him, you just call him differently. The goal of the Quantum Transition is the transformation of matter on planet Earth, including the matter of human bodies, in such a way that they can have knowledge of God from birth in the body, as an opportunity to choose more freely between Light and darkness than when this opportunity does not exist.

Maxim: Seriously, very seriously.

22:40 Apostle Paul about his life before meeting Christianity. Studying in the Jewish Temple.

Maxim: Please tell us about your life before Christ. Who were you, what did you do?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): Before meeting Christianity, do you mean?

Maxim: Yes. Where you were born?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): I was born 14 years after the birth of Jesus Christ, or according to modern earthly chronology - in the 10th year of the new era. This was the city of Tarsus. It still exists on the northeastern shore of the Mediterranean Sea (shows). My father named me Shaul.

Maxim: Shaul?

Irina: I hear: Sha-ul.

(Spirit of the Apostle Paul) Paul - this name came to me much later, after I learned about Christ. And not only did I learn, but when I accepted this teaching with all my Soul. But not because of a special enlightenment of my heart from the grace of Christ, but because in that life I was so blinded by malice that I needed a special intervention, a special contact with Jesus so that I could see the Light in Him.

Maxim: What did you do before you started bringing the Light?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): I studied (shows Irina a tall man).

I studied with a spiritual teacher to whom my father sent me. He sent me from my hometown to Jerusalem to a spiritual teacher at the Jewish temple. I learned from him the interpretation of the Torah, the composition of rabbinic teachings, the so-called midrash, the correct understanding and interpretation of prophetic books. I learned to pray, to keep my body and Soul clean, as is customary according to the canons of the Torah and Talmud in general (as you say, Scripture and Tradition). I truly loved Yahweh God as the only God and prayed to him. I already had experiences of contacts with my Light, with my Higher Self, back in my teens.

26:42 Apostle Paul about the attitude towards Jesus Christ and Christianity.

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): Later I learned that in the city of Jerusalem there is a strange sect that preaches the physical resurrection of Jesus Christ. When I lived in Jerusalem, I heard about a Teacher whose name was Jesus Christ. I even saw him from afar. Crowds of people followed him.

Since I was completely immersed in learning from my teacher Gamaliel, I did not pay attention to these crowds of people. They said that he was a miracle worker, a sorcerer, that he healed people, transformed some objects into others and even walked on water, but I believed that these were inventions of the exalted crowd, like illusions. I even asked my teacher Gamaliel about this man, and he told me not to engage in empty fables, but to engage in serving Yahweh according to the Torah. He said that if the Teacher came from God, whose prophet was Moses, he would never disparage the Torah in front of other people. And there was a rumor about Jesus Christ that this is exactly what he was doing, that he wanted to attract the attention and worship of the people of Yahweh to himself.

Maxim: That's right, that's probably how he was perceived.

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): There was a rumor, but I did not go into these details. Later I heard that he was sentenced to death on the cross.

Naturally, I then believed that since the high priest, whom I loved unconditionally and considered a very enlightened, wise man, took such an extreme measure as the death penalty, it means that this man, Jesus, was really dangerous. I could not imagine that the high priest, who devoted his entire life to serving God, could turn out to be unjust. In my opinion, then he read their true content in Souls. Therefore, if (as I thought then) he found danger in this person, spiritual damage, then that's how it was. And there was no other way to rid the blind crowd that was following him from danger except to take the life of this man.

Of course, in the depths of my heart I regretted this, because I generally had a negative attitude towards murder, but at the same time I understood that the Torah commands the execution of dangerous criminals, and this is absolutely correct, so that there is no temptation for others.

Then, after the execution, about two years later, a rumor began that this man's disciples were creating their own sect, into which they attracted other people, and who refused to recognize the customs of the Temple, customs based on the Torah and Talmud. That is, they questioned the entire foundation that I, as a disciple of Gamaliel, had to bring to people before other people. It was destroying our faith.

Naturally, I was outraged by this. I considered these people to be traitors to my ancestors, my fathers and my God. Moreover, when I myself began to talk with Christians, being a member of the Council, which interrogated Christians as one of the sects or directions of Judaism at that time. When I personally spoke with them, I heard from them words that were outrageous to me at that time, that Jesus Christ is God. The deification of people was unacceptable for the religion of the one God Yahweh, in which I was then a member.

I was then convinced (at that point in time) that everything they said about Jesus was true. This was another confirmation for me. Because if Jesus were a bright man (as I thought then), he would not allow people to deify him. This means that he was a proud man who wanted to be worshiped. I thought so.

Naturally, we considered how to deal with these people according to the law of the Torah, which Moses commanded us. There is an unequivocal commandment: “If a person appears among your people calling you to other gods, you must stone him to destroy evil among you. Even if it is your son or your father, your hand must be the first to take the stone.”

Maxim: This is from the Torah, right?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): Yes, this is from the Torah of Moses (shows the book). And naturally, we began to fulfill the law of the Torah. And we did not see anything wrong with the executions of Christians, because those people who became Christians came from among Jewish Jews. Their nationality is Jews, and by faith they were Jews and accepted this faith in childhood. And naturally, they all studied Torah.

It is impossible for us to reach adulthood without studying Torah. A priest examination must be passed. According to the law of the Torah, adulthood occurs for men at 13 years old, for women at 12. From this time on, a person becomes fully responsible for his actions, including the fulfillment of the commandments of the Torah. From that moment on, he has the right to own property, get married and have full control over his property. If we mean men under 13 years of age, this is considered a boy (child, youth), and upon reaching 13 years of age, he takes an exam on Torah knowledge to priests, answers questions and undergoes the procedure of initiation into a man.

Why am I telling this? So that you understand that we treated sectarians this way: if an adult man or adult woman belonging to Judaism called God a person executed by his own high priest, they thereby went against the Temple, against the Torah and began to deify another person, which is prohibited in the Torah. Moreover, they did this quite consciously, knowing full well what punishment would follow.

They taught it themselves. For this reason, no one made peace with them or stood on ceremony. In fact, if there was a confession “I am a Christian,” it means there was a death penalty.

As a matter of fact, they did not expect anything else; they knew the law. I was then sure that I did good because I fulfilled the law of the Torah and believed that the blood of these people whom my comrades executed was on their own heads, because they made a conscious choice. I didn't consider myself guilty.

The first time I saw a Christian being executed, I did not participate in it because there were enough older men. At that time I was 15 years old. I stood nearby and saw how they were stoned. As I found out later, his name was Stefan, and by law I could also take part in this, since I was over 13 years old, but I decided to just watch it because there were older and stronger men who could do it more reliable and faster (shows). Stoning requires physical strength.

A few years later, the number of Christians began to increase, and they appeared in other cities. I went to one of these cities with a letter from the high priest, which gave me the authority to detain Christians and interrogate them. And if their guilt is confirmed, take them to Jerusalem for trial, because without trial it was forbidden to stone them. There must be an investigation: is he really worshiping another God, is he really calling others to this? There had to be testimony.

Maxim: It turns out that before Christ you had a hateful attitude towards Christians, right?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): I hated the teaching itself, it was like heresy. This is about how you feel about criminals.

40:30 Apostle Paul about an astral meeting with Jesus Christ.

Maxim: How did it happen that you didn’t believe, didn’t believe, and suddenly you decided and believed?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): Because Jesus himself came to me.

Maxim: What does this mean?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): He came to me in contact when I was in an attack of illness (shows).

As I already said, the high priest gave me a letter asking me to go to another city to search for and arrest Christians. Why am I saying this? So that you understand that this was fully approved by the high priest and was considered a good deed. This was considered the cleansing of our people, our egregor from those people who could destroy it.

I was riding a horse. There were five more people with me - my companions and my companions, who were students of this high priest. When it was night, dark, I felt a flash of light.

Maxim: (reads in the chat) We have the Apostle Paul, Irina!

Irina: Where?

Maxim: Right there in the chat. Interesting messages writes: “You could say that many are passing through here, including me, on a business trip. My homeland is the constellation Ursa Major, but this is the final incarnation for many. Let's go into the big space." Irina, can Apostle Paul watch us now?

Irina: Yes, of course it can. He is incarnate.

Maxim: I’m wondering why this man called himself the Apostle Paul?

Irina: Interesting.

Maxim: My question is this: Apostle Paul, why do we have a man on your broadcast who called himself the Apostle Paul? And by the way, he is not, because we know the Apostle Paul.

Irina: I just know the Apostle Paul. I know who this is and what kind of incarnation it is. He signs up differently on YouTube. I know this person, because without knowing this person this broadcast would not have taken place. He had to give permission.

(Spirit of the Apostle Paul): A person who calls himself the Apostle Paul, but is not one, may be because this person says that he feels like me because we communicate with him, or he is my contactee. I remind you that if a Spirit is incarnate, it can still have contactees, as that person's Higher Self can send phantoms for contact.

For example, Archangel Gabriel is incarnated on the planet Burkhad, but he has contactees just like Archangel Gabriel, as a spiritual entity, and not as a representative of Burkhad. There are also contactees like representative Burkhad. So are many other Spirits who have contactees on Earth.

Maxim: Irina, the chat really wants you to pay attention to them, so that I stop asking questions and interrupting you. Can you work with the chat yourself?

Irina: We simply answered the question of why the Apostle Paul (from YouTube) called himself that. I think this is an interesting question.

Maxim: It seems to me that the chat is no longer interested in anything, they write: “Don’t interrupt, don’t ask.” Perhaps people need something else? Maybe they don't need apostles?

Irina: The Apostle Paul will now tell you how he had contact with Jesus. He remembers what he talked about. In the chat they write: “Flash of light. What's next?"

(Spirit of the Apostle Paul): When night fell, I saw a flash of light, but it was not in the outside world, but in my head. It was like lightning flashed in my head. I just felt a ringing in my ears and realized that I was having another attack. The fact is that I had attacks when I fell and convulsed. They didn’t happen that often, I’ve had this since childhood.

Maxim: Epilepsy?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): This is what they call it now.

Maxim: Were you epileptic?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): Yes. And that's how my attacks usually started, when I fell unconscious and then didn't remember anything. For me they started with a flash of light and ringing in my ears.

It was the same thing that time. I had time to think that the attack had started again. But at that same moment I stopped feeling my body and saw a huge bright figure in front of me, which sent me such energy of Love that I felt like the Universe itself.

I asked Him: "Who are you, Master?" I called Him Master because it was the appearance of the Divine Teacher. I understood this from the feelings and energy that I experienced, and not from that image.

He told me: "I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting in my disciples." Of course, I understood who we were talking about, because in that state consciousness works very clearly. I began to ask Him for forgiveness and asked what I should do next. He said: "You are now going to the city (he told me the address where His disciple lives), and there they will help you come to me."

I opened my eyes, but even though I felt my eyes were wide open, I could not see anything. And I told those who accompanied me that I had lost my sight. They lifted me by the arms and began to say that it was "not that kind of attack," that I was not fighting, but talking. They heard my voice and said: "You were talking to someone, but we didn't see who. What was it?" I said that I saw the Light, that I saw the Divine Teacher, and all the way I told them that Jesus appeared to me in this way.

They were silent, I didn't see their faces, but I felt in my heart that they didn't quite believe me. They whispered among themselves, and I understood that they thought that I had gone crazy due to the feeling of guilt for persecuting Christians, and this was superimposed on my previous illness. These words were spoken in a whisper, but I heard them. I fell silent and asked them to take me to the house of my friend in the city of Damascus. I stayed there, but my vision did not return even the next day.

51:17 Apostle Paul about healing from blindness by a disciple of Christ.

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): I kept remembering how I interrogated Christians, how I participated in collecting votes for their execution. I kept remembering the eyes of the women, husbands and sons whom I executed with my own hand while participating in these votes. I was very upset, and that day, after the contact, I did not want to live on this planet, because I thought that I was no longer worthy of life...

I constantly asked myself the question: how could I not see this Light in Jesus and his disciples?! I prayed to God, I loved Him. I looked into my heart and asked Yahweh a question. I prayed to Him, asked Him: “Why didn’t You reveal the truth to me?” The answer was: “You didn’t want to see her.”

Because of all these experiences, I absolutely did not want to eat food or drink water, so my friends who were with me were worried, afraid for my health, or that I would do something to myself. And then I asked them to go to the address that Jesus told me. I remembered him in my vision (as I later realized - in astral contact). I gave this address. One of my friends went there, and it was indeed the address of one of Jesus' close disciples, although I did not know this address before. For me, this was further proof that the contact actually took place.

Even after the Love that I received in this contact, doubts came to me that this was just the fevered imagination of my sick brain. But after it turned out that the address that Jesus told me really exists, and a real disciple of Jesus lives there, who is ready to receive me... Me, who came to arrest him and take him, perhaps, to execution! And he knew this well, because rumors about me spread throughout all Christian communities.

When I walked to him, accompanied by two of my friends who led me by the hands (shows), all the way I thought: “How does this apostle, a disciple of Jesus, know that I want to meet him, why do I want to meet him? Maybe I just pretended to be blind so that he would reveal himself to me. I'm his enemy! How can he accept me and reveal that he is a Christian?”

But when I already came to him, the first words he said were: “That night Archangel Gabriel came to me and told me to welcome you into my home, despite your past, because you have already changed.” After that he looked. I felt his gaze, although I did not see it. I felt that he was looking into my eyes. It's impossible to explain. This is the feeling of the Soul, when it is as if someone is being touched by an invisible wave of energy.

Then he said, “Don’t you see anything?” I said, "Yes." He paused and said: “Archangel Gabriel is here and wants me to pray to Jesus for you, so that your eyes will be opened and you will see me. Do you agree to this? I said, “Yes,” and then he said, “Bow down as if to pray.” I knelt down and felt two hands on the top of my head (shows), and after a few moments I saw the physical world again. At the same time, I understood the task of my life - to bring the good news of Christ to all nations.

That is, at the same time there came a physical opening of vision and an understanding in the heart that it could not be otherwise. There can be no turning back, despite all the consequences that I very well understood could arise, including from my people.

Maxim: Thank you very much for such a very deep story! I watched everything together with you too.

Irina: Yes, I looked too.

58:28 Apostle Paul on his attitude to the project “Cassiopeia. Codes".

Maxim: I would like to ask you how you feel about the Cassiopeia project. Codes"? This is a project that, as far as I know, you helped organize.

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): In general, I treat the “Cassiopeia” project with very great Love. As an opportunity for every person to touch their Divine Spirit, as well as learn many pages of the history of their planet and cosmic civilizations. Regarding the project “Cassiopeia. Codes,” I spiritually participated in their development, including using knowledge from the large body of Jewish knowledge in the so-called Kabbalah, which has a numerological basis.

I only participated in this. The main curators who transmitted information for Cassiopeia. Codes" (I know them), there were curators from the planet Shimor and from the planet Burkhad. The Ray of Christ Consciousness also participated in this, which helped interpret the meanings of modern Arabic numerals that Russian people use now, in the spirit of ancient manuscripts.

Maxim: I hope the guys will definitely add a link to the “Codes” project after the video. I used this project myself. There are two smart calculations, a third one is being prepared. Therefore, “Cassiopeia. Look for codes!

1:00:53 Apostle Paul about the phenomenon of speaking in non-existent tongues. Angelic language. Manifestations of ecstasy.

Maxim: I still have questions for you. Please tell us about the phenomenon of speaking in incomprehensible languages. We recently had a live broadcast. Our friend was with us on the air, also a contactee who communicates with subtle civilizations. She speaks in some incomprehensible language. Even Andrey Karaulov mentioned us in his videos.

Apostle Paul, please tell us what this phenomenon is - speaking in unknown tongues?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): These languages (I wrote about them in my Epistle) were already known in the Christian Church of the 1st century. I have repeatedly seen people in whom the Spirit entered, and they began to speak in a language that does not exist on Earth. This was a form of contact, as I then believed, with the Holy Spirit.

Why did I believe that with the Holy Spirit, who was God to me? Because speaking in tongues among Christians is the fulfillment of one of the prophecies of the Jewish prophet, who said: “I will speak to this people in an unknown tongue if they close their ears to preaching in an understandable language.” This was a prophecy that was made in ancient times, and when I saw these phenomena, I interpreted them as the fulfillment of the prophecy.

Naturally, I communicated with Jesus at the time of writing the Epistles. After my baptism, Jesus began to come to me often; he was my mentor and supervisor. I asked him, among other things, about languages. He told me that this is a phenomenon when bright Souls, bright Angels come into contact with a person. This is their angelic language, so it is incomprehensible to the people around them, because there are no analogues of this language on Earth.

When I got into the Spiritual World, I fully learned who the Angels are who allow one to speak these languages. These Angels are embodied in subtle bodies. Their language, with which they communicate with each other, cannot be heard by the human ear. But they want to convey information through sound waves, into the vibrations of which they invest their energy. Therefore, they come into contact with a person compatible with themselves, who is tuned to their wavelength, and the speech apparatus of this person makes a series of movements into which they invest the energy of these beings.

Maxim: So it can be any words, any phrases, any actions?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): Even a set of syllables.

Maxim: The phenomenon of speaking in incomprehensible languages has existed for a long time?

Irina (Spirit of Apostle Paul): Yes.

Maxim: I also know the Pentecostal Church. She also comes into very close contact with plasmoids.

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): When I formed churches in the 1st century, this state was called ecstasy. “Ecstasy,” if translated from Greek into Russian, (I wrote in Greek) is an approximate translation that conveys the meaning of this word, it is “going beyond the limits of this world.” I saw that when a person speaks this language, he is not entirely aware of himself in this world, because he is making contact. Therefore, such an action was called ecstasy.

Of course, the manifestations of ecstasy are varied. This could be simply leaving the body, it could be contact with an Angel, it could be contact with your Spirit. Signs of ecstasy are when a person is distracted from the material world and completely absorbed in internal contact with someone from another world.

1:06:48 The Apostle Paul on Jesus’ attitude to casting out demons.

Maxim: Please tell me, our priests cast out demons in churches, is this normal?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): Jesus and the apostles also cast out demons, but they did not do it on purpose, because the energy that came from them, the power of God, spread over a great distance around the person, and the demons themselves left him.

Sometimes it happened that Jesus and the apostles ordered the demons to leave a person, but this was not always the case. When I talked to Jesus, I asked Him about this. He told me that contact between a person and a demon can only be terminated by himself. We can only help by inviting a person to a Christian church so that he is baptized, receives communion, prays and forsakes his sins that led him to obsession.

Moreover, sins are not only actions, but also sinful thoughts, feelings, and passions through which a demon can control a person. Just as a hand can control a doll by pulling its different strings, so a demon can control a person by tugging at his passions, egoistic attachments, evil thoughts and feelings.

Maxim: By the way, tomorrow is the Day of St. Nicholas the Wonderworker, and I know that the incarnation of St. Nicholas the Wonderworker is also the incarnation of one of the first twelve apostles, and we also know him.

Tomorrow we will ask permission from one of the 12 apostles (thank you for reminding us of this) in order to conduct the third broadcast that we will have. I think he will give permission, without indicating who he is. I'm sure it will also be an interesting broadcast.

Let's continue, we have more questions.

1:10:00 The Apostle Paul about his life after converting to Christianity.

Maxim: What did you do after the death of Christ?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): Preached Christ.

Maxim: And how? Successfully? After his conversion to Christianity.

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): I traveled to those peoples who did not know the true God, the one God, who worshiped various natural gods responsible for the sun, for the rain, for the earth. But they did not know the Creator of everything, did not thank Him, did not pray to Him, did not believe Him.

I sailed on ships, rode horses through various regions, walked through the cities of the Roman Empire, and reached Greece. Gradually visiting this or that city, he reached Athens. There he spoke about God, in this city, which was full of temples of all other gods except the Creator of the Universe.

There I said about this: “You have temples dedicated to many gods, but you did not honor their Father, their Parent, and I preach Him to you." They began to question me, and I told them about Christ. But when they heard that I was telling them about a resurrected man who resurrected in his body and flew to heaven and ascended, they began to laugh at me and call me crazy, because they believed that this was impossible, that their gods were more real than a physical person who can be resurrected.

Maxim: Thank you.

1:12:30 Apostle Paul about his death.

Maxim: How and why did you die?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): Emperor Nero executed me.

Maxim: For what?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): I was in prison in Rome because I was brought there following the denunciation of my brothers in Jerusalem (the Jews). They harbored a very strong grudge against me because I betrayed them and began to preach Christianity. Moreover, knowing their plans and methods of working with Christians, I began to suggest to Christians how to preach more safely, where to gather so that they would not be executed.

I myself conducted an investigation of the Christian sect and therefore all the plans of the high priest and his entourage naturally revealed to the apostles, and they began to take them into account when building a Christian community. Because of this, those close to the high priest were very angry with me. It was like a betrayal.

When I was already 53 years old (shows), after traveling the entire inhabited Roman Empire for the third time, I came again to Jerusalem. They wanted to execute me there, but they informed the Roman guards in time that the Jews wanted to kill me. They took me away by force because I was a citizen of the Roman Empire, and I was to be judged by the emperor himself or his representatives, but not by any representatives of the priests.

I was sent by ship to Rome. We sailed there for a very long time. It was winter, very bad weather, we were in danger of drowning, but God saved us and, despite the shipwreck, we were saved.

In the end, I ended up in Rome and sat in prison there while Claudius was emperor. But four years after him, Emperor Nero came. He found out about me. At the same time, the Apostle Peter, whom I already knew, went to prison. We met him there.

Nero had a very close friend and his sister believe in Christ, and he was faithful to his gods. He realized that people came to us who preached Christ, because, although we were in prison, we could meet with the disciples by special decree.

When Nero's relatives began to preach Christ to him, he asked where all this was coming from, his servants pointed to us, and because of this they decided to execute us. He decided to execute us for preaching a "foreign God" and refusing to worship his gods. It's like undermining the state system. They executed him by cutting off his head.

Maxim: How old were you?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): I was 57.

Maxim: At the age of 57, your head was cut off?

Irina (Spirit of Apostle Paul): Yes.

1:18:37 Appeal of the Apostle Paul to earthlings.

Maxim: What would you like to say now to all people on this planet: Christians, Muslims, Baptists, Pentecostals, and other religious movements and sects that exist on this planet?

Irina (Spirit of the Apostle Paul): I would like to remind all people, no matter what you call yourself, God sees you as one. God sees each of you as His beloved child.

I would like to remind you that there is Love. Love is God himself. The Love that manifests itself in you manifests itself through your bodies and through your Souls. And it always manifests itself in a limited way, because you are children of God, and God is the whole. His love is unlimited.

But even in a limited manifestation in human nature, Love can be recognized by the signs of mercy, understanding, acceptance, forgiveness and the ability to tolerate not just a person's shortcomings, but the ability to put oneself in his place. As Jesus said: "Do unto other people as you would have them do unto you," for this is the law of vices.

You each have your shortcomings. Only God is completely perfect. The Heavenly Father, with whom Yahweh was one, said: "Even in my Angels I see shortcomings, but again, in comparison with myself." Therefore, each of you has something that others do not accept.

Ask yourself, how would you like to be treated despite these shortcomings? This is how you treat other people - with Love, regardless of faith, regardless of religion, nationality, skin color, language. You are all God's beloved children! The divisions that exist between peoples and between religions are only temporary divisions of the earthly world, which are caused by the materialism and dualism of your perception. But all these boundaries immediately fall after you leave your flesh.

Maxim: Thank you very much!

Dear friends, it's time for us to say goodbye. Once again I want to thank everyone who participates in the life of the Project, who uses the natural products of the Cassiopeia Project, which provide the opportunity to grow and develop.

Thanks a lot, everyone! He hugged everyone tightly. Forever your leader of our Project “Cassiopeia” - Rusan Maxim. See you again!

Irina: Thank you!

December 18, 2022

Participants:

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, subtle-material civilizations and the Spiritual world;

Maxim Rusan - head of the CASSIOPEA project and the Center for Spiritual and Physical Development;

The disembodied part of the Spirit of the Apostle Paul is a representative of the Spiritual world.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/vliyanie-kesareva-secheniya
May 20
Impact of Caesarean Section
Caesarean section has strict indications. It’s just dangerous to do this, first of all, not even for the child, but for the woman herself. Firstly, this will lengthen her rehabilitation period by 6-7 times, and she will not be able to take care of the baby normally, but even of herself. The reduction in pain that is possible during this caesarean section under anesthesia and so on is more than compensated for by the pain afterwards.
The risk of bleeding, the risk of amniotic fluid entering the blood vessels, the risk of formation of fat globules from it, even embolism. There are similar risks in the first few days. And then, when all this has already passed normally, the risk of inflammatory diseases increases, the risk of complications of the second pregnancy increases, up to miscarriage, even to uterine rupture, if the place that was cut was not sufficiently regenerated. So this is all dangerous, first of all, for the mother herself. It will be very painful later.
And if there were strict indications and the inability to give birth for various reasons, then, yes, this is indeed justified. And for a child, the first danger is that he does not gradually enter the air environment.

When he is in his mother's womb, the water creates pressure, including on his head. And when it passes through the birth canal, it gradually approaches the atmosphere and the pressure equalizes. And if he is pulled out immediately, the following may happen to him: the internal pressure in the skull and brain vessels will exceed the external atmospheric pressure, and if the vessels are weak, a microhemorrhage will occur in the brain. Secondly, the mucus that should be expelled from the respiratory tract is not squeezed out. It can remain there and then provoke allergic diseases, that is, the child's sensitivity to all sorts of diseases and infections of the respiratory system.

When it is born, it is a fright. It hurts, but still he gradually adapts to this situation, because during childbirth there is a rather long period of adaptation. And if he is immediately pulled out into the light, and there are people standing around, then this fear can be deposited in his memory and he can dream about it for a long time. Then, when he is already 3-4 years old, he will dream of it not in the form that happened, but in the form in which he perceived it: as if from a warm and cozy place, where it was good, they grab him with cold huge hands and pull out some monsters , beings he doesn't know. Therefore, there must be strict indications for caesarean section. It is better not to do this, as it can harm both mother and child.

Maternal instinct during caesarean section

Actually, this instinct should kick in much earlier. If this did not happen either in childhood or adolescence, I think that even with natural childbirth some time must pass before the woman gets used to it. It depends on the process of childbirth, on the attitude towards the man - the father of the child, on the social situation in the family and in its environment. Sometimes such a woman experiences hidden resentment, anger towards the child who caused her pain while passing through the birth canal. To prevent this from happening, proper education is necessary.

In our family and even at school, little girls begin to be told that they are future mothers and how it all happens. But for some reason you don't have this. I myself am surprised why your school curriculum will not introduce a special subject for at least 6-7 grades, "Fundamentals of Family Life," for example. Including talking about childbirth and how to prepare for it. These are the most necessary items for us. Much more important than algebra. It will be useful to maybe 4-5 girls out of 100. And the basics of family life, the birth and care of a child, the psychology of relationships with a husband will be useful to probably 90 out of 100 for sure.

Timecode: 17:21, #84 Conceiving a child, pregnancy, childbirth, pain, childhood, maternal instinct, parenting, abortion.

MidgasKaus from the planet Esler is a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations.
February 2020
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/memoria-pamyat-kak-razvit-uluchshit-sohranit-plast
May 20

#523 Memoria (memory) - how to develop, improve, preserve? Brain plasticity. Universal Data Bank.

---

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=j3MlgfuiXQ8

00:00 Start of video.

01:00 Introduction of participants.

Maria: Hello, dear friends! Today we have a very interesting topic: we will continue the topic of our conference No. 120 about the brain and its functions. And our conference today will be called “Memory”. Irochka, good afternoon!

Irina: Good afternoon, dear friends, hello! Hello Maria! Hello, dear guests of our channel and participants of the Cassiopeia Project! I am pleased to welcome you to the next conference, which will be devoted to a very important human ability - memory and other functions related to it.

Present with us today, as always, is my curator and curator of our entire Cassiopeia Project from the planet Esler - MidgasCaus. He is a biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations and has studied our earthly civilization.

Also present here is a representative of the planet Burkhad - a psychophysiologist, biologist who studies anthropomorphic civilizations, including the civilization of the Earth. His name, if translated into earthly sounds, is Kaor Styarp. He has not yet participated in our conferences, and he is very interested in interacting, as he just said, with my energy and listening to questions from earthlings. He had previously communicated with earthlings, with contactees of some Burkhadians, but had not yet participated in conferences. Therefore, he looks forward to questions, and he is interested in the earthly view of the psyche, the Soul and the path of adaptation of the Spirit in the body and in the world.

Maria: Very nice, glad to meet you! Thank you for coming to us today! Mid, thank you for always leading all our conferences, all our meetings! I, in turn, also want to thank one of the participants in our Project, who kindly provided and compiled these questions, and we will continue the topic of brain memory in a more practical direction.

04:14 Recording information in the human brain.

Maria: And the first question is about the physical structure of memory in the brain. What structures and processes are provided in the brain, specifically, for the following actions: recording information, storing information, accessing stored information, and deleting information?

Irina: Kaor wants to answer now. MidgasCaus remembers this question.

(Kaor Stiaarp) In the mammalian brain, including the human brain, there is a similar mechanism for the formation of those information connections between brain cells, which causes the formation of so-called memory traces, that is, changes in neurons and their connections among themselves, which are formed in response to external impact.

This mechanism, one might say, in very general terms, is similar in all humanoid civilizations. They, of course, have a different structure of the central nervous system, but the mechanism for the formation of such traces of information is similar. Just as, for example, the genetic transmission of information from parents to child is similar. That is, these are the general laws of the structure of living matter. Matter in which the life force resides.

We can say in a more understandable language: these are the general laws of the structure of living organisms in the Universe. Only they are realized through the reactions and actions of various substances, and the mechanism itself is similar. And this mechanism is that the influence of the external environment, transmitted through the sensory organs to the brain, to the central nervous system (in humans this is mainly the brain), causes changes in all structures of the brain that are fixed for a long time. In the future, they can be recorded even before the death of a person.

What are these changes? How is information recorded? When information enters the brain through communication channels with the outside world (we are not now touching on the function of consciousness, but are simply talking about electrochemical activity), it enters the information processing department. In humans, this is approximately the part of the brain that is located in the frontal part (shows an image, something is highlighted in the forehead area above and slightly to the left).

(Kaor Styarp) Here is the part of the brain through which the consciousness of the Spirit is manifested, its function of recognizing information. When information enters the brain, it, firstly, enters different sections from the visual analyzer, from the auditory analyzer, from the musculocutaneous analyzers, etc. But all the information that came from different analyzers is ultimately collected in one place (where it was shown). And at the same time, new proteins are formed in the neurons, which are strictly specific to this person, that is, genetically determined, and they are preserved (shows, as it were, a recording, but this recording is not in a book, but in the language of these substances). This is the first mechanism.

And the second mechanism: with long-term exposure to the same information, that is, with repetition, memorization of this information, the neuron can form new connections. Each neuron has a so-called “axon”, that is, a wire connecting it with one neuron, with many neurons, as well as with so-called target cells in other organs, in other systems: with muscles, with the hormonal system, the immune system and etc. This is how control of the organism as a body is formed.

Incoming information can cause changes in the neurons of the brain in which these connections are formed. They can, on the contrary, be interrupted, new places of contact between neurons and axons from other neurons can form (what you call “synapses” - places of contact). And all this contributes to the fact that when the same information arrives or when a person desires to reproduce it, this system is activated again and a memory emerges, that is, a memory of this emerges in consciousness.

But since the brain adapts to the needs of a particular person, to his life tasks, goals, etc., not all information is stored consciously in the mind, but absolutely all information is recorded in the brain. But not all of it is available for the reasons that attention, as the ability of consciousness to direct its behavior along a channel set by the mind towards a particular goal, must be accompanied by a limited amount of information - otherwise it will dissipate.

11:51 Reproduction of information stored in the human brain.

Irina (Kaor Stiarp): I told you how the recording happens. How does playback work?

Maria: Yes, accessing stored information.

Irina (Kaor Stiarp): Access to stored information in the brain occurs when a person desires. When requesting, for example, a certain word or image, this system is activated (shows how an impulse runs from one part, which is located somewhere in the middle of the brain, where the area responsible for human desires is located, to the area in which it is located). information - it is scattered in the frontal and temporal parts of the cerebral cortex).

And it happens that information about the same object is stored in different parts of the brain, especially if it is some kind of complex object. And in order to remember this information, different parts of the brain in which it is stored are activated: an electrical signal enters them and affects the neurons in which this information is stored. Hormones are released there, but specifically brain hormones, and when these hormones are released, the information is read, enters consciousness, and the person remembers it.

13:40 Forgetting information. Engram.

Irina (Kaor Stiarp): How does erasure, that is, forgetting, happen?

Forgetting occurs in such a way that if a person does not refer to this information for a long time, it is replaced by another. But I want to say that if you look at these electrochemical changes in detail, then in reality no information is completely forgotten, some traces still remain, and you can refer to it, it's just that the person does not consciously remember it.

But all this information that a person does not remember is stored in his brain by so-called "engrams," that is, records. An engram is such a record, one might say, an information block, an information cloud of some data that is contained on one topic. But even if a person does not consciously remember this, it affects his perception of other information and the composition of his worldview system. Moreover, all this affects not only in childhood, when a person is small, but throughout his entire life.

Worldview is constantly changing, it is not static: it is formed not only in childhood, but is adjusted depending on certain tasks of a person and his attitude towards himself - his feelings, let's say so.

I told you about what is happening at the body level. But all information is also duplicated in the memory of the Spirit, both in the memory of the Soul, that is, the embodied part of the Spirit, and through the spiritual channel - in the memory of the Higher Self. And there it fits into special, so to speak, cells of information that are already connected with all other information.

Also, even if the brain is somehow damaged by toxic substances or poisoning, trauma, etc., and those neurons in which this information is recorded are damaged, it will be preserved in the Spirit, and it can still be reproduced, and then everything will be recorded again. This is why memories can be restored, if there is, of course, such a desire, and you can ask your Spirit, and he will send these memories, even if he consciously forgot them due to brain damage.

Maria: Very interesting.

16:42 Brain memory. Memory of the Spirit.

Maria: Tell me, please, are there any restrictions on the amount of information memorized? For example, is it possible to memorize an entire reference book of technical terms, or a dictionary of foreign words, or an encyclopedia in several volumes? How much detailed information can the human brain remember?

Irina: For a person or for humanity as a whole?

Maria: Let's say for the average person, because we know that there are exceptions.

Irina (Kaor Stiaarp): The rate of synthesis of these memory proteins per second is different for all people. It is genetically determined to a large extent and depends on the amount you received from your parents and more distant ancestors. Therefore, each person has different abilities for learning and memory. Of course, it is possible to develop memory in someone who has weak genetic prerequisites for it, but for this he will need more effort. Still, the rate of formation of these proteins is finite, and it differs from person to person. And memory mechanisms can differ by several orders of magnitude.

(MidgasKaus) Research was carried out on different planets, on inhabitants whose brain structure is almost identical to people, for example, on the same planet Disaru. People like you live there, and it has been shown that if a person deliberately works on developing his memory, then he can store information directly in the memory of the Spirit. A person will turn to it, and the brain will help him in this, but he is not the main one there.

The Spirit can remember a very large amount of information, because the Spirit has an unlimited amount of memory. Moreover, he gains access to a volume of knowledge about the entire Universe, this is a universal data bank. He not only stores information directly within himself, but also accesses a data bank - one might say, to the Divine Light, which is omniscient and has information about everything in general. But to do this, naturally, you need to work on connecting with your Higher Self and be able to conduct this information through the brain.

Maria: Does this also require certain skills and training?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, this requires training, and under the influence of such factors even the brain itself changes (shows that then memory neurons arise even in those areas of the brain that are not responsible for this in other people). The brain itself can be changed, it is plastic. And this explains, for example, that a person can receive information that he himself, consciously or unconsciously, did not receive during his life. If he received it from the Spiritual world, then it can emerge in his consciousness.

21:23 The influence of memory capacity during contacts.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Thanks to this, in turn, contacts exist. Contact activity just shows that a person can transmit information that he himself does not know and does not remember. Naturally, since he passes it through the brain, he will still do it with those words or sounds close to them that are in his vocabulary.

Knowledge, for example, about human psychology, including the structure of the brain and its memory functions, also helps us as curators. They allow us to build this contact correctly, so that with the help of the contactee’s limited language for us (after all, this is the knowledge of earthly science, it is partial, fragmentary) we can give adequate answers and convey the knowledge of the Interstellar Union. To do this, we ask contactees to engage in self-education, read more, expand their horizons, read popular science, fiction, about space, etc. The more he knows the terms, the meaning of these terms and has an idea of the scientific picture of the world, the easier it will be to transmit information through him.

Maria: Mead, please tell me, is it enough just to read, you don't have to remember it all, but the main thing is to perceive the information once, and it can already be used during contact?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, reading it once is enough, because we, as curators, are taught to transmit information into the mental field. And the mental field is just the sum of information. It also includes the vocabulary that a person has ever perceived, even if he does not consciously remember.

Maria: Very good news for all of us, especially those who do not have a very good memory, which I am also one of! But through the Higher Self - by developing contact with the Higher Self - you can also receive information that has long been forgotten and does not emerge in any way.

Irina (MidgasKaus): The fact is that the curator can convey information that is unfamiliar to the contactee, but each contactee will convey it at his own level. For example, if some technician in the astral body comes to a seven-year-old child and explains to him what an atom is, but he does not have such words, then he can convey either some kind of drawing, or how one ball connects to other balls - will show him the image. If the child knows the word "ball" and does not know the words "quantum" or "electron," then the curator will not use them; this, of course, is also taken into account during contact. But if he is already in school, then more can be conveyed through him, more accurately.

25:00 Memory accuracy. The influence of memory on a person's worldview.

Maria: I see. As we understand, information is stored after perception in our brain until the end of life, right? And even if we don't use it and have forgotten, it still exists.

Irina: Yes, it influences our worldview, our feelings. The mental field is constantly exchanging with other auric fields, and all this passes through the brain and manifests itself in human behavior. One speaks with words and the other shows with images, and the contents of a person's memory are constantly changing.

(MidgasKaus) There is also accuracy in reproducing information. Not just its reproduction, but such a measure as accuracy. To what extent does what a person remembers coincide with what happened in the past, with the information that he perceived. And this is also an unequal value, because even the same person, remembering the same event with different people or at different times, can focus on different details of what is happening, and some of them are completely overlooked, while others are brought up .

26:38 Memory of the primary sensation of the body. The relationship between mother and child emotions before birth.

Maria: Thank you. Please tell me, at what age do complete structures responsible for memory exist in the brain, and at what age do they begin to degrade?

Irina (MidgasKaus): They begin to form in the prenatal period (shows how the brain is formed with some primary neural connections that contain memories of the primary sensations of the body).

And the primary sensations of the body on a subconscious level are remembered by all people, and not only people, but humanoids in general, whose body was formed. And this feeling of weightlessness: this feeling of floating in something, warmth and peace, calm and security. This is why primary neural connections are formed that connect the sensations of swimming, weightlessness, and the absence of body weight with peace. And this further determines the subjectively pleasant sensations of flight, weightlessness or swimming in adults. After all, when you swim in the water, you feel calmer?

Maria: Yes, especially in warm water, you are absolutely right.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Because this is the primary sensation of the body. But this does not always happen, because the formation of this connection is influenced by the different emotions of mom, dad, and also biochemical changes in her body.

If during the formation of this neural connection there was, for example, some kind of stress in the mother, or she was sick with something, or took some harmful substances into her body, then this person will have such a connection in the brain that the sensations of swimming, flights will be associated with unpleasant feelings of fear, for example, or disgust, or something else. And then this can influence the fact that a person subconsciously will not like such actions, they will cause disharmony in him.

This is one example. And then there are more such connections. For example, when the visual and auditory systems are formed in the fetal body, its primary visual sensations. Even in the womb, he can open his eyes, look, and at the same time he can see the light that surrounds him, and he can hear the sounds around him. That is, the receptors already transmit a sound picture to the brain: this is the beating of the mother's heart, the muffled sounds of conversations, even music. But he doesn't connect this with any information, because he has just come to this world, and it is not familiar to him.

And as I said, the memory of a past life and of being in the Spiritual world is blocked even before incarnation - before entering the body, before the Soul introduces its life force into the first cells. Therefore, she enters as if into an unfamiliar world. And when the ear, eye, etc. systems have already formed, they begin to perceive signals. Naturally, the Soul is already in the body at this moment, and it begins to listen, and from this neural connections, memory are formed, and it again connects with the sensations that the child is experiencing in the womb at that moment.

If he is comfortable, and he is comfortable when mom is comfortable: when her blood, for example, has a high content of not only nutrients, sugar, etc., but also pleasure hormones. They can penetrate through the placenta and umbilical cord into the fetal brain and also induce in him a state of peace, joy, and happiness. And if at this moment, for example, a mother listens to music and feels good about it, then her child will form neural connections that it is this music that causes happiness, relaxation, etc. And then, having heard it as an adult, he will not remember it, but it will cause him to release his own pleasure hormones.

What kind of music did you like since childhood? So your mom was listening to her.

Maria: My parents were young people, they listened to ABBA and Bonny M.

Irina: Do you like it?

Maria: Yes, and I really like it. When I listen to this music, I have such pleasant memories from childhood. Thank you, very valuable information indeed, and for expectant mothers.

Irina (MidgasKaus): And if she doesn't like something, she experiences stress, then stress hormones pass into the child's brain, into the blood and cause an aggravation of the self-preservation instinct in him, for example, which causes unpleasant subjective emotions. And this is also fixed at the physiological level by the formation of a neural connection. For example, if mom and dad argue, the child will simply hear the father's neutral voice, but if the mother experiences stress, it will be stored in his neural memory that the father's voice causes stress.

When the child is already born, you can even notice that when the father speaks, suddenly the child may cry - this is how memory manifests itself. If the father does not overcome this connection with his Love, then in the future the child may develop subconscious wariness and suspicion towards the father as he grows up, which will interfere with his development of Love.

34:26 Reasons for the deterioration of a child's memory.

Maria: Very important information. Tell me, please, is this period of development unfavorable, can it, among other things, have a negative impact on the ability to remember? Will memory be worse in principle, regardless of genetics?

Irina (MidgasKaus): There are factors that prevent these neural connections from forming, but these factors are mainly associated with exposure to certain substances that impair memory (shows).

What kind of molecule is this? Tell me the name.

(MidgasCaus) For example, the ones you use in food - such as aspartame. They impair memory because they disrupt the very process of communication between one neuron and another.

35:35 Memory degradation.

Maria: I see. But this is the next series of questions. We just want to ask: what affects memory degradation, at what age does it begin and what processes contribute to memory loss and its deterioration?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Memory deterioration is mainly caused by stress, self-dislike, and resentment. On a physical level, stress hormones that are released block certain proteins (enzymes) that recall information from memory. Also, for example, a lack of certain vitamins: A, D, group B. Vitamins are certain substances that are catalysts for certain biochemical cellular reactions, and without them it is difficult even for those proteins that are in sufficient quantities in the body. It's difficult for them to do anything without catalysts.

Constant fatigue and lack of sleep also have an impact. In general, lack of sleep affects memory, and when a person sleeps little or wakes up frequently, or has nightmares (he experiences sleep disturbances), his ability to remember is impaired. Since connections are not strengthened during such sleep, and a person may even forget what he knew, because they begin to break down, and this also affects the formation of Alzheimer's disease.

The deterioration of sleep is most often influenced by some kind of depression, or some kind of fear, anxiety, anxiety that needs to be dealt with and these blocks dissolved. Otherwise, this can lead not only to the loss of some memories, but also to disruption of thinking, logic, consistency of thinking, disruption of orientation, etc. So there are many things that are affected by this. For example, there is a violation of orientation in space, and a person may be disoriented.

Maria: So, memory loss on a physical level is still possible?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, various intoxications also affect this, for example, frequent uncontrolled consumption of alcohol, or alcohol in large doses. Even if all these proteins work normally, this will cause them to be temporarily blocked, because poisoning occurs with certain breakdown products of ethyl alcohol. The person seems to lose his memory, does not remember.

And that is why during periods of intoxication with alcohol and many substances that alter consciousness, a person cannot recall memories from the brain, cannot recall them from the Higher Self, this ability is blocked. He simply recorded what was happening around him in an altered state of consciousness, but it was not deposited in that part of the memory that is accessible to his consciousness. Although, naturally, with the use of certain psychotechniques it is possible to pull out these memories, they are still there.

39:40 Energy practices and memory. Memory development.

Maria: Friends, please tell us what energy practices help improve or worsen memory? Especially about the practice of Reiki, I wonder how much it can contribute to this?

Irina (MidgasKaus): In fact, all energy practices that are associated with energy flows coming from various civilizations... If we are talking about Reiki, these are plasmoid-type civilizations; if we are talking about Cosmoenergetics, these are civilizations of the humanoid type, and there are plasmoid ones there too. And there are civilizations that help speed up metabolism, including in the brain, and therefore strengthen memory and the ability to memorize.

But, of course, this should be reinforced with special exercises for memory development, that is, they can help, but they cannot do it for the person. They can help him develop his memory, but he will have to develop it himself. And you can only develop memory, as in the case of contactees, as I already said, by expanding your horizons, working on your negative blocks, because if the level of stress hormones is high, then it is difficult to remember something.

Stress hormones block the hippocampus, which is responsible for retrieving these memories. The hippocampus is such a region of the brain, even rather a separate organ, which is located in the middle, where the hypothalamus (shows this region of the brain). Stress hormones can inhibit the reproduction of this information from those neurons that remember it, in much the same way as alcohol and its metabolic products.

To develop memory, you must, firstly, take care of yourself and remove stress, dissolve blocks. Secondly, of course, eat right: consume enough substances, amino acids, proteins, vitamins - so that there is material for the construction of neurons and their connections with each other. It is also necessary to expand your horizons - this involves studying various information materials, preferably on different topics.

Also, the development of memory is facilitated by constant training, when you need to remember something, refer to your memory. For example, participating in various quizzes, when you need to answer questions within a short time, or when you need to solve some problems. For example, take a physics textbook, read some paragraph, and you will definitely find problems at the end. Why were they written there? Because solving these problems without prompts will not only help you show the teacher what you have learned, but also reinforce the information you read because new neural connections will be formed.

In the same way, you can remember other information and periodically check yourself by asking yourself questions on this topic. And the more significant this topic is for you, the more positive emotions it evokes, the more it is remembered.

44:09 The influence of negative emotions on memory.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Naturally, negative emotions that happen to a person also cause a temporary sharpening of memory, but only for those events that caused these emotions. They become important to a person. All the events that happened around him. And people, and things, and even their color that surrounded him at that moment. Because fear, anger, disgust and other negative emotions indicate a violation of this person's picture of the world, stress. And at this moment, the so-called short-term memory is exacerbated while long-term memory is suppressed.

And this causes the formation of a large information trace about this event in the neurons of the brain, which can then be activated in similar circumstances, and the same emotions can float to the surface of consciousness. The whole point here is that a person reacts emotionally not only to the outside world, but also to his internal experiences and memories in almost the same way as to external stimuli. And thanks to this we learn. And not only people, but all of us, humanoids, learn thanks to this mechanism.

We gain positive and negative experiences thanks to this mechanism associated with neurohormonal transmission of data and their storage in the brain. That is, certain information is activated through emotions. Therefore, it is possible to form, for example, a negative block associated with some event or person. Because in the memory, in the area of the brain that is responsible for memory, a neurochemical trace is also formed, that is, a chemical trace in the neurons, in which it will be recorded that this person brought you harm, or this event upset you in some way.

Therefore, the next time a person sees a person who has offended him, or finds himself in the same environment, he will become uncomfortable, even if the circumstances have already changed, and the person no longer wants to offend you. But if this trace exists, there is already a subconscious, wary, suspicious attitude towards this person and an easier and faster onset of negative emotions towards him, that is, this is the consolidation of the experience.

All this affects, but all this can be changed by dissolving blocks at the energy level. And then the brain changes, gradually it switches to physics.

Maria: Yes, we already know about this.

Irina (MidgasKaus): And the brain really becomes clean from this. The neurons of the brain are cleared of negative energy, of these negative emotions.

Maria: Thank you! Very valuable information.

48:03 Ways to improve memory.

Maria: Friends, please tell me, are there any recommendations on how best to memorize information directly during study when you need to remember a large amount of it?

("Recommendations for improving the memorization of large amounts of information while studying" – follow the link in the description of this video, on the CASSIOPEIA.CENTER website)

.....

Maria: I see. How can you speed up access to memory already recorded in the brain and improve the speed of memory work?

Irina (MidgasCaus): Only by training. The more you remember and retell or, for example, answer quiz questions, the faster the speed will be. Because you will train the ability of axons to conduct these signals through themselves and bring to your consciousness the information that is located in different areas of the brain.

This is also well facilitated by tasks such as solving crosswords or scanword puzzles, because there on one sheet of paper, in one task, there are unknown words that need to be entered there, using the description that is given. And when you read the task, you will remember what it is and write the answer. And since all the tasks there are not on one, but on different topics, you will use different areas of memory when solving one crossword or scanword puzzle.

But it's better to do this little by little, but every day. It is ineffective to sit for one day, solve crossword puzzles for three hours, and then do nothing for a month: it will not give you anything. It will be more effective to do this for 10–15 minutes, but every day. And within a month you will see a significant increase in memory. Not even memory itself, but the ability to remember those events that you have forgotten - even, perhaps, not related at all to the topics that were reflected there, but some of your own events.

Maria: Can any physical exercise help improve memory?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Not just any physical exercises, but in general physical activity, physical movements, physical exercises improve memory - by improving blood circulation, filling the blood with oxygen and better utilization of glucose and other nutrients, without which it is impossible to create ATP and energy generally creating some kind of nerve impulses.

Maria: I see.

51:03 Nutrition and memory. Communication with your body.

Maria: On the issue of nutrition. For example, vegetarian, mixed or diet with a predominance of animal fats?

Irina: Mead says that it is most effective to use a varied diet.

Of course, there are people who follow an omnivorous diet, or a vegetarian diet: both of them can remember information well, and their brains can function well. But this, rather, depends not even on the composition of the food itself, but on its diversity.

It is clear that if it is the same food, even meat (for example, if a person eats just potatoes and cutlets every day, and so on for a whole month), and does not consume other foods, does not include them in his diet, then there will be a diet poor in a variety of substances. There will be an excess of some, and a deficiency of others. And the result is an imbalance. And since some of the substances that the brain and the body as a whole need will not enter the body, the brain will stimulate the appetite so that the person eats more of what is there - in order to build at least something from them. And this will help increase your appetite. And, naturally, if a person moves little, then it is clear that this is an excess of calories, etc.

What you call a problem with overeating is most often a problem of an unbalanced diet. When the body increases appetite, the desire to eat in large quantities the food that a person has, trying to compensate for what he does not have. My research shows that the healthiest thing or, as you say, “healthy eating” (I believe that healthy eating should be healthy) is a varied diet.

Even if you are a vegetarian, don’t limit yourself to the same dishes, experiment, try something different. I understand, of course, that many people do not have enough time to constantly try something. But this doesn’t take much time, you just need to have the desire to diversify your diet. And it is very important to learn to ask your body, your body: “What do you want right now?” The body knows about many foods that you have already tried and the substances they contain. It can send an image or taste that you need now. The main thing is to learn to hear these signals, and even more important - not to ignore them.

But here you need to understand that if you constantly want sweets, this may be due to the fact that you are not getting some other substance. Therefore, if, for example, you have already eaten sweets today, and suddenly you have this desire again, you can ask the body whether you really need sugar or something else that the body did not receive that day.

Our power structures have included this ability to talk with your body (as we have already told you) in the subject “Handling the Body” in the school curriculum. And we are very surprised why it is not included on Earth, because it affects a person’s entire life: his ability to work, family life, raising children and the effectiveness of his work for society as a citizen of a particular state.

Maria: Mead, I can answer this question for you. As you know, we have a materialistic view of the Universe and that’s why it’s like that at school.

Irina: Mead says that if you have a materialistic view, then all the more you need to study how to communicate with the body and how to work with it. Even if you consider consciousness to be one of the functions of the body, why not teach this function to handle and communicate with the whole body?

Maria: Communication with the body still implies some kind of spiritual knowledge and understanding.

Irina (MidgasKaus): I know that you can consider consciousness a function of the body. But why can't this function be taught to work with the rest of the body, so that it is safe and harmonious for the person himself, for the space where he lives, and for his health? After all, in schools you tell children, for example, about the actions of various historical figures or something else. Why then not talk about your body and that you should listen to yourself?

This can be explained not by esoteric, but by scientific methods. Do you already have scientific research on psychosomatics, etc., that can be adapted into a retelling for children? Since you can adapt retellings about nuclear physics for children, there are adaptations in textbooks. This makes it all the more possible to adapt information about the human body, which is closer to any child than some kind of atom or nuclear reactor.

Maria: Mead, I will answer you that in our schools, in biology or human studies lessons, there is information about healthy eating, about vitamins, and about the fact that it is very important to eat a varied diet. We have all this information and it is taught in schools.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Why is there no information on what you need to ask yourself, what you want at a certain moment?

Maria: The fact is that you don't always want useful things.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Why then is there no explanation for the fact that if you want something, as you say, unhealthy - those substances that the body does not need - something else is masked behind it, and how to identify it?

Maria: This is already knowledge for nutritionists who are specially trained in this.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Why not for children?

Maria: It is believed that the program is probably very large and it is necessary to create some priorities: what to talk about more, what to talk about less. And, as you know, memory is selective, and interest is selective.

Irina (MidgasKaus): You can give practical classes. It is very useful, for example, to give a child a task in a special notebook (as I already said about the diary of emotions), so that he writes down everything he ate and drank for three days in a separate notebook. Every piece of food that enters his stomach will be recorded. You can also ask to record the time when he consumed it. And then ask your liver, your body, your brain (the brain knows about everything at the level of instincts), how this food affected the body.

How do you like this task?

Maria: You know, I just thought that this is a method of indirectly leading to the Higher Self through the stomach. We have an expression: “the way to a man’s heart is through his stomach,” and we can say that the path to the Higher Self can be paved through the stomach. Communicating with the body, we slowly reach the Higher Self and communicate with it.

Irina: Yes. Imagine if he writes: “I ate three Snickers.” Then he will ask: “My body, my brain, the Snickers that I ate yesterday at 10 o’clock in the morning, how did it affect my body? What substances were incorporated from it, and which were removed? Was it good or bad for me? Did he go to strengthen my body or poison my body?”

How do you like these conversations?

Maria: This will be a conversation with the Higher Self, and the answers will probably come from the Higher Self.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, but they will go through the body. But besides the body, as I already said, there are etheric matrices of organs, which contain information about their normal structure and functions, which should ideally be present at the time of birth. In the etheric matrix of the body, that is, in the etheric matrix of each organ, the ideal state of the organ is recorded, which was at the time of birth, when all organs worked ideally. You can even ask the organ - and the information will come, of course, with the help of the Higher Self, but from the same etheric matrices.

1:01:48 Preservation of information by the Spirit.

Maria: Here is an interesting question about memory preserved on a spiritual level. What information is retained in our Spirit throughout our entire incarnation—absolutely all or only some significant information?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Only significant information is remembered, because the Spirit itself chooses whether to take it from the brain's memory.

Maria: So what we ate, how we felt, won't necessarily be remembered?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, the Spirit may not take it for itself and write it down in a memory cell.

Maria: Is it possible that the Spirit itself can erase some information from its incarnations, that is, not save it?

Irina (MidgasKaus): We don't call this erasure. Now I'll pick a term. The spirit may not focus its attention on some information and replace it with other information. For example, if it was a negative experience and it was processed, then it can replace it with positive information. And then the person will only remember the fact that this negative experience happened and what it gave him, but he may not remember some details.

For example, for various reasons, a person's consciousness does not want this memory to be preserved. There are Spirits who deliberately leave memories only of significant moments of incarnation, and do not focus on the rest, and do not consider it necessary to transfer it, so that, as they say, "exactly the worldview that I myself choose is formed." This happens, yes.

Maria: Already being in the Spiritual world, the Spirit itself decides which information from all its incarnations to save and which not?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, he decides this himself. And therefore, as you have probably already noticed, when you call upon a disembodied Spirit (especially one who begins to talk about several of his incarnations), his memory can be selective: he remembers one life more, another less; He remembers some events more, some less. You need to understand that the Spirit is a living, feeling spiritual entity, it is not a computer or some kind of computer machine that automatically remembers information. He remembers it depending on his desire, his goals, etc.

Maria: I see, thank you very much. Can this information from the Spiritual world, from your Spirit, always be obtained only through the Higher Self?

Irina (MidgasKaus): If this information is about a past life, then yes, it is stored precisely in the Higher Self, because this body, this brain, in which a part of the Spirit is now embodied, did not experience these events. Therefore, this information is not included. It is in the Higher Self. Naturally, information from the Higher Self about past lives (with the permission of a particular person) passes through the spiritual channel into the brain of this person. And it is reproduced in his consciousness and speech, but again - in the language of the person himself.

Most often it happens that a person begins to speak in the language that he knows about the events that come to him. That is why regressions into those lives are possible when, for example, a person was of a different nationality, lived on another planet, did not speak Russian, or was generally a plasmoid creature. He will still speak in human language. Naturally, the extent to which he will tell all this in detail and accurately depends, of course, on his vocabulary, as with any contact. This will also be contact, only with the Higher Self.

1:06:40 Memory of aliens.

Maria: I see. And the last question is a very interesting, comparative one. The memory of earthlings and the memory of aliens, for example, yours - how much better is it than our memory? Is this related to biology, to genetics?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Good question. We do have different genetic tools. Research has long been carried out on how to, for example, increase the amount of certain proteins in the central nervous system so that more information can be remembered. In addition, we have electronic means: the same chips, means of storing, transmitting information, which enhance the humanoid's own memory and work for more accurate information retrieval. We actually have such means.

In addition, we have such an education system that memorizing certain information follows special rules that make memorization easier. For example, in connection with emotions, in connection with completing the tasks that teachers give: these are usually creative tasks.

A lot of independence is given to students to draw up, for example, some of their own research plans. And all this, when the child is directly involved in this, stronger connections are formed in his central nervous system, connections between different parts of the brain, so that this information is reproduced more easily and accurately in the future.

Our education system itself is structured in such a way that not just a child solves some problems on paper, but that he, for example, does some research or draws something. Again, not on paper, but in a certain computer model, I created a certain structure, which I studied in class.

If this is transferred to the teaching of earthly children, then I will now give an example. In physics class, you study what an atom is made of

(we just have a different model of the atom, you have a planetary one, but that's not the point now, even if it's planetary). For example, a child read what elements it consists of, no matter what they are called - an electron or the first level of energy, the main thing is that he read this. What task is given so that he remembers this information? It is not easy to tell what an atom is made of, because a child can simply learn, especially in those schools where there is an evaluative system of knowledge, in order to simply appear mentally stronger. And for a child to appear smart in front of others is to activate his leadership instinct so that he can show himself smarter in front of his classmates.

Such an internal reward system is unreliable in the sense that this knowledge can, if it is not lived through the experience of the child himself, disappear from memory in the future. We don't have such a system. With us it is not based on instincts, not on assessments, not on instinctive activity. Of course, such a simple approach, but for us it is based on experience.

For example, a child has read what an atom is, and he is given a task using a special computer model (shows the screen). Since our atom consists of nine energy levels, small objects similar to clouds will be marked below in different colors. Nine objects will be represented in different colors or combinations of colors and it will be written that such and such a color corresponds to such and such energy that is in the atom. A task will be proposed: take and build an atom from these energies. This means placing these clouds around each other the way an atom, for example, of such and such an element looks like. And the child will remember what he read and will create it himself.

And when he does this, if he does it correctly, then this connection will be strengthened in him. But he will not receive a grade, but will simply have a badge on the computer that he did it correctly. And this sign will be known only to himself and the teacher, so as not to provoke competition in the child by activating his instinct for power. Instinctive memory is considered short and unreliable.

Maria: I completely agree.

Irina: And if he does it wrong, another signal will light up on his personal computer. And there will be no correct answer: those clouds that he collected incorrectly will be underlined or indicated with arrows, and an inscription will appear in the corner asking him to re-read the material and return to it later. But again there will be no assessment.

How do you like that?

Maria: Very good approach. You know, it's really a very good approach, and there are private schools that use this method of teaching. Unfortunately, not at the state level: we still have a competitive system. And I, indeed, can confirm that knowledge is not retained, that is, as soon as we leave school, most of it is forgotten as unnecessary.

Irina: Because the child himself did not need them to complete the task for his own interest, but were used to receive reinforcement in the form of an assessment.

Maria: I hope that over time we will develop and come to spirituality, respectively, in all areas of our lives. Such wonderful teaching methods will also appear in the educational system.

Friends, I admire your memory, thank you for using your intellect, your fantastic brain capabilities for us, in order to help us, our Project and all its participants!

Irina: Thank you!

Maria: Thank you very much!

Irina: And Kaor from Burkhad also thanks and says: “Thank you. I liked the questions. Very intelligent, thoughtful, logical, and it’s clear that they were asked by a person who is an expert in this field.”

Maria: Yes, I think the participant in our Project who compiled them will hear us and will be very happy. I must say that you gave many answers without me reading the question. I had the feeling that you had already anticipated the questions I wanted to ask.

Thank you again from the bottom of my heart, from our Project, from all our participants! And especially Irochka - for the fact that she conveys all the answers so patiently and so wonderfully. I admire your memory too!

Irina: I thank you too, thank you!

Maria: I admire your memory, your horizons, your erudition, you are simply already a storehouse of enormous, varied information. Thank you, friends!

Irina: Dear viewers, I thank you for watching this video. I hope you found it interesting, and this will help in your practical activities, which are inseparable from your brain, from your consciousness and, naturally, from your memory.

Thank you for being with us, for supporting our Project and me personally at all levels of material and spiritual existence in this world. Each of your contributions to our Project, be it a monetary contribution or a contribution of energies, thoughts, bright feelings, will remain not only in your personal history, but also in the history of the entire Earth. Because this Project - many have already recognized this - affects the future of our younger generation, and, dear friends, the world will no longer be the same. I thank you for this and send you the Light of my Love!

Maria: Thank you!

December 24, 2022

Participants:

Irina Podzorova is a universal contactee with more than 20 years of experience in systemic physical, astral and mental contacts.

Maria Sokalskaya - co-founder of the Cassiopeia Project, head of the SAKRAL online school, administrator and moderator of social networks and video conferences;

MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms;

Kaor Styarp is a representative of the planet Burhad, psychophysiologist, biologist, specialist in anthropomorphic civilizations.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/irina-podzorova-o-kuratorah-i-kontaktah
May 21
Irina Podzorova about curators and contacts
Curators are beings from other planets or from other worlds who come directly to the contactee. In contacting, a very big problem is to synchronize different concepts with each other, since there are many different civilizations. The so-called “translation of the contactee himself” is underway. Naturally, all this goes in the language of his concepts, because the contact is astral, or spiritual, that is, through his brain, vocabulary, etc. Therefore, even if the same creature transmits information from another world to different people, the output will be obtained in different words, different concepts. There will only be one meaning.
The “Cassiopeia” project is engaged in the fact that we do not just talk about contacts, we do not just call people to improvement, knowledge, wisdom, enlightenment, love, we also call on all contactees to unite on the basis of the knowledge that is given by the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy and other subtle essences and disembodied Spirits. You can learn about all this directly from our videos.
There are already articles prepared by volunteers, there is a dictionary of terms and concepts in our project, which was also compiled by volunteers. Indeed, a huge amount of work has been done to systematize these contacts and knowledge so that those who follow us will travel this path faster and easier than we do.
There is a material world, and there is a Spiritual world. The spiritual world is the space where Spirits are located outside of incarnation and between incarnations. Each Spirit has its own individual tasks in this world, there are generic and social tasks. It depends on the planet where he will incarnate, on that world, that country, that family. And all this is called “egregorial structures”, which also provide their own tasks for implementation. All this is selected by the Spirit - the Consultant Angel. The astral world is the part of the Spiritual closest to the material world.

Timecode: 00:23, #350 Buddha Consciousness_The Path to Shambhala_How to Achieve Enlightenment_ Simple techniques from Padmasambhava
Irina Podzorova is a contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations.
October 2021
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pamyat-o-pervichnom-oshchushchenii-tela-vzaimosvya
May 23
Memory of the primary sensation of the body. The relationship between the emotions of mother and child before birth
Please tell me, at what age do complete structures responsible for memory exist in the brain, and at what age do they begin to degrade?
They begin to form even in the prenatal period (shows how the brain is formed with some primary neural connections that contain memories of the primary sensations of the body).
The primary sensations of the body on a subconscious level are remembered by all people, and not only people, but humanoids in general, whose body was formed. This is the feeling of weightlessness: this feeling of floating in something, warmth and peace, calm and security. This is why primary neural connections are formed that connect the sensations of swimming, weightlessness, and the absence of body weight with peace. And this further determines the subjectively pleasant sensations of flight, weightlessness or swimming in adults.
When a person swims in water, he becomes calmer, because this is the primary sensation of the body. But this does not always happen, since the formation of this connection is influenced by the different emotions of mom, dad, and also biochemical changes in her body.
If during the formation of this neural connection there was, for example, some kind of stress in the mother, or she was sick with something, or took some harmful substances into her body, then this person will have such a connection in the brain that the sensations of swimming, flying will be associated with unpleasant feelings of fear, for example, or disgust, or something else. And then this can influence the fact that a person subconsciously will not like such actions, they will cause disharmony in him. This is one example.
Then there are more such connections. For example, when the visual and auditory systems are formed in the fetal body, its primary visual sensations. Even in the womb, he can open his eyes, look, and at the same time he can see the light that surrounds him, and he can hear the sounds around him. That is, the receptors already transmit a sound picture to the brain: this is the beating of the mother’s heart, the muffled sounds of conversations, even music. But he doesn’t connect this with any information, because he has just come to this world, and it is not familiar to him.

And as I said, the memory of a past life and being in the Spiritual world is blocked even before incarnation - before entering the body, before the Soul introduces its life force into the first cells. Therefore, she enters as if into an unfamiliar world. And when the ear, eye, etc. systems have already formed, they begin to perceive signals. Naturally, the Soul is already in the body at this moment, and it begins to listen, and from this neural connections, memory are formed, and it again connects with the sensations that the child is experiencing in the womb at that moment.
A child is comfortable when his mother is comfortable: when her blood, for example, has a high content of not only nutrients, sugar, etc., but also pleasure hormones. They can penetrate through the placenta and umbilical cord into the fetal brain and also induce in him a state of peace, joy, and happiness. And if at this moment, for example, a mother listens to music and feels good about it, then her child will form neural connections that it is this music that causes happiness, relaxation, etc. And then, having heard it as an adult, he will not remember it, but it will cause him to release his own pleasure hormones.
If a mother doesn't like something, she experiences stress, then stress hormones pass into the child's brain, into the blood and cause an aggravation of the self-preservation instinct in him, for example, which causes unpleasant subjective emotions. And this is also fixed at the physiological level by the formation of a neural connection. For example, if mom and dad argue, the child will simply hear the father's neutral voice, but if the mother experiences stress, it will be stored in his neural memory that the father's voice causes stress.
When the child is already born, you can even notice that when the father speaks, suddenly the child may cry - this is how memory manifests itself. If the father does not overcome this connection with his Love, then in the future the child may develop subconscious wariness and suspicion towards the father as he grows up, which will interfere with his development of Love.
Timecode: 26:38, #523 Memoria (memory) - how to develop, improve, preserve? Brain plasticity. Universal Data Bank.
MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms;
Kaor Styarp is a representative of the planet Burhad, psychophysiologist, biologist, specialist in anthropomorphic civilizations.
December 2022
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/illyuzornost-vselennoj-sovershennyj-

zemnoj-klimat
May 23

#525 The illusory nature of the Universe, the perfect earthly climate. "Cassiopeia" increases the vibrations of the Earth's egregor!

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=7YfSLa5kEiY

00:00 Start of video.

01:01 Introduction of participants.

Mikhail: Hello! My name is Mikhail Moiseenko. I am the editor of the esoteric channel “Subtle World-AM”. I have released more than one and a half thousand videos on scientific and esoteric topics. I had about thirty-five thousand subscribers on my channel, now it’s about one and a half thousand, because I deleted my previous channel and now I have a new one. I deleted it for some reason, that's a different story.

I gained a certain amount of knowledge, certain opportunities, so to speak, to communicate with different people with different abilities. In general, I am ready to invite you to answer some questions that, I believe, slightly improve spiritually, that is, they advance people who are developing spiritually to some new level and make them think about many things. And I also want to thank Irina for dedicating herself to serving this cause and allowing people to rise in their development.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today our curators will be present here in astral bodies and answer questions. This is MidgasKaus from the planet Esler - a biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations, and LiShioni from the planet Shimor - a specialist in astral interactions in the environment. They greet you. They are in the astral space and are ready to answer your questions.

02:45 About Mikhail's contacting.

Mikhail: Please tell me what role you assigned for me in communicating with Irina? What role will you play in the near future?

Irina: This is a question for whom?

Mikhail: I have a suspicion that in the subtle-material structure I have been on the pencil for a long time, and they have their eyes on me in terms of me interacting with you at the initial stage.

Irina: They say: "We are interacting with Irina, and who brought you to Cassiopeia, you should ask your curators. You are a contactee and therefore must ask your supervisors about the purpose."

Mikhail: I am not a contactee.

Irina: Well, more like that, unconsciously. That is, you receive information, but do not realize that it is from some channel of perception other than your own.

Mikhail: Okay, then I'm ready to ask questions.

03:51 About the Souls of children and parents.

Mikhail: Please tell me in what cases a Soul that wants to incarnate with certain parents, and they for some qualities do not correspond to this child that they will have later, resorts to the help of certain angelic or some other entities for preliminary cleansing and preparation of parents before conception, and these special angelic beings descend to the parents for such preparation?

Irina: Once again the question is more formulated!

Mikhail: It happens that the soul of a child is looking for parents, there is such a concept. And the parents are to some extent not ready to accept this child. And the Soul of the child creates conditions under which it descends its assistants, who cleanse the parents before conception.

Irina: What do you mean “clean”?

Mikhail: They carry out certain procedures. For example, they make a huge amount of forgiveness so that the subsequently conceived child does not carry this karma, that is, so that it does not get transferred into the DNA. It turns out that such situations do exist, and I wanted to ask under what conditions...

Irina (says LiShioni): The fact is that Consulting Angels show the Spirit who wants to go for incarnation, all the options possible for him in the individual state of his Spirit and its vibrations. They show him where he can incarnate, and he chooses, but not from one option, but usually from several options. And it also depends on the goals of the incarnation: why he decided to incarnate. And as soon as the Spirit has chosen the parents, it already chooses them initially according to its vibrations.

And this means that he chooses not only his parents, but the entire clan, the entire clan egregor as a whole, and compares his personal goal of incarnation with the generic task that he will solve, and with the national task that he will solve. After all, when incarnating, he passes through egregors - national and generic. And there he receives energy for development in this nation or in this family, and together with the energy he receives a task - as an opportunity to realize this energy in the material world. And therefore, he also takes upon himself voluntarily, as you called karma (karma is the result of actions of one kind or another).

06:48 The future in the Timeline.

Mikhail: Okay. Tell me, please, how many hours, days or weeks in advance are you able to view the future of certain observers, the probable future?

Irina: For any, but only the accuracy of this future will be different, because the further from the point of the present to the future, the more multivariance occurs.

Mikhail: I see.

Irina: But for this you need to look, focus on the Time Tape.

07:24 About reality and illusion.

Mikhail: Tell me, do you have such an opportunity, for example, to see how many realities I changed at the moment I asked this question? Give a number or range.

Irina: First, tell me, what is reality for you? Because the contactee has his own concept of this.

Mikhail: This is a point of vision, which is actually formed from many points that are given to me for choice. And how many of these points are given to me to choose in one second.

Irina: Point of what?

Mikhail: Reality is illusory. Do you agree with this?

Irina: What is an illusion?

Mikhail: Well, then it will be...

Irina: “We must,” he says now, “define the terms.”

Mikhail: Illusion is a development in front of the observer's focus of attention of the surrounding reality.

Irina: And for what reason did you call the scan an illusion?

Mikhail: Because it's a more appropriate term, it seems to me.

Irina: Why not call it material reality?

Mikhail: Let there be material reality.

Irina: It's just that the word "reality" has two meanings - it is objective reality and subjective reality. And when you asked the question about how many realities you changed at the moment you asked the question, what kind of reality did you have in mind - your objective reality, which surrounds you, or subjective?

Mikhail: Subjective. As I understand it, there is no objective reality.

Irina: What do you mean no!? Objective reality is a created reality outside of your perception. When you, for example, leave the room you are in, your room will not cease to exist.

Mihail: Yes.

Irina: Various events will take place in it, despite the fact that you no longer perceive it subjectively.

If we understand by the word "reality" the existence of something directly in the world, in some space: in material space or in the Spiritual world, then there is nothing that does not exist. Or, in other words, as it is written, as conveyed by one of your spiritual teachers in the religious book of the Bible: "God is the one who calls things that do not exist to exist."

And how many subjective realities you changed at the moment of asking the question, it depended on the speed of your thoughts, on the direction of attention of your consciousness and on your feelings. That is, it could be one reality or dozens of realities.

10:33 About self-improvement and a multi-variant future.

Mikhail: Look, I was born in 1976. At the moment of birth, 2022 already existed, this day, this meeting. Hence there is a postulate: everything already exists - the future, the present, the past at the same time. But this “all-ness” must somehow improve itself and replenish itself with new elements of this “all-ness”.

How does the all-encompassing base of the space of options improve itself and be replenished with new elements? This is such a difficult question.

Irina: The whole point here is that this year 2022 and all the events in it at the time of your birth in the material world existed as one of the options. But there were other options that did not come true. For example, besides this meeting, there was an option when this meeting would not have taken place. And there were even options when you would not have known, for example, about the Project.

And you improve yourself in this reality and improve the world, thanks to a function of your mind called “choice”. You make a choice - this is a Russian word that can be understood as making a decision to materialize one or another line of probability from the Timeline.

And decision making is carried out by your thinking, as a part of the mind that is specifically designed for processing information and making decisions. By the word “mind” I now do not mean intellect, as a function of the brain that allows the manifestation of Spiritual intelligence in the material world, but I understand part of the Spirit itself.

12:46 About the Galactic Sound Code Library.

Mikhail: Please tell me if you use the Galactic Library of Sound Space Codes to understand the Universe. Codename "Aiiiiiivvff"?

Irina: No. We have languages such as Eslerian and Shimorian, we use them, and when in the Astral, we speak in thought forms. And when we talk with other forms of life, for example, as we do now with Irina, we speak with the help of thought forms, sending images and words in her language, since we know her mental field.

13:27 Probability of climate change on Earth.

Michael: Tell us about the changing seasons. When will the time come when the seasons will be absent or changed - autumn, winter, spring, summer? Will it ever happen that there will be no more seasons on Earth?

Irina: Yes, such probabilities exist in the space of options, or, as we say, in the Future Time Tape. There is a possibility for the Earth to enter the Interstellar Union, and after this it is possible for the inhabitants of the Earth to appeal to the leadership of the Interstellar Union to improve the climate so that they can settle throughout the Earth without hindrance. So that there are no hot and cold deserts, which with their natural climate scare away many people from living there, cultivating these spaces for living, so that they can be used for the benefit of the Earth's population.

And there is a possibility that the leadership of the Interstellar Union will satisfy this request and direct its scientific technologies, for example, to changing the Earth’s orbit or creating alternative gas-flame balls, which you call the “second Sun” - so that the cold season can be removed, but at the same time, harmonize the climate so that there are no too high temperatures. That is, there will be something in between, and there will be no winter.

But this is only one of the probabilities, because there is a possibility that the Earth will enter the Interstellar Union, but there will be no such request. And there is a possibility that the Earth will not enter it.

And when this happens, there are also different probabilities. The most important thing I want to say now is: what probability will come true and in what time frame - it depends on the aggregate choice, that is, on the choice of the path by the majority of your civilization, and the majority of your civilization consists of individual individuals.

Mikhail: Thank you!

16:17 About the meaning of the word “civilization”.

Mikhail: Please tell me, when will you and we, the questioners, move away from using the word “civilization”? As far as I understand, at the moment you are forced to use it due to our lack of understanding of the essence behind this word. What do you call this essence more correctly?

Irina: We call civilization a certain intelligent community that is located on one or another humanoid planet. That is, civilization is a society of intelligent people or humanoids. Sometimes the word “civilization” is used in the sense of subtle-material civilizations as a collection of beings located at the same level of density and doing approximately the same thing.

What do we call civilization in our language?

Mikhail: If I understand correctly, civilizations are all located within a person to some extent: one is present to a greater extent, the other to a lesser extent. Like a form of energy.

Irina: Civilization is inside the human mind, in a person’s consciousness and in his energy. And it is not civilization itself that is located, but a certain connection to the egregor. As I already said, there is a national egregor, for example, an egregor of a certain country. This is for those planets where there is a division by country - there are state egregors. And every person who is included in the state infrastructure and state system as a citizen of their country is connected to this state egregor. And in this regard, civilization is inside it, but it is inside as a certain vibrational characteristic of the egregor.

Mikhail: Thank you!

18:51 About the similarity of character traits of earthlings and aliens.

Michael: What qualities exhibited by today's humanity are similar to the manifestations of your civilization? That is, what do we have in common with you in our character?

Irina: What do you and I have in common in character? Since you and I are residents of the same Spiritual world and born of the same Absolute - you call Him God or the Higher Mind - these are Russian names. Any names of this Being, this Spirit, they only reflect part of His qualities. And since we are all born from one Source, we usually call It the Beginningless Source, but we immediately mention that this is the Intelligent Source. Because we ourselves are reasonable, and we came from this Source, what we have in common in our character are those aspirations, desires, feelings that He laid in us at birth in the Spiritual world.

What are these desires and aspirations? They are inherent in our Spiritual heart: this is the desire for happiness, Love, harmony - for perfection. All Spirits have this - rational, spiritual, immortal entities, no matter where they incarnate and no matter how they behave.

But the fact is that each Spirit in incarnation realizes these aspirations differently, depending on its understanding of the world, on its understanding of God and itself. If it is not distorted by energy blocks, it means that it will bring Light, peace, goodness, that is, perfection, to this world. And if it is distorted by blocks, he will destroy, while thinking that he is creating.

21:04 About the direction of development of alien civilizations.

Mikhail: Please tell me in what direction is your civilization developing? What do you consider development and what do you consider degradation?

Irina: Our civilizations are developing in the direction of greater knowledge of the Universe and helping other civilizations understand themselves as cosmic races, and helping the civilizations that have already joined our Union to improve their science, art, etc., that is, various systems , including sociological, scientific, spiritual, which are aimed at helping everyone. The global goal, of course, is the development of Love as a feeling capable of accepting others, oneself and the world as it is, helping it, that is, filling it with energies - so that there is a perfect society, and there is a perfect person in it - this is for you, and for us - a perfect humanoid.

This concerns the ideals of our society, what we strive for. And the second question?

Mikhail: What is degradation for you?

Irina: Degradation is a decrease in vibrations. This is the opposite - hatred, fear, despondency, that is, everything that prevents life from developing or kills it, etc. This is all degradation - what you called evil, that is, a temporary decrease in vibrations that causes suffering, let's say so.

23:07 About visiting other planets in the Astral.

Mikhail: Thank you! Tell me, is it possible to transmit to us an analogue of the sound cosmic code, through which we can visit your or other civilizations through meditation and experience your existence?

Irina: In meditation, visit in what form, in what field, in what body?

Mikhail: Now, if I learn, or someone listening learns deep meditation, he pronounces this code, and his consciousness flies into your civilization and becomes aware of your existence.

Irina: Consciousness flies away in what field - astral, etheric, mental or in what?

Mikhail: In which this is possible. I just don't know for sure.

Irina: In general, it is possible in the astral and mental. But you still take the etheric plane with you: in order to form a vital thread connecting with the body. Now we have done it. We tuned in to the contactee and moved here in the astral body. Our physical bodies are located: for MidgasKaus - on the earth base, and for LiShioni - on his planet.

The fact is that for an astral body there are no distances and there is no time during which it moves, for example, between stars. The Astral permeates the entire material world, all levels of density, including the third level of density, where we live: where people live and where we live in physical bodies. Therefore, we tuned in to Earth, to the contactee.

In order to visit our world, when you consciously go out into the Astral, you may wish to visit, for example, the planet Esler, or Shimor, or any other. But in order to accurately imagine it, you need to gain knowledge about it, that is, about, for example, where it is located - near which star or in which constellation. And you can imagine our images, as Irina conveys them, or ask your curators who will be next to you when you leave your body: greet them and say that you want to move to planets, ours or any other, and explain the goal - what you want to get acquainted with our astral space.

But here it must be noted that when you move to our planets in the astral body, you will see everything with your astral eyes. And astral eyes, astral vision - they see energies, egregors, thoughts, thought forms, but do not see the physical world, because they are not able to perceive photons, as you call it, the energy that enters the physical eyes. The vibrations don't match.

26:17 About the safe volume of information perception.

Mikhail: Thank you! Please tell me that in the process of learning high-frequency information, including the information you give, excessive stretching of consciousness may occur. What leveling methods will you use? And do you understand that, while giving different knowledge, you need to give leveling practices at the same time, otherwise the current configurations of people may not digest them?

Irina: What will happen to consciousness there?

Mikhail: Stretching consciousness.

Irina: What do you call stretching consciousness?

Mikhail: This is when the amount of information received by a person does not have time to be digested, and his consciousness becomes inflated.

Irina: For the safety of every person, there is a safety controller in his mind, which is associated with the assessment of what is happening in the world around him. Information by us through contactee Irina, in this case, is given in doses for other people - in the sense that people themselves decide how much of this information to look at, how much to process it with their thinking and what conclusions to draw from it.

That is, if a person feels that his consciousness is filled with some alien images, thoughts that, for example, disturb his peace or cause negative emotions, he can calmly exit the information field of the Cassiopeia Project, from its Internet resources, stop perceiving this information, work with it mentally, mentally, and work with it with your feelings. And only when he feels that he is ready for the next portion, he can enter and receive a new portion of information. That is, we leave it up to the people themselves, so that they decide how much they can digest.

Mikhail: Thank you!

28:38 About ifars.

Mikhail: Tell me, are there aifaras on your habitat plan? These are points of study of Pleiadian knowledge about our Universe. What are they doing? Do you use isidialogy for your development? Do you interact with the Pleiades civilization?

Irina: How many questions are there?! (smiles)

Mikhail: I understand you. Are there ifars on your habitat plan?

Irina: It's not in their language. We need to explain what this is.

Mikhail: This is connected with Pleiadian knowledge. They have such a concept there.

Irina: But they are not Pleiadians: MidgasKaus is an Arcturian, and LiShioni is an Andromedan, both of which are not in the Pleiades cluster. Therefore, please translate the word into Russian.

Mikhail: Well, okay, let's skip it then. It's difficult to explain now.

29:36 About a high-quality future and new technologies.

Mikhail: Tell me, people who are ready for the Transition do not have an understanding of the concept of the space of a high-quality future. As a rule, these are illustrations of pictures from science fiction books and magazines, with skyscrapers, flying cars and all that. But this is a fundamentally wrong idea. How exactly will you work to create a space for a high-quality future in the understanding and imagination of transitioning people?

Irina: How will we work on what?

Mikhail: To ensure that people have an idea of a quality future. People don’t understand; they still have images from science fiction films in their heads.

Irina: We are already working on this. We explain to people that the main thing in their future, if they want to develop spiritually, is to learn, for example, to communicate with their Higher Self, talk to their body, solve their problems and questions by turning to themselves. And everything that you have just listed - pictures of the future associated with technology - is just a means to have satisfaction in the material world. This is, of course, not bad, but this is not the main thing.

We explain to people that the main thing is to have contact with yourself, with your Divine Light, and then you will be able to fill the technologies that already exist now with new meaning. And if this spiritual development does not happen, then those technologies of the future that you have listed now will not bring you complete happiness. That is, we explain it.

How can we help people create the right vision for the future? Just an explanation and justification of one's position, and everyone decides for themselves whether to accept it or not.

Mikhail: Thank you!

31:47 About types of matter.

Mikhail: Please tell me, is your reality as material as ours, or do you have a different type of materiality? Can you experience our type of materiality at all?

Irina: Naturally! We, too, are humanoids, like you: we have a physical body; we are at the third level of density; in the same Universe as you, the physical Universe; we also have atoms and molecules... We are simply on other planets and moving, as I already said, in the Astral, in the Astral World - in order to transmit information to contactees.

There are other beings - subtle ones, they also contact people. Project Cassiopeia calls them plasmoid creatures. They have a different type of matter. Each density level has its own type of matter. But this is not us, we are not plasmoids.

Mikhail: Tell me, there are such concepts about our Earth as Gaia and Gracelis. And there are also said to be 143 planetary globes belonging to our general form of synthesis. Do you have such information?

Irina: No.

33:06 About the concept of death in the Universe.

Mikhail: Why don’t you say that there is no death in the Universe, that death is the greatest illusion, an illusory performance for us, and the dead themselves continue to live in the same world and do not suspect that we buried them here?

That is, it’s as if these are all scenarios, and nothing in the Universe dies at all.

Irina: It depends what you understand by the word “death.”

Mikhail: I understand the word “death” as the displacement of the single mind of creation of current existence.

Irina: But by the word “death” you don’t mean the destruction of something?

Mikhail: Change of clothes.

Irina: Well, what’s illusory about this? It is simply a phenomenon that is necessary for the material world in order for exchange to occur. If we are talking about intelligent Spirits, so that there is an exchange of energies, an exchange of experience. After all, the Spirit does not incarnate into a material body forever, but for a certain period of time, during which it plans to gain this experience. He doesn't plan to stay longer. He can, of course, change it during the process of incarnation, but he does not plan to remain forever in the material body, this does not correspond to his tasks.

The Spirit can even have a series of incarnations planned in his mind: how much experience he will gain, for example, in solving certain problems in this incarnation, then in another, etc. Therefore, the exit from incarnation is usually called death. But death for whom? Death is the moment of breaking the life thread connecting the Soul, as an embodied part of the Spirit, with the physical body. If we are talking about the physical world, does this moment exist? Undoubtedly it exists. After all, do you know how, for example, a human corpse differs from a sleeping person?

Mihail: Yes.

Irina: There are differences, and they are real, they can be recorded: instrumentally, you can record them through your own experience, that is, by studying this or that person. This phenomenon exists. How to treat it, what to call it - this already depends on the choice. But this is not an illusion in the sense that these differences between life and death, between the state of life, that is, the presence of this vital force in the human body, and its absence - both states are different. And since there are differences in one state or another, it means it is real.

36.03 About the human value system and the desire for perfection.

Mikhail: Please tell me what does your civilization know about the human value system? Now we live in a world of money, aggression, manipulation of power, cunning, control, etc. But this is not a human value system. Who gave it to us, and what is it truly human?

Irina: Why do you think that this is not a human value system?

Mikhail: That's all I listed: aggression, manipulation...

Irina: Let's start with aggression. What is aggression? How do you understand this word?

Mikhail: I understand aggression this way: it is when a certain person observes another person, with a different value system, a different approach to an issue, and he seems to be aggressive and disagrees with this person. That is, this reaction is so strange.

Irina: What do you call aggression?

Mikhail: Discrepancy between the interlocutor’s ideas and his ideas.

Irina: Should the ideas match?

Mikhail: I think they shouldn’t. But I'm trying to figure out what it is.

Irina: Aggression - what kind of behavior is this? This is human behavior in which the energies of anger, malice, resentment and hatred are manifested. That is, this is external behavior that manifests these feelings and emotions. And these feelings and emotions, as energy states, are characteristic of whom?

Mikhail: To a person.

Irina: So this is human behavior?

Mikhail: Apparently, yes, at the current stage of life.

Irina: Why did you then say that this is not a human form of behavior? Whose then?

Mikhail: For some reason it seems to me that more human values are a little different from these that we have now.

Irina: The fact is that if we are now considering, for example, the energy of anger, then anger is a person’s reaction aimed at bringing the outside world, at bringing the external environment into line with one’s internal attitudes.

Mikhail: Yes, I understand.

Irina: That is, the original meaning of anger... This energy, where did it even come from? This energy came from the desire for perfection. That is, as I already said, this Divine energy, which is inherent in each of us - both in us and in you - it has such a property as desiring perfection. Because God himself is absolutely perfect. Therefore, we have a desire for absolute perfection, and absolute perfection lies in harmony, in Love, in happiness, let’s say so, as in a certain feeling of satisfaction, not only physical, but also spiritual, that is, such an existence when there is no suffering.

But if this energy of desire for this perfection manifests itself without feeling, without the energy of Love, which a person has not accumulated in his Spiritual heart, then it manifests itself in the form of anger, that is, in the desire to achieve perfection through inharmonious, destructive, destructive methods. For example, putting others down with a word, thought or even action.

And therefore, if all people were loving, they would not show the energy of aggression, they would simply strive for perfection. And in the event that another person did not agree to accept their picture of the world, they would simply give up trying to change it, simply warning him that these were his lessons.

Mikhail: I see. Thank you!

41:18 About the role of the Cassiopeia Project in raising the level of awareness of humanity.

Mikhail: Tell me, what are the chances of the Cassiopeia Project to develop and rise to a higher quality level of the collective consciousness of humanity? What's the percentage?

Irina: Chances of what?

Mikhail: For the development and rise to a higher quality level of the collective consciousness of humanity.

Irina: The chances are quite high. Again, for what period?

Mikhail: Oh, there’s a period here. I didn't even think about the period. Let's say the next 10 years.

Irina: In what space?

We believe that the increasing level of awareness of people, which is initiated through the Cassiopeia Project, will gradually increase the vibrations of the Earth's egregor, and this is already happening, and the chances of this are quite high for the next ten years.

Here he is telling me now: “We recently looked at the egregor of “Cassiopeia” - this is seventy-four percent: the vibrations of the Earth, the egregors of the Earth, will increase by that much, through various practices, through attracting the help of other contactees, etc.

42:34 About the number of contactees in the Cassiopeia Project.

Mikhail: Please tell me how many more contactees should join the Project in order for a better development of the collective consciousness of humanity to occur, or is all hope only in Irina?

Irina: Hope is not only for Irina. We did not set a final figure for how much should be poured into the Project. Other contactees can join this Project if they feel the need for this and feel their kinship with the energies of the Project, that is, with its ideas, with its leaders: if they completely share their view of the world in the sense that they are going in the same direction.

Mikhail: Thank you.

43:15 About the illusory nature of the Universe.

Michael: Tell me, do you realize that the Universe is completely illusory and consists of the energy of information, and firmament does not exist in the Universe, and all firmament is defined as a form of illusion and is twisted into the focus of the observer’s attention?

Irina: What do you call the firmament?

Mikhail: Solidity is the compressed energy of information in the form of an image of an object: a table, a chair, a wall, a stone - what I touch.

Irina: So this energy, it is in dense material form. Where does this energy itself come from?

Mikhail: From information.

Irina: Where did the information come from?

Mikhail: The information came from thought.

Irina: Whose?

Michael: God.

Irina: Is God an illusion?

Mikhail: No, then I wouldn’t exist either.

Irina: So if God is real, how can His energies be illusory in any form of space and time?!

Mikhail: Well, look: I’m now raising my hand and knocking on the wall. Where do I realize that the wall is solid - in my finger or in my mind?

Irina: You become consciously aware, but thanks to the fact that your receptors transmit information about density by hand.

Mikhail: This is formed by an illusion from the energy of information. This is the illusion of a wall.

Irina: An illusion for whom?

Mikhail: For me.

Irina: Now it’s not an illusion for you. You won't be able to get through it.

Mikhail: I agree. But, in principle, it is an illusory hand knocking on an illusory wall.

Irina: Here again we start from what you consider illusory. The word “illusion” is understood as something that is not real, but this wall and your hand are actually real, they are just located, we call it, at the third level of density.

Mikhail: Doesn’t there exist a firmament in the Universe? Is everything made up of information energy?

Irina: Why? Exists. This is called "third level density".

The point here is that in addition to the third density level, there are 56 more density levels, for example, plasmoid worlds. In total, there are 59 levels of density in the Universe, which are included in the material world, that is, in the world of matter. What is matter? This is a certain state of Divine Light, which changed its vibrations, and the creation of space and time flow became possible, let’s put it briefly. And this matter is divided into 59 levels of density. The first level of density is what you call the solid state of matter. The second level is what you call the liquid state. The third level is what you call the gaseous state.

Why do I say that we are all living at the third density level? Because all the solid substances that exist in the material physical Universe are enclosed in a gas shell, so to speak. And we're not just talking about planets. The planets, stars and even galaxies themselves are surrounded by gas and dust clouds consisting of atoms. This precisely reflects the third level of density. That's why we say we all live on it.

But the third level of density includes two lower ones: the second and the first. That is, in the perception of the Spirit, for example, if it is simply a spiritual being, no matter exists as a dense medium, it passes through it. But matter exists as an image of the perception of energy in a particular space. And for the being embodied there, it is real.

For example, now in your room there are, in addition to physical space, 56 more levels of density, and in them there may be creatures - plasmoids in another, subtle body. And for them you are unreal, and for you they are unreal, until you tune in to contact with each other through the Astral. That is, you don't exist.

For example, a plasmoid will sit next to you, and if it has not learned to interact astrally with people, you do not exist for it. You are an illusion for him. And he, accordingly, is an illusion for you. But if you have learned, both you and he, to talk through the Astral, to tune into each other, to tune your spiritual channel, then you can talk to him despite the fact that you are at different levels of density.

48:46 About the concept of “God”.

Mikhail: Do you agree with the statement that the concept of “God” can be attributed to the concept of “Information”?

Irina: God is more than information. This is more than any word. Any word can describe some quality of it. But even all the words, not just in the Russian language, but all the words in all the languages of all the Galaxies, can describe only a small part of the qualities of God.

49:14 About decoding words in the Russian language.

Mikhail: I had a period when I deciphered words by letter. And I would like to tell you some options, and for you to tell me whether my decoding is correct. For example, the word “Earth” is the stellar unity of the worlds of the personality I myself.

Irina: Interesting.

Mikhail: Do you agree that the Earth is when all people are in the same consciousness?

Irina: The stars are not only in consciousness, they are also in objective reality, and so, in principle, yes. For you it is simple - images that you are aware of in the stream of your consciousness.

Mikhail: And here is the decoding of the word “inspiration” as “inspired by inspiration.” It turns out that through the air we exchange thoughts and feelings with people, and this is spelled out in the word “inspiration.” That is, we exchange ideas and thoughts between all breathing people and creatures and animals and birds.

Irina: The thing is that the word “inspiration” and the word “breath” are similar to the word “Spirit”. The change of vowel in this sense only indicated that different tribes of the same people had their own dialects, and in general “inspiration” meant “transmitted from the Spiritual world.”

Mikhail: Well, yes. “Air”, it turns out, is “the universal Spirit surrounding the earth.”

Irina: Yes, air, breath, Soul, etc. For example, have you noticed the similarity between the words “breathe” and “Soul”? There is the same principle: ancient people saw the manifestation of the Soul, the manifestation of the Spirit in breathing.

Mikhail: But, for example, the word “light” is a joint vision of a single creation.

Irina: Well, yes. You can also say – a joint vision of the One Creator.

51:23 About tears and reactions to information received.

Mikhail: Regarding the words, I’m done for now. I also have the following reasoning: through the tear film, information enters the internal organ of perception, which perceives the scenario we are observing in this way and therefore includes increased lacrimation in moments of joy or grief, since it is necessary to run more frames per unit of time for maximum perception. Question: which organ perceives visible reality through tears?

Irina: Tears are the body’s reaction to emotions, both positive and negative. But this emotional response through the body was created in your body in order to be able to communicate to others how you feel through your emotions.

Mikhail: What organ digests this information, the lacrimal organ?

Irina: Which organ receives information through the eyes?

Mikhail: Through tears.

Irina: He doesn’t get it through tears. Firstly, not everyone sheds tears, so to speak, from receiving information. It also depends on the emotional state, on the character of the individual. Even when receiving the same information, not every person will shed tears. But the information will still flow into the Spirit. And with the help of what does she do it? Due to the fact that from the brain, where information arrives in the form of visual images, it is read by the consciousness of the Spirit and sent to his thinking, memory, imagination, that is, to his mind as a whole, and there it is already processed, left in memory and used to create own thoughts.

Mikhail: Okay, thank you!

53:57 About an incident on planet Earth in 1859.

Mikhail: Tell me, according to one of the scenarios, in 1859 (in different scenarios in different ways, and to varying degrees of severity), a certain event occurred on planet Earth, which caused a megatsunami, which swept across the planet, threw mud on several floors and where Somewhere it flooded, somewhere it dried up the planet. After which humanity rebuilt itself, in just 170 years, it turns out. Question: what kind of phenomenon happened in 1859? What's the point of hiding this from people - both this history and previous technologies?

Irina: We have already answered this question. According to the Interstellar Union data that was on Earth, and which is available to the Interstellar Union, there was nothing like it. There was no such universal tsunami.

And what you call cities filled with mud and so on has other explanations, but this needs to be looked at in each case separately. That is, if this had happened, there would have been a lot of victims, and it would have been visible.

Mikhail: Okay.

Irina: Because in that year in the 19th century that you name, there were already a lot of people on Earth, many cities and many different writers, for example. And all their works that now exist have reached you. Works have reached us, ancient temples have reached us, buildings that were built much earlier. They were built on the surface of the Earth quite a long time ago, and many of them came in your time without destruction that could have been caused by a mud flow. That is, you can see that they are still used today. And if there was such a mud flow, it would cover everything, and not selectively - it would cover there, but not there.

Mikhail: What kind of phenomenon was this? Why did this happen on such a large scale, it seems to me?

Irina: They just answered that there was no such large-scale phenomenon. There were some isolated floods and the like, but this happened before.

56:58 About the significance of temples and churches.

Mikhail: Tell me, do I correctly understand the meaning of churches, that, in essence, these are health centers: by going there, a person is grounded?

Irina: What does it mean – grounded?

Mikhail: According to my assumption, the church has such a metal frame inside, and it raises the energy of the Earth to the surface. And from the person who enters there, excess energy comes out, and the deficiency is replenished, on the contrary, from the Earth: it comes out - and onto the person. That is, it aligns a person.

Irina: Why do you think that every temple has a metal frame?

Michael: Not in every one, but in most regular churches it is.

Irina: Which ones?

Michael: In old churches that are still ancient. There are metal beams there, you can directly see them, which create a kind of Faraday grid.

Irina: A lot was built from wood, but they simply did not survive, from bricks, from stones... Many ancient temples were built like this.

(Irina) The fact is that in Abkhazia there is a place where a temple was built - almost one of the first Orthodox churches on the territory of Transcaucasia in general. It was either in the 8th century, or in the 5th, in short, a very, very long time ago, and we were there. It was slightly restored, of course, but it was clear that this ancient masonry had been preserved - from ancient bricks, which were probably used in the first century. This is near Sukhumi, we went there.

And there was such a stone dome, and it was clear that this was a very old building with thick walls. Where does the metal come from in them? Back then, not much metal was mined. They were simply made from some kind of stone blocks, unevenly cut, etc.

Well, okay, okay. They are now conveying: “Thank you for the interesting questions! For spreading knowledge about other worlds to people. People really need this now, so that they know that they are not alone in the Universe and not alone on Earth, in earthly space, but that there are many forms of life. We send you the Light of our Love!”

Mikhail: I hug you too!

Irina: Thank you, LiShioni, MidgasCaus! Thank you Mikhail! Also, dear friends, I thank you for watching this video and I hope you enjoyed it. In any case, see you again!

Mikhail: Thank you, goodbye!

December 29, 2022

Participants:

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, subtle-material civilizations and the Spiritual world;

Mikhail Moiseenko – editor of the esoteric channel “Subtle World-AM”;

MidgasCaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms, curator of Irina Podzorova and the Cassiopeia Project;

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a sociologist, a specialist in the astral world and its interactions with the material world. Curator of Maxim Rusan and the Cassiopeia Project.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/poleznoe-pitanie-obshchenie-so-svoim-telom-praktik
May 24
Healthy diet. Communicating with your body - practice for children
Mead says it's most effective to eat a varied diet. Of course, there are people who follow an omnivorous diet, or a vegetarian diet: both of them can remember information well, and their brains can function well. But this, rather, depends not even on the composition of the food itself, but on its diversity.
It is clear that if it is the same food, even meat (for example, if a person eats just potatoes and cutlets every day, and so on for a whole month), and does not consume other foods, does not include them in his diet, then there will be a diet poor in a variety of substances. There will be an excess of some, and a deficiency of others. And the result is an imbalance. And since some of the substances that the brain and the body as a whole need will not enter the body, the brain will stimulate the appetite so that the person eats more of what is there - in order to build at least something from them. And this will help increase your appetite. And, naturally, if a person moves little, then it is clear that this is an excess of calories, etc.

What you call a problem with overeating is most often a problem of an unbalanced diet. When the body increases appetite, the desire to eat in large quantities the food that a person has, trying to compensate for what he does not have. My research shows that the healthiest or, as you say, “correct” (=healthy) diet is a varied diet.

Even if you are a vegetarian, don’t limit yourself to the same dishes, experiment, try something different. I understand, of course, that many people do not have enough time to constantly try something. But this doesn’t take much time, you just need to have the desire to diversify your diet. And it is very important to learn to ask your body, your body: “What do you want right now?” The body knows about many foods that you have already tried and the substances they contain. It can send an image or taste that you need now. The main thing is to learn to hear these signals, and even more important, not to ignore them.

But here you need to understand that if you constantly want sweets, this may be due to the fact that you are not getting some other substance. Therefore, if, for example, you have already eaten sweets today, and suddenly you have this desire again, you can ask the body whether you really need sugar or something else that the body did not receive that day.

Our power structures have included this ability to talk with your body (as we have already told you) in the subject “Handling the Body” in the school curriculum. And we are very surprised why it is not turned on on Earth, because it affects a person’s entire life: his ability to work, family life, raising children and the effectiveness of his work for society as a citizen of a particular state.

If you have a materialistic view, then it is all the more necessary to study how to communicate with the body and how to work with it. Even if you consider consciousness to be one of the functions of the body, why not teach this function to handle and communicate with the whole body? I know that you may think of consciousness as a function of the body. But why can’t this function be taught to work with the rest of the body, so that it is safe and harmonious for the person himself, for the space where he lives, and for his health? After all, in schools you tell children, for example, about the actions of various historical figures or something else. Why then not talk about your body and that you should listen to yourself?

This can be explained not by esoteric, but by scientific methods. Do you already have scientific research on psychosomatics, etc., that can be adapted into a retelling for children? Since you can adapt retellings about nuclear physics for children, there are adaptations in textbooks. This makes it all the more possible to adapt information about the human body, which is closer to any child than some kind of atom or nuclear reactor. You can also give practical classes. It is very useful, for example, to give a child a task in a special notebook (as I already said about the diary of emotions), so that he writes down everything he ate and drank for three days in a separate notebook. Every piece of food that enters his stomach will be recorded. You can also ask to record the time when he consumed it. And then ask your liver, your body, your brain (the brain knows about everything at the level of instincts), how this food affected the body.
If he writes: “I ate three Snickers.” Then he will ask:
“My body, my brain, the Snickers I ate at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, how did it affect my body? What substances were incorporated from it, and which were removed? Was it good or bad for me? Did he use it to strengthen my body or poison my body?”
The answers will come through the body. But besides the body, as I already said, there are etheric matrices of organs, which contain information about their normal structure and functions, which should ideally be present at the time of birth. In the etheric matrix of the body, that is, in the etheric matrix of each organ, the ideal state of the organ is recorded, which was at the time of birth, when all organs worked ideally. You can even ask the organ - and the information will come, of course, with the help of the Higher Self, but from the same etheric matrices.
Timecode: 51:03, #523 Memoria (memory) - how to develop, improve, preserve? Brain plasticity. Universal Data Bank.
MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.
December 2022
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/beseda-kontakterov-iriny-podzorovoj-i-kariny-angel
May 24

#70 Conversation between contactees: Irina Podzorova and

Karina Angel

00:51

Karina: - Hello everyone, I came from Moscow and I am filled with incredible energies, because recently Irina conducted a very interesting practice for me, and I felt incredible power that began to come to me from all sides. I felt the energy entering my feet, rising up, and also entering the top of my head and falling down.

I felt universal love and power in even greater and greater volumes.

In general, I wanted to talk about myself, but what is happening to me now - I can't help but share it this very second, thank you.

Irina also connected me with my Higher selves - thank you.

We also talked with Agni - the god of Fire. He's been on friendly terms with me for quite a long time, which is nice. I have always felt the energy of fire.

Irina conducted a very, very powerful flow through me, and we found out that in general our energies somehow converged and were compatible.

I came into contact not only with Agni, but also with Veles. Veles also impressed me with his wisdom, power and stature. We asked him questions, he answered.

I was in a state like hypnosis, but this is a state of peace of mind when you know everything and you hear everything.

Then the angels and I also said hello to Irina.

Irina - Karina asked her angels to fill me with energy and send me into the world, and I felt how they did this, of course, these energies are familiar to me. Then we went to the astral plane.

Karina - yes, I was able to immediately go into the astral plane, it happens quickly.

Back to what I'm doing.

I am a healer, I heal space, people and everything around with my presence, because I consider myself not just a person, I consider myself an earthly angel.

These are such special souls. I incarnated of my own free will on planet Earth, because I already fell in love with it, it’s like my own, and this is my 70th incarnation, and this is not the last.

I have energy wings, blue-blue. Those who have vision can see them.

Thanks to these wings, my healing occurs automatically - when I am present somewhere, these wings shift layers of energy not only in space, but also in someone who needs to be shifted.

In my presence, people constantly cough, they may yawn and it is difficult for them to look into my eyes. I’m like a special project - through my eyes they are interested in seeing what is happening around them.

That is, they send me pictures, images, inspire me to go look there, look that... Thus, they see everything through me and they need it all.

06:05

Maxim - many healers have their own idea of God and angels. Who is near Karina, who does she call her angels?

Irina - in communication with the Higher Self, it now became clear that she has not 11 curators, but 17. Many of the curators belong to high-vibration plasmoid civilizations.

For people, they are practically indistinguishable from disembodied spirits, because they are very high vibrational.

This is the 44th level of density, the 49th level on the scale provided by Midgascous.

I remind you that plasmoid worlds have 56 density levels.

But she also has contact with the world of disembodied spirits, that is, she can easily interact with them due to the fact that she matches their vibrations.

We connected with her curator Agni, with Veles and asked how she was chosen, how can she consciously interact with them? The answers were given, everything was clear. She already consciously contacts them, but in order for her to do this more purely, more fully, she must remove all doubts.

07:49

Maxim - what, one of the incarnations of Veles was Ganesha?

Irina - yes, that’s what they called him. Veles are the priests of one tribe, Ganesha are the priests of another. This same entity was called Thoth in Egypt.

This essence appeared under different images, for example, the case of Ganesha - he appeared to his servants, priests and contactees in India in the form of an elephant, because... For the religion of that place and that time, the elephant was a symbol of wisdom, strength, and earthly well-being. That is, what the incarnated Ganesha was responsible for, and this spirit, embodied at that time, was responsible for the high-vibration earthly plasmoids.

09:13

Karina – I have a question – what can Mead tell you about my energy wings? How does he see them? I told my version, but I'm interested in getting to know him (MidcasCausa).

Irina is the image you perceive that comes from the open channel that works with you. This is from the 49th density level.

I looked at Karina for connections to plasmoids, she has them, but to a very high-vibration world, the one that is in the center of the galaxy, and she sees the activation of this channel as unfolding wings.

This image starts with bright blue pulsating dots and they go in a dotted line. And then they take the form of long seeds, only large ones. This is an image for your consciousness that the channel is open. This is a way of communication between you and your curators.

11:09

Karina - Thank you! What can he say about the fact that I consider myself not a human, but an angel in a human body?

Irina – at the time of incarnation you are level 15.

Either you have had many experiences of incarnation in high-vibration plasmoid worlds, then contacts with them now are not surprising. Or your spirit has been at the angelic levels for a long time. Now you have been incarnated since the 15th, and the reason for this must be looked at in the tree of life, and a special calculation must be made.

This identification of yours shows that you feel connected to the light. For us, Eslerites and Shimorians, this is not surprising. This is not an ideal to strive for, but a normal state.

12:45

Karina - what can he say about the fact that mutational energies emanate from my body, certain codes of absolute love, the right choice, the solution to any issue? And maybe you can add some more?

Irina – a fairly large group of civilizations, both the plasmoid world and the world of disembodied spirits, are working through you. Everyone has their own terminology. What you called mutational energy, codes - this is their terminology, and in order to translate it into ours, familiar to the contactee, you need to ask your curators to do this, since you are in contact with them. They know what it is and, since you have conscious contact, they will respond.

What your curators call a code is a special energy-information wave that can pass through you - this means it enters you from the spiritual world, and then spreads through you into the material world. This happens very often with plasmoid contactors, since the purpose of plasmoids when contacting a person is to transfer these energies.

They call it differently, not always codes. And here the whole point is how well the contactor itself matches the vibration frequency of this transmitting channel. If he is much lower in vibration, then he will be able to transmit into the material world only that which corresponds to his vibrations. That is, he will lower what they give him to his own.

15:55

Karina – thank you, very interesting. I also learned that my curators look through my eyes - a lot of different energies come from me, it’s like they put on 3D glasses and look through me, everything is interesting to them.

Irina - what does it mean to look through your eyes? Many plasmoids that have contactees on the ground and communication channels like yours can not only transfer energy and information, but also know how to connect to his brain. Look through his eyes, listen through his ears to what is happening in the material world.

Not all plasmoids can do this, but experienced ones who have many contactees, because it can be difficult for them to adapt to a person, they have a different perception, a different measure of time, etc.

Are there many or few such people? Everything is relative. According to calculations by the Interstellar Union, there are about 200 thousand contactees with humanoid life forms on Earth. There are 10-15 times more contacts with plasmoid civilizations, that's 2.3.4 million.

But is this a lot for a population of 7 billion? Everyone has their own opinion.

17:58

Karina - I enjoy movement - in one incarnation I was a dancer, I danced spiritual dances for the higher worlds, kings or important people.

In this life I continue to have fun - I dance, I unwind my energies. What does he see, what is happening in space?

Irina – body movements in a certain rhythm already transmit certain energies. You transmit a certain vibration into space. At this moment, plasmoid civilizations send energy into space through your energy. And at this moment you feel the need to move.

Many people felt this, starting from shamans, dervishes and many others. People feel an influx of energy, and the body must pass it through itself in this way.

Next, the topic of fears of spiritual development was raised.

20:00

Irina – such a problem (fears of spiritual development) is present in all people who have begun or continue their spiritual development. Sooner or later, they notice that the former interests that connected them with their former friends have become irrelevant.

Unfortunately, those friends who surrounded them in life are not always ready to move on with this person who wants to develop.

Here the choice is up to the person himself, but from my own experience I can say that - as far as I know earthlings and Eslerites, and Lee Scioni will say - that if a person remains with his former friends, abandoning the new path of spiritual development, then the light in his heart will not will allow you to stay with these friends for a long time. And if he delays, he will become depressed. He will clearly understand that he is left to live not his life, but the life of these friends who did not let him go further.

Maxim - I say a huge hello to my friends and alcoholics, you are all so cool and we had so many cool moments, but you know, it's just a different time, aliens have come! That's why I can't spend so much time with you now, I can't sit and drink with you, because I'm no longer interested in it, I quit smoking because I'm killing my health.

And I really love you, I always remember you, I have not left you. I just moved on.

21:54

Irina - Mead wants to convey to people: if people are watching us, whose friends are incomprehensible to you, have taken a different path of development that is close to you, and for some reason you want to stop this person, jealousy manifests itself for the time spent not with you, then remember about the unconditional love that you have for this friend. Seeing his eyes filled with happiness and the meaning of life, understand that he is developing, feels the same light in himself, and in order to allow him to fill you with this light, do not provoke him to negative emotions.

If you evoke a feeling of guilt in him, and through guilt encourage him to be near you, then he will not continue his development, will fall into depression with you, or will be angry with you if he has a strong-willed character. And you will not receive the light of love that you could receive.

25:04

Karina - This is the energy. I communicate with a person, he communicated with me. This powerful flow of energy comes to him. What happens next? I know that he talked to me, walked away, the energy remained in him, he went to other people, talked with them further, and this energy is further distributed among people, and then dissolves in space. It's like a light egregor.

Even I shoot a video, someone watches the video, he receives this energy, then simply by watching the video, he will go out into the world, and even after watching my video, he spreads this energy.

Irina – energy really spreads because all people interact with each other through the energy structures of their fields.

And no matter what they are charged with, they pass it on when communicating with their loved ones. Even just when communicating.

And the closer the communication, the more feelings between people, the more energy flows into each other, like into communicating vessels. Their auras become like communicating vessels.

Therefore, it is natural that the energies transmitted through you, and necessarily, are not only energies transmitted through you, but you yourself put your energy there, this is mandatory. They are naturally transmitted to each other. These are the laws of energy exchange.

26:44

Karina – Another question: I get a buzz, pleasure, for me it’s a drive.

Well, in general, I'm talking about work like exorcism. And my friends told me that there are average, weak ones, and there are high-status, dark ones, well, for which there is no calculation. And they told me that they could send them to me too. Maybe he wants to tell me something that I don't know?

Maxim – According to our terminology, low-vibration demonic structures are from the 1st to the 6th level. That is, you probably mean level 5-6 structures?

Karina - some who are already serious, dark.

Irina - Serious, yes, this is the 5th, these are demons, according to our terminology. Sixth – Archunts – rulers of demons. Well, as they usually call demon princes. Or as they are called Cosmocrators in the Bible. World rulers.

Maxim - Can Karina work with demons?

Karina - With serious ones. I can. What will he say about this? Maybe he can give me some advice?

Irina - advice on working with high-status, low-vibration disembodied spirits.

Li Shioni, as a specialist in working with the astral world, will now say.

It must be remembered that in order to stop the influence of one or another entity on a person, you must first disconnect its energy structure from the person's energy structure.

But to do this, you need to understand where it is connected.

That is, what reason caused such attention from the demonic world to this particular person.

Karina is a diagnostician, of course.

Irina - yes, that is, there is definitely something in the person himself, the thought forms, thoughts produced, even if he does not show anything negative, either in words or actions, this does not mean that he cannot keep it in himself.

And here it is important to understand that if the person to whom the demon is connected seems to be the height of good manners, friendliness, etc., you need to remember that he may be so outwardly, but at the same time he can hide his true feelings and accumulate in his the astral body has low vibrational energies.

And when a person accumulates low-vibration energies, he does not allow them to come out, that is, he considers it bad manners, rudeness, etc., but at the same time he does not work with them - they accumulate in his energy center. In the fourth energy center, in the second...

It depends on what it is directed against, for example, his struggle is against the world, or against himself.

Self-condemnation happens very often, self-accusation by the way, and the feeling of guilt, self-flagellation is the reason for the presence of demons. Because these are low vibrational states.

30:20

Karina - in my last incarnation on Sirius, when I was the queen, everything went well for me, did I fulfill this role with dignity?

Irina - to see the previous incarnation, Lee Scioni and Mead can take me, with your permission, to view the personal history of incarnations, and everything will be clear there.

30:53

Karina - Well, that’s separate. Yes OK.

I can also correct the musculoskeletal system with words. I say: Spine, get back to the standard, undamaged state. And before my eyes, through God’s word, people’s bones move. And is this my energy, or the energy of my mentors?

Irina - Even if it is the energy of mentors, in any case it is part of your energy. Because it already passes through you.

As for healing with words: yes, of course, this is possible. Healing with the word comes in different forms. But it can only be truly effective if it is a person who has come to be healed, if he fully understands and accepts what is happening. And if he trusts you at all as a person, as a guide.

That is, you use certain words, stand in a standard position, etc., you form a certain thought form. You release it towards the person’s field, but if this energy of yours is alien to the person, and if he himself does not believe that this is possible, he, as it were, pushes it away with his consciousness. According to the law of freedom of choice, which God gave us, nothing alien to a person can invade his biofield, his energy field and change his body.

And even if from the point of view of God it will be beneficial, but the person himself repels it, then it still will not enter his field, because this is the law of freedom of choice.

32:36

Karina - Was I familiar with Jesus Christ in one of my incarnations, do I really like him?

Irina – look at everything in the history of incarnations.

32:46

Karina - and about my magical abilities...

Irina - In any case, what you call magical abilities is the ability to change the material world.

Most often among civilizations this is done by thin-material plasmoid civilizations.

But they do this more often than representatives of dense materials, precisely because in their worlds matter is easily changeable. It's not that dense there.

And therefore, they, having become accustomed to changing it easily, are looking for ways to do this in the dense material world.

Well, they bring these methods to their contactees.

33:32

Karina - do you like me?

Irina - yes, of course, your energy is suitable for contact with high-vibration plasmoids and the spiritual world. You can also contact humanoids, but for now this is not part of your task. You have other tasks.

33:57

Karina - Well, I also have the gift of charging objects. So I can take an object and charge it for this or that task.

I showed off my medallions today and it was very hot.

Irina - by the way, when she showed the medallions, Maxim and I had completely identical sensations, which we did not talk about to each other.

Karina - and I was also stunned, Maxim and Irina, they were in synchronization, they took the medallions and both of them received a super-mantra and they said it at the same time.

I constantly see people around who have a lot of skepticism and disbelief, but why don't they believe, because this is how our world is structured so that they don't believe.

Because it is convenient for the world to do so so that they do not believe in it.

Because it's not profitable for anyone, it's not profitable for this system...

Maxim - everything has its reasons, sometimes their disbelief builds our faith.

Irina – nothing happens by chance in this world.

35:25

Karina - in conclusion, I want to tell everyone who watched this video to be filled with light, the energy of the creator, so that he knows that the creator loves him, be it a man, a woman, a child...

Every one of you is valuable. Every person on this planet is special, you are the daughter of God, you have the DNA of God in you.

And always know that the creator loves you. And communicate with him. Communicate not as they said outside, but as you feel. Heart, heart energy. Because they feel this energy.

Everyone in this incarnation has at least one mentor angel and one guardian angel.

With your subsequent choice of your path, the number of angels may change.

Angels are high-vibration entities, they are messengers of God, they get high where you get high in your head, if you have bad thoughts, and you think they will get high with you - no, it’s not so.

If you want to always be in high vibrations, begin to understand what surrounds you.

Surround yourself with high vibrations. And your angels are waiting for you to finally tell them, I am Catherine (fictitious name), I call you, angel, come to me.

You give them tasks, they are no longer at the resort, that’s it, finally they too can realize themselves in this life. Because this is a lie, what I often heard: don’t strain the angels just like that, they have a lot of things to do. It's a lie.

They become denser, more powerful, they are realized when you contact them and give them tasks.

I always have them on task. Well, it’s broken - fix it, now a taxi - send me a good taxi driver, I’m driving, so that there are good people around me. Wherever I go, protect me.

So, they say that I communicate more with them than with people, because they will not deceive you, they will not betray you, you will not see anything bad from them, yes, you are high. You're having a blast.

Irina - Yes, I want to join all the words of Karina and also wish you to be in that divine light of love that she spoke about. This is the most important goal for which we all incarnated.

Maxim - I want to say that an angel is just every person who feels like one.

Irina - yes. We are all in fact, if you look from the point of view of the translation of the Greek term “angel”, then in meaning it is a messenger, and if we consider the spiritual world, where we all came from, to be the real reality, then we are all messengers, angels of that world here, in the material world .

Karina - to everyone who watched, I wish goodness, good luck, health, love, prosperity, and to everyone who heard this message, so be it, let my word be, let my will be done, hurray! And the will of the Creator!

Published April 25, 2020

Present at the conference are: MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, Li Shioni from the planet Shimor, Karina Tserpitskaya (Karina Angel) and Irina Podzorova from the planet Earth.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/raom-tijan-o-suti-i-proyavlenii-vselenskogo-troich
May 25
Raom Tiyan on the essence and manifestation of the Universal Trinity code in matter
The number 3 denotes a certain characteristic, or nature, quality of the Spiritual world. Therefore, the Universe consists of three components, the Spirit consists of three components, and so on. It is no coincidence that it is called the Universal Trinity Code of Being, because being is existence. And why code? Because, knowing this code, you can recognize and study various phenomena. Why triple? Because the number 3, which underlies it, expresses the manifestation of energy, the power of the Source of all things. In your opinion, it will be God, a Superbeing.
Matter, energy and information are the manifestation of the Universal Trinity code in the material world. Because matter, energy and information have a single nature. We can say that matter has energy and information, and that in each of these three there are parts or manifestations of the other two.
Each number from one to nine, and the number you call "zero" as the beginning of a number series, has its own meaning. If you look at a series of numbers from zero to nine, you can read a message from the Absolute, from God, to absolutely any person, Spirit, humanoid, plasmoid, etc. That is, if you look sequentially from zero to nine: 0, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, etc. - then you can read this message, and I can tell it by the numbers. This can also be called "Nine Number Code", but you know very well that 9 is the number 3 taken three times.

Rayom Tiyan on the message of the Universal Tertiary Code in numbers from 0 to 9
Yes, this has a basis, because some civilizations see the world in combinations of digital energies. This is not just energy that is taken - for example, 4 quanta, or 40 quanta, or something else. It's just that these creatures can translate theirs into the earthly language of the contactee only through numbers: there are no other analogies for translating this contact information.
So, the message from zero to nine:
0 - Unmanifestation or the Divine world, the Kingdom of Heaven, that is, what has always existed, Eternity.
1 - denotes the Being in this eternity, the Superbeing, the Supermind of the Absolute. The message goes like this:
"From unmanifested eternity, the Absolute separated energy and matter for creativity in Love. Work on understanding the Universe with faith and compassion, sympathy, mercy, that is, with active Love."
Why did I say this message now, because each of these concepts corresponds to a number from 0 to 9.
0 is the Kingdom of God, the Light of Eternity. In any case, of course, there are many names in different civilizations in different languages, but I speak in a more or less understandable language for everyone.
I speak Russian, which is understandable, probably, to representatives of all philosophical, religious and other concepts in the words that can be understood. Because for people who adhere to one worldview system, it will be one word, but for others it will be another word. Let's just call it - Light of Eternity.
So, the Light of Eternity is designated - 0;
The absolute is designated - 1;
Separation, separation - 2;
Energy - 3;
Matter - 4;
Creativity - 5;
Love - 6;
Labor, work, creation - 7;
Universe, Space and at the same time knowledge - 8;
Faith, charity and the manifestation of Love in action are 9.
I just told you how to read this message. And you see, it is even possible to derive the main idea of all spiritual teachings and all spiritual practices from the Universal Trinity Code. If we take 3, multiply it first by 2, and then by 3, then we get the series: 3, 6, 9. And if we look at what concepts these numbers represent and manifest, we will see: this is the energy of Love in the manifest action of mercy and faith.

In some teachings of many planets of the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light, there are entire tables where each number is single-digit, two-digit, three-digit, etc. - have some kind of code that deciphers the action of spiritual energy through the subtle-material plane onto the physical plane. This is the consistent deployment of the Divine energy of the Absolute and then its return to itself in a new quality.
Timecode: 05:42, #526 Universal ternary code. Matter, energy, information in the Universe from the perspective of alien sciences.
Raom Tiyan is a representative of the planet Burhad, a specialist in energy interactions in the environment of the material and Spiritual world and transformations of various energies.
January 2023
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pamyat-inoplanetyan-i-zemlyan
May 26
Memory of aliens and earthlings
We have long had research done on how to, for example, increase the amount of certain proteins in the central nervous system so that more information can be remembered. In addition, we have electronic means: the same chips, means of storing, transmitting information, which enhance the humanoid's own memory and work for more accurate information retrieval. We actually have such means.
In addition, we have such an education system that learning certain information follows special rules that make memorization easier. For example, in connection with emotions, in connection with completing the tasks that teachers give: these are usually creative tasks.
A lot of independence is given to students to draw up, for example, some of their own research plans. And all this, when the child is directly involved in this, stronger connections are formed in his central nervous system, connections between different parts of the brain, so that this information is reproduced in the future more easily and accurately.
Our education system itself is structured in such a way that the child does not just solve some problems on paper, but that he, for example, does some research or draws something. Again, not on paper, but in a certain computer model, I created a certain structure, which I studied in class.
If this is transferred to the teaching of earthly children, then I will now give an example. In physics class, you study what an atom is made of (we just have a different model of the atom, you have a planetary one, but that’s not the point now, even if it’s planetary). For example, a child read what elements it consists of, no matter what they are called - an electron or the first level of energy, the main thing is that he read this. What task is given so that he remembers this information? It’s not easy to tell what an atom is made of, because a child can simply learn, especially in those schools where there is an evaluative system of knowledge, in order to simply seem mentally stronger. And for a child to appear smart in front of others is to activate his leadership instinct so that he can show himself smarter in front of his classmates.

Such an internal reward system is unreliable in the sense that this knowledge can, if it is not lived through the experience of the child himself, disappear from memory in the future. We don't have such a system. With us it is not based on instincts, not on assessments, not on instinctive activity. Of course, such a simple approach, but for us it is based on experience.
For example, a child has read what an atom is, and is given a task using a special computer model. Since our atom consists of nine energy levels, small objects similar to clouds will be marked below in different colors. Nine objects will be represented in different colors or combinations of colors and it will be written that such and such a color corresponds to such and such energy that is in the atom. A task will be proposed: take and build an atom from these energies. This means placing these clouds around each other the way an atom, for example, of such and such an element looks like. And the child will remember what he read and will create it himself.
When he does this, if he does it correctly, then this connection will be fixed in him. But he will not receive a grade, but will simply have a badge on the computer that he did it correctly. And this sign will be known only to himself and the teacher, so as not to provoke competition in the child by activating his instinct for power. Instinctive memory is considered short and unreliable.
And if he does it wrong, another signal will light up on his personal computer. And there will be no correct answer: those clouds that he collected incorrectly will be underlined or indicated with arrows, and an inscription will appear in the corner asking him to re-read the material and return to it later. But again there will be no assessment.
Timecode: 1:06:40, #523 Memoria (memory) - how to develop, improve, preserve? Brain plasticity. Universal Data Bank.
MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.
December 2022
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/raom-tijan-o-ponimanii-kritiki-politicheskij-mekha
May 27

Raom Tiyan on understanding criticism. Political mechanism of influence on society in the Interstellar Union

Animal instincts are inherent in all humanoids. In the earthly case, this is a manifestation of the nature of those animals from which man developed. An instinctive program is an automatic program of action of the body and brain without the influence of the intelligent, immortal Spirit on it. In fact, instincts are very useful programs that can help a person survive, adapt to reality, leave offspring, become a leader, etc. Sometimes blocks interfere with controlling your instincts. And blocks are formed, among other things, due to dualistic thinking, so there are certain grievances and anger that are formed in response to a different opinion, in response to criticism. Moreover, the very word “criticism” and its task are understood differently than in the Interstellar Union. Naturally, we also have a disagreement with something, but, as I already said, it does not stigmatize the mistaken person by saying that he is, so to speak, of lower dignity, or that he is unworthy of something, some kind of attitude towards to yourself.

We all understand that a mistake, and it can, of course, occur in absolutely all intelligent beings, is not some kind of fault, but an experience. What does it mean? This means that it is impossible to act without error in the direction in which you acted for the first time or acted little. All the same, you will make mistakes in something, that is, you will not arrive at the result that you need, or that corresponds to the understanding of the truth that exists in objective reality.

I'll give you a simple example now. If a child solves mathematical problems, then in his brain he has not yet built an algorithm for adding, subtracting, multiplying and dividing numbers, that is, he does not yet have a mathematical understanding of reality, he does not yet have mathematical thinking, and he can make mistakes. He can solve a problem or an example in this way: for example, he will have 30+20, and he, having not yet learned how to add smaller numbers well, may make a mistake and not count that it will be 50, but write another number. But this does not mean that he is to blame for this, it is just his experience. This is about mathematics.

As for political topics, of course, your concept of politics, the understanding of political and economic processes on Earth in general among different groups, including among politicians themselves, is interesting.

When a politician makes a mistake, and society sees that his mistake leads to a decrease in the vibrations of this society, and even more so to the disembodiment of intelligent Spirits for some reason, then the task of this conscious society, if it is conscious, all together, in solidarity with each other, indicate the policy to this mistake, and especially not to repeat it after him.

In our society there is a special political mechanism that helps the ruler in a particular society, in a city, in a country. We have planets that are not divided into countries, but where there are different states. The political mechanism is the same for all planets included in the Interstellar Union. The ruler, this person, is entrusted with the responsibilities of managing society. The creation of various laws and control over their implementation for the benefit of the whole society is the goal of creating state power as an association of people (the egregor is built from individual individuals).
Firstly, there is a law that suggests that before a law that is binding on the entire society is adopted, it must be drafted. There is usually what you call a "legislature" that first conducts an analysis of how society might react to the law. Then a project is drawn up in the form of a table, graphs, how to implement this law, and how it will affect society. And the third stage: the draft of this law is literally in a few paragraphs, the very essence of this law is sent out in the form of an electronic mailing to electronic devices of the entire planet or the country where it is being introduced. And every adult citizen of the planet casts his vote for or against this law.
This law can be implemented if you vote for it... What you call voting, we call it “participation in the management of society by every citizen.” After all, every citizen is a full member of society, and this means that he builds the reality in which he wants to live. We have a subject called “Man and Society,” social studies, and it examines various political mechanisms of influence on society, and also explains what a person’s civil responsibility is to the state, to the authorities, to himself, to his ancestors and descendants.
And the second mechanism. In the event that some law that has already been implemented is not implemented as it was written, not in full, or its understanding and application in practice is distorted (this can happen, because a politician can also make mistakes, as you said , no one is immune from this, everyone can lower their vibrations and move away from the Light of Divine wisdom into some kind of mental wandering). And therefore there is such a mechanism as the abolition of the elected government.
If an initiative group in a society of 50 members sees that the ruler, the ruler in this society, in this country or on the entire planet is acting to the detriment of the entire society, a special appeal is drawn up to him so that for about 40-42 earthly days he will spend a universal vote to remove oneself from office or to remain. Having received this petition, he is obliged to do so within 40 days, and if he refuses, a corresponding statement and report are delivered to the planet Burkhad to the Department for External Political Relations. And there, if this information is confirmed, then such a ruler will not only be removed from office, but may be sent to the planet of criminals.

Timecode: 1:18:31, #526 Universal ternary code. Matter, energy, information in the Universe from the perspective of alien sciences. Raom Tiyan is a representative of the planet Burhad, a specialist in energy interactions in the environment of the material and Spiritual world and transformations of various energies.
January 2023
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/arhangel-mihail-o-formirovanii-karmy-narodov
May 28
Archangel Michael on the formation of the karma of peoples
Eregorial processes are not visible to the human eye - you are in matter, you are in material bodies, therefore you see only the material manifestation, which you call wars, natural disasters, human suffering. And because you have, so to speak, the instincts of self-preservation and pleasure, you consider death and suffering to be evil. This is all due to the presence of your bodies. The law of karma is absolutely fair. Karma is the result, the result of all actions, all feelings, all thoughts, ultimately all energy vibrations of either a person or a group of people, that is, a certain embodied Spirit or group of embodied Spirits. Accordingly, disembodied Spirits are carriers of the karma that they themselves formed in their incarnations, but it is not manifested until they unite with the body. Not manifested specifically in the material world, in the Spiritual world their karma is manifested by the level of the Spiritual world where they are located - after all, all Spirits are at different levels of the Spiritual world. This is also the result of karma, but this is its result in the Spiritual world, it is obvious to everyone there. With what the Spirit filled his spiritual heart while in incarnation, he comes there. He comes there on his own, because he is attracted to this level, to those vibrations that are closest to him.
Accordingly, in the material world, karma manifests itself in almost the same way, but through material means. The purpose of karma is not to punish someone for a crime. Karma is generally deprived of the role of punishment as a kind of retribution, revenge for harm caused. The purpose of karma is to bring the spiritual being into a state of awareness, wisdom and Love. As you well know, all this is the purpose of the incarnation of Spirits, which means that the purpose of the incarnation of Spirits is to improve one’s karma.
Karma can be either negative, or negative, or positive, or positive. We will call them “light” and “dark”, so it’s easier for you to imagine, because “light” and “darkness” - these words are associated with visual images, and it’s easier to imagine them for you, creatures whose perception is based on visual contact with objects, and it will be easier to understand what we are talking about.

Accordingly, what you have just listed are the consequences, so to speak, of the collective choice of a certain group of people who are included in one or another egregor. But this choice is not always visible, so to speak, with the eyes. If a state is not at war, this does not mean that everything is fine in it. In the same way, if there are no natural disasters, this does not mean that everyone there is happy. Karma can manifest itself in different ways; in addition, it does not manifest itself immediately, but is delayed over time.
Since you live in the material world, where there is a flow of objective, or, as we call it, material time, on average from the moment when the Spirit or the society of Spirits “sowed” karma (we call “sowed the seed of karma” - released some energy into your egregor), it takes approximately 7 to 15 earthly years before the fruits of this karma appear. The average is somewhere between 13-15 years.
If during this period those who sowed this karma do not change it, they will reap the consequences. That is, they are given a period, given by the law of karma itself. The legislator came up with the idea that this law is manifested in this way. And if they change their karma, change their vibrations that they send to the egregor, their karma will either soften or become heavier, depending on what vibrations they change, or even seem to change to the opposite and be annulled.
Based on this law, it is necessary to look at what vibrations there were for about 12-13 years, as I already said, with a range from 7 to 15 - what events took place in this or that people, in this or that state before which something of a universal disaster.
Timecode: 04:13, #593 Karma of nations - how to cleanse the egregor of a country? Wars of the 20th century. Spiritual brotherhood of Russia and Ukraine.
Archangel Michael is the guardian of the Christian egregor, the patron and curator of the Earth in the Spiritual world.
August, 2023
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/midgaskaus-o-razvitii-pamyati
May 29
MidgasKaus about the development of memory
All energy practices are associated with energy flows coming from various civilizations. If we are talking about Reiki, these are plasmoid-type civilizations; if we are talking about Cosmoenergetics, these are civilizations of the humanoid type, and there are plasmoid ones there too. There are civilizations that help speed up metabolism, including in the brain, and therefore strengthen memory and the ability to memorize.
But, of course, this should be reinforced with special exercises for memory development, that is, they can help, but they cannot do it for the person. They can help him develop his memory, but he will have to develop it himself. And you can only develop memory, as in the case of contactees, by expanding your horizons, working on your negative blocks, because if the level of stress hormones is high, then it is difficult to remember something.

Stress hormones block the hippocampus, which is responsible for retrieving these memories. The hippocampus is a region of the brain, or rather a separate organ, that is located in the middle, where the hypothalamus is. Stress hormones can slow down the reproduction of this information from those neurons that remember it, almost in the same way as alcohol and its metabolic products.

To develop memory, you must, firstly, take care of yourself and remove stress, dissolve blocks. Secondly, of course, eat right: consume enough substances, amino acids, proteins, vitamins - so that there is material for the construction of neurons and their connections with each other. It is also necessary to expand your horizons - this involves studying various information materials, preferably on different topics.

Also, the development of memory is facilitated by constant training, when you need to remember something, refer to your memory. For example, participating in various quizzes, when you need to answer questions within a short time, or when you need to solve some problems. For example, take a physics textbook, read some paragraph, and you will definitely find problems at the end. Why were they written there? Because solving these problems without prompts will not only help you show the teacher what you have learned, but also reinforce the information you read because new neural connections will be formed.

In the same way, you can remember other information and periodically check yourself by asking yourself questions on this topic. And the more significant this topic is for you, the more positive emotions it evokes, the more it is remembered.

Impact of negative emotions on memory

Naturally, negative emotions that happened to a person also cause a temporary sharpening of memory, but only for those events that caused these emotions. They become important to a person. All the events that happened around him. And people, and things, and even their color that surrounded him at that moment. Because fear, anger, disgust and other negative emotions indicate a violation of this person’s picture of the world, stress. And at this moment, the so-called short-term memory is exacerbated while long-term memory is suppressed.

And this causes the formation of a large information trace about this event in the neurons of the brain, which can then be activated in similar circumstances, and the same emotions can float to the surface of consciousness. The whole point here is that a person reacts emotionally not only to the outside world, but also to his internal experiences and memories in almost the same way as to external stimuli. And thanks to this we learn. And not only people, but all of us, humanoids, learn thanks to this mechanism.

We gain positive and negative experiences thanks to this mechanism associated with neurohormonal transmission of data and their storage in the brain. That is, certain information is activated through emotions. Therefore, it is possible to form, for example, a negative block associated with some event or person. Because in the memory, in the area of the brain that is responsible for memory, a neurochemical trace is also formed, that is, a chemical trace in the neurons, in which it will be recorded that this person brought harm to you, or this event upset you in some way.

Therefore, the next time a person sees a person who has offended him, or finds himself in the same environment, he will become uncomfortable, even if the circumstances have already changed, and the person no longer wants to offend you. But if this trace exists, there is already a subconscious, wary, suspicious attitude towards this person and an easier and faster onset of negative emotions towards him, that is, this is the consolidation of the experience.

All this affects, but all this can be changed by dissolving blocks at the energy level. Then the brain changes, gradually switching to physics. The brain really becomes clear from this. The neurons of the brain are cleared of negative energy, of these negative emotions.

You can speed up access to memory already stored in the brain only through training. The more you remember and retell or, for example, answer quiz questions, the faster the speed will be. Because you will train the ability of axons to conduct these signals through themselves and bring to your consciousness the information that is located in different areas of the brain.

This is also well facilitated by tasks such as solving crosswords or scanwords, because there on one sheet of paper, in one task, there are unknown words that need to be entered there, using the description that is given. And when you read the task, you will remember what it is and write down the answer. And since all the tasks there are not on one, but on different topics, you will use different areas of memory when solving one crossword or scanword puzzle.

It is better to do this little by little, but every day. It is ineffective to sit for one day, solve crossword puzzles for three hours, and then do nothing for a month: it will not give you anything. It will be more effective to do this for 10–15 minutes, but every day. And within a month you will see a significant increase in memory. Not even memory itself, but the ability to remember those events that you have forgotten

- even, perhaps, not related at all to the topics that were reflected there, but some of your own events.
Physical activity, physical movements, physical exercise improve memory by improving blood circulation, filling the blood with oxygen and better utilization of glucose and other nutrients, without which it is impossible to create ATP energy and generally create some kind of nerve impulses.
Timecode: 39:40, #523 Memoria (memory) - how to develop, improve, preserve? Brain plasticity. Universal Data Bank.
MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.
December 2022
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/raom-tijan-o-processe-sotvoreniya-novoj-zvezdy
May 30
Raom Tiyan on the process of creating a new star
Before a star appears, a certain set of data about this star is needed. For example, it should include: understanding, information about the space where this star will be located - about the dimension of this space, for example, cubic, as you measure (one can say - about the measures of the length of the space where this star will be located); about the amount of energy manifested in hydrogen atoms - for example, how many atoms should there be at its birth; about its mass, density, etc. These are certain numbers that must be known before the creation of this star, before its appearance.
To the human eye, it seems that the stars in the sky have existed and will always exist. But in reality this is not so, there was a time when all these stars did not exist, and the time of their appearance is not uniform.
When information has already appeared that such a star is necessary, you need to show energy in order for it to arise. Since it appears in physical space, in a physical cluster, which consists of three levels of density, then we understand: in order for information to materialize in the form of a beam of electromagnetic waves, and even more so - grouped into atoms, this information must come from the Spiritual world.
She can't just appear in a vacuum, because then nothing will happen. It must pass through all levels of density of the material world, and ultimately at the third level of density, which includes the second and first, because the third level of density is called by the name of the cluster - physical. And for it to appear there, in this space, it is necessary that this information, passing through the subtle-material plane, gradually acquires materiality. This is the period of incarnation. But this process does not proceed randomly, but with the help of intelligent Spirits embodied at all levels of density. That is, for the appearance of this star, the Absolute allocated a certain amount of information, which later will become completely material quanta. Information descends through worlds of varying densities and forms its object in one density or another. Plasmoids, intelligent Spirits who are embodied in plasmoids - their task is precisely to collect energy coming from the Higher planes, from higher levels of density, condense it and send it to the lower one.

And so they work until this information (from information already becomes energy) acquires the ability, for example, to change over time in its subtle expression. But there are no physical energies there yet, these are ethereal energies. The information will be enclosed in an ethereal shell. It's not even just a shell: ether and information will seem to merge with each other, and something third will emerge. The information and energy of this, so to speak, future protostar gradually reaches the second cluster, which is in front of the first, in front of the physical one.
The second cluster consists of the fourth, fifth and sixth density levels. The task of those plasmoids that live there, being in this space (after all, at any point in space there are all levels of density, they are simply nested one within the other), the task of those who are in this space, as you say, in a parallel world, living in parallel next to you plasmoids - take ethereal energy from the ethereal ocean surrounding these two clusters and condense it together with the information encapsulated in it until a star appears in the physical world. This is not a quick process, it gradually condenses, and such a star appears.
As we have already said, in one hydrogen atom, no matter what state of aggregation it is in... In this case there will be a plasma state, not even plasma at first, plasma only later, just atoms, but if you collect many, many atoms, then this there will be a solid state. This is only later, when they gather, there will already be plasma - because those energies that were needed according to the plan, and which were included in the information matrix initially, will come out. So, in order to collect one hydrogen atom, you need to collect 1600 quanta together. According to special laws of structuring of physical matter, 1600 quanta are collected so that 55% of the energy is at the third energy level. These 55% of energy are given a certain vector acceleration around each other, and they become gravitons, etc.
Timecode: 31:36, #526 Universal ternary code. Matter, energy, information in the Universe from the perspective of alien sciences. Raom Tiyan is a representative of the planet Burhad, a specialist in energy interactions in the environment of the material and Spiritual world and transformations of various energies.
January 2023

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/midgaskaus-o-svobode-vybora-u-razumnogo-duha
May 31
MidgasKaus about freedom of choice in the intelligent Spirit “Free will” is both the opportunity and the ability of the energy of the will to perform certain actions. The very moment of directing the will to this or that action is called “choice”. For this reason, free will is also called free choice.
“Free choice” means that the decision about where to direct one’s will energy is made by the person (entity, being) who possesses the will energy. That is, this choice is not imposed from the outside, it is not written into some mechanisms of his brain. The Spirit itself, which is in this body, from a variety of impulses leading it to this or that choice, and, accordingly, to behavior as a series of choices, completely freely (meaning without the influence of other beings) chooses one of the impulses.
From his life experience, a person knows well that two or more desires can exist simultaneously. And no one except the Heavenly Father (God, the Absolute), to whom all future options are open, knows what choice a person will make. The choice that is made may be a surprise even to oneself. However, this choice is made freely. What does free mean? This means that it is not someone else who will do it for a person, but he does it himself.
Who makes the choice in a person? The choice is made by the mind, more specifically, its thinking, which we have already talked about. In addition to the function of processing information according to certain logical laws, thinking also has the function of making decisions. Desires, as I already said, are conscious needs. They exist in the heart, which is why in Russian they say: “You can’t order the heart... The heart desires.” But the mind, although it cannot command the heart, can choose which of the desires needs to be realized right now, and which to postpone until later or put off forever.
I am often asked the question: “How does a person live - with his mind or his heart?” He lives in both at the same time, but if you look at the source of desires, then, of course, it is the Spiritual heart. But the mind helps the heart realize the desire and turn it into a conscious goal. And freedom of choice presupposes the possibility of responsibility or what we call “creating karma.” If there is no freedom of choice, it means that the creature does not have karma, it does not accumulate karma for itself as a result of all the vibrations it experienced during its incarnation. For example, this is how animals act; they have no karma.
Instinctive Mind of the Animal Soul
Animal Souls are a special type of Souls. Now we will not talk about plants and microorganisms, which also have their own type of Soul. We are talking about those closer to awareness, in the understanding that a person has. Although the consciousness of animals is, of course, completely different, it works differently, but it is more understandable to you than the consciousness (perception) of plants, the Souls of plants.

It is precisely freedom of choice in the sense in which humans have it - as a result of the work of thinking - that animals do not have. They choose what to do by automatically following the instinct that was the strongest at that moment in time. This is called the "instinctive mind." Any animal Soul has an instinctive mind, an instinctive memory that controls the behavior of this animal, which is why animals do not have abstract thinking, that is, thinking abstracted from its body, from its immediate habitat, etc. All this happens because animals do not have thinking, but simply an instinctive mind. They do not have freedom of choice, which means that animals are not responsible for their actions. People, that is, intelligent beings, are responsible for their actions, but animals have no responsibility and do not have karma.

For example, if a person has lowered his vibrations, accumulated anger, pride and other negativity in his heart, he has accumulated a certain negative karma. This negative karma will attract him to one or another level of the Spiritual world. If this level is low, he will feel dissatisfied, and in order to get out of this level, he will need to incarnate again in order to go through again, to dissolve these blocks that have already turned into karmic knots.

This doesn't happen in animals. Those cycles of incarnations that exist among animal Souls are completely independent of what the animal did during life. There are different types of animal Souls that roughly coincide with the concept of a biological family. For example, the Soul of a dog may well incarnate into a cat (this happens), but it cannot incarnate into animals that already have a slightly different instinctive mind, for example, into a hare, into a cow, etc., since they have different types of Souls . However, their conditions of incarnation do not depend on the previous incarnation. The cycle of incarnation of animal Souls is under the jurisdiction of the subtle-material civilizations of the planet where these animals exist. By animals I now mean the entire animal world, starting from single-celled animals, arthropods, insects, birds, mammals and so on.

Animals do not have freedom of choice, but we do, because they have an instinctive mind, and we have a thinking that makes a choice: “This is what I want now, but this is what I don’t want right now,” or “I want this now.” , but this is what I need. Although I don’t want it, I need it.” And thinking makes a conscious choice - to suppress its desire and do what needs to be done, but I don’t want to, for the sake of some of its own goals. A reasonable person has this property.

Timecode: 25:54, #534 CASSIOPEIA on meditation. Silence of the mind: how to stop internal dialogue? Freedom of choice, karma. MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.
February 2023
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/vselenskij-troichnyj-kod-materiya-ehnergiya-inform
May 31

#526 Universal ternary code. Matter, energy, information in the Universe from the perspective of alien sciences.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=tro2JTVhZWI

00:00 Start of video.

01:00 Introduction of participants.

Maxim: Hello, dear viewers and listeners of our channels - the Center's channel "Cassiopeia" and "Cassiopeia - Irina Podzorova". Today we will have an interesting conference on the topic of physics. My name is Maxim Bronevsky, I am an engineer and take part in some scientific projects. I'm also a theoretical physicist, so to speak, so today we'll look at some questions with Irina Podzorova. Irina, hello!

Irina: Hello. Hello, Maxim, hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today at the conference our guest in the astral body is the representative of the planet Burkhad - Raom Tiyan, already well known to you. He is a specialist in the study of energy metabolism and interaction in the environment - something like our physicist. He studies, unlike our physicist, not only the physical world, but also the subtle world, and different energies that move from one level of density to another.

Maxim: Yes, I'm now specifying the topic. The topic of today's conference will concern the Universal Trinity Code, which we announced in one of the previous conferences with MidgasCaus and Raom Tiyan. And the questions that will be voiced were prepared by Pavel Ermakov, my colleague, for which I thank him very much! I'm just a simple conference participant here, I didn't prepare any questions, I'll say right away. Pavel is a great guy in this regard.

Irina: Yes, okay, we are ready to answer.

02:50 Raom Tiyan about the first knowledge of the Universal Trinity Code.

Maxim: Then the first question. Where did the knowledge about the Universal Trinity Code first come from? When, who and how brought knowledge about VTK (I will call it that briefly) to your civilization and to the Interstellar Union as a whole?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, I know what you are talking about. This knowledge about the Universal Trinity Code first appeared, one might say, simultaneously in different worlds, because it came from the Spiritual World.

(Irina) He is now showing me the planet Tumesout, philosophers studied there, in your opinion, these would be mathematicians, only they were more likely philosophers who studied numbers, numerologists.

(Raom Tiyan) Yes, those whom you call numerologists are specialists who study various digital combinations and build hypotheses, make assumptions and test them later: which number represents which energy from the subtle material plane and from the Spiritual plane. And depending on the number system of different civilizations, this question was answered differently.

As for the representatives of the planet Tumesout and the representatives of the planet Burhad, we have a decimal number system, just like on Earth. Most cultures have similar systems, and for this reason we analyzed the meanings of numbers in an energetic and spiritual sense and saw there - in this series of numbers from one to nine, in a series of numbers - we saw a message. Including each number denotes a specific word, or even, rather, not a word in the earthly sense, but the meaning inherent in the word of this message.

And I can’t even say who the discoverer was, it was on different planets, and this is universal knowledge from the Spiritual world. There are also people on Earth who know this, who discovered this.

05:42 Raom Tiyan about the essence and manifestation of the Universal Trinity code in matter.

Maxim: Okay. I'll just repeat it now for the audience so that they understand what we're talking about. The Universal Trinity Code implies a concept of three fundamental substances - matter, energy, information - and their combination and interaction. Do I understand correctly, Raom Tiyan?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, but this is not by chance, but because the number 3 denotes a certain characteristic, or nature, quality of the Spiritual world. Therefore, the Universe consists of three components, the Spirit consists of three components, and so on. It is no coincidence that it is called the Universal Trinity Code of Being, because being is existence. And why code? Because, knowing this code, you can recognize and study various phenomena. Why triple? Because the number 3, which underlies it, expresses the manifestation of energy, the power of the Source of all things. In your opinion, it will be God, a Superbeing.

Maxim: It turns out that, in any case, all the energies of the Absolute come from it, and matter, energy, information are already a consequence of all these energies of the Absolute, right?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes. Matter, energy and information are the manifestation of the Universal Trinity code in the material world. Because matter, energy and information have a single nature. We can say that matter has energy and information, and that in each of these three there are parts or manifestations of the other two.

Maxim: We will now touch on this further. That is, in principle, one can say that this knowledge, this concept was transmitted from the highest levels of the Spiritual World?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, it was conveyed that each number from one to nine, and the number that you call "zero" as the beginning of a number series, have their own meaning. And if you look at the series of numbers from zero to nine, you can read a message from the Absolute, from God, to absolutely any person, Spirit, humanoid, plasmoid, etc. That is, if you look sequentially from zero to nine: 0, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, etc. - then you can read this message, and I can tell it by the numbers. This can also be called "Nine Number Code", but you know very well that 9 is the number 3 taken three times.

09:10 Rayom Tiyan about the message of the Universal Tertiary Code in numbers from 0 to 9.

Maxim: I see. I have a question in connection with this then. We have contactees, they have their own terminology, they call it the “Teacher System”, which is given from the Highest level of the Spiritual World, you probably know. And from the Teacher’s system, through the so-called Saints who came to us on Earth, they periodically receive matrix codes, which, if deciphered correctly, show the path of incarnation. Is this all based on matrix codes?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, this has a basis, because some civilizations see the world in combinations of digital energies. This is not just energy that is taken - for example, 4 quanta, or 40 quanta, or something else. But these creatures can simply translate theirs into the earthly language of the contactee only through numbers: there are no other analogies for translating this contact information.

So, the message is from zero to nine.

0 - Unmanifestation or the Divine world, the Kingdom of Heaven, that is, what has always existed, Eternity.

1 - denotes the Being in this eternity, the Superbeing, the Supermind of the Absolute.

The message goes like this: “From unmanifested eternity, the Absolute separated energy and matter for creativity in Love. Work on understanding the Universe with faith and compassion, sympathy, mercy, that is, with active Love.”

Why did I say this message now, because each of these concepts corresponds to a number from 0 to 9.

0 is the Kingdom of God, the Light of Eternity. In any case, of course, there are many names in different civilizations in different languages, but I speak in a more or less understandable language for everyone.

Maxim: It’s clear for earthlings, at least for us.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I speak Russian, understandable, probably, for representatives of all philosophical, religious and other concepts in the words that can be understood. Because for people who adhere to one worldview system, it will be one word, but for others it will be another word. Let's just call it - Light of Eternity.

So, the Light of Eternity is designated - 0;

The absolute is designated - 1;

separation, separation - 2;

energy - 3;

matter - 4;

creativity - 5;

Love - 6;

labor, work, creation - 7;

Universe, Space and at the same time knowledge - 8;

faith, charity and the manifestation of Love in action are 9.

I just told you how to read this message. And you see, it is even possible to derive the main idea of all spiritual teachings and all spiritual practices from the Universal Trinity Code. If we take 3, multiply it first by 2, and then by 3, then we will get the series: 3, 6, 9. And if we look at what concepts these numbers represent and manifest, we will see: this is the energy of Love in the manifest action of mercy and faith.

Maxim: I understand. So, by combining numbers, you can combine these components?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes. In some teachings of many planets of the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light, there are entire tables where each number is single-digit, two-digit, three-digit, etc. - have some kind of code that deciphers the action of spiritual energy through the subtle-material plane onto the physical plane.

Maxim: I see. I will repeat it again for the audience. It turns out that if we move from 0 to 9, then from each new digit we obtain a consequence of the previous one? That is, first the Absolute, then comes energy, matter, etc.?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, this is the consistent deployment of the Divine energy of the Absolute and then its return to itself in a new quality.

15:07 Raom Tiyan about the meaning of RamHa among the ancient Slavs.

Maxim: Raom Tiyan, I have a question for you. I've been wanting to ask for a long time, but now it's time - apparently, the Higher Self suggested it. In ancient times, when there were ancient Slavs with a Vedic worldview, they called this Supermind, the Absolute, the Great RamHa. You cannot say what is encrypted here, why Great RamHa?

Irina: What is encrypted in this word?

Maxim: Yes, RamHa - what is it? Why did the ancient Slavs call the Absolute this way?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The word RamHa has its origin in one of the dialects of the planet Shimor. And RamHa in this language meant the Self-existent principle, that is, the Beginning, the Source, which has an essence in itself and supports itself. You can say so - a perpetual motion machine, only it is not some kind of material object, but a Being that itself supports its own existence and does not need anyone else.

Maxim: So, there is reason to believe that this term came to Vedic Rus' from Shimor?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): There is even a planet that in the Shimor language sounds like Ramharut, and this is one of the colonies of our planet, Burkhada. I don’t know how it will be in Daraal, but in our language it is called Sintrapush and is translated as “First Colony”. She is also located in the Cygnus Constellation.

Maxim: Will this be “First Colony” in Pikran language?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, but in Daraal, in which Irina is given names, I don’t know, it needs to be translated.

Maxim: Okay.

18:10 Raom Tiyan about the symbol of the Universal Trinity Code.

Maxim: Let's move on then, we have a lot of questions. Is there a common cultural graphic symbol of the Universal Trinity Code in the Interstellar Union, for example, its pictogram, emblem? Where can the VTK symbol be found publicly in the worlds of the Interstellar Union: is it found in the form of mantras, mandalas, religious symbols, amulets, etc.?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): This symbol is usually indicated by a triangle that is turned upward, that is, there are three angles.

Maxim: An isosceles triangle that is turned up?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, these three angles mean 3, and at the top of each angle there may be other signs, for example, symbols that are different in different civilizations (shows Irina some incomprehensible squiggles). They mean exactly what I said about the meaning of the numbers 1, 2, 3, and 1 will be located on the left side, 2 on the right side, and at the top there will be the number 3. That is, 1 + 2 = 3.

Maxim: Interesting. Is this symbol used publicly somewhere in the worlds of the Interstellar Union?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): This is in those media that we transmit to others - in the texts where this is written, there is such a symbol.

Maxim: Is it used somewhere in the worlds of MS and GFS in the form of mantras, mandalas, amulets?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): In the form of amulets? If someone wants to take this as an amulet, they can, of course, do so. But the fact is that, according to the Interstellar Union's understanding of energy, an amulet can be any object that is dear to this humanoid for some reason, purely emotionally, that evokes in him, as you say, high vibrations, high feelings, as a reminder. Since looking at this object or some image, if it evokes a surge of pleasant memories and associations in a humanoid, it will already be an amulet, because it helps to increase vibrations.

20:55 Raom Tiyan about the six-pointed star symbol.

Maxim: Raom Tiyan, I am familiar with ufological information and with the description of physical contacts of some civilizations that arrive. Sometimes, when people boarded a ship (they were invited by one or another civilization), and there was a symbol of a six-pointed star, for example, on the overalls, and the civilization described this symbol, defined it as an energy balance: one triangle is directed upward, the other balances it, balance is obtained . Is this true or not, can you confirm this information?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): As I already said, one triangle pointing upward is a symbol of the Universal Trinity Code. If you connect two triangles and one is directed downward and the other upward, and you get 6 angles (we have already said that 3 and 6 are interconnected numbers), then this sign will denote the Universal Trinity code, manifested as the energy of Love. Because 6 is Love for that being who is aware of this Love and has put this sign on its form. This is like a symbol of enlightenment, because enlightenment is considered to be Love as the source of life. The one who has realized this, he shows it to others with such a sign.

It's like you have a sign of certain religious denominations, but only with you people can wear these clothes just to belong to a religious denomination. And it is customary for us, since we do not have formalized religions, to wear such a uniform if, for example, humanoids come into contact, for example, with earthlings. Thus, they can express the habit of putting on this form with the sign of Love and enlightenment - as a sign to everyone around them and to themselves that they are endowed with a mission to bring Light, Love and enlightenment. These are some space travelers from some planets, but in general they can be from any planet.

Maxim: So these overalls with such a badge are used specifically when working with earthlings?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): It's like a sign of peace, because the number 6 is also peaceful. "We came in peace, with Love and brought you enlightenment," this is approximately how this sign should be interpreted. And among other things, it is sewn on, not sewn on, but...

Maxim: Clearly, it is done using other technologies.

Irina: He is now showing me some kind of ray that changes the tissue, the color of this tissue precisely by a point change in the characteristics of the substance so that it reflects the necessary rays (shows Irina an energy ray that draws).

Maxim: Changes the properties of the fabric?

Irina: Yes, he kind of draws on it. Such a laser marker (laughs). But he says it's just an automatic device for applying symbols, letters, and inscriptions to clothes and various objects. And this sign is applied to clothes, including for the earthlings themselves, so that they understand that they are coming to them in peace.

Maxim: Moreover, it is interesting that in the case of these contacts the person remembered this sign; his memory was not blocked. This means that memory is not always blocked: it is necessary for him to convey information to others - was that the case in this case?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Memory is blocked for several reasons. This may be a request from the person himself. Or it could be a person's behavior that shows that psychologically and spiritually he lacks awareness and willingness to live on Earth with the awareness of the fact that he has been in physical contact with alien civilizations. There are such people.

Maxim: I see, I agree here.

26:12 Raom Tiyan about the main principle of the Universal Trinity Code.

Maxim: Next question. How is the idea of the integrity of the VTK expressed, the law of its primary unity, if we denote this in one phrase? Is there some general principle that this law expresses?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The Universal Trinity Law of Existence can be expressed in the phrase: "Matter and energy originated from information and consist of special states of information substance, and all of this is one. Unity of trinity and trinity in unity." You can put it this way.

What is information? This is not just data, it is a spiritual substance containing the characteristics of a particular object. And it is with the help of information that energies can appear, including ethereal ones, that is, what are called plasmoid worlds.

In general, there are 6048 types of material energies in the material world, and only 9 of them are physical. As you can see, the number 9 appears again in the physical world. Again, I want to emphasize that this is according to the teachings of the Interstellar Union, because there are civilizations that decompose the number of material elements into other numbers.

Maxim: I see. Then I have a corrective question. As far as I understand, the information here, as a spiritual component, is primary, and matter and energy already come from it?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): According to the teachings of the Interstellar Union, matter and energy are, one might say, manifestations, embodiments, avatars of information.

Maxim: And in this case, it is possible to influence informationally, changing the properties and qualities of matter and energy of this spiritual component?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): First (shows to Irina) any material process occurs in time - which means it consists of three phases: beginning; flowering, or highest point, zenith; and the end. But we can also consider this cycle, including more detailed components, that is, other numbers, for example: the beginning, the period of growth, the highest point, the period of decline and the end.

But if we reduce all this, we can say that any material process (and the existence of a material object of any density, existence itself is a material process), be it an atom, a star, an object of the plasmoid world or a body of any density - in any case, the existence of this object on the time axis will consist of three points. And the information component of each of these points changes. At the beginning, a change occurs in the information matrix, and then the state of this object changes along the vector that I said.

31:36 Raom Tiyan about the process of creating a new star.

Maxim: And if we, say, take a star that has a certain lifespan - also a beginning, a peak and then an end, a decline - then it turns out that information has a qualitatively different effect? Does it have a long lifespan because information affects it in this regard differently than other space objects?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, I'll now give an example of a star. Before a star appears, in your opinion, calculations are needed, that is, a certain set of data about this star. For example, it should include: understanding, information about the space where this star will be located - about the dimension of this space, for example, cubic, as you measure (one can say - about the measures of the length of the space where this star will be located); about the amount of energy manifested in hydrogen atoms - for example, how many atoms there should be at its birth; about its mass, density, etc. These are certain numbers that must be known before the creation of this star, before its appearance.

It seems to the human eye that the stars in the sky have existed and will always exist. But in reality this is not so, there was a time when all these stars were not there, and the time of their appearance is not uniform.

When information has already appeared that such a star is necessary, you need to show energy in order for it to arise. Since it appears in physical space, in a physical cluster, which consists of three levels of density, then we understand: in order for information to materialize in the form of a beam of electromagnetic waves, and even more so - grouped into atoms, this information must come from the Spiritual world.

She can't just appear in a vacuum, because then nothing will happen. It must pass through all levels of density of the material world, and ultimately at the third level of density, which includes the second and first, because the third level of density is called by the name of the cluster - physical. And for it to appear there, in this space, it is necessary that this information, passing through the subtle-material plane, gradually acquires materiality. This is the period of incarnation. But this process does not proceed randomly, but with the help of intelligent Spirits embodied at all levels of density. That is, for the appearance of this star, the Absolute allocated a certain amount of information, which later will become completely material quanta (shows Irina images).

Maxim: And this information goes down the chain through the Spiritual world, through the spiritual entities that are responsible for the formation?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, she descends through worlds of different densities and forms her object in one density or another. Plasmoids, intelligent Spirits who are embodied in plasmoids - their task is precisely to collect energy coming from the Higher planes, from higher levels of density, condense it and send it to the lower one.

And so they work until this information from information already becomes energy, acquires such an ability as, for example, to change over time in its subtle expression. But there are no physical energies there yet, these are ethereal energies.

Maxim: Raom Tiyan, I'll clarify here. Interestingly, etheric energies - they carry an information flow within themselves, and it is, as it were, supplemented by these energies?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The information will be enclosed in an ethereal shell. It's not even just a shell: ether and information will seem to merge with each other, and something third will emerge. And then, when this information and the energy of this, so to speak, future protostar reaches the second cluster, which is in front of the first, in front of the physical one...

The second cluster consists of the fourth, fifth and sixth density levels. The task of those plasmoids that live there, being in this space (after all, at any point in space there are all levels of density, they are simply nested one within the other), the task of those who are in this space, as you say, in a parallel world, living in parallel next to you plasmoids - take ethereal energy from the ethereal ocean surrounding these two clusters and condense it together with the information encapsulated in it until a star appears in the physical world. This is not a quick process, it gradually condenses, and such a star appears.

Maxim: Is this already a transfer to the atomic level, to the material level?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes. As we have already said, in one hydrogen atom, no matter what state of aggregation it is in... In this case there will be a plasma state, not even plasma at first, plasma only later, just atoms, but if you collect many, many atoms, then this there will be a solid state. This is only later, when they gather, there will already be plasma - because those energies that were needed according to the plan, and which were included in the information matrix initially, will come out. So, in order to collect one hydrogen atom, you need to collect 1600 quanta together. You yourself understand perfectly how many atoms there can be.

Maxim: Yes, yes.

Irina: That's a job for them (laughs)!

Maxim: I understand.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): 1600 quanta are collected according to special laws of structuring of physical matter so that 55% of the energy is at the third energy level. These 55% of energy are given a certain vector acceleration around each other, and they become gravitons, etc. And that's all...

40:32 Raom Tiyan about the Absolute, as the main designer of all things.

Maxim: Look, Raom Tiyan, here is an important question: all these assembly processes, the ratio of energies of one to another - is all this collected according to information from the Absolute? Anyway, is he the main designer?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, He is the main designer, but this information is already embedded in the ethereal protostar itself, inside of which there is an information matrix that descends from above. This information, which guides the creation of a star, is what you call “the laws of nature.”

Maxim: I understand. Is this some kind of information algorithm sent down by the Creator, according to which everything is created, including biological life on the planets, etc.?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes. Of course, there is scope for creativity, but only, naturally, within the strictly defined framework of the Universe - what you call the laws of nature.

Maxim: Are there strict algorithms set by the Absolute, within their framework everything is created?

Irina (Raom Tian): Yes.

I suggest that Irina, together with Demeter, as well as with me, with MidgasKaus, with LiSioni and with any curator from the Interstellar Union, begin to compile the most approximate “Almanac of Plasmoid Civilizations” - at least by clusters, so that it is clear what they are doing. What do you think about that?

Maxim: This is very interesting. There is a huge scope for research, I just don’t know, time needs to be allocated for everything.

Irina: I actually already wrote something - what the clusters are called. Since we do not have such sounds in our language to translate into earthly language, I was asked to take some words from Sanskrit that denoted certain energies. But you need to understand that these names, of course, are symbolic, because how plasmoids communicate with each other - in our earthly language there are not even approximately such sounds.

And I have already described the clusters in general: what levels of density are included in them, what they roughly do - literally a few sentences, what the representatives look like. Again, each cluster contains three levels of density, and this can be many, many millions of worlds if we take all the Galaxies, very approximately and always citing the civilization of each cluster as an example.

And here it is necessary to remember that between the clusters there is an ethereal ocean, which contains the energy for the creation of matter in these two clusters. For example, between the physical, or first, cluster and the second cluster, which contains the fourth, fifth, sixth levels of density, and our physical - the first, second and third, between them there is an etheric ocean, the potential energy of which, contained in this reservoir, 700 times more than the energy of all quanta of the physical Universe combined.

Maxim: Yes, impressive.

Irina: Interesting.

Maxim: Okay, Raom Tiyan, let's move on. This is a separate topic, we will also explore it as much as possible.

I have a summary question, I'll say it again for the audience. It turns out that all information matrices and algorithms for creating the evolution of living and nonliving matter in the Universe were created by the Absolute?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Laws have been created, and these laws are called "Information Model" or "Information Matrix".

Maxim: Okay.

44:56 Raom Tiyan about the action of the Universal Trinity Code in different manvantaras.

Maxim: Then let's move on. Within what limits of our Universe does the Universal Trinity Code have force? Does it operate in the Spiritual, plasmoid worlds? Did he act?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): It works, but in its own way. There is a manifestation of a general spiritual law. As I already said, at each level of density, through each type of body, it manifests itself differently, depending on the type of matter, even on the worldview of a particular Spirit, etc.

Maxim: The structure of subtle worlds also occurs in accordance with the information matrices of the Absolute?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Three levels of density are a physical cluster. They are also arranged in three clusters.

Maxim: I see. Okay, let's move on. Did these laws of nature, or VTC, as we now say, operate in the previous manvantaras? Or was it different there?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): In general, each manvantara has its own laws of matter and energy, therefore...

Maxim: So there is some kind of individuality in each manvantara?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, there could be worlds and there may be worlds that are completely different from what we have now. There could be a completely different number of density levels, a completely different passage of time, etc.

Maxim: In connection with this, then a question. The Absolute, changing these parameters, carries out some experiments in each new manvantara, or how to understand this?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): He gives the opportunity to the Spirits that originated from him, were born, manifested themselves, to manifest their qualities through matter of different types, in different worlds. Not just to gain experience, for the sake of experience, but so that each Spirit, completely freely going through this or that experience, could become equal to Him in strength and capabilities. And this is impossible without a single will with Him, merging with Him, the 24th level of the Spiritual world is merging.

Maxim: Next question. To what extent is this knowledge about the Universal Trinity code universal, stable and eternal in the Universe? Do you know about Universal codes in other Universes? Basically, you said that in other...

Irina (Raom Tiyan): In other Galaxies there is something similar, because, as I have already said, this knowledge from the Spiritual World is transmitted by various Angels, Archangels.

Maxim: Only in different worlds and in different Galaxies it may differ slightly, but the essence is the same?

Irina (Raom Tian): Yes.

47:55 Raom Tiyan on the differences in scientific theories within the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: Okay. How did you and other members of the Interstellar Union test the Trinity Code in practice and reconcile possible disagreements and divergences of different scientific approaches to it?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): We have the concept of different theories, but disagreements... We just have different views on the same issue, but this is not called disagreement, it’s just our own unique experience.

Maxim: Another point of view on the same process?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, my unique experience. Even if someone believes that it is his experience that is more correct, closer to the truth, and the other is mistaken, then there are no disputes. Because the one who believes that he is close to the truth knows that the truth is in Love, and therefore in giving another intelligent being the opportunity to go through these mistakes on his own, through his own experience. You can suggest, but they will not impose. Think about it like that - that's all.

Maxim: It turns out that different civilizations of the Interstellar Union have a common foundation, but there are some differences in views?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): There are differences, not even differences, but different scientific theories, because there are a lot of scientists. As I already said, our science is not like yours - it studies many different things of the subtle world, the Spiritual world, and, of course, each scientist or group of scientists develops some kind of scientific concept, theory, which is then tested in practice. And on the same subject, these views may differ, and even be opposite, but this does not in the least interfere with someone's scientific search.

Moreover, our civilization of the Interstellar Union has laid down in the educational standards for the education of children such fundamental subjects and methods of teaching them, so that the younger generation that will replace ours will develop a desire for scientific research from childhood without fear of falling under criticism.

Maxim: What we don't have on Earth yet, because our criticism can be harsh in this regard.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I know. In our schools, for example, we don't even have such a grading system; everything is different here.

Maxim: To summarize, Raom Tiyan, you said: there can be different views, even opposite ones. As I understand it, there are different views on those physical phenomena that are at the level of hypotheses, where it is not yet clear how everything works. Or maybe there are already - where are the clear processes?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): For example, there may be different views on history. One historian may believe that this event happened this much time ago, and another historian may believe that this is how long ago, and each confirms it with his own arguments. And since we are taught to consider events through the Astral, through the astral plane, through the Timeline, the so-called Akashic Chronicles...

52:00 Raom Tiyan about the Time Tape.

Maxim: There you can find out exactly when everything really happened?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, but you, as a ufologist, working with contactees and esotericists in general, know very well that if five esotericists, clairvoyants, independently of each other, look at an event to which they did not have information access, they will succeed different result.

Maxim: Yes, I agree.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): You know this well. Because everyone looks through their own perception and tunes in to that part of the Timeline that is close to their worldview. It can even tune in to one that did not materialize in reality, but could be embodied.

Maxim: I understand. It turns out that in order to find out the true events that happened in objective reality, you also need to be able to approach this process, to properly tune in? So that you don't have any emotions or any biases?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Usually verification is carried out in other ways, for example, various historical artifacts, some kind of confirmation. And the version that various astral travelers saw is considered the closest to the one that was actually in material reality and is confirmed by various sources, and not to the one that did not materialize.

For example, even in your Project "Cassiopeia" this manifested itself when MidgasCaus told us - me and other Earth specialists - that there was contact with Irina when they asked her and MidgasCaus to review the situation regarding the Dyatlov group. I know that this situation is very well known in the esoteric environment.

Maxim: Yes, more people are inclined to believe that some aggressive creatures killed them there, but it turns out that this is not the case at all.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Many contactees who viewed this situation in the Astral through their curators or through their Spirit told completely different versions of this reality that did not agree with each other. This was especially clear if these people were not familiar with each other's testimonies. But this does not mean that they deceived anyone, but they saw what they saw.

And for what reason did they see different things? They tuned in to those branches of the Time Tape, streams, sleeves (it can also be called the River of Time), which contained this option. Moreover, since this story happened quite a long time ago, and there was a lot of talk about it, many films were made, books were written, it has already entered the egregor of your state, and, tuning into this situation, you can get into the egregor and see for example, the events of the book.

It is when you are in the Astral that you have no way to clearly distinguish whether these visions are egregorial or what was written in the Time Tape. Even when looking through the Akashic Chronicles - the so-called field memory - you need to understand that the Akashic Chronicles are a memory effect of the etheric field, in which various events are reflected on the etheric matrices of space, like in a mirror. You need to understand that events are reflected there, not only those occurring in the material world, but also all sorts of egregorial records, and the same Time Tape.

There has already been a lot of research by specialists of the Interstellar Union: psychologists, futurologists, the same historians and others, a lot of views through the Spiritual world, and we have come to the unequivocal conclusion that this attunement still depends on the internal content of a person’s heart, his mental field, astral field : He is drawn there and begins to see it.

Maxim: I see, I understand what you are talking about. Our brain works on the same principle, I have often encountered this, when a person is close to a picture of the world or a scientific model that he likes, for which he has some sympathy. Do you understand what I'm talking about? This happens automatically.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The whole point here is that he can see in the Astral not only what he consciously likes, and can even see things that are disgusting to himself, with which he will not agree, but will describe them. There were such cases too. This, rather, is not even conscious consent, but the internal vibration of his Spiritual heart - what events he will see: more negative or more positive probabilities. He may see and may even claim that he does not believe in it, but he is still drawn to it. Yes, there were such cases too.

Maxim: Raom Tiyan, then the question is fundamental. Is it possible to gain knowledge of such a level when you can competently pull out information from the Time Tape, while in the Astral Plane, that will be close to objective reality?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Only by comparison with objective reality, because the inner world of each Spirit is part of the universal Spiritual world.

Maxim: So, in any case, it will be necessary to compare it with other information, draw conclusions, is it not all that simple?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, everything needs to be compared and considered together. That is why I know, and my friend Bergastre, who is the head of the Galaxy Security Service, also knows well that when preventing certain crimes, or investigating crimes that have already been committed using spiritual methods, different views are also possible, but they must be combined and coordinated with objective methods that exist in the physical world. Because what happened in the physical world has traces in it, and it is necessary to study them with the help of those sense organs and instruments that are tuned to the vibrations of the physical world. And the spiritual component here may simply be to clarify some details.

Maxim: I understand, then you just need to put together this mosaic - events on the physical and spiritual planes?

Irina: Yes.

1:00:21 Raom Tiyan about the Universal Trinity Code in other Galaxies and Unions.

Maxim: Okay, then the next question. Is the Universal Trinity Code or some other code different for the Galactic Federation of Light and the unions of other Galaxies? You said that there may be some differences, but the basic principle is the same.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): There are simply different understandings, as I already said at the beginning. Message from 0 to 9 - it can be read in different ways, in different words, but everyone has a general concept that it exists and that it is taken from the Spiritual world.

1:01:01 Raom Tiyan about the role of the Universal Trinity Code in the cultural life of the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: What role and significance does the Universal Trinity Code have in various cultural spheres of the Interstellar Union: philosophical, religious, scientific and technical, economic, even everyday, perhaps?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): What significance? I would not say that this is significance; it is one of the laws of the Universe, which we take into account, for example, when studying various sciences. As you already know, even in our spiritual psychology the Spirit is divided into three parts. When we study some phenomenon or some object, we look for these three main features, so to speak, or three main parts.

Maxim: So, in accordance with this law, three fundamental parts are always present in any phenomenon?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): As I already said, in time there is a beginning, a flourishing and an end. So in any object you can find three components. For example, even if we take a person, then he has a body, a Soul and a Spirit. In a person there is a body, there is an incarnate part of it, and there is a Spirit, that is, a disembodied part.

Also, if we take, for example, the physical body, then how can it be decomposed into three, in anthropomorphs, for example? These are the head, body and limbs, that is, the thinking part, then the part with the help of which various energies move in the body. They are located in the torso: this is the heart, it pumps blood, and the gastrointestinal tract extracts energy from food (both blood and food are forms of energy). And limbs are for movement and action. You see here that even the body, its structure in its own language shows the structure of the Spirit, and so on in everything.

Maxim: I see. Then the next question.

1:03:54 Raom Tiyan about subjects studying the Universal Trinity Code in schools of the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: At what age and in what form are children of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union given an idea and understanding of the Universal Trinity Code? How does early development of this knowledge occur in practice?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): We have included this knowledge in subjects studying nature - natural history and the psychology of the Spirit - literally from the first grade, from the first cycle of education, as we call it. Children are told what the Spirit consists of, and there they are already given an understanding of its three parts - namely, the Spiritual heart, the Spiritual mind, and the Spiritual forces or energies.

Maxim: Is the same process happening in all civilizations of the Interstellar Union?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): We have a single standard of education, but it is adapted to the capabilities of the brain of certain creatures and to their language.

Maxim: Under the individual perception of the Universe?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes. For example, if the Earth enters the Interstellar Union, and your educational institutions are brought to the educational standards of the Interstellar Union, many representatives of the planet Disaru will fly to Earth so that they begin to help the Earth integrate into the MC, since they have the same like you, consciousness, brain, etc., and it is their standard of education that will be taken as the base for the Earth.

1:05:36 Raom Tiyan on testing the Universal Trinity Code in practice.

Maxim: Okay. Next question. How to check the Universal Trinity Code for objective validity in simple everyday life? That is, how can it be proven in practice?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Again, this is the decomposition of an object into three parts. Let's take an atom, for us it consists of three energy levels: the first, second and third energy levels. On Earth, where the planetary model of the atom is, they still appear in slightly different names: your atom consists of electrons, protons and neutrons. And even (I studied this question), if what you call quantum physics studies the various energies and various particles that make up the very components of the atom, then there is also a decomposition into the number of quanta, which are also taken in groups of three. There is a ternary code everywhere - practically both in Spirit and in matter. And you can easily find evidence of the existence of the ternary code for yourself if you just look at any object: even its dimensions are expressed in three planes.

Maxim: Yes, that’s right: length, height, width.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): And each of these planes is one of the sides of space, which is located from one segment to another along one side, from one segment to another along the other side, and from one segment to another perpendicularly (draws a cube). And each of these quantities can be expressed in digital equivalent, and this will be information about the size of the object.

Also, any object has not only size, but also shape, and any shape can also be divided. Even if we take a circle, it consists of a center (we call this the center), a circle, and the circle itself are connected by a connection - what you call a diameter. This is how the circle turns into a ball and becomes voluminous.

You can take any object and break it down into three components. But, naturally, as I already said, there are beings who have a different number system, and they can, for example, decompose into seven or twelve components. But precisely for us, who are in the civilization of Burkhad and the civilization of Earth - in this we are similar, in many respects, of course, this is due to the fact that...

Maxim: Your DNA is in us.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, there is DNA, but this is largely due to the fact that both we and you have five fingers on our hands and feet, this is not accidental, and each finger, of course, is a symbol. Why aren't there six or four of them, but each finger is also an expression of some specific essence of yours, and that's why the decimal system exists. After all, it is the fingers of a human being that are his first ability to count, when the rational Spirit only recently embodied in this species, and one might say, he was emerging from the animal stage of existence, and the first thing he could count was on his fingers. This is how the decimal system developed.

1:10:58 Raom Tiyan about the structure of matter in the civilizations of the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: Raom Tiyan, let's move on, we still have questions. These three energy levels - do all civilizations of the Interstellar Union have such a concept, or is it slightly different for some?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Almost everything. This is included in the educational standard.

Maxim: And, let's say, in the GFS it's a little different, or are there also three levels of energy? How do they view the atom and its structure?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Only the names are in other languages, and there are three levels of energy too: they came out of the Interstellar Union, Futissa, they have the same understandings. There is no planetary model of the atom.

Maxim: Is it possible that other civilizations that do not belong to the Interstellar Union, or even our Galaxy, have a slightly different view of the atom?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Of course, there are different ideas about the structure of matter. But in any case, the scientific knowledge of a particular civilization will still reflect reality in the form in which the scientific knowledge of this civilization was able to approach this law of nature.

Maxim: The level of their knowledge reflects in any case.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Earthly civilization also did not always know about atoms.

Maxim: So, gradually, when they receive new information, their level of knowledge changes, becomes higher, and they update their scientific data? Is it happening the same way as we do, in principle?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, it happens that the old one is supplemented and revised.

1:12:40 Raom Tiyan about the Universal Trinity Code on Earth.

Maxim: Now let's move on to the topic "The Universal Trinity Code on Earth." And here's an interesting question. In what earthly cultures and artifacts of the past can we find graphic traces of mention of the Universal Trinity Code?

Irina: In what earthly cultures?

Maxim: Yes, maybe in the ancients. Did any ancient cultures know this and record it?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): For example, in Christianity there is the concept of the Trinity.

Maxim: In Ancient Egypt, for example, or in Ancient Greece, did they know about this?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I am not a historian.

(Irina) He just can only talk about the Galaxy, about understanding in the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: Okay, then the next question. What is the significance of the Universal Trinity Code for ordinary inhabitants of the Earth, and what fundamentally depends on this knowledge in life? How important is this code for our adequate understanding of the existence of the Universe?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I already answered this question when I talked about the message. There was a message there. And what does it mean for each person? Everyone determines the meaning of this or that knowledge for themselves.

Maxim: I agree.

Maxim: Then the next question. Why, in your opinion, have earthly scientists, philosophers, esotericists, mystics and religious ministers still not been able to come to a common agreement in understanding the laws of nature of the Universal Code? What forces hinder earthlings?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The same forces that prevent them from coming to agreement on other issues.

Maxim: That is, our human nature?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The nature of your human brain, divided into two hemispheres, gives rise to duality of thinking - such a characteristic of the perception and thinking of the Spirit, which manifests itself through this brain, which, initially in the perception of information, divides it fundamentally into what is close to itself and far from itself, and in terminology - good and evil, black and white, truth and lies. Already in the process of perception and in the process of thinking, processing information, you divide this data from the Universe into two opposite information components: what is close to your heart, you call truth, good, etc., and what is very different, you call it lies, evil, etc. Therefore, you have various disputes and aggression.

Aggression already occurs as a reaction of the Soul - its energetic, emotional reaction to that object (and the idea is in perception, naturally, an object) that does not coincide with its worldview. And this energy of aggression and anger is released in order to change it. The initial task of anger and aggression is the creation of reality, but since it goes through dualism and already formed blocks, it manifests itself in the form of destruction, not creation. And it is for this reason that in earthly philosophical, scientific, religious concepts and theories the idea is developed that without destruction it is impossible to build anything.

And there is practically no development of the idea that any reality can be improved not through destruction, but through new understanding and awareness, and through re-creation for more creative purposes, and the use of previously low-vibration negative energy in a brighter direction. Because of this, you have an aggressive world, and you cannot come to an agreement on various, even purely everyday issues, or religious issues, or political ones. I'll give you an example now. (Irina) Smiles, now looking for an example to give. “You have a lot,” he says, “of them.”

Maxim: You can take politics, we have a lot of examples there.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): If you take politics, you will see that there are certain ideas that some political groups adhere to, and opposite ideas that other political groups adhere to, and because these ideas do not coincide, these political groupings there is aggression towards each other and a decrease in vibrations.

1:18:31 Raom Tiyan about criticism in the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: Also, Raom Tiyan, I don’t know whether you agree or not, these are my observations, since we have animal instincts in our DNA, one of them is dominance, and dominance brings this: “I still want to be right ! We do not search for interactions.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Animal instincts are inherent in all humanoids, this is a manifestation of the nature of those animals from which a person, in this case, or another humanoid developed. An instinctive program is an automatic program of action of the body and brain without the influence of the intelligent, immortal Spirit on it. In fact, instincts are very useful programs that can help a person survive, adapt to reality, leave offspring, become a leader, etc.

Maxim: The main thing is to learn how to control them, as has been said many times.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Why can't you control them? Because the blocks are in the way. And blocks are formed, among other things, due to dualistic thinking, so there are certain grievances and anger that are formed in response to a different opinion, in response to criticism. Moreover, the very word "criticism" and its task are understood differently than in the Interstellar Union.

Naturally, we also have a disagreement with something, but, as I already said, it does not stigmatize the mistaken person by saying that he is, so to speak, of lower dignity, or that he is unworthy of something, some kind of attitude towards to yourself.

Maxim: So-called constructive criticism? Everyone can make mistakes.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): We all understand that a mistake, and of course it can happen in absolutely all intelligent beings, is not some kind of fault, but an experience. What does it mean? This means that it is impossible to act without error in the direction in which you acted for the first time or acted little. All the same, you will make mistakes in something, that is, you will not arrive at the result that you need, or that corresponds to the understanding of the truth that exists in objective reality.

I'll give you a simple example now. If a child solves mathematical problems, then in his brain he has not yet built an algorithm for adding, subtracting, multiplying and dividing numbers, that is, he does not yet have a mathematical understanding of reality, he does not yet have mathematical thinking, and he can make mistakes. He can solve a problem or an example in this way: for example, he will have 30+20, and he, having not yet learned how to add smaller numbers well, may make a mistake and not count that it will be 50, but write another number. But this does not mean that he is to blame for this, it is just his experience. This is about mathematics.

As for political topics, of course, your concept of politics, the understanding of political and economic processes on Earth in general among different groups, including among politicians themselves, is interesting.

1:23:06 Raom Tiyan about the political mechanism of influence on society in the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: Raom Tiyan, I'll interrupt a little, I just had an idea. The fact is that a schoolchild or someone else, of course, can make a mistake, and it won't be so terrible, this mistake. But when a politician makes a mistake, it ends in bloodshed, and sometimes terrible bloodshed.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): You see what's the matter, I'm talking about this right now. That when a politician makes a mistake, and society sees that his mistake leads to a decrease in the vibrations of this society, and even more so to the disembodiment of intelligent Spirits for some reason, then the task of this conscious society, if it is conscious, all together, in solidarity with each other, indicate policy for this mistake, and especially not to repeat it after him.

In our society there is a special political mechanism that helps the ruler in a particular society, in a city, in a country, because we have planets that are not divided into countries, but where there are different states. The political mechanism is the same for all planets included in the Interstellar Union. That ruler, that person who is entrusted with the responsibilities of managing society, creating various laws and monitoring their implementation for the benefit of the whole society - this is the goal of creating state power in general as an association of people, an egregor is built from individual individuals.

Firstly, we have a law that presupposes that before adopting a law mandatory for the entire society, it is necessary to draw up a draft of it. There is usually what you call a "legislature" that first conducts an analysis of how society might react to the law. Then a project is drawn up in the form of a table, graphs, how to implement this law, and how it will affect society. And the third stage: the draft of this law is literally in a few paragraphs, the very essence of this law is sent out in the form of an electronic mailing to electronic devices of the entire planet or the country where it is being introduced. And every adult citizen of the planet casts his vote for or against this law.

This law can be implemented if you vote for it... What you call voting, we call it “participation in the management of society by every citizen.” After all, every citizen is a full member of society, and this means that he builds the reality in which he wants to live. We have a subject called “Man and Society,” social studies, and it examines various political mechanisms of influence on society, and also explains what a person’s civil responsibility is to the state, to the authorities, to himself, to his ancestors and descendants.

Maxim: Raom Tiyan, please excuse me, let's not go deeper.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): And the second mechanism. In the event that some law that has already been implemented is not implemented as it was written, not in full, or its understanding and application in practice is distorted (this can happen, because a politician can also make mistakes, as you said , no one is immune from this, everyone can lower their vibrations and move away from the Light of Divine wisdom into some kind of mental wandering). And therefore there is such a mechanism as the abolition of the elected government.

If an initiative group in a society of 50 members sees that the ruler, the ruler in this society, in this country or on the entire planet is acting to the detriment of the entire society, a special appeal is drawn up to him so that for about 40-42 earthly days he spend a universal vote to remove oneself from office or to remain. Having received this petition, he is obliged to do so within 40 days, and if he refuses, a corresponding statement and report are delivered to the planet Burkhad to the Department for External Political Relations. And there, if this information is confirmed, then such a ruler will not only be removed from office, but may be sent to the planet of criminals.

Maxim: I see. But you have a different mechanism, you have a mechanism for influencing the ruler. We, as a rule, do not have this, because the ruler can put an army, a guard on the streets, which will simply press people, throw them into prison, etc.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): For example, we have various police officers, law enforcement is mainly carried out by robots, but again, even robots can be programmed to carry out the task of the ruler, for example, against the law of a particular state, it is impossible, they will simply refuse to obey, they will simply stand still.

Maxim: I see. Your situation is radically different; it’s more difficult for us here.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): But you have intelligent Spirits, how can they carry out orders that do not comply with the law?

Maxim: Well, how? If a person’s conscience is no longer functioning well, he will carry out any orders, including criminal ones.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Therefore, as representatives of the Spiritual world have already told you, every nation attracts one or another ruler.

1:30:20 Raom Tiyan about earthly sources of knowledge about the Universal Trinity Code.

Maxim: Let's move on to the ternary code again. What sources of knowledge on Earth about the Universal Trinity Code can you recommend for studying and better understanding the topic? Are there any books?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): You can study numerology, there are numerological systems there, quite a lot of them, the system of Pythagoras, for example, and his students (shows Irina some people). There are authors who wrote about numerology, and there is a certain understanding of each number. For example, in Kabbalah there is a teaching about numbers: what are their spiritual meanings. You can also study this. And most importantly, train your brain, train your thinking to see the trinity in everything, as I already said, even in the case, again, of the law.

The law itself can also be divided into three components - the letter of the law, the Spirit of the law and the fulfillment of the law. And it is very good for the development of society if all these three components: the letter of the law - what is written, the Spirit of the law - the idea for which it was adopted, and the execution of the law - what is manifested in practice, if they are harmonious with each other .

Maxim: It turns out that numerology is real, practical knowledge that can be applied in practice?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, numerology is the study of the spiritual meaning of numbers.

1:32:28 Raom Tiyan on the role of information in the Universal Trinity Code.

Maxim: I see. Then the next question. Now let's specifically touch on information - what concerns information. On Earth we have hundreds of definitions, interpretations of the meaning of the concept of “information”. Please clarify its essence, give your brief universal definition of this term.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Information is spiritual knowledge, it is a list of information about the state of an object or phenomenon. That is, it is always a mental component, it contains various data, as I already said when I talked about a star, which then manifests itself in matter.

Maxim: Okay. So, the source of information is, in any case, spiritual dimensions from the Absolute, does it come from Him?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes. Information can, of course, be recorded on material media, but in any case its source is the Spirit. For example, if you take a book, it has a certain weight, volume, it is a material object, but it contains information. And who is its source? Naturally, that intelligent being, the intelligent Spirit, who embodied this idea and information in a book, designed it. And if he had not put it into a book, it would have remained in his mental field.

Maxim: I see. Now let’s touch on this topic again and repeat it again. How do the primary categories of the ternary code relate to each other? What is information in relation to energy? You said, Raom Tiyan, first there is an information flow, then the ethereal energy grows around it.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Information in relation to energy is, so to speak, a guide to action for collecting these energies.

Maxim: Some initial algorithm?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): At the same time a source, because the energy itself, the ethereal worlds themselves, originated from the Spiritual world, which means from information. They gradually became denser, acquired an ethereal nature and became energy, and energy had already become dense matter.

Maxim: I see. Then what is information in relation to matter?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Information in relation to matter is meaning, and not just meaning, but also the law of its existence. Because the very existence of matter is determined by the information that exists about this material object: for example, the duration, the time of existence of this object, its shape, color, function - this is all information.

1:36:40 Raom Tiyan about the structure of information.

Maxim: If we consider a category of information, does it have its own structure of private elements, is the information systematically structured in your view into subcategories? If yes, which ones? Or is this some kind of unified information flow?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): This is knowledge, data about something, which contains the laws of the existence of the object and every detail of the energetic actions of this object.

Maxim: And here you can, Raom Tiyan, give such an analogy. If, for example, here on Earth I am a designer of any equipment or technology, then I create the project first on a computer, then this project is taken to the factory and built according to it. A project is information, and when some equipment is built, it is already material matter, as I understand it.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): First you create a project in your mental field, then only in the computer, and then transfer it to the factory.

Maxim: Yes, I agree.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): For example, even if you get into a car, the car is an object, it stands still. But in order for this object to move from one place to another, it must do some energetic work. So, that information - about the place of his destination, about the speed of movement and the number of stops - is given to him by you, as the Spirit moving him. This is one example.

1:38:34 Raom Tiyan about information and the Science of Imagery.

Maxim: How does the category of information relate to the concept of imagery and your science of it? This refers to the Science of Imagery.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): A lot of information can be put into the image of something, into one image. Any image is an information package. Therefore, the Science of Imagery studies the impact of images on the consciousness and behavior of individuals in order to develop them and increase vibrations, as well as counteract the effects of the Science of Imagery for the opposite purposes - lowering vibration and degradation.

This, for example, is observed, I have already said, we mentioned it here, when in a negative sense the Science of Imagery is used in those civilizations where political or religious groups, having opposing views on the same subject, themselves do not want to enter into a fight with each other friend, but use the Science of Imagery in order to set their people, their society or part of it against the enemy’s society. This is called "creating an image of the enemy."

In fact, creating an image of an enemy is a certain political technology in which special images are used to evoke negative emotions, feelings towards a particular person, and this arouses righteous anger, aggression, a sense of infringed justice, and the skillful hand of a manipulator directed against a certain people to achieve its goals. This is also used on Earth, especially since it is all enhanced, as I have already said, by the duality of thinking and the inability and lack of awareness in controlling one's instincts.

If even a very large number of people do not distinguish themselves from the body, consider themselves to be a physical body, then, naturally, any impulse, desire, instincts going through the body are accepted as a person's true desire - one that will advance him along the path to happiness. But this is not so, because there are still spiritual feelings, spiritual desires and spiritual goals, in addition to instinctive ones. And it is very easy for such unconscious intelligent beings, who do not realize themselves as Spirit, to create the image of an enemy, especially if they do not know and have not studied the Science of Imagery.

And I am very surprised that in your schools they do not teach the Science of Imagery in its full extent, so that every person from childhood can understand by what images different emotions can be evoked in him - negative and positive - and for what purposes. In our country, this science, this knowledge is included in the study in schools from childhood.

Maxim: I'll tell you, Raom Tiyan, why. Because if you teach this in school, then it will be more difficult for politicians to manage people, so they don't see the point in it, many politicians.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Then why do you gain political power through free elections...

Maxim: It even became funny.

Irina: Now I will laugh at him. Why, he says, in your society, through free elections (you have competition in political elections), will not those political forces come who, being in power, will offer the people a political program to free their thinking from patterns and images that lower vibrations?

Maxim: Raom Tiyan, let me answer you honestly. Our elections are, in quotation marks, elections, unfortunately.

Irina: (laughs) He will now ask: “Why don’t political forces come who promise to introduce this science?”

Maxim: These forces simply won’t allow you anywhere. This is how it works out for us: a system that seizes power is capsulated, then a conspiracy begins between political factions for spheres of influence, and new forces cannot break into this officially. Here the system needs to be completely changed, in my opinion, so it’s useless.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I just know that on Earth in different countries there are many political parties, movements, and each has its own program. And I wonder if there are parties whose programs include such an influence on education?

Maxim: I don’t know, I haven’t studied this issue, I’m interested myself.

1:44:28 Raom Tiyan about information and the creative process.

Maxim: Raom Tiyan, if we hypothetically consider the scheme. Here we have some composer who composes melodies that then become popular, and this composer, naturally, composes melodies based on his mental program - the information that appeared in his mental field, right? Lays down information to get this ringtone. So, does he himself generate information as part of the Absolute, as a creator, or does a request from him go to the Absolute, and the Absolute releases some kind of information flow, which it then turns into a melody?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): He himself can take it from his Higher Self, from the disembodied part of the Spirit.

Maxim: So the Higher Self has the ability to generate new information flows completely independently?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, he has imagination. Imagination is the ability of the mind to create new images, including new ideas. And the sounds in the mental field that arise in the composer - he does not hear them with his ear, they are images in this case.

Maxim: Is this the same information flow that he simply then implements into music?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): He hears it mentally, but this is his image of how he should hear this music, and then he transfers it to the sound of a physical instrument. He can play it, and it even happens that the sound of this instrument will not be similar to the sound that he had in the mental field, and he will look for another instrument or another way to express it in the physical world. And then, when he considers that this work is finished, it will be his creation, that is, it will already be information transferred to the physical plane in the form of sounds. Every sound is physical energy.

Maxim: I see. So, does the Higher Self have the ability to create new information packages that can create a new reality?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): This could be the Higher Self, or it could be the curator.

Maxim: I see, but in any case, every Higher Self has the ability, which the Absolute gave it, to create new things, do I understand correctly?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, and this ability of the creator is in his imagination as the ability to create new images, and in Russian it is called “imagination” - image, creation of images, the ability to do this.

1:47:07 Raom Tiyan about information carriers.

Maxim: Okay. Let's go over the topic again. What is the carrier of information: matter, energy or their symbiosis? But neither one nor the other, as I understand it?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The carrier of information is the information itself, this is the spiritual component. But, naturally, it can be recorded both on etheric matrices and on various physical objects, ranging from a piece of paper to some kind of microchips.

Maxim: Is information possible in a physical vacuum without matter?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): She is not in a physical vacuum, she is in the Spiritual world.

Maxim: No matter, yes?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Of course, she is there. In the physical world it will already be manifested in the form of matter. Simply information, without being filled with matter, exists in the Spiritual world.

1:48:05 Raom Tiyan about the transition of information into energy in the Time Tape.

Maxim: I see. Then the next question. In some video this term was given by Zaliatar (Zaliatar is our cosmic colleague, you know him). He said: “...the transformation of information into energy in the Timeline...” What does this mean, how can this be understood?

Irina: One more time.

Maxim: Zaliatar, who is from a planet belonging to the GFS, as far as I remember, in some video with Irina said that there is a transformation of information into energy in the Time Tape, some kind of process is happening.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Transformation of information into energy... This word is “transformation”, but I would call it “exposure”. That is, it is called differently, as I already said, by different scientists. What he meant here was precisely the transition of information from the Spiritual plane to the subtle-material one.

Maxim: Okay. Then I think we should say goodbye. Raom Tiyan, thank you very much, I am very grateful that I spoke with you today because I received new information that makes me rethink many things. Thank you so much!

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Thank you!

(Irina) Dear friends, thank you for watching this video, I hope you found it interesting and useful. See you again!

Maxim: See you again!

January 5, 2023

Participants:

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, subtle-material civilizations and the Spiritual world;

Maxim Bronevsky - engineer, theoretical physicist, ufologist;

Raom Tiyan is a representative of the planet Burhad, a specialist in energy interactions in the environment of the material and Spiritual world and transformations of various energies.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/put-k-absolyutnomu-schastyu
June 1st
The path to absolute happiness
Absolute happiness is possible only for the Absolute. We, His children, can approach this happiness, we can merge with it, we can experience it, but its limits are endless, like the Absolute itself. You can say there are no limits, you can say the limits are infinite, which actually means their absence, just like the Absolute itself.

How can we endlessly increase our level of happiness? Firstly, the realization that true happiness is found only in the Source, which is called on Earth God, or the Absolute, or the Source of everything. And in order to discover the source of this happiness in ourselves, we need to understand that it is always present in us and is revealed through the development of unconditional Love.

There are many forms of love on Earth, and all people have some of them simply as the ability to feel attraction to someone or something, attraction. The feeling of unconditional Love is a feeling of unity regardless of conditions. All forms of love that a person has are manifestations of this eternal, absolute Love.

But a manifestation or part is not the whole itself, it is only a manifestation. Therefore, if a person loves only pleasant things, pleasant people, relatives, friends, this is so-called egoistic love. The love of the ego (the ego as an embodied part of the Spirit, from the word “ego” - “I”) is by no means bad, but here you need to understand that this is partial love. And since this is partial love, it means that it gives only partial happiness.

If you want more complete Love, then you need to develop more complete, or as we call it, unconditional Love. What is the difference between selfish love and unconditional love? Selfish love between people can be between a parent and a child, between spouses, between friends. It differs from unconditional love, which can exist between the same individuals, in that with egoistic love a person loves and accepts another only as long as he meets his expectations. And unconditional love always loves, regardless of the mental or mental attitudes of the mind. Even if a person violates some rules and norms in a person’s mind, this person still continues to love him, send him Light, wish goodness, happiness and help him, including in his physical needs and in spiritual development.

I want to emphasize here a very important point that helping him does not mean doing everything for him, it is precisely helping, co-acting, accompanying him. Doing everything for another person is not Love, because this contributes to shifting responsibility onto the helper and can subsequently push the recipient of such help to laziness, irresponsibility, and, ultimately, to abandon his development and degradation.

Timecode: 52:56, #534 CASSIOPEIA on meditation. Silence of the mind: how to stop internal dialogue? Freedom of choice, karma. MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.

February 2023

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/midgaskaus-o-tempah-duhovnogo-razvitiya

2 June

MidgasCaus on the pace of spiritual development

Do you need to rush to awaken?

In order to truly achieve awakening as the full realization of yourself, your Spirit on Earth, the fulfillment of your tasks, you need to communicate with your Higher Self and find out from him the goals of incarnation, how much you are fulfilling them, and what is stopping you from doing so.

Striving for spiritual development is a very good thing, but it should not be accompanied by constant dissatisfaction with oneself. It's better to be in a calmer, more introspective state, which people don't do well with in a rush. From what I have observed of people, it is difficult for people to relax their body and mind if they are in a hurry to get somewhere, because it makes them anxious, afraid that they will not be on time, that they will not achieve something. Fear itself causes the release of certain hormones, which also affect the brain and block the release of those hormones that allow you to prepare for that very quiet, meditative state.

Each person must, of course, move at his own pace if he wants to achieve success in this, despite the achievements of others. This is not the case when you are in competition. This is a very subtle structure, this is a very subtle spiritual Light that can be felt by you in the silence of your heart, and haste is inappropriate here. Therefore, if you see that someone is ahead of you in their spiritual achievements, you do not need to scold yourself and try at all costs to achieve their results. You need to ask yourself: “What do I need to do to achieve my specific task?” Go inside yourself and ask.

To put it figuratively, there is Light in the Spiritual heart of a person, and this Light is covered by certain mental coverings, just as a beautiful bright flower is covered by a bud. And if it is not yet open, it is very dangerous to try to open it artificially, to hack it. This can damage the flower and cause it to never bloom again. Remember that you are God’s beloved children, and in the heart of each of you there is a “flower” of your talents, abilities and high spiritual feelings. But to reveal them, you need silence, you need respect, you need Love for this Light and for each other’s Light.

Parting words from MidgasCaus

Dear divine Souls! Remember that you are Light, and precisely the Light of Love! If you always keep this in your consciousness and memory, you will be able to track against this light background any dark points as dark images that may enter your aura, for example, from egregors or from other people, and send Light to them. And it won't have any effect on you. No one can scare you, make you angry, make you feel guilty, and so on. Remember that you are Light and always live in the Light! Remember that the space where you live is filled with Divine Light, only it manifests itself in the form of physical matter. Remember that your bodies are given to you temporarily to complete your task. Remember that the tasks of your life lie outside of it. I send you the Light of my Love!

Timecode: 57:43, #534 CASSIOPEIA on meditation. Silence of the mind: how to stop internal dialogue? Freedom of choice, karma.
MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.
February 2023
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/midgaskaus-ob-urovnyah-soznaniya
June 3
MidgasCause about levels of consciousness
There is conscious, preconscious, unconscious. What is behind the unconscious?
As you can see, the root of these three words, the basis of all of them, is the word “consciousness”. Here the conscious is meant everywhere, the remaining words - “preconscious” and “unconscious” - have prepositions. We will define what is “conscious” for you. Because, as far as I have studied earthly psychology, there are dozens of definitions of consciousness in different psychological and esoteric schools. I will assume that you are using the classic definition of consciousness as the reflection of objective reality in the subjective perception created by the work of the brain.
If you use the classical definition, then the “preconscious” in the understanding of the classical definition is that part of consciousness where information initially arrives from the external world, and where it is processed, before reaching awareness, that is, the perception of objective reality. And the “unconscious” in this personality model is that part of the psyche where those memories that a person does not want to think about are repressed. His desires, which for some reason he wants to remove from the field of his consciousness. And just those things that he doesn’t remember, that is, which he doesn’t think about for a long time and forgets. And all this ends up in the “unconscious” - a set of specific programs that he uses without realizing them. Because a desire that is repressed into the “unconscious” still continues to influence a person, but this time unconsciously.
This concerns the classical model of psychology, as I understand it. As for the model of consciousness, that is, the structure of the intelligent Spirit in the Interstellar Union, all these words denote different levels of consciousness.
From the point of view of the Interstellar Union, consciousness is the energy for perceiving the world around us and ourselves.
“Preconscious” and “unconscious” in this paradigm of scientific thinking denote the levels of manifestation of the energy of perception directed at a particular object in the world.

That is, “preconsciousness” is a level of comprehension of reality that involves an expanded perception of many objects as a single whole. And the “unconscious” is an instinctive, unconscious perception that the entire animal world has, and to which a person can come as a result of various pathologies of thinking or, for example, brain disease. This is from our point of view.
Timecode: 27:36, #527 One-on-one with Irina Podzorova / Answers to questions.
MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.
January 2023
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/put-chelovechestva-rabota-nad-strahami
June 4
The path of humanity. Working on Fears
A specific person who is in a country or territory where many people believe in destruction, in the creative power of their own aggression, must understand that the aggression of some people creates fear not only in other people, but also in the aggressors themselves.
Fear is a natural consequence, a natural emotion that manifests itself as protection from danger. If a person feels aggression, he tells his brain, his instinct (that part of the brain that is responsible for the manifestation of instincts) that he lives in a dangerous world. And since he lives in a dangerous world, his fears awaken to protect him.
The instinct of self-preservation awakens so that he remains alive and healthy, so that his physical body lives as long as possible, since this is the task of the instinct of self-preservation. But aggression from yourself or others interferes with this, because it is associated with an increased risk of injury and physical death.
Therefore, it is necessary to explain to people that if you experience resentment, anger, rage, revenge, anger, you will provoke fears and anxieties in yourself. And all this will not help you protect yourself from danger, because its source is in yourself.
To calm down, you must first find out the goals of your incarnation in this world, in this place, at this time, when aggressive actions occur. After all, you incarnated at a certain time after viewing the most likely events in this current period of time, in this space. And if you have incarnated right here and now, it means you need it for something.
It is necessary to move to a new level of thinking: stop thinking of yourself as a victim of circumstances and take responsibility for creating your reality into your own hands. What does this mean? That you realize yourself as Divine consciousness, which itself creates its own reality. And if you realize this, it will be easy for you to let go of fear and aggression as emotions that are no longer relevant for you, to be filled with faith, Love, hope even in the most terrible circumstances for the instincts of the body, even if the instinct of self-preservation sends you thoughts (and it can also send thoughts in the form of certain fears, that is, thought forms invested with the energy of fear). Even if he sends you thoughts that your body will perish because of some weapon, and this is scary, if you already know how to enter the Light of your heart, then as soon as this instinctive thought penetrates your consciousness, you can just put her in front of you right away, like a person who brought you some kind of message. It's like opening the door to the postman, greeting her and asking:

“Can the fear that you brought me really protect me from these weapons? Can it protect me from death, for example, in combat? Naturally, if these actions depend on the will of other people, and you are there simply as a Spirit who decided to incarnate there, then no fear can protect you. It simply lowers your vibrations, because you begin to move away from the Light that is in you, from the awareness that you are an immortal Spirit, into the perception of yourself as a body. This gives rise to a problem called “disappointment in the spiritual path.”
When a person who has previously walked the spiritual path begins to feel like a body out of fear, he can look at his previous spiritual activities with criticism of the mind and tell himself that they did not give anything to him as a body. This can cause a withdrawal from these spiritual practices and immersion in material life completely, and not partially (work, eating, etc.).
To prevent this from happening, you need to talk to yourself very truly, honestly, ask yourself sincere questions and answer them honestly. You can deceive someone, you can even deceive yourself. But if you deceive yourself, you thereby delay your spiritual development in the form of fulfilling the goal of incarnation. Always be honest with yourself, and then you will automatically be honest with others.
How can you help other people avoid negativity? You can only be an example for them of how you live in these circumstances: treat this situation with calmness and acceptance, without fear, anger, or any curses towards enemies, but with understanding, forgiveness, and Love. You will be that “beacon” of Light that can be seen far away, and you will be an example for others, because in you they will see the “ocean of calm” that they lack.
Timecode: 43:43, #534 CASSIOPEIA on meditation. Silence of the mind: how to stop internal dialogue? Freedom of choice, karma. MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.
February 2023

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/lishioni-o-sozdanii-zhivotnyh-dush
June 5
LiSioni on the creation of animal souls
I have directly contacted and continue to contact now with various entities located between the worlds, that is, between the world of third density and worlds of other density. These are the so-called Intermediary Spirits, they are from plasmoid civilizations that have made it their mission to communicate between worlds of different densities and transfer information from one level to another.
I want to tell you that, since I myself am a humanoid, I in any case translate all the answers of my plasmoid friends into a three-dimensional plane. That is, on the plane of your brain. Since many of the words that I receive from plasmoid civilizations are missing, that is, these words do not exist at all in the three-dimensional world, because they use completely different concepts. But the information that I can convey to you at my level is quite simple.
We have already explained how the Souls of animals are created; we have an article “Difference between the Souls of animals and humans.” In the creation of any type of animal Soul, either one plasmoid can participate, especially if it is very experienced in these matters, or several plasmoids, if, for example, they are just learning.
The Soul of an animal is created by forming a mental image of this animal and transferring to it those qualities of its future animal Soul that this plasmoid has. That is, for example, if a plasmoid creates the Soul of a dog, let’s say so, and is itself bright, loving, one might say, with a bright character, then it will put such a bright character into its Soul. You know very well that all animals, even of the same species, are completely different in character, in relation to each other and in relation to people. And these differences manifest themselves in them not only in the process of their life activity and attitude towards people, but also from birth.
The plasmoid, one might say, creates a mental image, takes vital energy filled with ether from the level of density where it itself is located, and clothes this mental image of the Soul that it created, and an animal Soul is obtained (I can only briefly explain it this way). And he endows this animal Soul with such an amount of vital force that will be intended for several incarnations. Why for several, and not for one? This happens for the reason that the existence of plasmoids is very long, from the point of view of the material world, time flows differently there, and the existence of dense bodies of animals is very short-lived compared to plasmoid civilizations, so they create Souls that repeatedly change bodies - in order to so that the entire biosphere of the planet can be harmoniously maintained.
It happens that one plasmoid creates only one species of animal, and sometimes it creates several, sometimes even several completely different species. It all depends on the qualifications of the plasmoid, on his desire, on his talents, etc. This is roughly the same as your creative work - let's say, one person can draw pictures on one topic, and another artist can draw absolutely any one.

Timecode: 40:05, #527 One-on-one with Irina Podzorova / Answers to questions.
LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in the astral world and its interactions with the material world, curator of the Project.
January 2023
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/zakonno-li-chto-vy-raskryvaete-sekrety-o-proshlyh
June 7
Irina Podzorova on the influence of information about past lives on an embodied person
Is it legal for you to reveal secrets about past lives? It’s not for nothing that a person’s memory was erased before his incarnation.
You know, indeed, in the very recent past, I went to the Spiritual world, naturally, with the permission of a person, I asked his Angels-mentors, that is, Angels-consultants. I asked, with the permission of this person, his embodied part, those significant incarnations of him that they could show him.
It is clear that out of practically several hundred incarnations (there could be three hundred, six hundred, or even thousands), only a few incarnations were shown that were quite significant from the point of view of the Consulting Angels. Firstly, what they showed me - it was no coincidence that they showed these very incarnations, not in order to harm him in any way, but so that he realized something about himself, about his life.
I did this in complete trust in the consulting Angels of this person. In the understanding that they will not show what can harm this person in his development. They also see more clearly the lines of human development.
By receiving this information, the person, of course, retained free will how to react to this information. And here, of course, the Angels, as I already said, cannot take away free will. They provided information. But, unfortunately, it so happened that for some people this information led to the growth of their arrogance, their greed, and so on - that is, some negative qualities. And I say that this is indeed the case, this is the choice of these people. I was already told about this, Archangel Michael told me about this. The choice these people made was exactly what they made. They are the ones responsible for this choice, because the Consulting Angels did not provide them with this information for that reason. But how they used it is their choice. However, Archangel Michael did not order me, but asked me for a while - for now, the awareness of people, including esotericists who are in various projects and are personally familiar with me (I did not watch this for everyone, but only for people I know, but already many) will not increase. It will not improve so that they can use this information correctly. I asked not to view, so to speak, with the permission of these people, their past incarnations. Their choice could be like this. This was not an order, it was a personal request from Archangel Michael, he did not order me anything, but simply said:

“I think that it will be more harmonious, and once you make your choice, it will be your choice.”
We had this conversation with him and I have decided to follow his advice for now. It is what it is.
Timecode: 1:22:42, #527 One-on-one with Irina Podzorova / Answers to questions.
January 2023
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/raom-tijan-o-simvole-shestikonechnaya-zvezda
June 8
Raom Tiyan about the six-pointed star symbol
One triangle pointing upward is a symbol of the Universal Trinity Code. If you connect two triangles and one is directed downward and the other upward, and you get 6 angles (we have already said that 3 and 6 are interconnected numbers), then this sign will denote the Universal Trinity code, manifested as the energy of Love. Because 6 is Love for that being who is aware of this Love and has applied this sign to its form. This is like a symbol of enlightenment, because enlightenment is considered to be Love as the source of life. The one who has realized this, he shows it to others with such a sign.
It’s like you have a sign of certain religious denominations, but only with you people can wear these clothes just to belong to a religious denomination. And it is customary for us, since we do not have formalized religions, to wear such a uniform if, for example, humanoids come into contact, for example, with earthlings. Thus, they can express the habit of putting on this form with the sign of Love and enlightenment - as a sign to everyone around them and to themselves that they are endowed with a mission to bring Light, Love and enlightenment. These are some space travelers from some planets, but in general they can be from any planet.
This is like a sign of peace, since the number 6 is also peaceful. “We came in peace, with Love and brought you enlightenment,” this is approximately how this sign should be interpreted.
He is now showing me some kind of ray that changes the tissue, the color of this tissue precisely by a point change in the characteristics of the substance so that it reflects the necessary rays (shows Irina the energy ray that he draws). Yes, he kind of draws on it. Such a laser "marker". But he says it's just an automatic device for applying symbols, letters, and inscriptions to clothes and various objects. And this sign is applied to clothes, including for the earthlings themselves, so that they understand that they are coming to them in peace.

Timecode: 20:55, #526 Universal ternary code. Matter, energy, information in the Universe from the perspective of alien sciences. Raom Tiyan is a representative of the planet Burhad, a specialist in energy interactions in the environment of the material and Spiritual world and transformations of various energies.
January 2023
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/raom-tijan-o-prosmotre-lenty-vremeni
the 9th of June
Raom Tiyan about watching the Time Tape
If five esotericists and clairvoyants independently view an event to which they did not have information access, they will get different results, because everyone looks through their own perception and tunes in to that part of the Timeline that is close to their worldview. It can even tune in to one that did not materialize in reality, but could be embodied.
Usually verification is carried out in other ways, for example, with various historical artifacts, some kind of confirmation. And the version that various astral travelers saw is considered the closest to the one that was actually in material reality and is confirmed by various sources, and not to the one that did not materialize.
For example, even in your Project "Cassiopeia" this manifested itself when MidgasCaus told us - me and other Earth specialists - that there was contact with Irina when they asked her and MidgasCaus to review the situation regarding the Dyatlov group. I know that this situation is very well known in the esoteric environment.
Many contactees who viewed this situation in the Astral through their curators or through their Spirit told completely different versions of this reality that did not agree with each other. This was especially clear if these people were not familiar with each other's testimonies. But this does not mean that they deceived anyone, but they saw what they saw.
And for what reason did they see different things? They tuned in to those branches of the Time Tape, streams, sleeves (it can also be called the River of Time), which contained this option. Moreover, since this story happened quite a long time ago, and there was a lot of talk about it, many films were made, books were written, it has already entered the egregor of your state, and, tuning into this situation, you can get into the egregor and see for example, the events of the book. It is when you are in the Astral that you have no way to clearly distinguish whether these visions are egregorial or what was written in the Time Tape. Even when looking through the Akashic Chronicles - the so-called field memory - you need to understand that the Akashic Chronicles are a memory effect of the etheric field, in which various events are reflected on the etheric matrices of space, like in a mirror. You need to understand that events are reflected there, not only those occurring in the material world, but also all sorts of egregorial records, and the same Time Tape.

There has already been a lot of research by specialists of the Interstellar Union: psychologists, futurologists, the same historians and others, a lot of views through the Spiritual world, and we have come to the unequivocal conclusion that this setting still depends on the internal content of a person's heart, his mental field, astral field : He is drawn there and begins to see it.

The whole point here is that he can see in the Astral not only what he consciously likes, and can even see things that are disgusting to himself, with which he will not agree, but will describe them. There were such cases too. This, rather, is not even conscious consent, but the internal vibration of his Spiritual heart - what events he will see: more negative or more positive probabilities. He may see and may even claim that he does not believe in it, but he is still drawn to it. There were such cases too.

Everything must be compared and considered in its entirety, compared with objective reality, because the inner world of each Spirit is part of the universal Spiritual world. That is why I know, and my friend Bergastre, who is the head of the Galaxy Security Service, also knows well that when preventing certain crimes, or investigating crimes that have already been committed using spiritual methods, different views are also possible, but they must be combined and coordinated with objective methods that exist in the physical world. Because what happened in the physical world has traces in it, and it is necessary to study them with the help of those sense organs and instruments that are tuned to the vibrations of the physical world. And the spiritual component here may simply be to clarify some details.

Timecode: 52:00, #526 Universal ternary code. Matter, energy, information in the Universe from the perspective of alien sciences. Raom Tiyan is a representative of the planet Burhad, a specialist in energy interactions in the environment of the material and Spiritual world and transformations of various energies.

January 2023

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/odin-na-odin-s-irinoj-podzorovoj-otvety-na-voprosy

the 9th of June

#527 One on one with Irina Podzorova / Answers to questions

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=AItQgpnVG9o

00:00 Start of video.

00:10 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends, good evening! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Tell me, please, how can I be seen and heard? Hi all! Great.

Dear friends, today is the first live broadcast in the coming 2023. I wish everyone a Happy New Year and Merry Christmas! And today we have an interesting experiment - I will try to broadcast live, read your questions, answer them one-on-one with you, with my Higher Self and with my curators. We decided to conduct such an experiment, and perhaps it will be interesting. Maxim sends his deepest regards to you all. Maxim, hello to you too!

So, first I want to tell you the news of our Project. The fact is that in the near future “Cassiopeia” is holding retreats of our specialist, our master Alleya, whom everyone already knows well, and these retreats will take place on January 14–15 in St. Petersburg, and on February 4–5 in Krasnodar. These retreats will be devoted to two-day training in the “Tree of the Pillar”, which will align the spine, improve the cardiovascular system and completely restore the energy of those chakras that are located along the spine. That is, these are special energy and physical practices that allow you to remove various obsessive states. Alleyya is a physician by profession, an esotericist and a contactee, so she was specially trained in this practice. There will be a link to register for training under the video, I have already asked you to do this.

I also want to tell you about the news of our Center. Our Center will soon launch new devices, which Maxim has already spoken about - this is the “Da Vinci Capsule”, which we have, which we talked about with the Spirit of Leonardo da Vinci - whoever hasn’t watched it, you can find this very interesting video in the list of our broadcasts. We will soon be using this equipment, its first launch will take place soon, all information about this will be posted on our resources.

And now directly to the topic of the broadcast. I asked the curators of our Project and the curator of our egregor to be present today, that is, already in the Spiritual world. My curator is MidgasCaus from the planet Esler and the curator of our Project is LiShioni from the planet Shimor, I asked them to be present, they are here today. And the curator of the egregor of our Project in the Spiritual World is Mirah Count, whose spiritual name is Archangel Gabriel, he is also present here.

We decided to make a broadcast with answers to questions about our Project. Or, perhaps, you want to ask some questions to me, our curators, since lately last year we have been paying more attention to disembodied Spirits on live broadcasts, learning about their lives, their opinions on various earthly issues. And on the first broadcast of the new year, which is very important for us, as always, we decided to pay attention to the responses of the curators and everything that you would like to know about Cassiopeia: about possible services in Cassiopeia, about reviews from various people. Or would you like to ask a question to me personally, as one of the founders of the Cassiopeia Project, who, together with other founders, took responsibility for its creation and for the information that I convey to you from the curators.

I am ready to answer any of your questions. So, what do you want to know, please write what questions you have. I'll be reading them from the Youtube chat we have here, reading them out loud and responding to the ones I see.

07:05 The timeliness of the emergence of the Cassiopeia Project

Irina: (reads the chat) “Irina, a question for your curators: why did the Cassiopeia Project appear now?”

Thank you, a very interesting and important question, I think it should be addressed to the curator of our Project - Mirah Kaunt from the planet Burkhad. He also greets you, congratulates you on the new year and Christmas, and says that the events that are mentioned during the Christmas period are well known to him from his life in the body of a Burkhadian, he participated in these events, he knows what they are talking about.

So, why did Project Cassiopeia come into being at this time?

(Mirah Count) The Project appeared at a time when the general noosphere of the Earth and the general level of preparedness of people for extraterrestrial contacts, for knowledge about the Interstellar Union were most favorable - this level of preparation and the general state of the noosphere of the Earth - for the creation of such a Project. This is the first reason - the most convenient and opportune time for the noosphere, all egregors of the Earth to accept the idea of the Project, the idea of contacting, on the one hand.

On the other hand, this time is quite difficult for earthlings, because there are a lot of difficult choices. Those choices that earthly civilization makes as a whole, and sometimes it does not choose the best from the best and the worst, but chooses the best from two rather negative alternatives, in its own way, of course, to the level of awareness. That is, it is considered a difficult choice.

By the way, not making a choice is also a choice. On the one hand, the Earth is already sufficiently prepared for ideas of this kind, as they are broadcast in the Cassiopeia Project, and on the other hand, the Earth needs a new light movement, and a movement not of the previous religious type, when people worshiped God, an external being, some kind of or spiritual authority. Earthly civilization needs more reliance on internal authority, on the authority of its Higher Self, on communication with it.

All these factors have developed in such a way that the emergence of the Cassiopeia Project is most favorable precisely at this point in time and space, and precisely by those people who initiated the appearance of this Project on Earth.

(Irina) Thank you for your answer. Now I will read (reads the chat).

10:46 Zoo planet Elrist.

Irina: So, galactic news. Yes, by the way, we haven't asked for a long time what happened in the Galaxy, what do you remember? I also really want to know galactic news, but when I communicate with curators myself, I don't ask them about it, because somehow I'm not in the mood for it. I think about something else: about those people who come to me, about their problems, I think about the conversation that we had, analyze it, compare it with my Light, with my experience. And now I also want to learn galactic news with you. Thank you for your question.

They are talking now. MidgasCaus is speaking now.

(MidgasCaus) I greet you! I am glad to see and feel everyone in the general flow of information on the Cassiopeia Youtube channel, through Irina Podzorova, I am glad to feel, hear, understand you, my dear brothers and sisters in the universal mind! I want to tell you news that just relates to my field of activity. Let me remind you that I am a biologist, and although I mainly work on the Earth, I want to tell you news about biology related to the study of galactic life forms on other planets.

The fact is that a long-discovered planet in the constellation Sagittarius, called Elrist, has become, one might say, a galactic zoo for different species of animals. A unique internal environment of the biosphere has been created there, in which creatures from different planets, belonging to completely different biospheres, live in different areas of the planet, and suitable conditions have been created for them there. There are conditions that are created in the atmosphere of other planets - under a dome, with their gravity, etc.

And almost the entire planet has been turned into one large, to put it in earthly terms, petting zoo. This is a collection of unique animal species, and there are also species that were specially brought from Earth, from our bases (shows a chain of several dozen giraffes and elephants). There are no people there, no intelligent life. But there are our own animals, of which there is a very wide variety - for example, they live like our dinosaurs (shows), they are not intelligent, smaller in size and brown in color. And they can go underwater, then live on the surface, they are half-aquatic, half-terrestrial.

He is also showing me birds now - there are huge birds there, twice the size of an eagle, their wings occupy a very large space, probably half of this room. They are dark in color.

(MidgasCaus) The news is that recently the official discovery of this planet Elrist took place as an interstellar, galactic, that is, related to the Milky Way Galaxy, a collection of all animal life forms, or rather, most animal life forms that are represented from different planets.

Previously, there were attempts to create such a common fund, but they were hampered by certain difficulties associated with different living conditions on different planets. And now such a planet has been created, or rather, it has been created for many decades, but now it is officially open, and any humanoid can visit it, just as he can visit any other planet. All conditions have also been created there for studying animal species, for interacting with them, for various biological experiments related to the combination of animal genes.

(Irina) MidgasCaus has now shown me that there are also terrestrial species there.

(reads the chat) Thank you for so many messages!

16:27 Irina Podzorova about the “Battle of Psychics.”

Irina: So, next question. (reads) “Irinushka, do you agree to become a participant in the “Battle of Psychics”?”

You know, dear friends, I am not a psychic. I want to tell you that I am a contactee. A contactor is something else. I receive information from my supervisors. Of course, I feel something in a certain way - some different energies. But I want to tell you that, having talked with some people who, among other things, participated in the “Battle of Psychics,” I talked with them and I can say that these are also contactees, they have contact, but it is of a different type. Not like me - the transfer of information about the Interstellar Union and from the Spiritual World, about their life; and their contact is configured to receive information about various things, for example, from the “Akashic chronicles”, etc. I specialize in something else - this is the first part of my answer that I am not a psychic.

And the second part of the answer: unfortunately, those people who participated in the “Battle of Psychics”, and they won there, passed certain tests - there are questions for them. For example, a very simple question: they are looking for people there, they see from photographs where they are - this is how they show us such amazing things. But, dear friends, I know perfectly well how to look for a person through the Astral, and what can be seen there and what cannot be seen there. If everything were as simple as they show in these programs, we would not have missing people then, no one would be looking for children or adults who were lost. Psychics who can do this as easily as it is shown there, then they would easily unravel it all, judging by the picture that is presented to us.

Therefore, I want to say that with this “Battle of Psychics” not everything is so simple. There is something there. Of course, I don’t want to suspect anyone of anything, but still the experience of my own astral travels shows me. Yes, they’re telling me now, MidgasCaus is talking.

(MidgasKaus) Indeed, through the Astral the material world is visible simply in the form of energies.

(Irina) For example, he is here now. Here are Mirakh Count, LiShioni, MidgasKaus - for example, they see the world in the form of energies, and they cannot say where I am physically without a chip, which I have, like Kirchiton. Because it is necessary to impose astral perception on every earthly surface - this is practically impossible. Astral - it is everywhere. MidgasCaus has now confirmed this to me too.

20:13 The meaning of terminology. Evidence of the intelligent beginning of the universe.

Irina: Thank you. Dmitry asks: “How to tell materialists about the Spirit?” Mirah Count, I ask you to answer this question.

(Mirah Count) Should we tell materialists about the Spirit?

You can tell anything you want, the main thing is how you do it. If you see a person’s interest in your knowledge, your information, you can, and it is important to do this as confidently as possible. That is, do not doubt the truth that the Spiritual World exists, but at the same time do not impose your beliefs, do not convince him if he does not want to accept this information or begins to argue with you. You can tell him that everyone will have their own opinion.

Because the more a person argues with a materialist or a non-materialist, the more the person with whom they argue becomes convinced, convinces himself that he is right.

The desire to defend their rightness, their own ego, self-esteem begins to awaken in their Soul. And even if at first they were not so confident in their beliefs, not so convinced of their faith, then if you start arguing with them, many people, in order not to seem weak and not accept your beliefs, will argue, convincing themselves even more, that their beliefs are correct. This is a dead end path.

And in fact, I know, of course, the saying “truth is born in a dispute,” but I would clarify it - not in a dispute, but in a scientific or spiritual dispute, truth is born. And a dispute is not a classic argument, when people bring up new arguments to convince or change their interlocutor’s mind. A dispute is the initial definition of the goal of the conversation, that is, what everyone should come to. And before you start presenting your arguments to one side or another, you first need to understand the terms.

If, for example, you asked how to tell a materialist about the Spirit, you first need to decide with him, with this person, how you understand the word “Spirit”, and how he understands it. The word “Spirit” is a Russian word that is known to everyone, that is, it is generally known, but people understand it in completely different ways. If you understand the word “Spirit” as the eternal Divine principle in man, then a materialist can understand it as, for example, the mind, consciousness, which is generated by the brain. Therefore, when you say the same word, you will talk about different things. You will talk about God, and he will talk about the brain. And in order for this debate to be correct and lead to a deepening of understanding of the subject for both you and the materialist, it is necessary to immediately explain to you that by the word “Spirit” you mean the immaterial, Divine principle located in man, and then further look at it reaction.

If he wants to talk to you about this, you can give him classical arguments that, for example, the world is very harmoniously and orderly, which is proof of the intelligent beginning of its creation. Or, for example, the human body is very complex, down to the last cell - this serves as proof that the body was originally created by an intelligent principle. And only then give some specifics. And then various arguments are possible, depending on the level of training of the materialist.

If he says that material forces can create some complex systems without the presence of reason, you can give him materialistic arguments. For example, ask him to take cubes with written letters and mix them, and then without reason, that is, with his eyes closed, select certain cubes and put them in a row so that they make a word or sentence. Here is the simplest example that can be given: will he be able, simply guided by sensations, that is, by the movements of the cubes themselves, without the presence of the mind, which manifests itself through vision, to assemble something. You can ask this question.

Many more similar questions can be thought of and asked. About who created the house, for example, is also a well-known question. You may ask: who created the house in which he lives, and how can he prove the presence of the builders of this house and architects if he has not seen them personally? You can ask this question. And if he admits that there is, after all, some kind of rational principle, he will no longer be a pure materialist, but will already be an agnostic, that is, a person who admits something. And then it is easier to lead him to the idea that he is part of this being that created everything. And this part is called “Spirit”.

27:36 Levels of consciousness.

Irina: (reading) “Please tell me, there is conscious, preconscious, unconscious. What lies behind the unconscious?” I ask MidgasCaus to answer as a psychologist.

(MidgasKaus) Here we are dealing with exactly the case that Mirah Count just talked about, that is, differences in terminology. Mirach Count just said that without defining the exact meaning of the terms you cited, my answer to the question will not make any sense to you. You have just called something conscious, preconscious and unconscious. To answer the question correctly and understandably for you, and at the same time in the true Light of wisdom, you need to know what is meant here by consciousness itself.

As you can see, the root of these three words, the basis of all of them, is the word “consciousness”. Here the conscious is meant everywhere, the remaining words - “preconscious” and “unconscious” - have prepositions. We will define what is “conscious” for you. Because, as far as I have studied earthly psychology, there are dozens of definitions of consciousness in different psychological and esoteric schools. I don’t know what kind of personal information you use. But I will assume that you use the classical definition of consciousness as the reflection of objective reality in the subjective perception created by the work of the brain.

If you use the classical definition, then the “preconscious” in the understanding of the classical definition is that part of consciousness where information initially arrives from the external world, and where it is processed, before reaching awareness, that is, the perception of objective reality. And the “unconscious” in this personality model is that part of the psyche where those memories that a person does not want to think about are repressed. His desires, which for some reason he wants to remove from the field of his consciousness. And just those things that he doesn’t remember, that is, which he doesn’t think about for a long time and forgets. And all this ends up in the “unconscious” - a set of specific programs that he uses without realizing them. Because a desire that is repressed into the “unconscious” still continues to influence a person, but this time unconsciously.

This concerns the classical model of psychology, as I understand it. As for the model of consciousness, that is, the structure of the intelligent Spirit in the Interstellar Union, all these words denote different levels of consciousness.

What is consciousness from the point of view of the Interstellar Union? This is the energy for perceiving the world around us and ourselves. “Preconscious” and “unconscious” in this paradigm of scientific thinking denote the levels of manifestation of the energy of perception directed at a particular object in the world.

That is, “preconsciousness” is a level of comprehension of reality that involves an expanded perception of many objects as a single whole. And the “unconscious” is an instinctive, unconscious perception that the entire animal world has, and to which a person can come as a result of various pathologies of thinking or, for example, brain disease. This is from our point of view.

So, dear friends, now I’ll take a look (reading).

32:56 Date of birth of Jesus Christ.

Irina: Question to Mirah Count: “Now we know that Jesus was born on September 22. Is it possible that one day this day will be recognized as Christmas? Mirah Count, what do you think?

(Mirah Count) Yes, I remember the question about Christmas: why this day was not recognized as Christmas, and why another day was recognized. This question has already been asked, including to Jesus at the conference.

The fact is that in egregor it is no coincidence that certain dates are recognized as holidays. From the point of view of the Christian religious egregor, the birthday of Christ was recognized as the day on which one of the Roman gods was born. This was necessary to do in order to gradually create a habit among the Romans, among the Roman people, who were accustomed to worshiping many gods, so that, having switched to Christianity, they would celebrate the Nativity of Christ on their usual day. That is, it was a concession.

As for September 22, in fact, from the point of view of the Spiritual world, where there is no time, it does not matter at all on what day Christmas is celebrated. Because in the Spiritual world time does not exist, and from the point of view of the Spiritual world, Christmas is eternal, that is, it can be celebrated every day. You can say this: September 1, January 1, July 1, for example - on any given day you can feel Christmas. From the point of view of the Spiritual world, this does not matter.

The Christian egregor, its visible part is called the earthly church, the Christian church (by the way, the word “church” does not mean a building where worship is held, but a society of people who believe in Christ). So, if a society of people who believe in Christ as God, love Him, want to unite with Him, decided that this day will be January 7 (new style), then this means that this was allowed by all the guardians of the Christian egregor, including including its head, Jesus Christ, for the benefit of the egregor himself.

36:07 Mirakh Count about fortune telling.

Irina: (reading) “During Epiphany, the water in reservoirs is also illuminated?” There was already an answer to this question. Again, it acquires properties that are given to it by both underwater civilizations and the Spiritual World - which can be called increased energy. That is, yes, it is charged with positive energy. But this is me very briefly; in fact, this answer has already been given.

(reads) “Is it possible to tell fortunes at Baptism for your betrothed, whether this will attract some creatures of the other world?” – Nadezhda is asking us. You decide for yourself whether you can guess or not, it’s your choice. Mirah Count is now responding.

(Mirah Count) I just want to say that from the point of view of the Christian egregor, the Christian church, the attitude towards fortune telling is negative. But the reason for this is very simple: when so many people want to tell fortunes, hidden behind their desire is the desire to find out their future and shift responsibility for their choice, for their lives, to the result of this fortune-telling. This can lead to very negative, sad consequences if a person completely believes in the prediction that will be given to him. He may even go the wrong way in life, not fulfill his task. To protect people from this, it was decided in the Christian religious egregor not to accept fortune telling.

But if you treat this only as one of the alternative realities, which may or may not come true, depending on your efforts, then this can be used quite consciously. The main thing is to treat this only as one of the versions of events, but without completely investing your faith in it, because what you put your faith in will come true for you.

(Irina) Thank you!

38:20 Matter and life energy.

Irina: So, a very interesting question: “What is the difference between living and nonliving matter?” This is probably a question for MidgasCaus.

(MidgasKaus) If we understand matter as a collection of energies of one or another level of density, which are in the vibrational-frequency range characteristic of the perception of creatures also located at one or another level of density, then without vital energy, without vital force, which is already a certain by the action of God, matter itself is not alive. But she is revived by this vital force, vital energy.

“Life energy” is a special type of Divine energy that, when it comes into contact with any type of matter at any level of density, gives it the ability to be alive. That is, to self-organize into various simple and complex systems: organelles, viruses and cells, unicellular and multicellular organisms, and to accept various living Souls to embody various species - Souls of microorganisms, plant, animal and intelligent Souls that have separated from spiritual entities in the world disembodied Spirits.

(Irina) Thank you!

40:05 Creation of animals Souls.

Irina: Thank you all for the very interesting questions and comments.

(reads) “Irina, tell us more about the Soul of an animal. How is it formed? Well, yes, I see a comment here that the theme “Cassiopeia” was announced, and why are they asking such questions. But, dear friends, you see, people are not as interested in the Cassiopeia Project as they are in baptism and fortune telling. It's the people's right, right?

So, how are animal souls created? We have already explained this, we have an article “Difference between the Souls of Animals and People”, everything is written there. Yes, LiSioni. Now he also greets you and speaks.

(LiScioni) I have directly contacted and continue to contact now with various entities located between the worlds, that is, between the world of third density and worlds of other density. These are the so-called Intermediary Spirits, they are from plasmoid civilizations that have made it their mission to communicate between worlds of different densities and transfer information from one level to another.

I want to tell you that since I am a humanoid myself, I in any case translate all the answers of my plasmoid friends into a three-dimensional plane. That is, on the plane of your brain. Since many of the words that I receive from plasmoid civilizations are missing, that is, these words do not exist at all in the three-dimensional world, because they use completely different concepts. But the information that I can convey to you at my level is quite simple.

In the creation of any type of animal Soul, either one plasmoid can participate, especially if it is very experienced in these matters, or several plasmoids, if, for example, they are just learning. The Soul of an animal is created by forming a mental image of this animal and transferring to it those qualities of its future animal Soul that this plasmoid has. That is, for example, if a plasmoid creates the Soul of a dog, let’s say so, and is itself bright, loving, one might say, with a bright character, then it will put such a bright character into its Soul. You know very well that all animals, even of the same species, are completely different in character, in relation to each other and in relation to people. And these differences manifest themselves in them not only in the process of their life activity and attitude towards people, but also from birth.

The plasmoid, one might say, creates a mental image, takes life energy filled with ether from the level of density where it itself is located, and clothes this mental image of the Soul that it created, and an animal Soul is obtained (I can only briefly explain it this way). And he endows this animal Soul with such an amount of vital force that will be intended for several incarnations. Why for several, and not for one? This happens for the reason that the existence of plasmoids is very long from the point of view of the material world, time flows differently there, and the existence of dense bodies of animals is very short-lived compared to plasmoid civilizations, so they create Souls that change bodies many times - in order to so that the entire biosphere of the planet can be harmoniously maintained.

It happens that one plasmoid creates only one species of animal, and sometimes it creates several, sometimes even several completely different species. It all depends on the qualifications of the plasmoid, on his desire, on his talents, etc. This is roughly the same as your creative work - let's say, one person can draw pictures on one topic, and another artist can draw absolutely any one. I'm talking approximately.

45:16 Mirah Kanut about Christ’s communication with the Vedic Magi of India.

Irina: (reading) “Irina, tell me, according to the Vedas, Jesus was not a Jew, but a Vedic sorcerer.”

(Mirah Kanut) You know, Jesus has already repeatedly held conferences with Irina, where He himself answered the question of where He was, where He was born, and for what reason He is considered a sorcerer. These conferences are all posted on the Cassiopeia YouTube channel, you can watch them. But I'll say it briefly.

He was Jewish, again from his mother. He received Jewish nationality from his mother, and from his father, accordingly, the Burkhadian nationality: his father was a representative of the planet Burkhad. But when he lived on Earth, together with his father from Burkhad and with other Burkhadians, he made flights (physical flights) in childhood and adolescence to different continents of the Earth, including India, and there he communicated with the Vedic Magi. Naturally, his wisdom, Light and Love attracted the attention of this class, the priesthood, to him, and they recognized him as their own, so to speak, one of the priests. This was not surprising, because the Vedic Magi at that time were also seers, and they saw his Light, his Soul. And they could not help but recognize him.

(Irina) Thank you!

47:14 Gods and the Creator of the Universe.

Irina: (reads the chat) What an interesting question! If anything, MidgasCaus is already married, he cannot marry anyone. “Where are our gods of Rus'?” – Sergei is asking us.

In what terms are our gods? Our God, for example, my God, is the Father of all Spirits, he is the Creator of the Universe. For me, He is the only God. And who are your gods and where are they now, I don’t know. Please explain in more detail who the gods are for you, why in the plural? And if you mean the children of God, by Divine nature, then they are here, around you: you yourself are god, I am a goddess, so to speak, and everyone who reads us is also a god or goddess. If you mean by Divine nature. And if you mean, in essence, then we have one God.

48:28 The meaning of reincarnation of the Spirit.

Irina: (reading) “What determines the number of reincarnations?”

You know, just out of desire. Any Spirit can refuse reincarnation at any stage of its development, at any level. Even if he is at a low level, a very significant example of this is the Spirit of Lucifer, who does not incarnate, although he is on the sixth spiritual level of 24, but has not incarnated for 3 million earthly years (there, of course, there is no time, I am now I speak in an earthly way). He refused to incarnate, and no one forcibly incarnates him anywhere. Why doesn't it implement? There is no point in violent incarnations - the Spirit cannot improve if it itself has not created a program for this improvement. By the word “improve” I mean to rise through the levels to perfection.

49:38 Trust and aggression of Selbet 12 thousand years ago.

Irina: (reading) “Why weren’t there intelligence networks on Selbet that could identify and prevent plans for a reptilian invasion of the solar system 12 thousand years ago?”

Anyone interested? Mirah Count, please tell me, as a very experienced Spirit, Archangel Gabriel, why were there no such intelligence networks that could report on the impending crime?

(Mirah Count) For the simple reason that at that time, that is, 12 thousand years ago, the Interstellar Union was a single community, the members of which completely trusted each other and were not suspected of any negative machinations, or the commission, or the desire to commit a crime against any something race. Everyone was open, revealing all sorts of technological and scientific secrets to each other, and nothing was hidden from anyone. That is, there was no such understanding that an agent needed to be inserted somewhere so that he could find out something there. They trusted me, yes.

Irina: (reading) “Who is Krishna?”

What a good question! Again, a very long time to answer. Please, whoever asked me, watch the video on my channel where I communicate with Krishna, it’s called “Conference with Krishna”. There, representatives of those who believe in Him, that is, Hare Krishnas, ask questions to Krishna himself, His Spirit, who is not embodied now, who has come and answers. And he says there who he is, what he does, and so on. Everything is described there in detail.

Now I'll just answer for a long time, and you can watch it. Thank you for understanding.

51:48 Contactor Vissarion and his information.

Irina: (reading) "Who is Vissarion's source of information on the teaching of the Last Testament?"

It is clear that he is a contactee. If you ask who speaks to him, with whom he contacts, what is the level of his relay, the "purity" of his contact, this is personal. The level of purity of contact is a certain amount of information that is transmitted through his brain in the form in which the curator spoke. Such questions, that is, who is his curator and how he conveys information, can only be asked by himself, if he so desires. Because a person's contact with someone is a very personal moment, and without his permission, no one can view this contact. This is not considered ethical.

But as for general words... Mirach Count is speaking now.

(Mirah Count) I can say that one of the apostles is embodied in the Spirit of Vissarion. Who exactly - he can find out for himself. This is more personal information.

But as for his teachings, I can only say that he receives information from both the Spiritual World and plasmoid civilizations. And he gives it in a somewhat mixed form, that is, there he has information from the Spiritual World, there - from plasmoid civilizations. And it is not clearly distinguished, in the sense that he does not say that this is "from the angels," this is "from the plasmoids," and this is "from my Higher Self." He gives everything together as from one source. And I can tell you in more detail only with his permission.

54:01 The difference between the egregor "Cassiopeia" and religious egregors.

Irina: Finally, we have a question about "Cassiopeia", thank you for it! "How does the egregor of "Cassiopeia" differ from the religious egregor?” Mirah Count is now in charge.

(Mirah Count) In essence, the differences with the religious egregor are insignificant. Because the essence of a religious egregor is interaction with the Spiritual world and with Higher powers, including one’s Higher Self, but with the help of various rituals, prayers, ceremonies, different levels of initiations, etc.

As for the “Cassiopeia” egregor, here, of course, there are also various esoteric access codes and initiations, as in the religious egregor. But unlike the classical religious egregor, which has existed on Earth for a long time, the “Cassiopeia” egregor also has a priority path. It lies in the fact that a person can connect with his Higher Self, and therefore with God, that is, achieve the main goal of religions, simply in his consciousness - without rituals, without intermediaries. He can, of course, go through this path with a master as an intermediary, but in the future he will be able to do it himself. And what’s more, he can teach this to people. Everything that was once done by a certain kind of priests, sorcerers, priests, various ministers of various religious egregors, in “Cassiopeia” it is proposed to do it yourself. Through your Higher Self. This is a very short answer, if we talk about the essence.

56:10 Mirakh Count about his God.

Irina: (reading) “Who is God for Mirah Count?” Oh, what a good question! Nazim, thank you! Mirah Count, who is God to you?

(Mirah Count) God for me is the Great Light, which, because of His boundless Love, gave birth to us all as a part of Himself. He created all the material worlds so that we, as parts of Him, could endlessly come to His level of happiness, Love and awareness on our own.

56:59 Meeting with a soul mate.

Irina: (reading) “Is it possible to recognize a soul mate in a person?” – Valentin is asking us.

Of course, you can, you feel it in your heart, your intuition tells you that this person is close to you. And even sometimes you can feel this towards a stranger. If you listen to and trust your intuition, you will often be able to see that it is right, even if your mind says otherwise.

How can I check this? Remember your experience or the experience of other people. Remember your first moment of meeting your friend or your lover, your beloved - the person who is now spiritually close to you. Remember how you met and ask yourself the question: “When you first saw him, when your gaze first settled on him, on this person, was there any difference in this from other people, in this perception? How did you feel? You can also ask your friend or lover how he felt when he saw you. Did your intuition tell you that he was close to you? And so you can ask about everyone who is especially close to you now. That is, this is your own spiritual experience.

Irina: So, a question for Mira Count: “When I watch the broadcast with him, tears flow. I feel boundless Love and friendship. I can't explain it. Maybe we knew each other?

(Mirah Count) Elena, dear Divine Soul! If you feel my energy, and not only feel it, but it seems familiar to you, then, undoubtedly, we have met in the Spiritual world, and perhaps we have also been in contact already in your life.

59:38 Birth of the Soul in the Spiritual World.

Irina: (reading) “How many manvantaras have passed since the birth of Jesus by God in the Spiritual world?”

The fact is that the moment of the birth of Jesus or the moment of the birth of each of us in the Spiritual world can be called a “moment” only conditionally, in relation to the material world. At any given time, you have already been born there, and you continue to be born there, and you have not yet been born there. There are three answers, and they will all be true, because there is no time. The spiritual world is superimposed on the material world at once for all of its times, one might say, for its entire Timeline, consistently and without exception.

Therefore, we can say that Jesus appeared in the Spiritual world before all the manvantaras, or we can say that only at the beginning of this manvantara. Both will be true.

Thank you (they write that they love it)! And I love you all! Thank you.

1:01:00 The meaning of the concept of “worship of God.”

Irina: (reading) “That is, by worshiping Jesus and the Virgin Mary, we are also pagans, for there is one God, and this is the Absolute?”

(Mirah Count) The word “worship,” just worshiping someone other than God, does not make you a pagan. Because it comes from the word “bow,” and bowing is a feeling of respect. Remember, this was especially developed several centuries ago: if two people met, one bowed to the other. They had worship - they bowed out of respect. This does not mean that they became pagans because they worshiped each other. Worship can be reverence, but worshiping God is something else.

Worship of God is humility before God, it is full recognition of Him as the Heavenly Father, and everything that exists in your material world - His property, His energies, which you only temporarily dispose of, but only for the purposes of spiritual development and improvement of yourself and yours. neighbors. This is worship of God, that is, humility before Him and recognition of Him as the primary source.

If we recognize someone other than God as the primary source, then yes, this is already paganism, that is, this is already polytheism.

1:02:48 Presence and influence of destructive plasmoids.

Irina: Elena writes: “How can you understand that you are under the influence of destructive plasmoids?”

(MidgasKaus) You can understand this, for example, by changes in your emotions, feelings, and behavior. But often this is unnoticeable to you, because plasmoids know how to mask their presence with various bright ideas, thoughts and sensations that they send to you. That is, the plasmoid (also the Spirit) may well send you a stream of energy, which you can perceive quite positively, as Light. Moreover, if it suits you in vibration, the energy of this plasmoid.

And you can recognize this, for example, by the fact that you have become more susceptible to various experiences, fears, anxieties, depression, and sometimes aggression. That is, by indirect signs of influence on you from the Spiritual or subtle world, you can recognize that the thoughts and desires that are sent to you do not belong only to you. But in any case, even if so, you need to remember the responsibility for this contact, because it was you who attracted this entity to yourself, it was your energy that it came to, this did not happen by chance, which means that this is already your joint relationship with this entity lesson.

(Irina) Here is the next, logical question. They are just writing to us: “How to get rid of destructive plasmoids?” Mirakh Count is already answering.

(Mirah Count) Dear friends, I tell you again that destructive plasmoids are only a consequence of the negative beliefs you already have and the blocks that they manifest in you when they come to you. If you have destructive plasmoids that bring you a certain destructiveness, or destructive thoughts, energies of the astral plane, then first you need to ask the Higher Self what you attracted them with, what qualities, blocks, beliefs of yours.

And dissolve the blocks, change your beliefs. And then the destructive plasmoids simply will not be able to influence you in any way, and they themselves will not waste their time and energy on you, realizing that they will not gain any useful energy return from you. And thus they will leave you on their own.

(LiScioni) I'll even tell you more: the moment you change your vibrations and become incompatible with these destructive plasmoids, they will go away on their own, even if you hold them back!

1:06:17 “Dark civilizations.”

Irina: (reading) “Irina, tell me, which civilizations belong to the “fallen angels”?”

(MidgasKaus) If by “fallen angels” you mean demons, then in themselves they are not a civilization. Demonic levels exist in the Spiritual World. Of the 24 levels in the Spiritual World, that is, in the world of disembodied Spirits, the first six - from 1st to 6th - are occupied by demonic worlds. Conventionally, they can be called civilizations, but they lack such signs of civilization as any cities, infrastructure, etc., as they do on the planets.

But, naturally, demons can incarnate (that is, be born) both in humanoids, including people, and in subtle-material civilizations. But even that's not all. A Spirit who was born on any planet or in a plasmoid world of a completely different level can also become a demon by vibration - he can simply lower his vibrations and become a demon.

Indeed, one can directly call even several hundred such creatures that have united into some kind of dark structure, like a certain criminal community or some kind of dark sect, a “dark civilization” in their affairs, although it may well be called some other, more bright civilization. That is, by the things they do. Things that lead people away from the Light. This is the understanding.

How many are there? Of course, if you look again from the perspective of the Earth or the Galaxy, there are quite a lot. But I’m not used to dividing them into any separate “dark civilizations”. For me, all destructive entities are lost children of God who have forgotten how to see the Light in themselves and those around them, and therefore, do good and radiate Love.

(Irina) LiShioni and Mirakh Count agree with MidgasKaus.

(MidgasKaus) For me, it makes no difference how many of these civilizations are, and how many such dark structures they have united into. Because I have one answer for all such similar entities - I send them the Light of my Love and wish that they come to the realization of God in themselves, that is, Divine energy, part of the Divine essence in themselves, open this closed Light in themselves, open their Heart and became Divine Angels.

1:09:34 Second stage of training at the Voronezh Center “Cassiopeia”.

Irina: (reading) “Please tell us about the second stage of education at the wonderful Voronezh School.” Thank you for your question.

We plan to accept the first wave of students (this is for those who have already attended the first wave), at least at the end of this month. Our School curator, Elena Kuznetsova, has all the information on this matter.

As for what will happen here, as we have already said, curators will conduct various classes through me, they will tell you, answer your questions about the incomprehensible moments of some of your practices: who led others or themselves to the Higher Self; He succeeded or failed.

For example, we will have a lesson where we will analyze various errors in some practice, or not even errors, but some controversial issues. Because as much as I look at the masters who do this, almost everyone has their own questions about the practices they do with themselves and with others. That is, there will be a day where we will talk about the training that our students underwent in the first year, how they implemented it, what they got out of it, what didn’t work out, and why it didn’t work out. That is, we will sort it all out.

And then we will talk about karmic psychology. We will have a day where we will talk about this necessary subject. What is “karma” from the point of view of spiritual psychology and representatives of the planet Esler? What is the earthly word “karma”, how is it realized in national, tribal, individual karmas? How can you find out for yourself all these types of karma? And what is (a very fashionable word) “working off karma”: what is “working off”, who is working, how to understand whether you are working off it or not, and how to harmonize it all. Now

I won’t say “remove all obstacles in order to be constantly on the wave of success”: often obstacles are given to us as lessons, but we need to understand what kind of lesson they are. And here MidgasKaus, Odus Neustran will be leading, and Mirakh Count will be invited, Archangel Michael - upon request. And each of the students will be able to ask them questions about themselves, about their lives.

We will also have - I was asked about this by the Ray of Christ Consciousness, which I have, and Mirah Count and the Mother of God, the Spirits asked me about this - they asked me to give a reading through me. We will read, and through me they will give an interpretation of such an important text as the Sermon on the Mount of Jesus Christ. Because the Sermon on the Mount of Jesus Christ sets out the truths for spiritual development for all times and peoples, which are important at our stage of the quantum transition. Let me remind you that the Sermon on the Mount is found quite openly in the Gospel of Matthew. This makes up the fifth, sixth and seventh chapters. You can read this, of course, it’s all there, but through me they will interpret it in more modern terms, more modern examples from life.

We will also analyze various cases from practice, from life, from books and films that will be associated with the manifestation of karma for a particular person. And I will not answer these questions, but the curators will tell through me. We will give them various examples of what we remember, and they will give an interpretation. Why is this important? These will be practical lessons - how to recognize karmic influences: the influence of the karma of nationality, that is, the karma of the people, the karma of the clan and one’s own karma on one’s life, and how to correct it. To put it very briefly.

We will also have a specific day for those who want to consciously travel in the Astral. I already showed this in the first year, but I will ask how people do it, and we will make adjustments: we will look at what works, what doesn’t work, and give exercises for astral exit. So that a person can consciously go out into the Astral, talk with our curators there, ask them some questions, fly somewhere - we will give some such tasks. But, naturally, it is important here that a person believes in this and believes in himself, we will also look at this.

And we will also have a day for those who come to establish contacts with their curators, who want to set up a more conscious contact for the transmission of information, when we set up their spiritual channel for the pure transmission of information. I will ask questions to which the contactee does not know the answers, but which his supervisor can answer. I will watch for myself how he receives information, how he writes it down, what needs to be corrected, etc. That is, there will be a setting of the spiritual channel.

(reads the chat) And now they write to us: “I went to the Higher Self twice, and nothing moved.” Let’s look at why a person may not hear, what he expects to hear, what may be bothering him. We will examine such questions.

“What if no thoughts come to a person?” MidgasCaus also already answered this question.

How to prepare a person for contact with himself if he is so blocked by his doubts and is so unaccustomed to talking about his feelings that he no longer distinguishes between them, so to speak. How to open this sensitivity? I will also tell all this in this course - that is, MidgasKaus and Odus Neustran through me.

Those who wish will be able to connect to a new structure for us, it is called the Light Network of the Galaxy. This is a community of hundreds of plasmoid civilizations of our Galaxy, and this is a new step specifically for healers who heal with their energies, and you can also heal yourself. But again, you need to remember that any disease is given for a reason, and simply eliminating it on the physical level without removing the spiritual causes will not work or will work for a short time. This is for conscious people who understand this.

Also, with the help of the energies of the Light Network of the Galaxy, you can clean various blocks, energy, increase the level of etheric energy of people, and become, for example, a bioenergetic therapist. These are light plasmoid civilizations that have completely voluntarily agreed to help us, earthlings on the third density level, feel like we are part of the Universe and appropriately transmit these energies with and through us.

But in order to be ready to connect to the Light Network of the Milky Way Galaxy, you must already have a connection to the Burkhad matrix, and not just have it as a given, but you need to have active work with the Burkhad matrix, that is, its daily development, for at least two months.

These are our main plans now. So far we have not had a single such stream, naturally, with each stream I will look at the needs of people, and we will adjust this course, depending on the needs of each group. That is, when I teach classes, I always go with the flow. And the curators themselves, naturally, will also look at what is most needed by these particular individuals who will come.

(reads) “I signed up for the second course.” Anyone who wishes to enroll in the second course, please contact Elena Kuznetsova, whom you already know, she will explain everything to you. Write to her.

1:19:55 Love of the Creator and attitude towards it.

Irina: (reading) “Lucifer was also an Archangel. Why, after he knew the Love of our Creator, did he abandon it?”

(Mirah Count) Because the knowledge of Love does not take away the freedom of choice to refuse it.

If someone loves you, dear Soul, and you feel this Love, you do not consider yourself obligated to respond to it, right? That is, you may well refuse. Even if a person says: “I love you, be with me,” you can leave. Why might you leave? Because Love does not limit your freedom of choice in any way. For this reason, one can leave Divine Love simply by considering that it is not Love, for example, or that it is not what Lucifer wants. He also has his own specific reasons why he left. For what exact reasons, I think it’s still correct to ask him himself.

(Irina) Since he is on the sixth level, we have already had sessions, but not with Lucifer, but there were live broadcasts with Spirits who are on the sixth level - for example, the Spirit of Joseph Stalin and his son Vasily. And also with the fifth level, where the Spirit of Lenin is located. And we also asked the question there, for what reason they left the Light, you can look at the answers. Most likely, Lucifer thinks something like this, perhaps with some of his own nuances, but the answers are clear.

1:22:06 Curator of the Cassiopeia Project.

Irina: (reading) “Is there a plasmoid or other incarnated or non-incarnated Spirit that is responsible for the egregor of “Cassiopeia”, or are these the curators of “Cassiopeia?”

The curator of the egregor, Mirakh Count, is responsible for the egregor of “Cassiopeia” and its development. This is the embodied Spirit on the planet Burkhad, in the third level of density, with which I spoke. He is the curator of the egregor.

1:22:42 The influence of information about past lives on the embodied person.

Irina: (reading) “Is it legal for you to reveal secrets about past lives? It’s not for nothing that a person’s memory was erased before his incarnation.”

Thank you for your question. You know, indeed, in the very recent past, I went to the Spiritual world, naturally, with the permission of a person, I asked his Angels-mentors, that is, Angels-consultants. I asked, with the permission of this person, his embodied part, those significant incarnations of him that they could show him.

It is clear that out of practically several hundred incarnations (there could be three hundred, six hundred, or even thousands), only a few incarnations were shown that were quite significant from the point of view of the Consulting Angels. Firstly, what they showed me - it was no coincidence that they showed these very incarnations, not in order to harm him in any way, but so that he realized something about himself, about his life.

I did this in complete trust in the consulting Angels of this person. In the understanding that they will not show what can harm this person in his development. They also see more clearly the lines of human development.

Receiving this information, the person, of course, retained free will on how to react to it, to this information. And here, of course, the Angels, as I already said, cannot take away free will, they provided information. But, unfortunately, it so happened that for some people this information led to the growth of their arrogance, their greed, and so on - that is, some negative qualities. And I say that this is indeed the case, this is the choice of these people. I was already told about this, Archangel Michael told me about this, and, accordingly, the choice of these people was exactly what they made. They are the ones responsible for this choice, because the Consulting Angels did not provide them with this information for that reason. But how they used it is their choice.

However, Archangel Michael did not order me, but asked me for a while - for now, the awareness of people, including esotericists who are in various projects and are personally familiar with me (I did not watch this for everyone, but only for people I know, but already many) will not increase. It will not improve so that they can use this information correctly. I asked not to view, so to speak, with the permission of these people, their past incarnations. Their choice could be like this. This was not an order, it was a personal request from Archangel Michael, he did not order me anything, but simply said: “I think that it will be more harmonious, and once you make your choice, it will be your choice.”

We had this conversation with him, and for now I decided to follow his advice for the time being. It is what it is.

1:26:48 Vibrations of the Spiritual heart upon leaving incarnation and their influence.

Irina: (reading) “How and who determines to what level the Spirit should go after disincarnation?”

This level is determined by the spiritual vibrations of his Spiritual heart. The spiritual heart is the part of the Spirit in which the feelings, desires, and instincts of a person in embodiment are located. A person in embodiment, of course, has only a part of the Spiritual heart, but the whole point is that the embodied part influences the level of the non-incarnate part, it changes it. And, accordingly, where the Spirit will go depends on the vibrations of the Spiritual heart: if they are low, he will go to a low spiritual level, and if they are high, that is, close to Love, to Light, to joy, happiness and forgiveness, then, naturally, he will go higher. The more Love there is in the heart, the higher it will go.

This is determined by the person himself, by his choice at the time of death. You may ask: “How do I know when I will have it, the moment of death?” But we do not know the moment of death, it can happen at any moment - this moment of separation from the body and departure into the Spiritual world. Therefore, all religious denominations and all spiritual teachers call us to always love ourselves, God and each other - because we do not know at what moment we will be called back to the world from which we came. We can be called at absolutely any time, in different circumstances, for any reason.

It’s just that some people think that if they live in some dangerous environment, then they can come out of incarnation faster, and if they are safe, then they are insured. No, that's not true. No one is immune from this - neither at any age, nor in any protected place, only God decides this, because God can take any person into the Spiritual world and take him out of incarnation at any moment in time.

1:29:17 Physical pain during dying and attitude towards it.

Irina: (reading) “What if there is severe pain when dying?” – Galina asks us a question.

You know, pain is a perception of the body. Pain often cannot be removed; it is the body's reaction to injury. Now I’m not talking about physical things, I’m talking about the Spiritual heart - about how it reacts to this pain.

Well, for example, if we remember Jesus Christ, the standard of His life, unconditional Love for everyone - do you think He did not experience pain at His death?! If He was nailed to the cross?! I tried it, that's right. They beat, nailed to the cross, by the way, living hands with nails. But this did not lower His vibration. Why didn't it reduce it? Because, despite this pain, He forgave those who caused it, He wished Light for them. He did not curse them, did not say that “you have no right to do this,” that is, he did not show any negativity. He showed them Love. It was this Love that overcame all this negative pain, this suffering. They did not cause any despondency, fear, or sadness in Him, and therefore He went to the same level from which he came - to the 24th.

1:31:07 Forgiveness and acceptance through a sick physical body.

Irina: Valery writes: “Why do Souls incarnate into sick bodies and die at birth, for example, or in the first days of life? What is this for, what experience will the Soul gain in an unconscious state?”

Valery, now Mirakh Count thanks you for a very important question for many. Because the circumstances of the incarnation of Souls can be very different, in very different families they can incarnate in very different circumstances - there may be genetic diseases, there may be damage to the body, etc. This all happens, and for what reason does the Spirit choose this particular incarnation, in an already damaged body, as it generally happens, for what?

(Mirah Count) The type of body, that is, where the Spirit incarnates, and whether it will be sick or healthy, and the period of its incarnation - in any case, is revealed by the Consulting Angels. And this is necessary to work through negative qualities, but not always only the Spirit itself, but very often this is a joint lesson from the Soul of the child and the Souls of his parents and other relatives. So that they all realize together - for example, if he died early, that only God controls his life span. And so that through this consciousness they come to understand the eternity of their Soul. There is such a lesson.

There is a lesson, if it is some specific severe pain in your body - pain is a punishment, but not by God of this Soul, but often a punishment by the Soul of itself. That is, if she feels guilty in a certain way for something in the past, in some past life, she can choose a body that will be damaged in such a way that the nerve endings will give her the experience of pain. And this way she will feel calmer - in terms of the fact that she is working through this act, which led to the suffering of others, while suffering herself. This is a definite lesson for the Soul - forgiving itself and forgiving the body in which it is located. Forgiveness and acceptance.

1:34:12 Inhabitation of the Spirit at conception.

Irina: (reading) “If a child is born through IVF, how does the Spirit get into him? After all, the Spirit falls during the act between mom and dad.”

The spirit does not fall during the act between mom and dad. During the act, he is in the Astral and observes the energies, and sends his first vital energy to the first cell not during the act, but during conception. Conception itself does not occur when sexual intercourse occurs, but somewhat later. This period varies from several hours to several days for earthlings. That is, if a man’s seed enters a woman’s body, it can even spend several days there before conception; there are such cases. Because some sperm can remain alive in this environment for quite a long time.

(reads) “About microdosing fly agarics.” We have a video about entheogens and psychotropic substances. Please watch our channel, otherwise now there will be a lot of time again about these fly agarics.

1:35:52 Warriors of the Ashtar fleet.

Irina: (reading) “How are warriors trained in the Ashtar fleet, since they also have to bring humanoids out of incarnation?”

Ashtar himself has repeatedly told me, so I will answer this question myself. He said that the last such war was 12,000 years ago, with the reptilians, when his planet was destroyed. Now there are no wars in the Galaxy, that is, now the Ashtar civilization around the Earth has only a security function.

However, they do have training for a military defense specialty. They understand this as the need to protect weaker, that is, civilizations susceptible to destruction. For example, our earthly civilization, or some individual people who can be kidnapped by certain criminals, robbers, pirates. To protect them, and thereby show your Love not only to those whom they protect, but also to those who attack them, preventing them from lowering their vibrations even further. And, based on this Love, they learn to protect.

As for the conclusion from the incarnation, this is an extreme method when nothing else works. Because in any case, it is necessary to first hold some negotiations and try to come to an agreement, to make certain compromises. If this fails, if the attack continues, and there is a refusal to negotiate, then, indeed, the only way out becomes the withdrawal of, unfortunately, intelligent Spirits from the incarnation. It is the only true one in order to preserve the life, health and high level of vibrations of other intelligent beings.

So, okay, our broadcast has already been going on for quite a long time, I will now answer three more questions, as they say, “God loves the Trinity,” and we will end the broadcast.

1:38:36 Age and contactorship.

Irina: (reading) “I’m 68 years old, can I be a contactee?”

This is an important question for many. Yes, of course, you can be a contactee. In addition, you are already a contactee - at least you are still in contact with your Higher Self, but to varying degrees of awareness. You need to start with contact with the Higher Self, by tuning into it either yourself, or, if you don’t feel it, can’t or doubt it, with a master who leads to the Higher Self. For example, in our Project we have masters who lead to To the Higher Self, my students. If you want to go through this specifically at Cassiopeia, you can do this at any time by making an appointment with them, they will tell you.

1:39:18 The state of the Earth's noosphere and the consciousness of humanity.

Irina: (reading) “As for the situation in the noosphere. Is there any good news, let’s go to the Light?” - second question.

(Mirah Count) Now the situation in the Earth's noosphere is stabilizing, is in the process of stabilization, if we compare this state with the state of the Earth's noosphere a month ago. Now the negative energies are gradually cleared, calmed down, and everything comes into harmony. The injection of negative energies, I would not say that it has stopped completely, but it has stopped.

Of course, this is also facilitated by meditation, which is carried out by various spiritual projects, including the Cassiopeia Project. And prayers for peace, which are offered in churches and temples of all religions, without exception. And also the feeling of a common holiday - New Year and Christmas, which also increases the vibrations of the noosphere, because in the state of memory of the holiday you no longer want to quarrel, be sad or wish something bad for the people around you.

But everything further depends on you - on every person on Earth. The more bright-minded, conscious people there are who actively love each other, the less negativity and its manifestations on Earth in the form of epidemics, wars and crimes will be.

Irina: Oh, what a good question! This is a question for me.

(reads) “What time do you go to bed and when do you fall asleep?”

Dear friends, I go to bed - maybe at twelve o'clock. I like to sit in the evening, read something, chat with some people in our chats or listen to music, watch some interesting movie, just analyze my day, meditate - that’s how I spend my leisure time. But I fall asleep as soon as I think about it - if I want to sleep, in any case I will fall asleep immediately, so in this regard I’m fine.

So, dear friends, I thank you for this joint live broadcast, the first of this new year. Congratulations, thank you for being with us last year, for creating this egregor with us, and from all the curators of the egregor, gratitude and Light of Love to you too! In 2023, our Project will be four years old; it is quite young, but an intensively developing egregor, thanks to each of you.

Thank you! I love you too and send you, and your curators, and your Guardian Angels the Light of my Love. See you again!

January 8, 2023

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, subtle-material civilizations and the Spiritual world;

MidgasKaus – representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms, curator of the Project;

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in the astral world and its interactions with the material world, curator of the Project;

Mirakh Count (Archangel Gabriel) – representative of the planet Burkhad, guardian of the Christian egregor, curator of the Project.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/midgaskaus-pro-obuchenie-medicine-na-planete-ehsle
June 10th
MidgasCaus about teaching medicine on the planet Esler
We have several levels of education. This is a “school” education (I now speak, naturally, in the earthly language, in the language of the contactee). Our school is divided into three levels of education - junior group, middle group and senior group. In the middle group, students begin to be divided according to their interests. In the older group, this division deepens even more, and those who decided to become a physician or biologist, who chose for themselves a natural science direction in the field of studying the Esler body (or, like me, in the field of biology, studying alien life forms, in particular terrestrial ones), After finishing school they go to higher education institutions.
These are like your institutes, very similar, only they study there for more years than in earthly institutes, and there is more practice there. The last year of study at this higher educational institution is practically spent entirely - if it is a future doctor, a physician - in some kind of practice in a medical institution, under the patronage of already experienced doctors. And each student who graduates from a higher educational institution is assigned a job, which he occupies immediately after leaving this institution. This is all provided by our government.

Every academic year, the number of places in certain institutes is equal to the number of available vacancies, but not only on our planet, but in the Galaxy as a whole, because we are already united with the Interstellar Union - therefore we can work on any planet belonging to the Interstellar Union. And some even work for the Galactic Federation of Light. That is, the answer to the question: we obtain this knowledge in educational institutions, if we talk about fundamental knowledge. As for the doctor's personal experience, this is only in practice.
Here our paths are similar, because you are humanoids, and we are humanoids, we are a dense material life form, and you are a dense material life form, so we also have an analogue of the brain, central nervous system, etc. Therefore, we have similar education systems, like society as a whole, the difference is based only on the structure of society and the attitude of humanoids to each other.
I personally received knowledge on the planet Esler, in the city of Luargi (Luargi), this city is located at a distance of approximately 1700 km, if by your measures, from the place where I was born (shows a small village). On Esler, many humanoids live in such one-story buildings as villages. And there are also cities, but few people live there, more in nature.
Students live in separate rooms, which are quite spacious. I could use a special passenger aircraft every evening to visit my family, located 1,700 km from the place of study, from Luarga, because flying 1,700 km on this aircraft took about 20 minutes. This is a gravity platform with sides, we move on it.
Diseases, injuries and their treatment on planet Esler
Sometimes diseases caused by trauma and psychosomatic reasons occur if the humanoid does not carry out prevention. And I would like to say a few words about the prevention of diseases, and in general about maintaining a healthy lifestyle, a healthy image of the body and Spirit in their integrity. Since I started telling you about school, about the junior level, I want to tell you that knowledge about the prevention of diseases, about managing your body, all organs, all hormones, all instincts is given at school. This is considered to prevent diseases in adulthood.
God forbid, if you suffered an eye injury due to some kind of accident, who and where would provide you with medical assistance? And how quickly would they do it?
It all depends on where it would be - on Esler, in space, at the base...

With us you can actually call it like a taxi, only it is controlled by robots. It arrives quite quickly upon request, because we can send a message through the chip that is already embedded in the body, that is, give it a mental impulse.
Irina: They put chips at birth, and, by the way, these micro, or rather nanochips - they are introduced in the amount of about 2.5 thousand pieces into the child's body at birth. And they are already engaged in repairing blood vessels - cleaning them, repairing the walls of blood vessels, as well as monitoring blood cells, blood composition, pressure, temperature, and so on - that is, they determine the basic parameters of the body.
MidgasCaus: And in our home there is already a screen built into the wall where this information can be displayed. If any damage occurs to the humanoid, he even automatically receives a message on this screen if he is at home. And if not, then he can create a special image, mentally contact the nanocomputer (nanochips together make up such a nanocomputer, and it already sends messages) that he needs help, and special robots come for him.
As for how I will get help in case of an eye injury... If surgical treatment is required, that is, an operation to replace any structures of the eye, or something else, we have been doing this for many thousands of years with special robots that They don't even look humanoid.
Irina: He is now showing me some kind of box, not even on wheels, but on some magnets, it rises like this, and there are a lot of hoses coming off it, and at the end of each hose there are some devices.
MidgasCaus: These are plasma robots.
Timecode: 03:34, #528 Life on Planet Esler. Medicine, education system, chipping. Longevity of aliens.
MidgasCaus is a representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms, curator of the Project.
February 2023
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/rody-i-bol-kak-zhenshchine-udalit-strah-i-bol-pri
June 11
Childbirth and pain. How can a woman remove fear and pain during natural childbirth without the use of anesthesia?
What a woman experiences during childbirth is only 30%-40% of the pain that is caused during childbirth. Everything else - 60%-70% - is her fear. Reluctance and general non-acceptance of this process, the desire to quickly free oneself from the burden.
The first thing I recommend here is psychological and physical relaxation. This is a matter of education. The correct attitude towards this process is formed in childhood. But since you don't have such a subject at school, then moms and dads themselves need to take the future of their daughters into their own hands. When your daughter is about 13-14 years old, girls usually understand at this age, be sure to tell her (usually her mother should tell her how she gave birth to her) how she was born. Usually all girls are interested in this at this age, and they don't know who to ask. They turn to the media or their friends, but they don't get the exact information they need. Be sure to talk to your daughter and tell her how she herself came into the world. Don't deceive her, don't say that you weren't hurt, and so on. Be sure to say that yes, there will be pain, but it will not be so strong if you take it calmly, relax, and directly show how to breathe from the lower abdomen.

In general, it is useful for all people to breathe from the lower abdomen without raising their shoulders. This way the body relaxes better. Be sure to show your generally accepted relaxation systems. Show her illustrations of what happens during labor, each stage. Let mom do it in this form, saying, when I gave birth to you, it was like this and like this, showing in pictures.

The first thing a woman is afraid of, especially when she gives birth for the first time, is the unknown. It happens that she simply listens to the stories of other women - how terrible it was, and tells herself that she will not stand it, will go crazy, bleed, and no one will help her. Fears begin. And if she has fears, they block, firstly, the release of pain-relieving hormones that should be released. This is provided by your nature and your instincts. And secondly, any, even small, fear provokes a surge of adrenaline. Adrenaline constricts blood vessels, tightens the muscles even more and lengthens the period of labor and greatly increases pain. Even a small injection in a moment of fear is perceived more painfully.

Explain that your greatest enemy is fear, and your greatest friend is relaxation. Teach her what periods of childbirth are, how it all goes. Tell them that when you feel pain for a period of time, then this pain will go away and you just relax. And it’s very good to try to get in touch with the child at this moment. Mentally calm him down. Don't think only about yourself. Tell me that, unlike a child, you are an adult, you understand what is happening, but a child is very small, he is also in pain, uncomfortable, and unlike you, he does not know what is happening. Calm the child mentally, and he will hear you with his Spirit. Call him, invite him into this world, say: “I’m waiting for you.” This will strengthen the maternal instinct, and will calm her down, attuning her to the fact that childbirth is a natural process. This is not torment, this is not a disease. This is a natural process, and pain is a path that cannot be avoided for objective reasons. Explain that nothing will happen to her, that everything will be fine with her, that if something happens you will be there. It is very useful for a relative to be present at the birth. If the father of the child does not want, although ideally it is better that it be him, then the mother of the woman in labor can also be present. Of course, if the mother treats her daughter normally in this state. If she does not interfere with the medical staff, and she herself is not even more frightened of her daughter. Mom has already gone through this, but it happens that the pain and tears of her daughter's suffering cause a nervous reaction in the mother if she is a very vulnerable person.

In general, it is very useful for a relative to be present who will support. Because the presence of a loved one or friend, in addition to the hospital staff, will calm you down with its energy. Well, just send the light of Love to the parents of this girl who is giving birth, her husband and all those who know her (even if you are not near her). Just imagine her image and fill her with energy. This will also support her at the energy level.
It's very good to learn behavioral tactics with your daughter: how to lie down correctly; when labor begins, you don't need to lie on your back. This impairs blood circulation when you need to walk, when you need to stand up. When can you take a bath, what temperature should it be. For example, in the period when the child is not yet out, and when preparations are underway, it is useful to take a warm bath with a temperature of up to 38C. It's relaxing. It is useful to use rose, jasmine, lavender and cinnamon oils in aroma lamps. Turn on quiet, calm music and, of course, no rudeness with this woman is acceptable.
Everything will happen by itself, persuade her, remind her that nothing terrible is happening, that if she behaves too excitedly, then simply say: "Don't think only about yourself, let's better calm the child down. He's even more scared now as it is." further," so that she could direct her attention to him. Then it will be easier for her. I repeat, what I just told you is what they teach in Esler.
Timecode: 25:33, #84 Conceiving a child, pregnancy, childbirth, pain, childhood, maternal instinct, parenting, abortion.
MidgasKaus from the planet Esler is a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations.
February 2020
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/midgaskaus-ob-opasnosti-obshcheniya-s-plazmoidami
12 June
MidgasKaus about the dangers of communicating with plasmoids in a consciousness altered by psychedelics. Stories from the practice of Irina Podzorova
If a person takes a substance such as psilocybin, LSD, etc., he opens up to contact with the subtle world. Because the subtle-material world, one might say, is closer in vibrations to the Soul, which is in a dense body, than the Spiritual world. Therefore, first of all, he opens up to the subtle world. He himself is in the material world, but in the dense, and opens to the subtle world that is around him. And, naturally, first of all - to the nearest density levels.

What do you mean open? Opening up means not only that he changes his perception. Firstly, he changes his perception so much that he begins to feel, see, hear, feel the touches of these creatures from the plasmoid civilization. And the second is that the vibrations of this person's brain change, and his aura becomes more noticeable to the same plasmoid civilizations, and they see him. But they see it not as a human body, but simply as an aura. A person's aura is shaped like an egg. That is, they see such a luminous egg-shaped figure, usually yellow. This is the color of the leading chakra.
Anyone can contact a person, because there are many plasmoids. First of all, of course, it is of interest to those plasmoids that coincide with it in vibrations. And since psychoactive substances themselves do not change spiritual vibrations in any way - neither downward nor upward (after all, this is an effect on the body, and spiritual vibrations depend on the Spiritual heart, let's say so), then those beings whom he will attract you with your Spiritual heart. Not with the physical brain, but with the Spiritual heart.
If a person has blocks, in cases, as you understand, with alcoholics, with people who have not been cleared of some kind of negativity - well, who can they attract?! Only, more often than not, destructive civilizations of a parasitic nature, which will, for example, show something terrible in order to bind it and subsequently feed on its energy of fear, anger, and resentment. To feed on these blocks for, perhaps, many years, even after such a person has used this substance once. Such cases are known. I have seen such people. As it later turned out through the Higher Self, such consequences occurred after just a single use of psilocin. That is, the person was then in contact with a destructive plasmoid civilization.
Irina: Yes, I remember this incident. It's just that a person turned to me, I took him to the Higher Self, and it turned out that the reason was his blocks, which attracted this creature to him. We dissolved the block. It was a plasmoid creature. But since the man was under the influence of psilocybe, when he saw it, he was afraid because it took on a threatening image, with a weapon. I began to imagine that it was a soldier, standing somewhere behind the curtain, aiming at him. And it was so real that the man thought that the police had come, and for his crime, for taking a prohibited substance, they wanted to kill him. Having believed this, he got scared and lowered the vibration of his energy even more, thanks to which the plasmoid came up and simply attached a binding (MidgasKaus is now showing me something like sticky gum), and left. And then, when the man had already come to his senses, he began to feel some kind of loss of strength. And he couldn't connect it with anything. Well, we went to the Higher Self. And MidgasCaus just came, we all sorted out this situation together. This was the situation.

Yes, and the second was a situation when a person contacted me who had gone through these ceremonies several times with psilocybe to expand consciousness. But it turned out that he was energetically cleansed and did not attract anyone bad to himself. But he came to me with this problem. After several mushroom ceremonies of this order, when he was in a normal state of consciousness, he practically felt that he began to lose sensitivity to energies during ordinary meditations and energy practices. That is, he said: “It’s somehow strange, I was a very sensitive person, a contactee too, I communicated. And then suddenly I realized that I was blind, deaf, and couldn’t hear anything. Not only some answers, even thoughts don’t come!”

And we started working with him. The curator also came. By the way, they came from Burkhad and also began to look at its energy. He was very worried about this. He was told that with several doses of these psilocybes, he directed such a flow of energy, such a flow of these substances into his brain that he simply, figuratively speaking, burned half of the receptors.

MidgasCaus: Because it contains a lot of psychoactive substances that mimic your hormones. You release them in small quantities, which are necessary for brain function. And when a person consumes them from the outside, the dosages exceed the natural ones by several thousand times. Therefore, the receptors can, figuratively speaking, burn out. And to put it in precise scientific language, greatly reduce your sensitivity.

And then it took several months of adaptation and rehabilitation of the person. It’s just that when he meditated, he felt absolutely nothing, and could not communicate with his Higher Self, but then gradually this sensitivity returned to him. He also drank certain herbs to remove toxins. I prescribed him nootropics to activate intracerebral metabolism so that these recovery processes would happen faster. Moreover, he also had a problem with the content of certain proteins in the membrane of neurons. This also even caused encephalopathy to some extent. He used some fairly serious nootropic drugs to get out of this state. But in the end, he said that he would not use it anymore. He said this: “It’s very strange: I stopped feeling without them.”

And I want to say now that, indeed, this happens when a person, by taking some artificial substance, reduces his own natural sensitivity. This also has a certain risk, and this must be remembered.

Spiritual growth is possible only through the purification of the Spiritual heart and the development of Unconditional Love in oneself. Substances do not contribute to this. A person may simply think that they give him spiritual growth, but in fact this is an illusion.
Irina: Come to the Higher Self. Come to me, come to my students, come to our schools. The sensations you will get there are incomparable to short-term and artificially induced states. Try it yourself. And they are absolutely safe and even beneficial for your health.
Timecode: 1:05:46, #519 Psychoactive substances that alter consciousness. How to get rid of addiction?
MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms.
Irina Podzorova is a contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations.
December 2022
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/duhovnye-i-fizicheskie-prichiny-maloj-prodolzhitel
June 13
Spiritual and physical reasons for the short life expectancy of earthlings
About four to five thousand years ago you had a longer life expectancy. If we take thirty thousand years ago, forty thousand years - the further into the past, the longer the life expectancy was.
Such a life expectancy, as it is now in the modern world, is due to two factors. The first is, as always, spiritual: it is the Spirits who choose for themselves such a short (relative to other forms, for example, our form of life, relative to the form of life on Burkhad) life span in these bodies, which are quickly destroyed for the reason that it is very difficult to go through earthly experience in such conditions.
Here the planet is very diverse - both in terms of the biosphere, and in social formations, and in relationships, and (which is one of the main factors) - spiritual knowledge is not taught in the educational institutions of this planet. This means that the Spirit has a chance to find the truth on its own, without training, that is, to go through error and find the truth. They don't talk about it, like we do, for example, in the Interstellar Union. And all this together, taken together, leads to the fact that only those Spirits choose Earth who need a short incarnation with the solution of certain problems that they cannot solve, or it is difficult for them to solve these problems in other worlds.
I have just named spiritual reasons; here they also give rise to the following reflection on the physical plane, i.e. physical reasons. These are certain changes in your genome, in your genotype, in which a gene (you call it "aging gene", and we call it "destruction gene"), not a gene, but a set of genes in each cell - it turns on a little earlier than it was .

This was done so that, firstly, generations would quickly change, and secondly, because the conditions on Earth after the war 12,000 years ago were very difficult, it was necessary to adapt to these conditions. In any case, 12,000 years ago, the average life expectancy was about 200 years (about halved, 180-200 years), and then it began to slowly decline on its own - from the mutations that occurred, from the conditions in which people lived. And the closer it was to your modern times, the more life expectancy decreased. And about two to three thousand years ago, the average life expectancy was even less than it is now, because there were diseases and injuries that could not be treated, and the body was destroyed quite quickly - in 40-50 years. Now the life expectancy that you have is determined by the lifestyle that people lead, and the level of their knowledge, awareness, and attitude towards their body. For example, the period of incarnation may be chosen to be quite long, but the Spirit, if it does not know how to properly and harmoniously handle the body, may not live to see it, destroy its body and leave the incarnation ahead of time. This also happens.

In order for the Spirit to take care of a person, he must have awareness, conscious knowledge about the processes that occur in his body, and take care of the body. As I already said about planet Esler, we call this “engaging in prevention.” That is, such a life expectancy is given to us not only by our genetics or body structure, but also by the prevention of diseases and plus the medicine, the level of medical care that we have.

You do not have this combination of factors on Earth. As far as I have studied the problem of the occurrence of various diseases at a young age and the causes of death, people’s exit from incarnation - this is due to what disorders, because of what diseases. According to Esler, the death of the physical body occurs not due to illness, but due to the fact that the Spirit understands that it has exhausted its life force, the possibility of its incarnation, and itself leaves the body, its life thread is simply interrupted. In your opinion, this is due to old age, that is, his body has exhausted the supply of vital energy issued for incarnation. But he has no diseases of the physical body - in fact, he never has diseases of the heart, that is, the organ that pumps blood, or, say, cancer of some cells that have degenerated.

Almost no one is involved in the prevention of cardiovascular diseases, cancer and other diseases, if we talk about childhood. But childhood and adolescence are the most important age for the formation of the body for life. And, for example, one day in a seven-year-old child lays the foundation for the health of his body for seven years to come, that is, it is as if the cells are programmed.

I asked my contactees various biological and medical questions about their bodies. And I noticed that quite a few people, and especially children, have knowledge about the work of their body: how their heart works, how their hormones work, and how all this affects each other. We have been given this knowledge since childhood.

Timecode: 21:04, #528 Life on Planet Esler. Medicine, education system, chipping. Longevity of aliens.
MidgasCaus is a representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms, curator of the Project.
January 2023
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/raom-tijan-ob-informacii-i-nauke-obraznosti
Yesterday
Raom Tiyan on Information and the Science of Imagery
A lot of information can be embedded into one image at once. Any image is an information package. Therefore, the Science of Imagery studies the impact of images on the consciousness and behavior of individuals in order to develop them and increase vibrations, as well as counteract the effects of the Science of Imagery for the opposite purposes - lowering vibration and degradation.
This, for example, is observed when the Science of Imagery is used in a negative sense in those civilizations where political or religious groups, having opposing views on the same subject, do not themselves want to fight with each other, but use the Science of Imagery in order to to set your people, your society or part of it against the enemy’s society. This is called "creating an image of the enemy."
In fact, creating an image of an enemy is a certain political technology in which special images are used to evoke negative emotions, feelings towards a particular person, and this arouses righteous anger, aggression, a sense of infringed justice, and the skillful hand of a manipulator directed against a certain people to achieve its goals. This is also used on Earth, all the more so because of the duality of thinking and the inability and lack of awareness in controlling one’s instincts.
If even a very large number of people do not distinguish themselves from the body, consider themselves to be a physical body, then, naturally, any impulse, desire, instincts going through the body are accepted as a person’s true desire - one that will advance him along the path to happiness. But this is not so, because there are still spiritual feelings, spiritual desires and spiritual goals, in addition to instinctive ones. And it is very easy for such unconscious intelligent beings, who do not realize themselves as Spirit, to create the image of an enemy, especially if they do not know and have not studied the Science of Imagery.
And I am very surprised that in your schools they do not teach the Science of Imagery in its full extent, so that every person from childhood can understand by what images different emotions can be evoked in him - negative and positive - and for what purposes. In our country, this science, this knowledge is included in the study in schools from childhood.

Imagination is the mind's ability to create new images, including new ideas. And the sounds in the mental field that arise in the composer - he does not hear them with his ear, they are also images. He hears it in his mind, but this is his image of how he should hear this music, and then he transfers it to the sound of a physical instrument. He can play it, and it even happens that the sound of this instrument will not be similar to the sound that he had in the mental field, and he will look for another instrument or another way to express it in the physical world. And then, when he considers that this work is finished, it will be his creation, that is, it will already be information transferred to the physical plane in the form of sounds. Every sound is physical energy. This image may be from the Higher Self, or it may be from a curator. This is how the ability of the creator manifests itself, which exists in the human imagination as the ability to create new images, and in Russian it is called "imagination" - image, creation of images, the ability to do this.
Timecode: 1:38:34, #526 Universal ternary code. Matter, energy, information in the Universe from the perspective of alien sciences. Raom Tiyan is a representative of the planet Burhad, a specialist in energy interactions in the environment of the material and Spiritual world and transformations of various energies.
January 2023
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/apshetarim-o-svoih-kontaktah
Religion and worldview
Today
Apshetarim about our contacts
My physical body is located on Tumesout. For astral travel there is a special chair that completely relaxes the body, its muscles and allows you to quickly enter the Astral (there is a special mood - such waves come). With the help of a special effect on the brain, it helps to maintain consciousness in the Astral world and transmit information so that I do not completely go into an unconscious dream. But, of course, this requires special training. I've been training since I was young.
I specifically went to study first as a sociopsychologist on Tumesout, and only then became interested in the problem of integrating young races into the Interstellar Union. I began to study this problem, began to look at the register of civilizations; Naturally, I found the Earth, which was discovered by our ancestors, representatives of our planet. And he became interested in what was happening there, and wanted to help earthlings, such a beautiful planet, join the Interstellar Union.

I knew that we are all Spirits of a single Spiritual world, I recognized my brothers and sisters in earthlings and wanted to help them. And then I went to study again - this time to become a specialist in contacts with earthlings. And there I was just studying astral travel.
My Higher Self always maintains contact with the Islamic egregor. And my Higher Self has a spiritual name - Archangel Gabriel. Why Archangel? Because I'm at level 24, according to you. And my part is embodied in a physical body - Apshetarim, and my Spirit in general, my spiritual name - Jabrail. But again, this is as far as your sounds can convey it.
If any Spirit that has contactees incarnates, then its Higher Self continues to contact, sending phantoms for contact. When a person prays to Allah, it is as if he is calling me. There is such a call, and I hear it and send Light, Love, information in response. You can contact me, call me by my spiritual name, and I will give information in response.
Timecode: 52:22, #509 Conference with Archangel Gabriel. How the Islamic egregor was created. Sacrifice of Isaac.
Apshetarim (Archangel Jabrail) is a representative of the planet Tumesout. Specialist in the creation of religious and philosophical egregors in worlds not included in the Interstellar Union. Sociologist, psychologist, religious scholar. Guardian of the Islamic egregor.
November 2022
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/otlichiya-demona-i-angela-vybor-voploshcheniya
Religion and worldview
April 19
Differences between Demon and Angel. Choice of Incarnation
A Demon differs from an Angel in its level, i.e. vibrations. The Demon retains the same divine essence. She is not taken away from him. Godlikeness is not taken away from any Demon. He still has immortality, he still has creativity, he still has both the Higher Self and conscience in the form in which he is able to perceive it. Of course, he denies it, but it remains in him. Also, any Demon still has the opportunity to be restored to the rank of Angel, the opportunity to return to the ranks of the Light Forces upon incarnation and completion of their lessons.
If anyone has read the parable of the prodigal son, this is the attitude towards Demons. Christ even said that there is more joy in heaven over one repentant sinner than over 99 righteous people. A repentant sinner is one who raises his vibrations, realizes his sins, recognizes them as his mistakes and harmonizes, transfers into Light the negative energy that led him to sins. Sin is an act that is based on the blocks that a person has accumulated.

Conditions for Demon incarnations
A demon can incarnate for various reasons. But he does not incarnate himself, but with the help of Consulting Angels, who are at the 22nd level, every Spirit has them, these are Mentor Angels. They know why the Spirit lowered its level and choose its incarnation. Angels know what reasons led him to a state of low vibrations, what negative blocks he has, what emotions, feelings he has, and what lessons and life situations he needs to go through so that if he uses his free will, he will raise his vibrations.
The spirit can incarnate, but not where it wants. If he says: “I want to be incarnated as a president,” but does not correspond in his vibrations and his development to this position, his Angel Consultants will simply tell him that his incarnation does not correspond to his vibrations. And it corresponds, for example, to there and there, on such and such a planet. They may offer several options. On such and such a planet, in such and such a country, in such and such a family, or in general in the plasmoid world, they can offer. There are a lot of plasmoid worlds, 56 density levels, and we only live on the 3rd. The spirit can agree or refuse - this is its freedom of choice.
Timecode: 26:07, #233 Irina Podzorova. Abkhazia. Retreat. Who are we? Daemon. Human. Spirit. God. Goals. Answers on questions. Irina Podzorova is a contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations. January 2021
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/mirrah-kaunt-o-sushchnosti-very-i-znaniya
Mirrah Count on the essence of faith and knowledge. Belief in the non-existence of God
In this article I will talk about the difference between faith and knowledge, since the inability to distinguish between these two states of the human soul leads to numerous everyday and social conflicts.
Faith and knowledge belong to different areas of human experience.
Faith is the feeling of the existence of an object regardless of objective evidence, it is located in the heart of the rational spirit and is capable of creating spiritual reality.
Knowledge is information about the universe received through the senses or created by the imagination.
The totality of all knowledge, ideas and attitudes of the spirit is intellectual memory, which is part of its general memory and is part of the mind.
Knowledge about objects of faith and their qualities is in the intellectual part of memory along with other knowledge, and faith in their existence is in the spiritual heart.
To believe in something, it is not enough to know about it; you need to have a coincidence in the vibrations of the object of faith with the feelings and desires of the spiritual heart.

This is possible if the object of faith corresponds to the goals, desires and expectations of the person. They are formed over more than one incarnation and are reflected in the character, temperament, internal moral principles and mental attitudes of a person.
Faith is one of the feelings that distinguishes the rational immortal spirit from plant and animal souls, which follow only instinctive programs and reactions to the material, objective environment.
Materialism is the belief in the self-organization of matter into complex forms that give rise to life and intelligence without an intelligent Creator. Such faith can stem from a feeling of guilt before God, causing fear of encountering the unknown and denial of the spiritual basis of the Universe.
Disbelief in God is the belief that He does not exist, accepted without evidence, just as the belief in the existence of God is accepted.
Not a single materialist has witnessed the emergence of the Universe, just like a person who believes in its Divine origin, and not a single materialist has known the state after the death of the body, therefore his statements about the non-existence of God and the impossibility of the life of the human soul after the death of the body are also taken on faith, like the dogmas of any religion.
Faith, like love, cannot be caused automatically or through violence: both are in the spiritual heart of a person and manifest themselves in life according to his spiritual vibrations.
A person who believes in God or in the Supreme Mind that created the Universe wants to feel like an eternal spirit. But a materialist, who does not believe in God and in the reality of the spiritual world, independent of the material, does not want to think about eternity; he is ready to disappear forever along with the body.
The reason for such different desires is that those who strive for eternity are delighted with the beauty of the Divine creation and want to be one with its Source. And those who do not feel the reality of God are indignant within themselves at the seeming injustice of the world. This indignation prevents you from feeling faith in the existence of God, because the feeling of resentment reduces the vibrations of the spiritual heart and it cannot adequately perceive spiritual reality.
You can believe in God by developing love for yourself, for other people and for nature, because love cleanses the heart and opens spiritual eyes. A person who unconditionally loves himself and others begins to feel more and more the reality of the spiritual world and the presence of God next to him and in himself. On the contrary, if a person falls into negative vibrations: anger, resentment, hatred, fear, guilt, etc., he begins to doubt the object of his faith, because negative emotions and feelings lower his spiritual vibrations and put a wall between them and God .

Pride and arrogance also lead to lower spiritual vibrations and a lack of faith in someone beyond one's capabilities. It becomes difficult for him to recognize someone's power over him due to an unharmonized leadership instinct and he closes his heart to faith in God. Often, in order to hide from himself the fear of an empty, meaningless Universe, he begins to mock the faith of other people and pride himself in front of them on his intelligence and common sense, which allegedly distinguish him from the mass of people who believe in God.
A person himself chooses what to believe and whom to trust, and he himself bears responsibility for this. Providing evidence of the reality of something to a person who does not believe in it is as pointless as trying to feed a hungry person against his will or forcing a person who closes his eyes and turns away from him to look at the Sun.
Mirrah Count, sociologist and political scientist, specialist in the creation of spiritual egregors, planet Burkhad.
April 2024
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pryamoj-ehfir-bogorodica-otvety-na-voprosy
April 21

#496 Live broadcast. Mother of God. Answers on questions.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=D0ESKS5SND0

00:00 Start of video.

00:04 List of those present.

Maxim: Dear friends, hello everyone. As always, I start the live broadcasts - Rusan Maxim, head of the Cassiopeia Project, head of the autonomous non-profit organization "Cassiopeia Health Center for Spiritual and Physical Development".

Can you hear me okay? Amazing. “Mida and LiShioni not so much.” Jokers. I realized that Mid and LiShioni were not very audible. In fact, I can’t hear anyone except LiShioni. I am not a universal contactee. Therefore, I am the Project Manager. And, thank God, that at least sometimes you can hear LiShioni.

We recently, literally 25 minutes ago, ended a wonderful giveaway. We raffled off T-shirts, badges, bracelets, bifidobacteria, Cassiopeia Om tea, our new product, a wonderful thing. Therefore, I congratulate everyone who participated in the drawing and who won prizes and gifts. I recommend everyone to subscribe to the Info Cassiopeia channel. On this channel we always inform you about our various events, sweepstakes, gifts, and prizes. And we will hold these giveaways very often. This is our gratitude to you, our listeners, subscribers, those people who are simply interested in everything unknown and support our Project. Therefore, thank you very much and great gratitude to you.

What's our news? The biggest news is that we are starting our retreat in Krasnodar on Tuesday. We are heading there tomorrow morning. Starting from Tuesday we will have a simply wonderful retreat program, where Ilya Alexandrov will be with his project “Mental Healing”. He has very cool new practices, he has cool, structured information from esoteric psychology. Irina Podzorova will be there. You will have her for three days: two days she will conduct training, and one day there will be a grand conference with those structures, with those Spirits, plasmoids or humanoids that you yourself invite, and you will be able to communicate directly with them. Waiting for you.

We have 2 spaces available in Krasnodar. These are two men. I hope they are doing well, wonderful. They vacated seats not according to the agenda that might have come to them. If you would like to join the retreat in Krasnodar, you can call: +7 (988) 910-00-40. Lena will answer you, and she will sign you up for these two free places. I'm sure these two places didn't just become vacant.

Thank you all so much for supporting us and for watching us.

Today the Blessed Virgin Mary will be on our broadcast. Yes that's right. The phantom of the Blessed Virgin Mary, which was specially formed by her for this live broadcast. She is here. I've already had time to chat.

I haven't received the summons yet. But if he comes, and it is necessary to repay the debt to the Motherland, I will repay it. I am not afraid of anything in this life - not death, not the devil, not anyone else. If we need to go to defend our mothers, children, sons, wives, I, as a patriot of my country in which I live, which is closer to my heart, will go to defend my country. The summons has not arrived yet. I won't run away from all of this. As God wills, so it will happen.

I would like to give the floor to our wonderful Irishka with the phantom of the Virgin Mary, who is present nearby. Irisha, have a seat. Today will be a very interesting broadcast, as I understand it. There will be a lot of questions regarding various egregorial topics.

05:23 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! Good evening. My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, with subtle material civilizations and with the Spiritual world.

Today here is the phantom of that person who is one of the guardians of the Christian religious egregor and the egregor of such a country as the Russian Federation. This is the person who was known in her last incarnation on Earth as the Mother of God Mary, the Most Holy Theotokos. She and I have already had two conferences. But we invited her to the live broadcast for the first time so that you could ask her questions on YouTube. And She greets you.

Maxim: Guys, we have a chat called “Q&A.” Live broadcast", you can find it at the link below. Therefore, I will try to ask both from YouTube and from this chat. But I will pay more attention to the chat, there are already 155 questions there.

Irina: Great. Mary the Mother of God says: “I greet you all, my children. I will be glad to answer your questions and give you more understanding of the spiritual meaning of current events both in public life and in your personal life.”

07:55 Theotokos about the restoration of the world at a specific point in time and space.

Maxim: This is the question. Mother, please tell me, what words should we pray in this difficult time, so that peace will come to our lands, so that the war will end?

Irina: So that, as I understand it, all wars end?

Maxim: Most likely, probably yes.

Irina: So that there is peace throughout the entire Earth?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Virgin Mary): Thank you for your question. Peace in any world. Spiritual peace in any material world, including on Earth, in the physical world of planet Earth comes only when the Light of Divine Love settles in the Spiritual hearts of the absolute majority of incarnated Spirits in this place, time, at this point in time and space. Because the Earth in other planes of existence is seen simply as a point in time and space. And when the majority of Souls embodied at this point in time and space have the Light of unconditional Love in their Soul, this Light will be embodied in the material plane in the form of peace between peoples and between families, and between people in a separate family, that is, there will be universal peace.

How to pray for this world? You can ask Heavenly Father in your own words to send more of His messengers, prophets, healers, contactees and other messengers of His Light of Love through incarnations into your World. They will be able, speaking in different languages, preaching in different terminologies of various religious and philosophical teachings and scientific communities, and social movements, to convey to every person the importance of purification, enlightenment and complete likening of their Spirit to God, who loves everyone absolutely, regardless of skin color, language , attitude towards religion and political movements.

11:13 Theotokos about the energies of the egregor of Russia for September 2022.

Maxim: Is the spiritual upliftment of Souls, their enlightenment visible on the egregor of Russia, or, conversely, is the spiritual fall of Souls visible?

Irina: The egregor of Russia is very heterogeneous. This is a very large egregor. It contains many different energies. The energy of feelings, thoughts and emotions of every person who identifies himself with a country like Russia. Even if he is not necessarily located on the territory of this country, he mentally calls himself Russian, not Russian by nationality, but a Russian. Such a person, feeling like a representative of this country, invests his spiritual energies in the construction, in the creation and development of this egregor. At the present moment in time in which I am now, I can say what the state of this egregor is in general. But I need that time period in which I can compare this state. Over what period of time, because it changes?

Maxim: For a year.

Irina: In relation to what happened a year ago and is happening now, there was an increase in the share of low-vibration energies in the egregor of Russia by approximately 18 percent (the numbers show: by 18%). These are the energies of fear, anger, envy, condemnation, hatred and disgust, rejection - this concerns the energies of feelings and emotions. These are the energies of mental constructs that do not accept the mental constructs and beliefs of other people. I just spoke in general about egregor. This is exactly for the last year.

Maxim: They ask: please tell me, are you familiar with the Spirit of our President Vladimir? He has an incredibly difficult task in this life.

Irina: Familiar from past incarnations.

Maxim: Is he fulfilling his spiritual mission?

Irina: I can only answer this question myself.

Maxim: Interesting. I understand.

Irina: Because this is his task, and only he can ask about the extent of its completion, because this is his appearance before God.

Maxim: I understand.

14:58 Theotokos about the reason for Jesus' lack of physical children.

Maxim: They ask the question: how can you find out whether it is true or not that Jesus said on air with Irina that he did not have children?

Irina: Question again.

Maxim: How do you know if it's true that Jesus spoke on air with Irina about the fact that he didn't have children?

Irina: How do you know if Irina was telling the truth? Or how to find out if Jesus had children?

Maxim: Did Christ have children?

Irina: No. No physical ones, he had spiritual children.

Maxim: Could he have had children in principle?

Irina: Of course they could. He was not married. Did not marry according to the rites of Judaism. He took upon himself the ordination of a Nazarite when he was quite young, at 15 years old, even earlier than was customary for a Nazarite. And an exception was made for him for his Spiritual Light and wisdom, which he expressed in communication with more senior teachers of the Jewish law of the Torah, and its interpretation. And the Nazarenes took a vow of celibacy so that their whole life and all their ministry would be aimed at preaching and helping people. This was necessary so that there was no concentration on family matters, and so that the woman who could be his wife, and those children who could appear in their marriage, were not deprived of the attention of the husband and father. There was care for all sides of the family and all spouses.

Maxim: Thank you.

17:12 Our Lady about her contactees.

Maxim: Are you a mentor to people on this planet?

Irina: Yes. I have many contacts. I am present here now in the form of my phantom. But my other phantoms are now communicating, including with other people, giving them information, giving them the energy of consolation and healing, and protection. I have contactees not only on Earth. There are contactees on Earth not only at the third density level. Contactees are those individuals who communicate with me in one form or another.

Maxim: I have a question: do you have contactors in dense material form?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Do you have contactees in subtle material form?

Irina: Yes, of course, there are contactees in subtle material form who contact me, because I myself am in the Spiritual world, I am not in incarnation.

Maxim: And who is more?

Irina: Since there are many more Spirits embodied in the subtle worlds, then, naturally, I have more contactees there.

The dense material world makes up 7% of the entire material world. The Physical Universe that you see is seven percent of all types of matter that is manifested from Spiritual Light. And even in this world, which occupies 7% of the material world, there are many planets on which intelligent beings live in dense bodies, many galaxies, many star systems. Imagine how many worlds exist in 93% of the material world?

Maxim: I understand. Thank you.

19:34 Our Lady on the concept of “happiness.”

Maxim: Holy Mother of God, what is happiness? Were you happy on Earth?

Irina: Happiness is energy. The same energy of unconditional Love, manifested in the form of absolute harmony and peace with oneself, with God and with every person in the world, which is felt as an attitude towards oneself, towards the World and towards God with feelings of the greatest gratitude, acceptance and the state in which you are in every moment of time.

Yes, I was happy because I was always in contact with my Higher Self, with the Light within me.

Maxim: Thank you.

20:35 Our Lady about the likelihood of a third world war and nuclear war.

Maxim: Please tell me that the third world war was described according to many scriptures and predictions. What is the likelihood of a third world war now?

Irina: By the third world war, do you mean the entry into military conflict of more than 50% of the states on this planet?

Maxim: More than 25.

Irina: Probability for what period?

Maxim: For the next two to three years.

Irina: Two or three years?

Maxim: Two.

Irina: If you look at the next two years, the probability of more than 25% of countries entering into conflict is currently 23%.

Maxim: What if I said 15 percent of countries?

Irina: If by the third world war we mean a war, for example, of four or more countries together with each other, not just scattered on the planet, but together with each other?

Maxim: But either three against one country.

Irina: Which are in conflict with each other, but not just scattered on the planet? Do I get it right? Because disparate countries on the planet are now fighting a lot.

Maxim: I'll ask the question differently. I mean a third world war, when more than two or three countries can unite against one country and declare war on it.

Irina: For what time?

Maxim: For the next two years.

Irina: Currently this probability is 38%.

Maxim: I understand.

Irina: At this moment. But this can be changed by the choices of those Spirits who are embodied in these countries, by a cumulative choice in any direction, both downward and upward.

Maxim: I understand. Another question. What is the likelihood of the use of nuclear or nuclear tactical weapons in the next year on the territory of Russia or Ukraine?

Irina: Precisely in these two countries, on the territory or?

Maxim: On the territories of Russia or Ukraine?

Irina: In the territories now occupied by Russia and Ukraine, what is the likelihood of using any (just using)?

Maxim: Any nuclear tactical...

Irina: Any nuclear tactical weapons? So this question does not imply nuclear war, but simply application? Do I get it right?

Maxim: Yes, just the use of nuclear weapons.

Irina: I am now looking at the probability line for the coming year. Yes, the probability of the use of any nuclear weapons in the territories currently occupied by Russia and Ukraine is 47%.

Maxim: Wow.

Irina: This is, if we talk about application.

Maxim: Application, yes. What is the probability of a nuclear war?

Irina: At the moment, the probability of a nuclear war is 18%. That is, there is such a possibility that it may not lead to a nuclear war.

Maxim: I understand. I heard. Thank you. So, let's look further. Ira, maybe you can help me?

Irina: Should I choose there or there? Because I don't have Telegram chat right now. Let's choose now. I will select questions that were not included in the conferences.

25:22 Theotokos on the awareness of the divinity of her son.

Irina: The question of when you realized that your son Jesus is the Son of God has been addressed.

(Virgin Mary) Okay, I'll remind you of this. I always realized that he was given to me from God and is Moshiach, from the moment when Mirah Count told me about this, when he came into contact with me, and this was two weeks before his conception.

In fact, this question has already been asked. I will ask questions that were not included in the conference so as not to waste time.

26:00 Theotokos on the spiritual reasons for the emergence and cessation of wars.

Maxim: Is it possible to stop a war through mass prayer?

Irina: No. Mass prayer cannot stop a war. Just by prayer alone. There must be conscious actions on the material level.

War is a manifestation on the material level of those energies that were invested in egregors that are involved in this war for many years, or even decades. The more energy of aggression, anger, rejection, and fear was invested in the egregors of the warring countries, the more destructive and long the war will be.

Yes, there is a chance to stop this before all the accumulated energy spills out. And there is always such a chance. This will happen not even in the case of prayer, but in general meditations that will be combined with prayer, and in which peace between peoples will be imagined and visualized.

But the condition for the success of this practice is that the peoples of the warring states must unite their efforts for a truce. And this means that they must fill their egregors with the energies of their love, forgiveness, mercy and confidence that God loves everyone.

These peoples, I now mean by the people of those people who are not directly on the battlefield, but are at home, that is, those who are not involved in the conflict on the physical level. They don't risk their lives like warriors. These people are at home, and their fathers, brothers, husbands and, naturally, sons and relatives are at the front. Sometimes mothers, wives, sisters, daughters. These are the people who are waiting for their relatives alive from the war on any side of the conflict. Everyone is waiting. And this means that they are waiting alive only for those who are their relatives and are fighting against others, against the warriors of the other side.

If people on both sides can realize that in another nation there live the same people whom God loves, and look at them through the eyes of God, they can forgive, send the Light of Love not only to their relatives, whom they expect alive, but also to those who are fighting against them, they will be able to overcome the egregorial view of this situation and will meditate on peace between their peoples, gradually the egregor will be cleansed. Because this people who are at war will go through their lessons of acceptance, love, patience and mercy, despite the feeling of attachment to their relatives as to Souls.

Remember that those soldiers, those warriors who are now fighting against your brothers, sons and all other relatives, are also someone's brothers, sons and other relatives, they are also expected. When you remember this and meditate in this mood, send the same Light of your Love to everyone without exception, and at least 60% of the people join in, then you can very quickly cleanse the egregor. And the governments of the warring countries will feel mercy in their hearts towards each other and will be reconciled.

Maxim: Here Irina writes: "Maxim, I have no questions, but I ask you to thank the Mother of God for her unconditional Love on my behalf personally. I grew up without my mother. I love the Mother of God like a mother. Thank you for everything sincerely and with all my heart. Irina, Astrakhan region."

Irina: Thank you Irina. I send her the Light of my Love and acceptance.

I have now named 60% of the people with this mood. By 60% I understood the majority of adult conscious people who understand their place in the world and responsibility for their condition and behavior, that is, these are adults. If the percentage of such people among the peoples of warring countries is smaller, the egregor will accordingly take longer to clear. And if there are more of those who send anger, hatred, curses, and rejection to the enemy people and enemy soldiers, then the situation will worsen. More energy will accumulate in this egregor, and the war will last longer. It will take longer for all this to come out. This is a test of awareness. Not just a test, but a lesson.

Your task, as conscious people, is to explain this spiritual truth, which is known to all high civilizations of the Cosmos, to everyone around you, to carry out educational activities.

Because so far on both sides of the conflict, if you ask me about the conflict between Russia and Ukraine, there are not even 10% of those who wish each other well and happiness.

Maxim: At this point in time, there aren't even these 10% on both sides?

Irina: Up to 60, but not even 10.

Maxim: Not even 10?

Irina: Yes. Now at the moment it is 8 percent, and in fact this is more than it was, for example, a week ago, but it is still very little.

34:13 Theotokos about people interested in war.

Maxim: My question is this. Are there countries that are interested in continuing this war?

Irina: Countries in general or representatives of countries?

Maxim: Representatives of countries and the country in general.

Irina: Very different people live in countries.

Maxim: Then representatives of countries, meaning their leaders.

Irina: Are there any managers who are interested in continuing? Not leaders, but there is a separate large group. I would call them “merchant entrepreneurs” who are closely connected with the financial egregor. They are far from the conflict zone itself, and are safe. They do not believe that there is any possibility of a nuclear conflict, which means there is danger for them personally and their families. And they are interested not only in war, but specifically in this one, but in the fact that there is more disorder, destruction, and so that they can take advantage of it for their own purposes. Some for the production of weapons, some for the production of nuclear and other fillers for these weapons, and some so that, taking advantage of the destruction and economic structure of the warring countries, they can profitably acquire the resources of these countries. But I wouldn’t call them rulers; they are more of an oligarchic elite. It's not directly from the government. They have their representatives in the government, of course, but they do not directly rule. And moreover, they are in different countries, but not in warring countries. They have their own representatives among the warring parties, but this is just like agents of influence, in your opinion.

Maxim: I understand. Thank you.

Irina: Those who defend their interests, such a society of people. And they do not support their views in everything, but for some reason they still believe them.

37:11 Our Lady about the conditions for maximum effectiveness of meditation.

Maxim: Irina, dear Mother of God, Most Holy Theotokos, I propose that the next three meditations on the Meditations channel, which we run on Fridays, be for peace and for ending all wars on the planet.

Irina: Yes, good. I am ready in your common spiritual space, which you will create for meditation practice, to be present in the form of a phantom with you. Through the awareness and mental field of contactee Irina, I will transmit to you those images that will help you quickly stabilize the situation, cleanse egregors and reconcile with everyone.

But I want to remind you once again about the conditions for the maximum effectiveness of this meditation - this is your complete peace in the Soul, with yourself, with people close to you and with God, while you live an ordinary life. When you finish your meditation, keep peace within yourself and do not wish harm to anyone. I understand that this is difficult. At a time when certain media are whipping up fear and anger towards the opposing side. I understand that it is difficult to keep yourself in harmony and in love. To do this, always remember, no matter what information you receive, that you are immortal Spirits, and those people about whom this is written or shown are also immortal Spirits who are going through their lessons.

See everything through the eyes of my son Jesus Christ. See everything through my eyes. We love everyone equally. We do not divide people by beliefs, by languages, by nations; every person is dear to us, no matter what his name is, no matter what position he holds. Even those who caused and now support this conflict on the physical level are dear to us, like Spirits who go through these lessons. And we want them to come into awareness, into the Light of Love, and raise their vibrations. They are not the culprits in this situation. They only manifested on the physical plane, as I already said, everything that had been accumulated over many decades by those people who live in these countries.

But I want to emphasize that at this moment in time there are more than two participants in the conflict between Russia and Ukraine. Every country that is the owner of financial means and material weapons of destruction of manpower, every country whose financial means and material weapons of destruction are located in the conflict zone and are used for direct military purposes to destroy the physical bodies of people and infrastructure, are parties to the conflict. This means that those Spirits who were embodied in those countries also accumulated a certain negative in their egregors, and it is now manifesting itself in this way.

Maxim: Thank you very much. Every Friday on the “Cassiopeia Meditations” channel we will conduct meditations for peace and an end to war. This is the next 3-4 weeks, there will be just 3-4 broadcasts.

We are now leaving for a retreat in Krasnodar. There we will not be able to do these meditations. But when we arrive from there, we will definitely start seeing them off.

42:33 Our Lady about the most likely date for ending the Ukraine-Russia conflict is September 2022.

Maxim: I have a question. When will this conflict between Russia and Ukraine end?

Irina: The most likely?

Maxim: Most likely.

Irina: For now?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: By cessation, do you mean complete cessation?

Maxim: All military operations.

Irina: And the signing of a peace treaty?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: At the moment, I see the most likely date for the signing of a peace treaty between Russia and Ukraine and approved by the world community - the end of March 2023. This probability is currently 67%.

Maxim: End of March 2023?

Irina: Yes. This is precisely the probability. This line of probability has absorbed 67% of the energy for embodiment on the material plane. Every second before this date, the energy ratio of this probability will change in any direction. It's up to you. And whether this will be embodied in the material world depends on you.

I can only name the conditions under which incarnation can be accelerated, slowed down, or even canceled. And I have already named these conditions.

44:37 Our Lady about the consequences of a person's negative thoughts and emotions.

Irina: If you want to speed up, then at the present moment in time, if you cannot love your enemies, just seek peace with yourself, contact with your Higher Self, cleanse yourself of blocks, of hatred, of anger, of condemnation in relation to any actions, and even this will contribute to the Peace Treaty.

If you see people around you who condemn another nation, its rulers, and even more so curse and wish for death, explain in a gentle form that this leads to an even greater continuation of the conflict. Because these are not just words, these are energies that remain in space and then manifest themselves in gun shots and bomb explosions. Every rude word you say to a child can turn into bomb explosions decades later. Every thought of a curse, every cursing thought sent after a more successful colleague whom you envy, can manifest itself decades later in the form of a bullet that takes your great-grandson or great-great-grandson out of incarnation. Always remember this.

46:34 Theotokos about the salvation of soldiers on the line of contact.

Maxim: Irina Bellington asks: "What should women read to protect their husbands who went to war?"

Irina: Don't read. You need to imagine his image and send him the Light of your Love, be sure to combine this with the conditions that I have already mentioned. Send the Light of Love to everyone, including those with whom he is at war.

What about “save”? Just trust God. If in none of the lines of probability of its incarnation there is such an event as withdrawal from incarnation due to war, it will not happen. Trust God that everything that happens will be for good. Send the Light of Love to everyone. And most importantly, believe yourself that all Spirits are immortal, both you, and he, and everyone in general. And that everyone is now going through a very difficult lesson of acceptance, forgiveness and love, transforming the energy of fear, hatred and aggression towards a belief different from yours. This applies not only to Russia and not only to Ukraine, but in general to all countries involved in the conflict, as I already said, these are not two countries.

Maxim: I understand. Thank you.

48:34 Our Lady about probable scenarios for the development of Crimea for September 2022.

Maxim: What will happen to Crimea in the near future? Will it remain part of the territory of the Russian Federation? And what is the likelihood of fighting there?

Irina: If by combat we mean shell explosions, they are there. Occur in this space. Or do you mean by combat operations the deployment of troops?

Maxim: Deployment of troops.

Irina: For what period?

Maxim: For the next year.

Irina: Probability for the next year at the moment?

I'm looking at the Timeline now. The probability in the next year that Crimea will remain part of Russia is 87%.

The probability of sending troops for military operations, not just sending troops for exercises, but for military operations in the next year is 25%.

These percentages are different, because the deployment of troops and military operations on the territory of Crimea do not necessarily mean the return of Crimea to the control of Ukraine. These could be different scenarios.

Maxim: What is the likelihood of Crimea being returned to Ukraine?

Irina: Accordingly, around 10%. The remaining 3% is the probability that it will become an independent state, that is, independent from everyone.

Maxim: Interesting. Is it even possible for Crimea to become independent?

Irina: Yes. Like Abkhazia.

51:37 Our Lady about the state of the quantum transition for September 2022.

Maxim: Please tell me what are the current stages of the quantum transition? And who is overseeing this quantum transition?

Irina: At the moment there is still a period of calm, although it should have ended. The reason is that the energies obtained in the previous stage of the quantum transition, which Sergius of Radonezh spoke about, have not yet been harmonized and fully adapted. The phantom of Archangel Michael, who takes on the image of Seraphim of Sarov, took part in the deployment of it. These are his energies (the image of Seraphim of Sarov is also shown by Sergius of Radonezh).

The new stage of the quantum transition has not yet begun. Because those energies that were received during the last period of the quantum transition have not yet been stabilized. There are still processes going on. This is due to the fact that the decrease in vibrations of the egregors of the Earth's noosphere interferes with this, impedes the process.

Maxim: Who is now overseeing this quantum transition?

Irina: Now there is a period of calm, and there is no separate curator for the next one. It will be clear who will be the curator when the distribution of energies at the beginning of a new stage of the quantum transition is clear.

Maxim: Thank you. I understand.

53:33 Message of the Mother of God to Ukrainians.

Maxim: What wish can you convey to the Russians and Ukrainians who are now going to war?

Irina: I will convey to them absolutely the same wish. And I will address them as my children.

I love you very much, dear Ukrainians, dear Russians. You are Orthodox peoples, but for me you are one people. I do not divide by borders, by beliefs or by language. I feel the Soul of each of you when you partake of the body and blood of my son, and when you pray to me. These actions are being done both in Russia and Ukraine. And I send each of you the Light of my Love every time you do this. For me, the tears of a Ukrainian mother who is waiting for her son to come home, and the tears of a Russian mother who is also waiting for her son to come home, are absolutely energetically the same, no matter what armies they served in. And I send consolation to both equally.

Spiritual advice, or rather even, as in Russian in the memory of the contactee, the spiritual guidance that I can give you in this situation.

To the people of Ukraine. Please, let every person who is watching me now, on the territory of Ukraine, look into his heart, listen to the words that I am saying now through the contactee and ask himself how true they are for you. Because you are divine light Spirits who came into this incarnation to increase this Light in yourself using different methods, by performing different tasks. Please, I am writing to you with a request. By the power of your Spirit, control the instinctive fear of death and the instinctive fear of losing your children and relatives and remember that you are spiritual beings. To increase your spiritual level, it is necessary to develop unconditional Love.

56:57 Mother of God about unconditional Love.

Irina: Unconditional Love is the one that does not judge, which leaves all judgment to God. Judgment of those people who are responsible for your suffering. Please, every day, make contact with your Higher Self, with your Spirit, cleanse yourself of energy blocks, communicate with me and with my son Jesus Christ, and send the Light of unconditional Love every day, while in the meditation I said about. You can even meditate yourself, but, if possible, by participating in the meditation to restore peace throughout the Earth, which Irina Podzorova will do. Also participate in those meditations that other masters of the Cassiopeia Project do, which I love very much, as an opportunity to raise their vibrations for so many people and connect with their Light.

I ask you to forgive yourself, forgive all your loved ones and forgive all your enemies. Send them the Light of your Love and not think about the earthly end of your journey, but think about where you will be in eternity. And after leaving the physical body, you will find yourself at the level to which your Spiritual heart will lead you. Fill your Spiritual heart with your Love for everyone without exception. By doing this you will help peace in your country, peace within yourself and the Divine presence around you and in your space.

Please, my dear children, be aware and wise. Be wise with Divine wisdom. Throw away all attempts to frighten or anger you through the media, the purpose of which is to sow discord and enmity between my beloved peoples. I send you the Light of my Love and support in this difficult situation.

Maxim: Thank you.

1:00:03 Spiritual instruction of the Mother of God to Russians.

Irina: Dear Russians. I love you. I thank you for your prayers for peace.

I ask you all. Leave actions through which the energy of condemnation and gloating towards the Ukrainian people and others is manifested. They are now in a very difficult, complex, life-threatening situation. Please forgive my children from Ukraine who offended you in some way, with some harsh words or accusations. Many of them are in a state of instinctive fear, anger and other instinctive emotions. Please do not show gloating towards the defeats of the Ukrainian army. Schadenfreude is at low vibrational levels and prolongs war. Everyone fights in this war as best they can and as best they can, and as their strength and awareness allow them in the situation in which they find themselves. Remember that in the place of every Ukrainian warrior, a warrior of your country or even your family may appear at any moment.

Send the Light of your Love not only to Ukraine, but to all nations, your people and all the peoples of the Earth and wish for a speedy restoration of peace. Just like the Ukrainians, I ask you to talk to your Higher Self every day, to dissolve the negative blocks of fear, anger, irritation and other destructive emotions and feelings.

I ask you not to condemn your government. Send them the Light of your Love. Condemnation and anger against your rulers will only lead to an increase in the manifestation of negative qualities in them, and therefore to the prolongation of everything that is happening now. Send them the Light of your Love and wish your rulers, the rulers of Ukraine and other countries of the Earthly world to fulfill their life tasks.

I ask you to treat your neighbors with love and forgive them all offenses. Make peace with your children, relatives, colleagues, parents. Accept them for who they are.

And, of course, meditate every day, mentally filling the Earth with the Light of Love, as I recommended to the Ukrainians. And if possible, participate in the general meditations of Irina Podzorova and other masters of the Cassiopeia Project.

Be in peace and harmony, and remember that you are immortal Spirits. Everything that is happening now is caused by the reasons that Archangel Michael, a Spirit well known to me, spoke about through Irina at the very beginning of the conflict. I confirm every word he says. Therefore, regardless of the fact that you receive some other information from your friends, neighbors, colleagues or from the media, that information that causes you negative feelings, lowers your vibration, simply send the Light of your Love to everyone involved in the situation you are reading, watching or listening about. Look without judgment, simply through the eyes of my son Jesus Christ and my eyes.

I do not urge you not to monitor the situation at all, not to watch the news - this is impossible. This is around you, this is your life, this is your reality. Just treat everyone with love: yourself, your rulers, your warriors, and equally the warriors and rulers and people of the other side.

Treat this situation not as someone's fault, but as your common misfortune. This is your common misfortune, the common illness of your egregors led to such an event as the withdrawal of many Souls from incarnation, as well as the mutilation and injury of the bodies of many people, and the destruction of a large amount of infrastructure that was built over years, long decades. All this destruction is manifested in the world only because this kind of energy has accumulated in the world in egregors. Treat this as a cleansing and a lesson: cleansing the entire Earth, not only for your countries, cleansing from pride, selfishness, love of money and arrogance towards each other.

And then, as one of my contactees said, I remember, of course, his verse, he conveyed it in the form of a poem, based on which he then sang a song, it is known to many. There are such words there. And they were transmitted even to the Spiritual World by the Archangels, its Angels, and I can only repeat them:

"When the war is over,

With a single faith in mercy,

Love will remain alone

The last religion for everyone." (Sergey Trofimov)

And for this religion to truly be true for you, love must settle in every heart. And then you will understand that in fact you were fighting with your reflections, with yourself. But you are all beloved children of God and one with Him in His Light. When you kill another, you kill yourself. By insulting another, you insult yourself. By appropriating something from another, stealing from another, you are stealing it from yourself, from that Spirit, which is part of God, which gives you life. I wish you the awareness that manifests itself in the constant memory of this. I send you the Light of my Love.

I also appeal to representatives of other nations who are watching this broadcast now. Despite the fact that I addressed the residents of Ukraine and Russia, everything said here equally applies to you too.

I also ask those people, regardless of their nationality, who are true Christian believers, who believe in Christianity as the truth, to turn to the sacrament of confession and communion as often as possible. This will help you connect with the energies of my son Jesus Christ, which are now aimed at restoring all etheric matrices, astral and mental fields from what is happening, from these destructive energies. Now it is very difficult for him, He passes through everything that happens on Earth in your Souls. But He does it and constantly raises His vibrations. And I convey to you greetings from Him, I am now in contact with Him. And I send you the Light of His Love and my Love, we have one.

Maxim: Thank you. Guys, the broadcast just flew by.

Irina: Yes, very unnoticeably. Thank you too.

Maxim: I spent the whole time in images.

1:11:00 Our Lady about payment for the contactee’s services.

Maxim: I will ask one more question to our Blessed Virgin Mary.

Please tell me, some of your contactees say that you indicate to them how much money to charge for the reception, and for the information that you convey. Is this true?

Irina: For what purpose?

Maxim: In order to communicate with You through a contactee.

Irina: Smiling. (Virgin Mary) I have never given any of my contactees information that communicating with me or any other Spirit costs any specific money. This should be left at the discretion of the person who wants to support the contactee in his material life. And any fixed price will discourage many people from receiving the necessary help, not even because people do not have money, but simply because the person is condemned as materialistic. A mercantile money-lover who uses spiritual gifts for material enrichment. Because of this judgment, many people will not receive help.

My dear contactees, I am turning to you. Please do not create temptation among those you serve with unconditional love. By doing this, you reduce your vibrations, your ability to hear and correctly transmit information from me and other high entities. Thank you.

Maxim: Thank you.

1:13:20 Our Lady about alternative service in war.

Maxim: So, probably, the last question is very relevant. Please tell me what to do for a soldier who goes to war, but does not want to shoot at the enemy? What should he do?

Irina: He goes to fight, but not to shoot at the enemy?

Maxim: No. There are people who do not want to kill other people, but there is a Charter that obliges them to do this.

Irina: According to the laws of any country, they can switch to alternative military service and do something to help those who shoot on the battlefield, but not take up arms themselves. To do this, you must notify the military commanders that your convictions do not allow taking people's lives. Notify in writing that your beliefs, whether religious, or esoteric, or any spiritual, do not allow you to kill other people, and you will not be guilty in your conscience if you do so. But at the same time, you do not want to evade service and ask to be assigned an alternative one. This is possible, many people in the world use it. Alternative service may not involve the use of weapons, but rather some kind of work in a military unit that does not require killing people. But how does it not require it? No attacks.

Maxim: Okay. And the last question. Some Stonik here wants to ask you for the tenth time: “Is it true that every morning, Mother, you walk along the Kanavka in Diveevo?”

Irina: Not like me. In fact, this issue was covered in detail in the first live broadcast, in the first conference with me. Please have a look. These answers are there.

Maxim: In the first conference with the Mother of God.

1:15:51 Search engine and time codes for Cassiopeia broadcasts.

Irina: Yes. By the way, if you don’t even want to watch the entire conference, you can open the YouTube channel: #Conference, #First Conference of the Virgin Mary. Irina Podzorova. Type YouTube in the Search window. When you open it, it will say "Description", it will say "More". Click on the “More” button, “Time Codes” open there. You will see where Diveevo is discussed. Our dear volunteers made time codes for almost all videos.

Maxim: I want to thank the large volunteer staff on my own behalf for the work they do. Because they do a tremendous amount of work. They prepare videos for you, they prepare time codes, they help prepare projects. And everything that the Cassiopeia Project has now is due to the fact that there are volunteer people who do this from the Heart, due to the fact that there is your opportunity to help the Project. And to the best of my ability, I always help both volunteers and those who help the Project, if they really need help and need it.

Irina: I thank you too.

Maxim: Guys, the time is already 1 hour 17 minutes, thank you all.

Irina: Thank you.

Maxim: Mother, thank you. For providing your phantom for communication. For the information you gave. For the goodness that You bring to this world. And for the veils with which You covered our Center.

Irina: Thank you.

Maxim: I know about it. Therefore I thank You.

Irina: Yes, that's true.

She says: “I thank everyone who asked questions. It is very difficult for you in this material world, which is undergoing purification with the energies that you yourself have accumulated, you and your ancestors - previous generations - have accumulated. However, this pain is not forever. Remember that you are only guests in this world. And every moment of yours either brings you closer to the Light of God, or moves you away. I send you the Light of my Love.”

Maxim: Guys, see you again. Thank you very much for being with us and helping our Project. We'll meet in Krasnodar on Tuesday the 27th. We will have a wonderful 4-day retreat there.

I’ll tell you the phone number again, if you want to get in, there were two free places, +7 (988) 910-00-40

See you in Krasnodar. Everyone was hugged. Have a nice evening everyone.

September 25, 2022

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, subtle-material civilizations and the Spiritual world;

Maxim Rusan - head of the Cassiopeia project and the Cassiopeia Center for Spiritual and Physical Development;

The Most Holy Theotokos Mary is the mother of Jesus Christ during her incarnation on Earth, and in the Spiritual world she is the guardian of the Christian religious egregor and the egregor of the Russian Federation.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/zemnye-teorii-proiskhozhdeniya-cheloveka-vzglyad
April 22
Earthly theories of the origin of man, a look at them from the point of view of the Tumesoutian
Question. On our planet there are three main theories about the origin of our race. 1 - religious theory, theological, which is based on the source of the Old Testament, and in which man is the creation of God; 2 theory is the materialistic theory of Charles Darwin, which our science adheres to; The 3rd theory is the theory of paleovisit, about the cosmic origin of man, which suggests that the emergence of humanity is associated with the activities of other civilizations and that in ancient times man directly communicated with representatives of alien intelligence. One of the founders of this theory is the Soviet mathematician Mates Agreste, who in his article “Cosmonauts of Antiquity” suggested that our planet was visited by alien civilizations in the past. These three theories are common on our planet. Based on the information we received from you, there is some truth to every theory, right?

Tuliari: Yes, it's like three views of the same reality. Well, that's like three perceptions of the same reality. From them you can put together a single picture, just like from puzzles, just like from a construction set you can put together a single picture. In such a complex process as the emergence of man, or, as we prefer to say, the creation of man, all three theories, all three forces participated: the forces of the material world, the forces of the Divine world, and the forces of other civilizations. In addition, a fourth force also participated, which is the force of the subtle material world. That is, the dense material world, the subtle material world, the Spiritual world and other intelligent civilizations.

According to the theory, “mutation” caused the emergence of Homo sapiens, sharply separating him from animals, because they began to change the environment, cognize it and create their own language, their own culture. If this “mutation” existed on its own - one or its chain - then it could be identified by comparing, one might say, cellular DNA in those very first human remains and those primate bones that are also found next to them. It happens that they are together, I just know about it. And you can find out which DNA sequence has mutated. If this was found out, such a mutation could be artificially induced in modern primates. However, this does not happen, which means it is not a matter of mutation. And I know very well that with micromutations and their series it was impossible to ensure that a rational being, a person, would develop from primates, so that the Spirit would incarnate in him. Well, I will say more traditionally for science: so that consciousness arises in his brain.

We say “the Spirit became incarnate”, you say “consciousness arose” - consciousness, which was divided into self-consciousness and, in fact, consciousness. This means that a subjective reality began to form, which began to reflect the objective one. Moreover, consciously, because the subject understood his difference from the world around him and his uniqueness.

For this type of consciousness to arise, a simple mutation is not enough. The world where consciousness arises is outside the world of matter and is strictly hierarchical. This means that in order for a consciousness of this type or a mind of this type to arise in the brain of one or another creature, protection or permission from similar consciousnesses located outside the material world is necessary.

The world that is outside the material world, let’s call it the world of thoughts and feelings. Your thoughts and feelings are located in the matter itself, and, as it were, “permeate” it with very high-vibration, very high-frequency fields. And there are fields that are located in space, independent of the material world, which you call “space”. The entire material world is usually called “cosmos”, from the Greek “beautifully arranged”, that is, “decorated”. Greek philosophers called the material Universe this way, because in every object, in every object, they saw the beauty of the One who created it from his energies. That's why they called it a "decorated place." That is, the words “space” and “cosmetics” have the same root, from the words “beautiful”, “to decorate”.

In order for an animal to begin to evolve and turn into a rational being, a special energy had to settle in its brain - consciousness, the same awareness that began to accumulate words in its memory. For example, the creature did not just look at the tree, but called it with the sound “ua” - and put this sound “ua” into its memory. And every time he looked at a similar tree, at a similar object, this word surfaced in his memory, and the creature could figure out that it was “ua” and not “au”, which it, for example, called water. This is called "language shaping." It can be in a special energy matrix, which has its manifestation simultaneously in the physical brain, and in the reality of thoughts, in the reality of consciousness itself.
And this reality of thought in the Russian language, in which Russian people communicate, can most simply be called the reality of the Spirit. Why the Spirit and not consciousness? Because consciousness, or thoughts, or emotions are only a manifestation of the Spirit, which lives in the body and uses the body. How does he use it? He perceives reality through it and acts. That is, the difference between the Spirit of a living being and an object is that it acts, it somehow changes this reality in accordance with its desires, with its needs.
A scientist is also a certain consciousness that is located in the body. And in this consciousness there are thoughts, feelings, emotions, will, and so on - all the same components that we all have. This means that the question arises: how does he explain to himself the existence of himself in the space where he lives? Yourself – that means, your thoughts, your feelings, your emotions. That is, taste seems to exist, it is a product of matter, but at the same time it is not material - in the sense that it can be measured, touched, or somehow described in material words: “weight”, “mass”, “volume” .
When consciousness begins to perceive reality, Spirit begins to perceive the reality of the physical world. He understands to himself that he has certain needs in order to change his state of consciousness in which he is, to those that bring him to a special state - this is happiness, love, harmony, so that he can become closer to that The source from which he came. And this Source is in the Spiritual world - this is Absolute good, this is Absolute love, Beauty, Happiness, Truth. And it is precisely this that we all strive for in the material world in different ways, ordering this world.
Timecode: 3:40, #511 Anthropogenesis from aliens: the evolution of Homo sapiens. The first people. The origin of life on planets.

Tuliari Kromers (planet Tumesout) - xenobiologist and specialist in the creation of different species;
MidgasKaus (planet Esler) – biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations.
November 2022
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pryamoj-ehfir-s-fantomom-iisusa-hrista-kak-zapusti
April 23

#504 Live broadcast with the phantom of Jesus Christ. How to run the Ashtar Sheran message algorithm.

---

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Jxpv62Hle6E

00:00 Start of video.

00:03 Irina Podzorova's book "Diary of a Contactee".

Maxim: Hello everyone! I'm with you, my name is Maxim, last name is Rusan. I am the director of the Cassiopeia Project. I am very glad to see you all here. As always, we have a Sunday live broadcast. As always, it will be very interesting in terms of information. We have a lot of cool, simply gorgeous news. I do not even know where to start.

Of course, the most important news is that Irina Podzorova's book "The Diary of a Contactee" has finally been published. This is wonderful work. He compiled a huge amount of information that was transmitted from various sources through Irina Podzorova. You can learn about the structure of the Universe, about how we appeared on this planet. The book includes part of the entire egregor, and even its small destructive part that is there. But it's okay. We are all human, and we all have our own little destructive parts that we work with.

Accordingly, this work raises our vibrations, our love for everything that happens and our respect for the fact that everything happens as it actually happens to us now.

In addition to the fact that Irina's book was published, our website was updated. There is a link to it under this video. On our website you can now find absolutely everything. There is a news channel, a forum will open there soon. There will be a huge amount of information: news, videos, programs, masters.

We have come to the point where we have begun to create the "Multiverse Cassiopeia" project. This is thanks to each of you who help us grow and develop, and we try to do everything for you. We recently had an idea, I'll tell you honestly, I won't hide anything from you.

Guys, how can I not inform you about the wonderful achievements of our Project that have occurred this week? Imagine, we had a whole life, a whole week to create something new for you, attract new masters, give new useful information, release new videos, conduct new meditations. And I simply do not have the right, as the head of the Project, not to talk about what is new in our Project before the Sunday broadcast.

Due to the fact that there were a lot of questions, our administrators suggested introducing a paid question. I'll tell you honestly, at first I thought that this was a very good moment to really come across very interesting questions that people who were ready to support the Project could ask. Then a situation arose in my Higher Self when I clearly understood why we were creating this Project.

We want nothing to be paid, or rather, nothing that distinguishes you - whether you have money or not - there is nothing. I want every person who touches the Cassiopeia Project to feel confident in it, regardless of whether they have money or not. Therefore, we have eliminated any ability to manipulate the information we provide. There will never be paid questions in our structure. You can ask all your questions on our YouTube channel and in the "Q&A" chat. Live broadcast" (this is in the event that our YouTube channel is closed). Link to chat "Question and answer. Live broadcast" is below this video. And here, with a short interval, we also moderate here. This is very good news for us.

I also want to please you all with the fact that our Gikhor project has grown into a huge school, which is organizing the First All-Russian Congress of Russian Cosmoenergetics. Cosmoenergeticists who are involved in cosmoenergetics not just to make money, but to bring goodness, Light, and development to people, we are waiting for you at this congress! I am sure that there will be very interesting reports, studies, and programs. And you, as a cosmoenergetics researcher who works with people, can also submit your application to give a report and talk about what cosmoenergetics gives to every person on this planet. Therefore, see you at the congress of cosmoenergetics.

Further. Of course, our Moscow Domodedovo Center will soon open and operate. Therefore, we are planning an offsite event in Moscow from November 5th to 11th. The registration link is also under this video.

How will the event take place? Many will ask the question whether it will be at the Domodedovo Center or somewhere else. Training sessions will be held somewhere in the center of Moscow so that you can get there conveniently. There will be four days of training. Program on contacting, connection, contacts with the Higher Self, work with Curators, Mentors. Working with psychosomatic and energy blocks. Introduction to Regression Research; astral travel. All this information will be given.

Therefore, from November 5th to 11th we will be in Moscow with the entire Voronezh Center. At the Domodedovo Center from the 5th to the 11th we will host our specialists using Oberon and Crownoscope equipment, Aurobook, Light Cameras we will bring with us, and we will bring other interesting equipment to our Center. Therefore, we are also waiting for you in our Moscow Center from November 5th to 11th.

But from the 5th to the 9th there will be training in the center of Moscow. Groups will be recruited. And we will conduct training not in our Center, but for convenience and communication - in the city center. And in the evening we can move to our Center, or then, after Irina and Ilya have trained the first stage of the journey to the Higher Self, from the 9th to the 11th we will all hold personal receptions at the Domodedovo Center.

There is a link under this video. Don't hesitate to sign up! Limited number of seats. The hall can accommodate a maximum of 100 people. So hurry up. We will be glad to see you, and some of you again, because repetition is the mother of learning.

How long have I been talking? I still have a minute and a half: I, as a leader, booked the first 10 minutes of this live broadcast so that those who do not want to watch me can tune in and watch Irina after 10 minutes.

There is one secret news, guys. But I didn’t tell you about this, this is very secret news. The New Year is coming, we talked with our schools, with our masters, with friends from other schools, masters from other projects. Our New Year will be held in Abkhazia. We are planning to make a “Multiverse “Cassiopeia”” there. This is a new program that will include a lot of things. I want you all to be able to participate in this program.

I hope that we will formulate and announce the conditions for participation in all programs of this multi-retreat, “Multiverse “Cassiopeia””, in the near future. When recruitment starts, don’t forget to fill out the application and sign up for this unique New Year. New Year in the field of esotericism - this has definitely never happened before! I would like to give you all this holiday the absolute maximum of what the Cassiopeia Project has.

Once again, thank you all so much! My broadcast time ran out very quickly. I want to invite the gold of the party that I found as the head of the Project. Irisha, sit down so that you can be seen better.

11:06 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! Good evening. My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, with plasmoid subtle-material beings and with the Spiritual world. I am a universal contactee. This is the task of my incarnation. I am also a guide to the Higher Self, to the Divine part of man. And I am a master of meditation.

Today our curators are present with us: MidgasKaus from the planet Esler - biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations; LiShioni from the planet Shimor is a specialist in astral interactions. Also, due to your numerous requests, we decided to invite the phantom of Jesus Christ. He is with us now. He congratulates us all. He listened carefully through me to Maxim's entire speech as the head of the Center, and congratulated Maxim, me and all of us on the release of our book. Thank you. LiSioni and MidgasKaus also congratulate us. We have been waiting for this event for a long time.

I also congratulate the students of the 32nd stream who completed their studies and received certificates yesterday. I congratulate you all. Already the 32nd cohort has completed training. Each of you, I remind you, can already begin to lead you to the Higher Self, in regression, on astral travel. We told you, showed you, conveyed everything that was necessary, now everything depends on you.

13:29 Jesus Christ about himself and his phantom.

Maxim: Dear Jesus Christ, I would like to ask you: how does Your personal coming differ from the coming of Your phantom?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Dear Maxim, hello.

I must be in my body at the same time in order to continue to raise the vibrations of those people who connect with me in the sacrament of communion. I also must be in the body to support my other numerous phantoms, who are located in many worlds, with their contactees. Therefore, I always send my phantom, or the Ray of Christ Consciousness.

Maxim: Thank you. You know, we had Ashtar on our last live broadcast - this is the commander of Starfleet, who conveyed very interesting information and the conditions for this information to come into action.

Irina (Jesus Christ): Yes. MidgasCaus and LiSioni told me about this. I also spoke with Ashtar himself and with Bergastre, who lives on Burkhad, about this. I am aware of this message.

Maxim: Please tell me, there are many people who say that now, at this moment in time, we are not communicating with the phantom of Jesus Christ. What can you say about this? Are we communicating with a phantom of the real Jesus Christ or are we communicating with someone else?

Irina (Jesus Christ): I am the Firstborn Son of God, the Logos of His creation and that original impulse of the Light of Love that was generated before your birth in the Spirit of God. Before your birth is a conditional concept, because in the world of the Divine Kingdom, just like in the Spiritual world, there is no flow of time. There is only subjective time. According to subjective time, the time of perception, I appeared when none of you had yet realized themselves as independent individual self-consciousness.

How can I tell if it's me or someone else? 24% of my energy is present here now, 24% of the energy of my astral field. And anyone who is spiritually sensitive can now ask themselves, is this really my energy that you feel? If you do not have the proper sensitivity, determine by the information that I will give when answering your questions. You can also ask your Higher Self, your heart about this.

Maxim: Thank you, dear Jesus.

17:08 Jesus Christ about the plan of Ashtar Sheran.

Maxim: I wanted to ask you about what Ashtar gave us point by point, how we can resolve the current situation. What is the first point there, Irina?

Irina (Jesus Christ): The first point there is a meeting of representatives of the international community. First, they gather among themselves and decide to announce to the world community that if the will of the indigenous inhabitants of the disputed areas, because of which there is now bloodshed, is expressed, in the event of any expression of will, their will will be carried out. The international community will be enshrined in a new legislative act that allows for this possibility. This was the first point.

That is, representatives of the United Nations (UN), as you call it, get together and first agree among themselves. Because those armies that are in a state of battle, they are there on the orders of their political leaders. Until political leaders find a common paradigm, a goal toward which they will move together, and agree among themselves, they will not be able to order their servants, their soldiers, to leave the battlefield.

First there must be negotiations (shows a round table and negotiations at it).

Maxim: And if one of the sides of this community says that the problem should only be solved on the battlefield, then how should we respond to what they say?

Irina (Jesus Christ): The message that was transmitted through Irina is not only from Ashtar, but also from representatives of the planet Burkhad.

Maxim: I'm not talking about their message. I'm talking about the fact that the other side tells us that the problem can only be solved on the battlefield. How can highly spiritual people or a highly spiritual country solve a problem differently?

Irina (Jesus Christ): The alien interstellar communities that offered this to you see a way out of this situation for you - your United Nations, that is, the united peoples. That’s what it’s called – the United Nations. And a nation is a people.

They offer it to everyone, and everyone can either accept or not accept it. This is your choice. If someone has made a choice that does not involve contracts of this kind, then these people are making a choice to defeat their opponent on the battlefield. But they forget that there is a victory that is equal to a loss. That is, it is an illusion. You were offered to come to an agreement among yourself, to draw up a peace treaty that would take into account the interests of all people, all Spirits who are embodied and live in that territory.

I, in turn, fully support this proposal, this message for only one very simple reason. The fact is that those disputed territories that were indicated in this message, and which you know very well, in fact, although there are bloody battles for them, do not belong to any country. They do not belong to the state of Ukraine, even if international documents say otherwise. They do not belong to the Russian state, no matter how much someone thinks otherwise. These territories and all the resources located on them, down to the last blade of grass, belong only to our common Heavenly Father. And I assure you, Heavenly Father gave these spaces, gave the opportunity to live and be happy in them, not so that you would disincarnate each other.

And the first who should understand this should be the leaders of your states. Just because they are entrusted with this place by God does not mean that they own the lands they rule. They are only temporarily placed in this place and will lose this right after leaving incarnation.

23:21 Jesus Christ about organizing elections in disputed territories.

Irina: He calls to remember this.

Maxim: That's understandable. The second point of this message states that the political leaders of the United Nations and the European Union are making a joint public statement about their readiness to change the internationally recognized borders of states based on the results of a general vote of the population of the disputed territories, if necessary.

Irina (Jesus Christ): Before making this statement, they must first agree among themselves about it.

Maxim: What if they cannot agree on this at a meeting of the UN Security Council? They do not recognize elections and do not recognize the freedom of these elections.

Irina: Then what is the question?

Maxim: How to fulfill the second point?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Who should do it? The second point cannot be fulfilled, because it is already addressed to those peoples who live in the disputed territories. For free expression of will, it is necessary that all those people who fled from hostilities return to these lands. It is necessary that this vote be carried out only by those people who, according to your administrative and legal documents, have been registered in these territories for at least three years.

It is not difficult for your earthly statistics agencies to get acquainted with the population of these areas according to the legal lists of people registered in these areas. Select from them 70% of the adult population. It is this 70% of the adult population that is the minimum that should vote for one of the three options. Not two, but three.

The first option assumes the status of this region as part of Ukraine.

The second option assumes the status of this region as part of the Russian Federation.

The third option assumes the status of this region as an independent state entity that will build relations with its neighbors on equal terms.

There should be three options. And the option should not be provided: I abstain from voting, or I am against everyone. If a person abstains from voting or is against everyone, he should not take part in this choice at all. Must choose one of three options. And in the future, the fate of these territories should be determined by the desire of those people who live there for at least three years.

Why them, and not the rulers? Because it is no coincidence that those people who live there are in that space. God, our common Heavenly Father, created the condition for the incarnation of certain Spirits in a certain territory or for moving to this territory and living there for three years. And if so, then our Heavenly Father has given the people themselves the opportunity to dispose of this part of space where these people live. And it is they who must determine the state system and the state, language, religion, etc., to which they should belong.

Why them? Because it is their responsibility. After all, if we remember the tasks of the government, rulers and their administrative apparatus before their Spiritual Mentors and before God the Father, then we will remember that it is not governments, according to the Law of God, who must distribute who lives where, and accordingly depict borders on maps. The government's job is to help the people, to help the people define these boundaries and mark them accordingly. Publish in your countries such laws and legislative acts that will most perfectly lead people to Love, harmony, happiness, and to raising their vibrations.

This is the task of the rulers and the entire government apparatus. And if some country is not coping with this as successfully as its neighbor, then any people who are in this area have the right from God to move towards a more perfect society, leaving the country whose government lowers their vibrations and does not give them develop. This is the Law of God.

29:46 Jesus Christ about the Constitution of the Interstellar Union.

Irina: And why did interstellar friends suggest this? Because I live on Burkhad, as I already said, on an island, and I can testify that this law has existed in the Interstellar Union for 15 million years. You have a “Constitution”, and this document can be translated into Russian as the “Constitution of the Interstellar Union”.

There is an article that everyone accepts. If the population of any country or region of the country of any planet included in the Interstellar Union (of course, if this planet is divided into countries, because this is not the case for everyone, but there are such planets), wishes to move to another country, they create an initiative group that submits a corresponding application to the control center of this country. In your opinion - to the capital. And those who accepted this request, within a maximum of a few local months on this planet, are obliged to arrange a general vote on this territory. There can be no talk of any return of these territories to this country by military means. This is contrary to the free will of humanoids.

This law has existed in the Interstellar Union for 15 million years. Then is it surprising that they offered you the same option on Earth? For them this is the absolute norm. For them, it is a violation of the norm when such simple issues as territorial affiliation are not resolved. It is very strange for them when people give their lives and take the lives of other people for a certain piece of land, a certain piece of territory.

Each soldier not only attacks or defends himself, not only disincarnates other Spirits. Every second he himself is in danger of leaving his incarnation. If every soldier on each side (on opposite sides of a military conflict) is in danger of leaving the incarnation, it means that they are all equal in the war, in the battle, in equal conditions.

When the Spirit comes out of incarnation, it already loses belonging to its egregor, belonging to its people and goes into the Spiritual world. And if this happened before the fulfillment of his life task for which he came, then he lowers his level of the Spiritual world. His body remains on Earth, and he needs a few square meters of the territory for which he fought and gave his life to bury his body. He no longer needs it.

(MidgasCaus) This is understood very well on Burkhad, and on Esler, and in the Galactic Federation of Light, it has been understood very well for millions of years. Therefore, they could not give you any other spiritual advice and guidance. They gave it to you according to their vibrations, according to their understanding. They sincerely believe that your United Nations is composed of those rulers who are aware of their spiritual responsibility for the governance of society.

34:41 Jesus Christ about the way to end the war at the political level.

Maxim: Do you think they realize this? Jesus, this is indeed a very interesting question. What should we, ordinary people, do? They have the UN, Security Councils, meetings there. What should ordinary people do, who are sitting here and do not fully understand what is happening? They give us one information, the Ukrainians a second, and the Western peoples a third.

Irina (Jesus Christ): Yes, I know.

Maxim: How can we help in ending all this obscurantism that is happening? Murder has never been good.

Irina (Jesus Christ): I will answer this question.

Dear friends, the whole point is that when hostilities are already taking place with numerous destructions and casualties both among the military and among the civilian population, then only a peace treaty between the rulers of two or more countries can stop this action (not just hush it up, but stop it) . More than thirty countries are involved in this conflict, as Ashtar Sheran has already said, and I fully confirm this information.

The fact is that in the event of such a war, the cessation of hostilities by only one side is not effective; this will only cause the continuation of these actions by the other side. Because being in combat changes a person's psyche, his vibrations, and he will perceive any retreat as the enemy's weakness and the possibility of his complete victory. Therefore, troops of any side will behave in a certain way. That is why, well understanding the consequences, military leaders of both sides do not agree to a truce unless it is approved at the highest political level. That is, no guarantees were given to each of the parties that military actions would not continue if one party stopped them.

37:44 Jesus Christ about the role of ordinary people in the conflict between Russia and Ukraine.

Irina: (Jesus Christ): You asked the question, what should you, the people who are in these territories, do?

Maxim: Of course.

Irina (Jesus Christ): In this case, you are not responsible for the decisions of your political leaders, but you can keep peace among yourself, between two peoples simply at the level of communication, continuing communication, stopping blaming each other for various negative phenomena, for various sins. Believe me, dear friends, none of you is without sin. In everyone one can find the sin of aggression, the sin of neglecting another nationality, humiliating another nationality. This is present in all nations. And you need to find strength within yourself, in every nation, so that first the people are reconciled among themselves.

As I already said in my conferences with Irina Podzorova, “any war on the physical level is a manifestation of the war of minds that has existed between the two countries for many decades on the Spiritual level.” This means that your peoples did not accept each other’s egregors, first on the Spiritual level, and then it came to the physical level. What can you do to stop this? What can you do to stop this? Continue to maintain relations with the people on the other side of the front. Not with their fighters and soldiers, but with the people.

I am addressing you. You are both Christian, Orthodox peoples - both the people of Ukraine and the people of the Russian Federation. Both peoples are building numerous temples on their territory, dedicated to me and the saints who glorified my name on Earth. Moreover, over the past few months, both in the churches of the Ukrainian Christian churches and Russian Christian churches, divine services have been held by your priests, aimed at victory over each other. The people themselves, both Ukrainian and Russian, are praying to defeat each other. This will not bring peace to your peoples. This will lead to an increase in the aggressive policies of your various military leaders and other responsible people against each other.

I ask you, dear friends, everyone who watches this video, to ask yourself a simple question. But before you ask this question, get in touch with me in your heart. You all partake of my Holy Mysteries, my flesh and blood. And you connect with me regardless of citizenship and nationality. I pass through my heart the feeling of each of you. Connect with my consciousness - the Christ consciousness - in your heart and see what is happening through my eyes.

Imagine that you are a Spirit who loves everyone, in whose honor you built temples, and cruelly deprive each other of embodiment, kill each other. At the same time, in different temples they pray to kill as many of you as possible, to kill as many of their opponents as possible, who in turn also pray for the same to you. How will you feel? How will you feel if such prayers are completely sincere, because both sides consider what is happening to be fair? How would you feel in my place?

And when you look at it through my eyes, you will stop hating the people who are on the other side of the front. They are the same as you. They are also scared and in pain. And they also fear for their fathers, sons, husbands who are now fighting with your soldiers. See yourself in them, and yourself in them. After you have learned this lesson, the hearts of your rulers will soften, and they will find contact with each other, regardless of the influence of any other countries on them. Because the influence of other countries on them was caused only by their choice. If their choice is different, they will change everything themselves.

Maxim: Thank you, Jesus. There are, of course, a huge number of questions for you. Honestly, I even want to move away from this question, but I'll continue anyway. So what should we, ordinary people, do?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Just be friends with the people who are on the other side of the front, pray, meditate, send the Light of Love and reduce hatred, anger, irritation and fears in your hearts. All. Just change spiritually. But this not only needs to be done, you need to tell others about it - about this position. And tell without aggression, just testify. If you do this within yourself, and the majority of people think and act differently, then such changes will drag on for a long time, and if the majority of people do this, you will quickly learn this lesson.

46:15 Jesus Christ about the opportunity to hug him.

Maxim: Can I hug you, Jesus?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Yes, of course.

Maxim: How can this be done?

Irina (Jesus Christ): You can hug me in the Spiritual world when you come into contact with me. You can do this if you contact me, after asking your Higher Self to invite me. You can also mentally imagine my image and send me Light, and you will see that I will feel it and hug you. Energetically (he says).

47:00 Jesus Christ about supporting loved ones in war.

Maxim: Igor Blinkov asks. How to treat a child's participation in a special operation if he was drafted into the army? That is, he was taken for this special operation.

Irina: What does it mean how to relate to a child's choice?

Maxim: How to behave, how to support your child who went to war, that is, to a special operation? What to think about, what to do? How to help loved ones who went to war?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Send him the Light of your Love. But at the same time, do not forget to send the Light of Love to those people who are on the opposite side, those soldiers, because they are also someone's sons. Treat equally, without discrimination. These are all God's beloved children. Send Light with this.

47:56 Jesus Christ about his incarnations.

Maxim: There is such a provocative question in the "Question and Answer" chat. Live". Have you had any other earthly incarnations?

Irina (Jesus Christ): No.

Maxim: Probably, the person who asked the question simply does not understand that now you are alive and immortal.

Irina: In fact, our answers have already been about this.

Maxim: Have you never incarnated into a human before?

Irina: No. He already answered these questions in the first conference.

Maxim: You're lucky: right the first time, immediately and forever!

Guys, you write: “Did Adam have a first wife named Lilith?” Please watch one of the previous conferences. We answer there when we were created, how we were created and by what group of people. There was more than one wife there.

Irina: By the way, I want to tell you that we have a dictionary. It was specially created. Not a dictionary, but a table of time codes.

Maxim: It will definitely appear on our website soon.

Irina: She is in chats, I saw her.

Maxim: We will transfer it to the website. Assistant Evgeniy is sitting here, he will deal with this issue. Yes, Evgeniy, will you work on time codes? (Evgeniy agrees).

Great! You see, it’s also convenient to quickly resolve issues right on the spot.

49:25 Jesus Christ about the practices of “Jesus Prayer” and “Life-Creating Cross”.

Maxim: Can Jesus tell you about the practices of the “Jesus Prayer” and the “Life-Creating Cross”? Jesus, do You know such practices?

Irina: He says: “I know.”

(Jesus Christ) I know what they call it. “The Jesus Prayer” is the practice of hesychasm, a type of meditation when a person repeats a prayer to me or my name with a feeling of Love and concentrates on his heart center, on his heart, as you say, chakra. And he doesn't think about anything else. This is a type of meditation. And from this there is a purification of his Spiritual Heart, an increase in vibrations, and he sees my Light and connects with the Christ Consciousness.

As for the practice “Life-Giving Cross” (shows), this is the idea that the cross on which I was crucified brings life. That is, it is like a prayer. And when a person mentally looks at the cross where my body was, he mentally connects with me and feels it as a flow of life.

Maxim: Guys, Jesus is not a collective image, He is now on the planet Burkhad. You can buy Irina Podzorova’s book, read it, and everything will be clear.

51:05 Jesus Christ about meeting him in the Astral Plane.

Maxim: (reads a question from the chat) “How can I fly to visit Jesus, with his permission, of course?”

Irina (Jesus Christ): You can always fly to me in your astral body, that is, it’s like astral travel. When you go to the Astral, when you leave your body using any method that is available to you, you can give the installation to come to my island. This will be the astral space of the island, but I will definitely feel you.

51:38 Jesus Christ about vampirism.

Maxim: Dear Jesus, we even have such questions: do vampires exist? Do human vampires exist?

Irina: Physical?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Jesus Christ): They do not exist in the form in which it is described in legends. This is how legends used to portray people who were in negative contact with destructive plasmoid civilizations, and the destructive plasmoid civilizations themselves, upon contact with a person who was afraid of them, took away negative energy, the energy of fear, from him. It was believed that this is how life force, that is, blood, is taken away. This is a figurative image of such people.

Maxim: Thank you.

52:46 Jesus Christ about maintaining faith and hope for peace through trust in God.

Maxim: Dear Jesus, please tell me how not to lose hope for the speedy restoration of peace between Russia and Ukraine, if at the moment the egregors of the countries are filled with hatred and lack of acceptance of each other? How not to lose this faith and hope?

Irina (Jesus Christ): How not to lose faith and hope? Just trust God. If you and all the people incarnated at this particular time and in this particular place, it was not a random choice. You knew about the possibility of the events that are now taking place. They were in the Probability Line. Of course, there could be different degrees of probability, but in any case you knew that this was possible.

I can tell you that for 12 thousand years of the existence of earthly civilization after the great destruction from the aggressive actions of Selbet, during these 12 thousand years there were not five years in a row without military conflicts. And the 20th century was no exception, and the 21st century was no exception.

Just know that what is happening now is a natural stage in the development of your society, the result of a lack of spiritual awareness of the majority of the planet's population. Wars are only a reflection on the physical level of the general low spiritual development of the entire earthly community as a civilization. And until your Earth civilization raises its Spiritual level and you begin to become responsible for yourself, this will not stop. How fast will it be? It depends only on you, on the total choice of each of you.

55:13 Jesus Christ about repeating the lessons unlearned by humanity.

Maxim: Here’s a question. Every 100 years, the same matrix program is observed, when some kind of commotion occurs, or some kind of big war, or some kind of epidemic. We observe that this all repeats itself almost every 100 years. Why is this happening again?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Not even after 100 years, but more often. Local conflicts break out more often.

Maxim: Similar situations arise once every 100 years - some very similar local situation of some kind of conflict that already happened 100 years ago.

Irina (Jesus Christ): This indicates that the people who are again entering into these destructive relationships have not learned the lessons that their ancestors learned. That is, the descendants of these people did not accept these lessons and again begin to go through the same stages.

In order to stop going through them, as suggested by Ashtar Sheran and representatives of the Galactic Federation of Light and the Interstellar Union (I absolutely agree with them), it is necessary in the international community itself, in the United Nations, to develop simple, brief, absolutely fair postulates for everyone that will make all peoples, all countries, the distribution of benefits among each other is truly equal. This will make possible the elections that I spoke about at the beginning. Only such a renewed United Nations will contribute to ending military conflicts, fair distribution of resources and increasing the vibrations of every people of the Earth, every egregor, and the speedy entry into the Interstellar Union or the Galactic Federation of Light.

Maxim: Thank you.

57:28 Jesus Christ on the way to accelerate spiritual evolution on Earth.

Maxim: Tell me, please, will there be a landing on Earth of high-vibration Spirits who will incarnate into babies and help the Earth change the course of history? That's it in a nutshell. Some kind of landing, someone from high vibrational Spirits, is waiting. Jesus, what will you say when this landing arrives, and when finally high-vibration Spirits come here in droves and defeat all the devilry and demons?

Irina (Jesus Christ): High vibrational Spirits regularly incarnate on Earth. They were embodied in my time, when I was still living on Earth in an earthly body. They were incarnated before me, before my birth on Earth, and they are incarnating now. The problem is not that there are few of them. The problem is that there are already created low-vibration egregors. Those social norms have already been created that presuppose such a way of life as selfish materialism and non-recognition of one's Light. All this is reflected in the laws of different states.

To change this, you need to start with yourself: completely cleanse yourself of all destructiveness in yourself and help your immediate environment in this great undertaking. Because when you become the Light, the people around you in your area will see it because your way of life will change. It will be impossible not to see it. And they will come to you asking you to teach them to be loving, happy and loved people. And you will give them this knowledge. Become teachers for yourself first. Become Spiritual Guides for yourself first, and then help others do the same. And in this case, the spiritual evolution of society will take place tens of times faster than now.

Look at Project Cassiopeia. "Cassiopeia" is not just a Project for the transfer of interesting information for the mind, not just a Project for the transfer of technologies for which earthlings are not ready with their consciousness, not just a Project where they tell interesting stories about flights to other planets. This is a Project in which each person can connect with his Higher Self, with the essence that is you in the Spiritual world, and cleanse your Spiritual heart of everything that prevents you from constantly being in a state of connection with the Kingdom of Heaven, with the Heavenly Father, with His Peace.

1:01:31 Jesus Christ about the meaning of human life.

Irina: I said 2000 years ago: “Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God.” These words say that you cannot see God anywhere until you see him in your heart. Until you find Peace, Love, Happiness within yourself, you will look for it in the outside world. But the outside world cannot give you this. Matter cannot give you Spirit. It is you who must give Spirit to matter. Matter cannot give you Happiness, Love, Harmony and Peace. It is you who must bring these states of consciousness and states of Spirit into matter.

Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God. What prevents you from seeing God? God has not left you anywhere, He is still in your heart. He is still in everyone's heart. But if your heart is not cleansed of those energies, feelings, emotions, desires and thoughts that are not compatible with love, truth, purity, peace, mercy, wisdom and other Divine qualities, you cannot see God, which means you cannot be blessed. A blessed person is a person who is in the flow of a continuous feeling of Happiness, Love and the meaning of his life, as an opportunity to spread the perfection of his Spirit around.

1:03:49 Jesus Christ about pillars of light.

Maxim: Strong, deep! I really felt it.

Dear Jesus, now people in many countries, in many cities all over the planet are seeing some pillars of light coming from the sky. This mostly happens at night. Tell me please, what could it be?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Most often you see the work of subtle-material plasmoid civilizations located in your atmosphere: Sylphs, Spirits of the air, as well as plasmoids of the Earth’s magnetosphere, which appear in front of you in the form of pillars, show their existence next to you to remind you that everything that happens in the physical world affects them.

1:04:36 Jesus Christ about the number of negative plasmoids on Earth.

Irina: Dear friends, when my body was crucified on the cross, the cross was not a random form of execution. The cross denoted dedication to the four elements, which I already spoke about, the four elements of the plasmoid worlds: water, earth, air, fire. And my crucifixion on the Cross meant that I filled not only the noosphere of the Earth with my pure energies of Love. Because I have never fallen below the 24th spiritual level, I am always in unity with the Father, I recognize myself as God, your Father and at the same time your Brother.

So, when I voluntarily gave up my life, allowed my body to be crucified on the cross, although I could defeat them, these people, I could call on the Angels, I could call on representatives of the planet Burkhad who would save me, but then I would not have completed this mission. I allowed them to crucify me, and in your earthly language this is called a sacrifice. But this is an imperfect name, because when they sacrifice, they are deprived of something, but I did not lose anything. I have not lost the Love of my Heavenly Father. But for your earthly eyes it is a sacrifice. At that moment, there were 38% of negatively-minded plasmoid civilizations on Earth, in terrestrial plasmoid civilizations at all levels of Earth density. After I cleansed them through my crucifixion with my Light of Love, thanks to the fact that it was on the Cross, as a symbol of the four elements, negatively minded civilizations became 12%.

Maxim: When was this? When was it crucified?

Irina: Yes, when they crucified.

Maxim: So we need to crucify someone, or what?

Irina (Jesus Christ): But in 2000 years you have already surpassed the result, your earthly civilization has already surpassed the figure of 38%. Now 49% of Earth's plasmoid civilizations have a destructive orientation. It's almost half already.

My dear brothers and sisters! You and I are absolutely equal before Heavenly Father. I ask each of you to think about it! After all, the consequences of reducing the vibrations of the subtle worlds can reverberate with negative phenomena in nature for many decades to come, if you and I together do not raise these vibrations again. Now I can only do this by raising your vibrations, helping you to do this. But, if, after talking with me, after praying to me, after communion of my blood and my body, you begin to be offended, hate, fear and lower your vibrations, here I am powerless before your choice. Of course, I will accept this choice of yours.

1:08:12 Jesus Christ about the eternity of people's feelings and thoughts and their actions.

Irina: You say to God: "Why don't you stop the war?" Of course, God will accept your choice to destroy each other. This is your complete right. But because of my Love, Mercy and Compassion, I urge you to remember that every thought and every feeling you have will not disappear anywhere, they will remain in the noosphere of the Earth forever. Every thought you have is a manifestation of your mind, every feeling you have is a manifestation of your heart. And you forever leave a memory of yourself in the noosphere of the Earth, and these energies will influence all subsequent generations.

Please be sowers of good, be sowers of Love, like the sower of Truth whom I spoke about in my parable, which is contained in the Gospel. Think about the fact that your every thought affects not only you, but also the entire society, as well as all the generations that will come after. The load of negative energies and vibrations that already exists in the noosphere cannot disappear on its own; it can only be transformed into Light. But only you, who are embodied at the level of density that caused the decrease in vibrations of the noosphere, can transform it. Of course, all civilizations can help you with this. But only you can cleanse. We can help, direct our energies to this, but only you yourself can effectively cleanse and transform into Light.

Therefore, I call on every contactee, every esotericist, every Christian to raise the vibrations of the Earth's noosphere and help others in this. I call on every contactee and esotericist, no matter what country he lives in, no matter what language he speaks and no matter what political position he adheres to. All this is temporary. I ask you, if you have access to an audience of people through your communication channels, to regularly conduct meditative classes for your followers to cleanse the Earth's noosphere.

I also ask you, if possible, to join forces with each other, regardless of temporary differences in opinions and contacts. This will set a good example to all your followers in reconciliation, in Love.

I ask all Christians to pray for peace between nations and for the softening of Spiritual hearts by rulers.

I ask everyone to pray for the health and preservation of the lives of all soldiers who are in danger, regardless of their nationality, language and other temporary circumstances.

I ask you to stop the flow of insults, curses and wishes of harm to each other, which I see every day in the noosphere of the Earth. I ask you to remember that you are intelligent and immortal Spirits, and that you are called to learn to love not only your own kind, but also those who are sharply different from you. This is the true meaning of Love, acceptance, forgiveness, filling with the Light of Love and help in spiritual development.

I ask the peoples of all countries of the Earth to unite and remember the common origin of their bodies from the 18 first people and the common origin of your Spirits from the Spiritual world and from our Source - Heavenly Father.

I wish everyone who hears my words now to remember this unity and manifest this memory in every word, deed and action in the material world in your incarnation.

1:14:13 Jesus about everyone’s responsibility before the heavenly Father.

Maxim: Thank you, Jesus! Thank you (reads messages in the chat) Here they write to Irina that the speech was delivered by both Putin and Irina, apparently, written by the same person.

Irina: Let's ask Putin now.

Maxim: Irina, I want to ask you to invite the person who writes all this to you to invite Vladimir Vladimirovich to our New Year in Abkhazia. And, please, personally with Vladimir Vladimirovich! We will be very glad to see him there.

Irina: Okay. I ask this person, who writes that I am saying the same thing that Putin is saying, to attend our retreat in Abkhazia. And I would also like to ask you personally: How should Jesus, in your opinion, answer so that in your understanding it would not be like Putin? And who? How are you? How about someone else?

Maxim: By the way, Vladimir Vladimirovich alone cannot end the war in one day. To do this, everything must be completed.

Irina: Everyone should, but he can't do it alone.

Maxim: It is an illusion of your perception that someone can end the war in one day.

Irina: Jesus will answer this question.

(Jesus Christ) For me, Jesus Christ, as well as for Heavenly Father, the Spirit of Vladimir Putin, the Spirit of Vladimir Zelensky, Biden and all other people, and yours are absolutely equal. All these are Spirits who go through their lessons in one way or another. And they are not responsible for their actions before you, just as you are not before them, but before your Mentors, Consultant Angels and before Heavenly Father. You, too, are responsible for your choice not before them, but before that eternal Light that allowed you to see the Light of this sun on Earth.

Every time you wake up in the morning, you see the sun. Think about how many people on Earth did not see the sun that morning. They have already seen the Spiritual Light, the one from which they came. And since you still see the earthly light, then you were left in incarnation on this day so that you could increase your Spiritual level, and this is impossible without the help of others.

Maxim: Dear friends, if you like watching our channel, please like it. This will allow our channel to advance and be seen by other people. So subscribe to us and like us.

And let's move on. There are a huge number of questions.

1:18:04 Jesus about the path of Selbet's return to the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: Jesus, please tell me, how did it even become possible, when the reptilians attacked us, to come to an agreement with them? How were the agreements negotiated? They actually destroyed entire planets. They, as terrorists, as I understand it, came and attacked all the planets. How did you manage to come to an agreement with the reptilians? What forces were involved? What actions have been taken? What subtle and spiritual structures were connected to this?

Irina (Jesus Christ): The Selbet civilization's cumulative choices after being expelled from the Interstellar Union allowed them to appreciate the state their civilization was in when they were part of the Interstellar Union. And after that they realized - not individuals on Selbet, but the entire people, almost all the inhabitants of this planet realized that they wanted to return to the Interstellar Union. And those rulers who built for them the image of an enemy in the person of earthlings and Burkhad only pursued their own goals and did not fulfill their tasks.

There was a change of power, that is, the majority of the people chose their representatives. And they took power (shows) not by military means, but peacefully removed those who were in power, because no one protected those former rulers who organized this war, and they ended up, in the end, on the planet of criminals of the Interstellar Union. And the new representatives of Selbet turned to Burkhad, as the capital of the Interstellar Union, with a request to annex them back. After a series of checks on the sincerity of changes in this society, this was done. That is, it was the choice of the residents.

1:20:39 Jesus Christ about periods of significant decrease in Earth vibrations.

Maxim: Another question. During these 2000 years, when was the highest level of destructive subtle-material civilizations found on planet Earth? And when was the lowest? The lowest, You have already said, was at Your crucifixion.

Irina (Jesus Christ): Yes, 12%.

Maxim: And when was the highest level of presence of subtle destructive civilizations on planet Earth over these 2000 years?

Irina: He is now looking at the Time Tape. During these 2000 years?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: The highest level of negative plasmoid civilizations was (shows numbers) at the end of the eleventh - at the beginning (first quarter) of the twelfth century. On Earth there were 67% of them.

Maxim: Late 11th - early 12th century?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Because there was a lot of hatred, anger, because of this the crusades and the Inquisition began.

Maxim: I understand, this is the time of the Crusades and the Inquisition. Then everything was very strict: they executed people - they didn’t ask.

Irina (Jesus Christ): Yes. There was also a decrease in vibrations when many immigrants from Portugal, Great Britain, and France began to move to the American continent and began to fight with the peoples living there. There was also a decrease in vibrations.

Maxim: Is this when the Americans began to capture Indians?

Irina: They fought and executed, as he shows me now, they even set villages on fire.

Maxim: They burned out the Indians. I understand.

Irina (Jesus Christ): And this also caused a decrease in vibrations, because, in your opinion, this was the destruction of nations. Since those peoples who lived there did not agree that their land was being seized, that is, there was a territorial dispute, and they were destroyed because they were weaker. And those who agreed to come under their state, under their power, were not even trusted, but were allocated plots of land inconvenient for livestock farming, hunting, for those forms of life to which these peoples were accustomed. They were not trusted and did not even want to be accepted into their society. Those who surrendered did not want to fight, even they, despite the fact that they surrendered to the mercy of the victors, humbled themselves before them, were still not accepted, rejected. There was such superiority.

And then there was a decrease in vibrations, when regions of the African continent were discovered one after another, and slaves began to be traded in large quantities (shows Irina the ships).

By the way, dear friends, I want to say that many of the founders of modern banks were the very same slave owners for whom these Africans worked for free, and they did not pay them anything. That is, their fortune was earned from the suffering of other peoples.

Maxim: (reads chat messages) On December 21, 2022, someone will move to 4D.

Irina, what can we, together with Jesus Christ, wish for that person who will definitely move to 4D on December 21, 2022?

Irina: In the 4th dimension?

Maxim: He simply writes: “We will move everything to 4D.”

Irina: Jesus smiles and speaks.

(Jesus Christ) To those who move to the 4th level of density, I wish bright incarnations in plasmoid worlds. But this is if the 4th level of density.

Maxim: Thank you all so much again!

Irina: Yes, thank you.

Maxim: Guys, I remind you: Irina Podzorova's book "Diary of a Contactee" has been published. Order from Read-Gorod and visit our new website. You can also find this book in the "News" section of our website. We have a completely new website, we are preparing the "Multiverse "Cassiopeia"", where there will be a dating site, a forum, chats, exchanges, information, videos, and articles. The new site "Multiverse "Cassiopeia"" will be ready soon, but in the meantime you can watch its release "The Beginning".

Don't forget that we are hosting the First All-Russian Congress of Cosmoenergetics, where you can not only appear, but also establish yourself: with your programs, with your schools and students, come there and demonstrate your work. I am sure that the Gihor School of Cosmoenergy will be happy to register you so that new schools can also show themselves.

And, accordingly, from November 5th to 11th there will be a visiting event in Moscow, at our new Center in Domodedovo, where we will host from the 9th to the 11th in person. All other masters will be accepted from the 5th to the 11th with equipment, and training will take place from the 5th to the 9th in the very center of Moscow. All the links are under this video below, go and look, everything is there.

And as I haven't told anyone yet, New Year is in Abkhazia! But we will give information about this a little later. Therefore, everyone who is with us: the New Year's program will be simply crazy! This has definitely never happened in the sphere of esotericism. And it will not be like any retreat that the Cassiopeia Project has conducted.

Irina: There will be mainly practices there. A lot of practice.

Maxim: Practice, practice, practice, practice.

Irina: Minimum theory.

Maxim: Minimum theory, basically there will be many different masters, different healers. And I want to make it “all inclusive” so that you don’t bother yourself with any extras. That's why I hugged everyone, guys!

Irina: Bye everyone. Thank you everyone.

Maxim: Bye everyone! Until the new Year! And see you in Moscow on November 5!

October 16, 2022

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, subtle-material civilizations and the Spiritual world;

Maxim Rusan – head of the Project “CASSIOPEA” and the autonomous non-profit organization “Health Center for Spiritual and Physical Development “CASSIOPEIA”;

Jesus Christ is the Firstborn Son of God, the Logos of His creation, the Creator and guardian of the Christian egregor;

MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms;

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in the astral world and its interactions with the material world.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/chem-prostye-lyudi-mogut-pomoch-v-zavershenii-voen
25th of April
How ordinary people can help end hostilities. Jesus Christ
When military actions are already taking place with numerous destructions and casualties among both the military and the civilian population, then only a peace treaty between the rulers of two or more countries can stop this action (not just hush it up, but stop it).
The fact is that in the event of war, stopping hostilities by only one side is not effective; this will only cause the continuation of these actions by the other side. Because being in combat changes a person's psyche, his vibrations, and he will perceive any retreat as the enemy's weakness and the possibility of his complete victory. This is how the troops of any side will behave. And that is why, well understanding the consequences, military leaders of both sides do not agree to a truce unless it is approved at the highest political level. That is, no guarantees were given to each of the parties that military actions would not continue if one party stopped them.
You are not responsible for the decisions of your political leaders, but you can keep peace between each other, between two peoples simply at the level of communication, continuing communication, stopping blaming each other for various negative phenomena, various sins. Believe me, dear friends, none of you is without sin. In everyone one can find the sin of aggression, the sin of neglecting another nationality, humiliating another nationality. This is present in all nations. And you need to find strength within yourself, in every nation, so that first the people are reconciled among themselves.
Any war on the physical level is a manifestation of the war of minds that has existed between the two countries for many decades on the spiritual level. This means that your peoples did not accept each other's egregors, first on a spiritual level, and then it came to the physical level. What can you do to stop this? What can you do to stop this? Continue to maintain relations with the people on the other side of the front. Not with their fighters and soldiers, but with the people. Both the people of Ukraine and the people of the Russian Federation are both Christian, Orthodox peoples, both peoples are building numerous churches on their territory dedicated to Me and the saints who glorified My name on Earth. Moreover, over the past few months, both in the churches of the Ukrainian Christian churches and Russian Christian churches, divine services have been held by your priests, aimed at victory over each other. The people themselves, both Ukrainian and Russian, are praying to defeat each other. This will not bring peace to your peoples. This will lead to an increase in the aggressive policies of your various military leaders and other responsible people against each other.

I ask you, dear friends, everyone, to ask yourself a simple question. But before you ask this question, get in touch with Me in your heart. You all partake of my Holy Mysteries, my flesh and blood. And you connect with me regardless of citizenship and nationality. I pass through my heart the feelings of each of you. Connect with my consciousness - the Christ consciousness - in your heart and look at what is happening through my eyes.
Imagine that you are a Spirit who loves everyone, in whose honor you built temples and cruelly deprive each other of embodiment, kill each other. At the same time, in different temples they pray to kill as many of you as possible, to kill as many of their opponents as possible, who in turn also pray for the same to you. How will you feel? How will you feel if such prayers are completely sincere, because both sides consider what is happening to be fair? How would you feel in my place?
And when you look at it through my eyes, you will stop hating the people who are on the other side of the front. They are the same as you. They are also scared and in pain. And they also fear for their fathers, sons, husbands who are now fighting with your soldiers. See yourself in them, and them in you. After you have learned this lesson, the hearts of your rulers will soften, and they will find contact with each other, regardless of the influence of any other countries on them. Because the influence of other countries on them was caused only by their choice. If their choice is different, they will change everything themselves.
So what should we, ordinary people, do?
Just make friends with the people who are on the other side of the front, pray, meditate, send the Light of Love and reduce hatred, anger, irritation and fears in your hearts. Just change spiritually. But this not only needs to be done, you need to tell others about it - about this position. And tell without aggression, just testify. If you do this within yourself, and the majority of people think and act differently, then such changes will drag on for a long time, and if the majority of people do this, you will quickly learn this lesson.
Timecode: 34:42, #504 Live broadcast with the phantom of Jesus Christ. How to run the Ashtar Sheran message algorithm.
Jesus Christ is the Firstborn Son of God, the Logos of His creation, the Creator and guardian of the Christian egregor.
October 2022
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/posledstviya-upotreblenie-myasa-v-bolshih-koliches
April 27
Consequences of eating meat in large quantities

Question. Are there fear hormones from slaughtered animals in meat and its products, and what energy do they provide?
Yes, there are fear hormones. Fear hormones are adrenaline, norepinephrine, cortisol, which are produced in your body and not only when you are afraid, but also when you are irritable, despondent, etc. They are produced by your adrenal glands, enter directly into the blood and have an effect on the body: in small quantities it stimulates, and in large quantities it lowers immunity, causing problems with joints, muscles, heart, etc.
What happens to the hormones that enter through the digestive tract?
Hormones are protein substances. As you know, such substances, including hormones, in Earth's medical medicines are administered mainly by the parenteral route, that is, bypassing the gastrointestinal tract. The fact is that pepsin and hydrochloric acid in the stomach, trypsin and chymotrypsin in the pancreas effectively decompose any protein into amino acids. The same thing will happen with the hormone that came to you through the digestive tract.
Let's take meat. Adrenaline, which was contained in the blood and tissues of the animal, will be decomposed into amino acids, absorbed through the villi of the small intestine, will go to the liver and will be used for the synthesis of your proteins. If you eat a piece of beef, the proteins contained in the meat of this animal cannot become yours, since your DNA is different. Your proteins and the cow's proteins are not the same. The body must come up with something to transfer them to yours.
DNA produces enzymes that break down other people's proteins into their component parts, from which they build yours: it will be hemoglobin, adrenaline or skin protein. And if you eat beef liver, then the proteins included in the liver. If you eat fish, its protein composition is even more different from yours than protein from a cow. The plant protein of lentils is even more different from yours in the structure and structure of the proteins. All of this must be recycled.
Eating large quantities of meat, more than 5% of a diet that includes both fish and meat, what you call living life forms, automatically reduces the consumption of plant foods, which also contain the substances you need. Why are you cutting back? Because meat is an energy-rich and high-calorie product. If you eat a lot of meat, you won't want to eat anything else.
The second point: your pepsin, chymotrypsin and trypsin may not be enough to digest such an amount of meat. Unprocessed, it will enter the large intestine, where the necessary microflora lives, which will feed on this meat, decomposing it, which will result in hydrogen sulfide, blood acidosis, constipation and the like. These problems can be easily solved if they have started recently.

Eating large amounts of meat leads to increased sensitivity to colds, muscle weakness, headaches, lowers immunity, etc. Reason: microbes living in the intestines digest protein products that have arrived there, for which your enzymes are not enough, suppressing intestinal motility with special enzymes so that protein foods: meat, milk, plant products (peas, soy, etc.) remain in the lumen longer intestines. Thus, the microbes feed on it longer. This leads to atony, constipation, bloating and intoxication.
They love to eat deliciously what you bought with your money.
Adaptive mechanism.
Timecode: 56:02, #193 Conference with an obstetrician-gynecologist.
Alzheimer's and Parkinson's diseases. Women Health.
MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations.
January 2021

CASSIOPEIA 30 - Irina Podzorova - The Path of the Disembodied Soul

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/

Information transmitted by our space friends through Irina Podzorova, a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations.

t.me/cassiopeia_publish

Raom Tiyan on Information and the Science of Imagery
Apshetarim about your contacts
#528 Life on the planet Esler. Medicine, education system, chipping. Longevity of aliens.
Irina Podzorova about the first astral journey into the world of disembodied Spirits
Do Hierarchs of the Astral Worlds Exist? The System of Egregors
#529 Dyatlov Pass. Personal communication with the Spirit of Igor Dyatlov.
On the creation of the Sun and planets
Recommendations for the Summer Solstice
Interaction of animals with the astral world
#530 Astral World. Earth-Universe. Path of the Disembodied Soul. Hall of Memory. 7 Floors of the Astral. Akasha.
Priestly Year. Calendar
#531 Live Broadcast with the embodied Spirit of the Tisul Princess.
Seven floors of the astral world of the Earth and seven human chakras. LiShioni
#532 Intimate life of aliens. Childbirth in extraterrestrial women. Body practices on other planets.
The Spirit of John the Theologian on the writing of the Apocalypse and its numerical symbols
#533 Communication with the Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky
MidgasKaus on soil pollution with pesticides and fertilizers. GMO products
#534 CASSIOPEIA on meditation. Silence of the mind: how to stop the internal dialogue?

Freedom of choice, karma.
MidgasKaus on the origin of plants on Earth
#535 Live broadcast with the Spirit of John the Theologian/ 12 apostles/ Episode 3.
Where did the hydrogen sulphide layer in the Black Sea come from?
#536 Plant life of planet Earth. Who changed human DNA? Ecological doctrine.
Amrita as a type of energy, features of its production
IMPORTANT explanations given by LiShioni to Irina Podzorova immediately after the most interesting video with the Spirit of Wolf Messing
Creation of the Universe, Symbols in the Legends of Shiva
#537 Causes of Earthquakes in Turkey and Syria 2023
Peculiarities of raising children on Burkhad. The role of tablets in a child's life
#540 SHIVA - the path from destruction to cosmic wisdom. Creation of reality by man. Alive, Amrita.
MidgasKaus on military-chemical developments on Earth
THE BEATITUDES OF THE SERMON ON THE MOUNTAIN [- Secrets of happiness from the phantom of Jesus Christ]
Interview with the spirits of Judas and Pilate about the crucifixion of Christ

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/raom-tijan-ob-informacii-i-nauke-obraznosti
Raom Tiyan on Information and the Science of Imagery

A lot of information can be put into one image at once. Any image is an information package. Therefore, the Science of Imagery studies the impact of images on the consciousness and behavior of individuals for the purpose of their development and raising vibrations, as well as counteracting the impact of the Science of Imagery for the opposite purposes - lowering vibration and degradation.

This is observed, for example, when the Science of Imagery is used in a negative sense in those civilizations where political or religious groups, having opposing views on the same subject, do not wish to enter into a struggle with each other, but use the Science of Imagery in order to set their people, their society or part of it against the society of the enemy. This is called "creating an image of the enemy."

In fact, creating an enemy image is a certain political technology, in which special images are used to evoke negative emotions, feelings towards a particular person, and this arouses righteous anger, aggression, a sense of infringed justice, and with the skillful hand of a manipulator it is directed against a certain people to achieve their goals. On Earth, this is also used, especially since it is all amplified by duality of thinking and inability and insufficient awareness in managing one's instincts.

If even a very large number of people do not distinguish themselves from the body, consider themselves a physical body, then, naturally, any impulse, desire, instincts that go through the body are taken for a person's true desire - the one that will advance him along the path to happiness. But this is not so, because there are still spiritual feelings, spiritual desires and spiritual goals, in addition to instinctive ones. And it is very easy for such unconscious rational beings, not aware of themselves as Spirit, to create an image of an enemy, especially if they do not know, have not studied the Science of Imagery.

And I am very surprised that in your schools they do not teach the Science of Imagery in its full scope, so that every person from childhood could understand what images can evoke different emotions in him - negative and positive - and for what purposes. In our country this science, this knowledge is included in the study in schools from childhood.

Imagination is the ability of the mind to create new images, including new ideas. And the sounds in the mental field that arise in the composer - he does not hear them with his ear, they are also images. He hears it mentally, but this is his image of how he should hear this music, and then he transfers it to the sound of a physical instrument. He can play it, and it even happens that the sound of this instrument will not be similar to the sound that he had in his mental field, and he will look for another instrument or another way to express it in the physical world. And then, when he considers that this work is finished, it will be his creation, that is, it will already be information transferred to the physical plane in the form of sounds. Each sound is physical energy. This image can be from the Higher Self, or it can be from the curator.

This is how the creative ability manifests itself, which exists in the human imagination as the ability to create new images, and in Russian it is called “imagination” - an image, the creation of images, the ability to do this.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/apshetarim-o-svoih-kontaktah
Apshetarim about your contacts

My physical body is on Tumesout. For astral travel, there is a special chair that completely relaxes the body, its muscles and allows you to quickly enter the Astral (there is a special setting - such waves go). With the help of a special effect on the brain, it helps to maintain consciousness in the Astral world and transmit information so that I do not completely go into an unconscious sleep. But, of course, special training is needed for this. I trained when I was young.

I specifically went to study first as a sociopsychologist on Tumesout, and only then became interested in the problem of integrating young races into the Interstellar Union. I began to study this problem, began to look at the registry of civilizations; naturally, I found the Earth, which was discovered by our ancestors, representatives of our planet. And I became interested in what was happening there, and wanted to help earthlings, such a beautiful planet, join the Interstellar Union.

I knew that we are all Spirits of a single Spiritual world, I recognized my brothers and sisters in earthlings and wanted to help them. And then I went to study again - this time to become a specialist in contacts with earthlings. And there I studied astral travel.

My Higher Self always maintains contact with the Islamic egregor. And my Higher Self, the spiritual name is Archangel Jabrail. Why Archangel? Because I am on the 24th level, in your opinion. And my part is embodied in the physical body - Apshetarim, and my Spirit in general, my spiritual name is Jabrail. But, again, this is how it can be conveyed by your sounds.

If any Spirit who has contactees incarnates, then his Higher Self continues to contact, send phantoms for contact. When a person prays to Allah, he kind of calls me. There is such a call, and I hear it and send Light, Love, information in response. You can contact me, call me by my spiritual name, and I will give information in response.

Timecode: 52:22, #509 Conference with Archangel Jabrail. How the Islamic egregor was created. The Sacrifice of Isaac.

Apshetarim (Archangel Jabrail) – representative of the planet Tumesout. Specialist in the creation of religious and philosophical egregors in worlds that are not part of the Interstellar Union. Sociologist, psychologist, religious scholar. Keeper of the Islamic egregor.

November 2022

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/zhizn-na-planete-ehsler-medicina-sistema-obrazovan #528 Life on the planet Esler. Medicine, education system, chipping. Longevity of aliens.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=EbND1lbKQFE

00:00 Start of video.

00:20 Welcome. Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, and today with us is my curator, a biologist, psychologist, a specialist in extraterrestrial civilizations from the planet Esler - MidgasKaus, who studies the human body, its energy, physiology, as well as traditional and non-traditional therapy of various diseases.

Evgeniy: Hello everyone, I am a psychotherapist, a doctor with extensive experience. My name is Evgeniy.

Irina: He says: “I greet you, I’m listening to your questions.”

Evgeniy: Mid, can I call you simply Mid?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Of course, many people turn to me like that.

Evgeniy: Excellent. Mid, are you close to Irina now or somewhere far away in the Astral?

Irina (MidgasKaus): I am within her energy field – my astral body is in her field, at a distance...

(Irina) He’s showing me now, he’s right here, standing nearby.

Evgeny: That's it, right? Now I wonder, Mead, can you prove somehow that you really are standing near Irina? Or is it impossible in principle?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Prove it for what?

Evgeniy: Just take a pen so that we can see how the pen hangs in the air when it is held.

Irina (MidgasKaus): I am not involved in overcoming gravity.

Eugene: Good answer.

Mead, it so happened that many years ago I became interested in space and got certain opportunities to understand what it is; and I learned a lot about what happens there. For example, I have an idea about many representatives of different civilizations, and, for example, I know that the blood of the reptilians is similar in composition to the blood of our crocodiles. Oh, how interesting! And that in our genes there is a certain part of the DNA of these reptilians. But the most important thing - fortunately for us, this is what contributes to our survival on planet Earth. This has already been proven - that we have a part of the DNA of the reptilians.

So, first I want to ask a few general questions.

03:34 Medical training on the planet Esler.

Evgeniy: How can one obtain knowledge in the field of medicine on your planet?

Irina (MidgasKaus): We have several levels of education. This is school education (I am speaking, of course, in the language of the earth, in the language of the contactee). Our school is divided into three levels of education - the junior group, the middle group and the senior group. In the middle group, the division of students by interests begins. In the senior group, this division deepens even more, and those who decided to become a doctor or a biologist, who chose for themselves the natural science direction in the field of studying the organism of the Eslerites (or, like me - in the field of biology, studying alien life forms, in particular terrestrial), after finishing school, go to higher educational institutions.

It's like your institutes, very similar, only they study for more years there than in earthly institutes, and there is more practice. The last year of study at this higher educational institution is practically spent - if it is a future doctor, a medic - in some kind of practice in a medical institution, under the patronage of already experienced doctors. And each student who graduates from a higher educational institution is assigned a job, which he takes immediately after leaving this institution. That is, all this is provided for by our government.

Each academic year, the number of places in certain institutes is equal to the number of vacancies, but not only on our planet, but in the Galaxy as a whole, because we are already united with the Interstellar Union - therefore we can work on any planet related to the Interstellar Union. And some even work in the Galactic Federation of Light. That is the answer to the question: we receive this knowledge in educational institutions, if we are talking about fundamental knowledge. As for the personal experience of a doctor - this is only in practice.

Evgeniy: Well, yes, it’s the same with us: practice, practice, practice.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Here our paths are similar, because you are humanoids, and we are humanoids, we are a dense-material life form, and you are a dense-material life form, therefore we also have an analogue of the brain, central nervous system, etc. And therefore we have similar education systems, as well as society as a whole, the difference is based only on the structure of society and the attitude of humanoids towards each other.

Eugene: Excellent.

07:37 Where did MidgasKaus study?

Evgeniy: And tell me, please, where did you personally acquire knowledge in biology? After all, this is your specialization.

Irina (MidgasKaus): I personally received knowledge on the planet Esler, in the city of Luargi (Lyuargi), this city is located at a distance of about 1700 km, if by your measures, from the place where I was born (shows a small village). On Esler, many humanoids live in such one-story buildings as our villages. And there are also cities, but few people live there, more in nature.

Evgeniy: I see, great.

Irina (MidgasKaus): I lived and studied there.

(Irina) He is now showing me separate rooms, which are quite spacious, where the students who study there live.

Evgeniy: It’s about the same for us: students live and study.

Irina (MidgasKaus): I was able to visit my family every evening on a special passenger aircraft, located 1,700 km from the place of study, from Luarga, because the flight of 1,700 km on this aircraft was about 20 minutes.

Eugene: Excellent!

Irina: He shows me: a kind of gravity platform with sides, and they move on it.

09:38 Diseases, injuries and their treatment on the planet Esler.

Evgeniy: Then the next question. Tell me, please, does the population on your planet suffer from any diseases?

Irina (MidgasKaus): We have medicine, sometimes diseases occur caused by trauma and psychosomatic reasons - in the event that a humanoid does not perform prevention. And I would like to say a few words about disease prevention, and in general about maintaining a healthy lifestyle, a healthy body and Spirit in their integrity. Since I started telling you about school, about the junior level, I want to tell you that knowledge about disease prevention, about managing your body, all organs, all hormones, all instincts is given already in school. This is considered disease prevention in adulthood.

Evgeniy: Great! Then one more question. God forbid, if you were to get an eye injury due to some kind of accident, who and where would provide you with medical assistance? And how quickly would it be done?

Irina (MidgasKaus): It all depends on where it would be - on Esler, in space, at the base... With us, you can actually call (shows how our taxi is, only it is driven by robots). It comes fairly quickly upon request, because with us, you can send a message through the chip that is already embedded in the body, that is, give it a mental impulse.

(Irina) They have chips implanted at birth, and, by the way, these micro, or rather nanochips, are introduced in quantities of approximately 2.5 thousand pieces into the child's body at birth. And they are already engaged in the repair of blood vessels - their purification, repair of the walls of blood vessels, as well as monitoring blood cells, blood composition, pressure, temperature, and so on - that is, they determine the main parameters of the body.

(MidgasKaus) And in our home there is already a screen built into the wall where this information can be displayed. If a humanoid receives any damage, it even automatically receives a message on this screen if it is at home. And if not, it can create a special image, mentally address the nanocomputer (nanochips together make up such a nanocomputer, and it sends messages) that it needs help, and certain robots come for it.

As for how I will be helped in case of an eye injury... If surgical treatment is required, that is, an operation to replace some structures of the eye, or something else - we have been doing this for many thousands of years with special robots that do not even look like humanoids.

(Irina) He is now showing me some kind of box, not even on wheels, but on some magnets, it rises like this, and from it, as it were, many hoses come off, and at the end of each hose there are some devices.

Evgeniy: I see. Well, great!

Irina: What kind of robots? Plasma robots.

Evgeniy: It's just amazing, we wish we could do that! Then the next question. It's getting more and more interesting.

14:27 About the composition and structure of the blood of the Eslerites.

Evgeniy: Tell me, please, does the composition of your blood correspond to the composition of my earthling blood, or are the compositions different?

Irina (MidgasKaus): There are differences in relation to some elements of the blood. For example, we do not have many enzymes and vitamins that are common to you, and vice versa, we have substances, enzymes of protein nature and catalyst substances similar to your vitamins, which you do not have analogs of. If we look simply at the elemental composition of the blood of the Eslerites, without going into the structure of the tertiary and quaternary protein structure, then, firstly, we have (shows to Irina) 28 amino acids.

You know that in addition to the 20 amino acids that make up the proteins of your body, there are other amino acids in nature, quite a lot of them. And we have 28 amino acids (shows Irina some diagrams – what they look like, these molecules). The spatial diagrams of each amino acid out of the 28 have already been studied.

Then, if we look at the elemental composition, for example, in our blood and in our body as a whole there is one and a half times (approximately 150%) more molybdenum, and approximately 130% more copper than in your body. But we have a very low content of, for example, iodine, and the iron content is lower. If we look at the elements. In our amino acids, there are carbon elements, but it forms bonds similar to glomeruli, and one of the amino acids contains exactly three atoms of molybdenum.

(Irina) At least that's what he's showing me now.

Evgeniy: Yeah, and are there red blood cells, platelets?

Irina (MidgasKaus): If we look at the blood composition, it is arranged somewhat differently in ours. We have an analogue of erythrocytes, they are round in shape, but like your amoebas – they can change shape and penetrate into the smallest vessels. We also have three types of protective blood cells – maybe an analogue of your leukocytes. They all perform different functions: one acts in the blood, the second – in peripheral tissues, and the third acts here and there, producing antibodies and remembering them for life, and also transferring information into the DNA genome to pass on to offspring.

(Irina) And he also says that they don't have elements like platelets, because blood clotting occurs somewhat differently. There are thromboplastins and other factors.

Evgeniy: Then I understand that this is precisely what can explain your longevity, your life span.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, they are 470 years, 500 years. For example, representatives of the planet Burkhad can live for 10,000 years. And they can live for 600 years - their body obeys the orders of the Spirit, when the Spirit wants to continue the incarnation, but not just because it wants to, but if it has an important matter in this incarnation.

And it is necessary to understand that every humanoid who lives long enough... There cannot be many such humanoids on the planet, otherwise it will reduce the birth rate, and in general the resource capacity of civilization. For this reason, simply the desire for a long life, without spiritual permission, without permission from the Higher Self, that is, from the Spiritual World, will not help. Here the tuning goes through the Higher Self, and when there is a specific purpose of incarnation, then they can change their bodies.

Burkhadians, Tumesoutians - they have such a body structure, to which they tune mentally and change the DNA of their bodies in such a way that their cell, when it enters the mitosis phase, then these two cells that are obtained later, do not lose energy - as a result, aging slows down tens and hundreds of times. That is, we call aging the destruction of a cell with each division, its loss of energy.

Evgeniy: Great! It's just amazing! But for this you need to have such a set of everything that is invested in you.

21:04 Why do earthlings have such a long lifespan?

Evgeniy: Then the next question, it's a bit naive, but I want to get an answer to it, because on Earth our medicine is so simple that many questions have no answers at all. Why do we, earthlings, have a maximum life expectancy of only 115 years?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Even about four or five thousand years ago you had a longer life expectancy. And if we take thirty thousand years ago, forty thousand years – the further back in time, the longer the life expectancy.

Such a lifespan as it is now in the modern world is determined by two factors. The first is, as always, spiritual: the Spirits choose such a short (relative to other forms, for example, our form of life, relative to the form of life on Burkhad) lifespan in these bodies, which quickly disintegrate for the reason that it is very difficult to undergo earthly experience in such conditions.

Here, firstly, is a very diverse planet – diverse in terms of the biosphere, social formations, relationships, and (which is one of the main factors) – spiritual knowledge is not taught in educational institutions of this planet. And this means that the Spirit has a chance to find the truth itself, without training, that is, to go through error and find the truth, because it is not told, as with us, for example, in the Interstellar Union. And all this together, in the aggregate, leads to the fact that only those Spirits choose Earth who need a short incarnation with the solution of certain problems that they cannot solve, or it is difficult for them to solve these problems in other worlds.

As for the physical reasons, I have just mentioned the spiritual ones – here they also generate the following reflection on the physical plane. Firstly, these are certain changes in your genome, in your genotype, in which the gene (you call it the “aging gene,” and we call it the “destruction gene”), not a gene, but a set of genes in each cell – it is switched on somewhat earlier than it was in previous eras. This was done so that, firstly, generations would change quickly, and secondly – because the conditions on Earth after the war 12,000 years ago were very difficult, and it was necessary to adapt to these conditions.

But in any case, 12,000 years ago, the average life expectancy was about 200 years (it was reduced by about half, to 180-200 years), and then it began to slowly decrease on its own - from the mutations that occurred, from the conditions in which people lived. And the closer it was to your modern times, the more the life expectancy decreased. And about two or three thousand years ago, the average life expectancy was even less than it is now, because there were diseases and injuries that they could not treat, and the body deteriorated quite quickly - at forty or fifty years.

And even now, the lifespan that you have is determined by the lifestyle that people lead, and the level of their knowledge, awareness, and attitude toward their bodies. That is, for example, the period of incarnation can be chosen to be quite long, but the Spirit, if it does not know how to handle the body correctly and harmoniously, may not live to see it, destroy its body and leave the incarnation ahead of time. This also happens.

Evgeniy: In general, it is sad that the Spirit cannot, as they say, support longevity or generally take care of a person in any way.

Irina (MidgasKaus): I have studied this issue. In order for the Spirit to be able to take care of a person, it must have awareness, conscious knowledge of the processes that occur in his body, and take care of the body accordingly. As I have already said about the planet Esler, we call this "doing prevention." That is, such a life expectancy is given to us not only by our genetics or body structure, but also by disease prevention and plus the medicine, the level of medical care that we have. All this together gives us the life expectancy that I said - not one factor, but a combination of factors.

On Earth you do not have such a combination of factors, as far as I have studied the problem of the emergence of various diseases at a young age and the causes of death, the exit from incarnation of people - because of what disorders, because of what diseases. On Esler, the death of the physical body occurs not because of illness, but because the Spirit understands that it has exhausted its life force, the possibility of its incarnation, and itself leaves the body, its life thread is simply interrupted. In your opinion, this is from old age, that is, its body has exhausted the supply of energy given for incarnation. But it does not have diseases of the physical body - in fact, there are never diseases of the heart, that is, the organ that pumps blood, or, say, cancer of some cells that have degenerated.

Almost no one in your country is engaged in the prevention of cardiovascular diseases and the prevention of cancer and other diseases, if we talk about childhood. But childhood and adolescence are the most important age for the formation of the body for life. And, for example, one day in a seven-year-old child lays the foundation for the health of his body for seven years ahead, that is, as if the cells are programmed.

Evgeniy: Yes, this is very important – what he just said, because it seems like it wouldn't be difficult to do this here on Earth, but for some reason it's not being done.

Irina (MidgasKaus): I studied this issue: I talked with the contactee Irina, with other contactees and with other people through contactees, asked them various biological and medical questions about their bodies. And I noticed that very few people, and especially children, have knowledge about the work of their body - about how their heart works, how their hormones work, and how all this affects each other. We are given this knowledge from childhood.

Evgeniy: Yes, this is absent from our school curriculum today.

29:58 About the composition of the atmosphere on Esler.

Evgeniy: Mead, please tell me, is the composition of your atmosphere, the air you breathe, different from ours, and how?

Irina (MidgasKaus): We have 23% oxygen in our atmosphere, and also in the upper layers of the atmosphere there is hydrogen and helium (approximately 3% each), that is, they are above the clouds (shows) – as light gases, they are there. The rest of the volume is occupied by nitrogen, and there is also carbon dioxide and traces of argon, neon, etc. Our atmosphere has approximately the same composition. And there are practically no sulfur oxides, nitrogen oxides, especially tetravalent.

Eugene: Excellent!

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, we don't have, for example, an internal combustion engine, how would they be formed? We have a different basis for the movement of vehicles.

Evgeniy: I see. Irina, a question for you. When you were on Mead's planet, did you breathe without a spacesuit?

Irina: Yes. 23% is still okay, on Burkhad there is 45% oxygen!

Mead laughs, he remembers that when I was on Burkhad, I spoke at a meeting there, read a text, and I was there for an hour in physical contact. And what was surprising to me on Burkhad - their earth sparkles in the rays of the sun (they have such a white sun), and it just seems like you are walking on some shiny stones. That is, rocky soil, and it sparkles. And then I asked Raom Tiyan, and he said that it is such a mineral, it is on Earth, it is called pyrite, only on Earth there is less of it, and on Burkhad there is a lot. That is, in places where it is, it seems like you are walking on silver earth. And there is also 45% oxygen, I was there for about an hour, and already such a feeling that it becomes fun, you no longer feel your body - that's it.

Evgeniy: Well, yes, the body... all organs are working at their limit.

33:13 On regulating body functions using nanochips.

Evgeniy: Okay, then the next question, it somehow follows from everything that has been said. Why do we, earthlings, survive in extreme conditions - heat, cold, hunger, and as far as I know, you do not.

Irina (MidgasKaus): "You" - who is this? There are different humanoids, different types of organisms. Each organism lives and functions normally in the conditions to which it is evolutionarily adapted. But we have the means to gradually change the evolutionary adaptability of the organism, if this is necessary for some purpose. For example, to increase the resistance of a child to a certain environment. Also, in our medicine, there is the possibility of helping internal organs with some mechanical devices.

Evgeniy: Even so?!

Irina (MidgasKaus): I have already mentioned nanochips, and there are, for example, certain devices – mini-robots that can be built into the body, like the chips we put into contactees, but these chips are for other purposes – for communication. And we also have such chips, for example (shows a small box, it is inserted near the brain – into the area responsible for temperature regulation, and when the temperature rises and falls, adaptation occurs almost to the level, one might say, of an animal that constantly lives in the wild).

Evgeniy: What if such chips were placed into the body of a human, an earthling?

Irina (MidgasKaus): If you need exactly this kind of chip, then it should be specially made for it:

it is adapted for our brain, not yours. It can be specially made, because our industry - not medical, but biological - for contact with alien creatures makes chips for aliens, which are already adapted to their brain, to their blood composition. For example, on the surface of these chips there are special masking proteins that do not allow monocytes and macrophages to attack this foreign structure. Well, and there are many other adaptations.

Evgeniy: It turns out that we, earthlings, need such chips, given the conditions of our life.

Irina: Mid, will you bring us some chips? Laughs.

(MidgasKaus says) All the technologies of the Interstellar Union, medical technologies, including the chips that I mentioned, and the robots that I mentioned, and devices for the energetic restoration of etheric matrices and organs, that is, the subtle body - all this will be provided to Earth when it enters the Interstellar Union as an equal partner with us.

Evgeniy: Well, that’s still a long way off!

Irina (MidgasKaus): It depends on you, on the people who live here.

37:30 Why other humanoids hardly cry tears.

Evgeniy: Now, Mead, here’s an interesting question of a psychological nature: why do we, earthlings, know how to cry, but you don’t?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, indeed, very few humanoids can secrete tears.

What are tears? Tears are not just a liquid, they are an adaptation mechanism that has been developed evolutionarily. And it manifests itself not only in humans, but also in many mammals, that is, animals. This tear reflex is aimed at cleansing the body of those traces of hormones that are formed during stress.

Evgeniy: Yes, this is one of the possibilities, and the second?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Precisely through tears, not through sweat, because tears, in addition to literal cleansing, also have the function of cleansing the eye so that, to put it simply and figuratively, a person looks at the situation with cleansed eyes. Or an animal, in this case. We call it briefly - "the mechanism of adaptation to stress". And for example, we and other humanoids did not evolve in this way, so we do not have anything like this - neither we, nor even our animals.

Evgeniy: Actually, I meant... What you said now, Mead, is understandable, it's human physiology, animal physiology, and so on. But we cry because of extreme situations: a husband had a fight with his wife - the wife started crying.

Irina: Sometimes they even cry from joy.

Evgeniy: Yes, and from joy, that happens. Okay then.

40:08 About the dwellings of the Eslerites.

Evgeny: I would like, Mead, to ask a few simple questions to understand how you live. For example, this question: where do you live, and who provides you with this housing?

Irina (MidgasKaus): The government of the planet gives each adult humanoid who is already working, who has already started working, a separate living space absolutely free of charge, it is provided in the city where the humanoid works. But it is provided free of charge without the right to sell, and usually with the right to exchange for other housing (if he wants to move to another city, he can exchange it with those who want), and with the right to pass it on by inheritance - that is, he can leave it to his children. But then the children will no longer be entitled to a second home.

And here is one dwelling, it is standard: for one humanoid - a certain area of the room, there are certain devices that are built into the walls. Heating, water supply, waste disposal, the same electronic devices - all this is already built in.

Evgeniy: I see, I see.

Irina (MidgasKaus): The houses themselves are built by large robots – like your cranes, and they lift blocks consisting of...

(Irina) He shows me: they extract nitrogen gas from the air, then they somehow condense it, add carbon, silicon, and they get some kind of threads. From these threads they mold these cubes. That is, they make them out of thin air, so to speak.

Evgeniy: Like our earthly foam materials – foam concrete and the like, it’s probably similar to this.

Irina: Yes, only inside these blocks there are tubes (he is showing me now), which will already be connected to the roof. And the roof will be covered with a layer of such a substance, which will take energy from the sun and transfer heat to the walls.

Evgeniy: I see! We have solar panels, something like that, I guess.

Irina: But they don't have wires, it just goes from the roof to the walls.

Eugene: I see.

42:53 About the nutrition of the Eslerites and the delivery of products.

Evgeny: Then another interesting question: where, Mead, do you get your food, and what is the composition of this food? In the store, or do they bring it to you after some period? How does the food appear on your table?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, we have similar stores to yours, only the sellers there are robots. An ordinary Esler can do this too, but it is quite rare, because rarely would an Esler agree to spend some time of their incarnation selling goods to someone. Usually they have more interesting things to do, like explore space, explore the Spiritual World, explore Esler itself as a planet.

Our people are one, although we have several differences in the so-called different nationalities - eight small differences that we ourselves distinguish, but still all these nationalities are equal and constitute a single people. Yes, there are no borders and any political differences.

Food – we are lacto-vegetarians: we eat plants, and due to an enzyme that is quite similar in structure to your lactase, but somewhat simpler, we can break down milk. That is, our women also breastfeed.

Evgeniy: Excellent! I just wanted to ask about this.

Irina (MidgasKaus): We have a certain animal (shows it to Irina – it looks like a yak, only with yellow short hair), and we have special farms where special robots look after them and take milk from them. Then it goes to the stores. We also eat plant food: a fruit that tastes very similar to, for example, your pumpkin with milk. When I was at the base on Earth, they brought me various earthly plant dishes, and I liked the pumpkin with milk, because it resembles our fruit.

We also drink plant juices, eat various herbs (shows: green long grass, like our vermicelli). But we cannot eat meat, bird eggs and fish, because we do not have enzymes that could break down animal proteins and fats in the same quality as in the flesh of animals, birds, fish and bird eggs. All this is because our ancestors, from whom we evolved, although they were somewhat similar to your earthly cats, they were not predators, they ate tree leaves, climbed trees.

46:56 Are chicken eggs and milk good for earthlings?

Evgeniy: Then, Mead, I have a question just out of curiosity: are chicken eggs and milk from earthly cows a healthy product for earthlings? Because on our planet they say different things.

Irina (MidgasKaus): In general, a question, or...?

Evgeniy: In general.

Irina (MidgasKaus): As far as I have researched these products, as far as chicken eggs are concerned, their protein is absorbed quite well by the human body, better than, for example, the protein of cow meat.

Eugene: Ah, even so.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, the protein itself. And what you call the yolk of the egg contains a sufficient amount of fats, vitamins, lecithin, which is necessary for your liver, etc.

But, naturally, I always say that even the most useful product should be in limited quantities, because if you eat only it, but in large quantities, you will upset the balance in the body, because it needs different substances. Moreover, your bodies consist of a fairly large variety of elements, and many elements, many vitamins, amino acids, require daily replenishment, otherwise there will be a deficiency that can affect the hormonal composition, the enzyme composition of the pancreas. And you, as a doctor, know very well that as soon as dysfunction of one organ appears, the harmonious organism begins to detach. It is like if one musical instrument plays out of tune, then the whole orchestra begins to play out of tune.

Evgeniy: And is the milk of our animals – cows, goats and others – a useful product for people on Earth?

Irina (MidgasKaus): It depends on individual sensitivity. There are people who are sensitive to milk components. If there is no increased sensitivity, milk is useful in moderate quantities, but I would say, due to the beneficial microflora. And fermented milk products are healthier.

Evgeniy: Excellent addition! I adhere to this approximately. My wife and I, of course, prefer fermented milk products.

Irina (MidgasKaus): If you have a choice, for example, between a glass of milk and a glass of kefir or fermented baked milk, I would recommend the latter.

Evgeniy: Yes, that's how we do it. And even our cat, she also laps up this fermented baked milk with pleasure.

Irina: Let him drink fermented baked milk, of course (laughs).

50:18 About the color perception of Eslerites.

Evgeniy: But is his vision different from yours and mine, from the vision of earthlings?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, I see in slightly different colors, my eyes are tuned to a slightly different frequency spectrum - for example, an Eslerite sees 14 colors that he distinguishes, he has an extended frequency spectrum. What you call "infrared" and some type of "ultraviolet", an Eslerite can see. But, for example, the same green color, which is uniform for you, is divided into three for us.

Evgeniy: Oh, I see! Yes, that's interesting.

Irina: So, dear friends, the conference about the Eslerites turned out to be very interesting – how they live, and their idea of medicine. I hope you found it interesting to watch this video, perhaps you have some additional questions. In any case, until next time!

Evgeniy: Thank you, Mead, for the conversation!

51:35 End of broadcast.

52:18 End of video.

January 12, 2023

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, with subtle-material civilizations and with the Spiritual world;

Evgeniy is a psychotherapist;

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms, and curator of the Project.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/irina-podzorova-o-pervom-astralnom-puteshestvii
Irina Podzorova about the first astral journey into the world of disembodied Spirits

My first conscious astral travel was maybe around the end of September, beginning of October, when I was 15 years old.

I was lying down, and then I stood up in my astral body, and it turned out that half of me was sitting and half was in my body. And I look - someone was standing in the room. And my astral vision didn't adjust right away. At first it seemed like fog, and then I looked - some figure was standing. I thought maybe my mother had come in or my stepfather. We were already living with my stepfather then. Then I look - no, it was a young guy... and with wings. Then I realized that it was definitely not one of the household members.

And he comes up to me and gives me his hand. I saw that his hand was so white, from which light emanated. I extend my hand to him and see that it is also glowing. He helps me stand up and I find myself next to him. I look at myself, I see that I do not have such a physical body, but just a white silhouette. The guy says to me mentally:

> I am your guardian angel.

I speak:

> Nice to meet you.

I wasn't exactly surprised, I was just happy. And he says again in his mind:

> I have appeared to you on this journey to take you a little further than you usually travel in the astral. The time has come to show you the world of non-embodied Spirits. Because you have directed your energy to the expansion of consciousness, you have been given access to the world of non-embodied Spirits during the life of the body. I want to take you and show you how those Spirits who left this life live there.

I became so interested.

He took my hand, and we flew through the roof, began to rise into the sky. And I began to see as if you were rising up in a glass elevator, but just faster. Some floors flash past you. They flash so quickly that you don’t have time to discern what is there. You just see someone walking, people, shadows. Then we stop, as it were, on one floor and get out.

> This is the average level.

He didn't show me the demonic level, a 15-year-old girl. At that time I wasn't psychologically ready for it, I saw them later, when I got there myself. That's another story. At that time he showed me brighter, green meadows, where interesting flowers, like heavenly flowers, trees grew, they walked like angels, all so bright, with halos...

> Look, anyone can create any house, any device, tree, even an entire mountain, just with the snap of a finger.

Then we went up higher. He says, this is already the highest level. Everything there was simply made of light. And there were already different sensations. As if you are... a part of this light, but at the same time there is a certain form of a body. And that you are eternal light, the purpose of which is to rejoice and love. These were the sensations that I remember. He showed me several of these levels, and with each increase the light grew. Then he said that it was time for us to go back, and we began to go down. I only remember that everything disappears, I feel my body, but I am still lying with my eyes closed.

I open my eyes and realize that I don't feel my arms or legs. I remembered how Kirkhiton taught me that I need to move my fingers first. As soon as I thought about them, I felt them and moved them. I immediately remembered that I had traveled, where I had been. Kirkhiton advised me to write everything down somewhere, to keep a diary in order to remember everything. True, sometimes I kept one, sometimes I didn't. I hid it from my mother, because she burned them. She said that I shouldn't do stupid things, so I didn't want to show her such things.

This time I thought: "What a journey! To the world of disembodied Spirits! Let me write all this down."

I had a notebook specifically for these notes, which I hid, and I started writing. But for some reason I started writing not what I saw, but I started writing a poem. And when I wrote one line, the next one already appeared in my consciousness. And then, when I wrote it all, I read it and called it all "Astral", that is, I called the poem "Astral".

Astral

In another world we will all find ourselves
, Don't doubt it, it will be so.
In your spiritual blindness
No one will destroy you.
Don't be afraid, believe and you will live
In heaven, because there is no trace of hell.
You will no longer grieve
In the beautiful green valley.
There is no grief and misfortune
For those who have suffered in life,
In that world there is enough food
For those who were deprived of it on Earth.
There, meetings with loved ones await,
There you will realize that life is endless;
There is no fear there at all, understand!
There is no time, only eternity.
There you will understand the mistakes of this life,
You will also understand how to correct them.
If necessary, you will return to Earth
To be born again is not at all difficult!

Told during the third level training of the School of Contactees in Voronezh.

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations.

June 2024

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/ierarhi-astralnyh-mirov-sistema-ehgregorov
Do Hierarchs of the Astral Worlds Exist? The System of Egregors

The expression "astral world" itself appeared on Earth relatively recently. Previously, all these worlds were called Spiritual worlds. The word "Astral" was introduced by some esotericists, who were then called figures of occult teachings, and the words "astral world" in theosophy, for example, denote the stellar sphere, because the root "astro" itself means "star" in Greek. And the "astral world" denoted the world of fixed stars, one of the spheres of the Universe, which existed in the view of theosophists.

As for the Hierarchs of the astral world, for example, the leaders of egregors can be called such. Egregors, as energy-informational formations created by embodied Spirits, are in the astral world and make up the astral atmosphere of the planet, or, as it is also called, the noosphere.

This is the same object, but simply described from different positions. Each egregor has its own leaders, who can be both incarnate and outside of incarnate. But in any case, to lead the egregor, they either come to the astral world or send their phantoms. They can be called Hierarchs of the astral world.

If we take not the subtle material, but the astral world, then there are egregors there. And for each egregor, some personality, some Spirit is responsible, and most often there are several of them. Responsible - this means distributing the energies of the egregor and forming a series of events in the material world in such a way that certain personalities embodied in the material world are attracted to the egregor, and so that they are suitable in vibrations to the egregor. So that they send certain energies to the egregor, and so that they receive energies from it for their needs, of course, which do not contradict the goals of the egregor.

Egregors can be very different: science, art, finance, there are generic, national, religious egregors, there are sub-egregors. That is, for example, in one large religious egregor there are smaller ones - as if under one large dome new sub-egregors are formed, in which there are already some other ideas, and therefore slightly different in vibration frequency.

If we take the dense plane, then around each physical planet there is a different number of astral levels, and this depends on the number of energy centers in humanoids. On Earth, for example, there are 7 floors of the astral world.

And if we take the Milky Way Galaxy, there are also astral levels around it – around the Galaxy as a whole. But these levels are not structured like the levels around the planets, and each civilization makes its own gradation of the astral world of the Milky Way. Because the structure of the astral levels of the Galaxy is more complex than the structure of the astral levels of planets or stars.

This knowledge, this information was obtained by astral travelers from all worlds of the Interstellar Union, and plus it was also obtained by our contactees who contacted the Spiritual world and the world of non-embodied Spirits. This is a collection of information that was initially obtained by astral travelers. In their interpretation, all this was stored on various information carriers, and then refined during contacts with non-embodied Spirits, and from this came the teaching about the astral world, which we are now transmitting to contactees.

Each planet that is part of the Interstellar Union, initially already in its history of civilization development accumulated information about the structure of the Universe. But after this planet entered the Interstellar Union, naturally, a common educational standard for this planet was introduced, existing in the Interstellar Union, and therefore the information about the astral world is now the same.

And even the information that had been accumulated in the religious, philosophical, and esoteric teachings of other planets was subject to clarification based on new data received by the entire Interstellar Union.

Timecode: 05:22, Astral world. Earth-Universe. Path of the disembodied Soul. Hall of Memory. 7 floors of the Astral. Akasha.

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in the astral world and its interactions, Curator of the Cassiopeia Project.

January, 2023

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pereval-dyatlova-obshchenie-lichno-s-duhom-igorya
#529 Dyatlov Pass. Personal communication with the Spirit of Igor Dyatlov.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=p150gzqX2HI

00:00 Start of video.

04:00 Greeting. News from Cassiopeia.

Maxim: Dear friends, a huge hello to all! I don't even know where to start. We've had so many events. If I were to list them all now, the entire airtime would be full.

So, first of all, I want to congratulate everyone on all the past holidays. Because the holidays were a success for the Project "Cassiopeia": we gathered for a huge retreat in Abkhazia, at the Litfond Hotel. A wonderful hotel! I want to send a huge greeting and a stream of my Love to everyone who participated, and direct it to all of you, because you were all great! The entire retreat took place in some kind of atmosphere of Love, reciprocity.

(reads the chat) "Greetings from Novosibirsk!" Novosibirsk, hello too!

What is happening now? We are finishing the Voronezh Center. I have already installed unique equipment and made houses for this unique equipment. Also, the "Da Vinci Egg", and it was assembled entirely according to his sketches, according to his design. This is an egg in which time changes and transforms, an egg in which you can travel in time. There are already unique developments on this "Da Vinci Egg". And everyone who comes either to the health center, or to training in the contactee program, or to other training, will always be able to get into this unique equipment.

(reads chat) "Where's the suit?" I promised the suit. Here it is, a cool tracksuit, because I spend the whole day at the Center, running here and there. I lost my phone at the Center today. It took me about fifteen minutes to run around it, and I found the phone at Irina's - that's where I left it.

What did I talk about? Yes, about that unique equipment. Plus, we have assembled a Camera based on the "Kozyrev Mirrors" effect. Plus, we will conduct color therapy and audio therapy at our Center. It is difficult to call it therapy, because therapy is medical terminology. But it will probably be simply a harmonious restoration of all energies, structures, and forms of the human body. Plus, I want to talk to the developers - the Gariaevs, who are now creating unique devices, and also do sound therapy here using the "Gariaev Matrices." I hope that everything will be fine with us, we will succeed in a lot.

This will be a unique complex where you can come with your whole family. We will have separate houses for accommodation. We now have separate rooms for accommodation. We have a hostel system if you want to come cheaper, so as not to spend a lot of money on accommodation. Plus we have full board: three wonderful cooks, home cooking.

All this is already working. And this is only because the Project exists, and all the people who support it, who send it their gifts. I also thank everyone separately for this! And I say again that I will direct all my strength, all my energy, all my emotions to the creation of this unique esoteric, psychological, energetic, multifunctional Project, which is "Cassiopeia".

I would, of course, like to talk about a separate topic - about the Project masters that we have. They are also all unique people. And these unique people did not just end up in the Project, they came themselves and were truly drawn to the Light of the Project. And all of us together, in a large unique team, create events, educational programs, institutes, retreats - in general, a huge number of projects. And we try to do all of this officially, within the structure of the state, with possible registration of all aspects, so that we do not look like just schizophrenics, schizoterics.

And I am dedicating this year entirely to the grouping and creation of the basis of the Project, which has already spread to more than one country, more than one city. And this year I will probably add other Projects to the Project, which exist and bring Light, bring Love, bring benefits even without the name "Cassiopeia". That is, I declare this year the year of reconciliation - reconciliation of all esoteric, energetic, schizoteric, ufological and many other structures. I propose to unite and in a single Light, a single awareness, with a large base of information that the Project carries, to create a joint institute. And in this institute, everyone will choose a topic for research. We have a base, we have a Center, all that remains is to apply our talents, skills, opportunities, desires.

(answers a question from the chat) Serafima was with us, that’s a separate topic.

Therefore, I want to thank all the masters who are in the Project, who create coziness. Of course, our Project is very large, and people try to get into it, thinking that they are spiritually directed, spiritually attuned, but in fact they are not. And their desire is only to get to a large audience and somehow deceitfully try, even on the condition of donation, to lure money from people, to indicate some prices.

Yes, Serafima worked for us. She simply started to set prices for people, started not to meet the conditions of the Project. Plus, she started to extort money from people, intimidated them with Seraphim of Sarov, said that he would curse this person if he did not pay money in advance for her sessions. As the head of the Project, I had to make a very difficult decision - to withdraw Serafima from the Project. Everything was absolutely adequate: I will not tolerate people who think that they bring spirituality, but in fact only want to make money.

Making money is good. But the most important thing is the message, the information, the spirituality that we carry. Other people came to the Project and also left, also for financial reasons. Unfortunately, they call us a commercial project, and fortunately, we are partly one. We cannot develop without money, so commercial projects were created to help you get healthy, and at the same time, we could develop, build and create this Project with these funds.

But we must always remember that, following the original principles of spirituality only for donations, we will support the possibility of uniting all esotericists and all energy practitioners only on this condition. Why? Because how to make money is also a very big science, but at least it should not be done on people who are looking for spirituality and who do not have this money. All that I, as a leader, am trying to do in this Project is to give people the opportunity to evaluate the volume of knowledge, the spirituality that our masters transmit - without setting any prices, without cultivating any ego in the future in these masters, and at the same time giving the opportunity to receive this knowledge in an absolutely accessible form.

Of course, not many people understand that donation is not free. Sometimes you have to explain that you need to do energy exchange with the masters, with people, with the Project itself. Therefore, in principle, this year has passed - and thank God. Every morning I get up and thank all the Curators and Mentors who allowed us to create and grow such a unique, large Project last year. Moreover, it was created, indeed, on Love, absolutely in line with the legislative framework, on a legislative basis. We have the "Autonomous Non-Commercial Organization Health Center for Spiritual and Physical Development "Cassiopeia"." We have an officially registered Institute of Transpersonal Psychology, where Ilya Alexandrov with his project "Mental Healing" is also integrated into the structure of this institute.

I see that you support me. You know how important your support is to me. (reads) "Maxim, well done! Maxim, come on!" I'm not doing this for fame. I'm doing this for all of us. Why? Because when I found out that all of this exists, that all of this really exists, then I, already having some knowledge, experience in running YouTube channels, filming, tried to pass on a piece of this knowledge to you all through this diamond, through this emerald that shines. From it, bright knowledge is sown across various structures, across various worlds, across various civilizations.

I love that each of you, when you come to the retreat, gets the most of what we can give with our masters. I look at your smiles, I look at how you hug. I look at how you first shy away from hugs, then kiss at the end of the retreat. For me, this is a unique process.

We wanted to please you all and made this galactic calendar (shows). And now you can take it to your friends, tell them with a hint, in a humorous way, who the aliens are, where they live. Here is Kirkhiton - this is the main, first curator of Irina, this is our main curator of the Project - Mirakh Count. We made these calendars for you. They will cost five hundred rubles. Why? Because you can't make money on them. But to convey the atmosphere to you, to give your friends the opportunity to spend a whole year with aliens - that is possible.

And do not forget that we have products for you to improve your health. This is a group of bifidobacteria that completely cleanse the stomach, intestines, which works with your lymphatic system, with the circulatory system. These products completely adjust your internal harmonious balanced state, work with parasites. These are bifidobacteria, lactobacilli, Bulgarian bacillus, "Cassiopeia Energy" - a product unique in its essence, in its perception. It increases female libido dozens of times. That is, this is the energy of the plant cell completely with all the chemical elements, evaporated in a special nitrogen environment.

(reads) "How does UFO feel about winter swimming?" Excellent, because I myself winter swim, I myself swim in an ice hole on Epiphany. And, by the way, I advise everyone to toughen up, douse themselves in winter, go to the bathhouse. It's all great.

Today we have a unique broadcast. But before we go into it, I remembered one more amazing piece of information. Guys, we will have a new format retreat in the homeland of Yahweh, in Israel. We decided to go to this wonderful country, global for the history of the creation of religious egregors - Israel. And there we will organize an absolutely unique form of training, which will consist of two blocks.

The first block can be visited by those who are not very familiar with the Cassiopeia Project, and learn in this block what the structure of the universe is, how civilizations work, what the Higher Self is, how to establish contact with it. In the second block of this retreat in Israel, we will be in a separate villa, there will be 21 people, no more: it is impossible to take more into this group. And this group will constantly be personally with Irina Podzorova, with Ilya Alexandrov. I will sometimes interfere with your structures, give you various secret information on extraterrestrial civilizations and on work with energies, and plus Irina will give her practices.

Irina will work with each person in this group personally, and we will get to such nuances that we have never reached before. Plus, we will analyze the structure of energy, the structure of astral travel, and we will select a separate technique for each person in the second block to enter the Astral - so that it will be possible to harmoniously visit the Spiritual worlds, subtle civilizations, and work with curators and mentors through the Astral.

(reads) "Maxim has become younger." You know, I also feel that I have become younger. I started visiting our Center's equipment and realized that now we will even organize a weight loss marathon, only with me. I will dedicate this year to health personally and will organize a course "Weight Loss Marathon" on our "Cassiopeia Energy", on our bifidobacteria. I am sure that this marathon will bring us a lot of different emotions. We will do miracle yoga, energy practices, and also simple things - squats, push-ups. But we will do this in combination with our bifidobacteria and energy preparations. Irina does not know about this yet, she looks at me in surprise, like: what is happening? Will you participate with me, Irina? I launched such a cool marathon.

You know, I really like that Irina worked in the gym, went to it. And I am sure that she is a smart girl and does everything as it should be. And for those energies that she accepts, it is necessary to have exactly this form - to receive these flows, which completely harmoniously correspond to the huge amount of Love.

Today we invited the Spirit of a unique person to this unique broadcast. There are legends about his group. And we even watched one of these legends ourselves. Yes, Irina, did we watch Dyatlov?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: But we got another reality in relation to the information that is on the Internet. And we decided to conduct a unique broadcast personally with the Spirit of Igor Dyatlov. Irina, is he here, is he present next to us? Has he been listening to what I am saying from the very beginning?

Irina: Yes, of course.

Maxim: Irina, I greet you!

(to everyone) Let's meet at the retreat in Israel. It will be something unreal: a completely new format, a new program, new training! All those who have been to the first stage and to other health practices can attend. Everyone who wanted and could attend such an event can attend and learn from this retreat. A unique program, I am waiting for everyone at the retreat.

And now Irishka. Today she supports the Cassiopeia Project with a blue dress.

How good you look! Are you getting younger too, Irish?! It seems to me that the entire Cassiopeia Project is getting younger.

17:42 Greetings from Irina and the Spirit of Igor Dyatlov.

Irina: Good evening, dear friends! Today we have an interesting broadcast with the Spirit of the man who was embodied in Igor Dyatlov in his last life. And he told me something very interesting. He asked what date it is today on Earth according to our calendar? I told him that it is January 15th. And he told me that his birthday was January 13th.

Maxim: So two days ago he would have had a birthday on Earth?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Igor, I don’t know how to do this correctly; in our religious egregor, they no longer say to the dead: “Happy birthday!”

Irina: He smiles and says that it was his birthday on Earth.

Maxim: Excellent. Tell me, where are you now, what are you doing?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): I am now in the Spiritual World, on the fifteenth level. But for me this is a demotion.

I would like to greet everyone. Dear friends! I was very surprised when I received an offer to conduct a broadcast with living people, that is, with the physical world that I left. I was surprised: what interesting things can I tell? And the Spirit Guides who came to me said that people are very interested in what happened to me and to other people who were with me.

I was very surprised why people were interested in our group and not in other people who had found themselves in similar circumstances. Nevertheless, I myself became interested in this proposal and decided to tell you everything. Thank you for your attention to me and to what happened. For my consciousness, this incident has long been analyzed, as well as my exit from incarnation. I have made certain conclusions and want to tell you that now I am on the fifteenth level of the Spiritual World, but I incarnated from the twenty-fourth.

20:32 The spirit of Igor Dyatlov about his past incarnations.

Maxim: You incarnated from the twenty-fourth level?!

Irina: Yes, he shows me an Angel, an Archangel.

(The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov) Before my previous incarnation as Igor, I did not live on planet Earth.

Maxim: Never?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): I lived before. But my previous life before Igor was on the planet Burkhad, which is, in your opinion, Pikran. And there I was in a political structure that controls the life of one of the largest districts on the planet.

Maxim: Tell me please, when you were on the planet Pikran, were you already planning to incarnate on Earth?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): No, I planned it after I got into the Spiritual World on the twenty-fourth level.

Maxim: What attracted you to planet Earth in order to incarnate from the twenty-fourth level?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): Firstly, I was attracted by the opportunity to carry the Light of unconditional Love, which I learned in practice, managing one of the large districts of the planet Pikran. And the second opportunity was to bring to planet Earth information about the development of technology, which I learned on Pikran. But since my memory was blocked by my Angels-consultants, I had to express this knowledge not in the Pikran language of images and concepts, but already in the earthly one, learning anew the language, behavior, technical terms, etc. But already inside me was the knowledge of how to synthesize it.

22:43 The spirit of Igor Dyatlov about his hobbies on Earth.

Maxim: Please tell me, how did your passion for radio engineering develop into sports tourism?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): They went in parallel. I was into physics, and I read books, including fiction, when I was still a teenager. I was also into sports (shows skiing, skating, running, wrestling). And regarding tourism, it was not just tourism as viewing sights or some beautiful places, it was sports tourism, a separate sports discipline, which I followed, following the example of my older brother Slava.

Maxim: Did you have any other brothers and sisters besides Slava?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): There were two sisters. They were younger than me, and my brother was older.

Maxim: Why didn't you work in your profession?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): I was going to work in my profession, but I hadn't finished college yet, I needed practice.

Maxim: Do you remember the last hike you went on?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): Yes, I remember, I analyzed my exit from incarnation. And moreover, I met with other participants in the Spiritual world, we discussed all this together. I came to those to whom I could come, and some came to me, who turned out to be higher.

Maxim: And who turned out to be higher?

Irina: He shows me a girl - Lyudmila, Mila, she's on the eighteenth floor.

25:04 The spirit of Igor Dyatlov about his mother's premonitions and the purpose of his incarnation.

Maxim: They say that your mother tried to dissuade you from this trip.

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): Not to mention dissuade me. She constantly dissuaded me from such ventures.

Maxim: What kind of ideas?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): From long hikes. This was not my first hike. I have walked many times both in winter and in summer along rivers. She had already dissuaded me in the summer, six months before my exit from incarnation, from hiking along a mountain river, when we went down the water.

Maxim: We went down mountain rivers. I went on a hike too, I know.

Irina: He shows himself with some kind of pole.

(The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov) And my mother also tried to dissuade me: she was afraid for me.

Maxim: Did you have any danger signs before this hike?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): I also asked this question to my Angels-mentors and Angels-consultants, because I left the incarnation earlier than I planned to do before the incarnation. When I planned the term of life in the earthly body, I took for myself as much vital energy as would be enough for 72 earthly years. I considered that this was the optimal period to complete all the tasks that I came to complete.

Of course, for you, understanding why people incarnate from the twenty-fourth level is still unavailable until you reach this twenty-fourth level. There, for you, there will simply be Light, and it is not clear how one level of Light differs from another. But I know about this, that is why I incarnated - in order to show my example of Love and teach engineering communications and communication with each other using technology.

Maxim: What does it mean to communicate with each other using technology?

Irina: Negotiations with some devices.

Maxim: Have you developed any devices?

Irina: To communicate at a distance, like a telephone.

Maxim: Like a radio station?

Irina: There were no cell phones back then. Now I'll show him an image. Was this what you developed?

(The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov) I know what it is. But they weren't there yet.

27:46 The spirit of Igor Dyatlov about the purpose of the expedition.

Maxim: What was the purpose of the trip?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): Firstly, our goal was to see the nature of this region, because we had not been there yet, but had gone to other places. To see the nature, to communicate with local residents in the villages and to increase our sports activity, or skill - like career growth, only this is not a working career, but a hobby.

Maxim: I understand. Different ranks were given for mountain hikes.

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): It's just that when you're sitting during a break between classes at the institute, and when every winter day passes you by, and you realize that during this time you could have seen a lot, could have traveled...

(Irina) That is, it's like he can't sit at home. That's roughly the state he's showing me now.

29:24 The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov on the reasons for the decrease in his Spiritual level.

Maxim: Listen, people are wondering why the level dropped so much - from twenty-four to fifteen? What contributed to this? In short.

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): To put it very briefly - the absence of a conscious faith in God, in the Creator, that is, the denial of the divine principle. And my new vibrations, as you say, my new qualities correspond to the fifteenth level, that is, to an inventor who pays more attention to the material world than I paid more attention to the Spiritual world on Burkhad.

But I am not even upset that I got to the fifteenth level. This is my experience: a more materialistic perception than I had on Burkhad. Because I compare my perception on Burkhad to my body, the energy around me. I am not upset that I lowered my level to the fifteenth, because this is my experience of being in an earthly body, and this is my first experience of incarnation on Earth from this level.

I want to say that many Angels who incarnate from high levels on planets like Earth, where there is no upbringing in the spirit of Love and attention to their, as you say, Higher Self, many lower their level. And for them, this is also an experience.

Maxim: Thank you very much.

31:40 The spirit of Igor Dyatlov about a bad sign before the hike.

Maxim: Tell me, please, from the very beginning. So you woke up. What happened? How did you get ready? How many of you were there? Where did you go? What equipment did you take with you?

Irina: One question - and he will answer. He is in the Astral!

Maxim: How many people were there?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): You asked me about signs. And the answer to this question is connected with signs, but this became clear when I had already entered the Spiritual World.

The thing is that initially there were 10 of us: 8 men and 2 women. But at a certain point in our journey one person got sick (shows: his back hurt or something happened), and he left. And when he left, the thought flashed through my mind that this was not a good sign, that something would happen. Because there was such a sign that if someone returns halfway, it is bad luck for everyone else.

But then I discarded this thought: I returned - and returned. And this thought was, as I later understood, being in the Spiritual world, from my Higher Self, like intuition.

Maxim: How many days had you been traveling together when he left you?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): We hadn't even started the hike yet. We arrived at the village on skis. There was a man with us (shows a man who looks like a Yakut, with narrow eyes), who was on a horse. And the one who left, his name is Yuri (shows a guy), he left with him on a horse. And then we went on without him. You could say he left on the very first day.

34:03 The spirit of Igor Dyatlov about the mission, its preparation and beginning.

Maxim: So, where did you go?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): We took all our gear with us, which was packed in backpacks, there was a lot of it. And we went off-road, on skis, to one of the mountains of the Northern Urals. Along the way, when we stopped for the night, we pulled out a tent, which was made of two or even three (shows a large tent), and we spent the night in it. We also took a stove with us, which I assembled myself: I had been assembling all sorts of devices since I was 13.

Maxim: What is the oven for?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): So that you can warm up, dry your clothes and cook food.

Maxim: A universal stove? Wood-fired?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): Yes, you could put kindling there. We had axes with us, a saw - we had full gear. I always strictly monitored this, so that everyone had spare clothes, shoes, and so on. And I always checked that everyone had, for example, compasses. If we got lost or one of us fell behind the group and got lost, so that he could find his way out using the compass. All this was there, and I monitored it. And the stove itself had to be attached to a stick inside the tent, it was small, it had to be assembled.

We spent the night and then moved on. And we walked like that for three days. On the third day we went along the river. But since it was a mountain river, in some places the water came to the surface, and it was difficult to walk on skis. And we went along the bank of this river and began to climb up, higher.

At first it was relatively warm. And then we stopped, there was a strong wind in our faces, and we realized that it was hard for us to carry these backpacks: we took a lot of food and clothes with us. The girls especially started saying that it was hard for them to walk, and I realized that we had to do something about it. And we decided to hide some of the food and equipment (shows a bundle) in the snow - bury it and leave a mark there to pick it up on the way back.

Our goal was to walk about 350 kilometers in 16-18 days (I took the maximum). But this was with breaks, of course - we got 15-17 kilometers a day. If you went on skis...

Maxim: Yes, I understand. I've walked in the mountains, I know what it's like to walk.

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): You know that in reality it only seems that you can ski fast. Sometimes you go even slower than a pedestrian walks, it depends on the terrain.

Maxim: Yes, when you go up on skis, it’s very difficult.

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): And even more so if you drag it from behind.

Maxim: I know: I carried a 50-kilogram backpack with me. I know what it's like to climb a mountain with a backpack.

Irina: He smiles and says: “Well, now you understand me.”

Maxim: Absolutely.

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): I developed this route myself, and we had to climb two mountains - Otorten (Irina first hears - Orten, but in the chat she is corrected) and Oika. We had to make a circle and return back to the village from which we left. I gave 16-18 days for everything, and we took provisions for the same period. We decided to hide some of our equipment, so that we could go light, and then pick it up on the way back. Because our supplies would decrease during the hike.

Maxim: Well, yes.

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): And so on the way back we decided to pick it up. We spent the night in the place where we hid this part of our supplies from the backpacks, especially from the backpacks of the girls who were walking with us. You know, if you've walked with girls, how they are the bravest at first, and then they start whining.

Maxim: There were eight people on our expedition, two girls - former teachers. They didn't whine, they commanded.

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): If they are already, maybe, of age. And if they are girls, they start... Guys - they are more resilient anyway. I even told them: "You knew what you were getting into," - and they were offended. Even on a hike, when they were preparing food, they would quarrel among themselves.

Maxim: Especially when you are with the same number of people for a very long time, even if you know them well, it’s still a different atmosphere...

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): They were irritated by everything. There was a day when they were irritated by everything: the weather was bad, a snowstorm had started, and Lyuda even started to cry. I yelled at her because she was behaving badly: "If you want, everyone can go on, and I'll go back with you!" I couldn't leave her alone. Then she calmed down. And we decided to leave part of what we had there, spend the night, and move on. It was the first of February, and the next day was supposed to be Semyon's birthday, who was going with us.

Maxim: So. So what happened that night? Let's go into detail. Did you light a fire or what?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): It was on the thirty-first. I was writing a diary.

(Irina) He's showing now: they had some notebooks with them, notepads, even a needle to sew with. They were thoroughly prepared! Are they going to live there?

Maxim: Irina, you just don't know, you haven't been on any hikes. I know for sure: we have everything there.

Irina: Some notebooks, even medicines.

Maxim: There always should be. And all of this needs to be carried with you.

Irina: Yes, and they carried all this with them.

43:49 The spirit of Igor Dyatlov about the last day of the expedition.

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): On the thirty-first we left our gear, stayed overnight, and everything was fine. We ate: we had chocolate with us, some meat or smoked lard, quite a lot, crackers and tea. We brewed tea in paper bags and drank it.

We woke up on the morning of the first of February, and we had to move on. But I looked at the mood of the group, at all the guys: they weren't really getting ready - they were dragging out time to pack up the tent, to pack all the things. You know that if you put things in your backpack haphazardly, you won't be able to carry them far, you need to pack them so that they are convenient.

Maxim: Yes, everything folds up very conveniently, compactly, so that you can carry it. There are also special rain covers, where you cover yourself along with this backpack.

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): We woke up. Some were sitting and singing songs, writing, drawing, there were those who were talking. And I said: "It's time! We need to leave, because the winter day is short.

Maxim: Where did you set up camp, where was it located? Was the river far away?

Irina (Igor Dyatlov's Spirit): No, not far. Not on the shore itself, but not far from it (shows). We had to go further up.

Maxim: And who chose the stopping place?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): We all chose. I was the leader, but I just had a map - how to move.

Maxim: Did you know that this is a sacred mountain for the Mansi?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): There was no sacred mountain there, they had a sacred place, but further away. We were supposed to visit it, if you mean the prayer stone. We were supposed to visit it on the way, but it was supposed to happen later, we still had to go to it. And where we stopped, there were no people nearby, the Mansi, or any settlements.

We were getting ready, and in the end, after lunch, I started to urge everyone on. Semyon, Yuri and I had already started on the others... Not the Yuri who left, but the one who was with us. And we got ready after lunch. We went out on skis and started to climb up, but the weather got worse (shows): a snowstorm started - in our faces. And we had cameras, and someone else stopped, and we had to wait, and he took pictures. I also said: "Put the camera down, we need to get there already." That's where we had to take off these mittens. And we went.

Since we were slowly climbing, probably two or three hours had passed, maximum, and it was already getting dark. And the snowstorm had gotten stronger, and there was wind. And I decided to stop here for the night, because we had already lost the day, and it was getting dark. It was unclear where to go next... There was a forest below, and walking through a forest in the dark... you understand.

Maxim: Yes, the forest is generally impenetrable darkness.

48:51 The spirit of Igor Dyatlov on the choice of a place for setting up a camp.

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): And we came out on the mountain in the light, it wasn't big. We went down from it a little, about three hundred meters, and there was a quiet place that was blocked off.

Maxim: I understand, from the wind, so that it would be possible to set up camp.

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): Yes. I say: “Okay, we won’t go any further, because there’s a forest down there (shows Irina how the snow hits her face, and below there’s a dark strip – a forest). Why go there, there’ll be even more snow down there now, and we won’t be able to go through the forest. And we should have stopped there earlier to set up camp, so that we could see. Because if we go there now, we won’t see anything and we’ll trip over those branches: there are no roads there, there could be stumps, and intertwined branches, and fallen trunks.”

(Irina) He says that he decided to settle in an open place.

Maxim: I understand, it was not advisable to go down into the forest. You are above.

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): We used to stop in the forest, but it was always still daylight: so that we could inspect the place, pitch a tent in a place where it would be comfortable for you to lie down - so that it would not stand unevenly. And we always prepared firewood, but it was still light. And since I had already been on hikes, this was not my first hike in the mountains, including in winter, and most of the guys had gone, I suggested that they stay. They agreed with me, because in a lighter place it is light from the snow.

Maxim: You hid behind the snow, the snow did not sweep. Did you go down?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): Yes, about three hundred meters down. And it wasn't blowing as much there, there wasn't such a wind.

Maxim: So, what did you start doing?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): We went down to the other side so that it would be leeward. After all, at the mountain, if the wind blows from one side, then the other side is leeward. That is, where you can put up a tent in more comfortable or warm conditions, and so that it won’t blow there. But in any case, we were preparing to spend the night there, including in those conditions if the wind suddenly picks up. So that the tent wouldn’t be blown away, and there are strong winds there, we decided to bury it in the snow.

(Irina) He is now showing me how they dig. Among other things, they had this iron pick, only it was small. And they used it - there was a dense crust - to cut out such pieces and lift them up. They made this hole.

(The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov) And in this hole for warmth we first put skis, so that there would be a flat surface, then the tent, and then on the bottom - backpacks (shows how they take something like blankets out of the backpacks, only they are thin, like rugs, woolen). And we had a log: we wanted to light a stove in this tent in the evening, and the chimney went outside the tent so that the smoke could escape. We have an axe, we have a log, which we, by the way, brought with us, because there was no forest there.

I suggested starting a stove and heating up some tea, drinking, and warming up. After the snowstorm and after setting up the tent, our mittens and clothes were wet. But most of us said that we only had one log, although it was quite large, so let's leave it for the morning, and then drink some tea, and go after we've warmed up. That is, we decided to do it in the morning. I said, "Okay, but at least assemble the stove so that it's ready." But they reacted negatively to this suggestion, that is, they didn't assemble it. When we sat in this tent, closed the entrance, tied it with a cord, and since there was no wind, it became warmer.

And we decided that we would spend the night there, and wake up in the morning and go on. And we still hoped that the snow would stop, because according to the weather forecast, which I had found out before the hike, there should be sunny time without precipitation in those days. I chose the time when we would reach the weather forecast without any obstacles. And so we hoped that the snow would stop, and when the sun rose, we would go on. We had dinner - we ate lard, dried bread, there were sweets.

Maxim: Did you have onions and garlic with you?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): Yes, there was. Vegetables and cereals were with us (shows barley or oats).

Maxim: Tell me please, did you pitch one big tent, or did you have many tents in this one?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): It was sewn from two large ones, but there was only one. It was sewn from large ones so that everyone would fit in it, and it was quite spacious inside, there was space. We set it up, sticks were tied to the ropes.

Maxim: Pegs, yes.

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): We tied it up so it would stretch. And so the roof wouldn't sag inside, we put a wooden stick.

Maxim: Yes, in the middle.

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): Not quite in the middle, but more towards the back.

Then we all went to bed. But I had a custom where one person on duty stayed, watched the situation, and sometimes came out of the tent and saw what was going on. One of us stayed in the tent, and we had to change in turns. He had a watch, and I had a watch on my hands.

Everyone fell asleep. The thing is, when it's cold, and then when you lie together and it gets a little warmer, a person falls asleep quickly. Because it's a feature of the body - to recover in such conditions. You were walking, you were cold, and as soon as you lay down and warmed up a little, you feel sleepy. So we fell asleep pretty quickly. I think it wasn't even nine o'clock in the evening yet. Because when I looked at my watch for the last time, it was nine o'clock, somewhere around half past eight. And I didn't look anymore, I fell asleep.

59:42 The spirit of Igor Dyatlov on the tragedy and its causes.

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): And then... I don't know how much time passed, but then what happened was that I first heard some kind of muffled cry. It was dark, I opened my eyes and felt (I was lying on my back) that there was something on my chest. I opened my eyes: pitch darkness, I couldn't see anything, and I heard: some woman's voice was wheezing. That is, she wanted to scream, but she couldn't, as if she was being strangled. I recognized Lyudmila's voice, and she was saying: "Help!" At first I didn't understand where I was. I heard other people moaning and then I came to my senses and realized that something had fallen on the tent from above.

We started pushing upwards and turning it over so that we could sit up. At first it didn't work (shows shock). It's not clear who was shouting what. And then we realized that a large mass of snow had fallen on the tent. I said: "Find a knife!" Sasha had a knife in his pocket, and he started cutting the wall of the tent with it, because we couldn't get out of there: there was no entrance anymore, it was under the snow (shows Irina a wall that could be cut).

At first he couldn't do it because he was also lying crushed. But we crawled to him - Rustem, me, Nikolay - and started to press to free him a little, and he started to cut with his hand. And when he cut, snow started to fall on us. And we started to make holes with our hands and tear further.

Maxim: How deep did you fall asleep?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): Yes. First Alexander and Rustem climbed out, then they gave me their hands, and I climbed out too. I couldn't estimate how much then, but I think there was at least a meter of snow.

And then I realized that something was wrong with Rustem, who had climbed out with Alexander. He was holding his head and was beside himself, that is, he didn’t understand where to go, what to do. He stopped, I came up to him and asked: “What’s wrong with you?” And he said that his head hurt really badly. I looked at him and saw that some object or stone had hit him on the head when it all fell.

I saw that he had a bruise or something there - where his eye was and on his forehead. And his eyes were such that he didn't understand where he was. He sat down on the cards and said that he felt bad. And then the other guys started saying that Nikolai, who was in the tent, also felt bad and couldn't walk on his own. I turned around - and I was in shock. I didn't know what to do, because when we got out, the snow fell inside.

Maxim: Did everyone get out?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): We all got out. We pulled Nikolai out. He was conscious, but he couldn't get up on his own. He opened his eyes and then closed them.

Maxim: So you pulled almost everyone out through this hole?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): The rest got out themselves. Some were simply helped by the arms. And this one was pulled out by the legs and arms. And when we all got out, I had a flashlight in my pocket, because I left it when we spent the night: you never know, maybe we need to go out somewhere...

Maxim: Was it night?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): It was dark and snowing. When we went out, we found ourselves in the snow. Later I looked at my watch: it was about midnight, eleven thirty approximately.

Maxim: And did you determine where the snow fell from?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): From above. I looked up: before, when we were digging, there was a snowdrift, but then it was no longer there.

Maxim: A snowdrift slid down on you, right?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): Yes, when we were digging, there was a snowdrift on top, I remembered. It protected from the wind, by the way.

Maxim: And this snowdrift moved?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): I looked up and shone a flashlight - I had a small one, battery-powered. I turned it on and started shining it. At first I couldn't see anything, then I shone it on the mountain and saw that there was a hole instead of a hill. And there was a fair amount of snow there!

We tried to get something out of the tent, but it was crushed. And the snow was so packed, like chunks of ice. And we realized that we had to first make a fire, and escort those two who were wounded but still alive down there. And especially when we were standing there, there was a wind, and we couldn't dig it out without gloves.

Maxim: You were undressed, then?

Irina: What do you mean undressed?

Maxim: What were you wearing when you left the tent?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): I had a jacket, two sweaters and two pants on. But I went to bed without shoes and, accordingly, they were somewhere there. The only thing I found: when I was throwing away the snow, I saw one woolen sock on the surface, and I put it on. Otherwise, I had simple socks. There was nothing on my head, just a jacket.

Maxim: Did anyone have bone fractures?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): I don't know. At least Nikolai's head was damaged. Because when I examined him and asked: "What hurts you?" - he didn't say anything. Then Semyon said that he was hit on the head, and he was in a coma or something like that.

1:09:42 The spirit of Igor Dyatlov on the steps to save the group.

Maxim: What happened next?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): We went down.

Maxim: To the river or to the forest?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): We went into the forest to make a fire. Because it was dark and there was nowhere to go. Everyone went ahead, and I walked a little behind with Rustem, who was feeling unwell. I helped him walk, he walked on his own, but he was unsteady, and I held him.

Then we moved away a little. There was a snowstorm. Those who went ahead walked faster. I heard screams, because someone fell there, someone rolled somewhere, because the rocks there were slippery and there was no snow on them. But I only heard this, I did not see them anymore.

Maxim: So they slipped on the rocks and fell?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): Not all, I heard some. I even told him: “Don’t rush, we’ll get there soon, make a fire and then we’ll think about what to do. There are a lot of trees there, we have matches, and we’ll be able to hold out until the morning. Because when it’s warm, we’ll be able to throw dry trees. And in any case, when it’s morning, we’ll all go together. And maybe the wind will die down, and we’ll find some sticks or something there that we can use to push the snow away.” Otherwise, we just had bare hands.

1:11:40 The spirit of Igor Dyatlov about his exit from incarnation.

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): We were walking with Rustem, who was feeling unwell. We walked down, maybe four hundred meters. Of course, I didn’t measure anything. But eventually Rustem – he was walking a little ahead of me – stopped and fell. And when I leaned over to him, I realized that he was breathing, that he was alive, but unconscious and wouldn’t be able to walk. What could I do? I was in a very depressed state of despondency and sadness. First, I grabbed him by the collar and tried to drag him, but you can’t drag much with fingers that don’t bend in the wind. And I decided to follow the others. I saw that a small fire was already burning there, they were starting it. I was glad that they had succeeded. And I decided to reach them, to call the guys for help and help drag him to the fire. He would freeze here in an hour or two.

I patted him on the cheeks - no reaction. He was alive, I was checking his pulse, and I was calling him. Then I looked around and thought: "Will I find this place?" And then I thought: "But I'll go now, I'll quickly reach ours." There were about four hundred meters to the forest, maybe further in the darkness. I thought: "I'll get there in 10-15 minutes, and then we'll come back along our own tracks with others. It won't be covered so quickly. No matter what kind of blizzard there is, you'll still be able to see." I went down alone.

And when I almost reached the cedar - I was walking barefoot - I realized that I couldn't feel my feet even when I stepped on the snow. I was out of breath, short of breath, I couldn't breathe. I thought, I remember this thought: "I'm walking too fast. I'll sit in the snow for five minutes and then move on. I just need to catch my breath." I sat down on the snow, and after that my eyes closed, and I realized that I couldn't open them. I said to myself: "Get up!" But when I made a dash forward, stood up, I saw only snow and my body below.

Maxim: So you fell asleep in the snow with frostbitten feet.

Irina: He's showing me now how he's trying to get up.

(The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov) "I'll sit for a while now, then I'll go further to the people." I saw the fire, and it was close, and I even heard shouts, someone was calling me. And I said: "I'll go now." And when I wanted to get up, I realized that I couldn't open my eyes: they just wouldn't open, and my whole body was relaxed.

(Irina) He is now simply conveying feelings to me.

1:16:30 The spirit of Igor Dyatlov about the fate of other participants in the expedition.

Maxim: Tell me please, did you meet those who were at the fire in the Spiritual World?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): Yes, but not with everyone. I met with Semyon, with Lyudmila, who is on level 18, and with Rustem, because I needed to understand why he fell.

Maxim: We have a huge number of questions about your group: why were the faces yellow, why were the tongues torn out, why were the legs burnt?

Irina: Who? He didn't have burnt legs, he didn't reach the fire. As far as I understand him now.

Maxim: So it turns out you didn’t go far from the tent?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): Meters, maybe five hundred, that’s about how many steps I took.

Maxim: So there is nothing supernatural about what they write about your situation - a UFO flew in, a yeti scared you, some secret facility for testing some bombs?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): It would be wiser to hide from UFOs and yetis in a tent, and not in the cold.

Maxim: It would have been wiser to hide, yes.

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): Take, for example, the fact that we had axes there. We didn't have guns, but we did have axes and knives. If someone had attacked us, we would have barricaded ourselves in any case.

Maxim: Rustem, it turns out that he fell into the snow with a hematoma on his face and lay unconscious, right?

Irina: Yes, he is now showing how he was leading him, and he fell.

Maxim: And Zinaida Alekseevna Kolmogorova? Her face was badly damaged and her arms were broken. What happened to her?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): Zina went down with everyone else when everyone else left in groups. Yura and Georgy carried Nikolai, they took turns. At least, when they came out, they carried him, I also told them: "Take turns." He couldn't walk, they put him on their backs.

Maxim: Yura and Georgy were terribly ripped apart. What made them so frightened and ripped apart, you don't know?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): They were walking away from the tent, carrying Kolya down. And when I saw a fire there, I realized that they had carried him. By the way, many had matches in their pockets. I was still worried whether anyone had taken the matches. But it means they were there when I saw the light, the fire.

Maxim: We have a recording that Rustem’s skull was fractured, his body was scratched.

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): It wasn’t visible because it was just a bruise, and at first it went away on its own.

Maxim: Nikolai's head is crushed, his skull is broken from external injuries. We have information.

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): He was already unconscious. But it was not visible externally either.

Maxim: They left him there?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): Two people carried him down.

Maxim: Okay, got it.

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): No one left anyone. He was alive too. Before carrying him, naturally, they first checked whether he was a corpse or not. No, he had a pulse. Of course, we wouldn't have left a living person.

Maxim: Could there have been traces of various reactive agents on your clothes in the mountains?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): Of course they could.

Maxim: There were traces of radiation on your clothes.

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): In those years, the government conducted various tests of all kinds of missiles, including atomic bombs. Usually, this was far from people. Maybe something remained on the soil, where we have not walked.

Maxim: Did you go to where these missiles were tested?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): We didn't know where they were conducted, and radiation remains for a long time. We walked in different deserted places. We slept there, climbed on rocks, and swam in water - you never know what could have stuck to your clothes.

Maxim: Why do you think your case was classified?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): What do I think? I think that this case was kept secret because, perhaps, someone was blamed for our death - mine and the death of other members of the group. There were prison colonies relatively close by, maybe they were blamed and did not want to raise a fuss.

(Irina) He says that perhaps someone was accused, because they won’t just keep it classified.

Maxim: In the last picture by Georgy Alekseevich Krivonischenko there is some bright object moving against a dark background. Have you seen any bright objects moving against a dark background?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): No, I don't know, maybe it was a flashlight that someone was shining when they were taking the photo. We had flashlights, maybe it was shining for someone, and they took the photo at that moment.

Maxim: It turns out that, according to your information, some military tests could have been conducted somewhere nearby, right?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): Maybe they did, but we didn't see anything. It could have been in the summer, and the radiation could have remained. It even remains for several years.

1:22:55 The spirit of Igor Dyatlov on the spiritual reason for leaving incarnation.

Maxim: And what is the spiritual reason for everything that happened?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): I learned the spiritual reason for my exit from incarnation ahead of time, even before the time when I would have started active work. The exit was not because my Mentors brought me out of incarnation, no, they did not do that. I asked my Angel-Mentors why I left incarnation, and they answered me unequivocally that it was because of improper handling of my physical body. That is, I did not take into account all the risks, dangers that await a person in winter on such journeys. That is, it was my decision.

Maxim: You know, this whole situation, this story is shrouded in mysteries, secrets. For some reason, the tops of the fir trees were charred in the place where you were found.

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): Maybe something fell there, but we didn't see anything. As I said, it could have been later or even earlier.

Maxim: Was the snow coming from somewhere above, from some hillock, or was it an avalanche?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): It wasn’t an avalanche - a piece, it didn’t go any further, but an avalanche goes down.

Maxim: He just moved out, then?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): It wasn't an avalanche. We thought it was at first.

Maxim: Didn't it move from where the stove was?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): It didn't burn, we didn't light it, we wanted to, but we didn't. When the snow fell, some people were shouting: "Avalanche!" - I heard it. But when we got out... Firstly, if it had been an avalanche, we wouldn't have gotten out, it would have swept us down. Then, when I realized that the snow wasn't moving under my feet, I said: "It's not sliding down any further, what kind of avalanche is that?" It was just a small snowdrift that slid down. For some reason it was dense on the inside - loose on the outside, but dense on the inside.

I thought about it later, analyzed it: I used to go on such hikes, why did it move? When I got to the Spiritual World, because there was no time to think there. While I was still in this body, I thought only about how to save myself and help my comrades. And when I got to the Spiritual World, I thought about what had happened, and also asked my Guardian Angel. And I came to the conclusion that when we pitched the tent, the snow that lay on top no longer had such support. And there was a strong wind higher up, it blew straight onto the snowdrift, and more snow fell there.

Maxim: Why didn’t you hand in your route book?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): I didn’t think it was important, I just said in words when I would come, many did that.

Maxim: Zina was the one lying closest to the tent, not Rustik. Why did they abandon Zina?

Irina: Who abandoned Zina?

Maxim: They write, the question is this.

Irina: Closest to what?

Maxim: I see. Guys, please write, the closest to what? Do you know that a pass is named after you?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): I heard about it, but I was very surprised by it. (Irina) Now I read what is written there, and he heard my thoughts. It is written there that the ice crust slid down and, apparently, very heavy, crushed them. Do you agree with this?

(The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov) There was not only a crust, that is, not a superficial crust, but a large layer. If it had been just loose snow, we would have scattered it with our hands, but there were some frozen lumps of snow, like ice.

1:27:37 The spirit of Igor Dyatlov about the meeting in the Spiritual World and the fate of his comrades.

Maxim: Please tell me how the others died, you communicated with them, right?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): Yes, I talked to them, I asked them about it, and they told me, showed me images. I asked them: "Why weren't you saved? Did you ask for help, and did you manage to get out somewhere, maybe, or hold out until the morning?" But they all told me that no one held out until the morning, or even until the next.

Maxim: Why?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): They told me that Zina saw that Rustem and I were gone, and went to see where we were, and never came back. And the others lit a fire and started to saw a birch tree from under the snow (shows a small tree, bent over and covered with snow). They sawed with a knife, because they didn’t have an axe. But it didn’t burn well, because it was wet, in the snow, and everything went out. They stopped under a big tree, under a big cedar, and stripped off the bark and lower branches. They burned well, because there was no snow there, especially since it was a conifer. And when they tried to put what was under the snow, it reduced the fire.

They showed me this in images. And then they decided that they would make a wooden shelf with a knife.

Maxim: Zina was the closest to the tent. She most likely went to the tent.

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): They told me that she went to look for us, to look and scream. They heard her screaming: "Igor, Rustem!" - and she went there. But then they didn't wait for her. And no one went there: no one had the strength, they thought how to survive until the morning. Of course, they were worried about her, they told me, and Lyudmila told me that they stopped her: "Don't go!" But she said: "I'll be right back," - and went, because she was worried specifically about me.

Maxim: How did everything happen next for them, why did they die?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): They decided to make sticks out of trees and tie them together with threads from clothes, so that they could arrange something to sit on and put clothes there. And Semyon told me in the Spiritual World that they found a depression in which there was relatively little snow, like a ravine. And they all brought these sticks there and tied them together so that they could sit. Semyon and Alexander also put the wounded Nikolai there. He was still unconscious, but they no longer checked whether he was alive or not, they just put him there. It was already warmer there, because there was no wind and it was calm.

Then they told me that Lyudmila went to the fire. It wasn't far - a few minutes' walk. She went to the fire to call those who were keeping the fire going: two were still there. And when she came, she saw that they were already unconscious, because they too had fallen asleep. As she told me in the Spiritual World, they were still alive, but they no longer responded to her attempts to wake them up or do anything. She quickly went and told Semyon about it, he went back with her. They stayed there and realized that they couldn't be helped, and decided to sit in that ravine until the morning, and then try to get to the tent and dig it all out.

They were very upset that I, Rustem, Zina were not there, and these two had already practically lost their lives. And Sasha suggested: "Let's at least take their clothes so that we ourselves can last until the morning." The remains that they had. But it was impossible to take them off, because they could not turn. Their limbs were...

Maxim: I understand, frozen.

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): And then they decided to cut. I repeat that they told me this already in the Spiritual World, showed me what happened. And then they returned back, and since they did not have a flashlight, they stepped past this ravine, past the path into the snow, and it fell under them. Alexander was already on this platform - and under Lyudmila, and under Semyon - and they fell down, and all this snow fell down. And they were simply crushed there, that is, instantly, they did not freeze. It was faster.

Maxim: I understand, Igor, thank you very much.

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): They showed me this picture when I asked them. I didn't find out the details, they showed me images.

Maxim: I understand. Thank you very much! Thank you for your attention.

1:35:45 Advice to tourists from the Spirit of Igor Dyatlov.

Maxim: Please tell me what you would like to say to all tourists who go to the mountains, or to all people on this planet?

Irina (The Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): I would recommend tourists to take communication devices with them. Especially since you already have this opportunity. I know that there are technologies on Earth that did not exist back then. It is imperative to monitor the serviceability of communication devices. And it is imperative to check the health and physical capabilities of everyone who is going with you. Because if someone who can easily get sick or run out of strength goes with you, he will simply lie as a heavy burden on everyone's shoulders, and everyone will have to drag him, and it will be very difficult. Therefore, such things need to be checked right up to the examination by doctors.

1:36:47 The spirit of Igor Dyatlov about his identification.

Maxim: Igor, one more question. How can you tell that it really was you?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): How can you verify that it was me? I know that the case was being investigated because my mother was telling me about it back then. The connection was through a dream, and I read from her that the case was being actively investigated, and there were certain materials that were later described. And if they are available to you, you can get them, read what is written there, and compare them with my story.

Maxim: Thank you very much. Thank you for being here. Dear friends, if you like our broadcasts, please like them. Don't forget to subscribe to our channel so you don't miss a video. And if you're ready to do a live broadcast with Vladimir Volfovich Zhirinovsky, be sure to like this video. And be sure to leave a comment with whom else you'd like us to do a live broadcast with.

Irina: And he also tells me that he doesn’t remember the last 10-15 minutes before the death of his physical body very well, because when his Spirit left the body, he captured these minutes from the brain’s memory only in the most general form, so as not to lower the vibrations before leaving the incarnation.

Maxim: Excellent.

(reads chat) "Princess Diana." We also had plans to chat, to find out a really real story.

"Michael Jackson."

Irina: I thank you, Igor!

Maxim: Igor, thank you very much!

1:38:50 The spirit of Igor Dyatlov about plans for incarnation.

Maxim: By the way, are you planning to incarnate on planet Earth?

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): Yes, I have already thought about incarnating on planet Earth. My Angels-consultants recommend that I incarnate here. Because I did not have time to fulfill my task, did not have time to do anything because I treated my body like that, did not observe the rules of caution. And by the way, I learned in the Spiritual World that I had several more dangers associated with hikes, even earlier. That is, I could have left the incarnation even earlier. I would like to incarnate.

Maxim: We will wait for you here, on this planet.

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): Thank you! I will pass it on to all the guys - I will try to get around to all the guys who were with me, if they themselves want to meet. Because Zinaida, when I wanted to meet her (she is on the 16th level) and asked her to come down, passed it on through another Spirit who came down, who knows her, that she cannot remember this yet, she is busy with something else.

Maxim: What a serious Zinaida!

Irina (Spirit of Igor Dyatlov): I wanted to ask her where she went, why she went looking for me and got separated from the group. She didn't want to. Maybe she just doesn't want to remember it. I don't know what her last minutes were like - it could be different.

Maxim: Well, dear friends, I want to thank you all once again for being with us on the broadcasts.

Irina: Igor says that he will meet with those members of the group who agree to meet, and will tell them that you asked questions, and that you - all people on Earth - are very sorry about this tragedy and wish all of them and him bright incarnations.

Maxim: Guys, write under this broadcast - right here, in the comments. When the video is transformed, write questions to Zhirinovsky. I will give a special task to our volunteers - the guys who will collect questions for Zhirinovsky from this broadcast. Then, when the broadcast is over, you can write your question. And we will form a group of cool questions specifically for Vladimir Volfovich. I think it will be very interesting. He gave the go-ahead to meet, and I think it will be a very hot broadcast - judging by the energy that gave the go-ahead.

Irina: Thank you too!

Maxim: We are waiting for you at the retreat in Israel - the homeland of Yahweh! Under this video there is a link to sign up for the retreat - for two stages of a completely new, unique retreat, where those who have already been with us can attend the first part, and only selected esotericists, 21 people, who will be initiated into all the sacred energies and nuances of the structure of our Project, can attend the second part.

Irina: Spirit of Igor, we thank you and send you the Light of our Love! Thank you for the story, for these images that you sent. Of course, they are hard to watch, but in any case, thank you!

Maxim: Yes, guys, thank you all. Watch the recordings under the broadcasts, subscribe to the channel. There is everything under the broadcast - probiotics, and "Cassiopeia Energy", and various "goodies", and even exits to meditation. Bye everyone! Until next time!

January 15, 2023

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, with subtle-material civilizations and with the Spiritual world;

Maxim Rusan - head of the CASSIOPEIA Project and the Center for Spiritual and Physical Development;

The disembodied spirit of Igor Dyatlov - a pass in the Northern Urals is named after him.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/o-sotvorenii-solnca-i-planet
On the creation of the Sun and planets

Each planet has its own holiday (in astrology, the Sun is also a planet). For the Sun, it is June 21, or more precisely, from the 20th to the 23rd. These three days are the strongest days of the year. The strongest precisely from the point of view of being filled with solar energies.

The Sun gives Life to everything. The Sun is the most powerful energy, thanks to which the Earth exists. The Sun is millions of times larger than the Earth. It is located at a distance of 150 million kilometers from the Earth.

The Sun is not the largest star in the Galaxy. It is called a yellow dwarf. It was formed about 12 billion years ago. How do stars form? First, elements must form for a star to emerge.

For this, plasmoids must work hard to create hydrogen. This is the very first element in the physical Universe. Let me remind you that to create one hydrogen atom, 1600 quanta must be added together in a certain sequence.

In order to create a star, many, many billions of such atoms are needed, this number is very large.

You know very well that the Sun is part of the Galaxy. Some stars in the Galaxy have planets, and some do not. Not all stars have planets. There are so-called solitary stars that do not have planets or even dust clouds around them. Do you know why? Because they have nothing to form from yet. Stars exist for some time, and then cease to exist. Figuratively speaking, they are born, grow, age, and die.

A dust cloud remains in the place of a dead star. During its aging, a star contracts and expands several times, each time leaving behind a dust cloud, as elements are formed in the depths of the star. This is a simple thermonuclear reaction: from hydrogen - helium, from helium - oxygen, etc., this is a chain of elements that cannot form outside the star.

So, to create a planet like Earth, you first need to create an element for it in a dust cloud. And for this, it is necessary that in its place there first be another star, near which there will be no planet. Or in some other place in the system, they move.

So, first the plasmoids form a multitude of hydrogen atoms, which make up the so-called interstellar dust. And gradually they act on the gravitational field of space with their energetic etheric fields, and this dust begins to compress. It compresses so much that the laws of gravity begin to manifest there, and such a ball is obtained. A dark, dense dust ball. The plasmoids act on it so that it becomes denser and denser. These are the Star Creators.

Thermonuclear reactions begin inside this sphere due to high pressure and temperature growth. And then, as soon as this fire flares up, it already begins to support itself. Part of the energy that comes from this star, transformed through etheric, torsion fields, lepton fields, and so on, goes to feed the plasmoids themselves. And part of the energy is emitted into space, in the form of photons, heat, light, and so on. That is, those quanta that are emitted into space. Moreover, the hydrogen atoms themselves, they make up atoms of other elements when they give off this energy.

It turns out that the star contracts and decompresses several times, and finally, depending on its mass (approximately up to two solar masses), it turns into a tiny little star, a white dwarf. And around it, a cloud forms - a planetary nebula. You may have seen such photographs from space, when in the center there is such a small white dot, glowing, and around it a beautiful nebula of different colors, because it can be illuminated from different angles. This is the creation of plasmoids.

This planetary nebula, dear friends, is the cradle of planets similar to our Earth, which already contain in one form or another the elements necessary, including for the creation of organic life, starting from the simplest microbes and ending, for example, with such an animal as an elephant or a blue whale. And our bodies consist of the same elements as theirs. This suggests that each of our atoms was once in the depths of a star. We consist of stellar matter. We are little stars.

Our scientists know this information, they just put the emphasis differently. Within the framework of astronomy, there is such a science as cosmogony. From two words - kosmo, that is, space and gonia - this is birth, the birth of space, space objects. There are books, our earthly scientists describe this process in sufficient detail. They just do not say "plasmoids", they say "forces of nature". I put a little different emphasis, I call these forces intelligent. They call them random. That is the whole difference. But the information is the same.

From the theoretical part of training at the third level of the School of Contactees in Voronezh.

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations.

June 2024

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/rekomendacii-v-den-letnego-solncestoyaniya
Recommendations for the Summer Solstice

On the day of the solstice, it is good to conduct meditations about the Sun. For example, a journey into the Sun. If you feel that there is little light in your home, you can conduct a ritual of cleansing the room of negativity on the day of the summer solstice or on any Sunday (this day is an energetic copy of that day).

To do this, you need to take a yellow candle (the candle flame also symbolizes the Sun). You can light the candle and walk around your entire house clockwise. When you walk, look at the candle flame, say

> I invite the energies of the Sun into my home. I ask the energies of the Sun to dispel the darkness in my home. I ask the Sun to fill my home with happiness, abundance and health.

You can say some of your requests. It is better to do this, of course, alone, or in the presence of people who are aware of what is happening and will not interfere with their negative thought forms.

You can go around each room like this. When you have gone around them all, put out the fire without blowing on it, and what is left, you must immediately take out of your house and get rid of it, that is, either bury it in the ground or wrap it in paper and throw it in the trash. Because what is left of the candle will absorb all the negativity. If you only have a white candle, then it is acceptable to wrap it in yellow paper.

Those who wear gold jewelry can charge it on the day of the Sun. Because gold is the metal that contains the most vibrations of the Sun. In Latin, the word for gold is "Aurum". Does this word remind you of anything? Aura. In Greek, gold was called "Chrysos". Close to the word "Christ".

If you wear a yellow item on the day of the Sun, you will attract the energies of the Sun into your aura and will strengthen the energy of this day for you. And you will strengthen it even more if you eat the food of the Sun.

The more of it you eat on this day, the more the Sun will help you, the more it will affect you. This applies to both the summer solstice and Sunday. The food of the Sun is cereals, yellow vegetables and fruits (bananas, oranges, melons, for example) and honey.

It would be good to replace sugar with honey on this day. By the way, any honey of any color, the substance honey is important. When you take it, before putting it in your mouth, say:

> I thank all the souls of the bees who collected it. I thank the Sun who generated energy for the flowers for this honey. I thank the beekeeper who worked on this honey, I send them the Light of my Love.

And you will see that when you eat it, in addition to physical sweetness, you will also receive spiritual energy. Your personal power will be greater. The more personal power you have, the more luck you have. Remember: energy = luck . The more energy you have, the luckier you are in life.

And also, on the day of the Sun it is very good to work on the development of the Manipura chakra. It is not by chance that this place is called the Solar Plexus. For example, on this day it is good to make a work plan. Not to work, but to make a plan, the Sun itself enhances creative energies.

On the day of the Sun, essential oils of lemon, orange and lemon balm are good.

A sunny mood is joy. Therefore, on the day of the summer solstice, it is necessary to dress in bright clothes, where there will be yellow, greet the Sun and devote the whole day to joy. On this day, it is forbidden, at least not recommended, to quarrel, to be in a sad mood. This is a day of joy. That is why in many countries Sunday is a day off. Day off, of course, comes from the word "exit". Exit from the ordinary world in which people work, from the material. Exit to another state of consciousness, a sunny state of consciousness, divine.

From the theoretical part of training at the third level of the School of Contactees in Voronezh.

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations.

June 2024

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/vzaimodejstvie-zhivotnyh-s-astralnym-mirom
Interaction of animals with the astral world

Animals interact with the astral world in such a way that they feel those beings that are in the astral world, they see them. But they do not see them with their physical eyes, but feel them instinctively, rather a presence. Some species of animals can see this with their Soul.

Animals have a Soul, and this Soul can be very sensitive to the phenomena of the astral world. Just as the physical body of an animal sees the physical world, so too the Soul can observe the astral world around it through the physical shell. But there are differences.

If we take the Soul of animals specifically, they do not have the same structure as humans, for example, the Higher Self. The entire animal Soul, either single or group, is fully incarnated into the body. But at the same time, it maintains a connection with the plasmoid (or group of plasmoids) that created it, or that manages its incarnation. Because the creator of its Soul can pass it on to another, to the one who manages the incarnations of a particular species of animals, or the incarnations of animals in a particular territory, and usually this is a group of plasmoids. Some, for example, are responsible for microorganisms, others for predators, and others for herbivores.

All these plasmoids influence the behavior of animals. They can strengthen this or that instinct or reduce it, and thus it is considered that the animal itself has no choice. It has no karma, responsibility, and so on. It is simply a set of instinctive programs plus feelings, plus emotions, plus instinctive consciousness, instinctive reason, which chooses between a more or less strong instinctive program, and this entire structure is embodied in the body.

Naturally, an animal also has its own aura. It has energy centers, but they are much simpler in structure than those of humans, and manifest themselves in a completely different way.

As for their disembodiment, each animal Soul has a limited number of incarnations. However, there may be more or fewer incarnations even for the same animal species. Everything depends specifically on the plasmoids that created the Soul. During direct disembodiment of an animal, if its Soul is subject to incarnation, it is in the Astral all the time between incarnations, but not in the world of disembodied Spirits. It is located, if we mean Earth, usually on the first, second or third floor of the astral world.

Cats, dogs, all mammals, if we take animals, they very often contact plasmoid civilizations, and not only with those who created their Soul and who incarnated them. We can say that these are their Guardian Angels, these are subtle beings, the same Spirits incarnated in subtle bodies. But they can also often contact the Spirit of the house or the Spirit of the place where this animal is, because according to the instincts that are embedded in their Souls, they have a very high sensitivity to the subtle worlds.

Timecode: 57:08, #530 Astral world. Earth-Universe. Path of the disembodied Soul. Hall of Memory. 7 floors of the Astral. Akasha.

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in the astral world and its interactions with the material world, and the curator of the Cassiopeia Project.

June 2024

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/astralnyj-mir-zemlya-vselennaya-put-razvoploshchen
#530 Astral World. Earth-Universe. Path of the Disembodied Soul. Hall of Memory. 7 Floors of the Astral. Akasha.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=P1oP7rekLhE

00:00 Start of the video. Introduction of the participants and the conference topic.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today with us are LiShioni from the planet Shimor, a specialist in astral interactions, and Elena. Hello, Elena!

Elena: Good afternoon, plenipotentiary representative of the space community, and also our esteemed universal translator!

Irina: Thank you. So, what is our conference about today? Tell us.

Elena: Today we would like to highlight such an important issue for all earthlings as our very modest idea of what the astral worlds are, not only of our Earth, but of the Universe as a whole.

We would like to shed light on this issue more systematically, in order to get to know more deeply what this wonderful world is that we encounter every day, falling asleep and waking up every morning in our material world.

Every earthling goes through the experience, some people do it consciously, some don't. Some people can go to the Astral, like Irina, for example, at any time of the day or night, but not everyone has this quality. We may need to learn these wonderful journeys. So, it seems to me that it would be interesting to get acquainted with this with the help of a specialist who is deeply involved in this and is a real specialist in this field. We would like to hear his answers to our questions.

Irina: Good. This is LiShioni speaking.

(LiShioni) Yes, hello, I am ready to answer questions about the astral world.

Elena: I would like to make a small prelude. Before preparing for this conference, I looked at the materials that are in many conferences that Irina conducted with various representatives of the material worlds of our Motherland, and not only.

So, Irina in one of her conferences, I think it was the 59th, told us, earthlings, that, having visited the Astral, she felt that she had always lived and would always exist in this Universe. This is a wonderful beginning, and I decided to take it as a kind of epigraph for our conference, so that people would understand how important this is, and how important it is to feel this state - that we have always lived, and will always exist, as Irina, who passed all these feelings through herself, rightly said.

03:52 Definition of the concept "astral world".

Elena: My first question to the respected LiShioni: can he give some classical, from the point of view of the Interstellar Union, definition of the concept of the “astral world”?

Irina (LiShioni): The Astral World is a region of the Spiritual World that is located between the material world and the world of non-embodied Spirits. It is an intermediate region between what you, earthlings, call the Spiritual World, where non-embodied Spirits and Spirits, parts of which are in embodiment, live, and the material world.

Many teachings call the Astral a subtle-material world, but this is only because the astral world penetrates every material world. It seems to permeate the material world at all levels of density, as light permeates a room, but the light itself is not a room. This is approximately the relationship between the astral and material worlds.

Elena: Okay, we’ll try to figure this out over time.

05:22 Hierarchs of the astral worlds. The system of egregors.

Elena: The second question is this: if in our Spiritual Universe everything is hierarchical and ordered, then does such a concept exist in the Cosmos as the Great Hierarch of the astral worlds of the Universe, or, let's say, the corresponding Hierarchs of the astral worlds of the planets? If so, then does the Earth have such a hierarch, and can we hear his name, this senior hierarch?

Irina (LiShioni): The word "astral world" itself appeared on Earth relatively recently. Previously, all these worlds were called Spiritual worlds. The word "Astral" was introduced by some esotericists, who were then called figures of occult teachings. The words "astral world" in theosophy, for example, denote the stellar sphere, because "astro" in Greek means "star". "Astral world" denoted the world of fixed stars, one of the spheres of the Universe, which existed in the view of theosophists.

As for the Hierarchs of the astral world, for example, the leaders of egregors can be called such. Egregors, as energy-informational formations created by embodied Spirits, are in the astral world and make up the astral atmosphere of the planet, or, as it is also called, the noosphere. This is one and the same object, but simply described from different positions.

Each egregor has its own leaders, who can be both incarnate and outside of incarnate. But in any case, to lead the egregor, they either come to the astral world or send their phantoms. They can be called Hierarchs of the astral world.

If we take not the subtle material, but the astral world, then there are egregors. For each egregor, some personality, some Spirit is responsible, and most often there are several. What does it mean to be responsible? It means that it distributes the energies of the egregor and forms a series of events in the material world in such a way that certain personalities embodied in the material world are attracted to the egregor, and that they are suitable in vibrations to the egregor. So that they send certain energies to the egregor and so that they receive energies from it for their needs, of course, which do not contradict the goals of the egregor.

Elena: For management needs, so to speak?

Irina (LiShioni): It depends on the type of egregor. They can be very different: egregors of science, art, finance. There are generic, national, religious egregors, there are sub-egregors. That is, for example, in one large religious egregor there are smaller ones: as if under one large dome new sub-egregors are formed, in which there are already some other ideas, and because of this, they differ somewhat in vibration frequency.

Elena: Complex egregorial system. Okay, thank you very much.

09:32 Astral levels of the Universe.

Elena: Now we would like to find out how many astral levels there are in the Universe today, and what basic principles are laid down by the Spiritual Hierarchs as the basis for dividing these levels of the Astral?

Irina (LiShioni): If we take the dense plane, then around each physical planet there is a different number of astral levels, and this depends on the number of energy centers in humanoids. On Earth, for example, there are 7 floors of the astral world.

If we take the Milky Way Galaxy, there are also astral levels around it – around the Galaxy as a whole. But these levels are not structured like the levels around the planets, their structure is more complex. Each civilization makes its own gradation of the astral world of the Milky Way. Because the structure of the astral levels of the Galaxy is more complex than the structure of the astral levels of planets or stars.

Elena: LiShioni said a very important thing, that for the astral worlds of the planets, it is the types of Souls of the inhabitants of these planets that are important, and, based on this, the astral worlds are built.

Irina: These are not even types of Souls, these are types of bodies, because the same Spirit, incarnating on different planets, manifests itself differently through the body.

Elena: Okay, we clarified that, that's right.

11:27 The origin of knowledge about the astral worlds.

Elena: The next question: how did the civilizations of the Interstellar Union manage to discover this information related to the astral world: that it exists at all, that it has its own dimension, and that each planet has its own peculiarity, which is related to the bodies of humanoids or other types of beings that inhabit it? Was it some specific civilization that somehow and at some period of time received this information or discovered this level of the Spiritual World?

Irina (LiShioni): This knowledge, this information was obtained by astral travelers from all worlds of the Interstellar Union, and in addition it was obtained by our contactees who contacted the Spiritual world and the world of non-embodied Spirits. This is a collection of information that was initially obtained by astral travelers. In their interpretation, all this was stored on various information carriers, and then refined during contacts with non-embodied Spirits, and from this came the teaching about the astral world, which we are now transmitting to contactees.

Elena: Good.

Irina (LiShioni): Each planet that is part of the Interstellar Union, initially in its history of civilization development, accumulated information about the structure of the Universe. But after this planet entered the Interstellar Union, naturally, a common educational standard for this planet was introduced, existing in the Interstellar Union, and therefore the information about the astral world is now the same.

And even the information that had been accumulated in the religious, philosophical, and esoteric teachings of other planets was subject to clarification based on new data received by the entire Interstellar Union.

13:52 Seven floors of the astral world of the Earth, seven human chakras.

Elena: Now we are approaching our wonderful planet. Let us ask the respected LiShioni to briefly express the essence of the floor-by-floor differences of the seven-level astral plane of our beloved Earth.

Seven floors - what is the difference? Why are there seven floors? I associate this with the structure of man. He has one astral plane by structure, then there are other planes of this "matryoshka", and it is said that there is a seven-level astral plane on Earth. What are the differences, what are the principles of dividing these levels or dimensions?

Irina (LiShioni): A person has such a physical body through which the Spirit, a part of the Spirit - the Soul can manifest, creating an aura, as a set of subtle bodies, so that in the body there will be seven points - energy centers, which you call chakras. And each chakra radiates the energy of one or another spiritual part of the Soul at its own vibration frequency, and it is these radiations of the chakras that influence the construction of the astral world around the Earth. Because plasmoid civilizations, as you call them, subtle-material, in the understanding of people, do not have such energy centers, chakras. For them, the Spirit manifests itself through the subtle body more holistically. And since physical matter is very dense, then through it the energy of the Spirit manifests itself, how to say it in earthly language, unevenly, differing in vibrations from chakra to chakra.

The radiation of the Soul, spiritual energy differs from chakra to chakra. You call it the difference between chakras, that they are responsible for something, for some specific spheres of life, but we distinguish it vibrationally. And each astral floor, or astral plane, is built from the energies of one or another chakra. The seven floors of the astral world consist of astral energies, which are a reflection of the characteristics of human chakras.

This does not mean that everything on the first floor will be red, like the red color of the chakra. It's just that the first human chakra, for example, mainly radiates the energy of instincts, which means that the first floor of the astral world of the Earth is connected with the fact that egregors will be there, and entities will be there, including subtle ones. They can also penetrate the Astral, both humanoids and from the world of disembodied Spirits.

Astral is a meeting place, any humanoid, plasmoid or non-embodied Spirit in his consciousness can be there. On the first floor are those egregors and those entities that match the instinctive programs of a person in their vibrations. For example, there are egregors that contain ideas of self-preservation, reproduction, power, and so on.

Elena: That's understandable. On Earth, there is a concept of what a chakra is, what color spectrum it is connected with, what, perhaps, certain spheres of spiritual activity it covers. But here there was a subtlety in that for some reason it is not simply called "the seven-level spiritual plane of the planet", but the word "astral" is added. This was a little confusing. Because in the human "matryoshka", according to our esoteric data, there is one astral body, and then there is the mental, causal, etc.

Irina (LiShioni): This is the astral body in a person, the astral field is one, namely the astral world, the astral layers of the Earth are not an analogue of the aura, as in a person, but simply their reflection. This is not how the astral body manifests itself, not that the Earth should have one astral body, and the rest are mental, etc. It is simply said here that each body of the aura of a person, and we call it not a body, but a field, - each field radiates its frequency into the astral space, and from this the astral world is formed. The process is more complex, I am saying it now so that it is clear.

Elena: Okay, thank you.

20:10 Exit of the Soul from incarnation.

Elena: Now we have a question to discuss: how long, by earthly standards, can the astral bodies of people who have left incarnation exist before their final disintegration and transition to the world of non-incarnate Spirits?

Irina (LiShioni): We have studied the Law of Conservation of Energy not only in its material embodiment, but also in its spiritual one. Therefore, as representatives of the Interstellar Union, we know very well that no disappearance or, as you called it, disintegration occurs, because this contradicts the Law of Conservation of Energy. The astral body simply moves to another level, but does not disintegrate into parts - in the sense that arms, legs or something else fall off. The word "disintegration" is not quite appropriate here.

Elena: So, it transforms in some way?

Irina (LiShioni): When the Soul leaves incarnation, its life thread that connects it to the body is cut off. The Soul itself has all the shells of the aura (not only the astral body, but all the shells of the aura), and it carries them within itself. You can say so if you imagine an auric egg around a person, as you call it.

(Irina) He is now showing me, like a photograph, such an aura.

(LiShioni) We can say that this auric egg, this oval, separates from a person. But not the entire Soul is manifested in the aura, but only a part of it, because some energies, for example, the energy of consciousness, the energy of some instincts, etc., are in the human brain. For example, the energy of consciousness permeates every cell of the brain, which allows information to be read through the senses and to create neural chains in the brain for the formation of behavior - what you call brain intelligence or brain mind, that is, such behavior patterns.

When the Soul leaves incarnation, it initially leaves in the form of an oval or a ball, but since it is accustomed to feeling like a body, it takes the form of a body quite quickly after leaving. It does this out of habit, because it has been connected to the body for many years. Most often, the Soul remembers that it has arms, and they appear from this ball, legs, a head... It remembers that it had them, and forms for itself the so-called "temporary form of the Soul."

How long she stays in the Astral depends on her. She can leave the astral plane very quickly, at least, Angels-guides come for all Souls. If this exit from incarnation, physical death were according to the plan of incarnation, then the Guides are already expecting separation in advance...

24:24 Astral levels and chakras.

Elena: LiShioni, at what astral level do they usually expect their vis-à-vis?

Irina (LiShioni): They usually wait at the level of the astral floor where he will go. And he usually goes to the astral floor which chakra was responsible for his creation, for his radiation the strongest. Or, if all the chakras are developed evenly, and the person was harmonious, then he immediately gets to the seventh floor, which is before the transition to the world of non-embodied Spirits.

Elena: Interesting!

Irina (LiShioni): If, for example, he had the fourth chakra most developed, he gets to the fourth floor. If he had, for example, the fourth and third developed at the same time, and they were absolutely equally developed, then according to the laws of the astral world he will be drawn to a higher level, that is, to the fourth.

Elena: Well, we have a chance to work.

Irina (LiShioni): When they approach a dying person in the Astral, when they descend to him, they immediately see which chakras he has developed, and they wait on the floor where he is expected to come out.

The angelic guides invite him to go to the world of non-embodied Spirits immediately. But it happens that he refuses and wants to look around the astral world, and takes it for his home, where he left the body. He continues to see the furnishings of the room where he was, and thinks that he is in the same room or next to his relatives. This happens because this astral room is created by his thought forms and those of the people who live there.

After all, the objects in the Astral are not physical. They are created by thoughts, and at the same time, as I have already said, since the Astral permeates all the levels of density of the material world, a person can see any level of plasmoids, and there are worlds there too. He may want to examine all this or stay with his relatives, he may refuse to go with the Angel-guides. He may even turn around and go the other way. But the Angel-guides will not pursue him or convince him, they will leave him to get acquainted with the astral world and may come later. Later in the subjective time of the Soul, and not in the time of the material world.

Elena: LiShioni, a brilliant addition!

28:06 Hall of Memory in the Astral. The Eternal Home of the Spirit in the Spiritual World.

Elena: In our literary esoteric sources, there is a description of a place called the Hall of Memory in the Astral, where a report is made or the level of the Soul's fulfillment of its earthly program, which it has agreed upon with the Spirit, is shown.

Irina (LiShioni): I know what you are talking about. The thing is that the Higher Self of a person, his non-embodied part, still continues to be in the world of non-embodied Spirits.

Although this is an embodied Spirit, any embodied Spirit, as you probably know, has a non-embodied part. And this non-embodied part, or, as you call it, the Higher Self, is initially at the level at which the person incarnated. And when he begins to change his level in any direction, part of the energy of this Higher Self, or as I would now say, a phantom that takes part of the energy from the Higher Self, goes to the level that the person has reached.

And only at the final exit from the incarnation it turns out that he already loses the opportunity to change his level in this specific incarnation, in the incarnation of a specific person. And for this reason, the Higher Self of a person finally moves to the level that the person had at the moment of exit from the incarnation. That is, the totality of vibrations of his spiritual heart along the spiritual channel between the Soul and the Spirit, that is, between the Soul and the Higher Self, moves the Higher Self of a person to the level that the Soul has reached. Before the unification of the Soul and the Higher Self into a single Spirit, on average, about 40 days pass, if you look at it in earthly time, but subjectively this time is assessed completely differently.

When the Soul has fully adapted to the state outside the body, has fully understood where it is, has stopped missing, yearning for the body, for the material joys that were there, etc., then it is ready to connect with its Higher Self. Again, 40 days is a very average period, but most Souls are ready after 40 days, because the remnants of the energy of their etheric field must leave them. The etheric field does not disintegrate, it simply leaves the Soul and moves to the subtle-material plane - to those plasmoids that manage the etheric energy of the Earth. Then the Soul itself can either remain in the Astral or move to the Spiritual World to its level.

But how will he converse with his Higher Self? He will converse with his Higher Self in the house of the Soul – what is called the “Hall of Memory”. Each Spirit has its own eternal home, which it builds itself. This is its space, which can look completely different, depending on the desires of the Spirit. And no matter what level the Spirit finds itself at, in any case it can mentally build a house for itself – this is a special space where it is comfortable to be. And it is to this house that the Soul goes, and there it meets itself. But this meeting happens approximately as you now meet with the Higher Self, only then you see it with your own eyes.

The Higher Self, which you will simply call the Spirit, will show you thoughts, mental pictures of your incarnation and whether you have completed the task or not. When the Soul sees its Higher Self, it will immediately understand that it sees itself, this will be such a recognition. And when the last ethereal energy leaves it, it will be ready to merge with its Higher Self, this will happen instantly by the standards of the material world. They will simply merge (shows) into a single ball, and the Soul of a person itself will feel the expansion and acquisition of all that memory, all that experience that it had in many incarnations.

Elena: Yes, it’s not easy at all, but it’s incredibly profound.

34:30 Life of the Soul in the Astral World.

Elena: Next we have a rather simple question, probably for LiShioni: we are interested in what is there, in the astral world, about food, water? Or are these questions not relevant at all?

Irina (LiShioni): It does not depend on desire, but one can say that food, as well as the environment and drinks, can be created mentally.

But not all Souls and not all Spirits that have already united with their parts do this. Only those do this for whom the process of eating in the material body produced a certain pleasure. It has caused a habit in them, and they can continue to invent various dishes for themselves, including those that they have not tried in the material world, and consume them. In this case, the taste that they will feel will be real for them, but it will be just a taste, there will be no real nutritional value in it.

In the event that non-embodied Spirits do not feed, do not create any food for themselves, then their energy replenishment occurs automatically - through the Divine Light of the Spiritual level where they find themselves. Because the Divine energy already feeds them, much like the light of the Sun feeds plants. They do not make any effort to prepare sunlight for themselves.

Elena: I understand that similarly, things that once existed in the material world can also arise in the form of certain images and desires and be used in this world in some way?

Irina (LiShioni): You can mentally invent any things, any objects – cars, for example, rockets, but all Spirits can fly themselves. If he wants to invent an airplane, he can do it: he will simply think about it, and it will appear. And this airplane, or table, or vase of flowers – for him and for other Spirits who are at the same level, it will be dense enough. But as soon as he thinks that it does not exist – it will dissolve.

Moreover, the creations of each Spirit are protected from others. They are created by thought forms at a certain frequency, into which the personal vibration of this Spirit is embedded, and each Spirit has its own personal vibration, it is like its personal seal. No Spirit can destroy the creation of another Spirit, only the one who created it must do so.

Elena: Does it depend on the level of imagination development? I want to say that a developed imagination will fully contribute to the creation of some interesting objects, things, items, clothes, etc. Complete creativity!

Irina (LiShioni): Even if you don’t have a developed imagination, you can learn it pretty quickly there, especially since there are usually enough teachers, especially if you are surrounded by friends.

38:10 Deception in the astral world.

Elena: LiShioni, now questions of such, one might say, moral and ethical nature: can Souls, at least some, conceal their desires and hide their thoughts? Does the age of those who are there change, and are there diseases in the astral world?

Irina: Let's ask one question at a time.

Elena: Is it possible to conceal desires and hide thoughts?

Irina (LiShioni): You can hide your thoughts and desires, for example, by not thinking about them, and you can hide your desires in your heart, but another thing is that if you hide or conceal something, it will be visible by the radiation of your aura. Your energy, your aura will be visible to everyone, and the fact that you are hiding something, that you do not want to talk about it, will be visible.

And what exactly you are hiding – this, of course, will not be visible. You can hide it and think about something completely different, and it is impossible to get it out of you. But if you tell a deliberate lie, make something up, say, for example: “My name is not Lena, but Petya,” – but at the same time you know that your name is Lena, then it will be clear that you do not believe it, and everyone will see it.

Elena: This is a wonderful quality of the astral world!

Irina (LiShioni): From the fact that you say: "My name is Petya", everyone will see that you told a lie precisely because you yourself do not believe it. You will not radiate faith in it. You need to forget that your name is Lena, and believe yourself that your name is Petya, and only then will they believe you. And it is impossible to hide your disbelief in your words there.

Elena: The wonderful quality of the astral world is very inspiring, especially for some comrades.

40:17 Appearance and diseases of the Spirit in the astral world after disembodiment.

Elena: Does the age of those who get there change, and are there any illnesses?

Irina: Does age change? Do you mean age as a mental property, or specifically as an appearance?

Elena: Yes, like appearance. A person came at a very, so to speak, respectable age and suddenly discovers that he is young.

Irina (LiShioni): The external appearance can be anything, as well as the environment: a person controls the appearance of his Spirit. It can be in the form of a ball, or it can be in the form of an Angel with wings, if it is on the angelic level. It can be in the form of, if it is on the lower demonic levels, as a demon is usually depicted. It can be in the form of a person. What age? Usually they imagine middle age, because this is the age, on the one hand, of the prime of life, and on the other hand, of a fairly mature and responsible age.

Elena: And what about illnesses? How are things going there?

Irina: What diseases do you mean?

Elena: All sorts of different things. People came with different illnesses from the material plane, what happens to them in the astral plane? Do they recover completely, or does something remain?

Irina: Diseases of the body or what?

Elena: Bodies. We know that all illnesses come from the Spirit, and since we left the body, then on the spiritual plane, perhaps, something has not been worked out yet, or what?

Irina (LiShioni): If we mean specifically physical illnesses, then they naturally remain in the body. But the reasons that gave rise to them, if a person did not have time to eliminate them, and in general all undissolved blocks, gradually, not immediately, pass into the so-called karmic knots, that is, those blocks that will be manifested through lessons in the next incarnation. This is what concerns physical illnesses.

As for mental illnesses, such as mental retardation, various manic states, memory loss, schizophrenia, disorientation, when a person does not understand what is happening (this all happens for various reasons, for example, contacts with someone, or from brain damage, from intoxication, from injuries, and so on) - all this passes.

As soon as the Soul is freed from the body, it begins to correctly perceive the situation. And even if a person died, for example, in a state of alcohol or drug intoxication, as soon as his connection (life thread) with the body is broken, the influence of these substances passes, because the influence of substances that change consciousness through the brain on the behavior of the Soul is possible only when the Soul is connected to the body by a life thread.

Elena: I see.

43:55 The astral level of the contactee when information is transmitted to him.

Elena: Now I would like to clarify a point related to our respected Irina. When Irina communicates with her curators and not only, let's say, curators or guests come to her who are on planets with a higher level of astral planes than Earth, to what level of the earthly Astral do these same curators go?

Irina (LiShioni): When we need to convey information...

Elena: Is it always one floor or are these different floors?

Irina (LiShioni): Since I, MidgasKaus and others come to Irina specifically for the purpose of transmitting information to her, we put the information into the mental field, but we can transmit it only through the spiritual channel, which goes from the seventh chakra, through the astral world to the world of non-embodied Spirits. In order to have access to the spiritual channel, it is necessary to be at least on the sixth floor (that is, either on the sixth or on the seventh), but it is easiest when it is on the seventh floor. This is work with two chakras - the sixth and seventh.

Elena: I see.

45:30 The influence of Souls from the astral worlds on the desires and thoughts of people.

Elena: Now I would like to know: Can souls from the astral worlds – collectively or individually – influence the desires and thoughts of embodied people, earthlings, let's say?

Irina (LiShioni): It all depends on your understanding of the word "influence".

Elena: Energetically.

Irina (LiShioni): What does it mean to influence? To evoke certain feelings?

Elena: Yes. Feelings, desires, thoughts.

Irina (LiShioni): Yes, naturally, Souls in contact can put their thoughts, their feelings, their emotions into the person with whom they are in contact, but to accept them as a guide to action or to reject them is already the person's business. He can either accept it as his own, or as the will of the being with whom he is communicating, believe in it and add his own similar feeling and emotion to it, and thus strengthen it. Or he can say: "I do not accept this," and this will close the door for influence (shows how the door closes).

Here, again, everything depends on the purpose of the contact. Let's say there is a contact with the purpose of transmitting, exchanging energies. For example, a relative came, the Spirit of a relative who died, came to say that everything is fine with him, and begins to send the energy of Love. He has the energy of love in his spiritual heart, and a living person, his relative, feels it and will accept it. This will make him feel better, he will feel the Light, he will feel the warmth and love of this relative. But if he does not believe it and says: "This is not true, I do not see it, I do not feel it," he will close the possibility of this contact for himself. You can say that someone knocked on his window, and he slammed the shutters.

Elena: We were just talking about those Souls that made the transition?

Irina (LiShioni): This applies to them too, but also to any curators – plasmoids, humanoids.

If, for example, I come to a contactee and tell him some thoughts, and the contactee does not agree with them, he may refuse to transmit this information, and then I will not be able to do anything. He will simply either not transmit the information at all, or he will transmit it as he understands it himself, or reworking it, replacing some words with others that smooth out my position and bring me closer to his position.

All contactees differ in this regard. There are contactees with a fairly flexible mind, or, as we say, flexible consciousness, who can adapt to different curators, with whom they do not even agree, and simply transmit all this without judgment. This is facilitated by the chips that, for example, Irina has. They help to better tune into her mental field and transmit knowledge and information of the curator himself. The installation of such chips for this particular person became possible only because Irina has such an ability - her own mind, her own criticism (every mind has criticism), her own control over the thought forms and ideas that come to her, to push aside and simply speak in the flow.

49:58 Features of viewing events in the Akashic Chronicles and Timeline.

Elena: Now, dear LiShioni, I would like to know: does an incarnate person who consciously goes into the Astral, for example, like Irina or someone else, have the opportunity to gain direct access to the information cell in the Akashic Chronicles? Or is this access possible only after the life thread is broken?

Irina (LiShioni): We call "Akasha" one of the clusters of the subtle world. "Akasha Chronicles" is what we call the information records of egregors that reflect events in the material plane, but only, naturally, through the thoughts, feelings, emotions of the people involved in them. It's not like a film strip, everything is more complicated there in reality. Access to the Akashic Chronicles...

Elena: To your cell, at least.

Irina (LiShioni): In general, any Spirit has access to any Akashic Chronicles "by default", but only the one that can tune in to them and has the ability to view these Chronicles. That is, it is like a data library that you need to tune in to and read information from. This requires a fairly high sensitivity to energies. And if this happens during an astral journey, you also need the ability to remember information, transfer it to the body and reproduce it there, using the lexicon of this body.

It is not such a simple process in fact, because what you will see there when you return to your body, you may not find words to adequately express it. And it depends on what else you are viewing. If you mean your past that you know, or your past that you do not know, but have heard about it, or you will view some events in general, for example, the history of your planet - these are all different Akashic Chronicles, and they can be read differently.

Elena: Yes, I think we need to improve here before doing such research.

Irina (LiShioni): Since Irina goes into the Astral and maintains awareness there for quite a long time, and she had some questions related to historical events, we tuned into the Akashic Chronicles, which are certain records of the material space, and we also looked at these same events in the egregors.

Both the Akashic Chronicles and egregors are all specific records that, so to speak, are reflected in each other. You can also look at the Timeline, in which all this is also saved in the form of an energy flow. Any time period saves information about itself in the Spiritual World.

The thing is that the Spirit that gets into these spheres begins to read information in the way that its thinking is set up, because there are no records there, like in a book. There you look in a figurative form, that is, in the form of various images that pass before you. And what you read there, and what you understand there, depends on awareness, it even depends on the energetic state of a person at the moment of viewing. There are many components there, it even depends on beliefs, and so on.

And that is why, as you well know, dear friends, if several astral travelers, or, as you call them, clairvoyants, look at the same event in the past, about which they had no information before, but independently of each other, they will get different results.

Elena: Perhaps there are different interpretations associated with this.

Irina: He reminds me now of what MidgasKaus told me, and I also know myself, for example, the well-known events at Dyatlov Pass.

There were a lot of people – contactees, esotericists, sleepers, etc., who watched the events there, posted their results independently of each other, and everyone had different results. That is, they described the events that they watched in the Akashic Chronicles, and described them differently. And there were many such views, that is, videos. And when I asked MidgasKaus and LiShioni why this was possible, they said that they watched all these events either as probabilities that this would happen, or already records in egregors that this could happen, that is, what people believe in.

But what exactly each person will look at - either the egregorial record, or the Akashic Chronicles, or what was actually there, in the Time

Tape - depends on his vibrations and on his tuning to this or that type of information, that is, on his mental programs.

(says LiShioni) Therefore, viewings through the Spiritual world (we call it - "viewings of the past through the Spiritual world") in any case are completely different, in different ways, in different symbolic systems, or through the Astral. But viewings of the past, past events through the Spiritual world, for example, are always interpreted based not only on the visions themselves, which a person or humanoid perceived, but based on the coincidences of these visions with the facts that exist.

57:08 Interaction of animals with the astral world.

Elena: Can I ask a question about animals? They are known to interact with the astral world. But do all animals have such qualities, and if they do, then at what levels? And what abilities do they have for such contacts?

Irina (LiShioni): Animals interact with the astral world in such a way that they feel those beings that are in the astral world, they see them. But they do not see them with their physical eyes, but feel them instinctively, rather a presence. Some species of animals can see this with their Soul.

Animals have a Soul, and this Soul can be very sensitive to the phenomena of the astral world. Just as the physical body of an animal sees the physical world, so too the Soul can observe the astral world around it through the physical shell. The only thing is that there are differences.

If we take the Soul of animals specifically, they do not have the same structure as humans do, such as the Higher Self. The entire animal Soul, either single or group, is fully incarnated into the body. But at the same time, it maintains a connection with the plasmoid (or group of plasmoids) that created it or that manages its incarnation. Because the creator of its Soul can pass it on to another, to the one who manages the incarnations of a particular species of animal, or the incarnations of animals in a particular territory, and this is usually a group of plasmoids. Some, for example, are responsible for microorganisms, others for predators, and others for herbivores.

All these plasmoids influence the behavior of animals. They can strengthen this or that instinct or reduce it, and thus it is considered that the animal itself has no choice. It has no karma, responsibility, and so on. It is simply a set of instinctive programs plus feelings, plus emotions, plus instinctive consciousness, instinctive reason, which chooses between a more or less strong instinctive program, and this entire structure is embodied in the body.

Naturally, an animal also has its own aura. It has energy centers, but they are much simpler in structure than those of humans, and manifest themselves in a completely different way.

As for their disembodiment, as we have already said, each animal Soul has a limited number of incarnations. But the whole point here is that there can be more or fewer incarnations even for the same species of animals. Everything depends specifically on those plasmoids that created the Soul. During direct disembodiment of an animal, if its Soul is subject to incarnation, all the time between incarnations it is in the Astral, but not in the world of disembodied Spirits. It is located, if we mean the Earth, usually on the first, second or third floor of the astral world.

Elena: And among domestic animals? Let's say cats, horses, dogs, do they have these qualities? Not only when they pass into the astral world, but when they are in a dense body, are they able to contact their relatives on the first, second and third floors? Or then with whom do they contact? When you watch a cat, it is obvious that it makes some kind of telepathic contact quite clearly.

Irina (LiShioni): Cats, dogs, all mammals, if we take animals, they very often contact plasmoid civilizations, and not only with those who created their Soul and who incarnated them. We can say that these are their Guardian Angels, these are subtle beings, the same Spirits incarnated in subtle bodies. But they can also often contact the Spirit of the house or the Spirit of the place where this animal is, because according to the instincts that are embedded in their Souls, they have a very high sensitivity to the subtle worlds.

1:02:22 Quantum transition.

Elena: Then I have a final question, with great gratitude. We are expecting a quantum transition. And are we still moving to the etheric level or to the astral? And if to the astral, then what level will it be? Or will it be proportional to the spiritual level that each person who is moving has reached?

Irina (LiShioni): The quantum transition is not the end of the manvantara.

Elena: I agree, it is not.

Irina (LiShioni): The transition of the physical world to the subtle worlds can only be accomplished at the beginning of the fading of the manvantara period, because the physical world itself exists for a certain amount of time. There can be very, very many quantum transitions in the physical world, even before the transition to the subtle worlds.

What we now call a "quantum transition" for the physical world is a transition of quanta, that is, portions of energies that make up physical matter, to a higher vibrational level. But since quanta transition evenly to this level, all substances of the physical Universe remain just as dense. However, due to the changed vibrations of quanta, it is much easier for those Spirits who incarnate in renewed bodies and live in them to feel their spiritual component and see the Law of God in the nature around them.

Elena: A brilliant conclusion! I would like to say in the words of the poet: "I am, I have lived and will be again. My wanderings are eternal...". Many thanks to the esteemed guest for such profound comments on our questions, and many thanks to Irina for the incredibly accurate literary translation of the answers of our space guest!

Irina: I thank LiShioni, thank you, Elena, thank you, dear friends! I was also interested, especially now that LiShioni is adding.

(LiShioni) The Higher Self of each Soul that exists has its own unique algorithm of relations with its embodied part. When the Soul gets into the Hall of Memory, or the eternal home of the Spirit, in the Spiritual World, some see their Higher Self, one might say, a copy of themselves, and other Souls are simply in this house and communicate with the Higher Self, which is above them, as if in a big house, but in another room, on the floor above. But in any case, they feel each other.

That is, for each Soul, communication with its non-embodied part before their unification looks different. The only common thing here is that for each one the task of this incarnation is revealed, all the mistakes and achievements on the way to completing the task are shown. Naturally, the Soul finally learns the level it has reached, and how much it coincides with the level it had planned before the incarnation.

Elena: Once again, thank you very much! Heartfelt gratitude, or, as Ira says, love from my spiritual heart. Thank you very much!

Irina: I also found it very interesting. Thank you, dear friends. Until next time!

Elena: All the best!

January 19, 2023

Participants:

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, with subtle-material civilizations and with the Spiritual world;

Elena is an analyst;

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in the astral world and its interactions with the material world, and the curator of the Cassiopeia Project.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/zhrecheskij-god-kalendar
Priestly Year. Calendar
The priestly year consists of nine months of 40 days each. Each month is divided into five weeks of nine days each.
Names of the months and their correspondence to civil months
Yarilo begins the year, and Veles ends it. Each week begins with the Day of the Sun and ends with the Day of Neptune.
Names of the Days of the Week and their ruling planets:
The basis of the calendar is the division of the year into periods, each of which is associated with a certain deity, in which month a person was born and under the patronage of which God. It was believed that God endows a person who was born in his period with his own special vibration, his special energy, that is, gives him some kind of talent, which depended on the gender, on the activities of God himself. And that it is He who leads him through life, protects him, is his curator.
YARILA (March 21 - April 30)
This is everything that is connected with the sun. This is the God of the Sun. What are his qualities, creativity, courage, manifestation of himself in any kind of activity. People who have come under the patronage of Yarilo are very bright, creative, capable of art.
LADA (May 1 - June 10)
This is a calmer energy, family, it's like Venus. Beauty, food, everything connected with food, with clothes. This goddess was responsible for the family. Everything connected with cooking, agriculture, with the family will work out better.
ROD (June 11 - July 21)
Rod the third month is the Creator of everything. These are those who carry information, preachers, contactees, prophets. In our world, these are journalists, writers, bloggers. Information activity. People who were born in this period, they are destined to teach others spirituality.

PERUN (July 22 - August 31)

This is the army, police, power structures and management, administration of something. It was believed that warriors, kings, military leaders, political people were born under the patronage of Perun. He was also like a thunderer, a god of war, a leader like that.

SVAROG (September 1 - October 11)

This is the God of the sky. The Slavs also called the Spirit of Jesus Svarog when he was not yet incarnate. Therefore, those who were born under the patronage of Svarog are very sacrificial, they love to help others. This is service to man. There can be good doctors, psychologists, for example, it can even be just a cleaning lady who cleans and thus serves people.

MAKOSH (October 12 - November 21)

A female deity, the goddess of fate. It was the incarnation of the Virgin Mary. Makosh is more like Athena in Ancient Greece, the goddess of wisdom, the goddess of fate, that is, she created a line of fate for everyone, such were her actions. And people who were born in this period, they are more inclined to lawmaking (judges, lawyers). But not only legal laws, but maybe the laws of the Universe. Makosh is also a mystic. Maybe the study of esotericism.

STRIBOG (November 22 - January 1)

This is the time of the winter solstice. Stribog is a God, the patron of all spirits of the air. He is the God of the wind, the God of movement, because the wind is constantly in motion. People who were born under the patronage of Stribog love to travel, are sociable and are also endowed with a lively, agile mind. Good scientists, researchers.

HORS (January 2 - February 11)

Here the opinions differ, some say that he is also the god of the Sun. It is believed that the Slavs had as many as three gods of the Sun (Yarilo, Dozhdbog and Khors). But I was told that in general he was the God of the Moon. Those who were born under his patronage are very people connected with energies, including the energy of finance. These can be magicians, or they can be such secret services, investigating some detective, scientists-researchers of something secret. Khors was considered so secretive, who hides a lot. Now this can be connected with some kind of technology, computer scientists, electricians, nuclear physicists, esotericists.

VELES (February 12 - March 20)

Veles ends the year. He was the God of fertility, animals, forests and also the God of wealth. He patronized herds of animals, hunters, those who are closer to nature. Everything that is connected with water, with plants. By the way, he taught magicians, that is, he also had magical abilities. Veles is one of, well, of these himself, and of all the gods, he is the most mysterious, always in the forest. He was also responsible for finances, because people often hide their finances. That is, hidden powers and energies are in His department.

Accepted by Irina Podzorova at the third level of the School of Contactees in Voronezh.
Space plasmoids through Irina Podzorova, contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations.
June 2024
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pryamoj-ehfir-s-voploshchennym-duhom-tisulskoj-pri #531 Live Broadcast with the embodied Spirit of the Tisul Princess.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=iV6orDLg3RY

00:00 Start of video.

00:02 Greetings. News from the Cassiopeia Project.

Maxim: Dear friends, hello everyone! How can you hear me? We have 805 people on the broadcast so far.

(reads from the chat) "Where is the princess?" - the princess is sitting next to him (laughs). Excellent: I can hear you well. Elena, Rafael, Tatyana, Elena, I heard you.

I will start with our most interesting news. In the near future we are planning to hold a retreat in Israel. Israel is the country of Yahweh and Moses. Such a retreat has never happened before - the retreat will have two blocks, you can choose one of them, in which a person wants to undergo training. The link is below this video. You can register and come to us in Israel.

(reads) "Good day to all." Hello, Natalia! "Good evening! Greetings from Omsk." Greetings to Omsk too!

So, our topic for today's broadcast is the Tisul princess. They tell a lot of interesting things about this princess, and I literally only found out today that for the first time...

(reads) "No sound"... Fidan Memmedova, you hater, there is sound, I know. Or adjust your headphones.

So, I learned about the Tisul princess, whose spirit is already present with us today, quite recently and wondered where this information came from. The information appeared in 2002. One of the journalists wrote about the "princess", who allegedly traveled with one of the high-ranking officials on the train, and, accordingly, took this information from him. And the most interesting thing...

(reads) "In the next world, Lord, how did you find her in the next world?" No, Lena, she is not in the next world, can you imagine! As we found out, she is not in the Spiritual World, she is now... I probably won't tell you, because I already know a little more, and you are only now learning all about it.

And one more piece of news. We have one more offsite event, one offsite retreat, but it will be in Moscow. Please follow the news, follow the information. And there is an assumption that our YouTube channel may soon be closed, so below, under this video, and not only under this video – now under all the videos that we have, there will be a link to our Project, where you can find absolutely all the information.

(reads) "Where is the promised broadcast with the Spirit of Zhirinovsky?" Everything is fine with Zhirinovsky, everything is good, guys. I think that we will hear Vladimir Volfovich Zhirinovsky from the Spiritual World in exactly a week. He is busy with his own affairs there. He said that he cannot come this Sunday. I do not know what this is connected with. Perhaps he is collecting information in the Spiritual World - some kind of dirt on someone, as he always liked to do.

(reads) "Maxim went on to broadcast his stuff..." Of course, Charming, 10 minutes of airtime, I said that I would broadcast, but this time, you see, I don't have that much information.

Another very interesting piece of news is that we have finally opened new buildings in our Center, one of which houses two unique pieces of equipment. The first is the "Da Vinci Egg". By the way, people are already visiting our Center and undergoing very interesting sessions with this device, or rather, an artificially created portal.

And you know what's most interesting is that we have already launched Irina into this "Egg", and through her we received a lot of information from our curators. It was said that this is a portal for contact with 52 subtle-material civilizations. And on top of that, Saint Germain himself will give us feedback about this "Da Vinci Egg", because I realized that we have this "Egg" for a reason. It seems to me that the initiations on the second level of contact will take place in this "Egg".

The second unique equipment is the "Kozyrev Chamber" with a mirror effect. We are also already conducting research, we have launched the first "guests" into this chamber. I call it this way because our previous group was "self-healing through the Higher Self". And now a contactee group has come to us, who will also be able to test this equipment on themselves. But the results are, of course, unique, I did not even expect this: a person comes in with minimal parameters of auric structures, minimally opened chakras, and comes out completely saturated, fully charged with energies.

We are currently observing this interesting effect. The dynamics of changes follow a sinusoidal pattern – that is, first there is a gain in energy, then a release, and then – a maximum gain. And we are also studying this graph now – that is, the first ten minutes are a gain, then five minutes are a release, and then the next ten minutes are a gain again, but it is twice as high as at the beginning.

In general, come to our Center. There is a separate building for this equipment. We are currently finishing building separate rooms for our guests to live in, because not everyone wants and can live in a hostel system, when there are many people in one room. Therefore, we are specially forming the entire space for those esotericists who are ready to grow and develop further with us. And once again I want to remind you that I am declaring this year the "year of unification".

Dear esotericists, our dear friends, brothers, comrades! Due to the existence of the Cassiopeia Project, we already, in principle, have a large esoteric Center, where we invite all esotericists, all energy practitioners, contactees, where you can hold your events inexpensively. That is, the Center was specially built so that each of those who are engaged in esotericism, brings knowledge to people, could transmit this knowledge in the same way as the Cassiopeia Project does. Therefore, call, write, I will be happy to cooperate with everyone.

Vlad PULSAR, where have you disappeared to, I don't know. I'm waiting for your call, I can't get through to you. Call me, please! Vlad, I have a unique offer for you that you can't refuse, so I'm waiting for you, waiting for your call. Call me, please, when you have the opportunity. Or please tell Vlad that I can't get through to him, maybe he's ignoring me. Then at least let him write a text message that something is wrong somewhere.

Dear friends, dear esotericists, dear masters of the Sacral School, the Mental Hilling School, all masters of Cassiopeia, if anyone has... Yulia, please tell Vlad: I can't get through to him, he's not picking up the phone.

(reads) "In what city is the Center located?" In Voronezh, Svetlana. The Center is located near Voronezh, in a wonderful place, where about 30 people can be accommodated in the winter, and up to 60 people in the summer, I think we can normally accept people in our Center. So write, call, I have nothing to hide, I am on Telegram, I am on all social networks, so whoever wants can find me. And in our Center we will create the best conditions for you, which no other esoteric centers will create for you. Why? Because it was specially created with the help of those people who trust us, especially for those people who bring Light, awareness, knowledge to people. Therefore, everything is in your hands. In order to implement all this, we already have everything. Call, write, we will develop.

Yes, by the way, I want to address people who are engaged in scientific developments. There is a lot of talk about all this, a lot of writing - "here are the schemes, you make them, and we will do everything...", like "here you go, please, take the schemes, make them."

Dear scientists, I can tell you that you can come to our Center. Firstly, we will look at everything through the eyes of our interstellar friends. Secondly, I have opportunities, I have friends who will be able to finance many things. Therefore, if you really have developments that can raise, bring our country - Russia - to the advanced countries on this planet, if you have developments that, as you think, can bring good to people and to you yourselves, then come to us at the Center, we will talk. If this development is very interesting, we will definitely find a way to finance it, and I, as the head of the Project, guarantee that we will license this development and implement it in a real project that will develop and help our country. And not only our country, but all of us together.

(reads) "What is the fee for visiting Leonardo da Vinci's apparatus?" Look: we have an "all inclusive" program, you can get into this program. And there is a separate program for beginners: for the first time you can visit the Center on the condition of "donation" - that is, you can come, try and pay as much as you think necessary. All other points regarding further passage you can find out on the spot. I am sure that all this is absolutely accessible. We need these payments only to maintain our Center in "combat" condition, which requires a lot of maintenance and a lot of energy resources that are invested to maintain the huge Center in good condition.

Well, my ten minutes are up. I hope I haven't said too much.

(reads) "There are no analogues in development, as the classic said." I'm waiting for you, scientists. I hear only talk. Scientists came to us, said that they have, but so far everything is in words. I don't see any results. I think that the problem is that in most cases there are only assumptions on paper, and there are practically very few real developments.

(reads) "Maxim, don't be nervous, or you'll gain weight." Am I gaining a lot of weight? Can you see it? It's not because of nerves, it's because of the huge amount of work, guys. But I promise that I'll now take part in a marathon with probiotics "Cassiopeia. Energy" to lose excess weight, and, accordingly, we'll see who will participate with us and how we'll do it.

So now I'm handing over the floor to the "gold of the party", the "scarlet flower", our princess, and, accordingly, she will now tell us who is with us, what is with us and why with us. Irishenka, sit down.

13:15 The Tisul Princess and her Spirit.

Irina: Good evening, dear friends! Greetings to all, thank you for being with us. My name is Irina Podzorova, and today we have a session of communication with the Spirit, which is known on Earth under the name "Tisulskaya Princess".

First, I'll tell you what it is. This woman was found in the Kemerovo region in 1969, at least that's what the journalist said. How it was there, I don't know yet, because everything was based on the words of the journalist, who relied on the words of another person.

What surprised me about this story was that I had not seen a photo, although in 1969 there were already cameras. And so I became interested in who was found and why they did not photograph her, and why this “princess,” or whoever she was, is not in our museums. I was interested, and I contacted our curators. MidgasKaus is with us now, from the planet Esler, LiShioni from the planet Shimor. And so I asked them how one could track such an event, about which there is so little data. And they told me that one could track it using the Akashic Chronicles, which are recorded in the egregors, because this story is well known. It is well known, and using the egregors – using this egregorial trace – one can find out where the first source came from, where such information came from in the first place.

Information about the discovery was spread, and representatives of the Interstellar Union began to look into the past on the Timeline, to see what happened there in 1969. Thus, the Spirit was found, which really existed, and, indeed, her body was found in the Kemerovo Region. And, accordingly, it was possible to find the Spirit itself, that is, it was possible to find out on the Timeline who was buried there, and for what reason she was found there. And they found this Spirit.

And now, as Maxim has already said, this Spirit is embodied in a subtle-material civilization of the 14th density level. But what is most interesting is that this civilization is located under the bottom, and it controls one of the volcanoes on the planet Selbet. I want to emphasize right away - these are not the reptilians who live in a dense body on Selbet, this is a Selbet plasmoid. And I myself was very interested when I heard this information.

I asked this plasmoid to come to us today and tell us about her past life, which she lived in the times when she was the Tisul princess. Naturally, this plasmoid had to explain the meaning of the word "princess" and what "Tisul" means, because there were no such cities then. But they explained it to him, and now he is with us. His real name, as it can be most accurately translated into earthly sounds, is Orgisha.

Maxim: What an interesting name.

Irina (Orgisha): Orgisha is my name, which can be expressed in this way in your language, in your alphabet, because it corresponds to the sound-vibrational characteristics of these letters.

Maxim: I understand. Irina, how you were able to accept this name, that's how you voiced it. Am I right?

Irina: Yes.

18:24 Orgisha about the Tisul princess.

Maxim: Orgisha, please tell me, do you already understand who the “Tisulskaya Princess” is?

Irina: She says yes. I feel a positive answer.

(Orgisha) I know who was called that. Those beings who came to me from the dense material world, from the Interstellar Union, conveyed to me in thought forms, thought images, the legend that is told on Earth about its location.

Maxim: What was your name when you were the Tisul princess?

Irina: I hear: Ari Aksa.

Maxim: Ari Aksa, yes?

Irina: Aria Aksa, something like that.

19:08 Time of discovery of the Tisul princess, her appearance.

Maxim: Tell me, please, how long ago were you buried? How many years ago was it? Because it says "800 million years", but that's some kind of unrealistic date.

Irina: Yes, the thing is that the journalist's initial note, which he wrote, was published in 2002, and which became famous, and they made a program, and so on, but that was later. But in 2002 there was already a mention of the Tisul Princess, and there was a figure there - 800 million years. Where did it come from? Supposedly, this is what the professor told the residents of the settlement where she was found. He named the date "800 million years", but naturally no eyewitnesses could be found, because those who were adults in 1969 are now either old people or are in the Spiritual World. Accordingly, those who were found, who were children then, cannot say anything significant about the Tisul Princess.

Maxim: So what is the real age of the burial then?

Irina: Now MidgasKaus and LiShioni are speaking: “We will explain a little bit what we managed to see in the Timeline.” MidgasKaus speaking.

(MidgasKaus) Yes, when we tuned into the Timeline - LiShioni and I, independently of each other, tuned into the Timeline for this event to see when it was found in this area and in what condition it was - and our data almost completely coincided. The fact is that, according to our data, the discovery of this person's burial occurred in a slightly different place and in a different year.

Maxim: Once again...

Irina (MidgasKaus): That is, not in 1969, according to our data, and somewhere in August, in the middle or closer to the end. In the Timeline, the time is vague in dates, but you can find out something. It was 1973, according to our data.

Maxim: Is this 1973?

Irina: In 69, they didn't see this fact on the Timeline when they were tuning in.

Maxim: How interesting! It turns out, not even in 1969, but later?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Later. It was later. We know that the journalist wrote about the coal mine in the article. But the excavations, the ones where they found this burial chamber, were in a different place – between the shore and some, I wouldn't call it a mountain, but a hill or a knoll. Because when you look at the Timeline, there are no geographic coordinates, unfortunately, the area is just there, and there is a lake, and this place is not far from this lake. That is, you can consider it not exactly on the shore, but within about two kilometers from the shore.

Maxim: Tell me, please, who were you?

Irina: That is, they found her in 1973. He is now showing me a vision-image, as it is recorded in the Timeline, and that they found her not in a coal seam, but in some kind of not a burial mound, but a very, very old burial that was underground. And archaeological excavations were carried out there. And she was not in the state described in the article, that is, not as if alive, etc., this did not happen.

Maxim: What was she like?

Irina: LiShioni speaking now.

(LiShioni) We watched it on the Timeline (you can’t watch it physically) and saw that she really was in a stone sarcophagus made of white stone, and inside there was a transparent liquid, a little pinkish in color.

(Irina) And she had hair and wrinkled skin - wrinkled, as if it had lost moisture. I wouldn't call her a mummy, but I wouldn't call her alive either. It's like a person who has lain in water for a long time - when there are wrinkles on the fingers, and she had them on her face. It was white, and she really was wearing clothes, she had a dress. LiShioni is now showing me an image of how she was found, and indeed, she was taken for examination.

(LiShioni) We looked further at this event, where they put her body. First, she was sent to Novosibirsk for research, and then she was taken to Moscow - to the institute that deals with anthropology, that is, the origin of man. They determined her age. But the age they determined did not correspond to the theory of descent from apes. The ruling party decided to hide this fact, and therefore her body was not put on public display.

26:05 Age of burial.

Maxim: And what age did they determine?

Irina (LiShioni): They determined it was somewhere between 800 thousand years and one million two hundred. That is, they had a large margin of error.

Maxim: And really, when was the burial? How many thousands or millions of years ago?

Irina (MidgasKaus): And it was precisely by this trace in the Time Tape that we noticed the energy of that person who was then incarnated, whose body we found. And it was precisely by this energy trace that we found this Spirit. I, LiShioni and his leader Odus were doing this.

Maxim: Excellent. I want to ask: what is the date when she was buried?

Irina (LiShioni): Yes, we also looked at the Timeline and compared it with the modern chronology. The time of her burial and exit from incarnation, if we count according to the modern chronology, is approximately 820 thousand years ago.

Maxim: Now that's more interesting! That is, 820 thousand years ago. That means, before the war with Selbet?

Irina: This was before the war with Selbet and before the resettlement of earthlings to Mars and Venus.

Maxim: Before moving to Mars and Venus?

Irina: Yes, because the migration to Mars and Venus was 200 thousand years ago.

28:00 Growth of the Tisul princess.

Maxim: Then I have a very interesting question: what about her height then? She was our height, wasn't she?

Irina (LiShioni): Yes, she was your height, but the thing is that at that time the height had already decreased, because it decreased consistently for the first, maybe, 20 thousand years after the creation of man, since on Earth the gravity is too great for four-meter tall people. Such a mutation occurred.

Maxim: I get it, we finally figured out why people's height has decreased.

Irina (LiShioni): We talked about this.

Maxim: I guess I forgot.

28:38 Age and status of the Tisul princess.

Maxim: So, another question: who was she in life? Why was she buried in a coffin? Why a stone coffin?

Irina: It was a sarcophagus.

Maxim: Yes, and what was the life period of people 800 thousand years ago?

Irina: She'll tell you herself now.

(Orgisha says): I remember this. The thing is that MidgasKaus and LiShioni came to me in my world of the 14th level of density and asked me to come and connect with my non-embodied part, which has the memory of this life that you are now talking about, so that I could answer questions about my life. I cannot tell you about what happened to the body after death, since I immediately disconnected from it after the dissolution of the thread of life. But I can say that I left the incarnation in that life when I was 343 years old.

Maxim: What year?

Irina: She was 343 years old when she died.

Maxim: 343 years! And how many people lived on Earth then?

Irina (Orgisha): About 700–800 years old.

Maxim: And who were you?

Irina (Orgisha): I was a ruler. The thing is that in the area where I lived, women most often occupied leadership positions. I was the ruler of a union of tribes that had already begun to form a separate, as I would say, not a people, but a "proto-people" - the first people. That is, it was still a union of tribes, but at the same time it had already begun to unite into a community that began to call itself by a separate word - "argi" or "arghi".

30:48 The alien grandmother of the Tisul princess.

Maxim: Sorry, I'll interrupt you a little, here's a very interesting question that interests everyone: they say that somewhere in the area of your head there was some kind of box that looked like a cell phone. What do you think it could have been?

Irina (Orgisha): I know that they could have put it there. The thing is that my father and my mother told me when I was alive and still a girl that my grandmother on my mother's side was a woman who came from heaven.

Maxim: So... Now that's very interesting! So your grandmother at that time on Earth was an alien?

Irina: Yes. Now LiShioni and MidgasKaus say: "She also told us this information, we looked at the Timeline for the period she indicated. And there we managed to find out that, indeed, she was the granddaughter of a woman who flew from the planet Apsheron of the Interstellar Union, which is located in the constellation Ursa Minor. You have not yet communicated with them, but this planet is known for the fact that it is specially allocated for the life of hybrids of two races - Tumesout and Burkhad."

Maxim: So she... Wait! So your grandmother is a hybrid of Tumesout and Burkhad? And in general, was it normal back then for aliens to have sexual relations with earthlings?

Irina: This woman simply flew to Earth as part of a scientific expedition and closely communicated with earthlings. Yes, back then they talked to earthlings, just as you now, for example, talk to representatives of another nation you visit, that is, without hiding.

Maxim: So 800 thousand years ago there were constant contacts with representatives of different civilizations, am I right?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, but, naturally, if this tribe or this people wants to explore and some scientific group will help them. In general, in this one scientific group or in the crew of a starship there could be representatives of different civilizations. That is, it was a joint expedition. Then the earthly civilization was just beginning its existence, and it, its ancestors, who became the ancestors of all people living today, were given all the necessary knowledge and skills so that they could live themselves and build their civilization completely independently.

And so she was part of a scientific expedition. We managed to find out her name, she is now incarnated, but, unfortunately, quite far away - in a humanoid civilization in the Galaxy somewhere around 30 billion light years from the Milky Way. That's all we managed to find out. At that time, her name was... as can be roughly translated into modern Russian - Romkh Shoni.

Maxim: Guys, there will be no answer about the burial date. They said - approximately 820 thousand years ago. So, Tim Dor, pay close attention to what they are talking about.

Irina: Yes, and this Romkh Shoni, who flew from Apsheron from the Ursa Minor constellation, was part of a scientific expedition. They lived in the territory that is now occupied by mountains in the south of Siberia. Back then, there was a different area – as you know, there was no winter, there was, so to speak, a tropical climate everywhere, there were reservoirs and low mountains. Territorially, it was a single continent, and we found out that this place was in the south of modern Western Siberia.

Maxim: That is, she lived when there was a single continent. She was buried 820 thousand years ago.

Maxim: I also want to know about the object - she had some object next to her head.

Irina (Orgisha): I remember that I was given a device to overcome the force of gravity so that I could help our men carry various heavy objects when building houses from trees and stones.

(Irina) That is, they gave her an antigravity device.

Maxim: Did this little box help you create antigravity?

Irina: LiScioni says that for the long time the device was there, it was exposed to energetic influence during the war 12,000 years ago, because gravity bombs that entered the Earth's core were also sent there. And it is quite possible that this antigravity device was completely inoperative.

Maxim: So they ask, what kind of rose water was in the coffin? Where did it come from? Did people have such knowledge before?

Irina (LiShioni): The thing is that she died at a fairly young age.

Maxim: Why did she die? I forgot to ask.

Irina (LiShioni): She lived... Yes, we haven’t talked about her birth yet.

This woman from the planet Apsheron was on an expedition, and she and one earthly man developed a personal relationship, warm feelings, love, and they decided to start a family. This was allowed then, because freedom of choice was a priority, and it was possible to start a family. And because earthlings also have genes of Tumesoutians and Burkhadians, conception is less likely than between earthlings, but still possible. And this Spirit was embodied.

Maxim: So, they still found a way to copulate, and for her to be born?

Irina: They actually created a family. That is, this alien flew to Earth and began to live as a family.

Maxim: Her grandmother?

Irina: Yes, her grandmother.

Maxim: And her grandmother died on Earth?

Irina (LiShioni): We haven't looked into this, but we can look. We saw that she started a family.

(Irina) Orgisha says that when she was an adult, her grandmother was no longer alive.

(Orgisha): My parents say that when her husband, that is, my grandfather, died, she returned to her planet and was already a widow.

Maxim: And what was the life expectancy of the grandfather, and what was her life expectancy?

Irina: She had a longer lifespan - about 10 thousand years. But when she arrived, she was 6 thousand years old.

Maxim: (to the audience) But I'm wondering how people determine that we are a "funny scam"? Guys, please write to us, how do you determine that we are a "scam"? I just can't understand.

Irina: What, cheerful, or...?

Maxim: No, that we are a "scam". How did you determine that? Because you liked the information, or because you didn't?

Irina: Mead says: "This is what people say who do not believe in aliens or in the ability of aliens and Spirits to speak through contactees. Such people exist, and for them it is like for you, for example, materialism."

Maxim: I just ask this person to write to us how he determined this, why exactly he...

Irina (MidgasKaus): These are different beliefs.

Maxim: No big deal. So, grandma flew away, and she lives 10 thousand years, grandpa lived 700 years. You were born, and...

Irina: One more question, please.

Maxim: Grandma flew away to her planet. Then she flew back when Grandpa died.

Irina: No.

Maxim: No? Not like that?

Irina: The thing is that when Orgisha was born to her mother and father, her grandmother had already flown away. She was born to her mother and father.

Maxim: Oh, wait, it wasn't her who gave birth, right! By the end of the day, I already... I don't have time to adjust the camera.

Okay, so you were born. And were you born when your grandmother had already flown away? Did you know your grandmother, did you see her?

Irina: I've only heard about her. Orgisha already said that her maternal grandmother gave birth to a daughter, and that daughter became her mother. It's just written in the chat: "Did grandma give birth to a boy or a girl?" She already answered.

42:04 The family of the Tisul princess: parents, husband and children.

Maxim: Then another question: when your grandmother flew away, did your parents start ruling the tribe?

Irina (Orgiša): Yes.

Maxim: Mom and Dad ruled the tribe, then you were born and began to rule this tribe?

Irina (Orgisha): Yes, later, when my parents had already died. Our power was passed on by inheritance.

Maxim: Did you have a husband?

Irina (Orgiša): Yes.

Maxim: Did you have children?

Irina (Orgisha): Three: a boy and two girls.

42:29 Cause of death of the princess.

Maxim: I see. And what did you die of?

Irina (Orgisha): I died from a stomach disease (shows stomach).

I asked my Angel-mentors about the cause of death, the reason for leaving the incarnation. And they told me that it was an intestinal infection that caused peritonitis, and in those conditions it was impossible to provide assistance, and death occurred quite quickly, somewhere within 24 hours.

(Irina) That is, she fell asleep in the evening, and in the morning she was gone.

43:16 The way the princess was buried, her height.

Irina (Orgisha): By that time I had three children and a husband. My husband contacted the planet Burkhad and mentally reported this event. Representatives arrived from both the planet Burkhad and the planet Apsheron. They examined my body – the consulting Angels told me about this. And they told me that the representatives of other planets (we called them “people from the stars” back then, they were the same as us, only they could have different heights or physiques, and their body type could be different) – they were the ones who gave our priests the liquid that was poured into the sarcophagus where my body was placed. This was done so that many generations of descendants could remember my rule, because it was I who gathered different tribes into one union.

Maxim: And tell me, please, were they all the same height, like you - somewhere around one meter ninety, I think, is your height?

Irina: No, less – one meter eighty. She’s showing me now.

Maxim: And was everyone of this height already on Earth?

Irina (Orgisha): There were lower, there were higher, different.

Maxim: So it turns out that you were a unifier of different tribes?

Irina (Orgiša): Yes.

Maxim: I have a question: where you were buried, was there one sarcophagus with you, or were there other sarcophagi? Don't you know?

Irina (Orgisha): I didn’t take care of my body, but they could well have been there: a lot of people lived in that place at that time.

(Irina) But now MidgasKaus says that after the war 12,000 years ago, the entire surface of the Earth changed. For example, in a place where there was a body of water, there could have been a desert, and where there was a plain, mountains could have risen, and vice versa. And here later, say, several thousand years ago, completely different tribes could have lived.

Maxim: So the embalming technology was transferred from other planets, am I right?

Irina (MidgasKaus): I know what she's talking about. The thing is, we have a special preservative compound - a special preservative liquid for tissues, so that they can be preserved in the laboratory.

Maxim: Mead, please tell me, have there been many such embalmings on Earth, specifically in this pink liquid?

Irina (MidgasKaus): I know that such a preservative substance was passed on, especially before the war 12,000 years ago, quite often, so that people could preserve their priests, rulers and simply famous people. It was important to them, as a symbol of the continuity of generations.

Maxim: People are interested: did they allow the transmission of gravitational or other devices in those days?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, there was no such law of the Interstellar Union as there is now, about not transferring physical objects. This law appeared literally 200 years ago. That is, it became quite strict, and the curator who did this can be deprived of the right to contact for life. And if the transfer of such evidence or objects entailed serious consequences for the contactee or for someone from his entourage, the criminals could be imprisoned on the planet.

Maxim: Then the question is: what about Billy Meyer, who photographed aliens...

Irina (MidgasKaus): He lived later.

Maxim: No, I'm saying that if this law was passed 200 years ago, how did they pass all this on to Billy Meyer?

Irina (MidgasKaus): He asked his curators, they were from the Pleiades. These Pleiadians from the Galactic Federation of Light, apparently, either did not quite agree with this law, or decided that no one would find out anything, and decided to meet their contactee halfway.

Maxim: Okay, I got it. I heard it.

Irina (MidgasKaus): This happens, we have freedom of choice.

Maxim: I understand. Here's another question they ask: do you know Radomir? He was also buried and found in a stone coffin.

Irina (MidgasKaus): No, for that you need to look at the burial date.

Maxim: I just asked just in case.

Irina: Orgisha says that this liquid could have been poured onto her body.

(Orgisha): The Angels-consultants told me that before this burial my physical body was taken by "people from the stars" to their star ship. There they did something with it. They took the body literally for a few hours, then returned it back.

(Irina) And so MidgasKaus says that in her body they could have destroyed the intestinal bacteria that cause the body to decompose with special radiation and pumped them out through microscopic holes, somewhere in an inconspicuous place. They could have removed all the blood, which is also a source of decay, and then filled it with a preservative.

49:14 Activities in the Arghi tribe, contacts with aliens.

Maxim: Thank you very much. People ask: were there any interesting technologies at the time you lived? Did you use alien technologies, or were there already some interesting earthly technologies?

Irina (Orgisha): In our tribe, we tried to do everything ourselves, for example, cultivate the land, tame animals using telepathic communication with them. Telepathic communication with animals is only possible at the level of feelings and at the level of images, because they do not understand complex abstract things. Animals do not have the same intelligence as people, they have their own, based on a sensual instinctive nature.

We tried to do everything ourselves, but, as I already said about this box, my mother gave it to me, and my grandmother gave it to her. Sometimes researchers would fly to our tribe, as I now understand, from different planets. We had a site not far from our village, in the forest, where ships would land. Sometimes they would fly in and communicate with us through these boxes. They would speak in some incomprehensible languages, as if clicking their tongues, and our speech would come from the box they carried with them. And they would ask how we were living here, whether we needed help, and they would offer us huge glowing balls that would glow at night and were much brighter than our torches.

Maxim: Interesting.

51:06 Burial place of the princess.

Maxim: Tell me, please, why was it necessary to embalm your body in this way?

Irina (Orgisha): For preservation. So that people would remember that I united tribes. There was something else carved on the sarcophagus.

I asked my Angel-consultants to mentally, in my thoughts, show me an image of this sarcophagus and the place where the body was placed.

(Irina) And now she shows me that it was not placed in a lowland at all. But there was some mountain, covered with forest, but not high, like a hill, and in this mountain a cave was dug artificially. There is loose soil, stones were taken out of there, and a platform was made, some wooden supports on top, and two pillars made of logs are standing. And that is where it was originally placed.

Maxim: Tell me, please... I wanted to ask a question, but it slipped my mind. (reads from the chat) "Was she a Russian girl?" Well, guys! (the hosts laugh)

52:26 Orgisha about the peoples of the Earth in those times.

Maxim: Tell me, please, how many nationalities and ethnic groups were there on planet Earth then?

Irina (Orgisha): I united twenty-five tribes. Each tribe could consist of – a small one of three clans, clan families, and a large one – of fifty or more. That is, these families united into clan communities, which then united into tribes. I knew that there were many different tribes all over the Earth. How many – I did not ask.

53:09 Location of the body of the Tisul Princess.

Maxim: Do you know where your body is now?

Irina (Orgisha): No, I am not connected to him. I asked my Angels-consultants, and they said that after the research in the twentieth century by scientists and determination of the age of my body... They also established that it has genetic anomalies, because the additional parts of DNA from aliens from the planet Apsheron were perceived by scientists as a genetic mutation that is impossible to recognize, and they attributed it all to the damage of the body by this liquid.

But my Angels-consultants told me this when I communicated with them after Mead and LiShioni had contacted me. I communicate with them now. I asked: where is my body now - the same one in which I lived then? And they answered me that it was destroyed in the fire.

Maxim: So they burned it later?

Irina (Orgisha): They told me that according to the energy that they feel, judging by the energy of this body, it was destroyed by fire.

54:31 Orgisha about the dinosaurs of that time.

Maxim: (reads the chat) And now they ask: “Were there wars in those days?”

Irina (Orgisha): No. We had some small ones, not even wars, but fights between individuals. But there were people like the vigilantes, and they maintained order on horses.

Maxim: Tell me, please, were dinosaurs around you then?

Irina (Orgiša): Yes.

Maxim: Were dinosaurs near you?! And how, wait, did you tame them? Did you ride them, use them somehow, what did you do with them?

Irina (Orgisha): As for our tribe specifically, we tried to find dinosaur eggs on the shore of a reservoir (shows an image of a forest and a large reservoir, but this is not a sea, but a large lake).

And there, large dinosaurs often laid eggs, which they hid among the rocks. And our women went out to look for dinosaur eggs and dragged them to themselves. And if we managed to hatch a baby from this egg, then we tried to tame it, but then it still ran away, did not live with us. It's just that in our area there were more predatory species that needed to hunt, and in order for a dinosaur to have the opportunity to hunt, it had to walk many kilometers.

56:08 Vegetarianism among people of that time.

Maxim: Were you vegetarians or did you already eat meat?

Irina (Orgisha): Vegetarians. We could sometimes eat an egg of some birds, and if any of our men, even guys, tried meat or fish, they could get sick. Their stomachs would "get upset", they couldn't digest the food, and they would have stomach pains. Then our doctors would give them special herbs.

Maxim: (answering a question from the chat) Tatyana, we already told you about the box on air, be sure to watch the broadcast later. This box was an antigravitator.

56:51 Orgisha on the language of communication in those times.

Maxim: Orgisha, please tell me what language you spoke, and did you all speak the same language?

Irina (Orgisha): Yes, on one. We could understand each other, but those tribes that had only recently joined our union could already have their own, slightly different language, but it was still understandable. That is, the words were different, but it was quite simple compared to what I now, in the twenty-first century, feel in an inhabitant of Earth through the contactee Irina, through her mental field.

Your language is already complex, with many different concepts. And ours was quite simple and consisted, one might say, of two- or three-syllable words with syllables: "ra", "ma", "sha", "shi", etc. And these words denoted simple actions and objects around us. There were few words related, for example, to science, to space or something else.

58:03 Orgisha on protection from predators.

Maxim: Tell me, did dinosaurs attack people?

Irina (Orgisha): It happened in remote areas, but only if a person walked alone from one tribe to another, because if there were many people, the dinosaurs were afraid. They were afraid, because we already had such devices as a slingshot to scare off predatory animals, and people could aim it at sensitive places and drive them away. But the main thing was to create a mental dome over our settlement, so that no aggressive individuals would seek victims among people.

58:53 Orgisha on teaching children and the climate at that time.

Maxim: Did you have any schools? We teach children in schools, but did you have any?

Irina (Orgisha): Not schools, we had teachers-elders (shows), and both male elders and female elders, grandmothers.

Such teachers told children who came to them themselves about life, about the past, about the history of our tribe, about various everyday rules of our life: how to make a fire, how to maintain it, how to find food. They also told about the gods - that is, about the origin of our world, about what it consists of, and about various magical, as you would say, techniques - about magical art, that is, about the connection with the Spirits of nature.

Maxim: (reads the chat) Here Yulechka Zinnurova asks: “Why didn’t you leave the gravitator to the children, that is, to future generations?”

Irina (Orgisha): They put it there. I couldn't put it there myself, because my body wasn't moving anymore.

Maxim: And did your three children continue to manage the tribe?

Irina (Orgisha): Why they decided so – I don’t know. I myself found out about this box much later.

Maxim: What was the weather like back then? Was it winter?

Irina (Orgisha): No, there was no winter, we didn't know what snow or ice was. For example, it would be sunny for a week, and then there would be a day or two of heavy rain that would water everything, then it would be sunny again.

1:00:39 About the protective “mental dome” and the calendar in that era.

Maxim: I see. And what kind of mental dome was that? How did you create it?

Irina (Orgisha): We were getting ready. Our calendar was divided into 13 months.

Maxim: 13 months?

Irina (Orgisha): Well, the 13th month was not a full month, but rather a period of about five days before the new year. Accordingly, we had no connection to the new year coming in winter, or spring, or summer, because the seasons did not change, and we determined the new year by the stars. For example, our new year began… (shows the starry sky, the constellations are not arranged quite as expected). And they were called differently.

(Irina) MidgasKaus, look, when did their new year start? I can't figure it out in this star chart.

Now MidgasKaus says that at the end of each month there was a day of the lunar month. The moon was visible as a bright star.

Maxim: How many moons were there?

Irina (Orgisha): There were no moons, and the planet that is now called the "Moon" was visible as a bright star. And by this planet, and also by the position of Venus and by the position of the Sun, we determined the months.

Maxim: So the planet that is now our Moon was further from the Earth, am I right?

Irina: Yes, it was visible as a bright star. It now shows me a yellowish star in the sky. I wouldn't say it was very bright. Indeed, at that time there was no artificial lighting, and, by the way, the stars were bright and seemed closer. And there was even... What kind of star was that? Even Jupiter, Mars – everything was clearly visible.

(Orgisha) And by the location of the planet that is now called the Moon, and by the location of Venus, and by the location of the Sun, the months of the year were mainly determined. And at the end of each month there was a day of purification, when we all purified ourselves, our Soul from all mutual grievances, irritations - purified it by connecting with God, that is, it was like a prayer (shows how they burned incense).

And the next day, in the morning, at sunrise, all the adults in our settlement and in other settlements of our tribe gathered in a circle and mentally imagined a bright dome above our settlement and far beyond the borders of our settlement. We gave such instructions to this mental dome that no evil would penetrate it, and no evil creature would pass through, including an evil animal.

But in order to maintain it, this mental dome, it was necessary to behave accordingly. It could easily be destroyed, for example, by the suffering of living beings, especially people who are rational and aware of their suffering. For example, if someone killed someone in our settlement, the mental dome immediately weakened very much - it was like a breach in it. And murder attracts aggression.

Maxim: Right now I'm sitting here and I'm starting to understand. Recently there was information that earthlings have genes from 22 different civilizations. I kept thinking: we were created by three civilizations, how can there be more than 22? And now I understand: they flew here and introduced their genotype into our structures. Is that true?

Irina: If you understand it this way, then practically the entire Interstellar Union participated, with the exception of the insectoids. (laughs)

1:06:32 Other incarnations of the Spirit of Orgishi on Earth, the language of the Arghi tribe.

Maxim: Tell me please, have you incarnated on Earth after you disembodied here?

Irina (Orgisha): Yes, I incarnated on Earth after the war 12,000 years ago.

(Irina) She is now showing me how about 10,000 years ago she was incarnated in a country on the territory where modern Baghdad is located, approximately there. She is showing the Persian Gulf from above.

(Orgisha) I was also incarnated there as a woman, and was one of those who traded in fabrics. Then I was incarnated about 4,200 years ago in Israel, and I knew Abraham personally, I saw him. I was also a woman, and we were friends with his servant, whose name was Hagar.

Maxim: And they ask: how did the words "mama" and "papa" sound in your language? Can you convey this through Irina?

Irina (Orgisha): "Mate" is "mother", that is, "giving birth to the physical body". And "daddy" is "barou" - "big", "possessing great power", "enormous". Something like that.

1:08:48 Orgisha about other intelligent beings on Earth at that time.

Maxim: Tell me, please, were there any other creatures on Earth at that time? For example, after the war, yetis appeared here, but at that time, did you have any creatures that looked like people, but weren't people?

Irina (Orgisha): Only aliens from the stars.

Maxim: Only aliens from the stars...

Irina (Orgisha): And they constantly told us that our Earth is the same little star in their sky, and even invited us to visit their planet on their ship, but few of us agreed: everyone lived more on earth.

1:09:40 Orgisha about clothing and dental treatment in those days.

Maxim: Sergey M. is asking us if you wore panties at the time. (laughs) How can you not ask this question if people are so interested! Explain to her what "panties" are.

Irina: No, there was no such thing. There were tight clothes that were made from plants like ferns. These plants had very soft leaves, they were soaked in water, and then made into a cloth with some stones, and then sewed from it.

Maxim: Guys, the program with the Spirit of the LDPR leader will be released next weekend.

Irina: So you didn't use fur either? But you didn't need it, if it was summer...

Maxim: Well, yes, it would be uncomfortable to wear warm underwear.

Irina: I'm saying that they didn't use fur either.

Maxim: (reads the chat) Here's a great question: "How did you treat your teeth?" Who treated your teeth? How did you treat them?

Irina (Orgisha): What were you treated for?

Maxim: From caries, like we have, for example.

Irina (Orgisha): What is “caries”?

Maxim: Holes in the teeth.

Irina (Orgisha): We didn’t have anything like that.

Maxim: You didn't have holes in your teeth?!

Irina (Orgisha): No, I don't remember that happening, unless it was very old people, their teeth fell out from old age, but young people didn't have that. If their teeth hurt, they drank a special pain decoction, which took the pain away.

(MidgasKaus says): She means a decoction that was both an antiseptic and a painkiller.

Maxim: So no one treated your teeth.

Irina (Orgisha): Well, we had healers and doctors.

Maxim: Interesting...

Irina (Orgisha): These could have been men, they could have been women, who were well versed in herbs.

1:11:50 Orgisha on religion and burial in those times.

Maxim: Did you have any religion? Who did you believe in?

Irina (Orgisha): We believed in God. God was everything around us, and everything around us was His manifestation, and we were also His manifestation. And we also had gods, as beings that also came from God, and they are more powerful than us, because they are on the highest level. And we also believed that our ancestors, their Spirits, help us.

Maxim: Dear Elena Ruslanova, fortunately we are now broadcasting live, we are not having a conference, so I try to read all the questions I ask from the comments you write. Let's move on, we still have a little time. More precisely, we have a few minutes of broadcast, but we will add more.

How did you bury the dead before? What kind of cemeteries were there, or did you burn people?

Irina (Orgisha): It depended on who the person was in life. For example, my body, as I already told you, as the body of a ruler, was decided to be left in this cave. It was up to the elders of the tribe to decide what to do with the body. If they decided to leave it, they left it. If they decided not to leave it, they could burn it or, in some cases, take it on horseback to some river bank and leave it there for various animals, etc.

1:13:49 Orgisha about bees and honey.

Maxim: Sergei Baidikov asks: “Were there bees in those days?”

Irina: Now I'll show her. Were there bees in those days?

Maxim: These are striped flies that make honey.

Irina (Orgisha): Yes, there were, but they looked a little bigger – like hornets. They settled in tree hollows, like wasps, and could get honey. And we had such craftsmen who could go to the hive and mentally address them, and the bees would let them take some of the honey. But only some, because if a person started to destroy their hive, their nest, they could attack him. That is, it was a rather unsafe occupation...

1:14:58 Orgisha about the duration of pregnancy for women in those days, about her appearance.

Maxim: And how long did pregnancy last for women then?

Irina (Orgisha): About ten lunar months. Not lunar, but those that we had – which were determined by the Moon, Venus and the Sun.

Maxim: It turns out to be about ten months – nine months for us. That's how it works out, I get it.

And now a very interesting question. Describe yourself, please, or you, Irina, describe her, how she will show herself to you. Let her describe herself - height, eyes, skin color.

Irina: She shows me a woman with black hair, but for some reason with light, "porcelain" skin. For some reason, a small, round face. Tall.

Maxim: Beautiful? European-looking?

Irina: Like some kind of doll. She has a childish expression on her face, small lips, medium-sized eyes, and they are some kind of light brown, greenish (she is showing me now).

1:16:28 Spiritual levels of the Tisul princess.

Maxim: Tell me, please, from what spiritual level did you incarnate into the Tisul princess, and to what spiritual level did you leave?

Irina (Orgisha): I incarnated into the Tisul princess, according to the terminology of the Interstellar Union, from the 12th level.

Maxim: And did you leave the incarnation, did you disincarnate?

Irina (Orgisha): On the 16th.

1:16:50 Orgisha on marriage in the Arghi tribe.

Maxim: Tell me, please, were marriages concluded then, or were they free relationships? How many women could a man have in a family?

Irina (Orgisha): It was a mutual decision of the man and the woman, but it was not customary for us to have several wives or several husbands, because usually these relationships began with friendship in childhood. That is, the children grew up in the same tribe, were friends with each other, and they developed sympathy for each other.

(Irina) She shows me how the “corridor” is, when they look at each other and don’t notice anyone else.

(Orgisha) And when the children became adults, that is, already capable of creating a family, and decided to do so, then we had a ritual of uniting the two principles - male and female. It was performed by priests.

(Irina) I see the image of a man and a woman in white clothes, who are showered with flowers, and grain is scattered in a circle.

Maxim: In principle, we also shower newlyweds with flowers, grain and money.

Irina: She shows me that these are symbols of fertility, to strengthen this energy.

1:18:30 Conclusion.

Maxim: Well, guys, if you like our broadcasts, please don’t forget to “like” and subscribe to our channels – so that we understand how well and competently we make these broadcasts.

I understand that our broadcasts are watched by a large number of trolls, a large number of dissatisfied people. But in any case, I send everyone the Light of my Love and send everyone to the Light. Thank you very much for being with us!

Our next broadcast will be with Vladimir Volfovich Zhirinovsky. You can write your questions here, ask them to Vladimir Volfovich under this broadcast. I will give our volunteers the task of collecting all these questions.

I think that this broadcast will be simply "bombastic", and I am sure of it, because our interstellar curators, even Ashtar Sheran personally, said that they will tell us many interesting things. I myself am already looking forward to this broadcast. I hope that there will be nothing wrong there, although I can not guarantee anything. The broadcast promises to be very interesting, so tell your friends, and we will meet on the 29th, next weekend, with Vladimir Volfovich Zhirinovsky. And I would very much like his fellow party members to be present at the meeting, who could personally ask him a question.

So bye everyone! We love you all!

Irina: Dear friends, I thank you! I also thank the Tisul princess, MidgasKaus, LiShioni, Maxim! Very interesting information, I listened to it with pleasure.

Orgisha transmits to you the Light of her Love, thanks you for inviting her to the meeting and for your interest in her embodiment. And she says that if this is interesting, then now, at this moment, she is on the 20th spiritual level.

Maxim: Thank you very much! I thank you for agreeing to come to us, to this planet, and through Irina to convey the information that we received from you.

And to those who think that we have schizophrenia, I send my best regards! Guys, see you at the retreats!

January 22, 2023

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, with subtle-material civilizations and with the Spiritual world;

Maxim Rusan – head of the CASSIOPEIA Project and the Center for Spiritual and Physical Development;

MidgasKaus – representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms, curator of the Cassiopeia Project;

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in the astral world and its interactions with the material world, curator of the Cassiopeia Project;

Orgisha (planet Selbet) is a plasmoid of the 14th density level, whose Spirit was previously incarnated in the body of the Tisul princess.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/sem-ehtazhej-astralnogo-mira-zemli-i-sem-chakr-che
Seven floors of the astral world of the Earth and seven human chakras. LiShioni

A person has such a physical body through which the Spirit, a part of the Spirit – the Soul – can manifest, creating an aura as a set of subtle bodies, so that in the body there will be seven points-energy centers, which you call chakras. Each chakra radiates the energy of one or another spiritual part of the Soul at its vibration frequency, and it is these radiations of the chakras that influence the construction of the astral world around the Earth.

Plasmoid civilizations, as you call them, subtle-material, in the understanding of people, do not have such energy centers, chakras, their Spirit manifests itself through the subtle body more holistically. And since physical matter is very dense, then through it the energy of the Spirit manifests itself, speaking in earthly language, unevenly, differs in vibrations. The radiation of the Soul, spiritual energy differs from chakra to chakra.

You call it the difference between chakras, that they are responsible for something, for some specific spheres of life, but we distinguish it vibrationally. And each astral floor, or astral plane, is built from the energies of one or another chakra.

The seven floors of the astral world consist of astral energies, which are a reflection of the characteristics of human chakras. This does not mean that everything on the first floor will be red - the same as the red color of the chakra. It's just that the first human chakra, for example, mainly radiates the energy of instincts, which means that the first floor of the astral world of the Earth is associated with the fact that there will be corresponding egregors and entities, including subtle ones. They can also penetrate the Astral, like humanoids, as well as from the world of non-embodied Spirits.

Astral is a meeting place, any humanoid, plasmoid or non-embodied Spirit in his consciousness can be there. So, on the first floor there are those egregors and those entities that are suitable in their vibrations to the instinctive programs of a person. For example, there are egregors that contain the ideas of self-preservation, reproduction, power and so on.

The astral layers of the Earth are not an analogue of the aura, as in humans, but simply their reflection. Here it is said that each body of the human aura, and we call it not a body, but a field, - each field radiates its frequency into the astral space, and from this the astral world is formed. The process is more complex, I am saying it now so that it is clear.

Timecode: 13:52, #530 Astral world. Earth-Universe. Path of the disembodied Soul. Hall of Memory. 7 floors of the Astral. Akasha.

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in the astral world and its interactions with the material world, and the curator of the Cassiopeia Project.

January, 2023

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/intimnaya-zhizn-inoplanetyan-rody-u-vnezemnyh-zhen #532 Intimate life of aliens. Childbirth in extraterrestrial women. Body practices on other planets.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=RN-2IeWqGvM

00:00 Start of video.

00:19 Conference fragments.

"...And according to our cultural codes, only one person can be close. For example, we practically never have cheating..."

"...Yes, we also have special sensations during sexual union between a man and a woman. What exactly? We can say that this is a fusion of not only bodies, penetration into each other, but also a fusion of Souls..."

"...And any pregnant woman in our race or her husband usually buys, acquires a robot..."

“...The sexual union of a man and a woman also entails a connection on an energetic level, and if it occurs with several partners, then there is a greater risk of lowering the vibrations of each of them, because they begin, like communicating vessels, to exchange energy...”

“...And at the same time, she talks with the Soul of the child, so that when passing through the birth canal, he is not afraid of these new sensations, because they may be unusual for him, and he may develop a fear of pain...”

01:50 Welcome. Introduction of participants.

Tatyana: Hello, my name is Tatyana Kozhevnikova. I would like to tell you in more detail what I do. I am the founder of intimate gymnastics, I have been practicing these practices for thirty years, I developed my own method and called it "intimate gymnastics". I was the first in the world to suggest coordinating the training of internal and external muscles, and I called it "intimate fitness". And, having been training the pelvic floor for many years, I set a Guinness world record and lifted 14 kilograms with my intimate muscles.

No one needs to do this, and these were my capabilities due to the fact that I trained my muscles very actively and diligently. Naturally, my method was created step by step over thirty years. I am also a therapeutic exercise instructor, a fitness trainer, and I have also developed a unique program for building beautiful, feminine body shapes. And now I would like, of course, to turn to Irina... Irina, can I say something else?

You know, I have been doing intimate gymnastics for thirty years, and it so happened in my life that I began to cleanse my body. I became very ill, I had sarcoidosis, and the second group of disability. I began to fast, cleanse my body, and began to work well on the subtle plane - I felt everything, visions came, all this is familiar to me. My teacher even said to me: "Are you an alien?" I saw a lot, felt a lot, programs came to me in meditations: against the background of knowledge of anatomy, physiology, training, new systems of working with the body and meditation were quickly born.

Naturally, I know that all this exists – that there really is something, sometimes beyond people’s understanding. And I also work on Divine, on cosmic energy. But, naturally, I have now gone a little into other practices, and I would like, Irina, to ask you questions so that you can answer. And it will be interesting for me myself, and for the girls, I think, to learn more about women’s practices. I will read right away, Irina, can I?

Irina: Yes, hello Tatyana, hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today, in the astral body next to me is my curator - a biologist, psychologist, specialist in extraterrestrial civilizations from the planet Esler - MidgasKaus. We listened with him, he listens through me, through my perception. He greets you and says that you told everything so well, all the nuances, that even he is interested in what questions you have for him, because you know everything.

Tatyana: Well, we can't know everything...

Irina: Maybe not all, but you know these nuances. That is, he is interested in what questions to ask him.

05:16 MidgasKaus on self-care of alien women, dialogue with internal organs. Disease prevention.

Tatyana: Here is the very first question. How do women from extraterrestrial civilizations take care of themselves? Earth women – they do their hair, put on makeup, let's say, visit spa salons. What is their priority, how do they take care of themselves? Or is it not that important for them?

Irina (MidgasKaus): I will speak mainly about the planet Esler and about those women from other planets of the Interstellar Union whom I know.

Our culture is mainly aimed at conversation, contact with our body, internal dialogue with the organs of our body. This is what our children are taught at school, so that we communicate with the organs and ask them: what, for example, they lack, or what problems they have. That is, for each organ in the body scheme, there is a subtle etheric matrix that can contain information about the state of this organ. And it is from this matrix that information is read when asking questions.

Tatyana: Thank you, great! And I immediately think that I would like our earthly children to be taught this more in school, to be told about it. For us, all this is closed information, only grown-up people study it. Why aren't they telling us this in school now, aren't there any subjects for children to study their bodies, talk to their internal organs and get sick less, really?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, we have that. And as for illness, Esler and the Interstellar Union as a whole have a developed system of prevention. This is considered the best medical system for us – a system of spiritual, psychological, physical and energetic prevention of various illnesses.

Of course, diseases are specific to each race, they depend on the conditions on the planet, on the genotype of a particular race, on its psychotype, etc. For example, on Esler, for those diseases that can arise in our bodies, we take into account their prevention from childhood. And we teach this to children in families - we teach prevention from preschool age, and we have a special subject at school called "Fundamentals of safe operation of the physical body."

Tatiana: Great!

Irina (MidgasKaus): Not even "safety", but "Basics of harmonious interaction with the physical body". That is, the teachers there talk about how the Spirit, as an immortal entity that has incarnated into the body, makes the body a part of itself and is fully responsible for it. That is, it connects with every cell, every molecule in the body and conducts a continuous energy exchange with the environment around it - the dense-material environment, the subtle-material environment, with the Spiritual world. And all this affects the state of the body - not only, for example, food, water or air, but also those ethereal energies that a humanoid, or a person, if we are talking about Earth, exchanges with subtle-material entities. And, naturally, the body is influenced by its thoughts, feelings, emotions - what we call the astral and mental planes.

Well, the body itself, its condition also affects the Spirit, but not the entire Spirit, but its embodied part, the Soul. Because the condition of the body can raise or lower the vibrations of the Soul due to changes in emotions, desires. After all, you, as physical beings, know well from your own experience that it is very difficult to engage in any spiritual practice until the needs of the body are satisfied.

Tatyana: Of course. I don’t know whether they practice yoga or not, but the thought immediately occurred to me (I didn’t want to ask such a question): simply those who practice yoga professionally – they practice both the physical body and spiritual practice. And this connection – spirit-body, I think that after all...

Irina (MidgasKaus): That is, so that there are some specific poses – we don’t have it so developed. Because for us the body pose doesn’t have such significance for working with the body, we have rather an internal dialogue.

Tatyana: Cool! This is just me, an emotion.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Internal dialogue, or perhaps also a visualization technique (for example, a person can also learn this), when they visualize this or that part of the body, or this or that organ, or the ideal work of this organ in their imagination, and then make this image larger, and as if merge with it, absorb it into their body. This way they tune the cells of their body to a certain work.

11:43 MidgasKaus on teaching children the basics of disease prevention in schools on Esler.

Tatyana: Irina, do women have any gynecological diseases at all? Or is it just a preventative measure, and they don't get sick in principle? As I just told you about many diseases, how do earthly women get such illnesses.

Irina (MidgasKaus): We have disease prevention in the female and male spheres, and we also tell children about the work of these organs. That is, they learn about this in childhood - that men and women have different organs, what their purpose is. They also talk at school about how these organs are conductors of the energy of Divine Love in its physical manifestation.

12:34 MidgasKaus on love and physical pleasure on Esler.

Tatyana: And then the question about intimacy immediately arises, a frank question: after all, earthly women, when making love, want to experience an orgasm on a physical level, to rest, to relax. And on Esler, do women make love to a man in exactly the same way, or do they experience it all differently in their sensations?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, we also have special sensations during sexual union between a man and a woman, what exactly – we can say that it is a fusion of not only bodies, penetration into each other, but also a fusion of Souls into one being (shows Irina such a fusion). That is, it is also a unity on a spiritual level.

Tatyana: Great, thank you. By the way, when I was talking about us, of course, we, earthly people, also strive for this, because after all, physical pleasure is great, but when there are both physical and spiritual sensations, a connection on a spiritual level, it is much stronger. Then comes the understanding of Love for each other, which is very important.

13:50 MidgasKaus on views on cheating on a sexual partner on Esler.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Moreover, our body is designed in such a way that our, as you say, hormonal system, that is, special substances that cause specific changes in various organs, including sex hormones - they can be released for sexual arousal in our race only if there is a desire to unite with a beloved woman or a beloved man, in whom you love not only the body or property, but the Soul. That is, if this person is not spiritually close, then we will not experience sexual arousal.

And according to our cultural codes, only one person can be close, that is, for example, we practically do not have cheating. And if he cheated on his spouse - then you need to change your body, your perception, your hormonal system very much. But no one needs this, since everyone knows about the consequences of such an act, because in school, among other things, they tell you that the sexual union of a man and a woman also entails a connection on an energetic level, and their auras become similar to each other.

Tatiana: I agree, this is absolutely correct!

Irina (MidgasKaus): And if this happens with several partners, then there is a greater risk of lowering the vibrations of each of them, because they begin, like communicating vessels, to exchange energies. For example, one is sad, and this affects the others.

Tatyana: Irina, I think that the same thing happens to earthly people. But we are not taught this, people do not understand.

16:06 MidgasKaus on sex education and upbringing of earthly children.

Irina: What do you think about this kind of school for children?

Tatyana: A school for children? I think we should have such a school too. Irina, you know, even many specialists – I know one, she was a deputy minister of health, I won't give her name, she wanted to teach this, to tell teenagers aged 16–18 about the culture of relationships. And she was "asked" to leave her seat in a civilized manner, and so on. She said: "Tatiana, there you go."

That is, we have a very negative attitude towards this. And this is wrong, they all want it, and they all know it, you understand what I'm talking about, right? There (gestures upward) for some reason they don't let us explain it to the children.

Irina: Mead is now, I feel, surprised and says that if she was "asked" to leave some school, then those who "asked" her, as they think: who owes it to children, to the younger generation, who will give birth to their children and take care to raise worthy successors of earthly civilization – who will explain to them how to do this?

Tatyana: This is also an interesting question. I think that it is our Ministry of Health that should make the decision so that we have such an upbringing. They talk about it, teach some subjects in school, but not so deeply that children... now at the age of 10 girls have their monthly cycles and so on. My generation, we were more "behind" - for us at the age of 14, and now already - at 8 and 10, yes, this is already serious. Therefore, children need to be taught, some subjects should be very literate, explain the relationship between a boy and a girl...

Irina (MidgasKaus): Here they tell us about all these nuances of the female and male organisms, they teach, as I already said, "Basics of Harmonious Interaction with the Body." It's like your biology, only it studies a rational being. We have a separate biology that studies the animal and plant world of the planet, but still, special attention is paid to the subject that studies the body in which you live.

Tatyana: We hope that someday it will be like this for us too.

Irina (MidgasKaus): This is the first subject of relations with your body. And also at school we have a subject in which they talk about spiritual laws, you usually call them moral and ethical laws, and we call them “laws of the Spiritual world”. This is about how to live in a family, how to interact with parents, your own spouse, how to get acquainted, how to ask your Higher Self if he or she is suitable in vibrations. And also – how to talk to your mentors in the Spiritual world and ask how many Spirits are “assigned”: there is an agreement in the Spiritual world about their incarnation. How to talk to them, together adjust the period of incarnation, and how to correctly conceive, carry and give birth to a child, and raise it. To raise means to nourish its Soul, not the body. All this is covered in our extensive subject called “Family Psychology”.

20:06 MidgasKaus about childbirth on Esler.

Tatyana: I wanted to ask, when a woman gives birth, does a doctor also deliver the baby, just like with earthly people?

Irina (MidgasKaus): It happens differently for us. Usually it is done by a personal robot, because we have biorobots, and any pregnant woman of our race or her husband usually buys, acquires a biorobot specifically for her needs, which is already configured for all medical nuances. It has medical programs, and, naturally, these are programs for obstetrics and child care, that is, it is approximately one - both an obstetrician and a nanny. It can be a biorobot, for example, in the form of a woman of the same race, because you can give it any body shape, and she can walk, talk, understand what is said to her. It is like a technological computer, only in the "Esler body".

And it happens that the husband and even other children can be present at the birth, but this is only with mutual desire, it is not obligatory. But usually there is no need to go somewhere to a clinic, because if suddenly any problems arise, the robot that helps the woman give birth has a special connection embedded in its chips, and it can call for help that will take you somewhere to a medical institution.

But usually such problems do not arise, because, for example, when the time of delivery approaches, the woman, being constantly in contact with the Soul that has come to incarnate, harmonizes with it, and they agree on when this time of delivery will come. And when this comes, the woman talks to her body, to her organs, so that they relax. She even talks to the pain receptors so that they translate the pain into other sensations, and at the same time talks to the Soul of the child, so that when passing through the birth canal, he is not afraid of these new sensations, because they may be unusual for him, and he may develop a fear of pain.

(Irina) How do you like this item?

23.26 MidgasKaus on correct gymnastics on Esler and on Earth. The role and state of concentration.

Tatyana: I wanted to ask about what we called "intimate gymnastics" or "pelvic floor muscle training". Do women do it, pump up their muscles, or do they not need to do that?

Irina (MidgasKaus): We have a similar one, I wouldn't say that it is very similar, but there is a similarity with the earthly system of muscle training. But this is optional, we have different systems, just like any gymnastics. This can be optional. Some are interested in this, but I have already said that the main thing for us is the internal content of each practice. And even if a woman does this, she will still talk to this part of the body during the exercises.

There are many people on Earth who do some physical exercise, any gymnastics, not only this one, and they themselves think about something else or, for example, count the time until the end of the exercise, or something else. But we don’t do it that way, we concentrate on the part of the body that tenses and relaxes, and track the sensations there and visualize in that place, for example, an increase in muscles or an influx of blood, like that.

Tatyana: I agree, and here we are similar, to be honest. Of course, you can program your body in your sleep, you can train it in meditation, draw beautiful forms, visualize, program it. You can even pump up your muscles in your sleep.

Irina: He says that while doing these exercises, Esler's woman also imagines how they are being done.

Tatyana: Absolutely right. Of course, there should be concentration. But I think that earthly people – all those who are professionally involved, and even non-professionally, intuitively feel that they need to concentrate on what they are doing.

Irina (MidgasKaus): I just know that many people who do fitness or sports, or any other type of physical activity, they are not used to tracking the sensations of their body, they are distracted by something external.

Tatyana: Of course there is such a thing.

Irina (MidgasKaus): And this actually reduces the effect of the exercise. For example, even simple walking (demonstrates) can be done with concentration on each step and on the rhythm of breathing, and when other thoughts go away.

Tatyana: And also on pulsation.

Irina (MidgasKaus): And when a person enters a state of this concentration on walking and on his breathing, he will have a state of expansion of the etheric body, and then this will cause a state of expansion of consciousness, an altered state of consciousness, and he will feel that he is merging with nature, where he walks. This will contribute to the increase of his vibrations and the development of meditative states.

Tatyana: Meditative abilities – too, I agree with you. And I would like to say that I am truly grateful to Irina that we have the opportunity to understand and see that there are other worlds. And there are a lot of people working on the subtle plane now, and a lot of people who see – each somewhere in their own area. And earthly people have become, let's say, more conscious, they have begun to wake up, they have begun, as you say, to feel their body, many are already talking to their body. And people have begun to feel this: once – some thoughts have run through their minds, they begin to understand why, to track their thoughts.

It is really gratifying that thanks to many other civilizations, and thanks to you, Irina, and other specialists, I repeat, this information is being conveyed to people, people have begun to withdraw more into themselves and feel themselves inside, which is very important, I think, for every person.

I don't know what other interesting question to ask...

28:24 MidgasKaus on the study of foreign languages by aliens.

Tatyana: Yes, and how do they speak? Do they all have a different language?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Do you mean in the Interstellar Union or on Esler?

Tatyana: In general, they have different Galaxies there, and they are all different...

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, in our Galaxy, of course, there are many languages, but we don't have such an activity as studying any language, because we have automatic translators.

Tatyana: Interesting. And I thought they communicated with their thoughts.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Well, if there is a desire to learn a language, this can be done, of course, but usually it is practiced to study not galactic languages, but the languages of those planets where specialists work. For example, I am from the planet Esler, and I decided to learn Russian from Earth, because I decided to contact Russia. There are Eslerians who studied English, Japanese, etc.

But we, of course, can also use certain devices (shows a box - an automatic translator, you can put any dictionary of any language in it, and it will translate). But I studied it to better understand earthlings, because the vocabulary of the language and the different word usage say a lot about the psychology of this or that species. Therefore, I studied this language to better understand the earthlings with whom I had to work, although this was not necessary for my work.

For example, I am now in an astral body and speak simply in thought forms, that is, I send thoughts directly from my mental field to the mental field of the contactee. And this does not require any language, this way you can communicate with absolutely any creature - telepathically.

30:35 MidgasKaus on the purpose of communication between aliens and earthlings. Physical contactees and flights of earthlings across the planets of the Galaxy.

Tatyana: Why did they want to communicate with us? Why do they want to communicate with earthly people at all, why do they need it?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Because we want not only to pass on our knowledge about our Galaxy, but we also want to help earthlings – to pass on to them certain spiritual practices and knowledge about the Spiritual World, about themselves, so that they can build more perfect families. And more perfect families make up a more perfect society, which will get rid of violence, wars, crime and will be able to enter our Interstellar Union as an equal partner.

Tatyana: Do they think we will ever be able to visit their planets? They can come down to us, but we... It is clear that not everyone can fly into space, and aliens, of course, understand this. But will we, people, ever be able to fly there?

Irina: Physically?

Tatyana: Yes, I am asking about "physically". Of course, we can move energetically, but physically? Or will this never happen?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Before your planet joins the Interstellar Union, physical contactees can physically fly to other planets. We have quite a few of them, Irina is one of them, she is physically transported around the planets of the Galaxy.

Tatiana: Interesting.

32:06 Physical contacts of Irina.

Irina: Yes, my last physical contact was in the summer, but it was not with MidgasKaus, but with another alien, with my first curator, his name is Kirkhiton, he is from the planet Daraal. He has been with me since I was thirteen, my first curator, and he just happens to fly to me for physical contacts, this is in a deserted place, in the evening. I go there, he flies by on a saucer, takes me to himself with a beam and shows me some planet.

And since I have been in the Cassiopeia Project for a long time, now the simple visits to planets according to some plan of Kirkhiton have stopped and started according to other rules. The administrators of the Cassiopeia Project discuss with people what interests them, what planet I should visit, what I should find out there and what to ask. That is, what interests people. I usually prepare a list of questions in a certain notebook, fly there and ask them there, and write down the answers too.

I recently had a flight to one of the planets where people with shells live, similar to turtles, that is, such creatures. And why did I fly there - because about a year and a half ago there was... These biorobots that Mead was just talking about, they are on all the planets. So, on that planet a "virus" happened: some scientist flew there and began to experiment with these biorobots, and from this they developed a "virus" that affected their instinct for self-preservation. And they began to defend themselves from repairs, and there were clashes with humanoids. Another planet intervened to help, in short - a "robot uprising".

Tatyana: Is it scary? I asked the question incorrectly – it's exciting! In general, when you move – is it a little scary, everything is new, or is it not scary anymore?

Irina: I have had physical contacts since I was thirteen, I am 36 now, so I have had quite a lot of them. I have already been taken all over the Galaxy, for example, I have been to Burkhad many times (this is the capital of the Interstellar Union, in the constellation Cygnus). And have you watched any of my videos?

Tatyana: Yes, I watched it on YouTube.

Irina: Well, one of my flights was to the Planet of Criminals, in the constellation of Aries, it's also interesting there. They keep criminals there separately, and each of them is assigned a spiritual psychologist who helps them through their Higher Self to realize what they have done and to come to changes in their minds.

35:08 MidgasKaus on the types of contactees.

Tatyana: Irina, here is a question for the person we are talking to now (I didn't remember his name), and for you. I also talk to different people, and I recently had a case – I was telling you what questions I would ask you when I was working out in the gym, and one man said: "Tatiana, I saw this too, and I am a normal person." And he tells the situation, who he saw, and that these are really unusual people. And I immediately formulated a question for myself, and he asks me the same: "Why did they appear in our space?" He lives outside the city. "And I," he says, "saw this, Tatyana, indeed, I can even tell you, if it can be told."

And he says: "It really is, of course, they were some kind of alien creatures, or something... I was scared, of course. And my dogs didn't come out of their kennel for two days. And I even swung my arm, and it was as if my hand was stopped. Tatyana, it's true, I'm a normal person." And he asks me a question: "You ask," he says, "why did they come to me?"

Irina (MidgasKaus): So, he may be a contactee. We call a contactee a person who has a task of incarnation - contacts. Contactees are different on Earth - there are physical ones, like Irina, there are astral ones. But Irina can contact both on the astral level and on the mental one, she already has three microchips at the present moment, which help her transmit this information, and with the help of which her environment is monitored, where she is, the harmonization of her physical body and energy. Yes, these chips are from two civilizations.

In general, there are 727 humanoid civilizations in the Galaxy, 117 of which are members of the Interstellar Union, and of these 117, forty-two civilizations are in more or less constant contact with earthlings. But only six of them have regular physical contacts.

37:26 Contact goals.

Tatyana: Irina, can I ask you a question? I have some girls I know who are also contactees. Can anyone become a contactee? And does becoming a contactee mean learning technologies, or is it some kind of gift? Simply put, can anyone do this or not?

Irina: It depends on who and what. We are already contactees, all people are contactees at least with their Higher Self. The Higher Self is you yourself in the Spiritual World, it is the non-embodied part of you in the Spiritual World, and we contact it consciously or not. If consciously, then with the help of the “question-answer” method, when a person asks himself, and an answer comes to him.

Tatyana: And now I’m asking about “them”, not everyone can do it with “them”, right?

Irina: And with “them” – in fact, quite a lot of people can learn contacts, but those who have it in their life task of incarnation. After all, each person does not just come here, but with some specific tasks, and these tasks go beyond this incarnation. This means that we do not come to live in this body, then leave it to fertilize the Earth – and that’s it, nothing else happens. We are immortal Spirits who have many global tasks that are solved not only in this incarnation. And if this task includes contacting on some level, then it can be learned.

But the thing is that the goals of contacts can also be different. For example, my goal of contact is informational, which means receiving and transmitting information – that's my goal of contact. There can be a goal of contact – healing, for example. That is, some healer passes various energies through himself and heals people – through his hands, through his gaze, using different methods. There can be a goal of contact in general – observation, and some hints are given about life. That is, they give some hints about a person's own life – where to go, where not to go. This is usually done, as we say, by a spiritual mentor. Of course, he does not take away a person's will, the person has the right to disobey him, just as a student can disobey a teacher.

Tatiana: Of course.

40:02 About the gift of contacting.

Tatyana: And could it be that a gift was given, let's say, to some person, and he is lazy, does nothing. Can they take it away from him and give the gift to someone else? This, perhaps, is no longer a question for aliens, but maybe for them too?

Irina: Good question. (laughs)

Tatyana: Well, he doesn't want to do anything! You gave it to him, he started, and then he quit, saying: "I don't want to." And they gave him a gift, and then they said: "Well, you don't need it, we'll give it to someone else."

Irina: They may not take it away, but block it. But if they block it, he will not fulfill the goals of his incarnation, if this gift was given to him. A gift is a certain enhanced ability, as I understand it. But if he blocks it - it is not even blocked for him, but he does it himself - he does not develop, does not fulfill the tasks, then he will receive some warnings in his life that he is not fulfilling his task and may follow a negative scenario of the development of his fate line.

Tatyana: I understand, by the way, you said it clearly. Thank you!

Irina, I think I have asked the most basic questions. Of course, I would like to hear them too, but on my level...

48:23 About the school of contactees in Cassiopeia.

Irina: We have a school for contactees, where I and psychologist Ilya Aleksandrov teach how to contact your Higher Self, and through contact with the Higher Self, build contacts with your curators. We call a curator a being from another world. It depends on where you live – if you live in Russia, you can come for training.

Tatyana: How long does your training last?

Irina: In Voronezh, it is six full days of training, six hours a day. Ilya teaches us two days, I teach three days. And everyone who comes to study gets to me for a personal session with the Higher Self. And already at the personal session, I lead you to your Higher Self, and you ask it what your goals of incarnation are, whether you are a contactee, with whom, what tasks, how to learn to communicate with them. That is, it is not me or my curators who answer you, but your own Spirit, who knows everything about you.

Tatyana: Irina, is there anything recorded there, or is it all in your “computer” – in your head – that everything fits in?

Irina: When we conduct classes, we tell something, then ask questions, I conduct practices, including showing how to introduce other people to the Higher Self. I show all this - how to work with yourself, with others. Then we conduct a practice on how to communicate with the Spirits of Nature. There are Spirits of Nature who are responsible for nature. And there you can set up, for example, like many, a dictaphone to record.

Tatyana: Irina, do you give some kind of diploma, certificate?

Irina: We give a certificate, it’s called “Higher Self Course, First Level.”

Tatyana: And then, when we finish training (I'm asking for myself), do you let the girls and men go "free swimming", or do you still help and support them?

Irina: And then everything depends on their desire. If they want to work with people, want to become masters, then they first take their relatives and friends to the Higher Self, for example, collect twenty written reviews, according to that method, and contact us with these twenty reviews. We have our own school curator who will help you get enrolled. She herself graduated from this school with us, and puts an announcement on the site so that people can contact her. But for this, it is necessary to agree to the terms of the Cassiopeia Project.

Tatyana: That's what I wanted to ask: if I work for you, for example?

Irina: Yes, to accept people to the Higher Self only on the terms of payment "according to the heart" (namely to the Higher Self, I am not talking about physical practices now). To lead to the Higher Self is considered spiritual knowledge, and therefore, payment "according to the heart", "according to the spirit".

Tatyana: That's why I asked. Indeed, if someone has learned, and it is difficult for the person to move somewhere on their own, then your Center can still help, do you have such a service according to your rules?

Irina: Yes, those who have completed our training can be on our website. If a person has not completed our training, or has completed it but has some other practices, he can, for example, contact the Sacral school, specifically Masha Sokalskaya, she also works with the Cassiopeia Project. And the conditions for all Sacral specialists are the same as for all Cassiopeia masters. The only thing is that there are masters there who have not studied with us, that is, they carry those practices for those people who cannot come, something else...

Tatyana: I want to say that I looked at the information about your school, I was inspired, I started studying. And what is really good is that many teachers, masters can declare themselves, and also good conditions for cooperation, which is also nice, actually.

Irina: And besides us – me and Ilya – in this school of contactees, the head of our Center, Maxim Rusan, also teaches. He tells the students how to work in our Project, what financial opportunities for growth exist in esotericism, so that a person can provide for himself and also accept on the terms of payment “according to the heart”; what commercial components there are in the Cassiopeia Project, what non-commercial ones. And he explains all this in detail, answers questions.

Tatyana: Thank you, Irina, it was very nice to talk to you, easy, so to speak. This is very important, because I was still a little nervous, and everything went very harmoniously, and I am very pleased. I am very grateful to you.

Irina: Okay, I am grateful too. Dear friends, thank you for watching this conference. Forgive me if the questions were repeated, but it was important for me to once again clearly tell about the school, about our schools, about our opportunities. Come, study, help people – we have all the conditions for this!

Tatiana: That's it, thank you!

Irina: See you there!

Tatiana: All the best!

January 26, 2023

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, with subtle-material civilizations and with the Spiritual world;

Tatyana Kozhevnikova – therapeutic exercise instructor, fitness trainer, developer of intimate gymnastics;

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, and specialist in alien life forms.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/duh-ioanna-bogoslova-o-napisanii-apokalipsisa
The Spirit of John the Theologian on the writing of the Apocalypse and its numerical symbols

I wrote this based on information I received during astral travels, only I didn't call it Astral. I went into the Spiritual World, and Jesus came to me there, Archangels came and gave me information in symbols and images, and I wrote it down.

The number 7 denoted the impact on each of the seven, as you call it, human energy centers through each of the seven floors of the astral world. That is, certain feelings and images were described. 7 was the number, to put it simply, of the Mystery of God (Divine Mystery). 4 is the number-symbol of the material world.

If we look at the teaching of Pythagoras, which I read in Greek, then these numbers - 7 and 4 - denote the Mystery of God, manifested in the material world. This is the Revelation itself, the genre of "revelation" itself, or in Greek - the Apocalypse. Specifically, where it talks about Angels and trumpets, it was a description of the impact on each energy center of a person through figurative thinking.

There is talk about 7 appeals to a person, each of which has an impact on a certain area of his life, controlled by a chakra.

The rider is a man on a horse. The horse is a symbol of movement. When I wrote about riders of different colors, hidden under them is... Since this is the Mystery of God, I wrote the Revelation not for everyone, but for those who have the ability to see the mystery. That is, someone who has the same spiritual knowledge as me and the other apostles, he will see the meaning in this. And whoever does not have this spiritual knowledge will simply see a story about certain events that are described there. And what is hidden behind them, he will not be able to find out until he achieves the same spiritual understanding, the same spiritual wisdom.

As for the rider, it is understood as the meaning of the change of the time cycle, the coming of the next era. And they alternate there: one rider comes and brings with him certain phenomena, then he is replaced by another. That is, here the rider is a symbol of time. And not even just time, like, for example, the flow of a river, but namely a certain era, as you say - a quantum transition.

You are now at the stage of the red rider (red means red). These eras, they replace each other cyclically. If you, dear friends, open the text, you will see that before the appearance of the rider, some events occur. And then, during his appearance, the consequences of these events occur.

When I was in the Spiritual World, I looked at time – not at one time, but at the flow of time, and perceived it as events happening simultaneously. And I felt eternity. Eternity, roughly speaking, is stopped time. It is when time stops, and you yourself determine how much time has passed for you, but nothing changes.

Timecode: 49:47, #535 Live broadcast with the Spirit of John the Evangelist/ 12 apostles/ Episode 3.

The Phantom of the Spirit of John the Theologian from the Spiritual World is one of the twelve apostles, a disciple of Jesus Christ.

February, 2023

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/obshchenie-s-duhom-vladimira-zhirinovskogo
#533 Communication with the Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=4H07n9bhxWg

00:00 Start of video.

00:01 Greetings. Project News.

Maxim: And then - 10 minutes ahead, and that's where the conversation will start. But before you do that, be sure to click "like". Like it, because it will give us the opportunity to promote our channel: by promoting our channel, you give us the opportunity to broadcast our videos, to shoot these videos. So like it, subscribe to the channel and skip ahead 10 minutes if you are not interested in the news that is happening in the Cassiopeia Project.

As always, I want to start by saying that today's broadcast is dedicated to Vladimir Volfovich Zhirinovsky, and the Spirit of Vladimir Volfovich is already here, with us, together with Irina, for about fifteen minutes now. I have already managed to inquire, get to know him better, ask a couple of questions. Everything will be very interesting. I am sure that this broadcast will be watched not only by our "schizoterics" who watch us constantly and often.

Guys, don't be offended that I call you "schizoterics": it's just that for many other materialistic people, we really don't fit into the concept of their perception of the universe. That's why I lovingly call us "schizoterics" who go through transformations of 4d, 5d, 6d, 7d, 9d, 12d - whoever can think of how many d's, because, indeed, our world is going through a transition, vibrations are changing, the vibration of atoms is changing.

(reads the chat) Class: "Greetings from Novosibirsk!" Hello, Omsk, Novosibirsk! Guys, you know, I want to say that I have never seen so many people right at the very beginning of our broadcast - 2,500 people. I understand that Vladimir Volfovich was such a significant figure for many, such an interesting person, that even before it had begun, the broadcast gathered 2,500 people. Guys, this is really cool, and even for the Cassiopeia Project!

(reads chat) "Bald daddy..." (laughs) I thought they called me bald again. I'm already trying not to shave on purpose, so I can grow hair.

So, that's what I was talking about, Irina?

Irina: About Vladimir Volfovich.

Maxim: Yes, about this wonderful person. Look: we have a chat, it's called "Question - Answer. Live broadcast". We created it specifically so that when the broadcast on YouTube ends, you could write questions in this chat for the live broadcasts that we will conduct. There are different platforms where we will continue to connect with you. Plus - under this video there are links where you can find everything about the Cassiopeia Project. That is, our website, our online store, and the health center are there.

You can go down the link and go to the place in the Project where you are interested. If you are interested in, say, healing, we even have (for those who don't know us well) our own personal products that we have already started releasing so that these products help the physical body of the human organism to develop harmoniously and grow. That is, speaking about spiritual vibrations, spiritual bodies, we, as the Cassiopeia Project, never forget that we are physical bodies.

We have such a cool product (shows), it is called "Cassiopeia Energy". We even write that it is the energy of the Earth and the Universe in every cell.

This is acidophilic dried wheatgrass juice: it is dried in a cryo-environment and crystallized into specific crystals. Due to the fact that we do this not through drying, but through a cryo-environment, all the nutrients and chemical elements are completely preserved - so that you can fill each of your cells with energy.

We found a side effect of Cassiopeia Energy. The side effect is an increase in female libido by tens of times. Men ask me if it increases male libido. Guys, I will tell you honestly: you will have enough energy to increase everything you want if you try what Cassiopeia Energy is.

And for those people who have problems with the gastrointestinal tract, with heartburn, with constant nagging pain in the stomach, in the abdomen, in the intestines, plus problems with prostatitis, there are such probiotic microorganisms (shows). Bulgarian stick is generally considered an anti-inflammatory drug, that is, it completely kills all destructive microflora in the stomach and intestines.

Along with the Bulgarian bacillus, we have two more types of probiotic microorganisms that are fully engaged in the purification, stabilization, and harmonization of all internal intestinal processes. This is very suitable for people who are old and have poor digestion. That is, our products help improve digestion and completely cleanse the gastrointestinal tract. Because the stomach is information. And in order for information to be correctly perceived, the stomach must work.

(answering a question from the chat) It works, yes. It all works.

What else do we have? We have a product called Cassiopeia Aroma (shows). Guys, we have reached a slightly different level – we have started studying how essential oils work, that is, we have started studying Vedic medicine. We have started receiving feedback from our interstellar friends and have realized that, in fact, a real first aid kit can be made up of essential oils alone.

Here, in such a beautiful box, we present the following essential oils: bergamot, mint, frankincense, tea tree, basil, eucalyptus, geranium, lemon, orange, lavender. These are all oils that are aimed at developing your energy system: your chakra systems can be affected by essential oils in a certain sequence, plus these same oils can be used for health improvement.

I know that in Ayurvedic medicine they do not use any pharmaceuticals at all, but use natural products and essential oils. Essential oils can treat a huge number of diseases. The main thing is to do it correctly, competently.

(reads the chat) "Maxim, tell me, do you know anything about bioresonance equipment?" Dear friends, what do you mean, do I know? In our health center there are chic, absolutely new developments - magnetic bioresonance equipment, which is engaged in programming your magnetic field, your auric energy substance - in order to give the right vibrations for the restoration of internal organs and all internal structures. We have a "Light Chamber" for this in our health center.

Plus, we have equipment in our health center that doesn't exist anywhere else in the world. This is equipment called "Da Vinci's Egg". It was assembled by a nuclear physicist and has already been installed. By the way, I invite his son, who called me and offered to take this equipment, to my health center. Hello, dear! I'm waiting for you here, with us, I won't give your name, in case you're hiding something.

Everything is ready – the “Light Cameras” are installed, the camera based on the “Kozyrev Mirrors” effect is also installed, the “Da Vinci Egg” is installed. I wanted to prepare some photos for you today, to show you all this, but I thought that it would be better if we made a whole video. We have almost finished all the repair work in the Center. A video presentation of our new Voronezh Center and the wellness center and the spiritual center and the center in general, as the center of the Earth (laughs) – the center for gathering our contactees, healers, energy practitioners who participate in the Cassiopeia Project. Therefore, we will even make a small opening of our Center, but I will tell you about this later.

What else do we have? We made these little calendars (shows). This is the Galactic Calendar of the Cassiopeia Family. These are such interesting things, they are inexpensive – I think 750 or 500 rubles even, they are sold in the online store. We made a lot of them. You can even buy them for your friends as a joke and give them as a gift. Here is MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, you see: a gorgeous painting. Our artist is Elena Tkach, her works are fully exhibited in this calendar. Saint-Germain too, you see, with such interesting paintings – with artificial intelligence. Kirkhiton is here, Mirakh Count, Klyaer Resuf, Raom Tiyan – in general, it is very interesting. Here we even have LiShioni, insectoids, the planet Disnit, and these are reptilians: Te Per Hredours – also one of the curators of our Project, who comes.

And the most important news. You know, I woke up in the morning, and my curators and mentors told me that we absolutely must do a retreat, but one that we have never done anywhere else. It must be in Israel, and they even gave me an internal program for this retreat.

We have this retreat in Israel divided into two blocks specifically. The first block is for those people who are new to esotericism and who are interested in how the universe is structured - structures, settings of contact and the Higher Self. And the second block is dedicated to advanced esotericists who work in various esoteric, energetic, psychological and other areas of work with people. That is, there is a very rich program there.

There is also a link under this video, you can follow it so that I do not sound unfounded. The entire program is described there, but as far as I know, there are only places left for the first block. The second block is all, there are no places. Unfortunately, we cannot accept everyone for the second block, because in the second block, Irina Podzorova holds personal daily receptions for all the people who attend these classes. There are only 21 people there. There are still places for the first block, there will also be personal communication with Irina Podzorova, she will then supervise you further, take you to the Higher Self, but this will no longer be offline, it will be online. And in the second block, all 21 people will get an appointment with Irina during the training period and the feedback period.

(reads the chat) "Where can I see the calendar?" On the website. The link to our website is also under this video, all the links are there. Guys, we don't get lost. Even if YouTube is closed, you can, just by watching this video and going down to its descriptive part, find all the links you need, even - where we meet if the YouTube channel is closed. That is, we will definitely provide a platform there.

(reads chat) No, the broadcast is not frozen. There is something wrong with your internet, or with the servers on the internet.

"Crimea is with you! Have a fantastic broadcast! Ira, Maxim, as always..." Thank you, Lenochka, very much.

In general, in fact, I want to thank all the people who support our Project. Our Project is one big family, and I, as the leader, will be happy to take care of each member of our family who are in this Project. Irishka will not let me lie: all day long I am engaged in the administration of the Center, all day long I am engaged in ensuring that you, as future specialists in the esoteric direction, can come to the space that is built with the help of the cosmic forces of our interstellar friends, the forces of Love and various kinds of light energies and vibrations. This is our Center, which is here in Voronezh, and we also have a Center in Moscow. You can also subscribe to it, so watch and follow our news. The link to the next retreat in Israel is under this video.

Alleya, I forgot about you, my sunshine: you have a retreat too! I will ask our moderators to add a link to Alleya's retreat on the "Tree of the Pillar" below. Our Alleya, as a master, also travels around the cities, teaches people, passes on knowledge and information to you. And she is also the administrator of our Moscow Center. So look, look for Alleya: she is going to have some kind of bombastic retreat on new energies on the "Tree of the Pillar" soon. So I am sure that when we finish this broadcast, or now my assistant Lenochka will see me and ask Artem to add this link right under this broadcast.

But you know, nothing happens for no reason. Don't worry, all of you who are worried that I'm taking up too much time on the air (I feel your vibrations). Don't worry, I'll literally have three more minutes. Why? Because I have a very interesting poem for you. You know, I write poems myself, but unfortunately, these are not my poems. I'll probably read mine to you on the next broadcast. I was just walking around the Center today and saw a piece of paper lying in Irina's room. And I know that this poem was written by one of the graduates of our "Cassiopeia" school, who took the contactee course.

We have courses: "Healing through the Higher Self" - this is a health course, we have contactee courses and there are courses that we conduct additionally with the arrival of all our masters - these are courses in cosmoenergetics, regression... Other courses that we will have here - for example, in the near future there will be a course "Science of imagery. Astral travel". That is, Ilya Alexandrov and Irina Podzorova will teach you in five days how to correctly form mental images and how to correctly go into the Astral, and in this Astral perform various kinds of spiritual actions that are aimed at your development and the development of those for whom these actions are very important.

And many, many more courses will be held: space provides such an opportunity, we have enough masters. We are waiting in our family, in our Project for other masters who can help carry that Light, that spirituality, that truth that our interstellar friends, subtle-material civilizations, the Spiritual world in its various manifestations transmit to us.

By the way, Vladimir Volfovich is standing there, waiting for me too and listening attentively to what I am saying. So I will now read you a poem and will be happy to broadcast it. Especially since there are 4,945 people. I can imagine how interesting it will be for you to hear these poems. They are so relevant now, so exactly…. I don't know when she wrote this, but there can't be anything more relevant now than this. The poem is dedicated to our earthlings and our brothers on the planet Disaru.

What a pity that humanity is at war,

That the sons of God die,

The fire of discord still rages,

That I am also involved in this.

But the living Earth accepts

Our vibrations are low in number,

How a mother both reconciles and saves

All those who did good to her, evil.

And in the Universe there is an Interstellar Union,

And there are no wars, diseases or guilt there,

Live with dignity, honestly, with the Spirit of God

There are humanoids there, just like us.

Wealth and fame are alien to them.

In consciousness they are younger brothers on Earth

They have saved more than once - this is their calling,

So that the stars don’t go out in our darkness.

What a pity that our wars do not subside

Between countries, in religions, in the family.

We are not accepted into the Interstellar Union –

We have done so much harm to the Earth.

The Creator changes this world like a dress...

I will never stop believing in Good.

I know: my brothers live there -

Earthlings on the planet Disaru.

Guys, I want to tell everyone that what I do as the Project leader, for me and for those people who are around me, is all real: they exist. They exist in different manifestations, in different guises. The world is very multifaceted and, fortunately, not as narrow as we see it. And the world that is filled by us around us, it is built through the prism of our perception. And the more conscious you become, the wider this prism of perception can grow and develop with you - with your curators, with your mentors, with your Higher Self.

And the main goal of the Project is to introduce each person not to aliens, as you think, but to their true inner nature, to their inner Self – the Higher Self, which knows all your previous incarnations, all your karmic tasks that you chose for this incarnation. It knows everything about your blocks, your problems, your illnesses, even about what you cannot guess – it already knows. It knows much more, and our task, as a Project, is to introduce each person to their Higher Self.

Yes, it exists. Just like aliens. I call them "our interstellar friends" because aliens have been given huge negative labels, and people, unfortunately, see them only as a war, a battle, a takeover of some lands. No one is taking us over, guys! It is dangerous to take us over: we are very dangerous. It is dangerous to give us new technologies, because we immediately begin to use them for military purposes. It is dangerous to give us various spiritual knowledge, because we begin to distort it and destroy other entire tribes, clans and everything else with this knowledge.

(reads the chat) "In short, Sklifosovsky!" Alla Filippova, I get it: give us Vladimir Volfovich, that's enough for us! (laughs) So what? We live on this planet, and here, fortunately, we have been given all the opportunities to develop our body, our Spirit, and to unite it all.

(reads) "Hasn't he finished yet?", "Excellent poems." Yes, I finished, I finished. Vladimir Volfovich is waiting for you. I give the palm to Irina. I took 20 minutes.

Guys, the broadcast will be until the end, until victory. When we are satisfied with communication with Vladimir Volfovich, then we will try to stop this broadcast. I don’t know how long it will last, I don’t know what questions… No, more precisely, I know what questions you will ask, because I have a chat at hand, it’s called “Question – Answer. Live broadcast". I'll even open it now and show you what it looks like. Here (shows) in this chat (there is a link below) you can ask all your questions that are asked during our live broadcasts.

All guys, I will not distract you any longer from the wonderful Spirit - Vladimir Volfovich. I will sit down next to him and try to conduct this live broadcast.

And now I ask you to greet our star of interstellar travel. Irishenka, hello!

Irina: Hello everyone! Good evening, dear friends! Yes, very good poems. I liked them too. I thank Maxim for such a reading and thank the author of the poem, she was here. I hope you are watching us, hello!

22:15 Presentation of participants.

Irina: So, dear friends, my name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. And today with us is the non-embodied Spirit, who in his last incarnation was known on Earth as Vladimir Volfovich Zhirinovsky. This was his incarnation.

He is here as an exception, because the usual practice is to adjust to the Spiritual World within a year after leaving the incarnation. But since there were many questions for him, he himself voluntarily agreed to come earlier with the permission of his Angelic consultants.

Maxim: So, in principle, inviting the Spirit if a year has not yet passed is wrong?

Irina: It will be difficult for him to speak, but he is here now accompanied by an Angel-consultant. He will support him, and our curators, MidgasKaus and LiShioni, will also support him. They will give him the necessary energy so that he can communicate with me correctly and transmit information.

Maxim: Excellent.

23:28 Features of communication with the Spirit.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, tell me, can the Angel-consultant forbid you from answering any questions?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): They don't forbid anything, no. He already gave me permission to communicate with the world of the living, which means I can say whatever I want.

Maxim: Thank you.

(reads from the chat) "...Already 30 minutes. Lots of empty text." Guys, in order to gather 6 thousand people, it was necessary to say a little "empty text", as you say. I understand that you are not interested, but we cannot do otherwise. We are the Project that exists due to the fact that you watch us.

Irina: If suddenly there is no time, you can always watch at any convenient time later, because this recording will remain. And you just relax: everything is going as it is. Every word said here by Maxim, me and the Spirit of Vladimir Volfovich is not accidental. So just relax and get the information you came for.

Maxim: So, dear friends, let's relax. No need to write to anyone that someone has tortured someone else. Everything is fine. Everything is going as it should.

Irina: Just learn to perceive this world positively. If suddenly you understand that your time is running out, and you do not hear what you want, then this is your time to relax, take a few deep breaths in and out, read the Esler mood, drink some tea and then continue watching our program with renewed strength.

Maxim: You see, someone connected just in time, right at the 30th minute, when I finished my speech.

25:26 The Spirit of Zhirinovsky on the spiritual level at birth and exit from incarnation.

Maxim: So, Vladimir Volfovich, please tell me, from what level of incarnation did you come to our Earth, to this planet?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): In the last incarnation, in the body of Vladimir Volfovich?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): Since the 18th.

Maxim: From the Spirits of Guardian Angels?!

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): Yes.

Maxim: And tell me – this is the most interesting thing: to what level did you emerge from this incarnation?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): According to the terminology of the Interstellar Union, I reached the 10th.

Maxim: So you're at level 10? You haven't reached level 6 yet, have you?

Irina: He says: “I’m on level 10.”

Maxim: It's just that many people think that you must somehow end up on some demonic levels. Some people perceive it that way.

Irina: He is surprised and looks.

Maxim: Because all people who are involved in esotericism are also sometimes surprised at what is happening at all.

Irina: He is surprised and says: “I was kind inside, I was kind in my Soul, and some people completely undeservedly sent me to the demonic level.”

Maxim: Thank you very much.

26:51 The number of incarnations of the Spirit of Zhirinovsky in this manvantara.

Maxim: Please tell me, what was the number of incarnations of your Spirit in this manvantara on this planet?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): I had the 652nd incarnation.

Maxim: How many incarnations were there on Earth?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): 19.

Maxim: 19 incarnations on Earth?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): But this is at all levels of density.

Maxim: That is, both in the subtle-material and in the dense-material worlds?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): Yes.

Maxim: And in the dense material world on Earth?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): In the dense material there were 6.

27:31 Past incarnations of the Spirit of Zhirinovsky on Earth.

Maxim: Can you tell us about these incarnations? Who were you on Earth before you incarnated as Vladimir Volfovich?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I incarnated 22 thousand years ago on Earth as a girl (shows), who lived on a single continent and held the position of a teacher. And in general, in many of my incarnations I was a teacher, an educator. This is my thread of transmitting information to other people, other Spirits, went with me through many incarnations. That is, this is my, in your opinion, karmic knot, a karmic task for many incarnations.

I also had a significant incarnation a little less than 4 thousand years ago on Earth. I incarnated in Israel as one of Jacob's sons, the very first one, whose name was Reuben.

Maxim: So you even incarnated into one of Jacob’s sons?!

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): Yes, to the firstborn.

I also incarnated on Earth in the 16th century in Turkey, as a ruler (sultan) whose name was Suleiman.

Maxim: So, he managed to incarnate into a ruler, and what else?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): After Suleiman, I went to the 5th level.

Maxim: After Sultan Suleiman, you went to the 5th level?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): Yes.

Maxim: Can I ask: why such punishments – straight to level 5? In what state did you have to leave?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I hated everyone and executed my enemies, mocked - in that incarnation this person, not me myself, but my part that was incarnated. Now I have already reunited and feel myself simply as a Spirit, consciousness, mind, which now, with your questions, simply directs a beam of attention to different episodes of its long, continuous existence in different bodies.

I just remembered how I was on the 5th level, it was really terrible. And I was sent to incarnate for 54 Earth years in the 16th density of Earth, where I created the Souls of amphibians, cleansed myself of spiritual dirt with this. And after incarnating in the 16th density on Earth, I incarnated on the planet Esler as a woman. And this was my previous incarnation before Vladimir.

Maxim: And on the planet Esler, you went to the 18th level?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I incarnated from the 5th level to the 16th level of density, from the 16th level of density I went to the 8th spiritual level, in 54 earthly years. I went out ahead of time because the ideal conditions for my incarnation on Esler were found. Those Spirits incarnated that matched my qualities, so that I could incarnate on the planet Esler (they show Eslerites).

I incarnated there into a female body and worked, again, as a teacher of children. And after leaving the incarnation, I incarnated 85 years later into the body of Vladimir Zhirinovsky.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, thank you for such a detailed story.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): And before that, I had not yet incarnated on Earth. I had a significant incarnation when I incarnated on the planet Burkhad. But that was a very, very long time ago, when Burkhad had not yet joined the Interstellar Union. I was a major military leader there, a general of one of the armies. They were fighting there then.

Maxim: This is even more interesting. So you were a major military leader more than 22 thousand years ago?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): This was more than 15 million years ago, when the Interstellar Union, about which you read poems just now, did not exist. I listened to these poems.

I also had an incarnation on another planet, I participated in the war that was with the reptilians 12 thousand years ago, on the side of the Sirius civilization (shows the race to which Ashtar belongs, their image).

Maxim: This is really interesting: that is, you also incarnated into a race where Ashtar is?!

Irina: He left incarnation violently, that is, he died in this war.

33:43 The spirit of Zhirinovsky on the tasks of his incarnation and the reasons for reaching the tenth level.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, then I will ask an immodest question. It turns out that in the memory of your Spirit, when choosing karmic tasks on Earth, there are very interesting incarnations in those civilizations that fought, in those sultans who ruled. That is, you had sadistic inclinations, and mocked people, and fought, it turns out. And what was the task when incarnating on this planet, on Earth? What was the task as Vladimir Volfovich?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): Yes, I understood the question: my task during incarnation.

On the planet Esler, I raised my level from the 8th level (in a female body) to the 18th. And there I already set the task of incarnating again on Earth in order to gain experience with my new qualities: experience in solving financial management problems, as well as scientific activity as a philosopher - a philosopher who simultaneously knows how to manage material wealth.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, knowing you firsthand, I am sure that you carried out your tasks very well.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): But I'm on 10th now.

Maxim: Regardless of how he carried out his tasks, right?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): I carried out these tasks, but I did not carry out other tasks, because all this must be done with a sense of patience and unconditional Love.

Maxim: Can you tell us more about why you ended up at level 10?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): Because I condemned many people, I was angry with them. And this anger created in my spiritual heart... I already understood this when I came to the Spiritual World, but I did not understand it then. When I came to the Spiritual World, I analyzed my incarnation, both alone and with the Angels-consultants, and came to the conclusion that I was angry a lot, condemned (shows the energies of condemnation). And because of this action, a dark force, dark hatred and a feeling of contempt accumulated in my spiritual heart, there was also pride, arrogance.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, we have already received so many questions!..

Irina: He is now saying: “I want to address the people who are watching me now on YouTube. I myself participated many times when I was in the body, in various conferences and answers to questions. But I did not think then that I would have to do this from another world – a world where everything is so different from what you know now.”

37:13 The Spirit of Zhirinovsky about the Spiritual World.

Maxim: Please tell me, what is there in this world that we don’t know here?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): You don't know, many of you don't know, and I didn't know then that you lived somewhere, in some bodies. You've already lived and gained experience, and many of you don't feel that you are eternal beings. They can feel, but they don't know with their minds, they just believe in it. And now I don't believe in it, but I know for sure, that is, it's a different level of consciousness.

38:00 The Spirit of Zhirinovsky on the attitude towards esotericism, contacteeship, Freemasonry.

Maxim: And during your life, were you at all interested in esotericism or aliens?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): It's not that I was interested, I knew about it. I heard that aliens exist, including from conversations with my friends. They told me that they saw various objects. And even one woman said that she made contact. I believed in it, felt that it was true, and even wanted to meet aliens.

Maxim: And what, were there such proposals – to meet with aliens?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I was interested. I believed that there is life in the Universe. I believed in God and believed that God did not create the entire Universe the way it is by chance. I believed in it, but I did not see it myself, I only heard that other people saw it, I even talked to this woman (shows an elderly woman with dark hair).

Maxim: What kind of woman is she?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): Valeria. She is a friend of my wife's. She told my wife and me that she has contacts and receives information from aliens. It was a long time ago, back in the early 90s.

Maxim: Have you used any esoteric things in your work? Have you had any contact with the Spiritual World or with subtle-material civilizations? Have you had any conscious contact?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): No, it was not conscious. When I connected with my part in the Spiritual world and began to analyze my incarnation, asking myself where various ideas and thoughts came from, I received the answer that from my non-embodied Spirit, my non-embodied part and from the Angels. That is, I contacted the Spiritual world, but not consciously.

Maxim: Thank you.

I'll start asking questions that we compiled in the Q&A Live chat. Guys, I'll tell you when I read the questions from the YouTube chat from the live broadcast. For now, it's necessary to read the questions from the Q&A Live broadcast.

Vladimir Volfovich, please tell me, were you a Freemason?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): No. (laughs, smiles)

Maxim: You're smiling, why?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): I didn’t need it, I wasn’t interested in it.

41:21 Zhirinovsky's spirit on the reason for his exit from incarnation. Faith in God.

Maxim: There is an opinion that your departure from life is connected with the fact that you said too much. There is a suspicion that you were deliberately taken out of incarnation.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I left the incarnation 5 months earlier than it was envisaged by my program. But this was due to the fact that my Angels-consultants and the non-incarnate part decided so, so that, having seen the events of 2022, I would not lower my vibrations and energies even more.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, did you go to church, did you believe in God?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): Yes, of course, I believed (shows his image of him praying in a church with a candle).

Maxim: What did you ask God for, Vladimir Volfovich?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I did not ask for myself, but for my family, for all people, I asked that everyone be happy, and that there be a just government that would make just laws on Earth according to Divine justice. I even read the Bible, even as a child.

Maxim: In an interview with RTVI TV channel, when asked how you came to politics, you answered the following: “Everything was supernatural.” What does that mean?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I believed that it was fate. I have been on this path from the very beginning, since childhood. I came to politics not from a political family at all, that is, not from the political or party elite, but from the middle strata of society. And I believed that fate itself was leading me, and I believed that God was helping me.

43:54 Zhirinovsky's spirit on the gestures of the Illuminati.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, in your interview with Dud you often demonstrated the famous Illuminati gestures. Tell us what significance you and many other politicians attach to these gestures.

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): For example?

Maxim: Well, for example, two thumbs up.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): Why the Illuminati? Maybe they used my gestures?

Maxim: (laughs) Vladimir Volfovich, you still joke. I wonder if they used your gestures, yes.

44:33 Zhirinovsky's spirit about vaccinations.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, people are wondering why you got 7 vaccinations? What was the need to get so many?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): Why did I get vaccinated? I've been vaccinated against all diseases. It's protection. I had a doctor (shows a man), we discussed this issue, and he said that at my age, with my illnesses (shows - he had something with his heart) it's better to protect myself, because I constantly communicate with people. I continued to work after retirement.

Maxim: So you were vaccinated against all possible diseases? You thought it was normal, right?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): Yes, of course, I was vaccinated against everyone. Even when I went to another country, where, for example, there was some danger of catching an infection that was not in Russia, I went to a private hospital and was vaccinated against the infection, the contagion that could have latched on to me there.

46:09 The Spirit of Zhirinovsky on prophecy.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, many people here believe that you made a deal with the dark forces and used their hints to prophesy various situations for us. Do you even know that we consider you a prophet?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): No.

Maxim: Many of the things you said eventually came true.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I have said many things. As for the dark forces - no comments. Those who speak of me like that, let them first look into their Soul and stop judging other people whom they do not personally know in life.

Maxim: Thank you. Good answer.

46:53 The Spirit of Zhirinovsky on the transition to the Spiritual World.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, after you left the incarnation, what did you feel, where did you end up, who met you?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I was in a coma, unconscious. At first there was an unconscious state - I felt as if I was sleeping, but without dreams. Just existence in a warm reddish space, as if you were rocking on the waves, but you do not realize where you are, what is happening to you. It is like a dream, but a very deep one, impossible to wake up. And then, I did not know what was happening to my body, and did not even realize myself as a person, my consciousness was suppressed.

Suddenly I saw from above that some streams of rain were falling on me, but they were silvery. I looked and began to see my hands. But they were not ordinary hands, but were as if made of Light. I did not understand what was happening.

I began to remember that I was lying in a hospital. I looked around, but I didn’t see any hospital, it was just an empty space. And then a beautiful guy came down from above, a young man with white hair and in some kind of long white clothes. Light was coming from him. He extended his hand to me, greeted me, said: “I greet you, divine Soul.” I asked: “Who are you?”

Maxim: So, well...

Irina: He just shows it to me.

(The Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky) I asked, "Who are you?" He smiled and began to say, "I am the Angel of God who has come for you." And when he said this, I saw with great surprise that his lips were not moving, although I could hear him. Then I thought, "What is going on? I must be so sick from the medicine they are giving me, and there is something wrong with my brain." And I said, "Please call a doctor, doctors. I do not feel well." He smiled again, extended his hand and said, "I will take you to a place where the best doctor in the Universe will see you."

(Irina) He shows his emotions, joy.

(The Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky) I looked at him, he extended his hand to me, and his smile was so disarming that I trusted him. I took his hand, and at that moment his Light penetrated me, and I felt joy, admiration. We began to rise, but it was instantaneous, faster than the fastest elevator. I found myself in a clearing, with a forest in the distance. And he said: “This is your world. You must build a house here. Think about it appearing, and it will appear.” He began to explain to me that I had already freed myself from the body.

Maxim: So, what happened next?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): Then I stood in the middle of a green meadow and saw my body. It was the same as my usual physical body. The angel who brought me stood next to me and said: "You can take on any form, just think about it." I asked: "How?" He began to teach me: "Mentally imagine in this space, for example, a table - that it stands in this place, what it looks like." And I began to learn this (shows). Because I did not know how to do this. Then, in the end, I began to build myself a house (shows a white house with some columns).

And other Spirits began to come to me to meet me.

Maxim: And were there among these Spirits those who lived with you, next to you on Earth?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): At first, no. Later, the Spirit of my mother and the Spirit of my father came to me, but not right away.

When I had just built the house, they did not come, and only then did they come to me from above.

Maxim: Well, that's interesting. Of course, I would be happy to ask more about the Spiritual World, but we have limited airtime. Well, sort of limited. We've already spent an hour, that hour flew by, I didn't even notice it.

Irina: It seemed to me that 15 minutes had passed.

Maxim: Here's some water for now.

There are a lot of questions, guys, I will try to ask all your questions that you write both in messages on YouTube (I see them too) and in messages in the chat "Q&A. Live". I will read them first - those that have already been structured, which people have already asked.

I will try to make sure that we finish this broadcast with the pleasure of asking questions, and not with strange comments, for which we delete other comments, of bad purpose. When you run your YouTube channel, then you will understand why bad comments are deleted on the YouTube channel, which discredit the honor and dignity, especially of those Spirits who are present here with us.

54:12 The Spirit of Zhirinovsky about Leonid Slutsky and Gennady Zyuganov.

Maxim: So, Vladimir Volfovich, is it true that Leonid Slutsky, who replaced you and became the leader of the party, was initially agreed upon with you and appointed by you?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): Not officially, in words – yes.

Maxim: So you saw him as your replacement?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): Yes, I saw.

(Irina): At least he reacts positively to Leonid Slutsky, he says: “Yes.”

Maxim: What would you like to say now from the Spiritual World to Leonid Slutsky? I think it would be very interesting for him to listen to it himself. What would you wish him, or say, or perhaps recommend?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): Good. I want to wish that he could fulfill the promises he made when we talked about the appointment, about the future after me. That he would fulfill the party's development program, and that he would not change anything in it without consulting others, that is, that he would be democratic.

Maxim: Got it, thank you very much.

Some people believe that doctors helped you leave this world. Is this really true?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I told everything I remember. And I told everything the consulting Angels told me. They had no words, that my incarnation was interrupted by force.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, please tell me, having entered the Spiritual World, did you change your attitude towards the Communist Party?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): No, the attitude has not changed. I think that this is a cruel party, not even the ideology of this party, but its implementation. I think that it was done very cruelly, very criminally, and discredited the very idea of communism.

Maxim: Was Zyuganov your friend?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): No close ones, we just talked, talked about work.

Maxim: So you weren’t friends, you just talked?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): Yes, buddy, sooner.

57:34 Zhirinovsky's spirit on lobbying interests and passing laws.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, I will now ask more profound questions. I hope they will not be too provocative. Many believe that you consciously worked in the interests of Europe and the USA. Is this true?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): No, of course not. I consciously worked only in the interests of Russia. And not even all of Russia, not so much its state power, but the people, the population of Russia, who have the right to a decent life and fairer laws. And I have always been against corruption and against the infringement of the rights of ordinary workers, doctors, teachers, social workers, pensioners, children. And I even protested against the adoption of laws that, for example, allowed inflation to grow and worsened the economic and civil situation of people.

(Irina): He now shows how, as a sign of protest, he even left the hall. He shows how he swears.

(Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I told you that I was angry about this and left. My blood pressure rose, I took pills, and then I had bad sleep. I even took sleeping pills for a while.

Maxim: People ask: why did you pass anti-people laws? Why did your party pass laws that made life worse for ordinary people?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): There was no such thing. Give an example.

Maxim: So there was no such thing? All laws improved people's lives, right?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): Before voting, and not only me, but also my party, which I led – there were also people there who voted for laws – we studied this and voted only for what we considered fair. Show me at least one law that made people's lives worse, for which I cast my vote?

Maxim: Well, here it is – the reorganization of hospitals, they write. Why did you allow such a law?

Irina: What does reorganization of hospitals mean? He needs more specifics.

Maxim: I understand, I apologize, Vladimir Volfovich. We have very simple people here, unfortunately, party officials probably don't come here. But I will try to ask questions more correctly now.

Guys, if you want your provocative question to be asked, you like, subscribe to the channel and write in the message that you liked and subscribed to the channel. And you can ask your question, which I will see and voice here on YouTube. That is, I will read out the questions with the hashtag "liked and subscribed". That's it, thank you very much to everyone. Like and subscribe, and I will check: if you subscribed and liked, I will definitely ask this question.

Vladimir Volfovich, do you think that pension reform and raising the retirement age were necessary?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I think that it was carried out correctly on the whole, but before it was carried out, it was necessary to arrange jobs for pre-retirement people with decent wages. I thought that this law (I myself, as I already said, worked in retirement) would allow people to exist with dignity, to remain in their jobs without the threat of dismissal when a certain age approaches. Because such a problem existed.

I myself worked when I had already retired, although I was sick, I had illnesses. But, nevertheless, I saw the meaning of my life in further work, I did not want to sit at home. But I thought that this was not enough, this was a half-measure law. Because, when introducing it, it was necessary to take care of those people who remained at work, to which they were accustomed, after the term, and so that they could receive such a salary so that, firstly, they could live with dignity, and secondly, so that from this salary the interest on the pension would be no less than 40-45%.

Maxim: Irina, they figured out that I'm a manipulator. Yes, indeed.

Irina: He’s just now saying what he would like to see in the Labor Code.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, you avoided the answer so beautifully that I didn’t even understand whether you were for or against raising the retirement age?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I was for it, but only with the conditions that I just said, that is, raising salaries, etc. This would insure people who wanted to stay in their jobs from being fired because of their age.

1:04:05 Zhirinovsky's Spirit on meeting Putin's Spirit before the current incarnation.

Maxim: Guys, I found it: subscribed, liked. I read out his question: "Were you familiar with the Spirit of Putin, Vladimir Volfovich, before this incarnation?"

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): Yes.

Maxim: Where did you meet?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I don't think I can answer such questions without his presence. I'm just familiar.

Maxim: So you knew each other from incarnations in different worlds?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): Yes, we knew each other, we incarnated together many times.

Maxim: Excellent. Thank you, Vladimir Volfovich. I will not ask any more questions about Vladimir Vladimirovich.

1:04:45 Zhirinovsky's spirit about his curators.

Maxim: Tell me, please, did you have unconscious curators from other planets?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): No. Only from the Spiritual World.

Maxim: And who supervised you from the Spiritual World?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): Guardian Angel, Consulting Angels and the non-embodied Spirit – my non-embodied part.

1:05:09 Zhirinovsky's spirit on work in the State Duma.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, Anya asks if you miss the planning meetings in the State Duma?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): No, thank God that I don't participate in them. I have already appreciated the peace that I have now, and I realized that I spent a lot of energy on changing the current political situation in Russia and unsuccessfully fought... (not completely unsuccessfully, I have done a lot in this direction, but there is still a lot left to do) - practically unsuccessfully fought against political elitism and the elitism of one ruling party. And this upset me.

Maxim: You didn’t approve of one ruling party, right?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I believe that there should be different opinions and discussion in the political space - in order to be able to choose the best of the possible scenarios for the development of events, and in general - the direction of activity of certain government bodies.

1:06:31 Zhirinovsky's spirit about other channelings.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, did they try to contact you after your death in order to find out any questions?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): Yes, they tried, as I already said, I received such signals, but my Angel-consultants said that it was too early, that I had not yet fully adapted to the new spiritual reality, and this could harm me.

Maxim: Could any of your Consultants, Guardian Angels, answer people’s questions instead of you when they contacted you?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): They could answer about me, of course. If there were questions, they could.

Maxim: And did any of your relatives or fellow party members try to contact you?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): In a dream, in their dream, yes. Relatives.

(Irina): He is now showing small children - his grandchildren, I suppose, and a daughter. He is now showing a woman.

(Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): We communicated in our dreams. And of course, we communicated with others: I mentally contacted them, I simply thought about them, and they themselves were drawn to me when they were sleeping.

1:08:12 The Spirit of Zhirinovsky about Kazakhstan.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, you are from Alma-Ata, but for some reason you did not speak very well of Kazakhstan. Did the Kazakhs offend you? What do you think of Kazakhstan in general?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I think that the Kazakhstan where I was born and the Kazakhstan that exists now, that is, when I was there after the collapse of the Union, are two different countries. And I have never spoken badly of Kazakhstan as a people, of hard-working people.

I spoke badly of those bandits or boors who made it a rule to point out to all Russians that they were like aliens there – nationalists. More precisely, they were not even nationalists, but chauvinists. I spoke badly only of those who were unfair to the Russians who had built everything for them there and even arranged their state itself. I was very angry at the ingratitude of the younger generation, who had forgotten the covenants and blood of their fathers, who had shed it not only for Alma-Ata, but also for Moscow.

Maxim: I understand, thank you. Guys, we will ask serious questions about the war with Ukraine a little later. Now we will go through the most pressing questions, and I think that at the end of our broadcast I will ask all the very provocative questions that you write with the note: "Subscribed and liked". I see that if I do not read the questions from YouTube, this does not mean that I do not see them. I even write them down on a piece of paper. So do not worry, everything is fine.

1:10:42 Zhirinovsky's spirit about the current President of Russia.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, what do you think about our current President? Is he capable of taking our country to a different level?

Irina: To another level of what?

Maxim: Any other level, in your opinion.

Irina: We need to be more specific.

Maxim: More specifically, I understand. What do you think about him?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I think that, having put on the European jacket of a democrat, he remained inside the same red communist that he was. And he hides it from everyone. He shows himself as a democrat who strives for a market system, economy, but in reality - for a return more to the communist model of governance. Not the one that was in the Soviet Union, but to a slightly different one, but still with a communist make-up, that is, one-man rule and more and more interference of state structures in private initiatives, private markets, private affairs, banks and so on - in business. That's what I think of him.

Maxim: Thank you very much.

1:12:21 Zhirinovsky's spirit about his desire and chances to become President.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, would you like to become President, and why didn’t you become one?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): Of course, I wanted to, because I had my own program on how to build domestic and foreign policy, to pass fair laws, I have this program, you can read it. Why didn't you choose, or why didn't you become one, what's the question?

Maxim: Why do you think you didn't become President? They say that many people voted for you, but for some reason you weren't appointed President.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I also asked my Angel-consultant this question, like you. I know that I won several times, that is, I was told this.

Maxim: What does this mean?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): That I had more votes, I was told this directly, but unofficially, face to face. And I asked my Angel-consultant, why this did not happen, why I did not become the President, the ruler? He answered me that the president of any country as the supreme commander-in-chief and representative of its society can only be that person, the embodied Spirit, who is specially chosen for this purpose by the mentors of society, or, as you say, the egregor of this country.

You have such a word - "egregor". What you call egregor is not just a word, it is a huge spiritual library and a huge spiritual leadership structure that attracts to physical posts in the society for which it is responsible those people who can fulfill those tasks for which this society exists. I received such information and I am telling you.

Maxim: Thank you, Vladimir Volfovich.

1:15:00 The spirit of Zhirinovsky about his last and next incarnations.

Maxim: Please tell me, are you planning to incarnate on Earth next time and when?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): I haven’t thought about it yet, but I think that my next incarnation should be on a planet where scientific, social, political, and economic progress has been achieved.

I have already thought about a possible incarnation on that planet about which you just read poetry and which you called Disaru. I know what kind of world it is, and I have already thought about it. There is a society there that is closer to me, and it is at a different stage of development. But I will still think about it and talk to my Angel-consultants. It is all vague, just such thoughts.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, do you regret anything in your last incarnation? Are there any regrets that you, perhaps, did not complete something or did something incorrectly?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I don't regret anything. My experience, as it is, is experience. Even the fact that I have now come to the 10th level. Thanks to this, I realized that when you are incarnated, you must always remember that you are not eternal in this incarnation, that you have another life, and it is this life that you must live first and foremost, since it is eternal, unlike the temporary body. That is, this is such an experience.

Everything I did, I did sincerely. Everything I said, I said from the heart, not from the mind. I was and am who I am. And my life, whatever it may be for you, is valuable to me and to those people who value what I did. And I am very glad that I was able to help many people, including morally, materially (he helped someone materially, he shows).

And I remember that when I was alive, when I was incarnated, I also thought about what life would be like after death. I thought about it because I read in the Bible that there is a Soul, and I believed in it. I thought about how it would be, and how I would meet God. And I thought that I would ask Him to send me back to Earth right away, so that I could help others. But when I found myself here, I realized that there was no need to rush into it.

Maxim: Why?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I need to think it over well and understand how to return to the 18th level. There is much more Light there, and not far from that level - on the 17th - lives the woman I loved most in my childhood - my mother (shows an elderly woman).

Maxim: Is your mother on the 17th spiritual level?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): She is on the 17th.

Maxim: And dad?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): Dad is on the 12th.

1:19:21 Zhirinovsky's spirit about his relationship with his son.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, please tell me, why did you have a strained relationship with your son?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): Because we had disagreements on the financial issues of our party. And I put too much pressure on him, sometimes forcing him to accept my opinion with my manipulations and fear of helping to deprive him of his position. I was too rude and unrestrained with him. And because of this he got offended (shows rejection), and our relationship deteriorated.

Maxim: And you didn’t try to make peace with your son?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): No. I had pride. I thought that he should come to me himself. At the time when I existed, I thought that he should come to me himself and ask for forgiveness for neglecting the advice of not only his physical father, but also the person who had done so much for him.

1:20:42 Zhirinovsky's spirit about women.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, why did you have such a negative attitude towards women and towards your wife?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): What does negative mean?

Maxim: Did you love women?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I loved my wife. The fact that I divorced her was because our characters did not match. I was very active, and she was quiet, very quiet. And I could be very active: say something, some word, I could scold her (shows), I was very critical. But this does not mean that I hated her.

I was irritated, and any little thing could set me off. But it was my energy, thanks to which I was able to create that party, that structure that I created, and a lot was invested in it. I had a lot of energy, and I took it out on those close to me, because any irritant - something that did not correspond to my ideas - I perceived very sharply and could get angry, speak very rudely. But I very easily let it go, very easily forgave and then went for reconciliation.

Not everyone liked it, and that's why we got divorced. But we kept in touch and actually got back together, although not officially. And we had a wedding ceremony in church (shows).

Maxim: You got married, right?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): With her consent. And Galya is the kind of woman who would not marry a man who treats her badly before God. She knows me very well, she has seen me in situations that are closed to the public eye.

Maxim: So you got divorced because you weren't right for each other?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): We didn't get along, we had a lot of conflicts, we argued (shows).

1:23:28 Zhirinovsky's spirit on his attitude towards men.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, I'm going to ask you a very intimate question. You've often been seen in the company of young people - how you steam in the bathhouse, relax. Tell me, please, have you had any sexual relations with men or boys?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): No, of course not. I despise such people. What does that mean? Maxim, I can also ask you a question: have you ever been in a bathhouse with men?

Maxim: I was steamed. Why are these young boys, and why is this even on video – such footage?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): Which ones?

Maxim: Well, why were you and young men, not party members, steaming in the bathhouse?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): And you've never bothered with young boys, only with old ones?

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, I am asking what other people are asking me.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): The one who asks, has he never steamed with boys?

Maxim: So I understand correctly: you didn’t have intimate relationships with boys?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I know about this rumor, I know that there is a photo (shows an image of them swimming in a pool). But I was always puzzled by these rumors. And I answered the journalist (shows a man with a notebook), who also asked me this question: "Have you never steamed with men or swum in a pool? Or maybe you only go into the sea exclusively with women? Then you can be called an adulterer, because you will definitely sleep with all of them and cheat on your wife." But this is absurd, really, to say such a thing.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, that's it, I heard the answer, I understood everything. There is no need to lower your vibrations. Our Project exists to raise these vibrations.

Irina: He says that he is perplexed – to think so because of the bathhouse and because of the pool.

Maxim: Many people think so because they have this image.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): So I ask them, do they really swim in the river, in the pool, in the sea or in the bathhouse only with members of the opposite sex?

Maxim: All. So you didn't have any intimate relationships with men?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): No.

Maxim: That's it, this is what I was interested in.

When you realized that you were in the Spiritual World, did you try to meet with someone from your loved ones, friends, acquaintances?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I told you that my mom and dad came down to me.

(Irina) That's it, he doesn't name anyone else, just the two of them.

1:26:09 Zhirinovsky's spirit on the start date and reasons for conducting the SVO.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, please tell me, how is it that you said that a war with Ukraine would begin, and it began; you named some dates and practically hit those dates. Where did you get this information from, where did you get it so precisely that you even hit the dates when you told people about it?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): War with Ukraine, you say? And you think this decision was made spontaneously?

Maxim: No.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): And you think they didn't talk about it, didn't discuss dates? Everything was so sudden - they just started it out of nowhere, on this very date? And what kind of preparations were made, how much had to be prepared? Do you know that war is a very expensive project, in fact?

Maxim: This is a very expensive and very profitable project for many.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): But in order to start something, you need to have something. Do you know what kind of personnel training the army's command staff and their subordinates need to have in order to start something on a certain date? In fact, many people knew this date, at least approximately.

Maxim: (reads the chat) "This is not enough. A disgrace, not a question!" Ask, Allochka, serious questions, and we will be happy to voice them.

Irina (The Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): I voiced what I knew from conversations within my party and from discussions with deputies and members of the Security Council.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, what do you personally think, why did this special military operation begin in Ukraine, why do we need it?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I have already warned that if the respected representatives of the Ukrainian nation, as they consider and call themselves, and self-identify (self-identification of themselves as a nationality)... Where did they get it from, really? But okay, as I understand it, this is a person's internal feeling of who to call themselves.

I warned you that if you listen to your friends from the United States of America, they will light the fire of war in Europe. I warned you about this long ago. All they needed was a war closer to the European Union. And it was very desirable that Russia be involved in it as the main competitor of the United States of America in military, trade, energy (energy resources), and political terms. And they finally succeeded.

I warned that Russia, the Russian people will not tolerate the humiliation and destruction of their brothers by blood and language on the territory of any state. And the Americans, their politicians, military specialists knew this very well, and therefore they skillfully incited certain moods in the Rada, bribing (shows money) certain political groups advocating for the oblivion of the past - the oblivion of past life, past relations with the Russian Federation and the desecration of the entire common Soviet and pre-Soviet past.

And this led to national clashes with each other, interethnic, interreligious, because there were already 4, even 5 religious groups officially formed there, which called themselves the Orthodox Church, but desperately fought among themselves. And this fight was skillfully supported by the financial influence of certain very large magnates from the United States of America, who had direct ties with their government.

I warned: "Don't listen! They are not kind uncles who want your development, your good. They will smile in your eyes, but behind your back they will quietly write a plan for your destruction, you are just expendable material for them." I warned about this, but no one listened to me. I talked about this a long time ago, even before 2014, when Crimea was still Ukrainian.

Accordingly, I said that such a scenario is possible – when the Americans, in contact with the political elite of Ukraine, take steps to which Russia will be forced to respond the way it responded in 2014. Otherwise, if it had not responded in this way, national self-respect and self-identification as Russians would have been lost.

To make it easier for you to understand... I understand that you, if you are watching from Ukraine now, may be outraged, as you were outraged then and said that Russia wanted to destroy your country. If Russia, in the person of the President or the government, wanted to destroy Ukraine, would they forgive any debts, would they offer to enter into alliances with you that were beneficial to you first and foremost? You do not value anything. Now, what is happening in your country is a natural consequence of the choice that your government made, all questions are now directed at it.

Maxim: I understand, Vladimir Volfovich, thank you very much. Indeed, there are a lot of questions now, I am sitting, choosing, choosing, choosing.

1:34:16 Zhirinovsky's spirit on the likelihood of the collapse of the European Union and the USA.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, do you think the European Union and the United States will disintegrate, from the point of view of the Spiritual World in which you now find yourself, and your idea of how events might occur?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I think that the NATO bloc will fall apart. Especially now, after what is happening. I look at the Timeline and see these events that are happening now.

And I think that now many NATO countries will understand that a certain country pursues only its own financial and political interests, forces other NATO countries to work for itself, producing finances for it, producing weapons for it, producing products for it. That is, one country makes slaves of the inhabitants of many other countries for the sake of its financial machinations and political ambitions.

You, who now continue to kindle the fire of war in Ukraine, are obedient slaves and pawns in the hands of a puppeteer who controls you with the help of your own fear of being left without the support of this country. But the people will wake up. Of course, the governments of NATO countries and the EU countries cannot wake up, it is not in their interests to wake up. The American government has a lot of dirt on them, they themselves brought them to power.

But the people will wake up, I believe in it. And since democratic mechanisms of calling to account, calling to responsibility those rulers who act to the detriment of their own people for the sake of other peoples, are more developed there, they can easily be considered traitors with all the ensuing consequences.

I believe that this will happen in the countries of the European Union, and in the NATO countries, and in the three countries: America, Canada, Great Britain.

1:37:42 The spirit of Zhirinovsky addresses the US leadership.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): And if suddenly there is one of the political leaders of these countries here, and suddenly they somehow get this video, I will contact you too.

Maxim: We are listening very carefully, Vladimir Volfovich.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): Tell me, dear, respected Americans, you have strained relations with many Latin American countries. And even with Mexico you have many frictions. Is the Russian Federation taking advantage of this? Has it interfered in Mexico, Argentina, Brazil? Is it bribing nationalist groups there that oppose American influence in these countries? Think about this question.

1:38:40 Zhirinovsky's spirit on relations with the KGB and FSB structures.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, they write here that our broadcast was ordered by our Federal Security Service. Tell me, please, do you have any connection to these structures in the Spiritual World?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): What relation can one have?

Maxim: Did you have any connection with the KGB or FSB structures during your lifetime?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I am a scientist and a politician. I served in the army, and was also a political leader there. I am a scientist, philosopher, writer, teacher, and party founder, but I did not work in the state security services, I only communicated with them.

Maxim: Did you have any former employees in the party?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): Yes, they were in the party (shows several people), but I didn't work there myself and I was neither a former nor a current one. I communicated, I knew who they were, but I didn't have these state security service shoulder straps. When I served in the army, these were completely different services.

Maxim: Dear friends, our Project has no political background, we do not get involved in politics. We had big requests for Vladimir Volfovich to communicate with him – we communicate with him. Our Project is not supervised by anyone except ourselves.

Therefore, any of your fears, arguments and assumptions about our supervision by some special structures are a blatant fabrication and your fears that the Cassiopeia Project, a highly spiritual Project, can be supervised by some special services. The special service of the Interstellar Union is the main curator of our Project!

1:40:32 The Spirit of Zhirinovsky about Boris Nemtsov.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, once on air you poured a glass of water on Boris Nemtsov, why did you do that?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): Because he hinted that I was a syphilitic. He lied to my face, and this was in the presence of a film crew, it was broadcast to the entire country.

And to my quite fair remark that he should take care of the residents of his region (he was the governor of one of the regions, and I told him: "What's happening under your nose, don't you see: you have a lot of venereal diseases in your region"), he started pointing at me with some cheap newspaper or magazine and saying that supposedly something was written about me there, that I was sick with the same disease. And I just wanted to punish him for his rudeness (shows anger).

Maxim: For his lies and rudeness?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): Yes. Because even when I said that I hadn't said anything like that and that nothing like that had been written about me, he insisted that I had said it myself, meaning that he was lying. Why did he do it? Just to humiliate me.

1:42:17 Zhirinovsky's spirit about his image.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, you had such an image - a little bit outrageous, a little bit of a jester. Did you take this image for yourself on purpose?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I spoke sincerely, I was who I am. I did not pretend to be anyone, I was who I am. Mikhail Gorbachev could be tactful, polite, always spoke formally, never interrupted anyone, and was a very cultured person in appearance. But behind people's backs, he made decisions, the consequences of which led to the collapse of a great country, which he later regretted, by the way.

Maxim: I understand, Vladimir Volfovich.

1:43:25 Zhirinovsky's spirit on the existence of the USSR at the legislative level.

Maxim: Tell me, please, does the USSR still exist? I was told that you know for sure about this.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): In the Spiritual World - it exists. It is there in the Timeline, you can get there. But in the physical - no.

Maxim: They say that officially the USSR has not collapsed, how can you comment on this phrase? Like the USSR exists on paper, it has not been completely liquidated yet.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): If you look at the laws, then the very creation of the USSR was illegal from the point of view of the Russian Empire, for example. Then the Russian Empire did not fall apart. That is, it was illegal, a bunch of people just got together and passed a law that the Soviet Union now exists. But it was not signed by the current authorities of the Russian Empire.

1:44:26 The Spirit of Zhirinovsky about Sergei Furgal.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, you had a very good friend and supporter - Furgal. Why didn't you stand up for him when he was convicted?

Irina: Why didn’t you stand up for someone?

Maxim: For Furgal.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): What do you mean "didn't stand up for"?

Maxim: You didn't support him in his difficult moment. They say you abandoned him.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): There was no such thing. We talked after that, and in fact, I wanted to help him. But it was impossible, because there were certain people against him, whom he had offended (shows some very rich people). It was all set up, he was set up.

(Irina): I’m just saying what’s going on, what I hear.

Maxim: I understand.

1:45:33. Zhirinovsky's spirit on the possibility of nuclear war.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, from the point of view or perception that you have in the Spiritual World, is there a threat of nuclear war? And will there be a nuclear war in the near future?

Irina: The word “threat” is an opportunity, as I understand it?

Maxim: Will there be a nuclear war? – I will ask the question correctly. How do you see it in the next, say, five years?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I see that it won't happen, but the threat will remain. I see that the threat will remain, that there will be such thoughts, but I don't see any great probability of it, there is some small probability (shows percentages). But I don't see a great probability, so I think it won't happen.

Although they will try to provoke it in some way. The provocation of a nuclear war is primarily carried out by those people who prohibit – do not advise, do not even recommend, and this can be considered a prohibition – the diplomats of Russia and Ukraine to sit down at the negotiating table, to come to an agreement. There are people who do not advise, do not recommend and say that it is too early, that is, they stop. They are the ones who contribute to a nuclear war.

Also contributing to the greater likelihood of a nuclear war in the next five years are those who make decisions about supplying weapons to Ukraine. This only further causes anger and rage in Russian military units and their leaders, and further fuels the conflict.

Think about what I'm going to say now. Here are two countries at war in front of you. Imagine that two people are fighting in front of you, and you are watching from the side. And you say that you are against war, that you are for peace. But you constantly put weapons in the hands of one of these people: knives, clubs, brass knuckles. Can we say that you are for peace, what do you think? What do you think?

Maxim: I don't think so.

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): You say: “Stop fighting.”

Maxim: I see this categorical syllogism when they say that they are against war and give weapons.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): Imagine two people fighting. One is stronger, more robust, more skilled, who knows martial arts, and begins to defeat his opponent in a fight. And you watch from the side and put a weapon in the hands of the weaker opponent - first a small knife, then a dagger, then a machine gun. Can we say that you are for peace?

Maxim: No.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): And if you were for peace, you would have tried to separate them, right?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): Even regardless of who attacked whom. You would first separate them, and then sort out the reasons for the attack. Then you would be against the war, right?

Maxim: That's right.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): And what do Britain, the USA and all their satellites do? Did they even in one day after the start of a special military operation... A military operation! That is, it was a military operation, and it was called an operation because a small part of Russian servicemen were involved in it, a small percentage of the real military force that Russia has. And such operations are called special military operations outside the borders of states all over the world.

So, after the start of this special military operation, has at least one senior political leader in the NATO bloc publicly said the following words: "Guys, brothers! You are Slavs, you are Slavic peoples. We ask you to calm down and sit down at the negotiating table. We are ready to be observers at these negotiations and are ready to ensure that the interests of all parties are respected." Did any of them say that?

Maxim: No.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): Precisely publicly, I'm not saying somewhere behind the scenes. Was it said publicly?

Maxim: No.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I know that Vladimir Vladimirovich Putin was very indignant before the start of the special military operation about the presence of NATO representatives in the Ukrainian army - as leaders, instructors, and teachers - and was indignant about the presence of certain nationalist forces that provoked the people to national hatred. Behind closed doors of their offices, Vladimir Vladimirovich and Dmitry Anatolyevich often uttered the word "denazification". And I know that this was named to the people as one of the main reasons for the special military operation.

So, the leaders of NATO countries or the NATO bloc as a whole, having heard these words from Vladimir Putin, did they say: "Let's sit down at the negotiating table, and you explain to us what denazification means. Why did you decide that there are Nazis there? Let's sort this out together, and we will work together to achieve this result in a bloodless, warless way." Did they say that?

Maxim: No.

Irina (The Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): So, can we say that they are for peace?

Maxim: No. We have failed to meet the Minsk agreements twice.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): Not Russia and Ukraine, but other countries. Can we say after this that they are in favor of peace and reconciliation of these countries?

Maxim: No.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): And if they do not advocate peace, but advocate war, the continuation of these military actions, and especially if they invest their financial resources in this (and there are serious people there, serious businessmen, scientists, these are not just boys from the high road), - it means that they have already calculated in advance how much it will cost them and what benefit they will gain in the end. Otherwise, such support of the war on their part would be impossible in principle.

Maxim: Thank you.

Irina: That is, he now expressed his opinion that it is precisely these countries that support, and not those that fight, that are pushing the world more towards a nuclear threat.

1:55:04 Zhirinovsky's spirit about the UN.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, what do you think about the United Nations?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): That's what I'm saying: The United Nations was conceived as an organization of equal partners who adopt international laws to create peace between states throughout the planet.

Now look at how the United Nations reacts to the aggressive military actions of the United States in the countries of the East, and how it reacts to the aggressive military actions of Russia in Ukraine? Both are aggressive, that's clear, they pursue their own political interests - political, economic, all of that.

But just look at the reaction of the United Nations, and you will see that different states have different consequences for the same actions. And that tells you who is the real master, albeit not the official one, of the United Nations.

Maxim: We will now definitely be accused of positioning our Project from the point of view of our Russian Federation. But guys, we have Vladimir Volfovich Zhirinovsky on the air, his Spirit! What do you think, what thought should he have expressed here, if he was in our country, led an entire party, helped entire directions?

1:57:23 The spirit of Zhirinovsky addresses Ukrainians.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I said this before (shows how he speaks at the podium). I spoke about this and warned many times that such a development of events was possible. And I also warned the Ukrainians themselves when I was with them, went there to meet with someone, and warned them about this. But they did not listen to me. They only pretended to listen, but they perceived me simply as an eccentric who was talking nonsense.

In fact, you now see what is happening in your country. You now see what those Kyiv authorities have led you to, who promised you that you would live in good economic and social conditions, that you would live in peace, wealth and security!

Maxim: And now we see how they are fulfilling their promises.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): You see that the leaders of the Ukrainian state do not negotiate with a larger state with which there is a war, a military conflict. And with this, the leaders of the Ukrainian state are simply killing you, receiving grants from well-known financial tycoons from abroad.

Maxim: Thank you, Vladimir Volfovich. I say again: our Project is not political. Our personal opinion – Irina Podzorova's and mine – may differ from Vladimir Volfovich's opinion. But unfortunately, we cannot convey another opinion, because Irina conveys what the Spirit of Vladimir Volfovich tells her.

Irina: If I convey something else, he will simply refuse to communicate.

Maxim: Oh, by the way, that's also an interesting point.

Irina: He hears, so to speak, through my hearing, what I say. If I say something else, he will say that I am an incorrect contactee, or a medium, as he now calls me, that is, an intermediary. He calls mediums those people who are intermediaries between the Spirit and the world of the living.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, if you were alive, would you believe that Irina transmits information from the Spirits?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): No, I doubt it. I didn't really believe in psychics or mediums. I was more of an Orthodox Christian.

2:00:31 Zhirinovsky's spirit about Zelensky's future.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, since you are a prophet of some kind for us, because everything you said was, in principle, projected, and moreover, now you are in the Spiritual World and can look at the Timeline, what do you think will happen to Zelensky in the near future?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): The same as with Boris Nemtsov. These personalities are very similar, of the same order. They talked more to the public than they did real things for their people, their nation, their country.

Zelensky has had many chances to get closer to Russia, but he has refused to take advantage of them. And I have heard rumors that he even wanted to. He speaks Russian well, has been to Moscow, but he has developed a fear of his country's nationalists. Moreover, he knew very well which organizations and where they were financed from: there are practically no barriers in front of them in Ukraine, their hands can reach everyone. And they will call a traitor and punish for treason not the one who betrayed the interests of Ukraine, but the one their puppeteers from another country point to them.

Maxim: Thank you.

2:02:38 Zhirinovsky's spirit on the likelihood of Turkey's withdrawal from NATO.

Maxim: Will Türkiye leave NATO, Vladimir Volfovich, what do you think?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): If other NATO countries, especially America, put pressure on her and impose conditions that are unfavorable for her, or some laws that she does not want to accept, the Turks may leave, they have such intentions, many of them (shows).

The Turks are generally a hot-blooded people, they will not tolerate any dictatorship over themselves, even if it is at first glance beneficial for their country. They are freedom-loving, they will not tolerate it, they can leave if they are strongly pressured.

2:03:28 Zhirinovsky's spirit on Putin's near future.

Maxim: What do you think will happen to Vladimir Vladimirovich Putin in the near future?

Irina: What do you mean “in the near future”?

Maxim: In the next 5 years. Will he remain the President of our country?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I think, yes, he will remain. I think that he will be President until he leaves his incarnation.

Maxim: How interesting it all is!

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): Either himself or through another representative, if he is, for example, not in very good health. I believe he will help, give information and certain ideas to his other trusted person.

Maxim: Thank you.

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): This is what I think, this is my opinion.

2:04:19 Zhirinovsky's spirit on the future of Ukraine, an appeal to its leadership.

Maxim: What do you think, Vladimir Volfovich, will happen to Ukraine? Will Ukraine remain a state?

Irina (The Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): Ukraine, I believe, lost all its chances to remain an independent state in the form it had – within these borders, in this form – when it refused to negotiate with Russia, which would have left it sovereignty, economic independence, subject to the fulfillment of very simple conditions that would guarantee security and peaceful coexistence of different peoples on the borders of Russia and Ukraine.

When these proposals, these conditions were not fulfilled, and there was a refusal to negotiate, and they began (shows), but were then interrupted, Ukraine made its choice. And now, I believe, there is a very high probability that part of Ukraine – the country that is now Ukraine – will become part of Russia, just like Crimea, and part will become part of Poland (shows), those countries that were the historical owners of these territories.

But what I said does not mean that Ukraine has no chance at all to preserve its independence and state. They have such a chance, but for this I once again urge you to listen to your common sense, your mind. And yet, although it will be more difficult now and Russia will put forward more conditions than it did even six months ago, but still go to negotiations with Sergey Lavrov, with Vladimir Putin. Let them even be unofficial at the first stage. Do not be afraid, this will not be considered weakness, it will be considered strength of spirit, because this is an admission of your mistakes. Remember that Slavic blood flows in you and in Russian people, of whom I was one. This means that we have one culture and one understanding of historical processes.

If you admit your mistakes, take responsibility for the failed negotiations, for the promises you made that you did not keep, which led to this conflict, to this war, to these terrible explosions, when peaceful people are dying and suffering, completely innocent - just those who were in the wrong place at the wrong time... Remember that if you admit this and want to negotiate with Russia bypassing your curators, the Western countries, you will be accepted and will be spoken to as an equal.

Throw away the image of horrible crazy Russians who only dream of killing you all, capturing you, using you, and so on. It is not so. Because I communicated with people in Russia, and with people in Ukraine, when my body was alive, and in Kazakhstan, and in many countries. And I can say: the Russians in their majority (of course, there are criminals everywhere, there are sadists everywhere, just scoundrels, in any country - in Russia, and in Ukraine, and in America, I am now talking about the majority of those people whom I knew), the Russians will never abandon their own in trouble. Even dying themselves, they will pull others out of the horror where the suffering people are.

So come, make peace with the Russian government, and your country will remain independent. There will be no more war and there will be no more of these terrible explosions, bombings. And as for your fear of those who lead you, I can assure you: they will do nothing to you. Just as they do nothing to Russia.

(Irina): I conveyed what he said.

Maxim: In fact, I just caught the phrase: "Very cool!" - they wrote it there, on the air. And I think: indeed, what you are saying, Vladimir Volfovich, is very cool!

2:11:26 Zhirinovsky's spirit on a special military operation in Ukraine.

Maxim: When do you think the war with Ukraine will end, Vladimir Volfovich?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): My forecast?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I think (again, this is my opinion) that it will not be earlier than June-July of next year.

Maxim: 2025?

Irina (Spirit of Vladimir Zhirinovsky): 2024.

Maxim: In July, summer 2024?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): But this is, again, my opinion. Because I can see one option. I base it on how many human and military resources there are left in Ukraine itself and in the whole world, in all those countries that support it. And what is the limit of their people's patience, let's say - not their governments, but peoples. I have roughly calculated this period. Of course, it could be earlier or later, but I feel that this is the period.

Maxim: July 2024, what is the date?

Irina: Mid-July, that is, approximately the 15th-17th. "So," he says, "in the Timeline." I remind you once again, dear friends, so that now this date is not perceived as some kind of ultimate truth. I am telling you that the future is multi-variant.

Maxim: This is the assumption of the Spirit of Vladimir Volfovich Zhirinovsky that the military conflict with Ukraine, and not only, will end by July, by mid-2024.

Irina: Yes, the future has many variants. He saw this variant in the Timeline. And whether we follow it depends on us, I repeat once again.

2:13:36 The spirit of Zhirinovsky addresses his family.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, please tell me, what would you like to convey to your family? Let's say that now there is such an opportunity, and I am sure that someone will convey to your family that you were on air with us as a Spirit.

Irina: “They,” she says, “are unlikely to believe it.”

Maxim: They will believe it or not, but what would you like to pass on to your family, even if they don’t believe it?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): What would I like to convey to the family? Naturally, I want to convey that I love everyone. And I want to convey that I remember everyone and pray to God for you - that you may be happy.

And I want to ask you for forgiveness, especially Galina, Igor - for hurting you, for sometimes being dishonest with you, for deceiving you, for being rude to you, for losing my temper because of my own internal problems, because of work problems, work moments. Sometimes I behaved unbearably, and I am ashamed to remember this, because these were my closest people, and they were not to blame for the fact that not everything and not always worked out the way I wanted.

Maxim: Thank you.

2:15:05 The spirit of Zhirinovsky conveys a message to the residents of our country.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, what would you like to convey to our entire country? I think that many people who came to the broadcast will convey to other people that such a broadcast took place. What would you like to convey or say to our entire country?

Irina: Country?

Maxim: Yes. Imagine that you now have a real chance to convey something from the Spiritual World to the country. What would you like to say?

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I would like to convey my gratitude to you, my dear Russians – gratitude for the patience and love with which you have treated me, for your trust in me, in my party, in my program, for the fact that you read my books and remember me. I feel that many people learn politics, economics, history from them.

I want to thank you all, my dear people, with whom I was incarnated both in the Soviet period and in the post-Soviet period. To each person who lives in Russia, I want to convey my enormous gratitude for the patience that you have, for the fact that you work for the good of your country, the people around you, for creating families, giving birth to children, even despite the complete uncertainty about their future. This is a huge feat, and I thank you and send you the Light of my Love.

Maxim: Vladimir Volfovich, and I thank you. For me, in general, in fact, it is an honor, no matter what anyone says now, to communicate with a person like you. I never thought in my life that I would be able to communicate with you. But now I can in the Spiritual World.

Therefore, I thank you for coming with our curators, answering our questions, and I also send you the Light of my Love, so that you can choose the right incarnation for yourself on some cool planet Disaru, where polygamy is allowed!

Irina: He's smiling.

Maxim: Guys, thank you all very much for the broadcast! I saw the question about Kazakhstan. Okay, let's go, one more question. Vladimir Volfovich, please, one more question!

2:17:55 Zhirinovsky's spirit on the future of Kazakhstan. Appeal to the peoples of Ukraine, Georgia, America, Europe.

Maxim: What kind of relations do you think we will have with Kazakhstan in the near future? Because people liked it, did what I asked. I want the last answer to be heard.

Irina (Vladimir Zhirinovsky's Spirit): I think Kazakhstan will now see the example of Ukraine, and its political elite will understand the danger of the existence of pro-American organizations that fuel nationalist sentiments, and they will be closer to Russia. I want to show you this example again.

I also convey my deep gratitude to those Ukrainians who, despite the terrible events that are now happening due to the fault of your political leaders, who were unable to reach an agreement with a huge country and ignited the fire of conflict, many of you, despite this, continue to treat Russia with respect and understand the role, the operation that it is conducting. Even having lost your loved ones in this fratricidal war, you forgive us. I want to thank you for this, for this strength of Spirit!

I would also like to thank the government in general and the people of Georgia for coming to your senses and stopping conflicts with those regions – Abkhazia and Ossetia – that do not want to be part of you. You have taken up your development, remembered that you are Orthodox, and that there is a commandment “thou shalt not kill.” I would like to thank you for this and send you the Light of my Love.

And I am also very grateful to the Americans, ordinary Americans, Germans, French, Italians, and British – for the fact that, despite the choice of your governments, you still create families, have children, and do everything to make your loved ones happy. I ask you to pay more attention to your family.

And I ask the political leaders of these countries to come to their senses and stop teasing, provoking, and fanning the flames of conflict with a nuclear power. This is very dangerous, in fact, for everyone! And I am sending you the Light of my Love.

Maxim: Thank you, Vladimir Volfovich!

Thank you, dear friends, for helping me conduct this broadcast. I saw all the questions in the Q&A chat, I also observed all the questions that were in the messages. Look, don't get lost: under this video, at the bottom, there are many links. You can learn and find everything there about the Project, about our new retreats, about our new equipment, about our wellness center.

We are a large, young, developing, growing Project. And we are always waiting for people in our Project who are ready to carry the Light that we bring to the world. Thank you all, until next time, bye! Thank you very much!

January 29, 2023

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, with subtle-material civilizations and with the Spiritual world;

Maxim Rusan – head of the CASSIOPEIA Project and the Center for Spiritual and Physical Development;

MidgasKaus – representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms, curator of the Cassiopeia Project;

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a sociologist, a specialist in the astral world and its interactions with the material world, and the curator of the Cassiopeia Project;

The disembodied Spirit of Vladimir Volfovich Zhirinovsky, a Russian politician and founder of the LDPR party.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/midgaskaus-o-zagryaznenii-pochvy-yadohimikatami MidgasKaus on soil pollution with pesticides and fertilizers. GMO products

Indeed, there is a very large pollution of soils with pesticides, herbicides, and sometimes large quantities of various fertilizers, and all this is carried by rivers to other areas. Such a problem exists.

I and other scientists who have analyzed this problem have come to the conclusion that this is a completely natural problem for the Earth, due to the fact that your civilization irrationally uses, for example, different areas for the growth of different plants. This irrationality lies in the fact that the area of different crops does not correspond, for example, to the needs of the increasing number of people.

Of course, this is caused by a certain climate and the state of the soil at a particular latitude, because in many countries, say, in Russia (I am in contact with Russia mainly), in certain climate zones there are, for example, huge swamps, etc. At first, they need to be harmonized in such a way, adjusted so that they perform a function useful to humans. But in order to do this, a lot of energy is needed, a lot of resources and human labor are needed.

As for the Interstellar Union, we solve this problem quite simply, because our devices allow, for example, to synthesize various substances simply in devices - this is done, for example, on spaceships. But, undoubtedly, there are such races that love various live, natural food, but even in this case they use the work and labor of biological robots to grow and care for certain living organisms, be it plants or animals, for their needs. After all, plants are also living organisms.

The Earth can remain in this state for a long time, because the subtle-material beings of the planet still process everything with the help of their microbes. And you have probably already heard that new types of microbes are appearing, or rather, they are not new, but simply mutating – those types that can decompose substances that are now getting into the soil. There are microbes that can decompose all these fertilizers, pesticides, but, of course, this takes time.

In order to harmonize the situation on Earth in general, it is necessary to develop a common legislative ecological doctrine for all countries, which will study many things: human impact on the environment, principles of nutrition, and will scientifically predict how much animal and plant food must be created in a given territory for nutrition, for example, for a year, for a given population of people. And already based on this, from all these calculations, it will be necessary to calculate the area of the earth's surface and the amount of all resources that will be spent on this production.

MidgasKaus on Genetically Modified Foods

I know what genetically modified foods are, they are foods from plants or animals with a modified genotype. The thing is that you, as hybrids, are also genetically modified organisms. Your bodies have been genetically modified. The DNA of an earthly primate was supplemented with DNA not even from earthly organisms, but from three alien organisms.

Those genetically modified products and organisms that I studied "said" that your scientists do not yet fully understand the laws of genetic modification. And this can lead to the fact that in the final product there will be a loss of some properties previously contained in this product, or the acquisition of new properties, for example, the production of proteins that are not characteristic of this organism.

For this reason, my attitude towards genetically modified organisms is quite cautious, in the sense that a person should be warned that it is a genetically modified organism. Manufacturers need to indicate specifically what organism was used for modification, because, for example, some people are allergic to one or another component.

I have seen some cases where a gene of a certain organism was added to soybeans for greater cold resistance - a gene from one of the northern sea fish. And indeed, in the cold climate for which these seeds were intended, they yielded a harvest, but then they were used to make baby food - soy milk, and food for adults. And I know of cases where children with an allergy to fish protein, having consumed such soybeans, or rather products made from them, received severe complications. Unfortunately, such cases do exist. Because it is impossible to detect this in soybeans with regular tests, you need to do a detailed protein analysis of what is there. This is called "analysis of the amino acid composition in the structure of proteins."

If you know for sure that you are not allergic to any type of food, you can safely consume any products, even genetically modified ones, or any other - it does not cause any harm. Because those genetic modifications that are contained there, those DNAs that are in this product, will be successfully digested by your digestive enzymes, will disintegrate into simple nucleotides and will be used for the needs of your body. As it happens with the DNA of all organisms that you consume. Because you, humans, have a special enzyme - nuclease, which digests nucleic acids - DNA and RNA. They are in both plant and animal cells that you eat.

Strictly speaking, the danger here is not in the genetic modification itself, but in the consequences that can be caused by an unpredictable result that is not fully controlled by your scientists, which affects the composition of the final product. After all, the substances that a cell uses for its growth and development, and the substances that it produces, depend on its DNA.

For example, even potatoes - they consist of much more than just starch and water, they also contain certain vitamins, microelements, and protein substances that are specific to potatoes. If you take, for example, a tomato, it will already contain other substances, although they can grow side by side. Why do they have different compositions then? Because from the same sunlight, from the same water and mineral substances that are found on the same soil, simply next to each other, one or another plant takes only the substances it needs. And what substances it needs - everything is written in its DNA, in the program that is used as a matrix for creating fruits, leaves, and everything that people eat from plants.

Timecode: 15:14, #536 Plant life of planet Earth. Who changed human DNA? Ecological doctrine.

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist, and specialist in alien life forms.

February, 2023

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/kassiopeya-o-meditacii-tishina-uma-kak-ostanovit #534 CASSIOPEIA on meditation. Silence of the mind: how to stop the internal dialogue? Freedom of choice, karma.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=vG1zjbynXr0

00:00 Start of video.

00:20 Excerpts from the conversation.

“…In a broad sense, any internal reflection can be called meditation…”

“…These practices were given to people in very ancient times, when humanity was just emerging on Earth...”

"...Wanting is very important for getting results, but it is not enough. In addition to desires, visualizations and fantasy, there must be real actions..."

"...And this is where meditation helps, among other things. It helps calm the mind, i.e. the very thinking where various information is constantly processed, including from memory..."

"...Your spiritual development in the form of fulfilling the purpose of incarnation. Always be honest with yourself, and then you will automatically be honest with others..."

01:29 Introduction of participants.

Alexander: Hello! My name is Alexander Larionov, I am a student and instructor of the "Givin School", and I am contacting you from a retreat center in Russia, in Sochi, on the seashore. I have several questions about meditation: about states called "awakening" and "enlightenment". What is behind this, what are we all heading towards? And in the process, I think, other related questions will arise.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today, my curator is with us – a biologist, psychologist, specialist in extraterrestrial civilizations – MidgasKaus from the planet Esler. He is a biologist and psychologist, he has studied various meditative practices from both a psychological and biological point of view. Since a person is both a spiritual and physical being, such states affect both his Spirit and his body. He is now here in his astral body, that is, in a part of his Spirit, and is ready to answer questions. He greets you.

02:51 The history of the emergence of meditative practices on Earth.

Alexander: Why were people given meditation at all, and how to use it correctly, how to meditate correctly? Are there any criteria, advice? What should one pay attention to?

Irina: Meditation in a general sense or something specific?

Alexander: For example, meditative techniques related to concentration, for example, on breathing. Anything that allows you to focus on the state of presence or the present moment.

Irina (MidgasKaus): These practices were given to people in very ancient times, when humanity was just emerging on Earth. And it was given from the Spiritual world by that part of the Spirit that we call the Higher Self. That is, the non-embodied part of the Spirit sends to its embodied part, located in the body, directly those practices that are needed for communication with it.

Now in modern Russian there is a word "meditation", which originally translated from Latin means "reflection". But the state of meditation itself is more similar not to reflection on a life or scientific problem, but to self-contemplation. Here it would be more accurate to use the Sanskrit term "dhyana", which means looking inside oneself, a look inside oneself. These practices have always been known to mankind.

Initially, when your race was created, alien scientists passed on spiritual practices to the first people (they did not call them meditative) so that each person could adapt to the world in which he lives, to be a harmonious, happy and purposeful Spirit in this body.

05:13 The concept of meditation. Visualization practice, mechanisms of its action.

Alexander: There are various meditation techniques now, and one of them is called “visualization,” that is, meditation on a happy life, on a certain imagined image and immersion of oneself in a state where everything is good and wonderful. Is this meditation and does it not distract from the true meaning of this practice?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Meditation in a broad sense can be called any internal reflections, that is, internal work in your subjective personal Spiritual world. In that world that appears before the "eyes of consciousness" when you close the eyes of the physical body and immerse yourself in yourself. In a broad sense of the word, any work on your mind, on your feelings, emotions is already meditation, as is the work of consciousness on itself, the work of the mind. We call the mind that part of the mind that is in charge of thinking and processes information.

As for visualization, the process of visualization is completely induced, initiated and controlled by imagination. Imagination is that part of the mind that is the ability to create, to create images, ideas. And if a person imagines a desired future, he uses imagination. If he believes that he will achieve this future, he fills these images with his life energy. Approximately the same thing happens as when creating egregors, only not by many people, but by one person.

The visualized image remains in the Spiritual World, more specifically, it remains in the mental field of this person, and this image begins to influence the Timeline, bringing closer to materialization the very version of the future that he imagined. But, of course, if he believes in it. Moreover, this is how hidden desires and dreams of both a positive and negative nature are realized, those that bring happiness and those that bring suffering.

This mechanism is fully revealed in the words of Jesus Christ, who said: "According to your faith it will be done to you." Why did He say so? Because faith is a feeling that something invisible, something that does not exist in the physical world, already exists. And faith itself changes a person's perception, changes a person's will, and he begins to see those opportunities that are necessary for the implementation of the plan he dreamed of. In addition, his dreams, his fantasies are visible to his Guardian Angels, Consulting Angels, his curators. They are visible in the mental field as images. If these dreams lead a person to the Light, to enlightenment, to awakening, to the implementation of his incarnation tasks, then his curators, Guardian Angels and Consulting Angels will create for him those events that will allow him to achieve this.

That is, what you call visualization is such an open way to declare to the Universe that I want this future. But, as everyone understands, wanting is very important for getting a result, but not enough. In addition to desires, visualization and fantasy, there must be real actions. Daily visualization can be especially useful for those people who have not yet recognized their true desires.

There are many people who do not know what kind of future they want and why. It is useful for them to learn to dream, to ask themselves: "What do I want? How do I see this future?" This will allow them to mobilize their willpower and the vital force of the etheric field to realize their desires. After all, every person has desires, only some are directed towards the Light, towards enlightenment, while others can be directed towards degradation. But this is only if there are blocks that distort the Divine Light coming from the Higher Self through the spiritual channel into the heart of the Soul of a person.

Alexander: Thank you!

11:26 Conscious need. Physical and spiritual desires.

Alexander: How to distinguish between desires that lead you to spiritual awakening and desires that lead to degradation?

Irina (MidgasKaus): To distinguish, you must first know the purpose of your incarnation and compare desires with the purpose of incarnation: to what extent does this desire contribute to or hinder the achievement of the purpose of incarnation.

Since man is both a physical and spiritual being, he has physical and spiritual desires that reflect his existence in the physical and Spiritual worlds simultaneously. After all, you live in the world of things, in the world of your body, and at the same time in the world of your thoughts, feelings and experiences. Both are real for you, and therefore you have desires.

Desire is a conscious need. A person is not conscious of all of his needs. Unconscious needs are in his subconscious, or, as we say, in the causal body. These are the programs, including karmic, instinctive, etc., which are stored, perhaps, from past incarnations or from birth (if we are talking about instinctive programs, they are perceived during incarnation). But in needs there is a certain trigger that turns on and makes this need conscious, and we already call it desire. A conscious need as a desire includes the will as its energy in order to make a choice corresponding to this desire.

As I have already said, all desires can be divided into physical and spiritual. Of course, there is a gradation: physical and spiritual desires are different. Physical desires reflect physical needs, for example, for water, food, sleep, air, and so on. Naturally, they give rise to desires, for example, to satisfy hunger, thirst, to enter into sleep.

These desires are positive, but only if they do not completely replace spiritual desires, if a person does not live only by them. If a person lives, ignoring his spiritual needs, and fulfills only the needs of the physical body, as well as instinctive needs, including the need for self-preservation, reproduction, power, herd mentality and pleasures, but does not go to the realization of spiritual needs, then he degrades, lowers his vibrations, because he does not fulfill the purpose of his incarnation. And since he lowers his vibrations, his mentors from the Spiritual world begin to create those conditions for his life or send him those people who will prompt him to remember his spiritual task. This is called "taking lessons of the material world."

15:45 Forming Habits. Calming the Mind.

Irina (MidgasKaus): By its structure, a person very easily forms habits at the brain level. We call this "creating neurochains." And a person has a ready-made automatic form of behavior for all occasions in life, including the fulfillment of their desires, which in speed and accuracy of its operation is close to instinctive programs. When a person understands that he needs to change something, the instinct of self-preservation is activated in order to maintain the previous way of life. That is why, when these lessons begin, it can be difficult to begin your spiritual path, that is, to begin to fulfill the tasks of incarnation, to realize your spiritual needs.

This is how it manifests itself. For example, a person spent a third of his life fulfilling only physical needs: he worked to feed his body, created a family to realize the possibility of reproduction, etc. And he also had a spiritual need, for example, to understand the world, or to develop Love, or to enjoy life. Spiritual needs differ from physical ones in that they are not based on achieving something material. When a person learns about this, he may not understand how to develop these spiritual qualities if he is already accustomed to working only in the physical world.

Let's take, for example, a person who has received a higher education. If he is used to only counting numbers, adding them up and doing this 8 hours a day, then coming home, then waiting for the day off, he cannot understand how the Spirit requires him to develop Love or joy in these conditions. To understand this, he needs to look at himself with different eyes, the eyes of the Spirit. And meditations help with this, among other things. They help to calm the mind, the very thinking where various information is constantly processed, including from memory.

What does it mean to “calm the mind”? It means to make it not a “stormy sea” where “waves” of thoughts about completely irrelevant things constantly arise, but a “smooth water mirror” in which a person will see a reflection of his needs, including his spiritual tasks. The answer from the Spiritual World, from the Higher Self, can come in mental silence. This is facilitated by meditation, relaxation of the body, autogenic training, various physical and breathing exercises, if, of course, they are performed with concentration on them. These are all auxiliary methods for a person to get used to the state of self-contemplation.

Alexander: Thank you! You answered several questions at once.

Irina: I understood that he had already answered in advance.

19:46 Stopping thoughts. State of self-awareness.

Alexander: I would like to clarify a small detail: how to make a "mirror surface" out of a "stormy sea". In my experience, and not only, this happens because we stop creating "waves", stop denying reality or creating oscillatory processes that create these "waves".

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, that happens. But it also happens that the "waves" come from memory.

The mind consists of thinking, imagination and memory. Moreover, thinking is the center and source of the energy of consciousness, which allows you to perceive the surrounding reality, in this case - through the senses of the physical body. Thinking is also the source of self-awareness, as a feeling that you exist and you are different from other people. This energy is formed in thinking, because the perception of the world and oneself in people, as rational beings, is carried out with the help of thoughts. You think: "I am ... I am different ... What is in front of me is a computer." These are all thoughts that arise thanks to consciousness.

When people want to meditate, they redirect the energy of consciousness into the inner world. In simple terms, they collect the single energy, which is divided into two streams - consciousness and self-awareness - simply into the stream of self-awareness by distracting themselves from the material world. After all, it is consciousness that is directed towards the material world.

When a person closes his eyes and begins to listen to himself, he can concentrate so much that he will not hear sounds, and will not even feel his body: the position of his arms, legs, etc. This happens quite often and is a good sign that a person is distracted from the receptors of the body. Of course, if a person has already meditated for a long time, and he has a lot of experience, then he can concentrate on himself, on his self-awareness, not only when his eyes are open, but even when he is doing something. For example, he can go somewhere or do some work and at the same time - meditate.

But first it is necessary to go through the stage when a person understands what kind of state it is. In order for him to understand this, it is necessary to enter the flow of self-awareness. Self-awareness, when it remains an object of contemplation of itself, begins to note individual thoughts that arise. If a person no longer uses thinking, that is, does not think about anything consciously, then certain thoughts that will come to him may come from memory. For example, he may remember what happened this morning, or what he did not have time to do, or what he has to do tomorrow. That is, certain thoughts may come from that array of data, an array of information that is stored in memory.

Thoughts can also come to him from the Spiritual channel – from the Higher Self and from its curators. On Earth, this is called intuition, intuitive thoughts. A person can feel the presence of the Higher Self, can feel the presence of Light, a certain thought will come to him, for example, “you are the Light” or “believe in yourself”. They usually reflect not memory settings, but higher spiritual states that can be clothed in thoughts or images. This happens differently for each person: someone has more verbal thinking, and someone – figurative thinking, but, nevertheless, thoughts come.

When a person calms his "ocean" himself, at the initial stage he calms only his thinking. For example, he does not think: "Where am I? What is happening to me? What do I feel?" - or anything else. He simply observes himself, and thoughts begin to appear involuntarily. In order to calm them, and not drive them away, we do not call it "drive away", we call it "calming so as to feel the silence of the mind, the silence of thinking." If some thought comes, we do not continue to follow it, do not think about why it came, but simply allow it to pass through us and go back. We become, as they say in Esler, "transparent" to thoughts, as glass is transparent to the light of the Sun.

Alexander: Thank you. You've answered a whole series of questions.

Irina: (laughs).

25:54 Freedom of choice for a rational Spirit.

Alexander: Then I'll go back a bit and ask a question about free will or choice. There is an opinion, and to some extent it has even been proven by scientists, that there is no freedom of choice for a person. A signal simply comes to the brain, and after some time a reaction occurs - some idea, thought, desire arises. As a result, an action is activated to implement it, or resistance and doubt that "this is mine." But all this is already a consequence of the impact of something from outside on a person.

Is there free will at all? If so, at what level is it?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Here everything depends on the understanding of the word "freedom". How do you understand the word "freedom"?

Alexander: Personally, I understand the word "freedom" as the ability to control attention, to put it in a nutshell. Depending on this, programs are launched to realize this or that energy.

Irina (MidgasKaus): It is called “free will”, that is, the possibility and the ability. It is both the possibility and the ability of the energy of will to perform certain actions. The very moment of directing the will to one or another action is called “choice”. For this reason, freedom of will is also called free choice. What does this mean? “Free choice” means that the decision on where to direct the energy of will is made by the personality (entity, being) that possesses the energy of will. That is, this choice is not imposed from the outside, it is not prescribed in some mechanisms of its brain. The Spirit itself, which is in this body, from a multitude of impulses leading it to one or another choice, and, accordingly, to behavior as a series of choices, completely freely (meaning without the influence of other beings) chooses one of the impulses.

From your life experience you know very well that you can have two or more desires at the same time. And no one except the Heavenly Father (God, the Absolute), who knows all the future options, knows, not even you yourself, what choice you will make, because the choice you make may be a surprise even for you. Nevertheless, you will make it freely. What does freely mean? It means that no one will do it for you, but you will do it yourself.

Who makes the choice in a person? The choice is made by the mind, more specifically, its thinking, which we have already discussed. In addition to the function of processing information according to certain logical laws, thinking also has the function of making decisions. Desires, as I have already said, are conscious needs. They exist in the heart, which is why in Russian they say: "You can't command the heart... The heart desires." But the mind, although it cannot command the heart, can choose which of the desires must be realized right now, and which to postpone for later or even forever.

I am often asked: "What does a person live by - the mind or the heart?" He lives by both at the same time, but if you look at the source of desires, then, of course, it is the Spiritual Heart. But the mind helps the heart to realize the desire and turn it into a conscious goal. And freedom of choice just presupposes the possibility of responsibility or what we call "creating karma." If there is no freedom of choice, then the creature has no karma, it does not accumulate karma as a result of all the vibrations experienced by it during incarnation. For example, animals act this way, they have no karma.

31:38 Instinctive mind of the animal Soul.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Animal Souls are a special type of Souls.

(Irina): Now he’s showing me plants too.

(MidgasKaus): But we will not talk about plants, microorganisms, which also have their own type of Souls. We are talking about those closer to awareness, in the understanding that humans have. Although the consciousness of animals is, of course, completely different, it works differently, but it is more understandable to you than the consciousness (perception) of plants, the Souls of plants.

Animals do not have freedom of choice in the sense that humans have it – as a result of thinking. How do they choose what to do? By automatically following the instinct that was the strongest at that moment in time. This is called “instinctive reason.” Any animal Soul has an instinctive reason, an instinctive memory that controls the behavior of this animal, which is why animals do not have abstract thinking, that is, thinking abstracted from its body, from its immediate habitat, etc. All this happens because animals do not have thinking, but simply an instinctive reason. They do not have freedom of choice, which means that animals are not responsible for their actions. People, that is, rational beings, are responsible for their actions, but animals do not have responsibility and do not have karma.

For example, if a person has lowered his vibrations, accumulated anger, pride and other negativity in his heart, he has accumulated a certain negative karma. This negative karma will attract him to one or another level of the Spiritual World. If this level is low, he will feel dissatisfied, and in order to leave this level, he will need to incarnate again to go through again, to dissolve these blocks that have already turned into karmic knots.

This does not happen with animals. The cycles of incarnation that exist in animal Souls do not depend at all on what the animal did during its life. There are different types of animal Souls, which roughly coincide with the concept of a biological family. For example, a dog's Soul can easily incarnate into a cat (this happens), but it cannot incarnate into animals that already have a slightly different instinctive mind, such as a hare, a cow, etc., since they have different types of Souls. Nevertheless, their conditions of incarnation do not depend on the previous incarnation. The cycle of incarnation of animal Souls is under the jurisdiction of the subtle-material civilizations of the planet where these animals exist. By animals I now mean the entire animal world, starting from single-celled animals, arthropods, insects, birds, mammals, and so on.

Alexander: Thank you!

Irina: He is a biologist, so he explained the differences.

Alexander: Yes. And we learned about animals too.

Irina: He is now saying that they do not have freedom of choice, but we do, because they have an instinctive mind, and we have thinking, which makes a choice: “This is what I want now, but this is what I don’t want now” or “This is what I want now, but this is what I need. Although I don’t want this, I need this.” And thinking makes a conscious choice – to suppress its desire and do what is necessary, but I don’t want, for the sake of some goal of its own. A rational person has this quality.

Alexander: Thank you, that sums it up.

36:22 The essence and meaning of collective meditation.

Alexander: I have a question about collective practices, collective meditations. This is practiced and there is even information that in the 21st century, meditation and spiritual practices in general, conducted alone, either do not work at all or have a significantly lower efficiency. What happens during collective practice? Are they an accelerator of spiritual development, or can they still be conducted alone, as is convenient, and is it all individual?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, individual meditation, individual spiritual practice differs from collective spiritual practice in its energy. And there are even such differences when people gather, as you are saying now, in the online space and perform some kind of meditation, or gather in one room physically. The thing is that when many people think at the same time on the same topic or perform the same practice, they create a common spiritual space, which with its vibrations amplifies the spiritual sensations (not physical, but spiritual!) and feelings of each participant in the meditation, and therefore amplifies the effect according to the law of resonance of the energy shells of the aura.

Simply put, a person who has just started his spiritual path with meditation, with knowing himself, his Light inside, will find it easier to feel this Light, these energies in collective meditations, because everyone will be tuned to one “wave” there, and the space itself will help his aura to enter into resonance with this state. Individual practices, of course, can be done, this also helps a person on the path of spiritual development. If he feels a merger with his Higher Light, inner Light in individual practice, then in collective practice it will be even easier to do this, again, due to the resonance of energy vibrations transmitted from one aura to another.

39:11 Experience of knowing the true Light.

Alexander: Feels the spiritual Light... I have encountered many experiences when a person suddenly at some point realized that what he had felt before as spiritual, filling, turned out to be some kind of reaction to imagination or illusion, and he went even deeper, experiencing a new spectrum of sensations. How can you avoid being deceived and not fall into the illusion that you have already achieved something, or that what you are now experiencing or experienced in meditation is the Absolute? How can you distinguish the true Light?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Everyone experiences contact with the Absolute or with the Absolute in themselves, with God in themselves at their own level, that is, at the level of those vibrations for which they are ready at the present moment. Of course, if a person purifies their Spiritual heart, their aura, harmonizes their chakras, they can feel the same Light differently. But this is not a reason to call that experience illusory, the person was simply able to become more sensitive to It and get closer to It in their vibrations. That is, they can first feel it to a small degree, and then feel it to a much deeper degree, experience the same experience.

It depends on how harmonious the chakras are, how many blocks there are, and so on, it even depends on the state of the physical body. If there is some disharmony in it, a certain amount of neuroregulatory hormones in the brain will be disrupted, it will no longer be able to reach high spiritual states, its brain energy simply will not reach them. This also happens.

41:16 Exit from a possible state of depression after contact with the Light.

Alexander: It happens that after experiencing deep states, opposite states suddenly occur, sometimes quite long. Why does this happen?

Irina (MidgasKaus): This really happens, because, as I have already said, a person is a part of the Spirit, that is, the Soul, embodied in the physical body. And when the Soul reaches these high states, certain changes occur in the body, associated with the release of certain hormones, which you call "pleasure hormones." You called them so because they are released in a certain spiritual state. They are needed to renew and harmonize all the cells of the physical body, including influencing the increase in immunity, cleansing from toxins, etc., in order to heal the physical body.

But it happens that a person, having experienced this bright sensation of Light, returns to his normal state, and in his subjective perception it already seems to him like despondency, depression in comparison with the Light that he experienced, because often the human body, his brain needs to replenish the reserves of these substances, these hormones that are already doing their job. Here you do not need to worry, you need to wait, remain calm, remember this Light and understand that the body must adapt to these changes. And you will definitely experience this feeling even longer, even more fully, if you are calm and do not lower your vibrations with doubts and accusations that you are not spiritual enough.

Alexander: That is, accept yourself as you are.

Irina (MidgasKaus): This is a physiological reason, plus a person's subjective perception of his usual mood as reduced and his vitality as low compared to the state in which he was in contact with the Light.

Alexander: Yes, that resonates very well, it's familiar, thank you.

43:43 The Path of Humanity. Working on Fears.

Alexander: A more global question. We have long been predicted to be near the end of the world, and everything is presented in such a way that we are getting closer and closer to it. Is it really so? Is humanity on the threshold of destruction or is this all an exaggeration? And what will help us to get out of the steep dive towards destruction, if it exists, and what should we become at the new level of consciousness? Where are we heading? Such a capacious question.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Again, I will express my opinion. At the present moment, humanity is not on the path to its own destruction. There are, of course, some collective choices of peoples that have made such an outcome more likely than it was, for example, several years ago. But this is a small probability that there will be a certain mass death of people.

What can you change? A specific person who is in a country or territory where many people believe in destruction, in the creative power of their own aggression, must understand that the aggression of some people generates fear not only in other people, but also in the aggressors themselves.

Fear is a natural consequence, a natural emotion that manifests itself as protection from danger. If a person feels aggression, he tells his brain, his instinct (the part of the brain that is responsible for the manifestation of instincts) that he lives in a dangerous world. And since he lives in a dangerous world, fears awaken in him to protect him. The instinct of self-preservation awakens so that he stays alive, healthy, so that his physical body lives as long as possible, since this is the task of the instinct of self-preservation. And aggression of oneself or others interferes with this, because it is associated with an increased risk of injury and physical death.

Therefore, it is necessary to explain to people that if you experience resentment, anger, fury, revenge, rage, you will provoke fears and anxieties in yourself. And all this will not help you to protect yourself from danger, because its source is in you.

In order to calm down, you must first learn the goals of your incarnation in this world, in this place, at this time, when aggressive actions occur. After all, you incarnated at a certain time after viewing the most probable events in this current period of time, in this space. And if you incarnated here and now, then you need it for something.

It is necessary to move to a new level of thinking: stop thinking of yourself as a victim of circumstances and take responsibility for creating your reality into your own hands. What does this mean? That you recognize yourself as a Divine consciousness that creates its own reality. And if you realize this, it will be easy for you to let go of fear and aggression as emotions that are no longer relevant to you. Fill yourself with faith, Love, hope even in the most terrible circumstances for the instincts of the body, even if the instinct of self-preservation sends you thoughts (and it can also send thoughts in the form of certain fears, that is, thought forms clothed in the energy of fear).

Even if he sends you thoughts that your body will perish because of some weapon, and this is scary, if you already know how to enter the Light of your heart, then as soon as this instinctive thought penetrates your consciousness, you can immediately simply put it in front of you, like a person who brought you some message. As if opening the door to the postman, greeting her and asking: "And can the fear that you brought me really protect me from this weapon? Can it protect me from death, for example, in combat?"

Naturally, if these actions depend on the will of other people, and you are there simply as a Spirit that has decided to incarnate there, then no fear can protect you. It simply lowers your vibrations, because you begin to move away from the Light that is in you, from the awareness that you are an immortal Spirit, into the perception of yourself as a body. This creates a problem called "disappointment in the spiritual path." Because when a person who has previously followed the spiritual path begins to feel like a body because of fear, he can critically, with a critical mind, look at his previous spiritual activities and tell himself that they did not give him anything as a body. This can cause a departure from these spiritual practices and immersion in material life completely, and not partially (work, eating, etc.).

To prevent this from happening, you need to talk to yourself very truthfully, honestly, ask yourself sincere questions and answer them honestly. You can deceive someone, you can deceive yourself. But if you deceive yourself, you are delaying your spiritual development in the form of fulfilling the purpose of incarnation. Always be honest with yourself, and then you will automatically be honest with others.

And how can you help other people avoid negativity? You can only be an example for them of how you live in these circumstances: treat this situation with calm and acceptance, without fear, anger, any curses towards enemies, but with understanding, forgiveness, Love. You will be that "beacon" of Light that is visible from afar, and you will be an example for others, because in you they will see the "ocean of calm" that they lack.

Alexander: Thank you.

Irina: I hope everything is clear?

Alexander: Absolutely. The main thing is that it is very accessible, on the shelves.

52:56 The path to absolute happiness.

Alexander: I would like to clarify one more detail. Where are we heading as humanity? Is absolute happiness possible on Earth, or is it just a simulator for going through an experience, usually painful, maybe even suffering somewhere?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Absolute happiness is possible only for the Absolute. We, His children, can approach this happiness, we can merge with it, we can experience it, but its limits are infinite, like the Absolute itself. We can say that there are no limits, we can say that the limits are infinite, which in fact means that they are absent, like the Absolute itself.

How can we infinitely increase the level of our happiness? First, by realizing that true happiness is found only in the Source, which is called God on Earth, or the Absolute, or the Source of everything. And in order to discover the source of this happiness in ourselves, we need to understand that it is always in us and is revealed through the development of unconditional Love.

54:22 MidgasKaus on the difference between unconditional Love and egoistic Love.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Why unconditional Love? Because there are many forms of love on Earth, and some of them are present in all people simply as the ability to feel an attraction to someone or something, a pull. The feeling of unconditional Love is a feeling of unity regardless of conditions. All forms of love that a person has are manifestations of this eternal, absolute Love.

But the manifestation or part is not the whole itself, it is only a manifestation. Therefore, if a person loves only pleasant things, pleasant people, relatives, friends, this is the so-called egoistic love. The love of the ego (the ego as an embodied part of the Spirit, from the word "ego" - "I") is in no way bad, but here we must understand that this is partial love. And since this is partial love, it means that it gives only partial happiness.

If you want more complete Love, then you need to develop more complete, or, as we call it, absolute, unconditional Love. What is the difference between egoistic love and unconditional love? Egoistic love between people can be between a parent and a child, between spouses, between friends. It differs from unconditional love, which can be between the same individuals, in that with egoistic love, a person loves and accepts another only as long as he or she meets his or her expectations. But unconditional love always loves, regardless of the mental or intellectual attitudes of the mind. Even if a person violates some rules and norms in a person's mind, this person still continues to love him or her, send him or her Light, wish him or her well, happiness, and help him or her, including in his or her physical needs and in his or her spiritual development.

I want to emphasize a very important point here, that helping him does not mean doing everything for him, it means helping, assisting, accompanying. Doing everything for another person is not Love, because it promotes the shifting of responsibility to the one helping and can subsequently incite the recipient of such help to laziness, irresponsibility, and, ultimately, to the rejection of his own development and to degradation.

57:43 MidgasKaus on the pace of spiritual development.

Alexander: Many Teachers that I know or have read about always hurried their students saying that time is short, that they need to wake up faster, faster, faster, faster to move to a new level of consciousness. Does this hurrying really increase your speed? Is it worth hurrying at all, or does everything go as usual?

Irina: It depends on what you're in a hurry about?

Alexander: To fuss, to quickly search for where this awakening is, to travel from continent to continent, to constantly be in a state of achieving or running after awakening.

Irina: So, the question is: is it necessary to hurry to awaken?

Alexander: Yes, to achieve it, to strive for it, to desire it, to wait for it endlessly, to fuss for it.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, I understood the question.

In order to truly achieve awakening as a full realization of yourself, your Spirit on Earth, the fulfillment of your tasks, you need to communicate with your Higher Self and find out from it the goals of incarnation, to what extent you are fulfilling them, and what is hindering this.

It is very good to strive for spiritual development, but it should not be accompanied by constant dissatisfaction with oneself. It is better to be in a calmer, introspective state, which people do not go well with in a hurry. As far as I have observed people, it is difficult for people to relax their body and mind if they are in a hurry, because it causes anxiety in them, fear that they will not have time, that they will not achieve something. Fear itself causes the release of certain hormones, which also affect the brain and block the release of those hormones that allow you to prepare for that very quiet, meditative state.

Each person must, of course, move at his own pace if he wants to succeed in this, despite the achievements of others. This is not the case when you are in a competition. This is a very subtle structure, this is a very subtle spiritual Light that can be felt by you in the silence of your heart, and haste is inappropriate here. Therefore, if you see that someone is overtaking you in their spiritual achievements, you do not need to scold yourself and try to achieve their results at all costs. You need to ask yourself: "What do I need to do to realize my task?" Go inside yourself and ask.

Figuratively speaking, there is Light in the Spiritual heart of man, and this Light is covered by certain mental covers, just as a beautiful bright flower is covered by a bud. And if it is not yet open, it is very dangerous to try to open it artificially, to break it. This can lead to damage to the flower and to the fact that it will never bloom again.

Remember that you are God's beloved children, and in the heart of each of you there is a "flower" of your talents, abilities and high spiritual feelings. But in order to reveal them, silence is needed, respect is needed, Love for this Light and for the Light of each other is needed.

(Irina): Understand? What do you feel?

Alexander: Yes, it is very clear what kind of feeling it is. This is what you practice day after day. This is what we do in our School. We strive to do this regularly, at least.

Irina: Are there contactees there too?

Alexander: No, I wouldn't say that they are contactees, that is, there is no communication with the personality, but there is communication with the field. It is silent, the answer comes at the level of impulses. And someone specific who conveyed it to you in an image or said it is not present, at least not with us. There is a teacher who speaks in words.

I think I've run out of questions.

Irina: Good. Thank you.

1:03:19 MidgasKaus' parting words.

Alexander: If only there is some kind of parting word, a wish.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, I would like to say some parting words.

Dear Divine Souls! Remember that you are Light, and namely the Light of Love! If you always keep this in your consciousness and memory, you will be able to track any dark points on this light background as dark images that can enter your aura, for example, from egregors or from other people, and send them Light. And this will not have any effect on you. No one will be able to frighten you, anger you, make you feel guilty, and so on. Remember that you are Light and always live in the Light! Remember that the space where you live is filled with Divine Light, only it manifests itself in the form of physical matter. Remember that your bodies are given to you temporarily to fulfill your task. Remember that the tasks of your life lie beyond it. I send you the Light of my Love!

Alexander: Thank you.

Irina: Thank you, dear friends! Mid answered very interestingly and sent energy, I feel it. Thank you for watching this video. I hope you found it interesting. I also thank Alexander for interesting questions, I thank MidgasKaus for interesting answers. I love you too, see you soon!

Alexander: Thank you, Irina! Thank you, MidgasKaus! Goodbye!

February 2, 2023

Participants:

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, with subtle-material civilizations and with the Spiritual world;

Alexander Larionov is a student and instructor at the retreat center “Givin School” (Sochi, Russia);

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, and specialist in alien life forms.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/midgaskaus-o-proiskhozhdenii-rastenij-na-zemle
MidgasKaus on the origin of plants on Earth
According to the historical archives of the Interstellar Union, all plants that exist now, but not in this form, but in the wild, were already on Earth at the time of discovery. And there were even more plants than now, because many representatives of the animal and plant worlds disappeared from the face of the Earth for various reasons. Especially many species disappeared due to the war 12,000 years ago and the cataclysms that followed it.

There were differences because the Earth had a more uniform climate. For example, there was no cold season, no snow cover, and precipitation was more evenly distributed - in the form of rain and sunny days. And the soil had a more favorable environment for the life of microorganisms and various insects - very numerous species, and it was very fertile, and there was no soil pollution yet. If you take the most fertile soil now - it was practically the same all over the Earth, there were no deserts. Naturally, excluding the ocean. Before the war 12,000 years ago there was a single continent, there were islands, but small ones.
All this data about the characteristics of the Earth and about thousands of species of plants, animals, insects, microorganisms discovered on Earth are in the records about them. This planet was very attractive for the entire Galaxy, because it had a unique collection of different species of living creatures and plants, including, starting from large, enormous trees, probably fifty meters in height. I myself did not see them, because, naturally, I was born much later, but I saw these records on our media in the historical archive.
And after 12,000 years ago, when the Earth's atmosphere and the Earth's energy, that is, its magnetic field, and the Earth's climate changed, they naturally changed human genetics so that he could eat not only plants, but also the flesh of animals, birds and fish. This was done for the purpose of humanity surviving, adapting to new conditions and being able to reproduce again.
The scientists who were there at that time - representatives of Burkhad, Tumesout (Selbet was no longer there, since it was then excluded from the Interstellar Union for 250 years after the war) became the initiators of this process, but they were assisted by scientists from different parts of the Galaxy. It was necessary to change human genetics in such a way as to replace 5% of Burkhad genes with 5% of Tumesout genes. There were 15% of Tumesout genes, and now there are 20%. And these five percent of Tumesout genes, who are omnivores themselves, allowed humans to process animal protein (not only protein, but also fats, etc., all animal products). And initially people were more similar in nutrition to the Burkhadians, because the Burkhadians are also, like us, Eslerians - herbivorous creatures that evolved from herbivorous mammals on their planets. The Selbetians, who also gave 5% to people, are predators - this is a reptilian civilization, but their 5% of genes that were added to the first man did not affect nutrition, they had a different function.

MidgasKaus on the origin of plants on Earth, their export to other planets
Plants such as wheat, corn, calendula, red poppy and some other plants were taken from Earth to the planet Venus and to the planet Mars 200,000 years ago, when people lived there. Pines also grew there, they were taken from Earth. And after the war 12,000 years ago, many plants, or rather their seeds, were already taken to the planet Disaru, to their colonies, to the planet Burkhad, they even spread to many planets of the Galaxy.
At one time, they were given conditions that were familiar to them, and then, again with the help of genetic modification, they were adapted to that type of solar radiation, soil composition and molecular composition of water, because it is different everywhere, depending on the substances that water passes through, seeping through the soil. And thanks to this, many plants now grow on other planets, including corn.
So it was not the Earth that was the object receiving new plants from the Interstellar Union, but on the contrary, it was the object giving us, enriching the Interstellar Union with gifts that were quite amazing for us, which no one had seen.
For example, we, Eslerians, live on Earth at our base, and we tried to use and grow various earthly plants there. Those that were suitable for our diet and we liked were transported to our planet. For example, on the planet Esler, your pumpkin has successfully taken root, bears fruit successfully and is very much liked by all our inhabitants.
Moreover, it became red and its skin became quite hard, because we have a different sun and sunlight. Getting through the leaves, it is deposited differently in these fruits, and a different color is obtained.
Timecode: 03:28, #536 Plant life of planet Earth. Who changed human DNA? Ecological doctrine.
MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist, and specialist in alien life forms.
February, 2023
https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pryamoj-ehfir-s-duhom-ioanna-bogoslova-12-apostolo
#535 Live broadcast with the Spirit of John the Theologian/ 12 apostles/ Episode 3.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=HbVQXVAuszs

00:00 Start of video.

00:03 Greetings. News from the Cassiopeia Project.

Ilya: Good evening, dear friends! I am glad to welcome you to the Cassiopeia channel. Perhaps unexpectedly for many, today I will be hosting the broadcast with you. My name is Ilya Aleksandrov, and I will be hosting several broadcasts with you behind the scenes instead of Maxim. I am one of the teachers of the Cassiopeia Project, the organizer of the School of Mental Health. In general, I am a full-fledged participant, so many know me, some do not yet, we will get acquainted.

While we are connecting, first of all, I want to thank you all, friends, for your support. I am reading the chat now and I am very glad that everyone is waiting for the broadcast, everyone is greeting us. And so write, can you see and hear me well, while I will thank you from the bottom of my heart for your support, for your kindness, for your Love, for your Light. And you can support us with “likes”, reposts. Write comments - the more there are, the more people will watch this broadcast and see this, I think, very interesting information. Because today we have a broadcast with John the Theologian.

For now, a little bit of advertising, as always, before we begin. I want to share with you a huge joy, which is a great joy for me too: we will have a premiere of a new course, in addition to that wonderful School of Contactees, in which 37 streams have already passed. We are opening an amazing course of information that I just want to share. We will also conduct it with Irina - me and Irina. Its premiere will take place in Moscow, in Domodedovo, in the Cassiopeia Center. These are "Science of Imagery" and "Astral Travel".

I have the privilege of leading the "Science of Imagery" that MidgasKaus transmitted - that wonderful information that children are taught from a young age on different planets. Finally, we have it! And through my prism of psychological education, awareness and simply amazing information from Mead that he transmitted and invested in me, I will share with you. And together we will figure out how this affects our lives, how this space of life can be controlled through conscious images.

And the second part is just fantastic from Irina - "Astral Travel"! Think for a second: Irina will select a way for everyone to enter the Astral. I myself will be there as a participant during these days, because I also want to master all of this. Therefore, we will meet in Moscow. The premiere of this course will take place in three weeks - from February 27. There should be a link under the video. I think everyone who is interested will sign up for such a unique retreat.

For those who are just beginning their path of communication with the Higher Self, want to get acquainted with the techniques and continue to carry this Light - to teach people to lead to the Higher Self, from the School of Mental Health in March there will be a three-day intensive, where Larisa Astashevskaya and I will learn together with you (through metaphorical associative cards, and through body-oriented therapy, and through energy practices) to work with the Higher Self and with all these structures. So that you can work with yourself.

(reads from the chat) "Maxim, don't leave, it's boring without you." Maxim won't go anywhere, he'll be with you in two broadcasts, that's for sure. Friends, you can also sign up for the three-day intensive course of the School of Mental Health in March right under the video. We're waiting for everyone in the Moscow region. By the way, "The Science of Imagery" and "Astral Travel" are a closed program, we're recruiting 21 people in total - so that we can work with you personally. As far as I know, more than half of them are already signed up, but if you have time, sign up, the link will be under the video.

Friends, let's wish ourselves good luck and in the Light of God let's begin this wonderful broadcast! I give the floor to Irina.

05:40 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello everyone! Dear friends, good evening! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, with plasmoid civilizations (subtle material), and also with the Spiritual world.

Today we have a very interesting broadcast – with the Spirit of the Apostle John the Theologian. The fact is that he is now incarnated on planet Earth, and I know this person in whom his Spirit has incarnated. This person has given his consent for his Higher Self to allocate a phantom to endow with the memory of the Apostle John the Theologian and to answer your numerous questions.

Today we will continue the tradition of conversations with already embodied or non-embodied apostles of Jesus Christ. Of course, with those who are known to us, and with those who can get in touch. Therefore, dear friends, he is present here now. The Higher Self of the embodied Spirit has separated an astral phantom from itself and placed in it, one might say, an information cell of memory about this incarnation.

Ilya: Great! Greetings, John the Theologian! Thank you, Irina. Shall we begin?

Irina: He says: “Yes, you can ask questions.”

07:30 Spiritual level and past incarnations of the Spirit of John the Theologian.

Ilya: From what spiritual level did you incarnate into John the Theologian?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): I incarnated into John the Theologian from the 13th level.

Ilya: And did it come out?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): Came out on the 24th (shows the number).

Ilya: Wow! Excellent! Did you fulfill the goals and objectives of the implementation?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): Yes, I have fulfilled all the tasks of my incarnation and have done more than I planned. Because I planned to go to the 18th spiritual level, but went to the 24th: I raised my vibrations more.

Ilya: Interesting. Have you had other incarnations on Earth?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): After John the Theologian, I had incarnations on the planet Tumesout and on the planet Earth - after Tumesout. And I was also incarnated in a high-vibration plasmoid civilization of the 48th density level, not in our Galaxy (shows that it is far). I was incarnated in a forming Galaxy, in which young stars had just begun to form, practically without planets.

Ilya: I wonder what you were doing there?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): They formed the Galaxy of the 48th level of density: the material substance was lowered in vibrations so that it could be densified by those who live at other levels of density, closer to the dense world.

Ilya: Great! And in your incarnation on Earth, which was later, who were you?

Irina (Spirit of John the Evangelist): On Earth I was incarnated as a woman in the United States of America, it was in the middle of the 19th century (shows a woman who was engaged in singing and sang in a church choir, only it was not Orthodox, not Catholic, but Protestant). I had a large family, I was a teacher, I taught children to sing and directed this choir. Before this, the present incarnation.

Ilya: And from what level did you come to this incarnation?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): I came into this incarnation from the 15th level.

Ilya: So you went from being a woman to level 15?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): Yes, I left the woman at the 15th level. And I incarnated into her from the 18th level.

Ilya: Excellent. Do you know the apostles who are incarnate now?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): Yes, in the Spiritual world we all know each other.

Ilya: And how many apostles are incarnate now?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): At present, 6 apostles are incarnate.

Ilya: Do you have some common task on the planet – the 6 apostles, or does each one have his own?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): Of course, there is. Our common task is to bring the Light of God to people in different forms of its awareness and to show everyone the unity of Love in different manifestations.

Ilya: Excellent, thank you. And before John, perhaps there were some significant incarnations on Earth?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): I incarnated in the constellation of Orion - on the planet Tumesout, on the colonies of the planet Tumesout. I also incarnated on the planet Burkhad and on the planet Esler. On Earth before John I had 3 more incarnations.

Ilya: Thank you, thank you.

12:28 The mystery of the death of John the Theologian.

Ilya: Let's move on to John, to his life. The most mysterious part of your existence in the Bible is, of course, your death. Because, as we know, there is no body: you asked to be buried alive, and then the body mysteriously disappeared. Will you reveal this secret to us?

Irina (Spirit of John the Evangelist): Yes. I was already a very old man, and many disciples – the first Christians – had gathered around me. I felt that I would soon leave the earthly world: I received this information from my Higher Self and from Jesus Christ, with whom I was constantly in touch, with whom I communicated. And, having received this information, I decided to go to another place where I was not known. But in that big city where I was, everyone knew me.

I contacted Mirach Count (Archangel Gabriel) and asked him to help me move to another location. So he appointed me a time and place for physical contact with him. With the help of my students, I moved outside the city (shows images). And I told them that I would stay to wait for contact with God, that is, to pray. But I did not ask them to bury me somewhere.

They left me in a cave - not in a mountain, but in a hill. And I told them that I would soon go to the Spiritual World, and I wanted to move to another place, so that after my physical death they would not make a cult out of my body and worship it. Because people were very prone to idolatry. In ancient times, any person they considered holy was an object of worship. But I did not want this, I thought that it would distract them from God, and so I wanted to die in another place. And in order to remain alone in the cave, I told them that I was leaving this world, and they left.

Later, a spaceship in the form of a shiny disk landed near the cave. It was already night (shows how light comes from the ship, and its shiny shell was visible). And I was transferred to another country altogether. It was the southern part of modern Russia, one of the tribes. I lived there for another seven years.

Ilya: And how old were you when you disembodied?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): When I was disembodied, I was 103 years old.

Why did I live for 7 years? Because when Mirah Count met me, his energy had a restorative effect on my body. He did nothing special, but his energy, the energy of the planet Burkhad, revived my cells (shows).

I lived another 7 years, and during these 7 years I further increased my spiritual level – to 24.

Ilya: Somewhere in Southern Russia?

Irina: Shows me the mountains.

(The Spirit of John the Theologian): I will show you now. This place is located not far from your modern city, which was built later – Vladikavkaz.

That is why they didn't find my body. Because they came to the cave and it wasn't there.

Ilya: Excellent.

18:06 The Spirit of John the Theologian about his first acquaintance with Christ.

Ilya: When did you meet Christ? How old were you when you met Him?

Irina (The Spirit of John the Evangelist): Actually, I heard about Him when I was still a teenager. I was 14-15 years old. I heard that there was a very wise man, a spiritual teacher, about whom everyone was talking. That is, in the church, everyone was talking about Him – about how, despite His youth, He practically knew all our sacred books, all our laws by heart. And they told a lot about Him, that He could heal people even in childhood, that is, He was a healer.

I heard it from my parents, from my relatives, for example, from my mother's sister. She even saw Him and received healing from Him. I heard about Him and was very interested in all of this. The only thing was that He lived in another city, to the south of the city where I was born. But it was not very far, it was the capital of Israel, and different people from our city often went there with caravans (shows). And they heard about Him there.

And later, before He came to our city, a rumor spread about Him that a famous Teacher was coming, a spiritual leader who brought a bright teaching and also worked miracles, a miracle worker. I was 19 years old when I met Him. At first I communicated, and a little later I became His disciple.

(Irina) Shows that he was young, almost a boy.

Ilya: The faces on the icons are very young.

Irina: Yes.

21:13 The Spirit of John the Theologian about himself as the beloved disciple of Jesus.

Ilya: The Bible says that you are Christ's beloved disciple. How can you comment on this? Is it true?

Irina (The Spirit of John the Theologian): Many of the apostles, when they walked with Jesus, did not immediately get rid of their human egoistic understandings about the fact that all people are divided into so-called favorites and those who play second fiddle. And therefore, many of the apostles were even jealous of each other, they had internal envy, internal jealousy because of the attention of the Teacher. Of course, they hid it, because they were ashamed to reveal their weaknesses to everyone. They considered it a weakness, because Jesus taught us unconditional Love.

And so they said of me that I was the favorite apostle or the favorite friend of Jesus, because I talked to Him very often, He paid attention to me. I was younger than everyone, and He paid me increased attention because of my youth. And others took this as greater Love than for them. This was at the beginning. But in fact there were no favorites, we were all equally loved, He did not single out who He loved more and who He loved less.

Ilya: Thank you for your answer.

23:05 The Spirit of John the Theologian on the crucifixion of the Teacher.

Ilya: It is also written that you alone walked with Him to the end.

Irina (Spirit of John the Evangelist): I was the only one present at the very place where the Teacher was crucified. Many did not go there because they were afraid that they would be arrested too. They were disciples. Now I will explain.

According to the laws of Israel, only criminals could be crucified, especially those who had been sentenced by a court. Therefore, when He was sentenced to be crucified, all the apostles understood that if they showed up there, they would automatically give themselves away as disciples of a "criminal". We did not consider ourselves criminals. We understood that other people, our people, the Israelis would consider us as such. And many were overcome with fear, and many were simply in despair.

And the Apostle Peter even denied that he was His disciple because he was afraid of being arrested. He lied out of fear, to protect himself, and then he reproached himself for it very much and could not forgive himself for a long time. Even the Teacher Jesus Christ himself came to him in a spiritual form after the Ascension in the physical body. He came to him in the Spirit and calmed him down.

And I went. Why? I couldn’t do otherwise. I loved Jesus very much and understood perfectly well that I could be seized too, but I relied on the will of God: as it will be, so it will be, everything in the Light of God, if they execute, then they execute. I, too, of course, was afraid when I went, but I told myself that trust in God’s will is stronger than fear.

Ilya: So you saw how Christ was crucified?

Irina (Spirit of John the Evangelist): Yes, I saw how they crucified Him. It was terrible for me (shows Irina the picture). There was a lot of blood. And He was completely beaten: His face was beaten, and there were wounds on His body. And they didn't just crucify Him, they mocked Him, humiliated Him. And they understood who they were crucifying (shows them in armor, conveying his emotions).

And His mother, Mary, was also standing next to me and some other disciples. But they were not apostles, but disciples. He had not only the 12 apostles as disciples, but there were many others as well – both male and female disciples.

I can't even imagine what it was like for His mother to watch this. I even glanced at her more than at Him. After all, this was a woman, and this was her first son, whom she loved very much. I knew about their relationship. And when I was standing there, she was close to losing consciousness several times. I saw that her face became absolutely pale, and she rolled her eyes. I went up to her and held her, gave her a drink (he had some kind of flask). And I wanted to take her away, but she did not listen to me.

When Jesus was already close to physical death, I felt it, because we had a spiritual connection. And I felt that the end of His body was coming soon. He looked at me from the cross. Although I was standing in the crowd, I understood that He was looking at me. And He mentally called me, I felt His thought: "Come to me with my mother." I took her hand and began to make my way to the cross.

Even the guard who was guarding the approach with a gun (by law he had to guard: you never know, maybe the disciples would shoot Him now), seeing His mother, her condition, her eyes, he simply turned away and pretended as if he didn't see us, so that we could pass. Although he had to stop us.

I led her by the hand to the cross, and she touched Him. And then He said to me: "John, take care of her." At that time Mary was without a husband, more than ten years had passed since Joseph left the earthly world, and Jesus took care of her as her eldest son. And since He was leaving, and there were no other apostles (as I said, they did not come), He handed her over to me, because He trusted that I, as a son, would take care of her.

I will now explain what it means to "take care of her." He entrusted his duties to me as a son. At that time in Israel, many women were practically dependent on men for support, because they had no opportunity to earn money for themselves. There were very few exceptions - only women from the upper classes. But basically, the father had to take care of the woman, her food, her housing, all her needs, if it was before marriage - about a girl. After she got married, the husband took care of her. And after his death, if she outlived him - the eldest son.

Of course, it happened that a woman did not give birth to a son. In such a case, the daughter's husband also took on such a responsibility. And if she had no relatives, she could be a beggar, asking for alms. Only if some kind person would shelter her, but such people were not always found.

Why did He entrust me when He said "take care of her"? I looked into His eyes and felt such a surge of Love and gratitude to Him. Firstly, even for the fact that, being in agony and pain, He remembers His mother, that it is necessary to find a replacement for Himself on Earth. And, of course, I happily and gratefully agreed to this and said "yes". I cried and said: "Yes, Teacher, I thank You for such an honor." And after that she went with me to the house where I lived.

(Irina): That is, he just told me about how he was at the crucifixion.

Ilya: Thank you. I feel heavy emotions. Quite heavy energy of experiencing this process.

Irina (Spirit of John the Evangelist): I want to say – they are already asking questions here. The thing is that Mary met her second husband, Luke, two years after the Ascension of Jesus, at my place.

Ilya: Thank you.

34:31 The Spirit of John the Theologian about his healing from poison and torture with boiling oil.

Ilya: Now I want to know about your miraculous healing from poison. About you returning alive from a 14-day absence, when Prokhor was waiting for you, when you drowned on the ship.

Irina: Let's go in order.

Ilya: When you were sentenced in Rome, you were poisoned. There is a place in the Bible where you were executed, and you drank the poison first and then survived.

Irina (The Spirit of John the Theologian): Yes, I know that they say this about me. It was all a little different than it is written. Indeed, the emperor issued such an order because I refused to worship the Roman gods, as I considered it a betrayal of Christ. Because He said that God is one, and I understood the violation of this commandment as a lack of love for God.

I was taken from the city, taken by ship to Rome and was actually sentenced to drink an infusion of hemlock root (there is such a plant). But the one who prepared the poisons was one of the secret disciples of the Apostle Paul. And when he saw that the Apostle was sentenced to this, he secretly put the root of the harmless angelica instead of hemlock - another, similar plant. And they brought it to me, but I did not know about it, I found out later when I was in the Spiritual World, because naturally no one revealed this to me while I was on Earth.

I drank it, expecting to die, but nothing happened. I thanked God, because in any case, no matter whose hands did it, it was a miracle. But when the emperor saw that nothing happened, he only became more angry. How did he take it? The emperor who lived in that time and in that country believed in magic, in the magical abilities of people. And he perceived it as the possession of magic, as witchcraft, but not as divine miracles.

And he only became convinced that I possessed magical powers and with their help I could destroy his faith, because I would attract people to myself. And the evil in him increased. And first he sentenced me to exile to the island of Patmos. And literally the day before my departure to this island he issued a decree that before sending them, they would heat up olive oil in a large vat and, when it boiled, lower my hands there for a minute and hold them there (shows). This was done so that I would not write books, would not leave them behind.

And after this sentence was carried out, a decision was made (shows how the warrior reads the scroll): "If you do not calm down, the emperor, upon the next report about you, that you are going against the gods, will put not your hands, but your whole self, into this oil." There was such a threat. Firstly, this was done so that I could not write books, leave my teachings alone. They also hoped that I would die of hunger, because I would not be able to do anything with my hands. And thirdly, it was also a threat that they would do the same with my body, and I would die in terrible agony. It was a triple action.

40:15 The Spirit of John the Theologian about the exile to the island of Patmos.

Irina (Spirit of John the Evangelist): Then they took me to the island of Patmos. I experienced wild pain in my burnt hands: they were all covered with blisters, and later scars appeared. But when I arrived on Patmos, my disciples arrived there, who heard about it (passed it on by word of mouth) and began to treat me, collecting herbs. Naturally, Jesus and the Mother of God, who was already in the Spiritual World at that time, came. They healed me on a spiritual level, and all this allowed me to survive, although many died from such burns without medical help.

Indeed, I could no longer write my books because it was very difficult for me to bend my fingers. And then I asked a student to write down my dictation.

Ilya: Thank you. There is a place in Scripture that when you were exiled to the island, they wanted to free you and let you go, because they believed you.

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): They let me go later.

Ilya: You chose the path yourself, as it is written in the Bible, to go through the link to the end. Is that so?

Irina (The Spirit of John the Theologian): There was simply a small riot on the island when I was already there. And many locals saw my pure, God-fearing life, that I was not a criminal and helped others, and they demanded that the authorities let me go. But I tried to persuade them that there was no need to demand this, so that they would not expose themselves to danger. They could have been exiled or executed for conniving with the "criminal", that is, me, and I did not want people to have problems because of me.

(Irina): He persuaded them, showed them. Although there were such worries, unrest on the island.

42:51 The Spirit of John the Evangelist about his salvation after the storm.

Ilya: And about another magical place in the Bible, when there was a storm at sea, and your disciple Prokhor lost you for 14 days. And after 14 days you returned. How did this happen?

Irina (The Spirit of John the Theologian): It was at the time when I was still living in Ephesus and was still young. At that time, I had only recently arrived in Ephesus and began to think about how to live, how to provide for my life. And I decided to do what I had always been good at – fishing. With the money that I had brought from Israel (I had some money that I had saved up), I bought myself a wooden boat. It was very old, because I had little money. And I decided that I would fish in it. I wove a net myself (I knew how to weave nets from ropes), because I could not buy one. And I began to go out to sea, catch fish and sell them.

I saved some of it. Since I didn't have my own place to live, believers gave me shelter. But I couldn't just live with them, I gave them money for food. I saved some for alms to the poor (from what I sold), and some for my own living. All the money that was brought to the church was donated, I distributed it for the needs of the community. That is, I looked at who needed support - maybe to buy medicine or support a child. There was even a case where our church community bought believers out of slavery. It was just necessary to save money, all this was done from donations.

I didn't take anything from there. I was already dependent on the community of believers when I got older, and even then I tried to go out to sea myself. I was completely dependent on the community when my hands were no longer able to function. Then my merciful brothers and sisters fed me.

And when I was still going out to sea, the wind started blowing towards evening. I swam to the shore, but I didn't have time – a storm started. And since this boat was very old, it crashed (shows a small island and how the boat crashes against a rock).

And I swam out to this island. When I swam out, I had a net tied to my hand with fish that I had caught (like a bag made of a net). And I was there for about five days: it was a very long way to swim to the shore without a boat. When it rained, I collected and drank rainwater (shows), and also dug a hole in the sand where I collected rainwater.

I wanted to eat, but I had no opportunity because there was no fire. I tried to eat raw fish, but I couldn't, it was not fit for food. I prayed to God all these five days to save me. And on the sixth day I saw a white sail. I started waving my clothes – I saw fishmongers sailing. They saw me and took me from there. But it wasn't 14 days that passed, a week.

Ilya: Thank you. That's the scripture.

Irina: That is, he was thrown onto the island, and then he was taken from there. There was no ship all those days, because people rarely sailed there then.

49:05 The Spirit of John the Theologian about himself as the apostle of Love.

Ilya: You were also called the Apostle of Love.

Irina (Spirit of John the Evangelist): I know why they called me that. In the Gospel that I wrote, there were such words that God is Love. And these same words were in the Epistles. I wrote about Love everywhere.

Ilya: Thank you.

49:47 The Spirit of John the Theologian on the writing of the Apocalypse and its numerical symbols.

Ilya: I want to ask about your Apocalypse. Did you write it yourself, or did someone dictate it to you?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): I wrote it myself, but based on the information I received in astral travels, only I didn't call it Astral. I went out into the Spiritual World, and Jesus came to me there, Archangels came and gave me information in symbols and images, and I wrote it down.

Ilya: In the Apocalypse, the number 7 appears 4 times: "7 seals", "7 Angels with trumpets", "7 bowls of wrath". Is there any meaning in this - 4 sevens? And why all 7? Is there any meaning in 7 or is it a coincidence?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): The number 7 denoted the impact on each of the seven, as you say now, human energy centers through each of the seven floors of the astral world. That is, certain feelings, certain images were described. 7 was the number, to put it simply, of the Mystery of God.

4 is a symbolic number of the material world. And 7 is a symbolic number of the Divine Mystery. If we look at the teachings of Pythagoras, which I read in Greek, then these numbers – 7 and 4 – denote the Mystery of God, manifested in the material world. This is the Revelation itself, the genre of “revelation” itself, or in Greek – the Apocalypse. And specifically these descriptions of the cups and what you named – this was a description of the impact on each energy center of a person through figurative thinking.

Ilya: So it's all about the chakras. The first rider, the second rider - these are all the chakras?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): This is where we talk about Angels, about trumpets. There we talk about 7 appeals to a person, each of which affects a certain area of his life, controlled by a chakra.

52:57 The Spirit of John the Theologian on the symbols of the horsemen of the Apocalypse.

Ilya: And then what are the seals an image of? The Horsemen of the Apocalypse, which many are talking about now? And at this stage, if you know, of our reality, from which Irina and I are now talking, many are already comparing them with the coming of almost everyone.

Irina (The Spirit of John the Theologian): In general, I wrote in images. A rider is a man on a horse. A horse is a symbol of movement. When I wrote about riders of different colors, hidden under them is... Since this is the Mystery of God, I wrote Revelation not for everyone, but for those who have the ability to see the mystery. That is, someone who has the same spiritual knowledge as me and the other apostles, he will see the meaning in this. And whoever does not have this spiritual knowledge will simply see a story about certain events that are described there. And what is hidden behind them, he will not be able to find out until he achieves the same spiritual understanding, the same spiritual wisdom.

As for the rider, it is understood as the meaning of the change of the time cycle, the coming of the next era. And they alternate there: one rider comes and brings with him certain phenomena, then he is replaced by another. That is, here the rider is a symbol of time. And not even just time, like, for example, the flow of a river, but specifically a certain era, as you say - a quantum transition.

Ilya: And what stage are we at now in 2023?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): You are now at the stage of the red rider.

Ilya: Ginger, silver. And red?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): What was translated as ginger is red.

Ilya: So, the second one.

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): These eras, they replace each other cyclically. And if you quote this text specifically, or if you, dear friends, open it yourself, you will see that before the appearance of the rider, certain events occur. And then, during his appearance, the consequences of these events occur.

56:21 The Spirit of John the Theologian on the perception of time in the Spiritual world.

Ilya: Yes, many who study the Bible now say that these events were described in many ways, that is, they involve the past, the present, and the future. Can we say that you had a multifaceted perception of time when you were incarnate?

Irina (The Spirit of John the Theologian): Multifaceted perception of time? As I already said, this information, which I then dictated to my student, Revelation, I received in any case in the Spiritual world. When I was in the Spiritual world, I looked at time - not at one time, but at the flow of time, and perceived it as simultaneously occurring events. And I myself felt eternity. Eternity, to put it approximately, is stopped time. This is when time stops, and you yourself determine how much time has passed for you, but at the same time nothing changes.

Ilya: Thank you.

57:56 The Spirit of John the Theologian about his relatives.

Ilya: Your brother is the apostle Jacob?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): Yes, this is my older brother.

Ilya: Your mother was the sister of Joseph, the father of Jesus?

Irina (Spirit of John the Evangelist): No. I know that it is written about this, but no. They were acquainted not with Joseph, but with his relatives. That is, it was simply written, but she was not a sister.

(Irina) He doesn't confirm it to me, he says: "It wasn't there."

Ilya: Good.

58:32 The Spirit of John the Theologian about the Second Coming of Christ.

Ilya: And our saints who were canonized later, such as John of Kronstadt, Andrew of Caesarea, said that when you are incarnated on Earth with Elijah, Enoch and other prophets whose bodies were not found, then that will be the next coming of Christ. You are incarnated now. Should we wait?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): The fact is that the Elijah mentioned there is now also incarnate.

Ilya: This was the next question for you.

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): He is also incarnate now, but not on Earth. And as for the Spirit, who is called Enoch there, he is not incarnate.

Ilya: Should we not expect the Second Coming yet?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): As I have already said, being in the Spiritual world, I saw different versions of the development of events. And those that are described there as actions initiated by Elijah and Enoch were also described figuratively. And the time of the Second Coming was unknown to me, because the future has many options. That is, from the Spiritual world it was clear that the Second Coming could happen at any moment.

Of course, later, when I had already entered the Spiritual World and met Christ, I also asked Him about the Second Coming. He told me that He was not planning to come to Earth a second time before Earth joined the Interstellar Union. That was His plan. I learned about it later.

Ilya: Thank you for your answer.

1:01:12 The Spirit of John the Theologian about the nickname with his brother - "sons of thunder."

Ilya: You and your brother were called "sons of thunder", that was the nickname they gave you. What was it connected with?

Irina (Spirit of John the Evangelist): With the fact that both my brother and I had a very explosive character. Especially in the beginning, when we became disciples of Jesus, and later received initiation into apostles (an apostle is simply the next level of disciples). Especially at the initial stage, we were very irritated by people who, for example, did not believe that Jesus was the true Son of God, considered Him a charlatan, and some even swore.

And we even asked to punish these people – just as Elijah the Prophet, when he lived before Christ, asked God to punish those people who wanted to arrest him and bring him to the king, who did not support the faith in the god Yahweh. And Elijah the Prophet asked God to punish those people who persecuted him. And we asked Jesus in the same way. But He answered us: “You do not know what you are asking for. Because I came to save people, not to punish them.”

1:03:17 The Spirit of John the Theologian on how Jesus taught his disciples.

Ilya: How did Jesus teach you? How did He teach you?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): He told us the meaning of parables – those that He gave in images. He told us a lot in images and explained their meaning to us. He also told us a lot about the structure of the universe – about the stars, about other planets and, naturally, about the human Spirit. He told us about the laws of the Spiritual world, and also showed and told us about various spiritual practices: how to heal people, how to direct Divine Light to evil Spirits that were in people, so that people could free themselves from them.

Ilya: Did he give information equally to everyone, or did he give more to some and less to others?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): The same for everyone, but with a different approach: He could explain in different words. But He had no preferences - as He chose the 12 disciples, so He passed on to all of us.

Ilya: But after the crucifixion (they didn't go), did you, the apostles, communicate with each other?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): We communicated in Jerusalem. Then, later, we dispersed, where each of us was called by the Holy Spirit - for the creation of a Christian assembly, a Christian church as a community, representing the purpose of the incarnation of Christ in the world.

1:05:22 The Spirit of John the Theologian about the meaning of the name "Theologian".

Ilya: Of the 12 apostles, you are the only Theologian. What is the reason for this?

Irina (The Spirit of John the Theologian): It was said so later. I did not call myself a Theologian, it was called so later, in the following centuries.

I know why they called me that. Because when I started writing my Gospel, I prayed to Christ and asked Him to control my mind and send me the right thoughts. And He began to send me information about what Gospel I needed to write to reflect those spiritual moments that were missed or insufficiently covered in the other Gospels.

I wrote it quite late, many Gospels had already been written on papyrus. I prayed: "Jesus Christ, You Yourself know what needs to be known. You Yourself know what needs to be conveyed to humanity. You Yourself know what needs to be conveyed to Your disciples who will come to Your church. Guide me with Your Divine wisdom to write what others have not written."

And information began to come to me. And the first words that I wrote down – I began my Gospel not about how He was born, or how His mother lived, as others wrote. I began precisely with the spiritual origin of Jesus, because He is the first-born Son of God. And I wrote these words: “In the beginning was the Word (I am already telling you this in Russian). And the Word was with God. And the Word was God.”

I wrote these words, and because of these first words in my Gospel I was called the Theologian. Because "In the beginning was the Word. And the Word was God." Because of this - John the Theologian.

Ilya: Thank you! We've been on air for over an hour. I think I'll ask an open question now: are you and the evangelist the same person or different?

Irina (The Spirit of John the Theologian): There are several evangelists, and I was not the only one who wrote the Gospel. In general, an evangelist is an apostle who wrote the Gospel.

Ilya: Excellent. Can I call you that too?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): Yes, you can.

1:08:49 The Spirit of John the Evangelist about his concern for Mary, the mother of Jesus.

Ilya: Also about how you interacted with Jesus' mother, the Virgin Mary. Did you take care of her, how did that happen after the crucifixion?

Irina (Spirit of John the Evangelist): When I was still in Israel, I already lived separately from my parents. At first I returned to my parents' house, but after a week I began to live in another house, which we all built next to my parents' house as a Christian congregation. And Maria lived there, and I lived there. I did not have my own wife and children for the reason that I devoted all my free time and energy to preaching and fishing.

I fished, preached in my free time, and thus took care of her and the needs of her physical body. And, naturally, as an apostle, I instructed people in the Christian faith, baptized them, and administered the Sacrament of Communion, that is, I served in the community.

And then, when our community began to be filled with different people of Greek origin, I would even say, of Roman origin... It was the Roman Empire, but in general everyone considered themselves Greeks, spoke Greek. And one of these disciples was Luke, who began to visit us often. We went to Jerusalem and other cities together, preached. And feelings arose between him and Mary, and later she married him and went over to him, he took her to himself.

Ilya: Thank you for your answer.

1:12:01 The Spirit of John the Theologian about God.

Ilya: An interesting question from the chat, how will you answer it? We have already heard this answer from many. What is God for you?

Irina (Spirit of John the Theologian): God is Love. God is the Light of unconditional Love. Regardless of what kind of person you are – good or bad, God loves you. How does His Love manifest itself? He gives you opportunities for development, for life and for happiness.

Ilya: Thank you.

1:12:42 Message of the Spirit of John the Theologian for 2023.

Ilya: Well, is there any message, any wish for us here, in 2023, in Russia, in these difficult, transitional times of ours, in which you are embodied?

Irina (Spirit of John the Evangelist): Yes, I was incarnated in those times. And I can say that in those times in which I was incarnated in the body of John, things were much more difficult physically. That is, there was a lot of cruelty, violence and physical difficulties. There was less mercy for each other than now (I compare these two times).

People were more cruel in the environment where I lived. Cruel from hopelessness, from constant cruelty and violence towards themselves, starting from early childhood. But at the same time, naturally, there were bright people. And despite all that surrounding darkness, we shone with our spiritual heart and helped other people to be reborn, to undergo "resurrection", restoration in the Light of God.

I believe that any time and any planet can be made into a paradise or a hell depending on the content of one's own Soul. Remember: if a saint suddenly finds himself in hellish conditions, he will be able to create a space of paradise there, which will expand. Unless, of course, he lowers his vibrations with despondency and disbelief in God. If he lets darkness into himself, he will become part of it.

But also a demon, a devil, that is, an evil Spirit. Even if he simply gets into heavenly conditions, but does not let this paradise into his heart, he will create hell around himself. That is why there is a division by levels in the Spiritual world. So that those who correspond to the hellish levels in their level of awareness and spiritual vibration create hell where they live, and do not carry it with them to other levels.

And I want to address you, dear friends. When I was a disciple of Jesus, and after His Ascension, I wrote the Gospel, the Apocalypse and three Epistles not only for my contemporaries, but also for each of you who are alive now. Although life is simpler now, from the point of view of technology, laws, relationships with each other, but we inside, including me, my embodied part, like all people, have remained the same - desiring happiness, Love, but at the same time moving towards this state through overcoming our egoistic understanding of God, ourselves and the world.

Not the ego itself, but its control over spiritual, bright feelings, is the cause of all human troubles. I wish you to always fill your ego, your self, your significance with the Light of unconditional Love. And then you will be significant in the highest sense of the word as a Divine Angel. And you will not need to seek self-affirmation at the expense of the troubles and misfortunes of others or the humiliation of your own kind.

You can, if you want, read the Gospel that I left 2,000 years ago, the Epistles, the Apocalypse, and also, naturally, all the books of other apostles. They were all written in the Spirit of Love. And reading these texts raises your vibrations, but if you read not with a critical attitude, but with sincere Love and a desire to understand yourself.

Ilya: Excellent, super!

1:18:20 Conclusion.

Ilya: Thank you and accept, love and bless!

Irina: Thank you!

Ilya: Thank you, dear viewers, for the broadcast. Thank you Irina for the wonderful, wonderful transmission of information. Thank you, John, for coming, for agreeing. Let's say goodbye.

Irina: Dear friends! He spoke interestingly about Jesus, about Mary, about the Apocalypse. All these are images. It is interesting to decipher them. And he is telling me now that this work will continue in the future – the Archangels will give an interpretation. After all, they gave him information about the meaning of these images, and now they will give us an interpretation of their spiritual meaning. I will do this, pass it on.

I want to remind you, who hasn't read it: in our VKontakte group there is a section called "Archive". And on the fifth page of this archive there are collected interpretations of the 12th and 13th chapters of the Revelation of John the Theologian. I want to tell you that there are several verses, and then an interpretation, which takes up more text in volume. You can read them if you haven't read them yet, and you will see what images are.

Also, to understand the meaning of images yourself, and not just guess, but understand with all the depth of your spiritual heart, will help to take the course "Science of Imagery". That's where they will tell you what images are and what is behind them, what spiritual reality is. Therefore, come to our course "Science of Imagery", which was transmitted by MidgasKaus, and "Astral Travels", which were also transmitted to me by MidgasKaus and LiShioni.

And there will be my own practices, my own practical experience, because I am also an astral traveler. Everything I know, everything I feel, everything I can do, I will tell and help you learn it too. Thank you all, until next time!

Ilya: Thank you. That's all. Bye-bye, friends!

February 5, 2023

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, with subtle-material civilizations and with the Spiritual world;

Ilya Alexandrov is the head of the Institute of Transpersonal Psychology and the School of Mental Health “Mental Healing”, a psychologist and a universal contactee.

The Phantom of the Spirit of John the Theologian from the Spiritual World is one of the twelve apostles, a disciple of Jesus Christ.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/otkuda-vzyalsya-serovodorodnyj-sloj-v-chyornom-mor
Where did the hydrogen sulphide layer in the Black Sea come from?

The Moon became a satellite of the Earth 12 thousand years ago as a result of a war. Before that, it was a planet located between the Earth and Mars. It was a small planet, but independent. From Earth, it was visible as a small star at night, just like Mars is now, only smaller.

It had no effect on the tides, the Earth's orbit, or living organisms. But when it approached the Earth and became its natural satellite, everything changed. The Moon's powerful attraction caused huge waves to rise, flooding large areas in the lowlands.

This is how the modern Black Sea came to be, for example. In its place 12 thousand years ago there were just a few freshwater lakes and rivers. On the shores of these lakes and rivers there were many small settlements, numbering about 2-5 thousand people.

This was when there was a single continent, that is, they lived practically in the middle of the continent. And then, when all this was flooded due to the attraction of the Moon, the Mediterranean Sea expanded, and the water began to spill over the strait, where Istanbul is now located. The lowland territories were flooded.

All those who managed to survive the Selbet shots and who were not taken out by the aliens, they remained there, under the water. These were not only people, but also animals, the same dinosaurs, mammoths. Dinosaurs lived next to people then. However, there were many living creatures. They were all covered by a wave of water, they died. Their bodies began to decompose under the water. This is why there is now a large hydrogen sulphide layer at the bottom of the Black Sea. These are the remains of bodies, this is a large cemetery.

This layer cannot come to the surface and disperse because it is heavier than water. And even fish cannot live there. Oil and gas, you know very well that these are all products of decomposition of organic bodies: trees, animals, and so on, which lived at that time.

Accepted by Irina Podzorova at the third level of the School of Contactees in Voronezh.

Space plasmoids through Irina Podzorova, contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations.

June 2024

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/rastitelnyj-mir-planety-zemlya-kto-izmenil-dnk-che #536 Plant life of planet Earth. Who changed human DNA? Ecological doctrine.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=A1_ChlhvcjU

00:00 Start of video.

00:19 Fragments of the broadcast.

"...your pumpkin has successfully taken root on the planet Esler, it bears fruit successfully and all our residents really like it..."

“...For example, even potatoes, they consist of much more than just starch and water – they contain certain vitamins, microelements, and protein substances that are characteristic of potatoes...”

"...such information is absolutely classified, no one writes, at best it says: "GMO". And what did they add there? For example, it happens that a frog gene is added to a tomato..."

"...The thing is that you, as hybrids, are also genetically modified organisms, you yourselves..."

“...New types of microbes are appearing, or rather, they are not new, they are simply mutating – those types that can decompose substances that are now entering the soil...”

01:55 Welcome and introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today, my curator is present with us in the astral body - a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist, a specialist in extraterrestrial civilizations - MidgasKaus. And today Vitaly will ask him questions. Hello, Vitaly!

Vitaly: Hello! I will also quickly introduce myself. I am Vitaly Dekabrev, a TV presenter of country programs, a blogger. And, of course, all my questions will be related to plants and, possibly, to the proper nutrition of a person who is present on our Earth. Thank you, Irina, for agreeing to talk to me, I have been watching you for a long time, I am very interested in how you think - it is all so positive, so correct from my point of view, that, of course, even if there are no representatives of other civilizations around you, in any case it will be interesting to talk with you. And I am delighted that...

Irina: Thank you, of course! Mead also smiles and says: "Yes, indeed, Irina, having already held many conferences with scientists from the Interstellar Union, and having taken a lot for herself and studied many issues, she is also a very interesting conversationalist."

Vitaly: Yes, that's true. Perhaps we'll start, since we don't have much time, we're having some technical problems here...

Irina: Yes, okay, you can ask questions.

03:28 MidgasKaus on the origin of plants on Earth and the original composition of the soil.

Vitaly: The first and probably the most important question that interests many: where did plants come from on our planet - were they brought, or did they originate on their own? Let's start with this.

Irina: MidgasKaus answers.

(MidgasKaus) According to the Interstellar Union, according to the historical archives that I have studied, all the plants that exist now, but not in this form, but in the wild, were already on Earth at the time of discovery. And there were even more plants than now, because many representatives of the animal and plant worlds disappeared from the face of the Earth for various reasons. Especially many species disappeared because of the war 12,000 years ago and the cataclysms that followed it.

Vitaly: Irina, please tell me, what kind of soil did the first plants grow on, if I may ask? Is it similar to the soil that is present now, or was it completely different?

Irina (MidgasKaus): It was not fundamentally different, but there were differences, because the Earth had a more uniform climate - for example, there was no cold season, no snow cover, and precipitation was more evenly distributed - in the form of rain and sunny days. And the soil had a more favorable environment for the life of microorganisms and various insects - very numerous species, and it was very fertile, and there was no soil pollution yet. Now take the most fertile soil - it was practically the same all over the Earth, that is, there were no deserts. But also, naturally, excluding the ocean. And of course, before the war 12,000 years ago there was a single continent, there were islands, but they were small.

Vitaly: But initially, when the Earth was just forming, and when there was no humus, there were probably no plants either?

Irina (MidgasKaus): I am talking about the moment of the discovery of the Earth, it happened five million years ago according to the Earth calendar. And all this data about the characteristics of the Earth and about thousands of species of plants, animals, insects, microorganisms discovered on Earth are in the records about them. And this planet was very attractive for the entire Galaxy, because a unique collection of different species of living beings was collected here.

Vitaly: And plants?

Irina (MidgasKaus): And plants as well, starting from large, huge trees.

(Irina) He shows me about fifty meters, probably, of some kind of pillars standing there.

(MidgasKaus) I myself have not seen them, because, naturally, I was born much later, but I have seen these recordings on our media in the historical archive.

07:13 MidgasKaus on the evolution of earthlings' nutrition.

Vitaly: And yet – this is an eternal dispute – is man a herbivore or a carnivore? Can you answer this question?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Are you interested in which was originally created as a hybrid, or at the present moment? Because they are somewhat different.

Vitaly: I am interested in the past, because now, as you know, man is absolutely omnivorous. And initially?

Irina (MidgasKaus): He did not become omnivorous on his own – he would not have been able to do this without a certain restructuring of his genetic apparatus. Because the habit of a particular type of food is not formed by chance, but depending on the impulses of the brain, which are formed, among other things, based on the body's ability to process a particular type of food. If you look at animals, you will see automatically operating instinctive programs that tell this animal from childhood what type of food is acceptable for it. And no one teaches them, for example, how to eat.

We see this automaticity already starting with viruses, bacteria, single-celled animals (that is, what you call "protozoa"), various microfungi, and we also see automatic programs in various species of insects, animals, birds, etc. Humans also have instinctive programs that are passed on from generation to generation, the first through the etheric field, the second through DNA. And the principles of nutrition embedded in DNA influence the brain in such a way that it chooses the food that its body can process.

At the time when man was a herbivore, a vegetarian (but he was not a pure vegetarian, but a lacto-vegetarian, because he is a mammal), and this mammal could try, for some, for example, religious, ideological reasons, various flesh of fish, birds and animals. But because there were no enzymes for processing these substances, if a person consumed a little, he would begin to have digestive disorders. And if he consumed a lot, it could lead to damage, for example, to his kidneys, etc., he could simply leave the incarnation.

Vitaly: So I conclude that humans are, after all, more of a herbivorous creature in essence?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, he was a lacto-vegetarian. At the time when he was a lacto-vegetarian, the Earth had, as I already said, a fairly warm, favorable climate, there was no winter, the atmosphere was slightly different (shows) – denser. For example, the atmosphere contained slightly more sulfur compounds, and nitrogen monoxide was in slightly greater quantities than now, and when a person inhaled it, special compounds were formed in his blood, which helped, one might say, to build his proteins. There was such a restructuring.

Naturally, in the gastrointestinal tract of this ancient herbivorous man there lived a type of bacteria that could synthesize those substances that could not come from plant food or came in insufficient quantities. And the plants themselves were more diverse, that is, there were more of them, and many people ate the roots of these plants. The main products were roots, some berries and dried berries, they could eat various mushrooms and so on.

12:40 MidgasKaus on the change in the genetics of earthlings twelve thousand years ago.

Irina (MidgasKaus): And after 12,000 years ago, when the Earth's atmosphere and the Earth's energy, that is, its magnetic field, and the Earth's climate changed, they naturally changed human genetics so that he could eat not only plants, but also the flesh of animals, birds and fish. This was done for the purpose of humanity surviving, adapting to new conditions and being able to reproduce again.

Vitaly: Irina, who did this?

Irina (MidgasKaus): The scientists who were there at that time were representatives of Burkhad, Tumesout (Selbet was no longer there, he was excluded from the Interstellar Union for 250 years after the war). They were the initiators of this, but they were helped by scientists from different parts of the Galaxy.

There it was necessary to change human genetics in such a way as to replace those 5% of Burkhad genes that were there – to add 5% of Tumesout genes instead of Burkhad genes. There were 15% of Tumesout genes, and now there are 20%. And these five percent of Tumesout genes, who are omnivores themselves, allowed humans to process animal protein (not only protein, but also fats, etc., all animal products).

And initially people were more similar in nutrition to the Burkhadians, because the Burkhadians are also, like us, Eslerians - herbivorous creatures that evolved from herbivorous mammals on their planets. The Selbetians, who also gave 5% to people, are predators. They are not vegetarians and not omnivores, but predators - this is a reptilian civilization, but their 5% of genes that were added to the first man did not affect nutrition, they had a different function.

15:14 MidgasKaus on soil pollution with pesticides and fertilizers.

Vitaly: I have another question, a global one: I would also like to at least slightly lift the curtain of secrecy. How does he assess the state of our planet now, its soil, since people have recently been using a lot of chemical fertilizers, chemical means of plant protection from diseases, pests? This topic is very interesting: how much longer can the resources of our planet withstand such, in my opinion, barbaric treatment?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, indeed, there is a lot of soil pollution with pesticides, herbicides, and sometimes large quantities of various fertilizers, and all of this is carried by rivers to other areas.

Vitaly: Yes, and underground...

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, such a problem exists. I and other scientists who analyzed this problem, we came to the conclusion that this is a completely natural problem for the Earth, for the reason that you, your civilization, irrationally use, for example, different areas for the growth of different plants. And this irrationality lies in the fact that the area of different crops does not correspond, for example, to the needs of the increasing number of people.

Of course, this is caused by a certain climate and the state of the soil at a particular latitude, because in many countries, say, in Russia (I mainly deal with Russia), in certain climate zones there are, for example, huge swamps, etc. At first, they need to be harmonized, adjusted so that they perform a function useful to humans. But in order to do this, a lot of energy is needed, a lot of resources and human labor are needed.

As for the Interstellar Union, we solve this problem quite simply, because our devices allow, for example, to synthesize various substances simply in devices - this is done, for example, on spaceships. But, undoubtedly, there are such races that love various live, natural food, but even in this case they use the work and labor of biological robots to grow and care for certain living organisms, be it plants or animals, for their needs. After all, plants are also living organisms.

Vitaly: Of course, it's good for them, their technologies are probably much more advanced. But nevertheless, how critical is our situation? Can we live for some time?

Irina (MidgasKaus): What do you mean by “how critical”? Yes, it’s quite intense, but not so much that it would be dangerous for everyone. The Earth can remain in this state for a long time, because the subtle beings of the planet still process everything with the help of their microbes. And you’ve probably already heard that new types of microbes are appearing, or rather, they are not new, they are simply mutating – those types that can decompose substances that are now getting into the soil?

Vitaly: Well, yes, I heard that they have already discovered some microbes that even feed on plastic and convert it into organic matter.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, there are microbes that can decompose all these fertilizers and pesticides, but, of course, this takes time.

In order to harmonize this situation on Earth in general, it is necessary to develop a common legislative ecological doctrine for all countries, which will study many things: human impact on the environment, principles of nutrition, and will scientifically predict how much animal and plant food must be created in a given territory for nutrition, for example, for a year, for a given population of people. And already based on this, from all these calculations, it will be necessary to calculate the area of the earth's surface and the amount of all resources that will be spent on this production.

20:54 MidgasKaus on genetically modified products.

Vitaly: And everyone is also extremely interested in the question of the harm or benefit of genetically modified products. Everyone knows about it, and the opinions are completely ambiguous.

Irina (MidgasKaus): I know what genetically modified products are, they are products from plants or animals with a modified genotype. The thing is that you, as hybrids, are also genetically modified organisms, you yourselves. Why? Because your bodies were genetically modified. What did this modification consist of? That the DNA of an earthly primate was supplemented with DNA not even from earthly organisms, but from three alien organisms.

Well, those genetically modified products and organisms that I studied "said" that your scientists do not yet fully understand the laws of genetic modification. And this can lead to the fact that in the final product there will be a loss of some properties previously contained in this product, or the acquisition of new properties, for example, the production of proteins that are not characteristic of this organism.

For this reason, my attitude towards genetically modified organisms is quite cautious, in the sense that a person should be, firstly, warned that it is a genetically modified organism. And manufacturers should indicate specifically what organism was used for the modification, because, for example, some people are allergic to one or another component...

Vitaly: This information is absolutely closed, no one reports anything. At best, it says: "GMO". And what did they add there? For example, it happens that a certain frog gene is added to a tomato, and the tomato, for example, becomes more resistant to stressful situations.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, this does happen. I have seen some cases where a gene of a certain organism was added to soybeans (shows to Irina) for greater cold resistance – a gene from one of the northern sea fish. And indeed, in the cold climate for which these seeds were intended, they yielded a harvest, but then they were used to make baby food – soy milk, and food for adults. And I know of cases where children with an allergy to fish protein, having consumed such soybeans, or rather products made from them, had severe complications. Unfortunately, such cases do exist. Because this cannot be detected in soybeans by regular tests, a detailed protein analysis of what is there must be done. This is called “analysis of the amino acid composition in the structure of proteins.”

Vitaly: So it’s better to be careful when consuming genetically modified foods?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Again, look at your body's reaction. If you know for sure that you are not allergic to any type of food, you can safely consume any products, even genetically modified ones, or any other - it does not cause any harm. Because those gene modifications that are contained there, those DNAs that are in this product, will be successfully digested by your digestive enzymes, will disintegrate into simple nucleotides and will be used for the needs of your body. As it happens with the DNA of all organisms that you consume. Because you, people, have a special enzyme - nuclease, which digests nucleic acids - DNA and RNA. They are in both plant and animal cells that you eat.

Strictly speaking, the danger here is not in the genetic modification itself, but in the consequences that can be caused by an unpredictable result that is not fully controlled by your scientists, which affects the composition of the final product. Why does it affect? Because the substances that the cell uses for its growth and development, and the substances that it produces, depend on the cell's DNA.

For example, even potatoes - they consist of much more than just starch and water, they also contain certain vitamins, microelements, and protein substances that are characteristic of potatoes. If you take, for example, a tomato, it will already contain other substances, although they can grow side by side. Why do they have different compositions then? Because from the same sunlight, from the same water and mineral substances that are found on the same soil, simply next to each other, one or another plant takes only the substances it needs. And what substances it needs - everything is written in its DNA, in the program that is used as a matrix for creating fruits, leaves, and everything that people eat from plants.

27:25 MidgasKaus on the origin of plants on Earth, their export to other planets.

Vitaly: Irina, I have another question. There is also a version that some plants that we eat were brought from other planets. For example, such as corn, which does not sow itself, that is, it cannot reproduce itself. Or even such versions are already circulating that wheat is an unearthly plant. What can you say about this?

Irina (MidgasKaus): I would say, on the contrary – wheat, corn, calendula, red poppy and some other plants were taken from Earth. For example, to the planet Venus and to the planet Mars 200,000 years ago, when people lived there. And the same, for example, pines also grew there, they were taken from Earth. And after the war 12,000 years ago, many plants, or rather their seeds, were already taken to the planet Disaru, to their colonies, to the planet Burkhad, they even spread to many planets of the Galaxy.

At one time, they were given conditions that were familiar to them, and then, again with the help of genetic modification, they were adapted to that type of solar radiation, soil composition and molecular composition of water, because it is different everywhere, depending on the substances that water passes through, seeping through the soil. And thanks to this, many plants now grow on other planets, including corn.

Vitaly: So you think that these are purely terrestrial plants?

Irina: Yes, and he tells me that, on the contrary, they were taken to other planets.

Vitaly: Excellent! Thank you very much!

Irina (MidgasKaus): So it was not the Earth that was the object receiving new plants from the Interstellar Union. On the contrary, it was the object that gave us, enriching the Interstellar Union with gifts that were quite amazing for us, which no one had seen.

Vitaly: Even so? Very interesting!

Irina: Even for them it was surprising. He shows me now: they are like this – surprised.

Vitaly: Of course, I would like them to give us even more plants, fruit crops, because it seems to me that in our special region, in Russia, this is, of course, a big problem, because our climate is harsh, and it is not for nothing that we are called a risky farming zone. And, of course, the choice of crops is very limited, I would like to bring some from other planets...

30:45 MidgasKaus about the earth pumpkin on the planet Esler.

Irina (MidgasKaus): For example, we, Eslerians, live on Earth at our base, and we tried to use and grow various earthly plants there. And those that were suitable for our nutrition and we liked were transported to our planet. For example, on the planet Esler, your pumpkin has successfully taken root, bears fruit successfully and is very much liked by all our inhabitants.

Vitaly: Well, pumpkin is a storehouse of vitamins and microelements!

Irina: And it became – he shows me now – some kind of red color. That is, they changed it in such a way that it became quite a hard skin, and red. That is, not yellow, but more of a reddish color. “Because,” he says, “we have a different sun, and sunlight, getting there through the leaves, is deposited differently in these fruits, and a different color is obtained.”

Vitaly: Perhaps photosynthesis works a little differently?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, we have a different spectrum.

Vitaly: In general, if they want to give us some seeds – those plants that are not yet on our planet – Irina, take them, we will be happy to grow them, conduct some experiments, because this is, of course, incredibly interesting!

Thank you very much for your time! The story was interesting, informative, and I really hope that we will not lose touch, because there are, of course, a huge number of questions for future topics. I think it will be very interesting for our subscribers, our viewers.

Irina: Thank you, I was also very interested. Mid, thank you! Thank you, Vitaly!

Dear friends, I hope you enjoyed hearing about plants. Thank you for being with us. Until next time!

Vitaly: Bye!

February 8, 2023

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, subtle-material civilizations and the Spiritual world;

Vitaly Dekabrev – TV presenter of summer cottage programs, blogger;

MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist, and specialist in alien life forms.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/amrita-kak-vid-ehnergii-osobennosti-eyo-polucheniy
Amrita as a type of energy, features of its production

This is a type of subtle etheric energy that was used to invest in the created animal and plant Souls a greater or lesser life potential for going through a certain number of incarnations in different bodies. This is the energy that made the Soul of an animal or the Soul of a plant or insect, etc., temporarily immortal, binding all the elements of the Soul together and making reincarnation possible.

Amrita was spent in each incarnation of an animal or plant and when it was exhausted after their last incarnation, this Soul disintegrated into its constituent parts, and these parts were used by plasmoid civilizations in creating the same animal Souls or other, or the etheric bodies of people. To create the etheric body of a person, the energies of the plasmoid civilizations of the planet where they live are also used.

As for the use of amrita by humans, yes, it is possible to connect to this energy with the help of certain plasmoids. It has a healing effect, rejuvenates and increases the cell's ability to regenerate and removes from it, for example, all the consequences of improper use of DNA codes, micromutations that could lead to aging and destruction of the cell, and rewriting them into a new cell. Simply put, this is rejuvenation of the body and a certain treatment and healing of diseases.

Amrita is an ethereal energy that is allocated in a certain amount to each planet and is contained in all subtle-material levels of density in one form or another, and this is 59 for our Universe.

Those plasmoids that live on Earth can share this energy with you. To do this, they take it from reserves that are intended again for the Souls of animals, for example. If you make friends with a plasmoid that is responsible for creating the Souls of animals and plants and for endowing them with amrita, then you can ask him to exchange this energy with you. But here it is necessary to ask again whether you are a contactee of plasmoids? Which ones exactly? Since there are many types of them, there are those that are simply responsible for the elements, there are cosmic plasmoids that live in stars. They are not suitable because they have amrita, but it is of a different quality, it is aimed at creating the stability of the star.

You need amrita to create Souls for organic bodies. If you have a plasmoid curator, you can ask him: is he responsible for creating Souls of animals or plants, if not, does he know such plasmoids and can he invite them to contact, and after establishing contact with such a plasmoid, you can share with him the energy of your Love, your Light, they love this energy very much, and it is this energy that they can also process through their subtle body into the same amrita. This is a fairly long process stretched out in time. You can ask the plasmoid to share amrita.

The second way is to simply love nature, send the Light of Love to nature, plants, animals, microorganisms - to everything, to all of nature. And the plasmoids, feeling such an influx of energy from you, will saturate you with their energies, including amrita, heal you, rejuvenate you, and you will always be under this flow of energy.

Shiva has now named two paths: conscious contact or simply unconscious contact in the form of feelings towards nature. Plasmoids see the source of love, they see who charges them, saturates them, wishes them love, they feel it and send their energy in response. You need to ask the Higher Self:

> "Do you approve of me receiving amrita and in what percentage?"

Because it is not always useful for the body and energy, it depends on many factors, how much the body can use this energy, how much the cells can retain it also depends on individual characteristics and even on the personality type, there are many different nuances, but you can talk about this with your Higher Self.

Timestamp: 42:00, #540 SHIVA - the path from destruction to cosmic wisdom. Creation of reality by man. Alive, Amrita.

Shiva is a representative of the plasmoid civilization of the 36th density level, the curator of the Vedic egregor.

February, 2023

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/vazhnye-poyasneniya-kotorye-dal-lishioni-irine-pod
IMPORTANT explanations given by LiShioni to Irina Podzorova immediately after the most interesting video with the Spirit of Wolf Messing

Any intelligent spirit can incarnate in any place and time of the material world. Sometimes, if it is useful for its spiritual development and social evolution of consciousness, the Spirit incarnates in the time that is the past for its previous incarnation.

In this case, the events of his life can provoke the opening of the memory of his past incarnation, the data about which is information still unknown to the contemporaries of such a person due to the fact that they have not yet reached the place on the timeline in which this Spirit was embodied. This can lead to a situation when a person receives information about the future as if from nowhere and begins to broadcast it in his time, surprising people and strengthening their faith in miraculous phenomena and the other world. This fact in no way cancels the multivariance of the future for people living in their time. To understand why, it is necessary to consider what the memory of an intelligent Spirit is and what can influence it.

Spiritual memory is a special function or ability of the mind, thanks to which the Spirit can store information and reproduce it as needed. Not all information from memory is available for reproduction at any time. Memory is always selective and emphasizes events that are significant for the Spirit, and data from different time periods influence each other and can mutually change, enriching the personality with a new perception of reality and new feelings that settle in the spiritual heart.

If it happens that the Spirit incarnates in the world of its past and begins to give information from its time to its contemporaries, for whom it is future, and therefore premature, then it takes this data from its memory, which was formed by the events of its incarnation. But these events are among the probable ones for the contemporaries to whom it tells this. Information from the future never deprives incarnated spirits of freedom of choice, because when another branch of reality from the timeline is materialized onto the physical plane, the memory of all spirits that will be incarnated in the future time will be automatically and completely imperceptibly changed to the memory of other events that it will remember while living in its time.

For this reason, no one should worry, having received information about the future in any way, that it will certainly happen. Receiving information about the only probable future for those who are in the time flows of the material world is absolutely impossible, because it will mean for them the loss of freedom of choice, and therefore the meaning of incarnation. The unknown future is one of the main factors in making a free choice, intended for passing the lessons of love, responsibility and creating one's reality in accordance with the Divine Will, manifested in the spiritual and material laws of the entire Universe.

We, being in time and matter, create the future time and the future state of matter right now, every moment of our lives, with every action, word, thought and feeling. The choice of one of the unmanifested branches of reality from the timeline for materialization predetermines information from the memory of all Spirits incarnating in the future, including ourselves.

Lee Shioni, specialist in astral interactions and the study of the relationship between the spiritual and material worlds, planet Shimor.

Received by Irina Podzorova, December 19, 2021

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/sozdanie-vselennoj-simvoly-v-predaniyah-o-shive
Creation of the Universe, Symbols in the Legends of Shiva

The Universe was not created in one instant. The material Universe was created gradually, each level of density or, as we call it, layer of Divine reality was gradually manifested due to the fact that our brothers and sisters, incarnated in other realities higher than ours in density, condensed the Divine Light and made it look like a very dense white light fog. From this white light fog the next level of density appeared. Thus gradually appeared, according to the terminology of the Interstellar Union, those 59 levels of density of matter that now exist and in which we incarnate. They are instruments for our development, growth and more and more complete merging with Divine qualities and their manifestation.

That legend, that myth that is written about the ocean, about how gods and demons created the world from the ocean - this is only a reflection on the material level, as it was understood by ancient people, of that process of creating a denser world that appears from a more subtle one. All attributes are described in symbolic form, because it was impossible to depict it in any other form due to the fact that your earthly language is very poor in words from the lexicon, so to speak, of subtle civilizations. But those images that are used reflect quite fully and truly what is happening there.

Just as butter appears from cream, so gradually a denser world is assembled from a more subtle world, this is true, as is the case with the 36th level of density, for example, the 18th level of density is already much denser for us, and even more so the 3rd level of density, where you live.

The poison that is mentioned in the myth, that Shiva drank, is the energy from those plasmoid civilizations that created this denser world, they have energy that I would call destruction of matter. What does this mean? It means that, creating a denser world, those plasmoids who worked on it, put their energies into it, the feelings of their Soul, and because they were engaged in monotonous activities, they could put energy into it, the closest analogue, again, to modern language, is, approximately, a feeling of fatigue.

Fatigue is a certain state, it is not even a feeling, not a mood, when you want to rest, it is a certain state of the energy-information field, which can affect the created matter in such a way that a time bomb is laid in it for rapid destruction: what is tired can be destroyed. I am conveying it very roughly in words, because your language does not yet have such words.

It is called a slow poison, figuratively of course, because just as poison destroys the organism and leads to its death, so does this energy of fatigue. Only the fatigue is not of the physical body, because there are no physical bodies there, but subtle bodies, and there is also fatigue of the mind, fatigue of emotions and fatigue of feelings. From monotonous activity a certain energy accumulates, and, having got into the newly created matter, it can lay in this structure of matter, for example, characteristics of its increased tendency to injury, to fragility, to destruction.

The same thing that slow-acting poison does. There is also poison that is not only fast-acting, but also slow-acting, which a person can take, at first nothing will happen to him, and after a certain dose of poison has accumulated, the body suddenly dies.

So this energy, in order not to get into the created worlds, must be utilized somewhere. But the plasmoid civilizations themselves are busy creating the world, and God has allocated special beings who live on all levels of density, who absorb this energy and transform it from the matter that is created. That is, they drink this poison. And after they drink it, it gradually transforms in them and passes into the energy of greater access to cosmic wisdom. They process it in themselves, that is, they process one spiritual energy into another. All this in this myth is depicted through the image of Shiva, who does this, and his throat turns blue.

Why the throat and why blue, where did these images come from?

These images were hints, again, of what was happening. Plasmoids, of course, do not have a throat, and the blue color is only a convention for them, these were hints in the language of a person, through his body, to show what was happening to this plasmoid next.

At the level of the throat is the fifth chakra, which is responsible, among other things, for the energy of creativity. And what does the blue color mean here then? Why did this poison in the myth turn into blue and not into some other color? Why was such an image conveyed? Because blue is the color of the sky. Even for ancient people it was clear that the sky was blue, they saw it with their own eyes. The color of the sky, the color of the sky - it was always the color of cosmic wisdom. The blue color in the throat meant that this energy was processed into the energy of cosmic wisdom through their creativity, that is, through the fifth chakra.

And why was Shiva depicted there as the one who drank, and not some other deity? Because those plasmoids who did this performed the function that brings life, that is, the function of Shiva. Shiva himself is a certain kind of being. I am only one of them, there are others. Shiva - in the ancient language of mankind there was such a concept as "alive" and a similar concept of "shiva", it's just that the letters there were changed to "zh", to "sh".

What is zhiva or shiva? It is a certain universal energy of life, ethereal energy, it is not physical. It is ethereal subtle energy, the force of life, which is spread throughout nature, permeates it and is the basis for the creation of various Souls of animals, insects, plants, that is, everything that animates.

So, those beings who drank this poison were workers of Shiva/Zhiva so that life in all worlds could flourish, be perfect and not be destroyed by excessive fragility and a tendency to trauma.

Timestamp: 26:16, #540 SHIVA - the path from destruction to cosmic wisdom. Creation of reality by man. Alive, Amrita.

Shiva is a representative of the plasmoid civilization of the 36th density level, the curator of the Vedic egregor.

February, 2023

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/537-prichiny-zemletryasenij-v-turcii-i-sirii-2023
#537 Causes of Earthquakes in Turkey and Syria 2023
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=9gT6TRkP9Bs

00:00 Start of video.

00:21 Fragments of the broadcast.

“…What is happening now all over the world – not only in Turkey – is a direct consequence of the fact that for more than an Earth year there has been a decrease in the vibrations of the Earth’s noosphere due to negative energy outbursts into the noosphere (aggression, fear, despondency), which have engulfed the entire world…”

"...For the cataclysms to stop, the Earth's noosphere needs to be cleansed, and this requires many people who will raise their vibrations and follow the spiritual path. Learn yourself and teach your children to communicate harmoniously with nature - and then the plasmoids, the Spirits of the Earth, will believe in humanity and want to live with you in peace..."

"...There was no impact of the weapon on the earth's crust. To cause even a small earthquake, an impact of several billion kilowatts is needed..."

"...You always need to pay attention to the behavior of animals, especially if not one animal is behaving this way, but several. This means that it is no longer just some disease or peculiarity of this animal. When several individuals behave this way, this is a signal that you need to leave the building..."

02:33 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations.

Today we have a very interesting topic: the cause of earthquakes and other cataclysms on Earth. I asked the curator of the Earth from the Spiritual World, the non-embodied Spirit of Archangel Michael, to answer these important and complex questions. His phantom is present here now. He is ready to answer these questions. I also invited a representative of the civilization from the Galactic Federation of Light, which is located on the borders of the Solar System and has bases on Earth. Ashtar Sheran came to me. And, of course, I invited a representative of the subtle-material civilization of the 15th density level, which is responsible for the territory of Southern Turkey. He said that he can be addressed by the name Luliasu with earthly sounds.

Tatyana: Hello, my name is Tatyana. I have been living in Turkey for almost 20 years. I am on my spiritual path, helping people.

Irina: What questions?

04:15 The origin of planet Earth, the current stage of its development.

Tatyana: I would like to ask a question about the origin of the Earth. What stage of development of the Earth's structure are we going through now?

Irina: The Earth, like other planets of the Solar system, originated from the matter of the Sun, which came out of the chromosphere and gradually cooled in space. Ashtar Sheran is answering now.

(Ashtar Sheran): The age of the Earth, according to our chronoscopy, is about 7.5 billion years. That is, more than earthly scientists assume.

7.5 billion years ago, a protoplanetary disk was formed from cosmic dust. I am now being shown a ball consisting of dust. The dust particles began to attract each other and created a protoplanet. Later, other cosmic bodies in Earth's orbit began to attract each other and created the planet's relief, as well as its internal geological structure.

What stage is the Earth currently going through? It is a fairly young planet, like your Sun. The average age of the planets, like your entire Galaxy, is about 20 billion years, since the planets began to form almost immediately after the formation of stars. So the Earth is still at an early stage of its geological existence, but it already has a fairly powerful biosphere formed by various micro- and macroorganisms in an amazing diversity and unity of its manifestation, which amazes all space explorers who encounter your planet.

07:08 The connection between the age of the Earth at seven billion years and the creation of the world in seven days according to the Bible.

Tatyana: How is this connected: 7 billion years and the 7th day according to the Bible? That is, on the first day God did something, on the second day something and on the seventh day he already completed it. Is this somehow connected or not?

Irina: The days that were indicated as the days of creation have the meaning of 7 stages of creation of the material world. All these days symbolically depict the stages of creation, starting from the appearance of physical matter and ending with the appearance of complex organisms. And you remember that at the end of the 6th day, people appear as the apotheosis of the development of the earth's biosphere. True, man did not appear in the way that would be natural for evolution, but with genetic intervention, with the genetic help of other civilizations. As for 7 billion years - it was not the description of the 7 days of creation that was meant. It implied 7 stages of the formation of the material world. If you read the description of these days of creation, you will find there a symbolic description of the appearance of various objects. And you will see, for example, that the sun and stars appear there only on the 4th day, although the earth and sky appear on the 1st day. This reflects certain stages of the development of matter in the entire Galaxy as a whole.

09:36 The influence of human emotional and mental activity on earthly processes.

Tatyana: In this case, if we are talking about the biosphere and man, the following question arises. Human thoughts as energy impulses: what is the significance of thoughts, emotions sent by man into this world, and how do they possibly provoke actions or processes occurring on Earth? Are human thoughts, energy impulses, emissions of aggression connected with what is happening? If we describe the current situation, the number of immigrants to Turkey is increasing, including from "difficult" points, which are filled with anger, aggression, pain, suffering. Do people's emotional emissions into space have any significance for events occurring in the depths of the Earth and in the noosphere?

Irina: Archangel Michael is answering now.

(Archangel Michael): The thing is that the Earth is not only an object with a biosphere, a sphere of life: microorganisms, plants and animals. The Earth is a world where there is a rational civilization, that is, a society of rational beings with bodies in which rational Spirits are embodied. This means that on this planet there is a noosphere - another shell of the Earth. This shell is energetic, subtle and at the same time astral. In other words, the noosphere is a set of material and astral structures that "envelop" the Earth or any other planet where there is rational life. Envelop, like a shell, like clouds. Even the Russian word "cloud" comes from the verb "to envelop".

Accordingly, in the noosphere, various structures are distinguished, which consist of emotions, thoughts, feelings, desires of people - that is, of energy clots containing a record of the mental processes of these intelligent beings. The noosphere does not include emotions, feelings, desires of instinctive animal Souls. Animal Souls also have reason, but it is instinctive, it cannot connect to the noosphere, cannot influence the charge of the noosphere of planets, because human and animal mental processes have different energy structures. Only the charge of intelligent Spirits can influence the noosphere, and not only people, but all Spirits incarnated on Earth.

On Earth, as on any other planet, there are 59 levels of matter density, and on each of these levels, Spirits are embodied in different quantities. Thus, in the physical world that you see, only a part of intelligent Spirits is embodied, approximately 1/17 of all Spirits. That is, in the subtle worlds, 17 times more Spirits are embodied. And any intelligent Spirit influences the noosphere of the Earth. But the denser the matter in which the Spirit is embodied, the greater the influence it has on the noosphere of the Earth, since its subtle feelings, desires and thoughts, passing through the dense body, are charged with more energy. Dense matter, since it is condensed subtle matter, contains more potential energy, which is invested in it by subtler structures. For example, each atom contains a lot of subtle energy. Thus, people as physical beings, as Spirits embodied in a physical body on Earth, have a significant influence on the noosphere, as well as on the totality of all subtle-material civilizations, because their energies are very strong and dense.

However, subtle civilizations also possess a certain power, especially when they unite to solve some problem. All processes of nature depend on subtle civilizations. If the development of physical and subtle inhabitants of the planet is disharmonious, does not go in one direction, this can cause various natural disasters and cataclysms on the planet, depending on its geological, energetic and biospheric structure. For the Earth, shifts in the earth's crust are more typical, since as a result of the war 12 thousand years ago, a single continent was split to the level of the earth's crust into many fragments. These fragments of the earth's crust float in a more plastic and liquid medium, which you call the "upper layer of the mantle." This is not yet the core of the Earth, it is still far away, but the substance there is hot and dense enough, it can float under the weight of the continents. It can fluctuate and spread out, like liquid dough. And all these processes that occur in the earth's crust, mantle and core of the Earth are controlled by plasmoid civilizations through the creation of certain movements in the earth's crust, as well as the creation of various rocks, minerals, etc.

If we talk about the impact on the Earth's crust (since we are talking about earthquakes), I would like to note that what is happening now all over the world - not only in Turkey - is a direct consequence of the fact that for more than an Earth year there has been a decrease in the vibrations of the Earth's noosphere due to negative energy outbursts into the noosphere (aggression, fear, despondency), which have engulfed the entire world. This began not even a year ago, but about a year and a half ago, and began to progress, which led to a decrease in the vibrations of the Earth's noosphere and to the fact that subtle civilizations, which are responsible for the harmonious existence of nature and the earth's crust in particular, came to a state of irritation, disharmony, fear, anger. And in order to get rid of this state, they provoke such movements of the earth's crust that can cause earthquakes, volcanic eruptions and tsunamis, in order to dump this negative energy and cleanse the noosphere.

20:36 The influence of prayers on stopping cataclysms.

Tatyana: At such moments, people unite. Prayer becomes an absolute norm, whereas just a year or two ago people did not talk about the concept of "prayer" so actively. And now you hear from almost every person: "I pray." Even children go to pray. The stage of opening up human consciousness, changing the frequency of noise to change the frequency of vibration of the people themselves. Can you give advice on how to pray correctly at this moment? What is the significance of opening up human consciousness and the number of people praying as a percentage for preventing such cataclysms?

Irina: The most important thing is to stop the emission of negative emotions into the Earth's noosphere. The greatest effect will be achieved when 70% of the adult population of the Earth radiates love, kindness, forgiveness. That is, when the majority of earthlings on all continents, in all countries will show this towards each other. And then the noosphere will be cleansed quite quickly, because the bright feelings and thoughts sent by people will displace the dark ones that are there now, and transform them into Light - into bright, divine feelings. All the forces of nature will help you, and you will feel harmonious in any space.

Prayer is, in fact, very important here, but not just as a request to stop the cataclysms: it is important to take responsibility not only for yourself, but also for the society in which you find yourself. After all, you incarnated at this time and in this place for a reason. You need to understand that during the incarnation, your Angels-consultants showed you all possible scenarios of your life, including the one you are living, as one of the possible options, because the future has many options. They also showed the percentage of probability of the occurrence of certain cataclysms, including earthquakes, floods, volcanic eruptions, major epidemics, due to which your Souls could prematurely leave the incarnation or damage their bodies. Your Angels-mentors showed the percentage of probability of the occurrence of these scenarios of events in the territory where you are incarnating, and you absolutely consciously and voluntarily agreed to incarnate with these conditions. Therefore, now, already being in the body, you need to understand that you are immortal Spirits who receive on this planet the experience of love, forgiveness and acceptance, as well as humility before God.

Humility has nothing to do with humiliating yourself. Humility is the recognition of the fact that everything around you belongs to God as His energy. You too are a part of God, His child. And if you voluntarily surrender yourself into the hands of the divine will, fulfill His commandments - from this you acquire His wisdom, the opportunity to develop His potential abilities, which are in every person. If you go against the will of God, against His commandments, transmitted by Him to all people in religions and spiritual teachings through prophets, teachers and spiritual mentors - then by this you lower your vibrations and go against the flow of the entire Universe.

When you pray, you need to understand this. If you pray for the end of cataclysms, this does not mean that you can control God or the elements with your prayer. In order for cataclysms to end, the Earth's noosphere must be purified, and this requires many people who will raise their vibrations and follow the spiritual path. For now, despite the technical improvement of earthly civilization and scientific discoveries, the moral and spiritual level of many earthlings remains at a fairly low level, since many people live only for their own selfish interests, not paying attention to the needs of others, the needs of nature, the interests and commandments of God.

27:45 Consciousness of people under the rubble.

Tatyana: I would like to ask this question: when thousands of people lie under rubble, what happens to their consciousness? What happens at the stage when the Spirit is still embodied, in addition to this suffering?

Irina: What happens to their consciousness? They experience pain, fear, horror, and may experience many other feelings. Of course, compassion for these people and help to the extent that everyone can provide is necessary. But it is necessary to remember that everyone who contributed their negativity to the Earth's noosphere in previous years is responsible for what happened.

Tatiana: Aggression, anger, curses...

29:06 The cause of cataclysms. Meditations for the harmonization of nature.

Irina: But this may not necessarily be in the territory where this disaster, this calamity, this tragedy occurred.

Tatyana: Many left their lands and came to the territory of Turkey with this anger, aggression, curses.

Irina: The thing is that the energy of aggression and negativity accumulates in the noosphere of the Earth as a whole. And at what point this energy will break through – no one knows, except for certain plasmoid civilizations that decide to cleanse the noosphere first. For example, if it has accumulated because the inhabitants of a certain area emit more negativity, then plasmoid civilizations of another territory, located in a completely different place, can decide to cleanse the noosphere of the Earth from this negativity.

(Ashtar Sheran): I emphasize: if criminal actions in earthly states and military actions between them continue, then this threatens the emergence of even greater cataclysms in all countries, in any point of the planet. One of the bases of our civilization is located near the border of Syria and Turkey, near the island of Cyprus, under the bottom.

(Irina): He is now showing me this point on the map of the Mediterranean Sea, an entrance under the ocean floor. And there are also entrances in the mountains, he is now showing me approximately Northern Syria – there is a mountainous area there.

Tatyana: In our area we often see objects.

Irina: Yes, these could be representatives of their base, as well as guests flying to them. And when the series of earthquakes began, it was recorded by their instruments. It was not in the sea, it was on the continent. He is now showing me that the tremor was deep in the continent, and the tremors that followed occurred not only in Turkey, but all over the Earth. Here he is showing me how it goes further north: Armenia, Georgia, even Kazakhstan and America. Specialists began to look at the instruments that show the state of geological structures, what is happening with the earth's core and the earth's mantle. An increase in the temperature of the outer part of the earth's mantle was recorded - the one that is adjacent to the crust from below. An increase in temperature was noted practically all over the Earth, including under such continents as Antarctica and Greenland, which are covered with centuries-old glaciers. This increase in temperature can provoke even greater melting of glaciers than it is due to the accumulation of carbon dioxide in the Earth's atmosphere. This will lead to a rise in water levels and the overflow of many reservoirs, which will make coastal areas uninhabitable for people who are accustomed to settling and building their cities on the banks of large rivers, seas and oceans. To stop the rise in temperature, each person needs to turn to the plasmoids of the Earth, to Demeter, to the plasmoids of the earth element - the so-called "gnomes". And also to the plasmoids of fire - "salamanders". There are special meditations for harmonizing the elements of nature. By the way, I conducted a similar one. Were you with us?

Tatiana: No.

Irina: Do you want?

Tatiana: I want to.

Irina: I conducted a meditation on harmonization of the elements of nature, where we thanked each element, the Spirits of the elements, connected with them and felt ourselves a part of them. In this way, we helped the plasmoids to cleanse the noosphere without drastic changes in physical matter, including without natural disasters. It is very useful to conduct such meditations whenever possible. You can find the meditation on harmonization of the elements on our channel "Cassiopeia Content" or "Cassiopeia Content Service" on our website. You can download this meditation and use it: just sit down and repeat everything that I will say, do everything that I will say, imagine and repeat to yourself.

Tatiana: We conduct it in groups.

Irina: Also, when you interact with nature on a daily basis, you need to learn to communicate consciously. When you are in nature, you can mentally or aloud address the Spirits who are there, thank them and send them the light of your love. It will also be very useful at home, for example, to grow indoor flowers, but with the awareness that you are thanking the Spirits of the Earth for this Soul. It is useful for many people to do this in order to prevent what was said about the rise in temperature. After all, the rise in the temperature of the Earth's mantle can lead to an uncontrolled eruption of magma to the surface, including through underwater volcanoes, of which there are quite a lot, and not only magma, but also various gases, ash, etc., which will lead to major cataclysms on the planet. To prevent this from happening, learn yourself and teach your children to communicate harmoniously with nature - and then the plasmoids of the Earth will believe in humanity and want to live with you in peace.

Tatyana: When so many people came to our seaside, it seemed to me that they would all come out in the morning and greet the sun and the water. But the level of aggression and negativity was surprising. Now groups are gathering, but still not that many.

Irina: If this is happening at the moment, you can daily call on Demeter, the Spirits of the Earth, asking them to calm the Earth. When the energy has already begun to be released, tremors will occur, but you can reduce their frequency and intensity by calling on the Spirits of this area, sending them the light of love and asking them to calm the vibrations.

38:30 Use of earthly weapons as a cause of cataclysms. Light phenomena in the earthquake area.

Tatyana: There is another question. On the Internet and in people's minds there is information that this terrible earthquake was connected with the use of a new weapon, which led to a rupture of the earth's crust. There are many videos of light explosions.

Irina: There was no impact of weapons on the earth's crust. To cause even a small earthquake, you need an impact of several billion kilowatts, which will be released in just a few seconds. To accumulate such energy, power plants need to work for many months, so the earth's civilization does not have enough energy to influence at such a level - at the level of the mantle, at the level of the lower crust layer. These are processes caused by subtle-material civilizations to cleanse the noosphere. There are civilizations that have geophysical weapons, but this is already a different level of technological development.

As for the mentioned light phenomena, which can be of different colors, this is the so-called geoelectricity or geoelectromagnetic impulses. They accompany any earthquake, especially at night, or can even precede it. In the past, such flashes, similar to the northern lights, were repeatedly observed in various parts of the globe. They can also be similar to lightning, and even intense appearance of ball lightning can be observed. All because the earth's crust also contains electric charges, that is, electric energy in the atoms of rocks and those rocks that are part of the crust. When this physical substance oscillates, they begin to be released into the air and form such a glow when interacting with the atoms of air gases.

41:35 Design and construction of houses in seismically active zones.

Tatyana: That is, in advance, a few days before this terrible event?

Irina: The thing is that in a few days small movements could have occurred that people have not yet felt, but could have caused a preliminary release of electricity. This happens due to the energy exchange of the Earth with the ionosphere and outer space. That is, the Earth first releases the accumulated energy in the form of electrical impulses. If the tension from the compression of rocks remains, then vibrations occur, and they can be directed in different directions.

To minimize human casualties (dead, injured) and destruction of houses and infrastructure, it is necessary to design buildings consisting of lightweight elements, but having a strong foundation, so that in case of building collapse, these elements cannot injure or kill anyone. There are such lightweight elements from under which it is possible to get out. Do you have such? I just don’t know what you use. Are any organic materials, polymeric materials like plastic used in construction?

Tatiana: Not used.

Irina: There are various solutions, but it is also necessary to take into account the nature of the soil on which the settlement stands, the nature of the occurrence of underground waters there, because water, as well as gas and oil, which also affect the passage of waves, can amplify or deflect them. It is necessary to look at the geological cross-section of the area and, depending on this, design the depth of the foundation, its shape and the materials from which it will be made in order to dampen these waves and prevent vibrations of the walls.

44:15 Warning living beings about earthquakes by plasmoids.

Tatyana: Can humanity obtain such knowledge about new earthquake-resistant technologies?

Irina: Of course it can. The Ashtar Sheran civilization and the Tihtians have specialists who can develop similar projects in seismically dangerous areas. There are planets similar to Earth, with the same geological structure.

Now Ashtar Sheran and the plasmoid Luliasu are answering the question.

(Ashtar Sheran, Luliasu): We warn living beings in that area about the purification of the noosphere through physical transformations of matter with a special signal that is distributed via etheric communication. This can happen several days or even a week before the changes in the physical shell of the Earth are made. This is done so that all who live in that area can free it for our work and preserve their lives and health.

Man has dampened his instincts, which contain the ability to listen to ethereal signals, by living in a safe environment - large settlements, cities. Therefore, he has already lost the habit of listening to his intuition as a premonition that he needs to leave this place. There are sensitive people, but as far as I know your race, there are very few of them. And if someone does have some premonitions, they are thrown aside, considered meaningless nonsense, like the person is just nervous or did not get enough sleep, so he imagines all sorts of things.

47:24 Warning etheric signals and ways to save yourself from an earthquake.

Tatyana: The thing is that a week ago our Turkish government even closed the consulate. Many people thought that some military actions had begun, and therefore there was mistrust of the origin of the earthquake. And many felt a war, something large, powerful. Therefore, of course, there are people who feel, but there really are few of them and, apparently, we need to ask deeper questions to the Higher Self.

Irina: You can also pay attention to the animals and insects in your area. They are not subject to the social attitudes of your mind and act instinctively. Therefore, at the level (it is different for all animals and insects) of the consciousness that they have, they act automatically, by instinct, catching the etheric signals from plasmoids about the beginning of the purification and transformation of the area, and try to leave this place, following the instinct of self-preservation. Therefore, always pay attention to these signals and follow the clues that will be given to you. For example, such signs: if you see an anthill in the forest or in the field, from which ants leave en masse, carrying with them their larvae in their jaws, then know that with a probability of 90% in the next 2-3 days an earthquake may occur. Ants live in the ground and feel the slightest changes, vibrations of the earth's crust. Naturally, the etheric signals from the plasmoids reach them in the form of a sudden urge to leave their settled place. Also, if you have an apiary and you see the bees' restlessness, their reluctance to fly out in warm clear weather and the desire to hide away (or, on the contrary, they left the hive and do not return back) - this should also alert you. This is what concerns insects.

If you have livestock that you raise or pets that live near you, such as dogs and cats, you may also notice their unusual behavior. They all behave differently, but they are always restless and try, for example, to escape from the house. This can happen, for example, a few minutes before the tremors. It even happens that the dog grabs the owner's clothes with its teeth and drags them because it fears for their lives.

Tatyana: It gives you a hint.

Irina: Yes. In this case, you need to go outside and wait to see what happens next. You should always pay attention to the behavior of animals, especially if there is more than one animal behaving this way. This means that it is no longer just some disease or peculiarity of this animal. When several individuals behave this way, this is a signal that you need to leave the building where you are.

Now, regarding buildings. During an earthquake, it is safer to be in open spaces. And not just on the street, but away from any high-rise buildings. You can be in an open area where nothing will fall on you, but do not stand on your feet, but lie down on the ground - and then nothing will happen from these tremors. But if you walk, you can simply be knocked to the ground. It is especially necessary to stay away from wires: they can break, fall on people and kill with electricity. The safest place in this case is the street, open spaces, some square. A car is a fairly safe place. It is very difficult for an earthquake to turn it over: it will remain standing, because it is on four wheels, it has balance. If you are sitting in a car, do not leave it. Close the doors and windows.

As for children, they may be scared. Don't let them run away. Keep them with you and ask them to calm down. If the earthquake hits your home, neither the elevator nor the stairs will be safe. You need to hide in the strongest place in the house.

(Ashtar Sheran): I don't know to what extent your building codes take into account the geological features of the area and the degree of seismic hazard. The degree of seismic hazard varies in each area and depends on the structure of the earth's crust. If the place is located somewhere on a fault, then the danger is greater. To what extent do developers comply with these codes, to what extent have your geologists studied the relief and soil in this area, the occurrence of water and other minerals, for example? This affects the propagation of waves, vibrations of the earth's surface: they can dampen or amplify them. To what extent do those who decide to build houses pay attention to all this? This needs to be looked at in your legislation.

55:22 Türkiye as a unique sacred place.

Tatyana: I would like to ask a question about the intersection of religions in Turkey. Turkey is a very interesting place. Many saints were born here, the Virgin Mary ended her days here, Panteleimonius, George the Victorious and Nicholas the Wonderworker lived here.

Irina: Apostle Paul, Apostle John.

Tatyana: The Gospel was written here. Here, the Christian egregor is combined with the Muslim one. Here, there is the concept of "Mevlana Sufism". That is, Turkey is an ancient, philosophical place. Many people come here to reveal their spiritual mission, to purify themselves. Now scientists have discovered a new place - it is called Gobekli Tepe, where Mesopotamia is. A large number of pilgrims come there. I would like to understand globally the return of the Slavs to the place where so many saints were born, and what happens with the purification of man, with re-awareness in this place. Does it matter that this movement from Syria came directly from here?

Irina: Yes, indeed, the whole area is quite ancient. Many civilizations lived in Turkey, many religions existed. But I can say this about absolutely any area on Earth, no matter what it is called. There have always been peoples there. Even in northern Russia, Europe, America there were certain peoples, religions, their own prophets, priests, etc. It was everywhere. Therefore, here I cannot single out one specific area.

I repeat once again: if you consider some place to be a place of power, it will be so for you. Let it be even an old well in the village at grandma's. If you think that it is very ancient, very powerful and that there is miraculous holy water there, then it will work for you. You yourself, with your faith, tune this place to the vibrations of your body. And if many people consider some place to be sacred, holy, a place of power, then an egregor already appears in the noosphere, which, firstly, is charged with the energy of people who believe in this place and, secondly, gives energy to those who are in this place for their spiritual purification and transformation.

Tatyana: Well, and probably there should be an exchange with this egregor?

Irina: Yes, the exchange is carried out through the fact that you thank this place, believe in it, tell others about it.

Tatyana: That is, through gratitude, through Light and Love.

Thank you very much. A very useful broadcast for realizing and understanding that our thought forms are our responsibility for everything that happens on Earth, in space, for what we feed our children, how we raise them, with the help of what energies, thoughts and creations of ourselves and all living things on Earth.

Irina: Good. Thank you, Ashtar, Luliasu, Archangel Michael. I send you the light of my love. Thank you, Tatiana.

Tatyana: Thanks to everyone who hosted the broadcast.

Irina: Dear friends, thank you for watching this broadcast. I also found it very interesting, necessary, and useful. Let us send the Light of our Love to all the plasmoids of the Earth, to all those who suffered in these terrible cataclysms, who suffered from the negativity of each of us. Let us send them the Light of our Love, ask God to strengthen their faith, heal their bodies, and transform their Souls.

Tatiana: Light and Love.

Irina: Dear friends, see you soon!

February 12, 2023

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, with subtle-material civilizations and with the Spiritual world;

Tatiana is a resident of Turkey;

Ashtar Sheran is the leader of the space fleet of the Galactic Federation of Light;

Archangel Michael is the guardian of the Christian egregor, patron and curator of the Earth in the Spiritual world;

Luliasu is a plasmoid of the 15th density level, responsible for the territory of Southern Turkey.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/osobennosti-vospitaniya-detej-na-burhade-rol-plans
Peculiarities of raising children on Burkhad. The role of tablets in a child's life

From early childhood, when a child has not yet gone to school, when he is just learning to speak, we have already initially put into our language and into our verbal phrases an understanding of how to explain the Spiritual World in a language understandable to a child.

When a child just begins to get acquainted with the world around him, it happens differently for everyone. If we take earthlings, it happens at about two or three years, when he begins to get acquainted not just through bodily sensations, through touch, but through specific words, and when he begins to speak, the child's self-awareness arises as a result of the impact of his Soul on the brain, and in self-awareness a picture of the reality in which he lives now appears. And this picture of the reality of self-awareness is directly connected with memory, where information from this world where he lives is stored, which may be useful in the future.

This happens with all humanoids. No matter how their brain is structured, the general outline is the same. There is a certain age when information about the world begins to accumulate. At this age, a child is actively interested in various events. He can ask many questions, if, of course, he sees the attitude of his mother and father in the family such that there will be someone to answer these questions. If he knows from experience that he will be rejected when trying to communicate with an adult, he can keep these questions to himself. But this does not mean that they will disappear inside him. He will simply look for answers to them elsewhere, not from his parents.

We have a rule that if a child wants to communicate, then parents communicate with him. And if they are not at home - they can be at work or communicate with others, then they always leave special biorobots that transmit certain information. We call a children's biorobot "an assistant in educational work". A lot of information is put into it, including about children's health, physiology, psychology, and, naturally, it has programs when it can communicate with the child in a child's language, including even with his voice. And it can play certain games with him, play certain roles and, naturally, answer his questions, including about the world around him.

I know that you do not have this function, you do not have such biorobots, but you have so-called nurseries, kindergartens, where children are located if their parents work. There are no kindergartens in Burkhad, this is not the custom here. We have biorobots that can take care of children. And we believe that this is a more harmonious approach, because if you gather a large group of children, then there should be at least one adult for each child. Or there are even such children when they need several adults. There are different cases. But when there is one adult or one teacher for two, three or more children, it happens that an adult is engaged in one child, communicates with him, plays with him, and another one comes to him. The children begin to compete. Quite strong anger and resentment towards each other can arise due to jealousy, for example.

Children have such a soft, gentle energy structure that blocks form quite quickly. They can even form from the emotions and feelings of parents. And that is why, for example, in our family rules it is not accepted to somehow sort out relationships, even in a calm tone between mom and dad in the presence of the child. In his presence, we must behave only harmoniously, correctly and even with a look and word not to show hostility to each other. Because this will give rise to misunderstanding, fears in the child, because he loves both parents, and resentment towards the parent who treats the other parent badly in his understanding.

And, naturally, a social circle is chosen for the child, his friends. Of course, we try to surround our children only with light humanoids, only with light images. Until a certain age, until he goes to school, we give him only Light. Before he goes to school, he already has a fairly large vocabulary. We tell him that outside the home, outside his usual circle, there may be other children with different understandings and adults with a different character, not only with Light inside. We are already giving him tools on how to react to this. He already knows how to harmonize and process this without offense.

That is, by the time he goes to school, he will already know that he is a Spirit, embodied in a body through this particular family. He will already know that his family is part of the family egregor. He will know that the family egregor is part of the planet's egregor. He will know what it is. He will know that his every thought, his every feeling, his every emotion will remain in the planet's egregor and help other people to be happy, loved, or hinder this. He will know from about the age of three, if this is transferred to Earth, that thoughts and feelings do not disappear in an incomprehensible direction into nowhere. They, like a charge of space, remain in that place and influence everyone else by strengthening the light or dark character traits in them.

We have home computers in our homes, including, perhaps, a personal computer, that is, a computer device for various activities, including games. Our games are somewhat different. They simulate some types of activity, for example, creating virtual reality. They are also for children. You can buy them, they are quite inexpensive here, in your opinion, they are quite affordable in terms of money.

Any child, in any case, loves mom and dad, and these games and toys cannot completely replace the attention of parents. Even if your child plays on the computer or tablet, he still needs your attention. And no matter how much time he spends there, he will still ask you something. If, again, you did not make him understand before that his questions, his attention are unpleasant to you, then he feels guilty before you, or, offended by you, he can independently transfer his attention to various objects of the material world, including games. In this case, he will not have the need to communicate with his parents.

But if it has not arisen, this is a reason for you to talk to your Higher Self and find out the reasons for such inattention, because children very clearly distinguish living objects from inanimate ones. They have a Soul that distinguishes. And if a child plays on the computer, no matter how interesting the games are, and mom is not at home, he still waits for mom. Especially if this is a small child who perceives her as an integral part of his world. And in any case, it will not be possible to distract him from the absence of his mother for a long time with a computer. No matter how interesting the game is, he will still dream of talking, communicating with his mother. Remember yourself as a child at 5 years old. When mom is nearby, the whole space changes. If we are talking about preschool age, then this is their reality.

Timestamp: 22:12, #546 Alien climate technologies. Cyclops civilization. School days on Burkhad.

Raom Tiyan is a representative of the planet Burkhad, a specialist in energy interactions in the environment of the material and Spiritual worlds and the transformation of various energies;

Traori Mihron is a representative of the planet Burkhad, a specialist in the history of interactions between civilizations of the Interstellar Union.

March, 2023

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/shiva-put-ot-razrusheniya-k-kosmicheskoj-mudrosti
#540 SHIVA - the path from destruction to cosmic wisdom. Creation of reality by man. Alive, Amrita.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=_3GULEW6cdI

00:00 Start of video.

